Attitude of Companies and Projects Responsible for Delay in Final Acceptance of Agreement

BOISE, Idaho (Special to The Daily News)—The Idaho Reclamation Association today gave out the following statement following a three-weeks investigation...

"The crucial features of the situation have been the attitude of companies and districts under the project and the power contract, which approved the thing up. This contract has been the last day for execution under its terms. If it is not approved it means great delay on the project and possible abandonment for years."

"Arrangements have been completed for extension until February 1st of time for execution until after Secretary Fall returns to Washington. The directors of the power company met today and approved the extension plan...

"The McNary-Smith bill met its worst reception through the action of settlers in various Idaho projects anxious for payment extensions. Enemies of the bill used these requests to bolster their charges that the McNary-Smith bill was not having desired results."

AUSTIN, Texas. (AP)—Martial law was proclaimed today by Governor Davis at Mexia, Tex., and the surrounding fields, which specifies justice precinct number four in Armstrong county and five in Freestone.

On Clean-up Campaign. Texas rangers have been on duty in the Mexia oil field since Saturday when in cooperation with other forces they inaugurated a "clean-up" campaign against alleged saloons and gambling houses.

Local officers at Mexia, the governing said, "are either unable or unwilling to maintain and enforce the law," and there is "imminent danger of mob violence, tumult, riot and breach of the peace."

Many Open Violations. "Open and flagrant violation of the law," highway robbery and open gambling in the oil fields were some of the reasons given by the governor in his proclamation.

Mexia is an oil town about 100 miles south of Austin and there is now a Governor Neff set forth his reasons for declaring martial law in the province of his proclamation which follows:

Reasons for Action. "An intolerable situation exists in the town of Mexia, Texas, today. The mob and crowd violence of the law in this town, highway robbery is frequent occurrence accompanied in some cases by the murder of peaceful and law-abiding citizens, gambling houses are in full operation and night protected by armed men; intoxicating liquor is being openly sold over the bar at so much profit as to cause the bottle and other containments a multitude of questionable women ply their malicious business in houses of ill fame, and the local officers are either unable or unwilling to maintain and enforce the law; and

Whereas, this condition has heretofore caused acts of violence on citizens and there is now an imminent danger of insurrection, tumult, riot and breach of the peace, and serious personal danger to the inhabitants of the town of Mexia, Texas, in the territory hereinafter described; and

Whereas, section 10 of article 4 of the constitution of Texas makes the commander-in-chief of the military forces of this state and gives him the power to call forth the military to execute the laws of the state;

Governor Neff said that General Wollers and Adjutant General Barton would confer at Mexia this morning and attempt to maintain order, but would be ordered out.

NOTICE IS QUITE. MEXIA, Texas. (AP)—Texas rangers on duty here are quiet with no arrests having been made. Telegrams announcing establishment of martial law here and in the adjacent oil fields, however, are being made, and created an stir. Adjutant General Barton and Adjutant General Barton returned today from Mexia for the purpose of conferring with Governor Neff over the situation.

Whole Region in Oil. The city of Mexia is included in justice precinct No. 4 in Freestone county, which precinct is one of the two specifically mentioned by Governor Neff in his proclamation. The greater part of the territory known as the Mexia oil field are included in precinct 4, Freestone county, and justice precinct 5, Freestone county.

ACTION TAKEN COMES AS BOLT FROM CLEAR SKY

Resignation Follows the Blunt Speech in Support of Government Policies as to German Reparations

STICKS TO PRINCIPLES IN SPITE OF OPPOSITION

Declares His Attitude Has Given France the Things She Has Been Asking For Three Years

PARIS, (AP)—President Millerand in accepting the resignation of Premier Briand and his entire cabinet, indicated that he would not ask any one to form a new ministry before tomorrow. Minister of War Barthélemy and Army President Foch were mentioned prominently in parliamentary lobbies as likely candidates for the task of forming a new government.

President Millerand, according to custom, has summoned M. Borjesson and M. Poincaré, presidents of the senate and chamber of deputies, respectively, for a conference on the situation.

PARIS, (AP)—Premier Briand submitted his resignation to President Millerand at the Elysee palace today after making a lengthy statement before the chamber of deputies, justifying his attitude at the Cannes conference.

The resignation was accepted by President Millerand. The entire French cabinet went out of office with Premier Briand.

M. Briand's intention to resign was announced to the chamber at the close of his hour's speech. The announcement came as an entire surprise, as he had previously long the sympathy of the chamber. His collection of the cabinet were filled with amazement at his sudden determination.

Briand Chamber Alone. M. Briand, after making his announcement left the chamber alone. The members of the cabinet followed as soon as they had recovered from their surprise.

Groups of deputies and government officials specially gathered in excited discussion of the seriousness of the situation, seeking a way out of the difficulty.

Use Blunt Language. Premier Briand put the Anglo-French pact, the question of participation in the German reparations payments and French participation in the Genoa conference squarely up to the chamber of deputies this afternoon, telling the deputies in the bluntest terms, to take them or leave them.

The premier first presented the question in French and said: "You have been complaining for three years," he said, "of not being called upon to share in sharing French policies. I am bringing you what you have been demanding for three years and it is up to you to say whether you want it or not."

Premier Briand, in the course of his speech, said that "you have agreed to participate in the general conference."

Take It or Leave It. "As for the German reparations," he continued, "I am merely making these explanations to you and do not ask your approval or refusal. There is France's security. Take it or leave it."

The premier next turned to the subject of the Genoa conference. "It is in my opinion," he said, "that France should be absent from this conference, which is purely financial and economic, especially when such a powerful ally as the United States is present."

CARPENTER TO FIGHT. LONDON, (AP)—George Carpenter will meet George Cook of Australia in the final fight of the year. Joe Beckett, former heavyweight champion of England, is quoted by the Daily Mail as saying that although the winner, Dempsey was knocked out in the 74 seconds by Carpenter on December 1, 1919.

