SIX ARRESTS ARE MADE IN TAYLOR CASE

Members of Bootlegging Gang Placed in Custody Following Stories of Alleged Threats Against Director's Life

LOS ANGELES, (P)—Six men were arrested here early today in the case of what police termed a narcotic den. Detectives working on the mysterious slaying February 21 of William Desmond Taylor, motion picture director, questioned the men. Police reported the belief that the arrests will develop connection with the murder.

The men gave the names of John Herkey, William Kirby, William East, George Calvert, Ray Lynch and Harry A. Morheim. The arrests followed 28 hours of investigation on information furnished by police sources reputed to concern threats against the life of Taylor uttered a short time before the mysterious slaying 28 days ago.

The men are said to have been members of a "bootlegging gang" which carried on extensive operations in the Hollywood section of Los Angeles.

According to the police, the men were sought as possible suspects in the Taylor case following a story told to an officer by a woman, also said to have been a member of the purported gang.

"This woman, whose name is withheld, told the police that she had heard the men threaten Taylor's life because they feared he was interfering with their 'business'."

The authorities refused to divulge further information concerning the arrests pending the apprehension of the third man.

The six men were arrested upon information furnished by Mrs. John Hupp, who said that she kept house for them. According to her story the six men came from Chicago several months ago. They were engaged, she informed the police, according to their reports, in furnishing liquor and drugs.

Temperatures ranging from 20 degrees to 30 degrees below normal prevailed in eastern Montana and North Dakota. The cold snap in the Rocky Mountain region is accompanied by heavy snow falling from a foot in depth at Durango, Colo., to four inches at Amarillo, Texas.

The ceremony began in Westminster Abbey at 11:30 o'clock and soon thereafter the couple were pronounced man and wife, while the chimes of Westminster rang out the happy message and vast crowds gave tumultuous greetings. The scene of the ceremony within the historic walls of the abbey was one of impressive grandeur, with the king and queen and the entire royal household participating and with all ranks represented in the brilliant assemblage while outside the abbey enthusiastic popular throngs were given the bridal pair.

The long awaited day found London crowded with excursions from all parts of the isles and the continent. Americans also were in evidence, many having made the voyage to gain a glimpse of the great pageant.

NEGRESS GIVEN LAND VALUED AT MANY MILLIONS

Oil Properties Said to Be Worth Fabulous Sum Declared by Louisiana Supreme Court to Belong to Lillian G. Taylor

NEW ORLEANS, La., (P)—Oil lands in Calhoun parish said to be worth nearly $20,000,000, were declared yesterday by the Louisiana supreme court to be the property of Lillian G. Taylor, a negress, when the court decided a request for the appointment of a curator for the estate of Lonn McGee, her mother.

J. Bus Kimberley, district attorney of Calhoun parish, brought action in the district court of that parish to have himself named curator for the estate, contending that the estate was "vacant" due to an illegitimate birth being lacking. Upon dismissal of his suit in the district court he appealed to the supreme court which upheld the lower court. Lillian Taylor was declared by the supreme court, reiterating a former opinion decreeing the land here, to be the acknowledged daughter of Lonn McGee, wife of the former owner of the land.

Carabineers were hurried to the scene and a number of shots were fired in an attempt to restore order.

A detachment of troops also was ordered today to the scene of the other disorders near Bologna between fascist and communist. During these disorders one man was killed and two wounded.

Thirty-two Million Annually Proposed in Ship Subsidy Bill

Owners of American Bottoms Engaged in Foreign Trade Would Receive Enormous Sums by Terms of Measure Introduced in House and Senate

WASHINGTON, D. C., (P)—The administration plan for government aid for the American merchant marine was presented to congress today by President Harding with the declaration that the influence of the United States in world councils is "sure to be measured by that unflinching standard which is found in a nation's merchant marine." The president detailed to the two houses assembled in joint session the war-time creation of America's great tonnage—an experimental venture as he described it—and then he added:

"Having failed at such enormous expense to bring you the proposal which contemplates the return to private initiative and private enterprise, to a conservative success wherein we are safeguarded against the promotion of private greed, and does not discourage the hope of profitable investment which underlies all successful endeavor."

ACTION URGED BY PRESIDENT ON JOINT BILL

Executive, in Lengthy Address Before Both Houses of Congress, Declares Nation Is in Need of Merchant Marine

WASHINGTON, (P)—President Harding urged congress today on government aid for the American merchant marine follows in part:

"When addressing the congress last December I reported to you the failure of the executive to carry out the intent of certain features of the merchant marine act of 1920, notably the provision for the notice of cancellation of all commercial treaties which hindered our grant of discriminating duties on imports brought to our shores in American ships. There was no doubt about the high purpose of congress to apply this provision to the upbuilding of our merchant marine. For failure to transfer certain lands to them, made an attack on the public buildings. Carabineers were hurried to the scene and a number of shots were fired in an attempt to restore order.

