MELLON OFFERS PLANS FOR NEW TAX REVAMPING

Treasury Secretary Suggests Reduction of Maximum Surtax Rate and Adjustment of Levies on Business Profits

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Further revision of the laws providing reduction of the maximum increase in surtax to 30 or 25 per cent and adjustment of the rate on business profits and other levies on corporate income was suggested by Secretary Mellon in his first annual report, transmitted today to congress.

The treasury secretary also announced that the treasury's revision of the tax laws will provide for the reduction of the maximum increase in surtax to 30 or 25 per cent and adjustment of the rate on business profits and other levies on corporate income was suggested by Secretary Mellon in his first annual report, transmitted today to congress.

Station Calls for Saving
Mr. Mellon informs congress that the amount within the next 10 months of $4,750,000,000 of the short dated bills makes it imperative that the government pursue a policy of the utmost economy and avoid new undertakings.

Revenue revision is the subject upon which the secretary has written with respect to changes in the tax law voted by congress last month.

He says the changes in the tax law voted by congress last month "give substantial relief to business and industry, and restore in some measure the balance of business activities, but our system of taxation still requires careful and thoughtful consideration.

He then proceeds to say that the possible reduction in surtax and other rates suggested can not be made on "by rigid economy in expenditures."

take, in the way of tax, out of any income, which would otherwise be saved and invested, and thereby becomes a part of the expenditure of the wealth of the nation, affects not so much the individual from whom it is taken as it does the whole people of the country, in the direct loss of productive capital.

Real National Wealth
"After all, the wealth of the country, upon which all the activities depend, the prosperity of our people depends, is made up of the private property of the individual citizens—all the people—and anything that unnecessarily takes away from the accumulation of property necessarily injuriously affects the people as a whole."

Discussing the proposed adjustment of the tax on business, Mr. Mellon suggests no specific rates, but attention that the repeal of the excess profits tax made necessary an increase in the rate on corporate income in income tax, and that this, with the capital stock tax, makes the total levy on corporations approximately 15 per cent.

Duplicating Taxes
"When we remember," he writes, "that the great bulk of the business of the country, both large and small, is carried on in the corporate form, and that the net income must largely be distributed in dividends, and that these dividends are then in turn subject to surtax, it is at once seen that the resulting taxation to persons engaged in productive business is very heavy."

For instance, a stockholder subject to a 25 per cent net corporate income tax, 25 per cent on his dividends, while a stockholder subject to a 50 per cent surtax would be taxed about 65 per cent on such profits.

Declaring that there were two "chief objections" to the present legislative tax rates, running up to 25 per cent on the total income of estates, Mr. Mellon says much of what he has said respecting the high surtaxes apply equally to the estate tax.

Another objection he sets forth is that in many instances a forceful liquidation of estates to obtain the necessary money to pay the taxes results in loss to the estates as well as "to every one else who is interested in the estate," especially if at the same time they desire to or must sell.

Simplifying Reduction
Referring to the proposed statement that the tax law needs simplification, Mr. Mellon declares that "the greatest simplification that can be made is in the reduction of the rates of estate taxes."

"So far as the estate tax is concerned," he asserts, "there was not much difficulty in the administration of the law, even though the system was entirely new and the organization administering it unfamiliar with the operation of such a law.

The complexity of the law so far as it concerns the income tax itself is far more largely due to the high rates which make every point of earnings involve substantial amounts of money, and which means that each possible question is contested by the taxpayer and the government."

Discovery of Fossilized Bone Supports Theory of Man's Origin in Africa

LONDON, (AP)—Scientists say the Darwinian theory that Africa may be the cradle of man is receiving support from the discovery of a fossilized human race received partial corroboration from the discovery, just made in northern Rhodesia of a fossilized skull which rhodesia is a new orientation to the early history of primitive man.

The skull, which is complete save for the lower jaw, resembles that of the ape man (Pithecanthropus erectus) discovered in Java in 1891, which has been regarded as the most primitive human skull known until now.

Moreover, a collar bone, a leg bone and a part of a hip bone believed to belong to the skull have also been unearthed, and these may enable anatomists to reconstruct the main parts of the whole Rhodesian skeleton.

The scene of the discovery was about "Dene Cave" of the Broken Hill mine already famous for the beauty of its stalactites and stalagmites and for the remarkable fact that the lines at which they were originally composed have been largely replaced by phosphates of zinc and lead.

