PRISON FARE ACCEPTED IN GOOD SPIRIT

Quartette of Wealthy Manufacturers Sentenced for Improper Practices Seem to Like It

WARDEN DECLARES THEY RARELY ASK FOR FAVORS

First Men Sent to Jail for Violation of Sherman Act Now Serving Out Four Months' Sentences

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Four wealthy manufacturers of glass, steel and metal industry, the first men ever to go to jail for violating the Sherman anti-trust law, have been pronounced model prisoners here.

The quartet—Frank H. Nohb, Arthur Shloutz, Albert Quale and Herman Petz, who recently pleaded guilty to eliminating competition after their activities had been unearthed by the Lockwood legislative committee in New York—apparently are quite content with prison fare. Although their funds are sufficient to supply them daily with an outside catalog of products, they seldom supplement the prison menu with anything but pie.

They are satisfied with food. "Occasionally," said the warden today, "I may have a particularly fine roast of beef down at the staff dining room, and we will send some of the best up to them."

The quartet are all housed in one large cell in the hospital wing, because one of their number is suffering from an illness which requires medical attention. Therefore, they do not come into daily contact with the other prisoners—murderers, burglars and petty thieves.

The warden calls, however, the four must follow prison routine and receive their visitors in the prison canteen or general entertainment room. On such terms the center is uncomfortably crowded.

The four men of wealth while away the hours much as they would do in the outside. They have their pipe, their newspapers and their cards. But instead of looking out on the avenue through glass crystal clear, they gaze through bars upon the warden Morris Paul, as from a fugal castle.

PLANNING TO SAVE ENTENTE

Premiers George and Briand in Consultation Over Situation Affecting Europe

CANNES, France, (AP)—To save Europe from complete economic disintegration and keep the entente from falling apart are the big tasks to be undertaken here by Premiers Lloyd George of Great Britain and Briand of France. Opening private conversations today soon after the arrival from Paris of M. Briand and Minister of Liberated Regions Louchet, the two premiers began to lay out the program for the allied supreme council which convenes here on Thursday. The arriving delegates were greeted by a mild snowstorm. Lloyd George intends that this shall be the last meeting of the supreme council if there is any way of bringing pending questions to a point where they can thereafter be dealt with by the ambassadors of the allied powers. M. Briand is understood also to favor adoption of a broad understanding. Experts regard as an encouraging sign the progress made by the British project for organization of an international financial corporation to deal with currency. This question, as well as that of reparations, will be discussed by Lloyd George and Briand in their private talks. There is no record of work now connected with the sewer system, the report said.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Yesterday afternoon was the time for all debate speeches to be heard in the Superintendents M. G. Mitchell, who is preparing to coach the boys, the first tryout will be held next Tuesday evening in the high school auditorium. The question is, "Resolved: That American coast-wise vessels should pay the toll at the Panama canal." Arguments are expected to try out. Twelve debaters will be chosen at this time for another debate, and from this the final list of boys will be chosen for the letterman. John McMartin is the only boy who received a letter in debate and will be back this year to try out again.

Tomorrow evening the junior play will be presented. The players have been working constantly for a month on the production and by this time the play is expected. About 60 boys in "All-Of-Budden Preppy," by Russell Denney. It is an English play. It had a year's run in New York and its success in Chicago. The part of Preppy is taken over by Edna Duke, whose characters are taken as follows: Donald Crow as Lord Cranchetto; Arthur Peavey as Jack Moxley; Edna DeWitt as Lady Cranchetto; Margaret Dunne as Mrs. O'Mara; Constance Hill as Millicent; Orpha Hattie as Mrs. Conleaham; Clarence King as Parker; Stewart Robinson as Lucas; Marshall Sommerville is the stage manager and proprietor; and a Wilson Jackson is business manager.

Boys basketball practice is getting along in fine shape. The first game will be played at 8:00 p. m. on Friday evening.

