Police Fire on Crowds Staging Night Attack on Workmen and Authorities, Marking Outbreak of Disorders

CHICAGO, (AP) — A temporary injunction prohibiting members of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of America from picketing or otherwise molesting workers in the stockyards was granted in superior court by Judge Dennis J. Connelley today.

CHICAGO, (AP) — Forty men were cut and bruised this morning when strike sympathizers stormed an elevated train carrying packer employees to the stockyards.

Fifteen hundred policemen were sent to the yards early today, long before daylight. A great number of persons, including a few women, gathered there. Only a few hours before 200 policemen had fired into thousands of strike sympathizers who attacked plant employees and, finally, the policemen. Last night's toll of casualties included nine seriously injured and an uncounted number who attacked plant employees and, finally, the policemen. Last night's toll of casualties included nine seriously injured and an uncounted number who attacked plant employees and, finally, the policemen.

Orders Banned Closed.

All schools in the neighborhood of the yards were closed today by order of Chief of Police Fitzpatrick. The chief said that the trouble would be stopped at any cost.

Efforts to break are more difficult to deal with than the men.

Without previous warning large numbers of persons began to augment the strike sympathizers until they overran the police and packed police on duty and riot call were sent in. When reinforcements arrived the crowd finally was scattered and the streets cleared as quickly as possible.

Immediate action was expected to end a petition for an injunction against the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen.

SOVIET SPHERE OF INFLUENCE GROWS IN U. S.

Attorney General Traces Invasion of American Labor Organizations by Foreign Ultraradicals

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The movement launched by the Third or Communist International at Moscow to gain control of the trade and industrial unions throughout the world "is meeting with marked success in so far as it relates to syndicalist unions in the United States," says the first annual report today of Attorney General Daugherty.

Communist parties in this country, Mr. Daugherty says, have united to more effectively carry on propaganda and the policy is to endeavor to gain control of the labor organizations through the control of the executive committees or other governing bodies thereof.

Americans Involved
"Many of the leaders of this movement are American citizens," he says, "though they are subject to arrest from Moscow as to their action and activities in the United States."

The attorney general says there has been a noticeable effort "upon the part of various so-called defense societies to propagate and carry on agitation in behalf of the ultra-radicals in the United States."

"Incomprehensible individuals in the ultraradical movement appropriated illegally, he asserts, "are martyred and propaganda started in their behalf, not only within the United States, but throughout the continent. In many instances the so-called defense organizations are found to be merely a camouflage for such movements as the United Communist party which must conduct its activities underground."

Propagandists Still Coming
Foreign propagandists still are flocking to the United States, according to the report, which notes that 427 of them arrived in the last fiscal year. The movements, the nature and the extent of the activities of these individuals have been carefully observed, it is stated, and the government has been kept "intimately informed."

"During the past fiscal year," the report continues, "the activities of foreign propagandists in the United States have been particularly noticeable and careful attention has been given to this pernicious form of work within this country. It is impossible to accurately estimate the vast amount of money spent in the United States by the foreign agents engaged in exploiting the American people and in creating interest in a support for movements and schemes entirely foreign to the interests of the American people."

Cites Law's Limitation
Calling attention that activities of the federal government in dealing with ultraradicals are limited by law to those which are particularly noticeable and careful attention has been given to this pernicious form of work within this country. It is impossible to accurately estimate the vast amount of money spent in the United States by the foreign agents engaged in exploiting the American people and in creating interest in a support for movements and schemes entirely foreign to the interests of the American people."

The dealing with ultraradicalism is only one of the many activities of the Department of Justice during the past fiscal year which are referred in the Attorney General's report. He calls attention that while the department ceased last January its activities in the enforcement of prohibition, it is continuing to co-operate in this work.

Mary Lippard Cases
The attorney general observes that "there has been no decrease in the number of illegal distilling cases since the enactment of the prohibition laws" and that "the court calendars in some jurisdictions have been overtaxed by this class of cases."

"Where the facts will warrant," he says, "the offenders have been vigorously prosecuted, and it is hoped that this will result in a material reduction of such violations of the law."

Selected Service Act cases disposed of during the year numbered 1,803, the report says, the convictions numbering 149 with 130 penalties of guilty. Cases pending at the beginning of the fiscal year numbered 25,867 and 1,331 new cases were begun.

