SMALL HOPE OF SETTLEMENT OF MINERS' STRIKE

Unwillingness of Certain Interests. Among Operators to Agree to Conference Adds to Serious Situation

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., (AP)—Hope of a nation-wide coal strike being averted by the government is a pall over the operators and miners meeting in a wage conference...

Union officials, however, refrained from any announcement on their future plans, but it was indicated that the policy committee might be called into session before April 1 to deal with all questions relating to the prospective strike.

HEAVE SAITH IN PUBLIC OPINION. The union officials were optimistic that public opinion would be in their favor in the controversy with the mine owners...

INSURGENT MOVEMENT OF ILLINOIS MINERS' OFFICIALS IS NOT YET VIEWED WITH ALARM BY THE UNION OFFICIALS HERE FOR THEY CONTINUED TO MAKE THE POSITIVE STATEMENT THAT NO SINGLE STATE WAGE AGREEMENTS WOULD BE MADE BY ANY DISTRICT.

MAJORITY FAVOR GENERAL WALKOUT. Today was the last for the miners to vote on the strike issue and reports received at union headquarters here indicated an overwhelming majority in favor of a general walkout.

PARIS, (AP)—A demand from the United States that $251,000,000 for its expenses in connection with occupation of the Rhineland be paid before any reparations were paid was presented to the allied finance ministers at their meeting this morning.

OTTUMWA, Ia., (AP)—With their only physician in jail and a prevalence of disease in the village, residents of Lockridge, Ia., have stormed Jefferson county authorities for a reprieve or something to get the doctor arrested.

Dr. Shorlock's case probably will be before Governor Kendall in a day or two. The sheriff had no power to release the physician and called the governor on the long distance telephone.

GIVES DETAILS OF LOVE STORY

Madamame Oberchen, Accused Murderess, Says, Kennedy Was First in Affections

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Mrs. Madamame Oberchen, pale and somewhat nervous, took the stand today to face cross examination by the state upon the state of yesterday of her love for J. Dalton Kennedy and his death by shooting, in her trial on a charge of murdering him. She assumed a position of the witness chair as that she could face the jury.

That it was in the case of Kennedy held at first sight was indicated by Mrs. Oberchen in her responses to the initial questions of the cross examination by A. Keyes, deputy district attorney, who testified she first met Kennedy at her mother's home here in 1917 and that she was his first love to a relative. They met several times soon thereafter, and the second or third time she mentioned love to her, she testified.

HAD OBLIGATIONS TO ANOTHER GIRL. "Belton said that he cared for me, but was under obligations to another girl," she testified. It was the sum of $100,000, Kennedy first asked her to marry him, she said. She gave her consent on August 13, 1918.

PARADES OF TWO LOVE LETTERS FROM Mrs. Oberchen to Kennedy were read by the deputy district attorney. These letters were dated February 4 and 15, 1919.

"My love, my life is yours if you'll be here before I die to you," she read as one of her phrases in the letters. The prosecutor asked what she meant in writing that.

"I meant that Betty and I induced me to leave Betty," Mrs. Oberchen replied.

In response to questions she said that she had been in love with Kennedy at the time she married Oberchen.

NO EFFORT TO INTRODUCE LETTER. After counsel yesterday afternoon had presented to the court their views on the admissibility of evidence, it was discovered that no direct effort in evidence was made by the defense of the letter that brought tears to the witness's eyes. The defense elected to drop the matter up by stating that she already had been read to the jury on effort would be made to introduce the copy in evidence.

Later in the trial she testified, Kennedy said he had arranged for their marriage at San Francisco, June 14, and July 1 came to Los Angeles where she met the man who was to marry her.

At the time the break occurred when Kennedy's mother visited Mrs. Wilson. Kennedy telephoned and said he did not believe he should see Madamame Oberchen, she testified. He did not telephone until July 17, when she hung up the telephone on her, believing that he was leaving her, she said. It was about

LONG STRUGGLE IS ASSURED IN TEXTILE STRIKE

Eighteen Thousand Idle Operatives Stick to a Man in Fight for Eight Hour Day and the Same Old Wage

PROVIDENCE, R. I., (AP)—The Rhode Island textile strike, now closing its second week, has developed into a war of attrition. This is the opinion expressed today by representatives of both manufacturers and workers.