BLOODED LIVESTOCK TO BE OFFERED STOCKMEN

Registered Shorthorn Cattle and Duroc Jersey Hogs Owing to Sale

Thirty head of registered Shorthorn cattle have been assigned to the upcoming sale to be held at Twin Falls, January 18 by the Twin Falls North and South Side breeders. These animals have been selected under the supervision of a committee from the association, and the individual animals are well bred, the Scotch blood lines prevailing. The lot consists of 20 cows and heifers, and ten bulls from one to two years old. The breeders putting animals up at the sale are: M. A. Barrow, C. E. McArthur, B. J. S. Hays, J. H. Brown, Castleford, N. H. Lehard, Wendell; W. W. Reed, C. A. McMaster, Twin Falls; B. B. White, Filer; Regus brothers, Kimberly, etc.

The second day's sale will consist of purebred Duroc Jersey hogs consigned by C. A. McMaster and son. In the morning, 40 fat barrows will be sold for the pork barrel while in the afternoon 40 purebred sows will be offered. These sows are a choice lot and are bred to farrow in March and April. Leaders in agricultural industry declare that most farmers on the tract are beginning to realize that much more is to be made in order to bring back prosperity to the farms of southern Idaho. Hay that has been shipped this fall has netted the grower from 10 cents to 15 cents only. It is the feeling of those who are selling hay under such conditions. Any system of farming which does not take livestock into consideration must fall sooner or later as the basis of the foundation of our agricultural industry. It will make our hay worth more in actual cash and at the same time through the fertilizer necessary to grow big crops.

The man who practices an intelligent system of diversified farming, keeps enough stock to convert his hay into manure, beef or very fine grade of hog brood sows to furnish the pigs to clean up the stubble land, and 100 hogs to every forty acres who lay and not feed, will undoubtedly be very successful.

The breeders putting on the sale realize the times are not just the best for it and that they will probably have to sell at a sacrifice, but they want to give the farmers of the county an opportunity to get some real foundation stock, with which to build up their herds as never before in the history of the tract has livestock been as essential as right now.

USE SULPHUR TO HEAL YOUR SKIN

Big Golden Eagle Seems Contented Although Captive

One of the few golden eagles in captivity is to be seen at a Blue Ribbon boulevard grocery store where it has been afforded living quarters since its capture recently by W. B. Bruce, Jr., one of the proprietors of the store. This bird measures seven feet from tip to tip and evidences no discontent with its present situation. It is fed on a diet similar to that demanded by a young puppy, meat scraps entering largely into the bill of fare. It was brought down in the vicinity of Eden, one wing being rendered temporarily useless by a shot which evidently paralyzed that member, but was not injured otherwise. It has recovered complete use of the wing.

Bracken a committee to draft resolutions of approval of the work to be forwarded to our representatives at Washington. The party which was scheduled for the husbands of members on the list of this month was postponed until a later date. Mrs. A. K. Seaver was in charge of the program, the subject being "The English Descent in Poetry" and gave the members who were fortunate enough to be present a wonderful insight into the poetry of wonderful English literature. Mrs. E. F. Charlis read some delightful selections from Amy Lowell and also Allan Seegar's "I Have a Rendezvous with Death." Mrs. E. D. Williams read "The Ballad of Balthazar" by Robert W. Service. The afternoon was completed with "Tea, tartar and talk."

Peggy Wall entertained a number of friends at a jolly sleighing party yesterday after school. Those who enjoyed this unusual form of gaiety were Alice Taylor, Jane Maxwell, Marie Wolfe, Mrs. Clara Maud Ripley, Betty Wilson, Lisa Peira, Jeronima Krivank, Barbara Noble, Barbara Truandale, Patricia Wilson, Beth Bowen, Dorothy Lee, Bob. Nixon, John Maxwell, Holman Gray, Frank McAtco, Melcher "Friede, Donald" Leuz, Lawrence Truandale, Miss Hoff and Miss West. The party then drove to the home of Miss Peggy's aunt, Mrs. and Mrs. H. J. Wall, where a delicious seated supper was served. Mrs. D. F. Seaver and Miss Alice Taylor assisting in serving.