It was the commercial value of these formations that led to the transformation of this cave into one of the strangest mines ever worked.

Almalk in Family
The first skeleton of a man of fossilized remains of elephants, lions, leopards, rhinoceros, hippopotami, antelopes, birds, bats and small mammals in the cave of Dene in 1908, which has been removed, but no trace of man was discovered until a depth of 60 feet below water level was reached, where the bones described were found surrounded by soft-fracture lead conglomerate.

New "Landed Gentry" Appears in England

LONDON, (AP)—The advent of a new "landed gentry" in England since the war is made plain by "Purke's," an annual work of reference on that subject which has reappeared after a break of over 100 years.

Over 100 names of old landowners have disappeared since the last edition and their places have been taken by double that number of newcomers. The new purke, the editor remarks, "is a work of reference on that subject which has reappeared after a break of over 100 years."

"Much as the passing of old families from the land, or the dilapidation of their holdings, is to be regretted, the appearance of a new class of gentry, possessed of means enabling them to develop estates which had become impoverished through the misfortune of their previous owners, cannot be without benefit to the country."

Oath of Allegiance for Irishmen Given

LONDON, (AP)—The articles of agreement in the "Treaty between Great Britain and Ireland" as the agreement reached last night is designated, provides in article IV that the oaths to be taken by the members of the parliament of the Irish free state shall be in the following form:

CUBANS PUT IN STRAITS BY DELAY IN LOAN MOVE

Delay in Negotiations for $50,000,000 Advance Hits Business Interests

HAVANA, Cuba, (AP)—Cuban business interests vitally affected by the prevailing financial and economic crisis are becoming impatient because of the delay in negotiations for a $50,000,000 advance loan to help normalize the country. Their vehement inquiries have just elicited information from official quarters to the effect that congressional approval of such legislation cannot be expected until the legislative committee in charge of framing tariff and tax reforms have finished their arduous task.

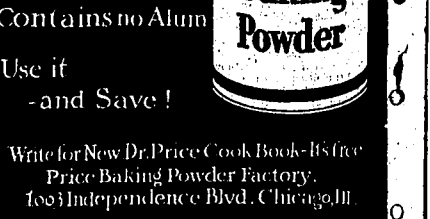

Conferees between administration officials and congressional leaders, however, are being held daily and it is hoped that a program that congress will approve will be settled upon as soon as the administration has finished reducing the budget and the tariff and tax committee have made their recommendations. Assurance that the government's revenue would be so adjusted as to meet the additional interest and sinking fund loan charges were the prime requisite demanded by the American lenders.

GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA FALLS IN GUATEMALA

Three Are Killed and Several Wounded in Fighting Incident to Overthrow of Latin American Administration

GUATEMALA CITY, Guatemala (AP)—The government of President Carlos Herrera was overthrown at midnight last night after fighting in which three persons were killed and several wounded. The president surrendered to the rebels and the provisional government headed by General Jose Maria Lima, General Orellana and Miguel Larrazo, former undersecretary of war.

The provisional government is said to have imprisoned Foreign Minister Luis Aguilar, Finance Minister Emilio Escamilla, Vice President Zelaya, the president of the congress, Rafael Plata and various members of the cabinet.

The casualties came as the result of fighting in the neighborhood of the city police. The country was tranquil today.

Carlos Herrera became provisional president of Guatemala after the revolution in April, 1920, in which the government of Estrada Cabrera was overthrown.

DEPOSED PRESIDENT HELD PRISONER AT HIS HOME

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—Carlos Herrera, whose government was overthrown in Guatemala in revolution which broke Monday night, was reported in advance to American officials today to be a prisoner in his residence. Members of the Herrera cabinet, the advisers said, were being held in the military prison.

DOZEN REPORTED KILLED

About a dozen persons were killed in the revolution, the official advisers said. The advisers said that the revolution began about Monday night and ended by 9 a. m. Tuesday, the advisers added.

Persons here in close touch with conditions in Guatemala but outside official channels said the revolt was a surprise to the Liberal party, which is believed here to have brought about the revolution, has long been opposed to the overthrow of Herrera. It is believed in its opinion is adopting the pact by which Guatemala entered the recently adopted Central American federation.