"We will fight it out on these lines if it takes all summer," said William H. Derrick, secretary of the Organized Textile Workers, head of the strike organization in the Pawtucket valley, where more than one-third of the 18,000 operatives in the state are ordinarily employed. Derrick announced his objective to be a 48-hour week, no reduction in wages and no discrimination against strikers returning to work.

"We will not let the employer demonstrate that they want to go back, any considerable number of them, the mill will be closed," said Edward R. Walker, secretary of the Rhode Island Textile association. The manufacturer proposes a 20 per cent wage reduction and 41-hour week. Approximately a score of their mills are closed.

Twelve of the mills in the Pawtucket valley strikers could carry an indefinite strike without work. Seven soap kitchens in many mill villages fed thousands of strikers daily.

STRIKE HEADQUARTERS LABELED FOR ONE YEAR. Contributions continue to come in steadily from the outside, he says. The strikers continue to dwell in houses owned by the mills. Strike headquarters in Attleboro have been leased for a year.

"If the mill owners evict our workers, they will have to drive out about 20,000 persons, counting five to a family," the union declared. "Anytime the weather is getting warmer and they can live in tents. Our organization is brand new, dating back to the time when the strike began, but our workers are a unit. We have the mill owners licked right now."

Representatives of the mill owners responded that the expenses of the free strike are always met by the workers. Some of the strike fund daily, that hangers on were being fed while legitimate workers in many cases were not, and that only small groups desired to carry on a fight to the finish with the mills. Many, they said, wanted to go to work again but were afraid of the "huddoon and the blacklist."

STUDENT LEAD IN NIGHT SCHOOL. "I determined to do better and attend to school, being admitted to the school in 1908. I came to Chicago in 1913 and have been struggling here since."

Mr. Armstrong learned of his second marriage in France in the war through the communications received today. Mr. Armstrong tried twice to enlist in the American army in the war but was rejected. He was rejected, but was rejected. Mr. Armstrong denied his identity when he found a dozen newspaper reporters waiting in the office and when they refused to leave he finally said:

"Well, let's have it over with, boys. I'm Armstrong."

"Can the game business," he broke in. "I just told you I was Armstrong, didn't I? Maybe I will be 'His Grace'—but not yet."

TO INVADE COMMERCE HERE. Mexican Matador at Benefit Performance Seriously Gored by Enraged Animal

MEXICO CITY, (AP)—When Luis Fog, leading matador, was seriously gored during a benefit corrida yesterday, Dr. William M. Myers, American surgeon, who is visiting Mexico City, was requested by President Obregon to examine Fog. Dr. Myers was given an order on a flight to the United States by the Matamoros. Fog may die, the main story in his left thigh having been severed.

The corrida was for the benefit of the Red Cross. The matador was killed in Spain last year. Nearly 50,000 pesos were realized. Six of the best matadors in Mexico performed without charge.

IDAHO GIRLS DISAGREE. IDAHO FALLS, Idaho, (AP)—Idaho girls are at issue with the Kansas matador for $25,000 per year for working job. Letters received by a local newspaper from "ordinary employees" give $200 as the least a girl can dress on in a year's time.

Mr. Armstrong received a communication which had been sent to him by the consular department in Washington in response to queries from relatives in Idaho, asking that he be located. He produced many letters and documents to prove that he was the man sought, but said he knew nothing of the title he is supposed to have inherited, for he became separated from his family when a child and had worked his way up to membership in the bar through night school.

"When I was about nine years old, my uncle, Lawrence Clarence Armstrong, a noted child engineer, took me to England from India where I was born about 1880. I went to school at Westminster and at Eton. I did not make much progress in my studies, so my uncle sent me to Canada when I was sixteen. READ BIBLE IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

State Wide Movement Launched in Washington to Change the Existing Rule

SPOKANE, Wash., (AP)—Establishment of bible teaching as a part of the course of study in public schools of the state of Washington is the purpose of a proposed state-wide organization of religious, fraternal, political and labor organizations, which will have its first meeting in Seattle sometime in the next two months.

