Vigilance of Toronto Bank Clerk Leads to Possible Clue to Robbery Committed Sixteen Years Ago; Police Declare Stream of Dominion Bank Notes Point to Belief that Source is Not far from Tijuana Race Track

LEADER WOULD DENY CHILDREN AS TAX PROTEST

TORONTO, (AP)—Somewhere in the United States, presumably in or near southern Ontario, a danger outlaw is enjoying the fruits of his banditry, according to Canadian police authorities. Today they requested United States police officials to seek a man who is spending bank notes and gold stolen in a sensational with raid on the New Westminster branch of the Bank of Montreal sixteen years ago. A parcel of banknotes totalling $11,500 was recently mailed to the local bank by the New Orleans agent. The exchange rate in the banking industry is the early date they were "legitimized" and found their number to correspond with some of those on a currency stolen in the raid 16 years ago. Head of Doukhobors Advances Original Scheme to Call World's Attention to Alleged Wrongs of Russian Settlers

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP)—Peter Verigin, head of the Doukhobor religious sect known as the Doukhobors, today announced reports that he had suggested to the Canadian government the children of the colony under ten years of age, together with the aged and infirm, be given a pocket stipend, a reduced exorbitant taxation. Once rid of those unable to travel, Verigin proposed that his followers abandon their farms and wander over the country preaching the coming of Christ and living as the "vagrant working class."

SOME MEMBERS MIGHT OBJECT.

Kotloff admitted that the proposal to drown the young and infirm probably would meet with objection on the part of some members of the colony. He declared that the government is "laying a spear upon the doukhobors from all sources" and that the Christian community of antique lunacy had on members of the sect. He himself, said more than their share through building and improving roads in the wilderness. In the last 10 years, he said, doukhobors in British Columbia had built $100,000 worth of roads, paid $100,000 in taxes and received only about $5000 in return. It is estimated that there are 2000 members of the colony in Canada, most of whom are located in small groups in British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan. They migrated from Russia in 1892 following persecution by Cossack soldiers during the reign of Czar Nicholas II.

NEW INVENTION MAY RESULT IN SAFER FLYING

Manometer is Name Given to Unique Devices Expected to be of Extraordinary Service to Operators of Planes

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—A new manometer or instrument for recording air pressure on wings and tail surface of airplanes at different points simultaneously has been designed and developed by F. H. Norton, an engineer of the Langley Memorial laboratory at Langley field, it was announced today by the national advisory committee for aeronautics.

The first experiments were undertaken by the laboratory for the new department in order to determine the distribution of pressure over the horizontal tail surfaces of an airplane and to analyze the relation of this pressure to structural loads and longitudinal stability and were conducted on full sized planes in the air and on models in the wind tunnels. The old method consisted in using a horizontal tail surface fitted with rubber tubes connected with a series of holes on the surface led to a multiple liquid manometer. The several tubes of the manometer registered the pressure at each change of speed or air pressure and the results were recorded by an automatic camera which photographed the height of the liquid in the tubes every few seconds.

To study various pressures in actual flights or "stunting," it was necessary to use a liquid manometer and consequently the new manometer was developed, substituting the deflection of metal diaphragms and means of automatically recording their deflection for the liquid manometer and the camera, respectively.

A well known traveler who visits the drug trade says he has often heard druggists say a customer, who wished to buy a rough medicine, whether it was for a child or an adult and if it was for a child they almost invariably recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know there is no danger from it and the least danger in giving it, and for colds, croup and whooping cough it is unsurpassed.—Adv.

TO LEGALIZE PARI MUTUELS

California Horsemen and Race Devotees Plan to Ask for Legislation

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal. (AP)—Circulation of a petition asking that an initiative measure be put on the ballot next November in California legalizing horse racing with pari-mutuel betting, is being planned. It was announced here recently by Ed B. Smith of Oceans Park, near Los Angeles, secretary of the Pacific Coast Breeders' association.