MANY PROBLEMS NOW CONFRONT STOCK INDUSTRY

American Livestock Association in Convention at Colorado Springs Addressed by Senator Kendrick

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Never before have the stockgrowers of the country been confronted with as many or as serious problems as those being faced today.

Senator Kendrick, "lies along the line of patient and courageous cooperation on the part of all. Let it not be said that the laborers are few or lacking in diligence."

Senator Kendrick voiced his approval of what is known as the agricultural bloc in the senate when he said:

"The prospect of obtaining modifications in the tariff bill, favorable to the wool growers and live stock producers is increased by the fact that nearly every member of the so-called agricultural bloc is in favor of such changes. And I may say here that the membership of this bloc is composed of most extensively of senators from the west and south, and includes something like an even number of members of both political parties."

"The actions of this group of men are not based upon an attitude either in opposition to or in favor of any political party, neither are they antagonistic to anything that speaks for the welfare of any other industry or any section of the nation. They are concerned as to partly public and more concerned about the welfare of the people for whom they assume to speak, and they have been particularly concerned in securing at least limited recognition of agricultural and livestock interests."

Praise for Harding

Senator Kendrick praised President Harding's efforts to secure some measure of relief for the livestock industry and also paid a high tribute to Secretary of Agriculture Henry C. Wallace.

"It is doubtful," he said, "if in all the history of our country there has been a more worthy and well qualified one in whom there is reposed more universal respect and confidence than our present secretary of agriculture, Henry C. Wallace."

"An important part of our legislative program is the enactment of a law that will prove a more permanent system of credits for the producers of livestock than are now available. We have at this time one of the most effective systems of commercial credits enjoyed by any of the great nations. The Farm Loan act has provided a fairly satisfactory method of making loans based upon landed activities, but no system of credits has yet been provided that will afford to stockmen reasonable access to loanable funds at low rates of interest and covering the necessary period of time required in the production of livestock."

In talking of the railroad situation as it concerns livestock values, Senator Kendrick said: "One of the many causes that have contributed to the distress and discouragement of livestock producers has been the unjust and, as we fully believe, the unnecessary increase in freight rates."

Markets Oustered

"One of the most serious questions demanding attention at our hands is that of congested receipts in our markets. It is reasonable to believe that stabilized receipts would go far toward stabilizing prices. It is becoming more and more apparent that there is an urgent need for some form of concerted action by which receipts in our markets could be more evenly distributed. A conservative estimate would probably show that the heaviest losses sustained by stockmen are occasioned through certain indiscriminate system of marketing."

"Summarizing the problems which we are to solve, we must first contend for and secure an adjustment of railroad rates that will be based upon equity and fairness."

"It would seem imperative that we promptly take such steps as seem advisable toward bringing such influences to bear as will tend to regulate the volume of receipts in our markets. Through co-operation with allied branches of our industry, we can exercise such legitimate influences as we have toward increasing the consumption and thus the demand for our products."

ITALY WANTS TO SHOW ALL THE WORLD HER TREASURE

Recovered Art Objects to be Displayed in Mammoth Exhibition Now Planned

ROME, (AP)—Italy will soon hold an exhibition to display to the world the beautiful art treasures she has recovered from Austria in consequence of the war. The Italians claim that these objects of virtue were systematically seized by Austrians from Italy in the days when the Italians were too weak to protect themselves. First and foremost among them are also magnificent treasures of Bible subjects. They are of Finnish workmanship.

These products of the first half of the 19th century were hung in the Imperial palace in the Austrian capital. They have just been returned to Italy's possession and once more hang in the Mantuan Palace.

Some of the works of art just reentered were among those carried off by Napoleon from the churches, palaces and country houses of the republic of Venice. They were returned to Venice after Napoleon's fall, only to be carried off to Vienna to become the brightest ornaments of the celebrated galleries there. Included in the number now returned to Italy are Gian de Conagliani's superb "Madonna of the Oranges," and pictures by Bartolomeo Vivarini, Paolo Veronese, Biadenti (the Master of Casparcio), Tintoretto, Bellini, etc.

MINIATURE SUBMARINE IS ATTRACTING ATTENTION

It Undersea Craft Capable of Penetrating to Greater Depths Than Larger Boats

ROME, (AP)—A miniature submarine having a capacity of about one cubic yard and operated by one man has been invented by an engineer of Trieste to recover treasure from ships lost at sea and now lying in the ocean depths.

The little craft was devised by Francesco Killa. It has an electric motor, a pump for expelling water and a device for changing the air within the submarine which will allow her to remain submerged for two hours.

Two reflectors of 3000 candle-power enable the worker to see clearly about him while immersed. The little submarine is attached by an electric cable to a ship on the surface which can, if necessary, raise the undersea boat. The latter, however, rises to the surface without assistance. It is claimed that the little craft can descend to greater depths than have yet been attained by submarines. The boat was recently tested by several naval experts.

SCOTCH SECESSION IS NOT TAKEN SERIOUSLY

Forty Members of National League Meet in London and Discuss Scottish Independence

LONDON, (AP)—Now there is an agitation for the independence of Scotland.

Forty members of the Scots National League, which aims for complete separation from England, recently met in London and, to the wild strains of the bagpipes, affirmed their determination to fight, if need be, to gain complete and absolute independence for Scotland.

Speakers recalled that in 1700, Scotland was a free country with a national debt of only one shilling and seven pence per head of the population. Today, every Scotman owes 177 pounds. Scotland's contribution to taxation last year amounted to 113,487,000, but only one-eighth of this sum was devoted to Scottish purposes, they complained.

The threat of a Scottish secession has, however, failed to rouse anything but a tolerant smile from the general public.

