TOM SLAUGHTER DIES AT HANDS OF COMPANION

Shot Fired by One of Six Convicts He Liberated in Break for Freedom Puts End to the Outlaw's Career

SLAYER SAYS THAT HE MADE PLANS TO SHOOT

Prison Authorities Bond Efforts to Trace Source of Pistol that Made the Jail Break Possible

LITTLE BOOK A.K. (Tom Slaughter's body was found today by policeman who had been searching for it)

LITTLE BOOK A.K. (The last escape of Tom Slaughter, a record of nearly a year's escape from freedom from southern jails and prisons, led to his death in the Salina county hills at the hands of one of the convicts he liberated according to the story on which Sheriff Crowe's power early today was basing their search for Slaughter's body.

The posse were awaiting daylight to start the trail from the point where Slaughter and his companions abandoned their bullet-riddled automobile yesterday, and fled into the woods.

Intended to Shoot. J. C. Howard, who surrendered with five others of the seven who accepted Slaughter's offer of freedom, told officials he shot Slaughter in the back and had intended to shoot him from the front the party made their escape.

The note Howard says he left in the prison, hearing the same statement, could not be found. Howard, according to Howard's story, lay a dying negro, wounded in the fight, with the authorities of Benton, who were waiting for the fleeing fugitives.

Prison authorities today were endeavoring to trace the source of the pistol, which gave Slaughter the means to break his shackles and to liberate the other convicts, disarm guards, lock the warden and his family into the death cell, secure civilian attire and an automobile for the escape, and to lead to all convicts who wished to join him.

SLAUGHTER'S DEATH RECALLS THE KIDNAPING OF JESSE JAMES

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., (AP)—The shooting of the bandit Slaughter, the man to whom Slaughter had given a chance for liberty, parallels somewhat the death of Jesse James, however, was shot by a relative and old friend, while Howard, it is understood, was not a former associate of Slaughter.

With the gradual scattering of the James boys band through relentless activities of police and state authorities, Jesse James retired to his home in the state of Missouri, where he remained undisturbed.

Bob Ford, cousin of James and one of the band most intimate with the feared leader, was persuaded to shoot down the outlaw, it is said, to about down the band.

Clark and gave up the quest in the belief that the fugitive and other men were in Canada territory. His presence in the Three Creek country was revealed to the federal people through the recent mental release.

Wall Street Again Will Give Bonuses at Christmas Time

Preparations for Holiday Season Indicate Recovery from Depression

NEW YORK, (AP)—Wall street is gradually recovering from the general economic depression of the past two years and signs point to a liberal distribution of bonuses and gratuities at Christmas.

During the boom period of the world war, holiday gifts by financial institutions, brokerage houses and exchanges were on a very generous scale. These gifts in some cases amounted to one cent or even more of yearly salaries.

In the year now ending many banks have advanced the theory that living conditions in many essentials had become less onerous.

DAILY LIKELY TO ACCEPT TREATY

Reports Say De Valera Will Be Succeeded by Griffith Upon Ratification

LONDON, (AP)—Dispatches to the morning newspapers generally confirm the view probably held by the public in the Daily Express cabinet is not likely to prevent passage of the peace treaty by the southern Irish parliament.

De Valera May Resign. If the Daily Express ratifies the agreement, Eamon De Valera, "the new dispensation" as one of the newspaper describes him, will, according to some versions, resign as head of the Dail government, and Arthur Griffith will succeed him.

LODGE GIVES TEXT OF FOUR POWER AGREEMENT ON PACIFIC SITUATION

Proposed Treaty Between United States, Great Britain, France and Japan Supplants Anglo-Japanese Alliance and Paves Way for Acceptance of American Proposals on Naval Reduction; Provides for Joint Conference in Case of Disputes

APPROVAL OF THE PROPOSED QUADRUPLE UNDERSTANDING IS EXPRESSED BY LEADERS OF ALL DELEGATIONS

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—The text of the proposed treaty between the United States, Great Britain, Japan and France, which is to supplant the Anglo-Japanese alliance and pave the way for the acceptance of the American proposals for naval reduction, was formally laid before the senate conference today by Senator Lodge.

Four nations bid themselves to respect their existing rights in insular possessions and dominions in the Pacific and to the use of force against such rights as they should be established by a joint conference among themselves.

Any one of the parties may withdraw from the conference at any time, but no nation bid themselves to respect their existing rights in insular possessions and dominions in the Pacific and to the use of force against such rights as they should be established by a joint conference among themselves.

Senator Lodge presented the treaty to the conference in the following language: "I should be inexcusable, indeed, if I did not feel deeply gratified by the opportunity which has come to me to lay before the conference the draft of a treaty the terms of which have been agreed upon by four of the great powers of the earth in regard to the future of the Pacific which they control, either as possessions or dominions. I will begin by reading to the conference the treaty, which is both brief and simple and which in my view is full of meaning and importance to the world's peace."