The proposed act would create a state racing commission of five members to be appointed by the governor. On April 1, Smith announced, an attempt will be made to obtain 55,000 signatures to the petition.

Smith said he had conferred with scores of laymen as to the wisdom of submitting the question and the great majority of them favored the move. According to Smith, are Tom Hughes, Los Angeles oil man; Mrs. Anita Baldwin, daughter of the late E. J. (Lucky) Baldwin, pioneer breeder of thoroughbreds; I. L. Burden, San Francisco; George Glanville, San Francisco; and Charles Silva and George Bahattaler of Sacramento.

If the law is passed, 50 per cent of the commissions from the betting will be used for purses for the races, 25 per cent will go to the upkeep of the race course and the remaining 25 per cent to the county in which the races are held for the building and maintenance of roads in the county.

BONUS PLAN IS ON NEW LINES

Scheme of One Ohio Manufacturer Designed to Provide for Better Work

CLEVELAND, O. (AP)—A bonus system which ultimately will affect all its factory employes has been inaugurated by a manufacturing concern here. The bonus is in addition to and entirely independent of hourly wages and differs materially from the ordinary piece work.

Only good pieces of work that pass rigid inspection qualify the workers to earn a bonus. All jobs will be analyzed and classified according to the skill required of the operator, every job being assigned to one of ten bonus qualifications.

In addition to a job and bonus classification a standard table of fatigue and rest allowances, classified according to the job is adopted—from 10 per cent to 25 per cent allowances are made for fatigue and rest, the most being applied to work which puts the greatest strain on the worker.

GAED RECORD SYSTEM USED

When a job has been studied and classified, a bonus chart and instruction card is filled out and given to the worker. The instruction card shows the method by which the work should be done, giving equipment, set up, to suit time for each part of the operation, total net time, time allowance for fatigue and the standard time for doing the job.

The chart is set on the standard time of the instruction cards for 100 per cent efficiency, but a man begins to earn the bonus when he reaches 60 per cent of the standard. The bonus chart also shows the amount of money which may be earned by increasing the output.

It is an attempt to pay the workers according to their ability.

NEW TAXICABS FOR ALL PARIS

Time Honored Old Conveyances Used for Years Replaced on Wholesale Scale

PARIS, (AP)—The veterans of the Marne, those remarkable broken-down taxicabs which every American visitor to Paris has had to dodge on the Paris boulevards, have been permanently retired and replaced by 3500 modern comfortable taxicabs.

The forbidding appearance of the old "crustiers" seemed to have an ill effect on the drivers and hope is expressed by many Parisians that the new machines would also mark the passing of the disreputable chauffeurs, who are considered as ill-mannered as their machines are old.

The taxicabs were placed in service in 1921. In 1914, they were mobilized by General Gallieni, then military governor of Paris who crowded his army into them and rushed them to the battle of the Marne where they aided in the success of the famous flanking movement that saved Paris and defeated the Germans.

These hardy pioneers of the streets have been dashing about Paris for 17 years.

CONGRESS TO DECIDE ON FUNDS FOR SEED LOANS

Special Field Agent Praised Twin Falls County's Repayment Record

Whether federal funds will be made available for loans for purchase of seed this year depends upon the action of congress with respect to a bill in the house December 22 to appropriate $5,000,000 for this purpose, according to a report received by R. E. Brown, county agent, from Theodore Wade, special field agent for the farm loan seed loan office, with headquarters at Washington.

Twin Falls county is the one county in the state which paid 100 per cent, all loans of its farmers being paid in full. Mr. Wade advised, adding that "there were several other counties in your state in which but a single loan was left unpaid, so that Idaho has come through with 'flying colors.'"

THREE GRADES DECIDED ON

Stanford University in Future Will Quality Degree in Bachelor of Arts

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal. (AP)—Three grades of the degree of bachelor of arts are to be awarded by Stanford university in the future. First will be "Bachelor of Arts, with Great Distinction," next will be "With Distinction" and third and last will be the usual degree without any special ranking.