The move is being initiated by a special committee of the Presbyterian church, synod of Washington, though the contemplated organization—to be known as the "Bible Fellowship of Washington"—will be non-sectarian. Invitations have been sent to the head of the Roman Catholic church here, as well as to the Protestant church. Participation will also be asked of leading fraternal organizations, the state federation of labor, and governing bodies of political parties.

MANY STATES COMPEL READING.

The bible is requested to be read daily in the state common schools of Alabama, District of Columbia, Florida, and Massachusetts; Maine is advocating a similar law.

Thirty-five other states permit bible readings without sectarian comment in their common schools and state colleges and universities.

The only states whose constitution and laws have been construed as excluding the reading or teaching of the bible from all state schools are Arizona, Louisiana, Illinois, Minnesota, Nevada, Wisconsin, Wyoming and Washington.

The only states that have in effect classed and adjudged the bible as a "sectarian" book are Wisconsin and Washington.

OFFICIAL ATTITUDE IS CONFUSING TO COURTS

Residents of Federated German States Refuse Allegiance to Constitution

BERLIN, (AP)—Public officials in some of the federated German states have refused to take the oath of allegiance to the republican constitution on the ground they owed allegiance only to their own state.

The point of law evoked lively discussion, particularly in Bavaria where respect for the present German regime is not very deeply grounded. Legal mills were brought in two cases for reinstatement of the officials whose offices had been declared vacant on account of their non-constitutional attitude.

One court ruled the oath was unnecessary but a higher court reversed the decision.

"Jackie," Atlanta's hero dog, is popular today because he refused to desert the Georgia home of his master, W. E. Mackey, when flames threatened the structure. In this picture he is shown in the arms of "Little Misses Mackey," after being given the best of medical attention.

TEMPERATURE RECORD APPARENTLY SHATTERED

Young Girl Suffering from Grippe Registers 114 Degrees and Survives

BRISTOL, Eng., (AP)—The extraordinary figure of 114 degrees Fahrenheit was the recorded temperature of a girl here, who was suffering from the grip.

When first summoned to see the girl, the physician said he was astonished to find that his clinical thermometer recorded a temperature of 112 degrees, but, thinking that a little knowledge is out of order, he requisitioned two others only to find that they both recorded the same high point.

During the night the patient's temperature advanced two degrees. Appropriate treatment was at once applied, the girl's temperature gradually subsided to normal or thereabouts, and she is now stated to be in perfect health.

Medical journals here do not record an instance of such temperature being followed by the patient's recovery.

Breathing Space.

The modern ideas of education are all very well as far as they go, but there is an old and well-tried proverb which says that a little knowledge is a dangerous thing. Perhaps that is why Johnny Jones's essay on air ras like this:

"Breath is made of air. We breathe always with our lungs, except at night, when our breath keeps life going through our noses while we are asleep. If it wasn't for our breath we should die whenever we slept.

"Boys that stay in a room all day should not breathe. They should wait until they get outdoors. A lot of boys staying in a room make carbonic acid and carbonic acid is more poisonous than mad dogs, though not just in the same way. It does not bite, but that's no matter so long as it kills you."

SALES INCREASE SHOWS REMARKABLE PROGRESS

Studebaker Business in California in Year 1921 Indicates Gratifying Gain

The part played by California in making 1921 a Studebaker year is shown in detailed figures of car sales just received here by the J. A. Barrett Auto Sales company.

The report, issued by Motor Registration News of California, shows that 8,240 Studebakers were sold in that state last year as compared with 1,128 by the next largest exclusive manufacturer of automobiles. In fact, among all makes, Studebaker sales were the largest with the exception of the two lowest-priced makes of four-cylinder cars.

Equally noteworthy is the fact that Studebaker sales showed the biggest per cent of increase over 1920 of any make, a gain to be exact, of 83 per cent. Sales of 8,240 Studebakers in 1921 compared with 4,499 in the previous year.