GUATEMALA MAY BE FREE

The same persons were of the opinion that the first immediate effect of the revolution would be the disruption of the present government, and the freeing from prison of Estrada Cabrera, former president, though it was believed an effort would be made to restore Cabrera to office.

MANAGED ESTRADA CABRERA, son of the former president in Washington.

Prima Donna's Home.

There are few more romantic homes than the Chateau de Cabrera, where Madame Calve, the famous operatic singer, spends the summer months. It is an exact castle standing high among the mountains in the south of France. It has been part of the rock upon which it is built, rising in stupendous grandeur and commanding glorious views across the valleys. It had all the pomp and circumstance of a royal chateau, which she had known from earliest childhood. When she bought it, she invited her father and mother to a grand dinner without divulging the secret. A large crowd gathered before her father's place. When he lifted the cover a huge key rested on the dish. It unlocked the main door, and told her parents that Madame Calve owned the old place.

Remarkable Cacti.

The newest achievement of Burbank, the plant wizard, is the production of cacti that bear fruit local to the eye and with flavor resembling those of peaches, muskmelons, pineapples, etc., yet sufficiently unlike to render them appetizing novelties. They are very sweet, containing from 12 to 30 per cent of sugar. These fruits may be eaten fresh or put up as sweetmeats. They are of various colors and their juices, particularly of the red ones (which are of brilliant hues) are utilizable for coloring fies, jellies and candies.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Theatro

"Passion" will be the offering at the New Orpheum for the next three days. The meteoric rise of a public milliner to the position of the king of fabrics and the subsequent rebellion of the masses of people from which she came, combine to form the basis of what is proclaimed one of the most extra ordinary stories ever projected on the screen. The performance, given by Pola Negri, in this stellar role is one of the finest achieved in pictures. The amazing results of the passion which rises and aways melts comprised of thousands of critical reprints, was impressively demonstrated in this wonderful film.

Harold Lloyd comes to the stage for two days, starting today, in "I Do." This is said to be his finest picture. It deals with Harold's attempt at going through three marriages to a noble heiress, "Miss Fanny," a help girl production, which will be the feature picture. It is a picture of small town life. A strong dramatic story, remarkable light comedy, clever dialogue and one of the most stirring "impassionable" acts but a few of the night lights in "Red Foam."

Earl Williams, the Beau Brummel of the movies, will be seen at the Rialto for the coming two days in his latest photoplay, "Diamonds Adrift." A picture of love and adventure, with plenty of thrills go to make "Diamonds Adrift" a picture well worth going to see. A two-part serial, "Fals and Pugs" is also on the bill.

Viola Haynes in "Seeing Things" will be at the Leaning for two evenings only. This is not a moving picture, but a three-act comedy. The advance rate of seats indicates a large house.

OWNS AND RUNS COAL MINE

Oil Has Been Successful in Business in Which Power of Her Sex Have Been Engaged.

"I wonder when will we ever get our coal," the complaint of many housewives for a few seasons past, will be voiced by Miss Allica Ott, twenty-one years old, who, incidentally married her husband, "the 'ragon mine' man" on her father's farm in the hills of Mount Oliver, Pa., near Pittsburgh.

Ricka is her own boss—mine operator, manager, distributor. Day after day she cheerfully steps on the mine, which she inherited from her father. Along about three years ago, when all the mines of western Pennsylvania were working to their fullest capacity, to keep an unending stream of coal flowing to the mills where weapons and machinery were being turned out, Ricka was induced with the desire to do her share toward the winning of the great conflict. She suggested to her father, Gregor Ott, a steel worker, that they open a mine. Ricka's father scorned the idea of giving up a profitable business to the uncertainly of a small coal mine.

"I will mine the coal and sell it," said Ricka. He laughed at the idea of a girl mining coal and driving a truck. She gave her father no rest until he agreed to start a mine for her, and she has since proved more than a match for the other miners of the country.

Last year Miss Ott mined 9,000 barrels of coal, and distributed it to her customers.—Dearborn Independent.

Promotion of "Pure English."

In England, as in the United States, the subject of preserving the purity of the English language from the effects of slang, loss of grammatical distinctions, etc., has recently attracted much attention. One of the results of the movement is the formation of the Society for Pure English. The society was founded in 1918, but was compelled by the war to postpone its activities. The reason for the existence of the society is given as "the duty of English-speaking people to make their language adequate, simple, efficient, and worthy of its increasing and world-wide use. Its purpose is to further the best interest of the language by the promulgation of sound knowledge." It is asserted that the Society for Pure English does not intend to dogmatize, but to open an informal democratic court in which all questions may be argued on full information.—Columbus Dispatch.