Home of Sounding Boards HOQUIAM, Wash. (AP)—Nearly all the sounding boards used by American piano manufacturers are made in Hoquiam, according to local lumber men. The boards are made from the finest spruce logs and only about one-tenth of the log is good enough to be used. Hoquiam also ships many sounding boards to foreign manufacturers.

Attention, Farmers!

Now is a good time to make plans for this year's crop. We believe it is better to plan crops a year in advance. We also believe that a farmer should decide on the best rotation possible to suit his particular farm, then make the necessary arrangements to carry out this rotation.

Any crop grown on the same land year after year does not give the best results. If wheat is grown without a cultivated crop to long, you invite disaster. As we must have a cultivated crop, why not be safer to confine ourselves to one crop or should we divide the available land to the various cultivated crops possible to profitably grow, such as Sugar Beets, Potatoes and Beans? We believe the conservative farmer will grow some of each, each year. Sugar Beets because of a guaranteed price and market when the crop is ready to harvest, also because the by-products fit in with livestock and dairy industry as he wishes to get fertility to build up his land and increase the production of all other crops. Potatoes because in fact, he is sure to hit a high price occasionally, in fact, he is in a better position if he has a number of crops than to depend on any one crop.

Now is a good time to oil harness, get machinery in shape, and be ready to say, when the land is in condition to work, "Let's go boys!" We have plenty of molasses now, don't forget that if our fare soil is not worked, a few hot windy days soon uses it up. "The early bird catches the worm."

JAPANESE MAY WAR ON RUSSIA

Fear Expressed in European Military Circles Believed Without Grounds

MOSCOW, (AP) — The possibility of a new Russo-Japanese war, because of the gradual encroachments in the Far East, had become a subject of discussion in military circles here because of the shipment of army physicians and large numbers of officers for troop training camps in China (Siberia) and other points. Also troops subject to discharge at the expiration of service terms are being held.

George V. Chicherin, Soviet minister for foreign affairs, has sent notes to the Japanese, none of which appear to evoke an acknowledgment. Leon Trotsky in his speech at the Soviet congress, plainly stated that Russia has no intention of enduring the advance of Japanese troops on territory of its ally, the Far Eastern republic. He had referred, however, to the menace to China from Mongolia, by Japanese.

It is felt here that Russia will not and cannot enter into any real war with Japan, partly because of the military distance between the two, and the lack of food for any large bodies of troops, but that in the spring there may be more advanced guard skirmishes.

This is the main purpose of the forthcoming congress here of the Eastern peoples. Many inspired articles continue to appear in the Moscow press, all of which are designed to excite the interest of Russia and the United States are identical, as related to Japan.

At the armament conference in Washington, Baron Hishida made a statement declaring that Japan had no territorial designs in Russia and giving assurances that any armament would be withdrawn as soon as a stable government could be established there.

In Urumchi, the Japanese foreign minister, had announced to the Japanese diet a few days before that Japan intended to evacuate Russian territory as a guarantee of the lives and property of their nationals.

No date when this could be accomplished was suggested in the Japanese statement. Secretary Hughes announced in the conference that these Japanese assurances were taken to mean Japan would withdraw through the Amur valley in Siberia to impart the rights of the Russian people in any respect.

The letter refers to some difficulties in connection with a banquet for the city presided over today.

The concluding paragraph of the stanzas are such as to indicate it was not intended to order the Virginia troops stationed at Pittsburgh from thence; thatarrison will not be a diminution of his power; and the devastation of the river in consequence. There can be no probability that the Virginia troops will be incorporated with the regiment of the Potomac, as it is necessary with the establishment of the army to make men belonging to one state constitute part of the militia, in consequence of any reformation or rearrangement of corps whatever.

Theatre

At the Grand
FIRST NIGHT

Securing $20,000 worth of furniture for a single night's setting for a smashing outfit before the camera produces photoplay realism, but at a well high prohibitive cost. Yet that is what 'Grand' is doing in his 'Paramount production' 'The Affairs of Anatol,' which will be shown at the Idaho theater today and tomorrow.

