JAPANESE NEAR FINAL ACTION ON NAVY RATIO

Cabinet in Session at Tokio Tomorrow is Expected to Determine Nation's Attitude Toward American Proposal

DEVELOPMENTS REPORTED SATISFACTORY TO JAPAN

Indications at Conference Point to Approaching Settlement of Main Issues Affecting Oriental Empire

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP) — So encouraging a situation has developed in the arms negotiations that some of the delegates believe an open session of the conference will be called early next week to announce agreement on the five-five-three naval ratio and the quadruple arrangements proposed as a substitute for the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Japanese cabinet has been called to meet tomorrow to take final action on the naval ratio question which was submitted to Tokio by Japan's peace conference delegation. It was learned today.

Taking into consideration the difference of the time between Washington and Tokio of fourteen hours, it is thought that if the deliberations are not protracted that the decision of the cabinet will reach Washington some time tomorrow.

The impression prevails in Japanese quarters that an understanding concerning fortifications and naval bases has been greatly advanced. The main issue which affects Japan, it is expected, may accordingly soon be settled satisfactorily, as it is believed. These developments are regarded as favorable covering the Pacific.

There is strong intimation that the United States will be willing to discuss the possibility of a "four-five-three" ratio and naval bases will be withdrawn from Washington conference and the Pacific conference will be extended. Whether an informal understanding to this effect already has been reached has not been disclosed.

WATSON'S IRE THREATENS TO HALT INQUIRY

Senate Investigation of Charges of Illegal Hanging of Soldiers in France Almost Breaks Up in Row

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—The meeting of the senate committee investigating charges by Senator Watson, Democrat, Georgia, that soldiers had been illegally hanged in France almost broke up in a row today after Senator Watson had threatened to slap the face of an army officer sitting in the audience.

Chairman Takes Hold.
Chairman Lodge took hold of the situation and first directed Senator Watson to sit down, calling the sergeant at arms to enforce his orders, and then at the request of the senator excluded all army officers from the room.

Senator Watson declared that Major D. C. Case had insulted him by the manner in which he looked at the senator.

"I will not be insulted by that bulk-headed man," Senator Watson declared and, walking up to Cohen, said:

"For two pennies I'd slap your face."

"Then the chairman called the sergeant at arms and Cohen and other officers left the room."

Names 63 Witnesses.

"When the excitement had subsided Senator Watson announced that he desired the committee to call 63 witnesses whose names he presented, along with a great volume of letters. Hearings of these were adjourned until two o'clock tomorrow afternoon and the committee held an executive session.

Senator Watson at the resumption of the inquiry today protested against the decision of the committee to confine the inquiry solely to the question of hangings.

"I want to protest against the action of this committee in removing the investigation to language of soldiers without trial by court-martial," Senator Watson declared.

"I don't agree with a broader. I protest against these charges being narrowed. I want it understood that I am going into the shooting of men by their officers."

The committee suggested that it might be necessary to go before the senate and asked that the resolution directing the inquiry be enlarged.

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt Jr. corroborated my statement that a soldier was shot by an officer," Senator Watson declared. He was testified at the trial that the officer shot the soldier without provocation whatsoever.

"Do you not see, Colonel Roosevelt called a witness?" the senator was asked.

"No, I wouldn't embarrass him."

Mr. Watson went on to say he proposed to lay the case on the floor of the senate.

POLISH POLICE DOG ON SHIP RESCUES CHILD

Passengers Acclaim Heroism of Dog who Prevents Little Girl from Going Overboard in Storm

NEW YORK, (AP)—Thyras, a shaggy police dog from Poland, is a hero, as claimed by the sixteen passengers on the steamship Gdanak, which docked in Brooklyn last night, after buffeting its way across the Atlantic through storms that more than threatened to scatter the youthful members of the ship's company over the rail and into the sea.

Captain A. H. Falorson, who said it was no rough seas of his life-time as a skipper, told the story.

Thyras' exploit in saving Zenta Zaborzka, youngest of a family of five children on their way from Danzig to join relatives in the United States.

