Army of Occupation Told That Germans in Occupied Area Must Be Treated Considerately at All Times

COBLENZ, (AP)—The American forces in Germany are assisting in every possible way in bringing about the ultimate stabilization of Europe generally, according to recent announcement here. The American detachments on the Rhine are now virtually on a peace-time footing, the chief of Major General Henry C. Allen, in command, now as always, being to treat the civilian population with consideration but at the same time maintaining, of course, the dignity and prestige of an army of occupation and of the Inter-Allied Rhineland high commission.

Outlining the policy of the American forces to some 400 officers, Colonel W. H. Hay, chief of staff, made it clear that a part of the duties of the army under the present circumstances was to help whenever the opportunity offered itself to create a friendly spirit among the countries of Europe and in this way carry out the military missions now desired by the majority of the nations of the world.

Must Show Consideration

The policy of General Allen, said Colonel Hay, had always been to deal with the Germans considerately, and at the same time firmly, and he emphasized the importance of each member of the army so conducting himself as to always reflect only credit upon his uniform and his country. The soldiers, he said as a whole, he said, would be judged by Europeans for years to come, long after the American army had gone home, by the officers and enlisted men comprising the Rhineland force at the present time.

Colonel Hay pointed out that his remarks with reference to intercourse between the American and German troops had no bearing on the question of social relations, as this, he thought, would naturally take care of itself; and said that the message officers would probably continue to be sent to the Germans, before, the relations of officers and the Germans having been confined chiefly to association only in official capacities.

No Social Rids

American officers generally have never associated with the Germans in the three years of occupation, and there has been no attempt to be made to establish social relations. There have been exceptions both ways, but at the present time there is no tendency on the part of American officers to make the better class of Germans to inaugurate ordinary social relations, and each goes his separate way trying to make the best of circumstances. There has been an occupied area, but the Germans of the upper class have left Coblenz since the occupation began rather than put up with the inconveniences brought about by the matter of billeting, all of the occupied cities being short of housing and office space and consequently overcrowded.

Outlines American Plans

Colonel David L. Stone, representative of General Allen on the Inter-Allied Rhineland high commission, also addressed the officers, describing the past and future of the occupying force and the general effect of American participation in the Rhineland occupation. Colonel Stone said many Americans and Europeans who had visited the area were of the opinion that regard of America's impartiality with respect to European affairs, the major part of American force stationed in the occupation and continuing to do so, would have a far-reaching influence upon the progress of stabilization of European affairs.

World Must Prosper

As has often been said by writers and speakers, Colonel Stone said in conclusion, the serious economic situation in Europe affected the entire world and until normal conditions were restored over here there could be no return to normalcy in the United States. He repeated emphatically that European trade as an outlet to many of the vast industries and that, on this account, as well as for the good of humanity, the Americans generally at home should take an active interest in bringing about the earliest economic rehabilitation of Europe.

BERLIN, (AP)—The propaganda of a man who claims to be an "apostle of Bolshevism" and who has been operating in Prussia and East Prussia promises "young girls who will go to Utah" large rewards, introduction into the "happiest lands of the world" and "great happiness, according to newspaper reports. The newspapers have warned German girls against the man as an "apostle."

BITTER HATRED OF EUROPEANS CAUSE OF RIOT

Fanatical Enmity of Egyptians Declared to be Biggest Contributing Cause in Loss of Lives of 79 Persons

LONDON, (AP)—Fanatical hatred of Europeans by Egyptians is one of the causes assigned by a military court for the rioting in Alexandria in May last which resulted in 79 deaths. The court has found, after an investigation that the outbreak was provoked by enthusiasm of Said Zagloul Yassa, nationalist leader, who are said by the court to have been determined to reap political advantage by forcing the government to shed the blood of Egyptian.

Mobs Well Organized

"There is no doubt, moreover, that the mobs had a very definite organization. The court has found no evidence as to what this organization was or by whom it was directed. The court draws attention to a very important fact. Always there has existed in Egypt, at any rate among the lower classes, a fanatical hatred of Europeans. It has shown itself agents and agents."