TEXT OF TREATY

"The United States of America, the British empire, France and Japan.

"With a view to the preservation of the general peace and the maintenance of their rights in relation to the insular possessions and insular dominions in the regions of the Pacific ocean:

"Have determined to conclude a treaty to this effect and have agreed as their plenipotentiaries: The president of the United States of America; the King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland of the British dominions beyond the seas, emperor of India.

For the commonwealth of Australia: The dominion of New Zealand: For India: The president of the French republic.

Paves Way Toward Settlement of Chinese Questions and Marks Signal Achievement of Conference

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—The Anglo-Japanese alliance regarded with apprehension by the American people, passed into history today when the spokesmen of all nations at the peace conference accepted in its stead a new four power agreement for preservation of peace in the Pacific to which the United States and France became parties.

France Viviani, head of the French delegation, declared the conference had "fully and entirely succeeded" and that France adhered to the past proposed by Senator Lodge without reservation.

Arthur V. Balfour, chief of the British delegates, asserted the new arrangement would beget international relations to be referred to the Anglo-Japanese alliance and said there never had been any intent that it should "survive" the interests of the United States.

Japan's gratification over the new agreement was voiced by the Japanese delegation, headed by the Italian delegate, bespoke the satisfaction of his government over the four-power agreement.

Minister Bao of China expressed "great satisfaction" at the work of the conference and gratification over the new treaty.

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—The fourth plenary session of the arms conference opened promptly at eleven o'clock with a statement by Secretary Hughes that "most satisfactory progress has been made by the committee of the whole on the Far Eastern questions."

At 1:16 the conference adjourned without having given attention to the question of naval ratios.

China Considered First

"The first subject considered was China," said Secretary Hughes. "In the course of the general discussion on behalf of the powers represented, expressing their intentions with respect to the sovereignty, independence and administrative integrity of China and also to Chinese arms and munitions, the principles of fair and equal opportunity."

Secretary Hughes added that the "root four points" constituted by truth, sincerity, confidence and honor in the relations between the United States and China from acts in derogation of her rights to integrity, and also a binding agreement for future guidance of the powers."

Invites China's Assent. Mr. Hughes said also the Root resolution was an insurance that as between powers, there would be careful observance of the principle of free and equal opportunity and that none would be placed in a position of inferiority at the expense of the rights of others.

The committee resolution of November 29, declaring in principle for abolition of the extra-territorial rights in China, was accepted by the committee and the resolution was approved unanimously.

AGREEMENT IN PACIFIC PLAN SUITS ENGLAND

British Newspapers Give High Praise to Work Thus Far Accomplished by the Washington Conference

LONDON, (AP)—The work thus far accomplished by the Washington conference, especially the agreement for a four-power treaty as a substitute for the Anglo-Japanese alliance, is highly praised in the editorial columns of this morning's newspapers.

The Morning Post describes the four power agreement as "Indisputably the greatest achievement in constructive statesmanship of our times" and adds: "The present has earned the esteem and respect of the civilized world, in that he has chosen with admirable courage to attempt a course which brought failure to his predecessor."

The Daily Telegraph believes that the quadruple alliance, if approved, will establish in the Pacific something in the nature of the Monroe doctrine. After leading the initiative taken by President Harding and Mr. Hughes the Telegraph says:

There have been conferences before, but never one held under such favorable auspices, and for that not only the president and his colleagues deserve great thanks, but also the great mass of American people."

JAPAN REES ADVANTAGE IN PROPOSED AGREEMENT TOKIO, (AP)—Proposed abrogation of the Anglo-Japanese alliance in favor of an agreement among the United States, Great Britain, Japan and France, promises to raise Japan's international standing higher than even in the opinion of high Japanese officials. What Japan lost through an abrogation of her alliance with Great Britain, she would regain through creation of such an entente, they believe.

The new plan was contained in a proposal from Great Britain, which reached the foreign office ten days ago. This was followed shortly by the United States recommendation for the inclusion of France. As understood here, it binds the signatory powers to respect each other's possessions in the Pacific, but does not refer to China nor India.

Men in public life, whose comments are printed in the newspapers show general enthusiasm for the proposed entente, not as a new scheme, but as a continuation of the present valuable alliance. They give the impression that they believe there is a possibility of realizing President Harding's "association of nations" in which Japan would remain one of the great powers.