"Zenta dropped her doll over the rail and it caught on a nail on the side of the ship," he said. "A heavy sea was running, but Zenta, who is seven years old, started to climb after the doll. Just as she was going over the side up dashed Thyras, who seized her dress and hung on. The girl screamed and the crew ran and dragged them both to safety."

Calls Cotton Goods Tariff Revolutionary

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The cotton goods schedule of the permanent tariff bill as it passed the house is the "most revolutionary piece of tariff legislation that has been proposed since Abraham Lincoln signed the first tariff act in 1804," former Senator Henry E. Lippitt, of Providence, R. I., declared Thursday before the senate committee holding hearings on the tariff measure.

GOES TO DEATH AS WIFE SLAYER

Execution of Dr. Wimmer Amos Hadley Closes Sensational Virginia Case

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Dr. Wimmer Amos Hadley, former army surgeon and ranchman, was put to death in the electric chair in the state penitentiary early today for the murder of his wife, Mrs. Sue Tinsley Hadley in November, 1918. Prison attendants declared Hadley went to his death calmly and stoically.

Make Laconic Statement

Dr. Hadley made no statement before his death further than to say he had "made his peace with God," and was prepared for the end. The execution closed one of the most sensational murder cases in the history of Richmond.

Mrs. Hadley's body was found in the James river near Richmond on December 20, 1918, by a negro trapper and was identified by the woman's sister several weeks later. A search for Dr. Hadley was begun by local authorities which carried them through many states and parts of Canada and he finally was apprehended on a ranch in New Mexico. At the time of his arrest, he was in disguise and under an assumed name. He was taken to Denver, Colo., where, according to the Henrico county authorities, he made a written confession that he had killed his wife.

Confession Proves Faulty

This confession was used against him in his trial. In the confession he did not say he shot a mysterious Dr. Griffin, a fellow surgeon in the army but an investigation proved this to be unfounded, which Hadley finally admitted.

From the time of his arrest last August until his death today, Dr. Hadley maintained a taciturn calmness and indifference.

Hitchcock Declares for Bank of Nations

MINNEAPOLIS, (AP)—Establishment of a "bank of nations" as a material aid in the revival of international commerce was urged by United States Senator G. M. Hitchcock, of Nebraska, in an address Thursday at a convention at the University of Minnesota.

An international bank, Senator Hitchcock said, would remove the fear of fluctuating exchange and depreciating currencies, "which have led the nations to do business on a cash basis."

The election will have strong supporters in the Dal for the rejection of the agreement and for the demand for an Irish republic from Austin Stack, Desmond Fitzgerald, Charles Burgess, Liam Mellows, Countess Maudie, and all the out-and-out republicans, it is believed.

Government circles in London, however, remain convinced, that Arthur Griffith, Michael Collins and their supporters will win the day, as it is felt that the moderates will follow the group.

World Saved Twice at Mame. About 300 years ago two skeletons were unearthed near Tournai, France. They have just been identified as Mr. and Mrs. Childeric. The name may or may not be familiar.

Mr. Childeric was king of the Franks, the ancient French, in the year 451, when the Franks and their allies stopped Attila the Hun and his invading Hunnish armies at the Mame, the same river where the French stopped William the Hun in the great war. Childeric's battle determined that Europe was to have a white instead of a Mongolian civilization.

Three hundred thousand dead were left on the field. Stone Childeric and his legions are nearly forgotten, but the world still has a yellow pearl, especially if the white nations continue to make war against one another.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Today's Markets

SHORTS OVERDO SELLING AND WHEAT PRICE CLIMBS

CHICAGO, (AP) — Gossip that foreigners were bidding more freely for United States wheat, ended today, to strengthen the wheat market during the early trading. Pit demand, however, lacked volume. Upturns in price led to profit taking on the part of holders and caused a decline. Initial quotations, which varied from unchanged figures to 5-8 higher, with May $1.34 to $1.41 3/4 and July $1.07 1/2 to $1.03 1/2, were followed by moderate gains all around, and then by setbacks to below yesterday's finish.