May Always Happen

"Given similar circumstances, this feeling will always manifest itself in the future, as it has done in the past, and a very long period of time must elapse before this feeling can be eradicated."

PROSPECTS FOR PROSPERITY IN IDAHO ARE GOOD

Reduction in Freight Rates Alone Will Save Substantial Sum to State — Other Advantages Certain

BOISE, Idaho.—There are a number of elements that enter into the forecast that Idaho will enjoy increased prosperity during the year 1922. They include favorable conditions and prospective developments—gauge concerns and concerns coming.

There will be additional building, more reclamation, more mining and greater investment. There will be more diversified farming on smaller units, with dabbling, poultry and lettuce as predominating factors. The agricultural industry that has been dormant—live stock—will be revived, which will greatly stimulate agricultural profits.

Freight Speculation

There will be a direct cash distribution, as compared with 1921, of around $3,000,000 to producers of Idaho by reason of freight reductions already made and about to be made on certain government transportation rates. Your correspondent has made a careful survey of this situation and his figures have been checked and approved by competent authorities.

On the basis of a conservative estimate of shipments from Idaho this year the freight reduction as will amount to not less than the following:

Wool and lambs	$ 312,750
Cattle	92,000
Dairy cattle (Inbound)	20,000
Potatoes	100,000
Hay	45,450
Apples	100,000
Other miscellaneous such as alfalfa meal, dried fruits, dairy products, live and dressed poultry, vegetables and wool	150,000
And amount of reduction due to repeal of transportation taxes	500,000
Total	$1,265,200

Admittedly these figures are conservative and with anything like normal business the total should exceed $1,500,000, which will represent a huge additional distribution in itself. The other benefits of reaching markets that might have been in a way closed by the former higher rates cannot be given in dollars but will be great.

Basic Billings Figures

The average bill for 1921 of Idaho produce more constitute something of a guide as to 1922 output but the estimates in the foregoing were based upon reasonable assumptions. For example, Idaho ordinarily sends to Chicago and Omaha markets 6,000 carloads of sheep and lambs a year. A very conservative estimate of the cattle shipments is 2,000 cars. The shipment of potatoes amounted to from 5,000 in 1921 to 7,500 in 1922. Other shipment figures could be given but enough is stated to show the basis for calculation. The average reduction in freight on sheep and lambs to the markets referred to is $3.33 per car. The average reduction in freight on other principal products were figured against a low estimate of probable shipments, based on average records.

Looks Like a Good Year

There are many reasons to look forward with optimism to results for the new year. With anything like normal production the staple resources of Idaho will yield profitable returns—and as production yields profits so general conditions are prosperous.

Attention

An "information" table has been set up in the east end of the corridor of the federal building, raises the Indianapolis News. M. P. Bonham, assistant custodian, has placed the table there with a watchman in attendance in order that the patrons of the post office and other offices in the building may be directed with the least possible delay.

John C. Peters, watchman, was the first to take charge of the table. The first person who stopped at the table pointed to the sign "information," and asked:

"Does that mean what it says?"
"Sure," Peters.
"Well, then, will you please tell me where I can get a good grade of 'white milk'?"
"Right here in this building," said Peters. "If you have the proper credentials."

Analysis of High School Interclass Series Gives Records of Individual Players and Class Teams

In checking up the summary of the boys' interclass games, it is found that the Seniors led the field with 115 points scored. True, they played one more game than either the Juniors or Sophs but nevertheless they were the class of the four teams. The Juniors were next with 57 points scored, with the Sophs taking third place with 44. The much-abused Freshmen could collect but 14 points.

MAN THE IMITATOR

In his humbler moments, when the deeds of angels and archangels are brought to his attention, man has been wont to call himself but a worm of the dust; but now a French scientist, Lucien Cuendet, declares man is but an imitator of the lower forms of animal life...