MISTAKE LEADS TO AWFUL CRIME

Strange Story of Banditry Brings to Light Case of Murder of Girl

HOPLA, (AP) — A strange tale of banditry, resulting in the murder by mistake of a girl by her own father and mother, is vouchered for officially by the Bulgarian police.

Ivan, a peasant of Harard, sold two calves for 10,000 levas and started home from the market with his daughter Milka. Peasants robbers gave the money to his daughter. The father was attacked on the road and killed by two men who gave him the name of the murderer.

Milka fled and sought refuge in a peasant cottage where a woman and her daughter comforted her and gave her dinner. Later Milka was asked to bed with the woman's daughter. When the husband returned he told his wife he had killed a man yesterday, as the money he sought had been carried off by the murdered man's daughter.

The woman to whom Milka had told her story, repeated the story to her husband and the two determined to kill the girl as she lay asleep to get the 10,000 levas. Milka, in the daughter's room upstairs, overheard and escaped through a window. When police were brought by Milka they found the old couple had gone upstairs, and killed their own daughter by mistake in the dark.

Big Frein Packing Companies Want to be Again Permitted to Handle Groceries as Side Line

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP) — Argument on the question of the modification of the big five meat packers' recent decree to enable them to re-handle their unrelated grocery lines began today before the special investigating committee representing the department of justice, commerce and agriculture.

Modification of the decree was sought by the California Co-operative meat association, which has representations on the ground that their business depended upon the packers' distribution system while the proposal was opposed by the National Wholesale Grocers' association and other associations upon competitive grounds.

It is expected that a report will be made to heads of the department by the committee in about ten days.

EUROPEAN MONARCH IS IN NO HURRY TO MARRY

King Boris of Bulgaria Not Likely to Choose Bride on Forthcoming Visit

BOFLA, (AP) — Young King Boris, of Bulgaria says he has no intention of marrying an American girl if he visits America with Premier Stambouloff next spring, as he now hopes to do. The king laughed when the idea was suggested to him that he might find an American queen.

"That is an extremely interesting and novel idea," he said, "but I am afraid it is not true. Anyway, I'm too busy with the reconstruction of the country and other vital projects to give any time to matrimonial projects."

It is true that I have been living a life of great loneliness, devoid of all social diversion, but now I have my two sisters with me and that makes a great change. You see it is the duty of a brother to get his sisters married off first before he himself marries," he concluded, turning with a smile to his two pretty sisters who were present.

PARLIAMENT IS CALLED TO MEET

Leaders of Sinn Fein Faction in Southern Ireland Summoned to Meeting

DUBLIN, (AP) — Leaders of the Sinn Fein faction opposing the peace treaty have been summoned for today by Eamon de Valera, deposed president of the Irish Republic, to consider the general situation growing out of ratification of the treaty. Meanwhile Arthur Griffith, the new president, has started the machinery of his provisional government, one of his first acts being to summon the south Ireland parliament for a meeting on Saturday for the purpose of formally passing upon the treaty. This formal ratification is specifically provided in the pact. Mr. De Valera has stated that he will ignore the meeting on Saturday and believe his followers will do likewise. The supporters of Mr. Griffith believe that this insures unanimous approval of the treaty by the remaining members, with the added votes of the four unionist members for Dublin university. It is rumored that one of the unionist members of the parliament may be asked to the cabinet, thus giving a coalition complexion to the administration.

Evacuation Under Way

The British authorities have begun their evacuation from Dublin castle and announcement of the release of the Irish political prisoners is expected at any time.

The executive of the Cumann Na Mban, the Sinn Fein women's organization, at a meeting here last night adopted a resolution by a vote of 24 to 2 reaffirming its allegiance to the republic and refusing to support the Anglo-Irish agreement. Countess Georgina Markiewicz, the president, was in the chair and delegates from the country districts attended. The league has 6000 members in Dublin city alone.

WILL TAKE ABOUT FIVE YEARS

RHEIMS, France, (AP) — The city of Rheims may be rebuilt within five years. This is the opinion of Marquis Melchior de Polignac, president of the Co-operative Society for the Reconstruction of Rheims. At the most, he says, the work will not require more than six or seven years.

The amount of work remaining to be done is estimated by the Marquis to cost one-billion francs, of which one hundred million is for reparations and nine hundred million for reconstruction. He says that the society will have 201,000,000 francs placed at its disposal each year for the next five years. This is by arrangement of credits with the department of public works.

The Poles, it is said, plan to retain all the Germans employed on the Danzig division, and in this way do their share toward maintaining friendly relations with the Danzig so far as the railroads are concerned.

PREMIER BRIAND

erful financial and economic state as the United States, without whose cooperation, France is impossible, has agreed to participate.

IF SO, Ray So

"Do you wish France not to be represented there?" he asked. "If so, say so. I, for my part, wish France to take part."

Premier Briand said the reparations commission had agreed to grant a moratorium for Germany on her reparations payments.

Anglo-French Pact Best

M. Briand conceded the cabinet, it is believed, that the Anglo-French pact was the best thing obtainable in the way of establishing French security, and it was added, that the entire pact, and not only the clause which would go into the chamber of deputies this afternoon to stand or fall with the treaty.

The so-called irreconcilables came around to Briand's viewpoint promptly after hearing the premier's explanations. "I told them that I did not believe what I saw reported to have done," M. Briand told the correspondent after the meeting. "It was not all going to be done."

Premier's Resignation

The contest in the cabinet meeting appeared upon the advisability of the treaty going before the chamber. The premier's supporters argued it was poor policy to call him before the legislative body while he was engaged in negotiations with foreign powers. "We will give you a vote of confidence by both houses before your departure for Cannes," said M. Guillaumier, minister of marine, who was the first to vote against the premier before the chamber, today.

Premier Briand himself, however, was expected to plan to have his speech before the chamber.