Violations of the so-called delinquency sections of the espionage act have greatly decreased, according to the report, which notes that only six cases were begun under the entire act during the fiscal year, while 41 cases were disposed of, 130 cases having been docketed at the beginning of the year.

Mr. Daugherty declares that as an organized system the white slave traffic has been broken up, but adds that a great many individual cases still exist with the department making every effort to break up this practice also.

"Complaints arising under the Peonage Act are still being received," the report continues, "and peonage was found to exist to a shocking extent in Georgia, Alabama and some parts of Texas." Several convictions have been obtained and several prosecutions are pending, it is added.

Makes Recommendations
Among his specific recommendations the attorney general asks for enactment of legislation:
Authorizing the appointment of two federal judges at large for each of the nine judicial districts in order to assist in clearing the congested court dockets;

Making it a criminal offense to send through the mails letters threatening injury to life or property;
Authorizing the presence of stenographers in grand jury rooms;
Making it a crime for a single individual to defraud or attempt to defraud the federal government in any manner, as the law now provides for the punishment of "two or more persons who conspire to defraud."

Making criminal an attempt to commit a crime against the United States, limiting the composition to be received by referees in bankruptcy.

ADVISES ENLARGEMENT OF MILITARY ACADEMY

West Point Superintendent Says Larger Cadet Corps is Required

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—An increase in the cadet corps at the United States military academy from 1834 to 2500 is recommended by Brigadier General Douglas MacArthur, superintendent of the academy, in his annual report to the secretary of war, made public today. The academy, the report shows, now train only one-third of the officers needed even for a peacetime army of 150,000 men and would fall short, it was said, of providing the volume of officer material desired for training civilians in time of emergency.

Expansion of the cadet corps to 2500 would necessitate new construction, the cost of which was estimated at $6,000,000.

While the United States, General MacArthur says, has followed a course responsive to the reaction against war by diminishing the size of its army, this country "must, if we wish, increase the small heaven of professionally trained experts to train the great masses of the citizen soldiery which must be improvised in time of strife."

Our Conception of Service

A corporation that grows up with a community owes the latter a distinct measure of service in return for the patronage that it receives. It is the aim of this company to render the highest possible calibre of service to each of the six states in which it operates.

This service, we feel, should be and is absolutely impartial, with favoritism toward none and courteous, above-board methods of fair dealing for all.

Experience has shown time and again that the mere size of a concern is no insurance against failure. Large and small organizations alike are affected by the stern law of supply and demand; there are no exceptions. The status of any company depends in the long run upon the value of its products to the community and the attitude of the public toward the company.

The deciding factor is the success of any corporation catering to a restricted territory is public opinion. And public opinion, this company realizes, is moulded largely by service. The Continental Oil Company—and we believe all persons who think for themselves—attributes its success to the high standard of quality of all its products and their indispensable value to every community.

The directors of this company are always striving to improve, if possible, the measure of Continental service. They have co-operated liberally in making possible many projects of local and interstate importance. By installing Conoco Service Stations wherever the demand for them exists, the company has endeavored to make motoring increasingly convenient and pleasant.

Thousands buy their supplies of Conoco Gasoline and Polarine with Conoco Coupon Books. Are you one of them?

DREAM IN EVIDENCE IN BURCH'S MURDER TRIAL

State's Witness Gives Statements Attributed to Accused Woman

LOS ANGELES, Cal., (AP) — When the trial of Arthur C. Burch, for the alleged murder of J. Dalton Kennedy, was resumed in the superior court here Wednesday, the state called Mrs. Mary Dalles, Los Angeles, who testified that last July, before Kennedy's death,

Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, said that she feared "Dalton would soon pass out" and also that she "could almost put her hand on the place where it would happen."

Mrs. Obenchain, who by the evidence was said to have made these statements was indicted jointly with Burch and is to go to trial following his case, according to present plans.