WORKING HIS WAY THROUGH

Years ago the chap who worked his way through college was considered a sort of seven days' wonder. The fact that he shooed down a furnace at night to pay for his room rent gave him to the eyes of the world a standing similar to that which a presidential candidate used to acquire by having been born in a log cabin...

BACK TO EDEN

The Michigan supreme court seems to have gone back to the garden of Eden for its decision in the case of that husband convicted because his wife was operating a home brew apparatus in their domicile. It is not stated that the original Adam who plagiarized the original Adam's defense by trying to put the blame on friend wife denied nothing of the forbidden brew...

ALL HONOR TO PUMPKIN PIE

Fervid Admirer About Right When He Accords It First Place Among the Season's Dishes.

Most of us easily, and, let us venture to say, naturally, call it "pumpkin" pie, but this—unintentionally, of course—is the malvolence of mispronunciation. There is no pumpkin in pumpkin.

Pumpkin pie is a delectable. Some of the scientists, or perhaps non-scientists, say that fish is brain food. If they would eat a couple of quarters of pumpkin pie once a day for a week, they would know where gray matter really has its origin.

The first sometimes may be on the pumpkin, as the fustler poet tells us, but it is never on the pumpkin pie. The only place where it meets with a freer treatment is in the restaurant where they attempt to serve a squash and pumpkin pie. We always have had a suspicion that some restaurant table spreader did not know what they are serving. We ran against proof of it the other day, when on ordering pumpkin pie we received a comestible disk of squash, and, on remonstrating, were told by the ungentle personal purveyor that "squash and pumpkin is the same thing."

It is the time of crisp days. Their seasonable companions in joy for the cold are pumpkin pie, country sausage and buckwheat cakes. The pie, however, has the better of its table comrades. With entire propriety and with certainty of acclaim it can appear before daily. Anyone who looks downcast at pie for breakfast is no judge either of the elegances of life or of the excellent which make life worth living.—Chicago Post.

FEAT OF GIANT LOCOMOTIVE

Biggest in the World, It Pulls a Load of Approximately 10,000,000 Pounds.

Visualize, if you can, a freight train over a mile in length, the longest train that was ever hauled, carrying a load of coal approximating thirty-two million pounds, pulled over the Blue Ridge and Allegheny mountains by the biggest locomotive in the world, and you have a mental picture of the feat in heavy hauling that was accomplished recently on the Virginia railway, between Princeton, Va., and Roanoke, Va., in the presence of 85 prominent representatives of the leading railroads in this country, which is described as inaugurating a new era in modern railroad development.

These demonstrations represented tests and trials covering a range of a wide and exhaustive nature. It was shown that the operation of the locomotive, consuming on an average six tons of coal per hour, was an easy matter, with the duplex, stoker, mechanical device which takes the place of fireman.

The following are details connected with the largest demonstration train: The locomotive and tender weighed 125 tons and measured approximately 125 feet in length. The train was composed of 100 cars, each of which weighed 40 tons and measured 61 1/2 feet. The load carried by each car represented 320 tons of coal, making the total weight pulled by the engine approximately 10,000,000 or 12,000,000 pounds.

Easiest Way Out

Recently the woman had a friend visiting her from the South. She enjoyed immensely the friend's stories of Aunt Drucilla, a more mammy of the "old school," and her daughter Sally. One of Aunt Drucilla's proudest days was when the first grandchild—a girl—was born. The friend, laden with some things for the mother and little pickaninny, went to see them. On asking Aunt Drucilla what they intended calling the new baby she was graciously amused by the answer: "Yo' see, 'Miss' Kate, I is bound it should be called after you and your sister, 'Miss' Rosalind. But then I says to Sally if we calls her 'Katie' 'Miss' Rosalind will git mad, and if we says Rosalind you won't like it, so I jest decided to name her 'Katie' Rosalind and call her Gladys."—Chicago Journal.