The setting in question serves as a background for the story, which is portrayed by Wallace Reid, Gloria Swanson, Elliott Dexter, Bebe Daniels, Wanda Holloway, Theodore Roberts and other notable players. It is an international picture and Howard Higgin, production manager for Cecil B. DeMille productions, was instructed to spare no expense.

Married-life isn't going to interfere with Constance Talmadge's screen career. She cheerfully admits there is no such thing as a free lunch. The Talmadge studio points out that only recently Constance and Norma Talmadge entered a $20,000,000 contract to make photoplays for Associated First National Pictures Inc. for an additional three years. And we don't believe she's going to pass this up. As proof that she means business, Constance completed 'Leaves in Love,' which was temporarily interrupted by her marriage, and this picture will be the choice offering at the Orpheum theater today.

Meath-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema that is covered with ugly scabs or pimples, or is rough or dry. The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Meath-Sulphur always, heals eczema right up.

POULTRY BUSINESS PAYS
 Last year in Petaluma, California, a total of 2,223,923 dozens of eggs were shipped, and, as a by-product, exactly 230,041 dozens of poultry were sent out to market. The total value of poultry-products shipments, including eggs and chickens, for the year was $15,747,177.90.
 There are in the Petaluma district 6,000,000 hens and chickens. These consume 350 tons of "imported" feed per day throughout the year. The year's feed bill was about $11,000,000.
 But the Petaluma of actuality is not a tract that just a town; and the six-million-dollar industry that has "made" the town is not a single gigantic enterprise, but a community of single, or little enterprises that encircle the municipality and, not close together in a neighborhood sort of fashion, create a kind of outer "city" that surrounds the town.
 So much for Petaluma itself, except for a word concerning the man who for a word concerning the man who in the main, has been the principal impelling genius on whose progressive and scientific methods the chicken industry of the place was founded. This is Walter Hogan, who in the chicken world, is in a rather smaller way, what Luther Burleigh is to the horticultural and agricultural sections of production. Hogan is rated the greatest of all hen students and scientists. He never tired to reconcile the motion of the perihelion of Mercury with the hypothesis of relativity, but he caught a "White Leghorn pullet" by the feet, turned her upside down and, by passing an enlightened hand over her ruffled and indignant persons, predict within a half dozen or so of the precise number of eggs she will lay before advancing age obliges her to suspend operations.
 Petaluma has been built and is supported by a single industry, but that industry is a stable and substantial success.
 Outside of some difference in climatic conditions Twin Falls possesses all the advantages native to Petaluma as a producing district. Chickens do best in a dry climate if given protection against the excess heat in the summer, and guarded against the rigors of winter. In fact experts will tell you that the local area is especially adapted as to major conditions to the propagation of poultry and the up-building of the chicken and egg business.
 These conditions being fairly equal, the Twin Falls district takes the jump on Petaluma in the matter of producing its own feed supplies necessary to poultry-raising. If Petaluma can have a population of 6,000,000 hens, why not the same number, in a short number of years, for Twin Falls? The Petaluma feed bill of $16,000,000 per year could practically be saved to the district in the growing right here of hen-feed crops, the chief of which are wheat, corn, oats, barley, millet and flax for balanced rations. In fact the chicken industry started here would prove only the beginning of a greatly widened scope of agricultural and industrial activities hereabouts. Chickens need plenty of tanning food materials, such as beef scraps, blood meal, charcoal, as well as bran and similar by-products of the flour mill. These materials could all be produced here, and would help to a considerable extent in the commercial and financial

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness

Cupressus garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is falling, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wily, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking only small strands at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.—adv.

 Modern Inventions Come Rapidly. The telephone was a toy in 1870; the typewriter a crude arrangement in 1878; the electric industry a baby in 1870, when Edison invented the incandescent light. The phonograph was a curiosity in 1877, and most of the things of today were not even dreamed of.