Today's Markets

SHORT SELLING FEATURE OF EARLY OPENING HOURS

General Decline and Opportunity of Tone Continues on Stock Exchange NEW YORK, (AP)—Resumption of liquidation and short selling caused further impairment of prices at the opening of today's stock market. Only a few minor losses were caused by the pressure. National Biscuits was most reactionary at a 3 point decline and Kelly-Springfield Tire added one point to yesterday's severe loss. Oil, tinners and equipments were fractionally to one point. Bails and shipping manifested similar tendencies. Leading foreign exchanges, especially French and Italian rates, continued to reflect uncertain financial and economic conditions abroad.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, (AP)—General buying which included some of foreign account gave the wheat market today a decided upward swing during the early trading. It was generally accepted opinion that the reports circulated yesterday concerning the credit of prominent houses on the board of trade were without foundation. There was also considerable disposition to regard the selling yesterday as having been much overdone. Opening quotations, which ranged from one cent to 3 1/4 higher, with May $1.09 to $1.11 and July $1.00 1/4 to $1.00 3/4, were followed by continued strength at a moderate setback from initial top figure. Indications that liberal export business was in progress, helped to lift values near the end of the day. The close was strong, 3 to 3 1/2 higher with May $1.11 1/2 to $1.11 5/8, and July $1 to $1.01 1/2.

Corn and oats synthesized with the market rally after opening 3 1/2 to 1 1/4 higher, May $2 1/2 to $3 1/4, the corn market held the greater part of the gain.

Country offerings appeared to have dried up as a result of yesterday's decline. The close was firm 3 to 1 1/2 higher. Oats started unchanged to 1-4 higher, May $7 1/4 to $7 1/2 and then scored an uptick all around. Firmness in prices also helped to strengthen provisions.

CITY NEEDS VETERAN'S REQUEST TO SPARE TREE

Municipal Woodman's Axe Will Not Fall Against One-of Landmarks

The municipal woodman's axe will not fall on a comparatively venerable cottonwood tree at the corner of Shoshone street and Fourth avenue north as a result of sympathetic consideration given by the city council last night to a plea in behalf of the tree written by a prominent pioneer citizen of Twin Falls.

It were better, the mayor and councilmen decided, to spare a landmark, and incidentally the sentimentalities of a veteran and respected citizen, who had contributed largely to the upbuilding of the community, than to gain measureless advantage in preservation of adjoining sidewalks and pavement by destruction of the tree.

Here is the letter that prompted the council to its decision: "I have received two notices from the city clerk notifying me that I am about to lose a very valuable landmark in Twin Falls which I set out in 1905 and which has since, for many years at least, been the pride and romance of my life.

"I refer to the much admired cottonwood tree of Shoshone street in front of my building. Many times have the G. A. R. and other patriotic organizations rosted under the shade thereof while arrangements were being made to move through the middle city of the west in grand and majestic columns. There are many things that can be said about this almost worshiped tree, but the worst is that it is about to receive the blows of your ruthless axe.

"Now, honorable gentlemen, I have presented you with all the facts that I deem necessary in behalf of this most beautiful tree of Shoshone street. Yet there is a dark and gloomy cloud over my vision that almost persuades me that you will not recall your harsh and destructive decision and let the tree, the pride of my life, remain in peaceful repose that its branches may not bend in the breeze to those who may pass it in their pursuit of happiness and comfort.

"Should I receive word from you that my tree was to stand as a token of liberty, though it may unobtainably leave up my sidewalk, I would say to my friends that the gentlemen here in the goodness of their hearts, granted me a favor for which I shall ever thank them."

SCOUT TROOP RETURNS FROM WINTER OUTING

Troop in Hills Under Leadership of Donald McLean Proves Splendid Sport

With no casualties other than sore feet and blistered backs acquired from the too ardent pressure of the packs, ten members of Troop 4, Boy Scouts, returned Sunday evening from a five days' trip into the hills. Reckoning on plenty of snow, it was planned to make the first stake of the trip by truck to Rock Creek, thence over the ridge on snowshoes or skis to the scout cabin, a hike of eight miles. Finding that a train had transformed the snowfall of late December into mud, sleet and snow, the boys were abandoned at the start and the best necessities arranged on the pack saddles with which the troop had been furnished through the courtesy of George Easley of the Western Auto company.

Haystack Supplies Bed

The first night beds were made in a haystack, and about noon of the day following the party reached a deserted cabin near the forks of Rock creek canyon where they made camp. On the next day the trip to the scout cabin being abandoned until transportation should become a simpler matter.