That Fellow Feeling

"You admit you were speeding?" "Yes, your honor." "A frank confession goes a long way in this court. What excuse have you to offer for exceeding the speed limit?" "A man in a little old rattletrap fiver drove up behind me and hawled to me to get out of the way and let somebody use the street who could get more out of one cylinder than I could get out of six."

Whiz Bang Goes Up: Because the people living at White Bay, a boom town in the western Oregon oil district, are squatters on Indian land, it is understood the federal government has issued orders for the land to be vacated. Titles cannot be given at White Bay and persons living there may be liable for the lots they occupy. It is said that White Bay will be moved to Aperson.—The Oklahoman.

JUST GUESS

By ARIA E. CUTTING.

"There! That settles his hash!" With a look that startled an innocent student in a front seat, Miss Mason, teacher at District School No. 7, crushed a letter in her hand and cast it into the waste basket.

"What! Are those examples all done?" "None!" "Then get to work!" Shirley felt a pang of remorse immediately after her last words. Ten-year-old Earl looked at her in amazement; then there flashed in his eyes a hurt expression. In another instant he was glaring over his example.

"Golly! Why should she get mad at me? I didn't do anything. Let's see. If Roger drove 120 cups to pasture and 1-5 were lost—Oh! I can't guess!"

"That amount the recess bell rang. Waiting outside by the door stood a great shepherd dog. "Hello, old girl," cried Earl, as the dog ran to greet him. "Be good now and come with me."

Earl went back into the room, the dog following at his heels. "Miss Mason," Roger Earl, feeling rather uncomfortable, "this is my new dog. Uncle is coming home today and he sent me her. Isn't she a beauty?" Shirley said nothing for a moment.

"What is very pretty. What's her name?" "Just guess," replied Earl. "Oh—is it Rover? Tricker?" "Why, Just Guess."

Puzzled, yet greatly amused, Earl went out. Guess following, giving no clue to Shirley as to what her name was. "Say, Guess, you'll help me, Miss Mason. Oh, I love her. Don't you?" For answer Guess heeled her playmate's hand.

Long after school hours were over that afternoon, Earl strolled past the schoolhouse. "What's the matter?" he thought. "The door's open!" He went in, Guess following. Every thing was in readiness for the morning's work.

"Well, Guess, she's gone and left the door unlocked. Guess we'd better go, eh, Guess? I'm glad Uncle's come home. Why, Guess?"

The dog had tipped over the waste basket in her frolic. Out tumbled the rumpled paper. "Gee! It's from Uncle!" he yelled. "He said he had a girl. Now, Guess, keep still—and I'll read it to you."

"Dearest Shirley—I will see you soon. I will have a big surprise for you. I want to introduce you to a dear little lady—a great companion to me. She'll probably see you before I get there, as she's coming first. What's her name? Just Guess, dear. With love, Rodney."

"Well, I'll go home and see Uncle Rodney now, and ask him if he's met our schoolteacher. Why couldn't he have let me know about this?" Down the pathway he met Uncle Rodney, who looked rather anxious. "Have you seen Miss Mason, Earl?" "No, not since school closed."

"Stumpy." "I don't think so." Rodney stared at Earl. Earl stared at Rodney. "Well, I'll go back and help find her. Isn't she home?"

"No, nothing more was said until they reached the schoolhouse. Suddenly Guess came into the room, whining, she ran first to Rodney, then to Earl, and then to the door, several times over."

"We'll follow Guess," commanded Rodney. Out to the woodshed by the schoolhouse they went. The great door was locked. They heard a cry inside, then barked. Earl and Rodney seized the lock and opened the door. Seated on the floor was a very angry, tearful, diabolical young lady.

"Mr. Ferry!" "Miss Mason—Shirley!" "Don't call me Shirley! What are you here for? And after writing such a letter!" cried she. "Just guess what her name is. What do you suppose I care—dear little lady—no, but this is very serious!" she ended with fine sarcasm.