BRIAND'S RESIGNATION MAY AFFECT ARMS MEET

Disarmament Conference Delegates Hear News of French Crisis with Varying Emotions

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP) — The resignation of Aristide Briand as premier of France, was received with almost bombshell effect in arms conference circles, the action being considered likely to have a great effect on decisions already reached or about to be reached.

The belief also was expressed in conference circles that the overturn of the Briand ministry would greatly affect the Geneva economy. It was expected that American participation had been invited and also on the present conversations at Cannes.

No Immediate Change

Conference officials declared that, as customary during a cabinet crisis in France, the resigning cabinet would remain in power for continuing the administrative work of the government and in the same way M. Sarraut would remain in Washington and would continue to be the contact point with the conference, but would not feel entitled to make any definite decisions or to plodge the action of France on any question until the new cabinet is appointed.

News Officially Announced

Secretary Hughes announced officially shortly after noon today the fact of Premier Briand's resignation, to the heads of several of the governments who were in conference with him at the time. The news was received with expressions of dismay.

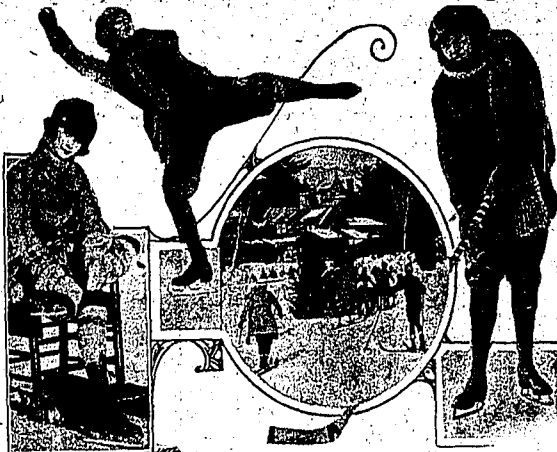

"It is a very great misfortune," said the head of one delegation.

To Subdue the Light

To modify the too-bright streams of light that fall from an electric lamp which has a porcelain globe it is a good idea to make a shallow bag of the thinnest silk in very pale flesh color or ivory, mount it on a heavy wire or feather hinged body which will fit over the globe and the porcelain shade and draw the bottom together, finishing it with a Chinese tassel. Cotton or any very diaphanous material is equally good for making this shade.

Lake Placid the Mecca for Winter Sports Folk

The season at Lake Placid, New York is now in full swing. Many of the visitors here in former years come to Switzerland for the winter sports, but now they claim they find all the sports they want at this resort. People from all over the country are making

"MIRACLE" WAS BEYOND HER

Unfortunate Italian Woman Threatened With Death by Her Superstitious Townspeople

Torlivo Rossi, a peasant of San Prospero, Tuscany, long lived all for some time. As the years went by did not improve his condition, the population decided that he was the victim of witchcraft. After taking council together, they decided that the witch must be discovered by two tests which have been in vogue for ages, says a town dispatch.

The family of Rossi were told to put his underlings into a pot of boiling water, and then heat them with rods. This process would cause grave physical pain to the witch, who would then call and cure the sufferer. This was done, and a few days later an old woman who had originally lived next door to Rossi appeared at the house. She immediately condemned her to the eyes of the populace as the witch and she was obliged to free her supposed victim from his illness. She promised to do so, but said that it was impossible unless she had the aid of three other women who were more conversant with witchcraft than she was. But the three were not forthcoming, and the "miracle" was therefore left to the old woman, who tried everything she could think of to cure the sufferer, but without success. The crowd was finally aroused to such anger that the unfortunate woman would probably have been drowned in the river but for the timely intervention of the carabinieri.

The home falling man and the other day when Harold, who is attending an upstate university, wrote a letter to his sister, Elsie, asking her to dig into his old trunk up in the attic and send him the knickerbocker Norfolk suit he wore during his junior year in high school. ### New Kind of Clock

A clock recently invented in England has some novel features. One of these is that the weight of the clock itself is the moving force which actuates the mechanism, the clock sliding down two vertical pillars, to wind it, therefore, all that is necessary is to push the clock up to the top again. One advantage attaching to this system, in addition to its simplicity and the absence of keys, is that the need for winding is vitiated at a glance, hence this necessary operation is not likely to be overlooked.

Many "Treasure Islands"

A large number of islands in various parts of the world have had the reputation of hiding buried treasure. Stevenson's "Treasure Island" had no foundation in fact, but is stated to be the real parent of his reading of stories by Debow, Washington Irving and Poe, also Johnson's "Lives of Pirates and Highwaymen," supplied by his own experience on sailing ships. Stevenson himself said that the germ of the story was the map drawn for the wall of his stepson's playroom.

BREAD AND MILK REFRESHES

Nothing better to restore tired Nerves and Muscles—Children Also Relish It.

A good, old-fashioned bowl of bread and milk, says the dairy division of the United States Department of Agriculture, is the very best restorative at the end of a hard day's work. On a cold night the bread may be dropped in hot milk, enough to wet it thoroughly, with just a "sprinkle" of salt for flavor. In England's "camp climate" bread and milk is the first thought after a long tramp or a day in the open. Almost every brain worker, whether student or professor, doctor, preacher, or business man, knows the refreshing tonic of a steaming bowl of bread and milk. Most children like it, and nothing could be better for them at bedtime or for lunch.

WHEY HONEY AS SUBSTITUTE

Most Delicious to Spread on Waffles or Pancakes—Strup Will Keep Indefinitely.

The first thought in the disposal of sour milk on hand is usually cottage cheese. The whey that remains after draining the cheese may be used in bread making, and as a drink for invalids. It is given, for which a recipe is given, in England's "camp climate" on waffles or pancakes, or as a spreading sauce.

Whey Honey

1 cup whey 1/2 cup sugar 1 cup strup and sugar and boil the mixture till it is of the consistency of strained honey. This strup will keep indefinitely if properly bottled.