"In 1921 sales of Studebaker cars were 40 per cent of the total number of cars sold in California, whereas in 1921 they were 8 per cent," said Mr. Barrett. "Eliminating Ford and Chevrolet, Studebaker sold 10.8 per cent of the total number of new cars registered in California in 1921."

ALSO IN LEAD SO FAR IN 1922

"Not only did Studebaker become established as the largest builder of six-cylinder cars in 1921, and show the greatest world-wide percentage of gain of any automobile manufacturer over 1920, but the records so far available this year are far in excess of the same period last year, when Studebaker sales and production reached their high point.

"For instance, reports for January show that 392 new Studebaker cars were sold at retail in New York City, as compared with 117 in January, 1921, an increase of 235 cars or 200 per cent. In Detroit's retail sales were two and one-half as great as in January, 1921. Kansas City, Cleveland, Buffalo, Chi-ago and other points throughout the country also show big increases. The best comment I can make on these figures is, that they speak for themselves."

Self Defense Pleas in Murder Case Becomes Acquittal but Costs Big Sum

THOMASVILLE, Ga., (AP)—A check for $21,000.00 was received here today by counsel for Mrs. Parrish McCranin of Pavo on payment of damages awarded her in a suit against W. W. Williams of that town for the death of her husband.

McCranin was killed in Williams' office more than a year ago. There were no witnesses and Williams, pleading self defense, was acquitted by the jury. The widow filed suit and today's check followed the decision of the state court of appeals upholding the verdict of a jury that awarded her the damage.

Studebaker Built to Last!

Your satisfaction with a Sedan depends largely upon construction you'll never see. Since you can't see it, you want to be all the more certain what's there.

And the chances are you'll buy from the manufacturer in whom you have the greatest confidence.

Studebaker's reputation for fine coach work was established in your grandfather's time.

This LIGHT-SIX Sedan body is built complete in Studebaker plants and is as good as the chassis. It will last, without rattles or squeaks, as long as the chassis—and that's longer than the average life of many other cars. There's nothing flimsy about this body. It has a sturdy frame-work of selected ash, the best lumber for the purpose that can be bought.

Eight stout ash pillars, running from floor to roof, insure permanent strength and rigidity which means freedom from body rattles. The joints of the steel panels of the outer surface are perfectly welded. Doors are hung with great precision—open freely and close with a sound of finality. Windows open without binding, yet are so firmly set that they are rattle-proof.

And unless you choose a Sedan with the quietness and flexibility of the LIGHT-SIX motor you will be disappointed.

AUSTRIA MAKES POOR SHOWING

Cause of Prohibition Has Few Defenders Judging From Annual Expenditures

VIENNA, (AP) — Austria's enormous drink bill has aroused renewed agitation in certain quarters for some form of at least modified prohibition. An official statement says it amounted last year to 231,000,000 kronen (about $45,000,000).

This is three times greater than the national coal bill and about equal to the total currency circulation. Reports of alcoholic beverages exceeded exports by about 35,000,000 kronen.

Its most ardent advocates, however, acknowledge that prohibition is virtually an impossibility in this country, at least for many years. Beer and wine form a part of the sustenance of the people from youth up and no political party dares make it a plank in its platform or openly advocate its repeal.

Two years ago when the Social Democrats were in power their leaders discussed the wisdom of such a step but after a careful investigation realized it could not be done and the party withdrew. It could not have authorized a campaign against excessive drinking, as well as to the detriment of the country for a possible future effort for prohibition.

NEED OF SOBRIETY IS VERY GREAT

In many other ways not only the Social Democrats but many leading men of all parties have stressed the need of sobriety in a people who face such a struggle to survive as do the Austrians.

President Hainisch, himself a teetotaler, frequently makes temperance the note of his public addresses. The other day he remarked to a delegation that the sight of a nation "as hard drinking as this asking prohibition America for aid was hardly a pleasant one. The Arbeiter Zeitung, the working men's organ, in an editorial last week said that Austria could not expect a summons half the moral energy the United States displayed in the suppression of drink and would soon have to beg for help to keep the world sober.