DRY NEW YEAR'S EVE ON BROADWAY IS OBJECTIVE

Series of Raids is Interpreted as Indication of Purpose to Clamp Lid on Gay Thoroughfare

NEW-YORK, (AP)—Water, the most despised liquid refreshment in Broadway's restaurants and cafes, will be the only available stimulant for high jinks along the once gay thoroughfare on New Year's eve, if prohibitionists have their way. The frequency with which federal officials have recently been patrolling several of the most popular resorts has been interpreted as a forerunner of a tight lid on the city's highest night.

"These raids upon the Broadway, perhaps for the first time in its career will see a dry new year's eve," one of the agents declared.

He was on the retired list today with one of the best records in New York police history.

A student of criminology, Bermingham, who was made a sergeant of detectives, was credited with having obtained the confessions of many criminals through kind treatment. He loved his job so well that he fought, he said, against promotion, for he didn't want to be taken off the beat.

Improvements in Palestine.

Assistant Trade Commissioner Jullien E. Gillespie, who has just completed a visit to Egypt, Syria, Palestine, and Smyrna, states that the government of Palestine has projected the enlargement of the ports of Jaffa and Haifa, the erection of a large water-tower plant sufficient to meet the needs of all Palestine, the irrigation of the Jordan valley, and the construction of a railroad from the Sea of Galilee directly east to connect with the Bagdad railway. However, it is probable that only the port improvements at Jaffa will see accomplishments in the near future. This project is being urged by the orange growers and shippers of Jaffa.—Scientific American.

Use for Surplus Water Supply.

Having a water supply far exceeding the requirement of its present population, the authorities of the small town of Fort Albert, B. C., decided to utilize this surplus for generating electricity for lighting purposes. The source of the water supply is a creek seven miles distant, with a head of 60 feet, and allowing for friction and all losses in transmission, there was an effective head at the power house of 353 feet, which at ordinary rates of efficiency made available a force of 120 horse power, being all that was required to generate enough current for lighting the town for some time to come.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

"True Blue" and the "Blue Ribbon"

The expression true blue is handed down from the Scotch Covenanters of the Seventeenth century, who chose blue as their emblem in opposition to the royal red. The Covenanters were a group bound by a series of covenants to uphold the Presbyterian forms and doctrines of faith. True blue was applied originally to a loyal Presbyterian. The blue ribbon, always the reward of the winner in a race or contest, originated in the use of a blue ribbon as the distinguishing badge of the Knights of the Star, an order founded by Edward III.

AMERICAN BOAT CARRIED ARMS, MEXICANS AVER

Fishing Schooner Held at Ensenada Was One of Foreign Vessels Engaged in Gun Running, Statement Says

MEXICO, (AP) — The American fishing schooner Mabel, now being held by the Mexican authorities at Ensenada, was described in a foreign office statement today as a carrier of contraband arms. The charge was also made in the statement that other boats flying the United States flag were engaged in gun running. The statement follows:

Quincy Comitate. The Mexican consulate at San Diego, Cal., on December 3 reported that the fishing schooners Mabel and Yukon had left for Mexican waters without fishing permits or consular clearance papers, saying publicly that they were going to San Bernardino and San Martin, Lower California, for the purpose of fishing. They stated they were not disposed to pay the required harbor fees but that they had armed themselves with rifles and a large number of cartridges in order to protect themselves against the fishing patrol boat Zeala. This conduct has been followed by other boats and, besides, it is ascertained that while fishing they carried contraband arms.

On December 5, the San Diego consul reported that the schooner Mabel had been captured in Mexican waters because of the lack of a fishing permit, and consular clearance and was being detained at Ensenada in consequence of instructions from the proper authorities.

Using Energetic Measures. As contraband fishing is generally followed by the vessels themselves in an alarming manner to clandestine fishing in Mexican waters, the proper authorities are using energetic measures to prevent the above mentioned boats from being engaged in various forms.

The foreign office's statement is the first official mention of the Mabel in detail, which it is known has been the subject within the last few days of several inquiries by George T. Sumner, American charge d'affaires here.

Fishing off the Lower California coast is carried on under concessions, and vessels operating in these waters, it is said, customarily pay their consular protection against other fishing schooners.

That may be the general trend of an early Sunday morning conversation between husband and wife if Chaplain A. J. Foltz of Fort Crockett, Galveston Island, Galveston, Texas, continues his activities. For to Chaplain Foltz belongs the unique distinction of having held the first religious service which the entire congregation of a town attended by the aid of airplanes.

The congregation which helped fill the Chaplain Foltz church on Galveston Island took off in their airplanes from Ellington field, Houston, Texas. Twenty machines, containing 30 men each, traveled the distance of 38 miles in about 20 minutes, attended the services, and flew back to Ellington field again without mishap.