Princess Mary to Wed

The betrothal of Princess Mary, the only daughter of King George V, to the prince of Greece, Prince Alexander, was announced today.

Bride's Thrift Waxed Dowry.

Two daughters of a distinguished Vienna family married in 1912. The younger girl wedded an officer and had to have the "caution money" compulsory to brides in the Austrian Empire. The mother gave her 100,000 crowns, which included the expense of her outfit.

The elder sister only needed her outfit, for which she got 20,000 crowns, while the rest of her dowry—80,000 crowns—was left with the mother, as was also the whole portion of the son, who had settled in Switzerland.

Recently, says the New York World, the mother, a widow, wished to put in full the portion of the two children to whom she still owed money. She sent 100,000 crowns to the son in Switzerland, who received 800 francs from the postoffice for the total amount. His sister got 940 francs for the 8,000 crowns due her. The younger girl's 100,000 crowns would have been worth 105,000 francs in 1912.

A Noose for Trade.

An Ashburn (Mo.) merchant named Myers decided to cut business and offered to sell his stock to a bean trader of the neighborhood named Merrifield at what it involved, $1,000. "I won't take that," said Merrifield. "I'll give you 25 cents for every article and package in the store." Myers thought of his big line of state and lend pencils worth a cent apiece and agreed. Two men were hired to help check up. Nine pencils, clothespins, packages of chewing gum and papers of pins were listed at 25 cents each, so were automobile tires, barrels of sugar and coffee. An egg was worth as much as a 50-yard bolt of cotton. The result was that Merrifield bought the stock for $1,800.25, but got $32.75 less than it involved.—Copper's Weekly.

Today's Markets

WHEAT MARKET SUFFERS FURTHER PRICE LOSSES

CHICAGO, (AP)—New weakness developed in the wheat market today during the early morning hours. A leading bearish factor at this time was the report of a big bank failure in South Germany. On the downturn, however, commission houses look to the buying side. Opening quotations, which ranged from 3-8c decline to 1-8c advance, with May $1.11-1-12 and July $1.01-1-14 to $1.01-1-13, were followed by a moderate general uptick and then something of a rally.

Later the weakness became more pronounced as a result of lower world prices of thousands of bushels at the Gulf of Mexico failed to act as an offset. The close was unsettled, 1 to 1-2-1/2c lower, with May $1.11-1-14 and July $1.01-1-14 to $1.01-1-13.

Corn and oats were easy with wheat. After opening 1-4 off to 1-8c up, May 53-1-4 to 53-1-4, the corn market sagged a little all around.

Subsequently export demand helped to sustain the market. Prices closed steady, 1-4 to 3-8c net, lower to 1-8c advance, with May 53-1-8 and July 54-1-2c.

Wheat started unsteady to 1-8c higher, May 37-3-4 to 37-7-8c, and later showed big slight change. Provisions were dull but firmer in line with hog.

NEW YORK, (AP)—Bull pools were in control of the stock market today, but the lighter money rates and pressure against speculative favorites caused a sharp recovery before the close. Sales approximately $50,000 shares.

Selected issues again were brought forward by bull pools at the opening of today's stock market. Famous Players-Lasker common and preferred, American Woolen, Best Sugar preferred, American Car and Lumber Locomotive rose 1 to 2 1/2 points. The recent buying movement in motors and rubber specialties made further progress. Among the more substantial shares Canadian Pacific, Union Pacific, Northern Pacific and Delaware, Lackawanna and Western strengthened.

Foreign exchange rates held all of yesterday's gain, but French, Italian and German quotations were moderately lower.

Rate of St. Paul issues affected other rails later, and the issue of gold money to 3 1/2 per cent precipitated liquidation elsewhere, especially among equipments, oils and motors. The close was heavy, Government issues and most other bonds reflected further falling sales.

LIBERTY BONDS
NEW YORK, (AP)—Liberty bonds closed in heavy demand. Series A's $97.50 bid; second 4's $97.50 bid; first 4's $97.50; second 4's $97.40; third 4's $97.50; fourth 4's $97.70; Victory 3-4's $100; Victory 4-4's $100.00.