ENTIRE HILL IS MADE OF SILVER

Work of Lifetime of Prospecting Rewarded by Extraordinary Mineral Find

KETCHIKAN, Alaska.—Twenty years of search by Louis Bouvette, prospector and frontiersman, were rewarded recently by a rich silver strike on Kenn Hill in the valley of the Klondike, Yukon Territory. The entire hill is believed to abound in unadulterated silver lodes.
 The history of the McQuesten this far is largely the biography of Bouvette. Following his arrival with the Klondike stampede of '98, Bouvette, a Canadian, prospected without success in various parts of the territory. He worked in the Silver King mine in that vicinity, which has produced approximately half a million dollars worth of silver, and he always felt confident that, somewhere in that region other extensive silver deposits must exist. Bouvette's earliest success on Kenn Hill, however, was not with his pick, but with his rifle. Near the base of the hill he had trapped mountain sheep and marten, but he was gradually led to believe that higher up the steep rugged slopes silver also might be found.

PAKES PROVISIONS WITH TWO DOGS.

So in September, 1918, he started out for the Silver King alone, save for his two dogs to help pack his prospecting outfit, and in two hours arrived at the hill. Climbing up the 30-degree slope he paused to examine a mass of broken rock in what is known as Para Gulch. "In a sort of cut on the slope," Bouvette himself relates, "I got the first piece of galena that I found on Kenn Hill, directly above where the rich veins of the Gambler mine have since been located."
 Driven back by the approaching winter, Bouvette took his supplies to the little town of Mayo, 30 miles away, to be stored. "The returns were so encouraging that I resolved to return the next season and try to find the vein from which the specimen came," he said.
 It was not until July of the following year, after Bouvette had made three more visits to Para Gulch, before the mine had sufficiently developed to permit him to start actual digging. A short time later his efforts of 20 years were rewarded—he had struck the vein.

After hastening to stake his discovery claim, Bouvette staked several other places on Kenn Hill. Later he acquired extensive interests in company with Axel Erikson and Thomas Bles. Key, other prospectors and together they form one of the wealthiest combinations of individual owners in the Yukon.

HADING ON PRIMARIES

President Harding led a speech at Washington strongly intimated that the old convention plan of the present primary system, and in this view he will have large support among those who have watched the operation of an alleged reform in nomination of candidates for public office. So long as the responsibility of nominations was placed upon party leaders their selfish interests alone to say nothing of the public interest—dictated the selection of proper nominees.

In the uniform primary, however, there is no direct responsibility, and any one can slip his castor into the ring and become a candidate without regard to fitness. Frequently the result of this free-for-all method is the nomination of utterly unfit candidates, who wobble through and are placed upon party tickets, not infrequently winning a place on the ticket of a party with which they have never been affiliated. Also, the uniform system invites place to the rich man in politics, and invites the poor man who may be in every way better qualified for the public service.

It does not follow, of course, that the old convention system was always satisfactory. Many mistakes were made through the action of delegates, but if anybody imagines that the uniform primary has effected any particular reform, he need only study some of the nominations of recent years to be disillusioned on this point.

BODIES OF DEAD GERMANS REMAIN

Bulk of Soldiers Falling in War Will Continue to Sleep in Foreign Soil

BERLIN.—(AP)—German soldiers who died and were buried in Belgium and French battlefields probably will remain on foreign soil on account of the great enthalpy in bringing them home. This is indicated in statements by the official bureau which is entrusted with the work of helping relatives to identify the dead and arrange for the transportation of their bodies to Germany.