SHERIFF'S WORK INCREASES WITH PASSING YEARS

Annual Report Shows Almost as Much Collected in Fees in One Year as During Predecessor's Two Year Term

Indicating largely increased demands upon the sheriff's office and low cost of operation of the office under the administration of Sheriff E. R. Sherman, an annual report just filed with the board of county commissioners shows fees collected during the year in the amount of $9014.02, as compared with $9451.29 during two years administration of A. W. Sprague, $10,000 and $10,007.71 during the four years term of Frank M. Kendall, 1914-18.

As compared with the $9014.02 collected by the present sheriff's office and turned over to the county treasurer, the average annual collections under the Kendall administration were $2,451.81 and those of the Sprague administration, $4710.

Franks with Responsibilities

The Sherman term this fact has been fraught with extraordinary, and in many respects, highly important activities. Sheriff Sherman's office has looked for the county 272 cases of major or minor importance. In addition 119 cases have been booked on account of city of Twin Falls, bringing the grand total charge set down on the blotter of this department to 391.

In point of numbers, bookings for petty larceny stood first in the list of charges brought into the sheriff's office. Of these there were 48. Charges of illegal possession and manufacture of intoxicating liquor amounted to 36 and with these, arrests on lost check charges, were next to petty larceny in number. There were 29 misdemeanor cases during the year and 20 on charge of assault and battery. Murder cases numbered four for the first year of the present term, among these being the notorious Louis Southard action charging the fatal murder of her fourth husband, Edward F. Meyer, of the Blue Lakes ranch by administration of arsenic derived from poison flypaper.

Sheriff Sherman's office has also been in receipt of credit for running down the woman in this case and bringing her to justice. Her trial resulted in conviction and sentence to a term of servitude in the state reformatory. Mrs. Southard's arrest was made after long and arduous search, conducted by Deputy Sheriff V. L. Ormsby, directed by Sheriff Sherman and assisted by attorney Frank L. Stephens. Apprehension was made in Honolulu and concluded a six weeks' chase over the entire Pacific coast.

Sheriff Sherman and his aides have been particularly active on their operations against bootleggers and for the suppression of that illegal traffic in this county. This activity is demonstrated in the figures showing three illegal arrests made in the past year for "moonshining" within the county.

Compilation Told Story

The following tabulation tells the story of the work done by Sheriff Sherman and his helpers since inauguration into office a year ago.

Character of Case	No. of Arrests
Petty larceny	48
Illegal possession of liquor	36
Bootlegging and manufacture	30
Misdemeanor	29
Assault and battery	20
Illegal rehabilitation	19
Illegal possession of liquor	14

Holdup	4
Murder	4
Statutory offense	4
Family desertion	5
Burglary	2
Embezzlement	2
Receiving mortgaged property	1
Adultery	1
Selling stolen property	1
Navy desertion	1
Total	272

Prisoners committed to the charge of the county sheriff in year just concluded numbered 7,000 males, all of which were reported in and served from the sheriff's kitchen. Of the 119 culprits taken care of by the sheriff for the city most were common drunks.

Drive Insects Enemies

Besides the birds, there are numerous insects which attack the fruit, the wood and the leaves of the apple tree. The most annoying is the apple tree which is called Deceit insect, which is about half the size of a common house fly. The female has a sting like a wasp, with which she punctures the fruit where she deposits her eggs. It is calculated that one insect will thus destroy 500 or 400 others.

Where Men Carry Fans

The folding fan came originally from Japan. In the East fans were carried by both sexes and were much used at important ceremonies, all of which had wavy lines, colored bright red, and there are some fans which have a small portrait concealed in the handle. The folding fan was introduced to England in Henry VIII's time, coming from Italy, to which it had been introduced by Catherine de Medici.

Know One at Least

It was in East and South. The teacher had been telling the children about Noah's ark and the Ark of the Covenant. And then she asked the class if anyone knew of any other ark in the Bible. The knowing boy, who said to have spending his evenings in preparing Christmas cards: "Yes, mam, 'Ark' the 'terral' angels sing!"—London Chronicle.

THE NATURAL RESULT

Former service men and officers who have been to the battlefields of France may they are scarcely able to recognize regions that less than three years ago they know well. The scars of battle are fast disappearing. Much of this is due to the restoration work done by man, but nature has not been less busy. Where fields of grain have not been sown or gardens planted the daisies have carpeted the walls of the crumbling trenches. The rains of summer and the storming of the hills holes and the gullies. Grass grows where armed men tramped in the deep mud.

Wind the devastated land untouched weed and rain and frost and sun in a few years restore the ground to much the same appearance it had before the Germans started their invasion. When man assists nature the restoration is quickened.

Tours for Students

A committee of representative Holstonians has just received a work which was undertaken before the war in the effort to arrange an exchange of international tours for students, both male and female.

The object of these journeys is, by making the acquaintance of foreign countries and peoples, to widen the mental view and to open the eyes of those taking part to the necessity for friendly relations among the civilized nations of the world.

It is proposed that similar committees in each of the countries engaging in the interchange shall receive the outside and arrange for visits to places and institutions that would be of interest and value.

COMMUNISM IS LESS POPULAR

Death Penalty Upon Offenders Against Public Security Having Good Effect.

BELOGRADE, (AP) — Communism seems to have been suppressed in this country. The vigorous action of the government which recently passed a law imposing the death penalty upon enemies of public security and offenders against the state has struck terror into the hearts of radicals and revolutionaries.

The jails of the country are choked with radicals. Those persons implicated in communist activity and others who were not in prison are declared to be either thoroughly cowed or to have fled from the country. Those persons implicated in the murder last July of Mr. Drach-Kovich, the minister of the interior, and in the attempt to assassinate Jugoslav's young king, Alexander, will be brought to trial in Belgrade. Among them is a number of communist deputies in parliament.