President of National League Says Groh-McConnell Deal is Alarming

NEW YORK, (AP) — Training a host of "sandlot" baseball players, or the formation of a special circuit for the development of "future greats," may soon be among the possibilities of baseball. They have been suggested in minor league magazines as a means of solving the problem of securing from "freeborn finance" in baseball and are expected to be discussed at the annual meetings of the National and American leagues here next week.

Egg Dance Once Popular in Europe

The egg dance, now confined chiefly to South America, the people of Venezuela, was a once popular diversion in England, Scotland, Holland and other parts of Europe. A number of eggs were arranged in a prescribed form upon the dancing floor, and among them a blind-folded dancer groped for the right egg to smite, the object being to create an intricate dance without breaking the eggs. The music, like the arrangement of the eggs, all was prescribed.

MANY BATTERY DOPES ONLY ONE IS RELIABLE

There are so many wonderful things being done every day that when a man says he has a solution of very, very secret nature, with some peculiar metal in it, which puts new life into a battery, etc., out of ten people are ready to believe him without question.

The whole science of battery doping seems so plausible that dozens of companies have been led to start in business manufacturing "dopings" of various sorts.

Some of these battery dopings are really harmless and the worst that can be said about them is that they do no good—except that they allow the manufacturer of five or six dollars which he might invest in gas, tires, oil, something else more "useful" to the car. There are others that do not harm the car, but taking active material away from the battery plates and by introducing foreign substances into the battery solution.

As a result of a recent check-up in the subject of battery doping, the W. L. Starns Battery company found that all makers of standard well known batteries are agreed upon the fact that the only satisfactory battery solution is diluted pure sulphuric acid of the proper density. Emphasis should be placed on the word "pure" for any foreign substances are liable to enter trouble in the battery. There is nothing, say these manufacturers, that will improve upon the pure solution that is put into the battery by the manufacturers and their authorized service stations.

May Get Treasure From Ocean

A ship's treasure buried for 180 years has now, it is thought, been located. Anyway, the East India company's ship Grosvener, which founded off the coast of Pondoland, South Africa, in 1742, with $3,575,050 in specie, numerous gold and silver ingots, and precious stones, including an almost priceless parcel of emeralds on board, has now been located. The Grosvener Buillon syndicate has been organized and survey work is already in progress. The consulting engineer in the operation confirms the report that the ship, which is said to lie in from 18 to 25 feet of water to be in a 90-foot tunnel from shore to ship is proposed. A large silver Spanish coin bearing a lighter silver coin which appears to be Indian and a small gold piece on which an image may be fairly discerned have been obtained from persons living on the Pondoland coast, and are believed to have come from the sunken Grosvener.

The Ford car can well be called the "peoples car," because there are more than 3,000,000 of them in daily operation. That is about four to one to the nearest follower in the motor car industry. This would not be so if the Ford car had not for sixteen years proven its superiority in service, in durability, and in the low cost for operation and maintenance; this would not be so if the Ford car was not so easy to understand, so simple in construction that anybody and everybody can safely drive it. It is everybody's necessity because it doubles the value of time, and is the quick, convenient, comfortable, and economical method of transportation. We solicit your order. TOM SLAUGHTER DIES

SLAUGHTER'S ESCAPEES IN OKLAHOMA ARE RECALLED OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Tom Slaughter, alias Curley Stone, referred to by his Oklahoma acquaintances as Curley, was a pioneer in the Healdton oil field, and spent some time at the beginning of the great oil rush there as a driller, according to information on file in the criminal court of appeal at Oklahoma City.

Run-in with Bandwidth Man. His Oklahoma history centers mostly about Healdton, one of the boom centers of the original Healdton field in the early twenties. He first recorded a dispute with a quarrel with the owner of a sandwich stand in Healdton. He and his companions, the story has it, were out of employment, and they conspired to "steal" a hole for him. When they had finished, an argument about the pay ensued, and the sandwich man was warned to leave town. He did not until that night, when his stand was "lifted" and all Healdton was invited to participate in a feast "on" Curley.

Given Captors Slip. He was captured on his way back to the field in another automobile, with a load of liquor. Blending with the officer that was fired, but would prove his identity when they returned to Fort Worth. He was allowed to curl up on the rear seat of the car while the driver drove back to Healdton. Fort Worth, the officer found his prisoner had left him.

Survey Made by School Farming Department Discloses Only Two Cows on the Average Farm in Filer District—Must Add Livestock to Consume Hay and Grain for Profit

BY EARL WOOLDRIDGE
Agricultural Editor

The time has nearly arrived when on any farm that hopes to meet competition and yet operate at a profit the factor to be reckoned with is the livestock. It is not only an important factor to be reckoned with but it is also an important thing to be considered because the returns from by-products often determine the profit or loss. The use of by-products as a factor to be reckoned with will have more consideration from the American farmer than ever before. All agricultural products except those marketed through livestock are being sold at a loss.