Mrs. Dalles said she was in a beauty parlor here last July when Mrs. Obenchain came in and talked with her. Kennedy was shot early in August. Mrs. Dalles testified that she had told Mrs. Obenchain of a dream in which she had seen the latter seated by a country road or highway. She testified that after this conversation Mrs. Obenchain began to cry and said, "I know exactly what was meant," and then said that Mrs. J. D. Kennedy, mother of Dalton, had taken her the position that she would rather see her son dead than married to Mrs. Obenchain, and she thought "Dalton would soon pass out." These she added the statement, according to the witness, that she could almost put her hand on the spot where it would happen.

FORMER GOVERNOR GLYNN LAUDS IRISH AGREEMENT

American Who Participated in Negotiations Declares World Owes Lloyd George Debt of Gratitude

ALBANY, N. Y., (AP) — Former Governor Martin H. Glynn of New York state, through whom Prime Minister Lloyd George invited Eamon de Valera to negotiations that finally led to an agreement for settlement of the Irish question, said today that the world owed Lloyd George a debt of gratitude.

"Lloyd George has settled a problem that has baffled statesmen for 700 years," said Mr. Glynn. "And in all justice to the Irish leaders, it must be admitted that De Valera, Collins and Griffith have placed themselves among the clever statesmen of the world. The settlement of the Irish question is a great Christmas gift to humanity."

"In my conference with Lloyd George I found him intensely interested in the human side of the Irish question. A Celt himself, Lloyd George had a warm spot in his heart for the Irish that made him friendly disposed. He believed that the status of Ireland was working harm toward friendship between England and the United States."

SENATORS HEAR CHARGE AGAINST ARMY OFFICERS

rape, and the second, a negro soldier, for rape on a French woman, 48 years old. The third and fourth executions, the colonel said, also were for rape, both the soldiers hanged after trial, being negroes. After testifying that the first six cases were for assault, the witness testified that the seventh case was the rape of a negro soldier who murdered a French professor as the latter attempted to save a woman from a mob of rioters. The last case, the hanging of a white soldier who attempted assault on an eight-year-old Belgian girl, Murder Costa Life.

Next was the hanging of a white soldier for murdering another white soldier, the crime being characterized by Colonel Bethel as particularly atrocious. The last case, the hanging of two negro soldiers together, was after conviction for assaulting a French girl and murdering her father as he attempted to save her.

Beginning investigation of charges by Senator Watson, Chairman Brandegee of the special committee, approved today that the succeeding steps in the investigation of the Georgia senator but was ordered to ascertain whether "officers of the United States army were murderers."

Senator Watson appeared before the committee immediately after the adoption of a resolution requesting him to appear and testify in support of his charges.

"I made no indiscriminate charge in the senate against officers and nurses," said Senator Watson. "I said only that many officers were guilty of brutality toward soldiers."

Senator Watson declared he was prepared to prove his charges that soldiers were hanged without trial.

Quoted Texas Newspaper. The senator read a story from a Waco, Texas, paper, which quoted John J. Forbes, of Cleveland, as a former service man, as saying, "The Watson charges were true, and that the half had not been told about cruelties inflicted on soldiers by officers."

"Go ahead, then," the chairman broke in and the senator proceeded to read Forbes statement that he had seen a man hanged.

"Do you want Forbes' name?" Chairman Brandegee asked, and Senator Watson said he did.

The Waco newspaper printed a picture of what was supposed to be the gallows on which Forbes alleged he saw the soldier put to death.

Promises Immunity. In discussing procedure as to calling witnesses, Senator Watson said there were some men who were injured as the war and now drawing compensation who were afraid their compensation might be affected by their appearance before the committee.

"They will be protected," Chairman Brandegee declared. "The committee gives you carte blanche to say what you please and to call any witnesses you please."

Saw Twelve Hanged. An affidavit signed by George H.

Taylor, setting forth that he saw 12 soldiers hanged in France, and that he did not know whether all were convicted by court-martial was presented. The soldier said he saw two negroes and a white sergeant hanged, the latter after conviction by a French court-martial on charges of rape. The sergeant, Taylor said, resided at Detroit, Mich., and asked that his mother be notified if he died of influenza. According to Taylor, there was no justification for the charges as the girl was 17 years old and received money from the soldier.

See Soldier Killed. Senator Watson presented an affidavit by Samuel Long of Paterson, N. J., alleging that he saw a private soldier killed because he was a conscientious objector and refused to carry a gun.