Jugoslav's statement asserts that the capital's population is a formidable and menacing proportion, has been suppressed as a result of fearlessness by the government and that many of its members have been exiled or imprisoned.

The parliamentary privileges of communist members of the national assembly have been recently cancelled, and since August, none of them has participated in the proceedings. Communist newspapers and propaganda organs have been suppressed and their principals placed in custody or under surveillance. Communism first gained a foothold in Jugoslavia in 1919.

PRINCE IS NOW BUSINESS MAN

Russians Declared Responsible for Fall from High Estate of Former Dignitary

MOSCOW, (AP) — Prince Tokelitz is a vendor of the famous Tokelitz type of cognac in the city of Moscow. His native stores recently opened. He is a prince or "han" in the neighborhood of Bokhara, in Turkestan, whence came his title.

He has fallen to his present low estate because of the Russians. First, under the Czar, General Skobelev, in 1881, the Russians defeated the Turcomans and completed the conquest of Turkestan, and this prince was captured by the Russians. Now, under the soviet regime, he is a prince of estates, where the carpets were made.

He was minister of foreign affairs, in Baku, until the Azerbaijan republic was converted to communism by Moscow and became a soviet republic. Then he was locked up and shipped off last spring to Kolomoj, a prison near Archangel. Only lately he was released.

SPREAD OF RED PROPAGANDA

Bolshevik Activities in the Various Countries Are Under Highly Systematic Regulation.

In the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, one of the main publications controlled by Herr Stinnes, an annotated map was published recently, showing the organization of the Bolshevik propaganda throughout the various countries of Europe.

According to this map, the entire organization is under a propaganda committee, composed of Zinovief, Sokolof, Chudovnik, Lunacharsky, Gorky, and Krim. The working of this committee is subdivided into sections, including an "official section," which has charge of soviet diplomatic and commercial delegations abroad; a "press bureau," which controls the numerous soviet newspapers and various "secret sections," the functions of which are not made entirely clear.

The official section is directed from Berlin by Litvinov. The Allgemeine Zeitung declares that Berlin is the chief foreign center of Bolshevik activity, and alleges that the Berlin mission supports the Rote Fahnle, (the Berlin Communist) organ.

Next in importance to Berlin is Vienna, but Vienna is also an important propagandist center. From this latter point the tentacles are spread through the Italian, Swiss, and Jugoslav regions. According to the map, London is not an independent center, but is handled from Berlin. Berlin is the Moscow authorities denote special attention—"The Living Age."

Higher Education for Dogs. A college for dogs has been opened up in Westchester. It is a place where dogs are taught to live in a crowd city. They are taught the art of "heeling," which is to follow closely at the master's heels. They are also taught to eat from only one hand—the hand of the master. Then they learn how to sit in the corner quietly when company comes, how to cross the streets at the proper signal and how to bow to guests when they see another dog. The college course lasts for three months and the proprietor guarantees a perfectly trained dog in that time or money—the fee is $100—returned.

BETSY'S CHANCE

By MOLLIE MATHER.

Betsy served coffee at Mrs. Daboy's select table, and though the day was so hot that Betsy's hair-twisted in moist curls on her forehead, the girls' eyes had a merry light as though her task were a part of some luxurious holiday.

The cheer of her contentance was in refreshing contrast to the petulant or bored expressions of the other guests.

"I am," Betsy smilingly whispered, "acting a famous dining room scene there a society princess goes disguised as a waitress." The old gentleman laughed enjoyably.

"I knew it," he exclaimed. "Upon my dresser—did you tidy my room this morning, Betsy—I left a book for you. 'Little Songs and Impersonations'—Betsy!"

"Betsy!" said the old gentleman. "Later she complained to the old gentleman."

He came upon Betsy just before afternoon tea was to be served on the lawn in the garden. She was reading in his book and singing over it.

"If you could have studied," asked the old gentleman, "what would you have liked most to be?"

"A musician," the girl answered promptly, "a singer," her eyes glowed.

"Humphrey took a ticket from his pocket. The hotel entertainer who condescends to amuse us this evening at Taber House gave me this," he said. "I believe that he is supposed to both play and impersonate in song."

"I prefer to remain just evening in my room with my papers. Won't you take the ticket of invitation and go, Betsy?"

"To love to," the girl eagerly cried, then her brightness vanished. "But Mrs. Taber would object."

"The old man flicked the granules impatiently. "You might at least listen from an upper hall," he suggested.

So when the downstairs lights were brilliant, when the noted tenor's voice came to her there high in her corner, Betsy's little heart was glad, thrilled. And next day the old man discovered her repeating the program in the big lower deserted room while dust mops lay idly upon the floor.

"Betsy," asked the old gentleman severely, "you are choosing to forego the position in life? You cannot go in this way, you know, with just scraps and dusters?"

"As he spoke both turned to find the young entertainer standing inside the doorway, wearing his usual dress, full of cheerfulness, as if some thing.

"Tape and dusters?" he repeated, "while your remarkably talent lies dormant?"

"You think," the older man asked Betsy, "that Miss Dixie would be able to make good at music?"

"I think," the musician enthusiastically declared, "that she is a find."

Betsy fed from the room, all joyously embarrassed, but the two remarks did not prevent her from coming to speak to her old friend some days later, the girl's eyes were wide with visions and she spoke as one unable to believe the wonder of her own words.

"Miss Dixie Bernard," she explained, "is going to make it possible for me to study for a career. She is a fund, he tells me, placed in his own music master's care, for instructing pupils of promise. That money will be expended on my education."

Through Mr. Bernard I have been the fortunate pupil selected. When my concert engagements become reality then I may restore that fund for the benefit of another. It is not wonderful, but I have no opportunity."

So little Betsy went far to the great city, across the great ocean. And the old man, greater over older but never less kindly, stayed on at the Taber House.