The new taxation schedule just put into effect increases the tax on beer 300 per cent, on wine 250 per cent, and on spirits 100 per cent.

It is generally conceded that any step toward prohibition must have the indorsement of all parties, as no party alone could survive such an assault with the powerful opposition of the great body of the people from working men to peasant.

STYLES IN TOMBSTONES CHANGING CONSTANTLY

Tendency at Present in Direction of Small Compact Models of Exact Proportions

CHICAGO, (AP) — Styles in tombstones change as well as gayer fashions, and even the stark history of America has witnessed profured changes in what dealers in monuments like to call memorial art. The stately, unadorned, by Roman elements, faces or finely grained skulls, evenly carved, which still mark the graves of the Pilgrim elders in Granary Burying ground at Boston, the cemetery at Plymouth, and in other old New England graveyards, are in marked contrast to the lofty obelisks and huge sarcophagi of the last century which are seen in more pretentious cemeteries. Tombstones of today are of another type, according to H. C. Witaker of the Monumental News, Madison, Wis. Tombstones erected between 1800 and 1857, Mr. Witaker says, were imposing in size, but whatever dignity they had was often marred by the ridiculous versus inscribed on them. Such verses are no longer in vogue, remarks Mr. Witaker, who adds that the taste developed in recent years discards pretentious stones in favor of small tombstones of exact proportions and plain lettering.

Had Experiences.
The class was particularly alert that afternoon and Miss Scroggen beamed. But, as is often the case, when the teacher relaxes her iron rule the children began to get out of hand.

"Now, Willie," said Miss Scroggen. "If you had four pennies and Janie had five, and you took his and put them to yours, what would that make?"

Willie glanced at Janie, a big-headed, aggressive-kidnapped Scots lad.

"Trouble," he said, with conviction.

Here's Champion Horseshoe Pitcher of World

Lucky! Well, he should be, for horseshoes mean a great deal to him in his life. From a field of twenty-two of America's best "barneyed golfers" C. G. Davis, shown in action here, emerged victorious and was crowned champion horseshoe pitcher of the world. The tournament was held at St. Petersburg, Fla. Davis defeated R. P. Spencer, of Picher, Okla., in the finals by a score of 60 to 29.

ANOTHER RESIGNATION IS CONSIDERED TO BE LIKELY

Lord Reading, Viceroy of India, Expected to Lose His Official Head

LONDON, (AP) — Removal of Lord Reading as viceroy of India, it is believed in some quarters will be the development to the publication of the Indian government's note. There is nothing tangible on which to base this belief, but it is not improbable as argued in the virtual demand of E. W. S. Montagu as secretary for India. The probable effect in India of Montagu's resignation is the subject of much curiosity, and there are some "givings" led the removal of the champion of Indian political reform have a dangerous repercussion there. Equally momentous from the domestic political point of view is the effect the whole affair may have on the fortunes of the government, especially as to the position of Prime Minister Lloyd George. Some believe the chances that the premier will make good his threatened resignation have been considerably increased and that he also takes the view that American attention from the Geneva conference lessens the prospect of success there, the country may soon learn of his definite retirement.

It is still unknown whether he intends to begin his holiday today, but in view of the threatening outlook in the engineering and shipbuilding trades it is thought likely the well known which prevented his attending the Washington conference will again upset his arrangements.

The successor to Secretary Montagu must be appointed soon in view of the dangerous situation in India. The opinion in the lobbies over night was that Winston Spencer, Churchill, who was first mentioned, is too intimately concerned in the Irish settlement to allow his removal from his present office as secretary for the colonies.

FINDS COMPETITION KEEN

Predecessor of Babe Ruth is After Third Base but Has to Work for It

NEW YORK, (AP) - J. Franklin Baker, known as "Home-run" Baker before the advent of Babe Ruth into the classic rales of aviation, has entered into a battle down in the Yankee training camp at New Orleans for his first season position.

The veteran has found the competition keen, with Almie McNally, Normay McMillan and Glenn Kilgus, the Pennsylvania State football star, as rivals.