Two other affidavits of a similar character were presented. "No, we see," said Senator Watson, "where instances where private were killed by their superiors without provocation and without trial."

Kenneth G. Robinson of Washington, D. C., in an affidavit, said he saw a doctor suspended by the wrists from a tree from 7:30 p. m. to 3 a. m., and then knocked down by a colonel because he refused to work on bread and water.

Today's Markets

SHORT STOCKS REPORT SEND WHEAT PRICES UP

CHICAGO, (AP)—Bulls had the advantage in the wheat market today during the first part of the session. Good cable acceptances on overnight offers to Europe were noted, and export sales yesterday at the low were estimated as high as 600,000 bushels. Pit trading here, however, lacked volume. Opening quotations, which varied from unchanged figures to 3-8 higher, with May $1.11 1/4 to $1.11 3/4 and July $1.01 1/2, were followed by moderate gains all around, and then something of a reaction. Subsequently the market rose higher than before, influenced by word that British sales of wheat were only a third of the total of a year ago. Prices closed strong, 1 3/4 to 7-8 net higher, with May $1.13 7/8 to 1 1/4 and July $1.03 7/8 to 1 1/8.

Corn and oats were firmer with wheat. Corn opened unchanged to 1-4 higher, May $3 1/2 to $3 1-4, and then scored slight gains here. Export business helped later to give the market an additional upturn. The close was firm, 7-8 to 1-8 net higher, with May $4 to $4 3-8 to 1-2.

After starting unchanged to 3-8 1-4 up, May $7 5/8, the oats market continued to harden. Provisions were dull and showed no decided change.

New York Stock Market NEW YORK, (AP)—Speculative sentiment again inclined toward the bull side in the stock market today, but after money rates leveled a resumption of bearish operations. Sales approximated 700,000 shares.

Gains and losses among railway shares at the opening of today's stock market suggested the conflicting views of speculative interests. St. Paul common and preferred rallied moderately on official assurances that impending obligations would be met, materializing.

Pure Margarine preferred continued strength as a result of the declaration of the extra dividend. Canadian Pacific, New York Central, Rock Island and Erie first preferred were fractionally lower and similar tendencies were noted in oils, steels, equipments and specialties.

SCOUTS ARE CREDITED WITH GOOD DEEDS DONE

Juvenile Officer Pays Tribute to Boys for Aid in Reducing Delinquencies

County juvenile department records continue to show a steady decline in delinquencies among boys and girls of the city and district, according to R. Ault, officer in charge. Mr. Ault says there is a dearth of major offenses among youngsters, and a considerable lessening of minor offenses, not since his annual report was made to the state governor a month ago.

"The contributing influences for betterment in the juvenile population are numerous, including church societies, school societies, women's clubs, increase of attention paid to wards by parents and other guardians, and the superior influence of the Boy Scouts in their organizations here," Mr. Ault explains.

Influences Recognized

Recognition of all influences is made by Mr. Ault as being for the general betterment of the young people of the community. His list includes high commendation to clubs, societies and guardians for the influence exerted for the good of the community, and especially marks the Boy Scouts of America, under direction of competent scout masters.

"The Scouts have exerted an influence, since their regular organization here, that has been the direct means of reclaiming more than one lad, and has held together in bands for higher citizenship scores of others. I feel that too high a tribute cannot be paid the Boy Scouts for the excellence of work they are doing for the support of law and order, and for the better citizenship gospel they teach, and for the high standards they set for the juvenile officer declares. In this connection Mr. Ault suggests the institution of a movement among the older people for a Greater Boy-Scout organization, which would include the fold all lads of the city and district.

Plan Exploration Trip

Plans have been made by a Donald McLean, leader of one large and interesting Boy Scout troop here, for a trip to the cave four miles north of the Hansen Bridge. The trip is scheduled for next Sunday, when a complete exploration of the caverns will be made, which the News has made exclusive mention on several occasions, will be carried on. While existence of the cave has been known for many years, the older residents of the district assure little publicity has been given it until the News brought the fact of its existence to the public. In the attention several weeks ago after several citizens had made a cursory investigation of the cavern, which is said to be at least a half mile in length.