A detachment of troops also was ordered today to the scene of the other disorders near Bologna between fascist and communist. During these disorders one man was killed and two wounded.

It is interesting to note, in connection with the heretofore proposed plan of discriminating tariffs on imports carried to our shores in American bottoms, that the value of all dutiable imports for 1922 in all vessels was $1,982,850,000, while the cargoes admitted free of duty, on which no discriminating tariff was possible, were valued at $3,115,928,000.

The actual tonnage comparison is even more significant from the standpoint of cargo carrying, because the dutiable cargoes, measured in round numbers, were 10,000,000 tons and the non-dutiable cargoes were 25,000,000 tons.

SENATE VOTE IS AGAINST CHANGE

Proposal to Broaden Scope of Clause in Yap Agreement Is Sharply Rejected

WASHINGTON, D. C., (P)—Taking the first vote on qualification of any of the arm conference treaties by the senate today rejected 23 to 60 a proposed amendment to the Yap treaty amplifying the provision that existing treaty rights on the mandated islands of the Pacific shall not be abridged.

The amendment, which was offered on a new page in the debate today, would follow a section of the treaty which says that "existing treaties between the United States and Japan shall be applicable to the mandated islands" a declaration which Senator Pittman declared was not broad enough.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the republican leader, opposed the amendment as unnecessary.

In the midst of the debate of the proposal with only a handful of senators in the chamber Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, an opponent of the treaty, moved that the senate adjourn. The motion was voted down, 61 to 6.

Only two republicans, Senators Borah of Idaho and France of Maryland, supported the proposed amendment. Four democrats, Senators Underwood, Alabama; Pomeroy, Ohio; Myers, Montana, and Williams, Mississippi, voted against it.

ROYAL BRIDE NURSES, KNITS, RIDES, SHOOT

Human Side of Life of Princess Accounts for Her Intense Popularity in the Realm of Britains

LONDON, (AP) — Princess Mary, who becomes today the bride of Viscount Lascelles is perhaps even better known by sight than her mother, Queen Mary.

FEATURES OF PRINCESS ARE FAMILIAR

Her features are as familiar as those of any member of the royal family, not excepting the Prince of Wales, and by women and girls of the kingdom.

According to the few who can claim to know her intimately, the keynote of Princess Mary's character is her unselfishness. In all occasions she has lived very quietly and the pleasures that have fallen to her lot have only been sufficient to arouse within her a keener sense of enjoyment and to form her own personal tastes.

IS PARTIAL TO SCOTLAND'S BEAUTIES

Her heart is not in a social existence, although she is fond of dancing but her greatest happiness has always been in the enjoyment of country life and country ways. Love of the country and of Scotland's beauties are deeply rooted in her.

She is an excellent horsewoman and, at Balmoral, she drives a pair of spirited greys and has, at times, driven a four-in-hand. She loves her horses and particularly her hunter and plover looks better than when in the saddle.

Second to her life in the country, Princess Mary has found her greatest interests and happiness in the wards of the Children's hospital in London. Here she nursed regularly during the war and became so imbued with the love of it that after the cessation of peace she continued to work there twice a week.

She has a great natural aptitude for the work—so much so that she has not only gained a good practical experience of nursing, but has assisted at surgical operations.

ARTISTIC TASTE IS WELL DEVELOPED

Her enjoyment of country life and her natural aptitude for nursing have not precluded the princess from developing her tastes on the artistic and musical side of life. Few girls will come into the possession of a fine house, of pictures and of old furniture with more appreciation of their beauty.

She takes an interest more particularly in pictures and she is personally gifted in music; for she sings in a soprano voice of some power. She prefers the older music masters and does not care for modern and more difficult work.

COLLECTS GARMENTS FOR NEEDY FOLK

Of the many charities which the princess has at heart, Queen Mary's Needlework guild comes first. This association of women undertakes the collection every year of garments of all kinds for the sick and needy and Princess Mary herself makes and under takes the work of collecting from among her friends her own contribution of over 2000 garments annually.

After this, the Girl Guides are her main interest and at Sandringham she takes part in the work of the local guilds.

Among Those Present

"The big potatoes are always found at the top of the heap," remarked the successful man. "But if it wasn't for the rest of us there wouldn't be any heap," replied the unsuccessful one.