Short selling on declines was overdone and toward the last the market pulled sharply. Prices closed firm, 1 1/2 to 1 1/4 net higher, with May $1.15 to 1.15 1/8 and July $1.03 1/8 to 1.03 5/8.

Corn and oats paralleled the action of wheat. After opening a shade off to 1-2c higher, May 4 1/4 to 5 1/8; the corn market hardened a little more, but later showed slight losses.

Export call helped subsequently to steady values. The close was firm, 3-8 net lower to a shade advance, with May 54 3/8 to 41-2c.

Oats started at 1-2c decline to a like advance, May 35 3/8 to 38 1/2c; and then became easy for all varieties.

Higher quotations on hogs gave firmness to provisions.

NEW YORK, (AP) — Trading in the stock market today was dull and perfunctory. Standard issues showed only occasional activity and specialties closed at mixed gains and losses.

NEW YORK, (AP) — Petroleum opened unchanged, but soon rose one point. Con. Product, Pitts.burgh Coal and Northern Pacific also were firm to strong. California Packing was the only issue to show haste weakness, declining 1-3 points.

Prices headed within the first half, however, buying of Canadian Pacific, Royal Dutch and some of the prominent equipments and shipplngs contributing to the better tone.

Steel, equipments and oils rose on alert covering later, but rails, utilities and secondary specialties eased.

RURAL MOTHERS WORK-OUT PLAN FOR HOT LUNCH

Success of First Year's Experiment at Curry School Leads to Expansion

One warm dish is contributed each day to the noonday luncheon of 30 pupils at the Curry school under plans worked out this year by 42 mothers of children attending this school. No expense to the children is involved in the plan. The mothers have divided themselves into four groups, each group being under the direction of a leader. Each group makes itself responsible for providing the warm dish for the luncheon every fourth day. The cost of the dish served is made from a list which is made up principally of products of the farm. Each child brings his own cup and spoon and the service is under direction of the mothers assigned to the duty for the week.

Here is the list from which choice of the warm dish to be served is made: Cream soup, potato, chicken, vegetable soup; chicken broth or creamed chicken; corn meal mush or milk; bacon; rolled or baked ham; creamed corn; creamed potatoes; and cheese; macaroni and tomatoes; corn chowder; potatoes; baked wild rice with butter, baked with cream gravy, especially at Christmas; rice; spaghetti; with milk or cream, or Spanish style; baked apples; and cream; choice late corn starch pudding; junket.

Mothers of Curry school pupils last year inaugurated a plan for serving a warm dish at noon luncheon twice each week. Gratifying results attending the plan gave rise to decision to extend the service this year.

Heads of British and American War Mothers Pledge Fidelity

Mrs. R.A. Dingy and Mrs. Amelia McCadden, etc.

"And never so long as we shall live will we raise our hands in mortal combat against each other," declared Mrs. R. A. Dingy, of White Plains, N. Y., national head of the American War Mothers, as she clasped hands with Mrs. Amelia E. McCadden, British War Mothers, who decorated America's unknown Soldier, at a recent meeting in Philadelphia, where the mothers of the two nations' men—pledged allegiance to each other and work for the cause of peace between nations. Their joint declaration of fidelity brought forth hearty applause from the association sitting and the highest seven gold stars on their breasts, significant of the great sacrifice they had made during the great world war.

Damage Trials Nearing An End Close Saturday

Walton Cases Against the City Expected to be Concluded Late Tomorrow

After a week of trial the two damage actions, brought against the city of Twin Falls by E. F. Walton and the Elio Millinery company are expected to be concluded sometime tomorrow afternoon. A mass of testimony has been introduced since Judge T. Bailey Lee opened the hearings last Monday, principally for the plaintiffs. The defense is receiving witnesses now. The actions, which are being tried jointly, are for an aggregate damage of $6000, each plaintiff asking about the same amount. The cases are based upon damage alleged to have been sustained to business premises and stocks during the month of June, 1919 when watermains laid in the completion of a new supply system burst. The premises affected are located immediately north of the postoffice building on Main avenue west, the brick building, partially involved in these cases being located immediately in the rear of the building occupied by Plaintiff Walton and the millinery company, of which Walton was a member with his wife.