The surrounding country was found to possess excellent facilities for the practice of woodcraft, signaling, tracking and all the diversity of accomplishments which are the province of the scout. Considerable time was devoted to the study of astronomy with a view to qualifying in this as first class scouts. The new year was welcomed as cheerfully as possible and on Sunday the return hike brought the party to the mouth of Rock Creek canyon where two scouts, George and Edward Baker met them with a truck from the Idaho Auto and Supply company.

The outing was given only to those boys who met the necessary qualifications and passed the scout tests. The personnel of the party included George Winsler, Walter Weaver, Oscar Floyd, Willard Whitman, David Alvord, Carl Hubbard, Deane, Bernard Martin, Earl Rickford and Scout Master McLean.

BUSINESS GIRLS AS WIVES

Girls should not get married until they have had five years' experience in business life, is the dictum of University of California professor. "This," he asserts, "makes them better wives, better home-makers and better mothers."

But, after all, it makes no difference what the professor thinks. The girls are in business and will be there in increasing numbers. Most of them will marry and most of them will be good wives. Probably their years of working will exert but little influence on their futures if they get patient husbands who will put up with them while they are learning housewifery and motherhood.

"UNCLE JOE" OPTIMIST

The outstanding exponent of optimism in the United States is Representative "Uncle Joe" Cannon of Danville, Ill., who, at the age of 85, serves in congress to keep himself employed. "Uncle Joe" has faith in the government and in the ability of the nation to face every issue and win out.

The present industrial and business situation in the United States does not warrant the expressions of pessimism which are heard so frequently from many sources. "Uncle Joe" is certain. Pessimism has no place in the thought of a sincere pure optimist, so he has no patience with it.

"Americans today, in the rush for the almighty dollar," Mr. Cannon said recently, "forget the blessings they enjoy. Why, back in Danville long years ago, before days of gas and electric lights, the telephone, electric rail-ways and other marvelous inventions that have brought comfort to the people, the folks opened their eyes in amazement at the sight of an oil lamp in a store window."

"Now see what we enjoy today in life's comforts and conveniences," Representative Cannon said. "Look at the revolutionary changes gas and electricity and other public utility services have wrought. These are the happy days, but so few of us rest for it."

With all this, however, things don't contribute to human happiness. There are now more pessimists to the square mile than ever.

FORTUNE'S WHEEL

A large ball in Washington the other day, described as the largest and most brilliant of the season in the nation's capital, might well awaken reminiscences and start philosophizing about the turn of fortune's wheel, or more likely about the power of a strong personality.

It was the coming out ball of a girl half American and half Russian, Princess Berta Cantacuzene, a great-granddaughter of Ulysses S. Grant, son of an Ohio tanner, who became commander in chief of the United States army and president of the United States. Stetson can scarcely show a more romantic tale than the life of the mother of the young princess who made her social debut in the capital, Julia Dent Grant, a beautiful girl who married a Russian prince and was a favorite in the court life of the Muscovite for several years, and who, having suffered the loss of friends and relatives, which overtook all members of the Russian nobility during the revolution, has now come with her husband and children to make her home in her native land.

The dictionary gives a word too many meanings, says an educator. Our objection is that it does not always agree with our spelling.

It must make sugar refiners discouraged as they look at today's quotation and, recall the "figgers" of other days.

Today's salutation to start friendly conversation: "Notice how much long for the days are becoming!"

LEAD OUTPUT FOR YEAR SHOWS A HEAVY DECLINE

Gross Annual Product for 1921 is Twenty Per Cent Below Normal

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—Mining and smelter output of lead in the United States in 1921 declined about 20 per cent and the production of zinc fell off almost 60 per cent, it was estimated today by the geological survey on the basis of reports from producers and others.

The output of soft lead by mines of the Mississippi valley was about 231,000 short tons, and that of Argentiferous lead by mines of the western states about 170,000 tons compared with 551,816 tons from the Mississippi valley and 250,570 tons from the western states in 1920. The southeastern Missouri district, with a 1921 output of 178,000 tons compared with 101,258 in 1920 had a larger production than any other district and was the only one to show a gain.

The recoverable zinc content of ore mined in 1921 was about 250,000 tons, compared with 294,772 tons the year before and 545,242 tons in 1919. The output of the eastern states was about 69,000 tons, that of the central states about 168,000 tons, and of the western about 14,000 tons, compared with 102,242, 247,652 and 144,878, respectively, in 1920.