ABOUT TAXES

In the year nineteen hundred thirteen a letter reached the office of The News from a resident of Minneapolis who at that time was a land owner in Twin Falls county...

It might be interesting to listen to his comment yet probably it would not differ greatly from the general trend of the remarks of about seventy-five per cent of our own people right here at home.

It seems incredible that there should be any feeling about on the question by the tax making bodies. It is difficult to believe that any set of men should be inclined to temporize, ask questions, or hesitate in the slightest degree on a course of action with respect to a reduction of taxes.

Only one thing is asked of Municipal, County, Highway, School and State officials, namely the practice of the same kind of economy which obtains with respect to private business.

There is just one way to reduce taxation and that is to cut expenses in every branch of public activity and in this connection the question to be considered is not whether or not the people can afford this, that, or the other thing, but whether or not they can get along without it.

It is not a pleasant thought to think that we must have less in the way of public conveniences, public improvements, and public administration of affairs generally, but if the point aimed at is to be reached, if taxes are to be actually reduced, this is exactly what we may expect.

The public demand today is for a policy of economy so rigid as to cause about the same degree of complaint as has resulted from the reverse of this policy of the past few years.

Twin Falls is proud of her schools, so for that matter is the average man proud of his farm, his home, his store or his office but if, as a result of general conditions he is called upon to trim his expenditure of operation ten or twenty per cent does he hesitate?

This is all more to the whole question of the reduction of taxes—a recognition on the part of the tax fixing authorities that the time has come to cut down. To proceed further along the present lines is impossible, to stand still is unthinkable.

This is no time for hesitating, or asking questions, it's a time for action. The public is not unreasonable in its demands, all it asks is for the application of the same character of administration as obtains in the conduct of the ordinary business.

GUNNERS AND AVIATORS WORK ON NAVY PROBLEMS

Experts Devise Spectacular Tests in Anti-Aircraft Defense to be Feature of Gunnery Exercises

LOS ANGELES, Cal., (AP)—First gunnery officers and air squadron officers are co-operating here in working out naval anti-aircraft problems that promise to furnish gunnery exercises in December that will startle the world in their brilliancy.

ing without delay a system of curtailed expense for public administration in and around this section will go into effect with the next election which will make the present demands seem like the stories in a child's picture book by comparison.

It doesn't seem much to ask, and assuredly the thing can be done. The only question is if it is going to be done sanely and reasonably now or foolishly, recklessly and ridiculously a year from now.

WITH GOOD WILL THE THE

President Harding, according to Washington dispatches, "would as soon have a nation's word as his bond." This follows a statement that he would be willing to let the results of the present conference rest on a "gentlemen's agreement," and also the decisions that may be taken in the interest of world peace by the "association of nations" which once more comes forth for consideration, and under favorable auspices.

Men or nations so devoid of honor that their pledged word is worthless will scheme to escape fulfillment of obligations protected by bonds. Treaties having been treated as scraps of paper in the past, there is no reason to believe they will be scrupulously respected always in the future.

Mutual good faith founded in mutual good will and solicitude for the common welfare will afford the only substantial basis of peace. Are there risks in putting it to the test? The demonstration will not be long delayed.

President Harding proposes good will as the tie to bind the nations. Give us that and the word of honor will be sufficient guarantee of peace.

More Truth Than Poetry

A WONDERFUL PROPOSITION— BUT

"MOST happily," says Mr. Bull. "I've found your great proposition, it meets our fondest hopes in full. And brings to birth a new condition. We'll scrap our ships, as you suggest, without the slightest hesitation— but meanwhile, may I not be best to have a reconsideration?"

"IT is a pleasure," says Japan. "I've read your honorable story; You have conceived a noble plan. You cover your great self with glory. Without evasion, we agree. To honorable scrap you mention— but wait a while and let us see. We glimpse a reason for disavowal."

"HURRAH!" about Italy and France. "At last we make approach to reason; The weary world will have a chance. To be unbattered for a season. Your plan is logical and fair. We can't see how it could be bettered— But we regret to say that there. Are reasons why we can't be fettered."

THE proposition's great, it abuts. The doors against war's waste and worry, And if there were no "ifs" or "buts" We'd have things settled in a hurry. The Briton and the gentle Jap Say "Opposed! Nothing could be greater; Go on reduce your ships to scrap— We'll see about our programme later."