Do not be a junk hound.

COME to The United Stores—where the stocks for the holidays have been carefully selected, and let us plan with you to make you give those of unquestioned value and worth what you pay.

MORE ABOUT TAXES

Here are some interesting figures offered in the interests of a better understanding of the tax problem in Twin Falls.

It is of course easy to determine from the tax notice just exactly how many dollars of the total tax collected go to the upkeep of the county, as distinguished from the tax dollars invested in the maintenance of municipalities, county district, highways, paving, and general state expense.

Every one hundred dollars now being collected for expenditure by county authorities will be distributed as follows:

County hospital $10.00, County fair 2.00, Schools 57.40, Bond redemption and interest 6.50, Widows' pensions 2.70, Law library 2.50, Farm Bureau 2.00, Charity 2.80, Salaries, supplies, records, courts, insurance and miscellaneous appropriations 33.60, Total $100.00

It will be observed from the foregoing figures that the upkeep of the present school system constitutes the biggest single item of expense in the entire list.

In this connection it should be understood that the county school levy is fixed by law at a certain amount for each person of school age as determined by the school census, and the county school tax levy, as distinct from the levy made by individual school districts, is distributed among the several school districts in proportion to their population of school age.

As to the general administration expense represented by the item of $33.60, there is abundant opportunity for retrenchment and there is little question but what a close survey of the items which go to make up the amount will disclose a number of possibilities for public relief.

More than ten per cent of the entire county tax goes into the county hospital—an amount greater than that required for the upkeep of Farm Bureau, County Fair, Widows' pensions and general charity.

Study the figures by all means, but let's not grow too technical. The outstanding and never-to-be-forgotten fact of the whole matter is that taxes have got to come down and in order to bring this about expenses have got to come down.

Misstatements of Fact

Some misconstructions of the transportation act are constantly repeated by men who should know better, or else maliciously to create prejudice for political effect.

The conference of western governors recently attended in this particular, though governors should keep informed on federal law.

The standard return on railroad investment is often described as a guaranteed profit, the impression conveyed being that any deficit is to be made good out of the public treasury.

There are also frequent references to earnings on water-rent stock. The commission does not base its calculations on the stock and bonds of the railroad, but on its own values of the property actually used for railroad purposes.

One of the tricks of those who support a bad case by appeals to prejudice is to pretend that old abuses long since abolished still prevail and to presume on popular ignorance by misrepresenting the law.

There are also frequent references to earnings on water-rent stock.

A LEADER'S GAME

By S. E. KISHER

THE nations are such funny things, The weak and strong the small and great; They have their presidents and kings, And cling to jealousy and hate.

THE nations are made up of men, And women and the lords they raise, And leaders bob up now and then To claim the honors and the praise.

THE nations let themselves be swayed By sentiments the leaders rouse; The people fall in and parade As orderly as doves of peace.

ONE nation damns another for its patriotic pride and zeal, And then goes eagerly to war, Urged by the "invited land" appeal.

THE nations are such funny things, The weak and strong the small and great; They have their presidents and kings, And cling to jealousy and hate.

WAR SECRETARY SAYS NATION IS WELL PREPARED

Painstaking Investigation Results in Most Adequate Preparations for National Defense in History

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Realization of the full measure of national defense preparation of the army awaits the moment when the American people "throw themselves wholeheartedly into the work," Secretary Weeks maintains in his first annual report, made public last night.

"Plans now initiated for preparation for national defense contemplate more complete state of preparedness than at any previous period in the peace-time history of our country," Mr. Weeks says. "We have provided a framework of reserve maintenance for careful study. We have an administrative body qualified to direct and control the constructive development of the framework. And finally, we have prepared the plans of development. All of this is, however, of slight value until the American people, who are the source of material for the work of our defensive structure, throw themselves wholeheartedly into the body.

Civics Requirements.

"To insure success, they must lend financial support to the limit of the resources demanded. The young men of the country must train themselves to be fitted into their places in the national reserve. The industries must prepare to cooperate in war-time production.

"The American people have started along the right path and they cannot afford to turn back.