Imports of zinc in ore decreased from 204,000 tons in 1920 to about 2700 in 1921, most of which came from Mexico.

ACTIVE PERIOD AHEAD OF GOODING COLLEGE

Keen Interest Shown in List of Subjects Forming Course to Open in Near Future

The first half year at Gooding college closes January 13 and new students are already enrolling for the second semester, which begins the following Monday.

Among the subjects offered at that time will be remodeling of old clothes, trigonometry, textiles, rural sociology, shorthand, accounting and other vogue college courses.

The enrollment for the first semester was 169 in the regular work, while 45 more preachers, preachers' wives and interested laymen from Oregon, Idaho and Wyoming were on hand for the rural life school.

The farmer's short course has been staged for January 23 to 27. It will be directed by Professor Valentine Deich, in co-operation with other members both county and state farm bureau organizations. State Secretary C. Ben Ross of Pocatello, Assistant Secretary Mitchell of Nampa, County Agent O. E. McConnel of Gooding, and County Club Leader Ivan H. Holt have already been selected and a number of other prominent workers will assist them.

BETTER RETAIL SELLING METHODS ARE URGED AS VERY NECESSARY TO STORES

Saving of Time on Part of Management Declared To Be of Greater Benefit to the Public Than to the Institution—Buying of Goods Just as Important as Selling Them

This country is entering on an era of higher education in retail salesmanship that should prove of inestimable advantage to the public as well as to the stores.

Within one day recently, for example, announcements were made that seventeen leading merchants of Dayton, O., had responded to the invitation of the board of education to operate in arranging retail classes for paleontologists at the local chamber of commerce; that a federal vocational instructor would tell of methods well laid forth effective for instruction of retail salespeople at an Ohio state meeting of vocational workers in Columbus, that the leading business men of Atlanta, Ga., were giving lectures on salesmanship for the Junior chamber of commerce in Atlanta.

It was short January, but that there came a general awakening among dry goods merchants to the fact that only good salesmanship could offset the present need for getting business on its feet. Prices were falling; economy had become the rule; store costs were difficult to reduce in view of the urgent need for getting business on its feet. The public must be sold conspicuously on store service as well as on every price reduction afforded by the wholesale markets and passed on to the consumer.

Service Essentially Human: Now, store service is never mechanical. It is, above all else, genuinely human just as every store's customer are eternally human. Salespeople women as well as men, have their natural human inclination to relax, to refrain from applying their concentrated thought to every sale, to be, in short, human beings when they ought to be sales experts.

The shortsightedness has always been recognized as part and parcel of business under its every aspect. This point with regard to retail business is that this year, more than ever, it demanded education of the highest quality in order to meet successfully the exigencies of the situation.

The answer has been found in the general movement on the part of store managements to raise the level of salesmanship to heights beyond any of earlier years. The tendency has become national, with the powerful trade bodies of the large cities taking active part. The great department stores, the specialty shops, the general dry goods stores—all will benefit, now and in the long run.

Public Gets the Benefit: But in the long run, the major advantage will be derived by the people as a whole. This newer, higher education in salesmanship is laying stress upon those responsibilities of the salespeople which will most directly to the good of the public.

Salespeople are being trained in saving time—the public's time—in making necessary purchases. They are learning the basic lesson of knowing their stocks, so that soon the buyer of any article will be dealing with a specialist who knows the article as well as he knows the particular counter visited. They are acquiring intimately the lesson of selling an article so well—that is, so well suited to the buyer's need and wishes that it shall stay sold, a quality of salesmanship that means immense enhancement of satisfaction in the purchase and use of all merchandise.

These attributes have been common to the sales forces of various high grade stores in every city and have been striven for by others. The time is at hand when what was an ideal is due to become realized—when the most difficult, most trying of all the many services rendered the public by retailers will be performed in a manner so excellent that the general debt of appreciation for earnest and conscientious effort will be recognized.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother used up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value their even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair naturally, so evenly that no body can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides making beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.—adv.