WHAT IS A DOUGHBOY?
 What is a doughboy? The civilian public has been cheerfully applying the term to every soldier, regardless of the branch of the service in which he is engaged. As for its derivation, it has been content with the old explanation that the doughboy is the flower of the army, and let it go at that. But now comes the Infantry Journal asserting that "while it has become the fashion to call any uniformed Tom, Dick or Harry a doughboy," it is time to realize that the term may be properly applied only to an infantryman.
 On the question of derivation the Officers' Manual gives three explanations; the most accepted is that in olden times, when infantrymen used to clean their white breeches with pipe clay, if caught in the rain the whitening would run, forming a kind of dough. One thing is certain: Dough is an ancient and honorable word in the vocabularies of fighting men. Granting that its application is to infantrymen, does anybody know exactly what is meant by another expression in common use these days: A buck private?

DEFEAT OF THE N. P. LEAGUE

The Nonpartisan League, like the Populist uprising in Kansas, was essentially a protest rather than a revolutionary movement. The protest has been made. Now comes the need for more effective leadership. That is the reason for the political overturning in the North Dakota recall election of last week.
 The chief grievance of the wheat farmers of the state was over the grading of wheat by the purchasers in the Twin Cities. The elevator companies were avaricious in their attitude. The farmers felt they were being unjustly treated and that they had no recourse.
 Out of this grievance largely grew the program for state owned elevators and mills, and for general enlargement of state activities. But governments are notoriously wasteful and inefficient in conducting business. The men in charge in North Dakota were predominantly of the agitator sort, and were not qualified for industrial leadership. The state bank they organized had difficulties. The industrial projects they attempted proved expensive beyond expectations, and of uncertain success. Taxes shot up and the hoped-for benefits did not materialize.
 Behind the whole program was this fundamental trouble—lack of diversified farming. In most of the state the farmer is solely a wheat raiser. This involves the difficulties of raising wheat—requires only four or five months work a year; nobody in this age can expect to earn a good living unless he has a chance for productive labor over a larger share of the year. And if wheat conditions are bad, either from weather, or from the standpoint of labor, transportation or markets, the farmer is up against it.

 This basic problem the Nonpartisan League program failed to take into account. It sought relief through governmental activity from a situation that requires individual effort.
 The protest movement has helped correct the grain trading abuse. But the field for effective protest is limited. From our standpoint the problem of the new state administration will be to abandon the extravagant government projects, get down to brass tacks and furnish leadership toward obtaining that larger diversification of farm business that is required to put the North Dakota farmer on a basis of permanent prosperity.—Kansas City Star.

THE BOOTLEGGER'S SATURDAY NIGHT

By J. E. KISER

I'VE done a good week's work this week;
 I have no cause to whine;
 My honest profits, so to speak,
 Have been extremely fine;
 I sold twelve cases of the stuff
 To old man Marbletop;
 Unless they start to treat me rough
 I guess I'll soon be back again
 To make it best to stop.
 I'M sorry that young Feathergill
 Slipped off, the other day;
 I didn't think the stuff would kill—
 It sometimes goes that way.
 Well, no one knows, it's best to smile
 And keep on knockin' wood;
 It must have been uncommon vile;
 Too bad he had to go for while
 He lasted he was good.
 I HOPE the new man that they've sent
 To fasten down the lid
 Will listen to sound argument,
 As all the others did;
 It's mighty tough to have to split
 With all these greedy guys;
 Oh, well, I'll hand him out the bit;
 You've got to make conditions fit
 In any enterprise.
 THE prospect brightens every day;
 With such scores and scores fixed
 The folks'll have to toss away
 The home brews they have mixed;
 I'm jerry for the open door,
 And strong for hild and seek;
 You don't hear me let loose no more;
 I've done, as I have said before,
 A good week's work this week.

SPORTS BASEBALL TRIAL STILL ON, SAYS COMMISSIONER

Judge Landis Impartunes Magistrates to Set National on Highest Moral Plane

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—The delegates at the annual meeting of the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues went into what may be the closing session today with the admonitions of Commissioner K. M. Landis still ringing in their ears.

Landis, he told them at the annual dinner last night, must be better in its morality than any other business because it serves a great overwhelming, influencing public opinion, and because "the ideal of fandom are the highest ideals."