"The present period, marking a transition from the high efficiency which we achieved during the world war at the cost of a great initial waste of life and treasure as the penalty of unpreparedness, must be characterized as one of the most important in our history by virtue of the duty which it imposes upon us of insuring that the lessons of the great war are not lost, but that they are perpetuated in enduring forms of organization and continuing policy."

While outlining fully the extraordinary steps taken by the department to reduce expenditures and renewing other developments in order that the shall be no "lagging in the technique of war behind the technique of peace," Mr. Weeks points out the places where industrial equipment, "from the industry, hand-grenade to the heaviest gun of the artillery," the report says, are being produced and as they are fully tested and approved will gradually supplant existing standard types both with the troops and in the scheme of quantity production in war that underlies the military effort.

Similar studies as the poison gas and chemical warfare matters generally are in progress, Mr. Weeks says, adding:

"Though we may be opposed in principle to the use of poison gas, I am of the opinion that we cannot safely presume a similar attitude on the part of possible opponents and neglect the development of chemical weapons if we wish to insure a successful defense in a possible war. I hope for continued support of this activity by Congress and by the chemical industry themselves."

Trade in Aeronautics.

In dealing with the air developments of warfare, Mr. Weeks says:

"We are already much behind the leaders in such development, and there is thus in our present project for national defense a defect that is one of its salient features."

The report points out that commercial aviation is an essential factor in adequate development for war in the air and that other nations are promoting aircraft development commercially through direct subsidy.

"In a very short time," it continued, "it is conceivable that we will be deficient in air force for defense unless greater support and encouragement are provided."

"I consider it sufficiently important to urge constant progress toward developing our air industries. States and municipalities should be invited to cooperate in a determined and active provision of national resources. Governmental support should be given to the extent necessary to insure a prompt initiation of the air route project."

"Finally, consideration should be given to the possibility of more direct methods of encouraging the industries concerned in air development, if no other method avail, by direct subsidy."

"I recognize the seriousness of such influences as a matter of precedent, but even more impressive is the serious nature of the situation that might confront us if our air power falls short of the standards attained by other states."

Taking Desperate Chances.

"It is true that many contract severals and recover from them without taking any precaution or treatment, and a knowledge of this fact leads others to take their chances instead of giving their colds the needed attention. It should be borne in mind that every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality, makes the system less able to withstand each succeeding attack, and paves the way for the more serious diseases. Can you afford to take such desperate chances when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of bad colds, may be had for a trifle?"

approprations will strike down the machinery of self-defense that has been devised and make lessons of the war valueless to generations to come.

Trace Army Organization.

Step by step he tells how the army—the regulars, the national guard and the organized reserve—has been brought into being. The "major function" of the regular army, he says, is to train the reserve to potential. He adds that even if the regular army "is maintained at its present dangerously low strength" with many officers released for training work by conscription, "the present composition of strength will be insufficient to fulfill the functions required by our national defense policy when that policy attains realization through acceptance of military training by the American people."

"As we decrease the size of our standing army," the secretary asserts, "it is essential that the present composition of our strength be maintained. We cannot afford to let the numbers of our regular officers decline. Neither can we afford to permit their quality to be lowered."

Training Problem Presses.

Declaring that at present the nation can obtain from the military academy approximately only one-third of the personnel for the peace-time organization of the army, Mr. Weeks expresses the belief "that the question of the advisability of doubling the capacity of this institution in the near future should be given consideration."

"This step," he adds, "would prepare us for effective solution of a problem that now appears inevitable."

Assuring that there is "no longer a doubt" that graduates of the reserve officers' training corps machinery will constitute the main source of supply for reserve officer material needed to fill out the skeleton organization, Mr. Weeks says the appropriations now available for the summer training camps for such officers limit the work to a total of 12,000.

"I earnestly hope," he adds, "that authorization for the following years will be increased to enable us to handle at least a majority of those who apply for this training."

Industrial Preparedness.