NOT SO GOOD

The man who expects to fall back on his friends generally finds the falling poor.

A SINGULAR OMISSION

The Thanksgiving proclamations mention a number of things for which we should be thankful. Income taxes are not among them.

House of the Blues Dept. The painting of doors and window frames deserves study. A low-roofed house painted gray with blue-green roof, has doors and windows of the same blue-green tone. In its setting of emerald lawn with shrubs of dark green and gravel walk bordered with deepbluish blue the picture presented is vastly pleasing.

EXTENDS SCOPE OF LEPROSURE

Rockefeller Foundation Undertakes to Treat All Afflicted Filipinos

MANILA, P. I., (AP)—The extension of the ethyl-ester treatment to all lepers in the Philippine Islands is the chief problem engaging the attention of Dr. Victor G. Heiser, chief of the First Eastern section of the Rockefeller Foundation, who is making an investigation of health conditions in the archipelago for that organization.

General Leonard Wood, who became governor general of the Philippines last week, has made up his mind that all of the lepers at the colony shall receive the treatment, if it is possible," said Dr. Heiser. "He made this announcement in a public address recently. I am looking up the available supply of oil for this work, not only from the local standpoint but from a world-wide aspect. It is possible that the raw material for the oil can be found in the Philippines, and if that should prove to be the case, the island will have another industry and might even supply the world.

"There are at present more than one million lepers in the world, India alone has more than 300,000 and Japan about 60,000. Some of the South American countries also have large numbers. The treatment requires about 50 liters of oil per 1,000 patients a month, so that the possibilities of the chaunchoera oil industry are apparent.

"The oil is extracted from a nut growing on the hydrocotyle tree, a variety of which is found on the island of Mindanao. We do not know however, whether the Philippine tree yields the kind of oil that has the preventive medical properties for the successful treatment of leprosy. That will have to be determined by a thorough analysis which only a high class chemist can perform."

World-wide Search. A shipment of some 700 pounds or about 300 liters of chaunchoera oil left Manila for Mexico a few days ago. Cablergrams also have been sent to various parts of the world in an attempt to obtain a sufficient supply for giving treatment to all the lepers at Cullion.

Among the lepers confined at Cullion are five former American soldiers. They have not been included in the 300 or 400 who are receiving the chaunchoera oil treatment, but with the meager position which one of the ex soldiers draws from the United States government, the five are able to buy a small amount of medicine and thus obtain infrequent treatment.

CHINESE BOYCOTT BRITISH

Friction Between Authorities at Amoy Affects Trade Activities

AMOI, China, (AP)—Friction arising between the local British and Chinese authorities in regard to the British consular here has resulted in the declaration of a boycott by the Chinese against Butterfield and Swire, an English firm with wide connections. The Chinese are said to be endeavoring to expand it into a general boycott against the British.

COMMUNITY'S DETERMINER IS PLAIN BY UNITY

Dealers Hear of Advantages at Home Districts Through Realty Boards

Responding to appeals of prominent western realty operators Twin Falls dealers in real property will tomorrow convene in special meeting at the Hotel Rogers to discuss the organization of a realty board as a local Realtors' Board. At the same time a delegation will be chosen to attend a general convention of realty operators held at Pocatello Friday and Saturday of this week.

Prominent Men Present

Decision looking toward the formation of a live, functioning board of realtors in Twin Falls resulted from a meeting conducted last night in the quarters of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce when a goodly number of realty operators were present. The meeting was presided over by the president of the latter home address.

W. F. Passer, president of the North-western Association of Realtors; Fred C. Brinkman, of Portland, secretary; J. H. Brown, of Boise, vice president of the National Real Estate Association, and Clyde J. Brown, of Water, vice president of the National Real Estate Association, were present, and P. E. McDowen, a real estate dealer of Pocatello, in addresses on the life of the trade. The latter addressed the gathering in the interest of the community and the benefit of the community. He urged that Twin Falls be amply represented at the Pocatello meeting, and guaranteed a return of the community's interest in the matter.

All addresses last night were repeated this morning at a meeting held at a revival of business conditions in the city. Each speaker pronounced the opinion that taxation laws must be changed to bring about an equalization of taxes and reduce the present state of delinquency.