From across the waters came word of the girl's assured success, little clippings from papers which she proudly sent him. But her letters in answer to his interested inquiries never over to carry a vein of sadness.

"Our musician," she wrote at last, "you remember Morris Bernard? Well he has loved me always; it seems, since that first day. While 'my heart, must have down to meet his that night at his residence came to me there on the stair. But he has deceived me, and I cannot marry him. The money donated for my education came not from an established fund, the great master confidentially admits, but was merely a personal gift from one interested. So until I can pay back all that Morris Bernard deceitfully gave, he must suffer, unknowing my refusal to marry him."

Betsy's old friend did not want to answer the letter. He sent a telegram instead.

"It was I who doated that money," he stated. "It was my one satisfying pleasure. I ask but one reward: That you will come with your husband to live with me."

And Betsy wired: "Coming as soon as Morris can be made my husband."

STORING SYSTEM WILL SAVE TIME

Have Individual Box or Drawer to Receive Each Person's Different Articles.

Department of Agriculture Suggests Inventory of Clothing Stored Away to Save Time in Locating Wares.

Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.

"Mother, I want my winter fannels. Where do you keep them? The impatient demand may be heard when the trendy mornings begin to be really slipping. And 'mother' is called from the kitchen, or from bed, perhaps, to go suddenly up to a chilly attic and hunt through a collection of boxes and trunks, from the camphorous depths of which she will finally sort out enough underwear to dobe the family for the day. She always meant to get all the fannels in one place, but somehow it was never done.

Mend Before Putting Away. If system was not followed in putting away last winter's clothes, it will soon become evident, when they are suddenly wanted, that much time would have been saved in the busy fall season by careful arrangement in the spring. As this summer wears rotages and the heavier clothes disappear, it is worth while to follow a systematic plan in disposing of it.

Inventory of the garments stored away is suggested by the United States Department of Agriculture, and that is to say information as to what and where articles are stored, the condition of each, and an estimate as to what further use may be made of the article. Time is saved by collecting all the wearable garments for each person in separate boxes, plainly labeled as 'Mary's summer dresses, good condition'; 'Father's thin underwear, won't last all season'; 'John's blouses, too small, use for William.'

Should Johnny need one of those summer blouses by any chance during 'Indian summer,' it will not be necessary to go through half a dozen boxes and trunks to find it. Moreover, Johnny, rather than mother, can make the trip to the attic to find the wagon. One mother put her clothes away in a family visit which stretched out to unexpected length in the fall. She was able to ask a neighbor to mail worn clothes to her. The neighbor selected the boxes without disturbing anything else in the attic and mailed them.

One box should receive garments requiring alteration or those whose only use is for making over. A slip pinned to each, suggesting the use intended will save much wandering a few months later. It is easy to forget that the white linen will do for Mary, if trimmed with the old blue parts of another dress; a brief note will prevent such accidents as letting the children have those old blue pieces for their dolls.

If, the individual boxes are used from year to year to put clothes away in, there may be kept in or near each one a small roll of mending pieces belonging to the person whose clothes, are in the box.

Mark Contents of Box. Millions of dollars in feathers, ribbons, flowers, velvet pieces) should be stored, if in good condition, in a box by themselves, where they can be easily found if a hat must be unexpectedly treasured. Laces of different kinds can be wound on cards or otherwise put away, so that a glance will make the right piece accessible. Lining materials and old dress foundations which have further uses are best collected by themselves. Each housekeeper must needs create her own system, but she aims to arrange the family clothing and materials in storage so that everything is readily found when wanted she serves the double purpose of saving much time and keeping the storage room in good order.

It is not often that a handsome leading man—one of those curly-haired matinee idols—will give up his private apartment for art's sake, but in Manhattan, looks like the last of the Mohicans," which comes to the Orpheum theater, starting today, you will have a chance to see many actors who did that very thing.

Four leading players and 15 actors actually shaved their heads in order to play Indian roles in this Tournour spectacle. The craniums are devoid of all hair save for the family little top knot, or scalp-lop, as the redmen call the small tuft allowed to grow to give an enemy a hand-grip for scalp-roping purposes—if the enemy is the better man.

The screen result is excellent. Roscoe, as Ureca, who is really an eighth grade teacher, looks like the last of the Mohicans in Cooper's famous book, and Betsy, as Magua the terrible, is a living image of that horrible person of bonkers.

George McFarland's Paramount picture production of "The Great Impersonation" in which James Kirkwood is the featured player, and which was displayed at the Idaho theater yesterday, is great. That was the verdict of succeeding audiences. The scenes of the picture are laid in England and Africa and it has a pre-war political plot and an appealing love story for its theme. André Forrest, playing a charming heroine had the support generally is excellent.

Thomas Meighan, the famous Paramount star, will be seen at the Idaho theater tomorrow and Saturday in his new photoplay, "White and Unmarried." It is said Mr. Meighan has an exceptionally fine part in this picture that of a crook who reforms and who finds love after many exciting happenings. The support is headed by Jacqueline Logan, a former Follies beauty.

It is worth while to follow a systematic plan in disposing of it. Describing should be done in a neat and methodical, and all buttons put on when the garments are stored this fall.

Lining materials and old dress foundations which have further uses are best collected by themselves. Each housekeeper must needs create her own system, but she aims to arrange the family clothing and materials in storage so that everything is readily found when wanted she serves the double purpose of saving much time and keeping the storage room in good order.

It is not often that a handsome leading man—one of those curly-haired matinee idols—will give up his private apartment for art's sake, but in Manhattan, looks like the last of the Mohicans," which comes to the Orpheum theater, starting today, you will have a chance to see many actors who did that very thing.

Four leading players and 15 actors actually shaved their heads in order to play Indian roles in this Tournour spectacle. The craniums are devoid of all hair save for the family little top knot, or scalp-lop, as the redmen call the small tuft allowed to grow to give an enemy a hand-grip for scalp-roping purposes—if the enemy is the better man.