Paralleling the plans for mobilization of the army in the industrial work, Mr. Weeks shows, under a similar work in connection with inventions which is meeting hearty co-operation among business interests. Also there is going forward a series of all mechanical and other developments in order that the shall be no "lagging in the technique of war behind the technique of peace," Mr. Weeks points out the places where industrial equipment, "from the industry, hand-

ALBION

ALBION, Idaho — Lloyd Hippen, a student in the eighth grade of the normal training school, received a very serious injury to his knee Monday while playing on the campus.

The inmate of the normal gave a dance party in the Emmons hall on Thanksgiving evening which was very much enjoyed by all present.

A severe wind and snowstorm, which swept down the valley Thursday evening, caused considerable damage to the electric lines. The town was kept in darkness the entire night.

Sophie Messenger, instructor of male in the Albion State Normal school, is training the students for a contest which will be given at Christmas time. The normal and training school close on Wednesday, December 21, for the Christmas vacation. Work will be resumed again on January 4.

The normal and training school close on Wednesday, December 21, for the Christmas vacation. Work will be resumed again on January 4.

Pupils of the third and fourth grades under the direction of Miss Vera Hanson and the student teachers, gave a historical pageant in the assembly hall Thursday, which was well received and thoroughly appreciated by all students and parents who attended.

The halls of the administration building are an art gallery adorned with water color and crayon work productions, the work of Miss Helen Blich and Arlet Stevens, students of the normal school, under the supervision of Miss Morris, teacher of art and drawings.

Both the Philomathean and Emmons societies recently organized basketball teams and some interesting games are scheduled in competition for the "silver cup."

The Y. W. C. A. is proving itself a helpful organization for all of the students. Some very interesting and helpful programs have thus far been given, one especially which "deserves mention" after an all-musical program given at Hanson hall on last Sunday afternoon.

Six of the normal school faculty, President Boock, Professor Warner, Howard and Mr. Ware and the Misses Smith, Donahue, Hoffman and Burglar, attended the meetings of the State Teachers' association at Boise last week.

Miss Donahue, librarian of the normal school, spent the Thanksgiving vacation with her mother at Ustick.

A former student of the normal school, Captain Charles Mahbot of Camp Halibird, Md., is the coach of the winning football team of the camp.

WEEKS DEBATES CONGRESS PLAN OF PROCEDURE

Division of Control in Congress Threatens to Create Hostile Factions, Cabinet Member Declares

NEW YORK (AP)—The present system of organization in congress, where control is divided between numerous committees many, "if carried to its logical conclusion," divide the United States into "dozens of hostile factions or groups" and leave the country "powerless to defend or maintain its interests, national or international," John Weeks, secretary of the national board, Thursday in an address before the joint session of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents.

Contrasts "Big Stick" with "Big Stick" Administration

Contrasting the present administration with the recent administration characterized by reference to "a big stick," Mr. Weeks said:

"It was not many years ago that driving sticks about a 'big stick' administration was supposed to be used in moving congress into a state of tractability and force the enactment of laws desired by the executive. The truth, however, is that while the executive was a mastery man of dominating personality and character, he was a party man, and those in the legislative branch who were not party men were not. They believed in government by party and that the responsibility of such government should be placed on the party which might doubt the wisdom of the proposed action. They came a reform, or it was so regarded, in the conduct of the house of representatives. The power of action had largely rested with the speaker and through him with the committee on rules, was taken away and divided among committees. The result was that the executive could not get the type of legislative action which comes from party regularity and responsibility."

Returning to Normal

Not only the United States, but the whole world "is slowly but surely returning to normal," the secretary declared.

"The great need for the present emergency is clear thinking," Mr. Weeks continued. "The real cure, however, is to get back to the old habits of action within our reach that some of us fail to recognize it. It is work."

"We do not hear of strikes in America, but they seem more popular everywhere else. The selfishness comes from the desire to get something at the expense of one's fellow man who is having a potent influence in preventing the restoration of the country needs."

The farmer—"the backbone of the country"—was the first to feel the effects of post-war inflation, the secretary said, but added "the farmer could not be entirely absolved from blame" for his present situation as he should have foreseen the inevitable collapse of prices.