He spoke plainly on the unsatisfactory interpretation and application of the waiver rule and the optional agreement adopted at New York last year to replace the draft, and urged organized baseball to get together on a fundamental law that will eliminate "this thing that some day surely will rise to plague you."

PLAYERS, TOO, ARE SAID TO HAVE ENTERED INTO DEAL FOR TRANSFER

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Judge K. M. Landis dropped in to visit the minor league magistrates at work in annual meeting here today. He will be the speaker at a dinner tonight given by the local committee to delegates attending the twenty-first annual meeting of the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues.

MINING IS INCREASING CAPTAIN LONGLEY AVERS

Chief of Assay Bureau Reports Steady Advancement in the Mines' Activities

In a report rendered following a survey of the mines conducted by the chief of the United States assay office in Boise, says he is convinced there is greater mining activity in southern Idaho than elsewhere in the state.

"These figures are an illustration of the fact that the receipts for the year ending November 30, 1920, were 260 deposits of bullion at this office. For the entire previous year there were but 200, and 302 for the year before that. In the first six months of the fiscal year ended July 1 to November 15, there were 192 samples of ore submitted for assay. PHEASANTS AND DUCKS BLAZE WAY INTO COURT

Illegal Shooting of Game Charged by Warden Fitzsimmons One Day After Other Deaths

Shooting game when such shooting is out of season, is a criminal offense, according to O. E. Lowe, a Twin Falls district farmer. Lowe was fined $25 in the probate court yesterday evening for killing pheasants. His plea of guilty to the charge preferred by J. R. Fitzsimmons, deputy state game warden.

Along with Lowe, L. Skeen, another resident of the district, was arraigned to answer charges for shooting ducks after sundown. He denied the accusation made by Warden Fitzsimmons and will have preliminary hearing on Saturday morning.

GAMBLING ADMITTED BY FOUR UPON ARRAIGNMENT

Men Arrested in P. Bar, Admitted 'Corroctness of Charge'—Sentence Tomorrow

In the probate court this morning, Judge P. Sheriff E. R. Sharnas admitted four men charged with gambling. The men were arrested in P. Bar, and admitted the correctness of the charge. Sentence will be given tomorrow.

This quartet was arrested in P. Bar early this week following information that they were conducting a gambling force through investigation of the circumstances surrounding the condition of John Jarvis, a ditcher, who is now a patient in the county hospital. The investigation developed the fact that Jarvis had been gambling with the men arrested this morning, and also implicated Flor Casto and Ivan Cobb. All six were arrested at one time, and have been in the county jail, ever since.

That Casto was not arraigned this morning is due to the fact that an information charging illegal possession of intoxicating liquor has been preferred against him. He will be arraigned later. Agnias Ivan Cobb there appears to be no definite accusation, and, it is understood, the man will probably be released from custody.

OFFER ANOTHER CHANGE TO SEE "SEEING THINGS"

Stone Players Will Present Roaring Farce-Comedy at Lavington Tonight

"Seeing Things", presented at the Lavington theatre last night by the Stone Players, supporting Miss Viola Haynes, is probably one of the most hilarious farce-comedies ever offered on a local stage. From the opening lines to the denouement the play is replete with wincing scenes founded and developed in humor. It is a shock-actor for any audience to catch the drift and, finally, has a measure of dignity and realism in the part of a much loved woman the wisp and wool of the comedy fabric. Last night's audience was aware, but the play is to be presented again tonight and a special effort is being made today to advertise the offering so that every person in Twin Falls will be given an opportunity to see the play and get through with it.

The supporting cast in "Seeing Things" is competent throughout, each being amply endowed with histrionic ability along dramatic lines, and versatile. Smith Davis, Frank Gathel, May Roberts, L. Victor Gillard, Harry Sandley, May Gillard and Leonard Duncan all find ample opportunity to demonstrate their stage prowess in "Seeing Things", each part seeming to have been chosen or adapted to the peculiar ability of the incumbent. Miss Haynes is divine in the part of a much loved young thing whose people, having met the fortunes of life too complacently, find themselves in age without those adjustments necessary to comfort in the "rainy day" period. They would sell the girl to a wealthy old man, but there's a poor young man who demands consideration—and gets it in the final issue of the play.

Humor situations keep the play alive and are designed to amuse any audience to joy.