The screen result is excellent. Roscoe, as Ureca, who is really an eighth grade teacher, looks like the last of the Mohicans in Cooper's famous book, and Betsy, as Magua the terrible, is a living image of that horrible person of bonkers.

George McFarland's Paramount picture production of "The Great Impersonation" in which James Kirkwood is the featured player, and which was displayed at the Idaho theater yesterday, is great. That was the verdict of succeeding audiences. The scenes of the picture are laid in England and Africa and it has a pre-war political plot and an appealing love story for its theme. André Forrest, playing a charming heroine had the support generally is excellent.

It is worth while to follow a systematic plan in disposing of it. Describing should be done in a neat and methodical, and all buttons put on when the garments are stored this fall.

An inventory of the garments stored away is suggested by the United States Department of Agriculture, and that is to say information as to what and where articles are stored, the condition of each, and an estimate as to what further use may be made of the article. Time is saved by collecting all the wearable garments for each person in separate boxes, plainly labeled as 'Mary's summer dresses, good condition'; 'Father's thin underwear, won't last all season'; 'John's blouses, too small, use for William.'

Should Johnny need one of those summer blouses by any chance during 'Indian summer,' it will not be necessary to go through half a dozen boxes and trunks to find it. Moreover, Johnny, rather than mother, can make the trip to the attic to find the wagon. One mother put her clothes away in a family visit which stretched out to unexpected length in the fall. She was able to ask a neighbor to mail worn clothes to her. The neighbor selected the boxes without disturbing anything else in the attic and mailed them.

One box should receive garments requiring alteration or those whose only use is for making over. A slip pinned to each, suggesting the use intended will save much wandering a few months later. It is easy to forget that the white linen will do for Mary, if trimmed with the old blue parts of another dress; a brief note will prevent such accidents as letting the children have those old blue pieces for their dolls.

If, the individual boxes are used from year to year to put clothes away in, there may be kept in or near each one a small roll of mending pieces belonging to the person whose clothes, are in the box.

Mark Contents of Box. Millions of dollars in feathers, ribbons, flowers, velvet pieces) should be stored, if in good condition, in a box by themselves, where they can be easily found if a hat must be unexpectedly treasured. Laces of different kinds can be wound on cards or otherwise put away, so that a glance will make the right piece accessible. Lining materials and old dress foundations which have further uses are best collected by themselves. Each housekeeper must needs create her own system, but she aims to arrange the family clothing and materials in storage so that everything is readily found when wanted she serves the double purpose of saving much time and keeping the storage room in good order.

SIMPLE RULES THAT HELP MAKING BREAD

Best Results Are Obtained by Use of Thermometer.

Cover Should Be Kept Over Dough While Rising, to Prevent Formation of Crust—Measuring Glass Is Big Convenience.

Bread dough rises most rapidly at a temperature of about 80 degrees F., and it can be watched carefully, so there is no loss of time at any point; this is the best temperature. Under other circumstances, lower temperature, about 80 degrees F., is better. It is easy to keep the proper temperature if the dough is put into a bread-riser or a fireless cooker, and a thermometer used, any food specialist of the United States Department of Agriculture. Experienced home bakers know the right temperature for raising and baking bread by the sense of feeling, but uniform results are most readily obtained by the use of a thermometer.

Dough should be kept covered while it is rising; otherwise a crust will form and interfere with the expansion. Some housewives wash the dough with melted fat, but this is not necessary. If the dough is well covered, it will keep soft.

Dough often has difficulty in detaching when the dough is ready to be divided into loaves and put into pans. A good rule is to measure its volume. The dough for each loaf, if made out of hard-soft flour, should amount to three pints; if made from soft flour, to about two and one-half pints.

The levels to which these masses of dough will reach in the mixing bowl can be determined in advance and marked. If one loaf of bread is to be made, before mixing, pour three pints of water into the bowl and mark the point to which the water comes. This will indicate the height to which the dough should rise.

Then recipes select that dough he allowed to double or treble in volume, it is convenient to have a measuring glass to determine the expansion. An ordinary tumbler will do, but a glass of smaller diameter, like a jelly glass, is better. Before the dough is set in the pan, a small piece of it in the glass. Note the height to which it comes and mark the place it will reach when its volume has doubled or trebled, as the case may be. Put this beside the large loaves of bread and use it as an indicator.

ADDED TO FOOD STANDARDS

Tentative Definitions for Raisin Bread and Buttermilk—The Consumer Is Benefited.

Tentative definitions for raisin bread, and buttermilk, evaporated and dried, have been added to the food standards recently published by the joint committee on definitions and standards, consisting of representatives from the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists, the American Dairy, Food, and Drug Officials, and the United States Department of Agriculture. Definitions and standards for canned tomatoes, tomato products, chili sauce and catsup; citrus fruits, canned corn, and cacao products already have been made and published tentatively, in order to give all interested persons an opportunity to become acquainted with the definitions and to offer any criticisms or suggestions for improvement.

After adoption, these standards will be referred to the federal and state food officials for their guidance. The consumer is benefited by the acceptance of a standard in food products, and the trade also is helped by the elimination of unfair competition.

To Make Parchment Paper. Paper can be made to look like parchment by the following simple process: To three or four parts of water add one part of sulphuric acid—add the acid to the water, never pour water into acid; hummer the paper for a few seconds in this solution, and then wash it in weak ammonia.

KEEP URIC ACID OUT OF JOINTS

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat Less Meat and Take Salts

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than it is cured, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water.

Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and are unable to remove the uric acid, which accumulates and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinges of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of salt water, put a tablespoonful in a tumbler, combine and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normality. It is said that this salt water, by acting on the kidneys, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and are unable to remove the uric acid, which accumulates and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.