Questions Legislation

"I shall not take the time to criticize the legislation congress has enacted for the benefit of the farmer. It was brought about by the combination of members of the two great political parties which had sufficient votes to obtain the result desired. Some of this legislation has been the kind for whom it was enacted. Much of it stands, however, from an economic standpoint, and I very much doubt if it will be of any benefit even to the farmer."

"One of the least successful of the laws passed, it seems to me, was that increasing the interest rate on farm loan bank bonds to 5 1/2 per cent and leaving the rate the farm borrower the same as it had been."

Mr. Weeks then reviewed "the further legislative program" of the agricultural bloc, characterizing as "unclear" (the so-called pure wool bill) declaring that the proposed law to regulate cold storage would "make the price of many articles of food higher" and describing the federal highway bill as being designed to construct "roads purely local in character" for the benefit of "one or at best, a few individuals." The benefit of the bill for a representative of agriculture on the federal reserve board, Mr. Weeks said, was as worthy as would be similar demands from manufacturers, labor, commerce, or any single great industry.

CLEANER SCRAP IS RESULT FROM ROLLING TUMBLE

Referee of Big Mat Tont Holds Why Old Rule is Being Followed in Wrestling

NEW YORK, (P)—Johnny Plessner, referee of the recent championship wrestling bout between Stanislaus Zbyszko and Ed (Strangler) Lewis, holds in a letter made public today that the "rolling and flying" fall rule which enabled Zbyszko to defeat Lewis would serve to produce good, clean, scientific grappling.

The objection raised by American wrestlers against the rule was made, he said, because the "bridge" escape from holds was almost an unknown art to them. The "bridge," he added, was almost entirely used by Greece-Roman wrestlers.

Veteran and Rook Cost Giants' Club $175,000 in Money

Muggsy McGraw Puts Over Deal that Lands Star for Next Year

NEW YORK, (P)—At the height of his playing career, John J. McGraw, that member of the Baltimore club, who with two other star baseball players to the St. Louis team for the sum of $150,000.

During the last 48 hours the name John J. McGraw, as vice president of the New York National league baseball club, has paid the sum of $175,000 for two players, one of whom will not be available for the Giants until the beginning of the 1923 season.

In the spread of these two deals is epitomized the progress of "baseball" in the United States. McGraw, as vice president of the New York National league baseball club, has paid the sum of $175,000 for two players, one of whom will not be available for the Giants until the beginning of the 1923 season.

Applying terms of the "David Harum" of baseball, McGraw has also earned the reputation of a "one season trader." To win a pennant within six or twelve months has been his objective.

In spending $175,000 for two players, however, McGraw appears in the normal light to have in the past traded in blocks of players rather than large sums of money. The purchase of O'Connell at $75,000 establishes a new record for a minor league player.

OIL COMPANY IS STRUCK HARD BY SUITS IN COURT

Many Local Stockholders Involved in Actions Against Denton's Concern

Four judgment awards, involving an aggregate sum of $8,011.16 have been filed in the district court by a number of plaintiffs against the Idaho Oil Company and certain individuals forming that company. The amount sued for is represented in alleged merchandise and materials, accounts and promissory notes. The papers were filed by Bellwell & Chapman, law firm representing all plaintiffs.

The greater sum is involved in a suit entered for George E. Pass and represents eight causes of action, all based on merchandise and materials accounts. The sum total of these causes is $6,800.85, the largest amount of any single count being $5,500.21. The other range from $21.10 to $1,177.60.

While the Pass suit is brought against the Idaho Oil Company alone, the other three actions bring into account most of the plaintiffs' names located, or holding residence in Twin Falls.

The First National bank names in the suit for $800, alleged to be the residue on a note originally for $1,000, now $1,000, not only the Idaho Oil Company itself but the following stockholders, all of whom are well known here: S. N. W. S. Decker, W. S. Decker, W. S. Decker, C. P. Randolph, D. M. Denton, Charles C. Johnson, J. W. Hays.