Although negotiations with France and Belgium for the removal of the bodies were conducted weeks ago, not one German soldier has been returned for the journey home, despite the fact that thousands of inquiries have been made by relatives. Told that they must bear the cost of exhuming and transportation, which from France amounts to 30,000 marks, they turn away, for that sum is now a large fortune to the average German.
 Consequently, sentiment is growing to allow the German soldier dead to rest on the fields where they were buried. The French are carefully tending these burial places and, where possible, marking the individual graves with crosses and names also has tended to allay the feeling that these dead should not remain in a strange land.
 The stipulations agreed upon none of the three governments assumes responsibility for mistakes, and the relative must give a guarantee of identity before permission is granted for removal, which in the majority of cases is very difficult. The German office carries on negotiations with the Belgians and French to this end, which sometimes requires several weeks.
 Even those relatives who cannot or do not desire to bring the dead soldier back to the Fatherland are seeking to establish the identity of the fallen, and the German office in Prussia, Bavaria, Saxony and Westphalia to help them, are swamped with inquiries.

Cars Driven by Elmer E. Haag

Mr. Elmer E. Haag was severely injured by cuts about the face and head; Mr. Haag, who is president of the First National bank of Twin Falls and also lives near H. J. Weaver of Twin Falls, received a gash on the right side of the head and was for a time unconscious as a result of collision of closed cars in which they were driving at about 11 a. m. today on the state highway between Twin Falls and Filer about four miles west of Twin Falls.

Mr. Haag was taken from the scene of accident to his home at Filer where a physician administered first aid treatment. She was later brought to the county general hospital here for further examination of her injuries which resulted from the accident when she was hurled through the windshield. Her wounds include two deep lacerations on the forehead, in which pieces of broken glass were imbedded and another gash that missed the right eye by a fraction of an inch.

Mr. Weaver was brought to his home here where five stitches were taken in the gash on his head and he is resting easily now.

At the same time, he said, he saw Mr. Weaver's car enter the road, swing to the left in an effort to pass Ross's car. The collision occurred in front of the lead of hay and on the road at Mr. Haag's and Mr. Weaver's car came into view. He succeeded in partially and the bodies of the two cars were seen to be driven by Mr. Haag and both machines were thrown over into the ditch.

KIMBERLY ENTHUSIASTIC
OVER LETTUCE INDUSTRY

Growers Association Officials Address Meeting of 300 Persons

Production of head lettuce as a market crop and organization of growers of the crop in Twin Falls county were subjects discussed at a meeting of about 300 persons held yesterday afternoon in the Elmer theater at Kimberly. Speakers included L. S. Otto, Phila, and E. S. Wood, Kimberly, producer and vice president, respectively, of the Growers' Association, Twin Falls County Vegetable Growers' Association; Alvin Harbottle of the Idaho Lettuce company and a member of the association; and H. Interest in head lettuce production has been in the Kimberly district, and voluntary effort is being made to insure planting of the crop in that district sufficient to justify the establishment of a leading station at that point.
Several resolutions to the membership of the association which now has reached a total of 72, resulted at the Kimberly meeting.
Marketing contracts were not discussed at this meeting but several suggested contracts are being considered at the hands of the association's executive committee.

SINN FEIN TO RETAIN UNITY

Despite Bitter Feeling Among Delegates Chancé-of-Split—
Apparently Averted
DUBLIN, (AP)—An agreement to support the Ard Fhels, the Sinn Fein was reached, for three months, by the Sinn Fein delegates today by the convention leaders.
The first day's debate in the Ard Fhels seems to have cleared the atmosphere to a great extent, and the feeling as the delegates assembled again today was that the Sinn Fein would retain its unity despite the bitter feeling over the Anglo-Irish treaty.
The minutes of the representative of the Freeman's Journal says that late yesterday the feeling among the delegates in favor of an understanding which had found expression only in whispers during the morning, had become the dominant note of the assembly. Indeed, as the day wore on, it seemed as if the great bulk of the delegates were opposed to division on any subject.
Rumors that an eleventh-hour attempt to reach a compromise was being made among the leaders of the opposing groups in the controversy over the Anglo-Irish treaty were in circulation as the delegates to the Ard Fhels were reassembling today. The tardiness of the leaders in appearing gave rise to these reports.
Erskine Childers, one of the leading republican advocates, who was absent yesterday, appeared today, taking a front seat next to Countess Markievicz.