Rodney stood amazed for an instant; then he broke into a great laugh. "Well, well! So that's it, is it? Forgive me, Shirley. I'm sorry you misunderstood."

He turned, grasped Guess by her collar, and said: "This is the little lady I meant, Nov, I told you her name in my letter. She's anxious to know you, you see. I knew you liked a great shepherd like her, so I sent her up to be a companion for you and for Earl. She now belongs to Earl. And I am Earl's uncle."

"Oh, dear! Now I see—everything—Guess is her name. I didn't understand it that way." And Shirley burst into tears. "Well, I'm going out. Come, Guess," cried Earl. And only Guess heard him.

A few minutes later, an impatient Earl pecked through a crack in the door and cried: "I'm going home, Uncle Rodney. But I'd like to ask Miss Mason who saved her tonight?"

"Just Guess," came a happy, simultaneous reply.

PUNCTURE PLANT IS NEW MENACE

"Puncture plant," a desert product which has not heretofore migrated to places where it could do damage. It is a bus-like plant which has a peculiar bar, tougher than the ordinary high speed goes through automobile tires. Should it become thick about roads, it would be a most serious menace to automobilists.

Constipation: Constipation of the bowels is a stoppage of the sewerage system that remains waste matter from the body. It is as necessary that your bowels move regularly once each day, to carry off this waste, as it is that the waste pipes of your home be kept open and carry off the waste from the house. If you would enjoy good health, keep your bowels regular by taking Chamberlain's Tablets when needed.—adv.

RECORD FEES PAID LAWYERS

Skillful Leaders of the Bar Have Been Rewarded for Their Services With Small Fortunes.

Barrington Ward, K. C., who is to receive a fee of 10,000 guineas for undertaking the defense in Egypt of a wealthy American charged with attempting to murder Lord Allenby, by no means the only English lawyer whose forensic skill has been rewarded by a fee in five figures, usually abroad, remarks London Answers. Sir George Buchanan's services at the Geneva convention were rewarded by a fee of £15,000. Mr. Peterson, an English barrister, when practicing in Calcutta, had a retainer of 100,000 rupees and a daily retainer of 10,000 rupees for his defense of Toss Petrus, an Indian contractor.

A fee of 10,000 guineas was offered to Sergeant Ballantyne to defend the gawkier of Baroda on a charge of attempting to kill Mr. Phayre, the British resident, by mixing diamond dust with his food.

For negotiating a treaty of peace with Japan John W. Foster received a fee of £40,000 from the Chinese government, and Chauncey Depew, the American lawyer and wit, was rewarded by a fee of £40,000 for saving an estate from bankruptcy.

Some enormous fees have been paid to eminent counsel for defending wealthy prisoners. Francis Wellman was paid £5,000 for his successful defense of the Hyams twins of Canada, who were charged with murder. Colonel James got a fee of £5,000 (the annual income of an English high court judge) for his defense of Inspector McLaughlin, who was accused of bribery some time ago.

Two other American counsel, Austin Fox and Daniel Ballina, each received a £5,000 fee for prosecuting in certain police court trials. Doctor Delmas was retained for the defense of Harry Thaw at a fee of £20,000, which, after all, was but half the sum paid ex-President Gerry for his services in the great Dreyfus-rumour lawsuit.

STATE LAWS PERMIT OF RADICAL VARIANCES IN CITY GOVERNMENT FORM

Centralized Responsibility is Distinguishing Feature of the City Manager Plan; Direct Legislation and Recall, Involving Possibility of Many Special Elections, Outstanding Characteristic of Commission Form Under Idaho Statutes

Direct legislation—the initiative and referendum—and the recall are outstanding characteristics of the commission form of city government, made possible by special provisions of the Black Law, now proposed for Twin Falls by a petition filed Monday in the city clerk's office.

Organization of the board under either the commission form or city manager plan would provide for election of two or three members every two years, for four-year terms of office.

Under provisions of the law in either case the city might resort to the alternative form of government or change from one form to another by vote at special elections.