Besides the oil company, W. S. Patton names as defendants in another suit on promissory paper for $1,000, H. Mendall, D. M. Denton, George W. McKean, W. S. Decker, C. P. Randolph, Charles Nordstrom and Gust Nordstrom, comprising the firm of Nordstrom Brothers and judgment for $1,000 on a note against the Idaho Oil Company, D. M. Denton, W. S. Decker, Charles C. Johnson and C. P. Randolph.

The company's operations have been years ago principally of Twin Falls men, with D. M. Denton holding one of the high executive offices in the company. Company operations have been expanded in an Oklahoma field.

FUNDS WAIT FOR COUNTY SOCIETY

Share in Proceeds of Christmas Seals Ready for Local Organization

An anti-tuberculosis association soon to be organized in and for Twin Falls county will be launched with $400 count. The county committee is in the process of the sale of anti-tuberculosis Christmas seals last year together with one-fourth of the total amount to be raised from this source this year according to the statement today of Mrs. John E. White, a director of the state anti-tuberculosis association and chairman of the Christmas seal sale in this county.

Money accruing to the county as a result of last year's seal sale has been held in trust for the county organization and will be delivered to it when it is formed, Mrs. White said. Expenditures of these funds will be wholly under direction of the county organization and the money may be spent as the organization deems advisable in efforts to relieve tuberculosis sufferers and check the spread of the disease.

It would be entirely within the province of the organization to distribute its funds among the several school districts. It would be in the work of providing the monthly lunches for pupils, Mrs. White said.

COLD WEATHER STARTS CAMPAIGN ON COYOTES

Wolves and Weasels Bringing an Abundance Evidence of Conflict on Predatory Animals

With the arrival of cold weather hunting and trapping of predatory animals is increasing in the outlying districts. This is true, according to the reports of the sheriff's department, chiefly of activities against coyotes, although wildcats are coming in for their share of attention.

This week Grant Wilson, a hunter and trapper of Bogerson, delivered a bundle of 18 coyote pelts for delivery at the sheriff's office. Since the first of the month 18 animals and the hides of three wildcats were registered for Lalo Johnson of Bogerson, and 36 coyote hides were brought in by E. H. Lee of Dahl.

PICTURE SHOW HOUSE IS SOLD TO SALT LAKE

C. Magel Disposes of Idaho Theatre to Carpenter of Paramount-Empress

On January 1, 1922, the Paramount-Empress Theatre company will take possession of the Idaho theatre on Broadway street east. Disposal of the picture theatre business was made by C. Magel, owner of the theatre, to E. H. Carpenter, of Salt Lake, acting the conveyance papers as trustee for the Paramount-Empress company. Established in War Year.

The Idaho theatre was started by Harry Allen and E. H. Williams in 1914 and was later bought by C. Magel, who has operated the amusement place since about the first of the year 1916. H. W. Magel, son of the owner, later held it in managerial charge of the business.

Speaking of the sale today, Mr. Magel, the owner, explained that the theatre had always enjoyed excellent patronage, but he felt that in view of the weight of other business burdens he could not afford to dispose of the theatre interest when an offer was made by the Paramount-Empress people.

To Bring Manager
Mr. Carpenter vice completed the deal with Mr. Magel, in a man of long experience in the amusement show business. He has been connected with the company's theatre in Salt Lake a number of years and in that city has been continuously successful in theatre operation. Mr. Carpenter will come to Twin Falls to install a new manager on January 1. The manager is expected to locate in a city in the east section of this state.

PUBLIC LIBRARY CALLS FOR PICTURE DONATION

Prints on Various Subjects to be Used for Reference Work are in Great Demand

The public library needs pictures—namely, framed pictures for reference work for the children particularly. A set of costumes has just been received from Miss Mary E. Hamlin now in New York city, showing much that is interesting in the boyhood and home life of the poet Longfellow.

During the preparation of the pageant of the costumes of the various periods," stated Miss Emery—"and when these were returned to us, they were accompanied by many others that had been drawn from many sources. This collection has been augmented by the efforts of Miss Henry Gates, who is sure that many people have the pictures that accompany the lanes of the Mentor. They are admirably adapted for our needs. There are merely any good prints that are not of use to us. If you will bring in what you have, we will be able to place them where they will be accessible to many others beside yourself."