In Another Sense

She—"Before we were married you said you couldn't do enough for me." He—"Well, I guess time has proved that I was right."

Five of Original Crew Killed in Fall of Ill-Fated Roma

Five members of the original crew of the ill-fated Roma, who went to Italy to bring the monster craft back to this country were killed in the crash near Hampton Roads. This photograph shows the crew as taken just prior to sailing for Italy. From left to right (front row), Lieutenant W. J. Reed, Major J. G. Thorneil (killed), and Captain Dale Maltry (killed). Second row, Sergeant Hoffman (killed), Sergeant DeBarbaro, Staff Sergeant Beale (killed), Master Sergeant McNally (killed), and Master Sergeant Chapman.

Smoke Tendrils Tell of Rama Crash in Which 34 Died

Tendrils of heavy black smoke curled slowly heavenward from the smoldering ruins of the dirigible Roma, result of the air, which exploded to earth February 21 at Hampton Roads, Va., resulting in the death of thirty-four airmen. Flames which destroyed the body of the monster craft and charred the bodies of many members of the crew had died out when this photograph was taken.

LIMIT SET FOR LIVES OF RACE

Folk Living in Andes Mountains Kill Off Those Who Reach Fateful Age

BOSTON, Mass., (AP) — High in the fastnesses of the Andes mountains of Peru there lives a race which sets an age limit and kills off all of its people who reach the fateful mark. This is the statement of Dr. Joseph Barcroft, British scientist and author, who headed an expedition to Peru to study the effect of high altitudes on the oxygen content of the blood.

"In each village," said Dr. Barcroft, "we are delivering a series of lectures in which I have explained the reasons of persons who live too long."

"Different communities, however, seem to have different ideas as to what limit should be placed on human existence. In some places the only duty of the grandfather appears to be to secure the presence of a man at his own funeral in the 'fiftle role.' If a person becomes so ill that his funeral becomes a certainty in the near future, a date is fixed for the same and if the leading figure shows a disposition to be unpropitious, the village executioner takes the matter in hand at his own risk. 'Not for a man that yields a great part of the world's vanadium there is, so we are told a settlement of 'Cholos' (the name by which the natives are designated) who treat this matter on purely economic and unsentimental grounds. When one of the inhabitants becomes too old he is notified by the community and cheerfully acquiesces in the procedure.'"

1500 SILVER MINES ARE BEING WORKED ON YUKON

Ground Developed Yielding Both White and Yellow Metal

DAWSON, Y. T., (AP) — Yukon's great silver lode is steadily rising and the Klondike continues the banner gold producing camp of the entire northland, says a 38-page special edition of the Dawson Daily News.

Silver mining has progressed at an astonishing rate in the last two years. Fifteen hundred mines, a large proportion of which are producing have been staked. The fields have been covered by companies that hold most of the producing claims and are pushing their development. A year ago the Yukon Gold company was the only large organization engaged in quartz mining and exploration at Mayo, but since that time well known American companies have obtained control of many claims which large crews are now developing.

The most notable strike on Keno Hill was the finding of the lode on the west end, or McQueston slope. The finding of this rich mine was accidental as in the course of his testimony before the senate committee investigating activities of alleged dye monopolies and nobles.

"Sure, he's waiting, sir," he said. "And who's he?" asked his master, turning the letter over, as though to find out by looking at the seal.

"Well, I'm not saying that for there's no company good enough for you," answered the biggedy-piggeddy butler, with a quirk of the mouth; "but, as messengers go, I never seen one with more style and point."

seems for hundreds of years, and he himself had only one passion in life, which was the Protestant passion of prejudice.

He had been a follower of Burke—a passionate follower, one who believed the French Revolution was a crime against humanity, a danger to the future of civilization, a miserable orgy of unworthy millions.

He had restated more vigorously than most men the progress of revolutionary sentiments in Ireland. He was aware that his son had far less rigid opinions than himself; that he even defended Wolfe Tone and Thomas Emmet against abuse and damnation.

This was why he had felt in slapping his son in the face, whenever possible, with the hot pennant of victory for British power.

He was a man of irascible temperament and stern views, given to fits of exasperation. He was small of stature, with a round face, eyes that suddenly went red with feeling, and with none of the charm and sweetness of his son, who resembled his mother's side of the family.

The mother herself had been a dyck and a remarkable woman. Dyck was in his body, a reproduction of her in body and mind, for a more cheerful and impetuous person never made a household happier or more imperfect than she made her.