FULL LIST OF EVENTS OF FOOTBALL SEASON GIVEN

U. of I. to Open with Game with Gonzaga at Moscow—Final Struggle at Missoula

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow (Special)—The University of Idaho will open the 1922 football season September 30, against Gonzaga, University of Spokane, on the Idaho field, according to Coach Thomas Kelly. The Thanksgiving game against Gonzaga has been cancelled and Idaho will win on the season against the University of Montana.

University Manager Grant is in receipt of word from the University of California confirming its date with Idaho at Pasadena on November 18. As our most important games come at the first part of the season, our pre-season game with Gonzaga will be of much value in shaping up the men before they enter the first conference game. Coach Kelly says "Gonzaga always has been a tough nut for Idaho to crack and this early game will make every man I've got extend himself to the utmost."

Center College Game a Surprise to Close Followers of Football in the Home Town

DALLAS, Texas, (AP)—The Centre college football team was on its way west for the first time in its history, suffering its first defeat of the season Monday, when the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college won a 22 to 14 victory over the Kentuckians. Sports leaders generally declared today that the result of the game upset all predictions. The Texas team had suffered but one previous defeat this season, by Louisiana university early last fall. It was recalled today that all the members of the Aggie team are prospects of Texas high schools.

STAB OFFERED COACH 'VOR' CHICAGO, (AP)—Charles Brickler, former Harvard university football star, has been offered the position of head coach at Northwestern university. It was learned today, Brickler is said to have indicated to the Purple officials that he would accept the place if proper inducements were made.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Troubles You

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poison from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

Just Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure, makes a delightful flavoured liti-water. drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious urinary complications.—adv.

DEMANDS CLOSE OBSERVANCE OF CITY EXPENSES

Council Gives Tacit Approval to Suggestion for Strict Accountability

Tacit approval was given by the city council at its meeting last night to a policy of economy in municipal expenditures expressed by Councilman C. P. Howie in a declaration opposing reduction in salaries of necessary and efficient employees but demanding strict accountability of the various officials in positions of responsibility for municipal disbursement.

The list showed a total of 25 employees, including members of the police force and fire department. The monthly payroll was estimated at $4200. The highest paid employee is the streets and waterworks commissioner whose monthly salary is $400. The lowest paid employee is the janitor whose salary is $100.

See Under Burden. During discussion of possibilities for economy, J. J. Fitzgerald, streets and waterworks commissioner, took occasion to call attention to the financial burden imposed upon the streets department by the city's contribution of $2500 to the distribution of water through pipes.

Upon recommendation of Chief of Police Ben J. Brown, the council consented to the appointment of W. B. Brown, formerly merchant's police officer as patrolman to succeed John M. Beck, whose resignation was formerly accepted.

Receives Annual Reports. The council received the annual reports of the fire department chief and the streets and waterworks commissioner. It allowed bills against the street sprinkling fund in the sum of $17.00 against the waterworks fund in the sum of $14.87 and against the general obligation fund in the sum of $14.65.

CHANGES SEEN AT NEW YEAR IN TRADE CIRCLES

Advent of the New Year witnesses a number of changes in business locations in progress or recently effected up and down Main avenue, while speculation is rife over the possibilities for new accessions into Twin Falls business circles.

Workers were today completing the removal of furniture and fixtures of the Idaho State bank, recently consolidated with the Twin Falls National bank, from the Bang building at the corner of Main avenue and Shoshone street north, in preparation for its occupancy this week by the Johnson Drug company store which will move from quarters occupied for a year or more since its establishment here at 185 Main avenue east.

Furniture Store Moved. Quarters at the corner of Main avenue and Second street west are for the moment vacant while the Seedorf and Baggs furniture stock, heretofore accommodated in this building, has been removed to former quarters of the Idaho Hardware and Implement company at 201 Main avenue east.

The Army and Navy store recently established in quarters formerly occupied by Kunkle and Bomiller, painters, at 257 Main avenue north, has transferred its stock and operations to a more central location at 114 Main avenue east into quarters formerly occupied by the Exchange Realty company.

Leave New Openings.

Removal of the stock of wooden goods lately brought here by the Utah Woolen mills, leaves a portion of the ground floor of the Boyd building on Main avenue south temporarily without an occupant, while a closing out sale in progress at the Clothery, 116 Main avenue north, is announced with the statement that the business of this firm will be terminated by January 14.