MONEY ARRIVES FOR ELKS HOME

Work Begins on Completion of Handsome New Lodge Building

Work has begun on the completion of the new Elks home. Yesterday the balance of the loan to come through the monthly installments will be sufficient to complete the building.

First Carload Received

The first carload of brick arrived yesterday and is being unloaded today. Brick work will be started and the structure will be fully enclosed within a short time, so that the interior work may be done during the winter months.

The interior work will be ready by the time the masonry work has been completed. There will be no delay in the present completion of the structure on its occupancy by spring time.

Thursday night will lay the cornerstone and a memorable one in local Elksdom. The full vitalistic services of the lodge will be employed, and visiting Elks will be invited to call on the state to take part in this big event.

Charities of Members

Canvases to be made at once among the members of the lodge for the purpose which is to be carried by the members in the Missouri State Life Insurance company. This canvass will be completed as early as possible.

Last night officers of the lodge and H. H. Stevenson and T. E. Hubbard, who negotiated the loan, were present. Efforts have at last met success.

FEW SCHOOL CHILDREN ARE DEVOID OF DEFECTS

Nurses' Report Indicates Many Minor Troubles Existing Among Pupils

Out of a total of 404 children examined during the month of November, 84 are pronounced to be free from the obvious defects of hearing, sight, touch and feeling, according to the report made by Miss Florence McCall, county health nurse.

"This may be considered the maximum number of those not defective, but it is not to be taken too literally, successful, and would not reveal difficulties of heart, lungs or stomach which might exist," Miss McCall explains. "Last month the Union school, Poplar Grove, Duhi, Rosewood, Maroon, Green, Hollister and the Washington school in Twin Falls received the attention of the nurse during the month, and Miss Grall, beginning of the work, said Miss Grall further, 'I want to see the schools and to various homes on my own initiative because of information received through the school system, but now I am going in response to calls from parents, teachers, members of school boards, and others who are very satisfactory reasons for my work. There is an increasing number of home visits needed each month, and the scope of the work is constantly widening. Last month the Union school, Poplar Grove, had serving hot lunches to the school children, and other county schools are preparing to follow with this very practical means of raising the standard of a child, and of defective eyes. Nearly half the number examined were found to have enlarged tonsils. Miss McCall reports that very satisfactory reasons for the part of the patients whom the defects are pointed out, and states that number of children have already been treated through her operations and with glasses of various kinds for relief measures are followed by marked improvement in school work. An appalling number of cases of neglected teeth has been found, according to Miss McCall. Several cases have been referred to attend to contagious skin diseases which have appeared in the schools of the county."

USES STRIKING FIGURES TO PROVE SCHOOLS NEED

Dr. W. F. Passer Tells Kiwanis Club 62 Per Cent Mentally Under 16

Speaking before the Kiwanis club in furtherance of the purposes of National American Education Week, Dr. W. F. Passer, former commander of Twin Falls post, American Legion, declared that psychological examinations of three million children in the United States during the world war disclosed the fact that 62 per cent of the total population of the United States during the world war was mentally between the ages of 7 and 18 years, and only 5 per cent passed tests for intellects above the age of 18 years. Dr. Passer asserted that the men in the army at that time represented a fair cross section of American citizenship, and argued for greater support for education to overcome the conditions indicated by these tests.

Were Neighbors in State Down South

Twin Falls Alderman Recalls Neighborly Acquaintance with Shipbuilder

That Charles W. Morse, millionaire shipbuilder, who is now in the United States for an investigation of his ship-building contracts with the government, is well known personally to at least one Twin Falls resident has been revealed in a statement made during an intermission at council meeting last night.

"I know Charles W. Morse; in fact, I know him very well. I know him for a high financier and a money maker. I know him as a man with the sharpest and shrewdest business eyes I have ever seen in the human head."

The statement was made by Alderman C. P. Bowles, formerly a resident of Morse's native state, Georgia. Mr. Bowles and Morse were neighbors and as such were acquainted, and while the Twin Falls man does not estimate that Morse is "crooked" in his method of dealing, he likes to lay emphasis upon the extraordinary "shrewdness" of Morse.

"He gets his way very easy, too, and then he has to go away for some time," Mr. Bowles stated.

"The effect of caffeine is known," says the report. "For the great majority of normal individuals it is a mild stimulant, increases power to do muscular work, increases concentration of mental effort and therefore the power to do more brain work. It is not followed except in excessive doses, by undesirable after-effects."