The Brotherhood of American Yeomen will celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary Friday night, February 24, at I. O. O. F. hall, with a social evening and chicken pie supper. All Yeomen and their families are invited.

PLAN FOR MILK
INSPECTION IS MEETING TOPIC

City Officials Confer with Dairymen in Reference to Proposed New Regulation;
Milkmen Name Committees

Paving the way for adoption of a new milk inspection ordinance, providing for more efficient inspection through operation of a license plan, advocated by a number of dairymen through a committee that recently appeared before the city council, members of the council met evening at the municipal hall held in conference with dairymen and cow owners offering milk for sale here.

As a result of the conference, which was attended by a large proportion of dairymen as well as a number of other persons interested in the subject under discussion, two committees were named from among the dairymen to deliberate with the council in the framing of the proposed ordinance.

DAIRYMEN NAME COMMITTEES
Representing groups of from one to four cows the two committees was designated to be composed of W. B. Hoag, former city milk inspector; O. E. Carlson and D. W. M. Fidler.

Operators of the larger dairies are to be represented in subsequent deliberations by their committee which is composed of S. H. Kayler, L. J. Tencknick and F. H. Block.
As a result of discussion of suggested plans for meeting additional expense involved in connection with enforcement of the proposed ordinance, general agreement was reached on an annual license fee of $5.00 for each cow. This, it was shown, would be equivalent to the price of three quarters of milk for each cow each month.

Revenue from this source, it was suggested, would provide $50 a month for expense of chemical tests of milk of cows for sale and 475 a month toward maintenance of the plant to which meat and dairy inspector, who would be in charge of inspections of dairies.

WANTS ON COUNCIL DECISION.
Action on the part of the council with respect to the adoption of a new dairy license, it was pointed out, would depend on pending decision of the court in the suit instituted by Twin Falls butchers, in which an injunction has been issued restraining the city from enforcement of the meat inspection regulations. The two subjects are closely related, it was pointed out, and the court's decision would necessarily have a bearing on the form of the proposed dairy regulation.

Protest lodged by L. S. Hanson, a dairyman, against the license system in general served to intensify proceedings in the Anderson case in which Hanson asserted that license requirement would stand the test of litigation, and he tendered his services as an agent to sell out for persons who might be denied permit by the city to sell their milk here. Mr. Hanson admitted that he was neither a producer nor consumer of Twin Falls milk, but said that he used the canned product exclusively in his own home.

SANITATION GETS RESULTS.
The case of the application of L. Quigley for permit to sell milk here also entered into the discussion. In this case the city officials refused to grant a license because of high bacterial count of the milk. Subsequently, however, when the count was reduced Mr. Quigley was permitted to make application for license permit.

Under questioning by Councilman C. T. Bracken, Mr. Quigley said that his bacterial count had been reduced after he had been urged to make his dairy more sanitary.
Figures were introduced at last evening's conference to show that the milk from 43 cows was sold last year in Twin Falls under permit.
These figures showed that there were last year 35 persons selling milk from one cow; 10 had between two and four cows; 10 had between five and ten cows, and 17 had more than 10 cows.

Members of the council in attendance at last evening's conference were Councilman C. H. Keengel, T. C. Bracken and W. E. Sanger. Mayor P. W. McRoberts was confined at home by illness and County Councilman C. F. Rowland was absent because of illness in his family.

Good Will

No business could exist for very long were it not for the good-will of its customers.

In a similar way no bank could progress were it not for the new depositors who come through the recommendation of older patrons.

A large share of our growth is directly due to our depositors and we are constantly striving to deserve the good words kind friends say about us.

THE SURPLUS

What of your surplus? All the animal kingdom creates a surplus. The ant lays up its stores for the winter; the squirrel gathers nuts for the season of ice, and the bee lays by its surplus in the form of honey. This is nature's law. It should apply to you.
Save your surplus for utility. Let it work for you, protect you. Stored surplus is a safeguard. Hidden money means stagnation.