In battling practice yesterday Baker pulled out several long drives, while Kilgus topped him with a high over the park wall. Bill Cunningham worked impressively in centerfield for the Giants at San Antonio and was being considered by the experts as the most likely choice for the berth. Bancroft is being groomed by McDrew for the lead off position.

At the Jacksonville camp of the Brooklyn squad hurler Sherrod Smith gave an unusual training exhibition. Sherrod's stand consisted of polling the sphere high and wide over the fence and of leaving three balls in the dugout. The Yankees came with his order and delivery. It proved very effective.

and July $1.17 to 1.17 1/4, were followed by numerous mill changes and then by rains all around.

Although declines took place later, they failed to last, and reports current that Russia was buying both wheat and rye and that domestic millers were purchasing wheat freely, the wheat market made decided upturn in price near the end of the day. The closing however, was unsteady, at the same as yesterday's final 1.17 to 1.17 1/4, $1.16 7/8 to 1.17 and July $1.17 7/8 to 1.18.

Corn and oats showed independent strength. Exact inquiry for corn continued and the movement from farms was said to be practically nothing. After opening unchanged to 5-8c highest, May 61 1/8 to 61 1/2, the corn market set record 4 1/2c general advance.

Subsequently confirmation of export sales of corn amounting to 1,300,000 bushels in 24 hours for the corn market set a further high. Besides, Sweden was reported as having disposed of 900,000 bushels of American oats to Russia. Corn closed firm, 1 to 1 1/8 to 1 5/8c and yesterday's final 1.25 to 1.25 1/2.

Oats started 1/4c off to 6-8c highest, May 30, and then hardened a little more. Downturns in the price of hogs weakened. Exact inquiry for corn continued and the movement from farms was said to be practically nothing.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, (AP) - Free supplies of call money and better industrial conditions invited an extension of the buying movement in today's stock market. Sales approximated 778,000 shares. Oils and motors gave way moderately to profit-taking sales in the last hour, although call money fell to 3 1/2 per cent. Commodities, textiles and second-hand rails hardened. The closing was steady.

Changes among leading shares were limited to fractions at the dull and irregular opening of today's stock market. Studenbaker, the most active feature of the previous session, reacted moderately and other motors, as well as oil, commodities and food specialties were inclined to ease. Obsolete miscellaneous stocks, including Remington typewriter and American Safety Razor were strong. Prices steadied with the first half hour on buying of rails, New York and Western, Northern Pacific and Wisconsin Central rising one or two points. Early quotations for foreign exchange again reflected unsettled conditions abroad.

TO DISTRIBUTE PRIVILEGES OF RADIO SERVICE

Allocation of Twenty Different Wave Lengths Among Various Interests Recommended; Amateurs Not Forgotten

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Allocation of twenty wave lengths among the various classes of wireless telephony senders and government control of all commercial wireless transmitting and receiving stations are recommended by the three committees of the government radio conference made public today.

The recommendations do not provide for government control of receiving stations, which Secretary Hoover said have increased into the hundreds of thousands in the last few months. Amateur transmitting stations under the committee's proposals would be given exclusive wave lengths from 150 to 200 meters and share with technical and training schools a wave length of from 200 to 275 meters.

REPARATION IS NECESSARY

The present development of wireless telephony, the committee found, warrants the separation of 20 wave bands. The committee recommended that priority be first given broadcasting service and that broadcasting be divided into five classes in its ratings.

Government, educational and public, private broadcasting including news, etc., and finally local broadcasting. In addition to the 20 wave bands of 150 and 200 meters for the amateurs, additional wave lengths might be assigned to them for some opportunity in experimental work. The committee, under the recommendations, would arrange between themselves as to the division of their wave bands between different kinds of amateur work.

Former Assistant Treasurer of Evans Dental Institute to Have Speedy Trial

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., (AP)—Plans for a speedy trial for Walter A. Unger, former assistant treasurer of the Dr. Thomas V. Evans Dental Institute and museum fund of the University of Pennsylvania, charged with having embezzled securities of the fund valued at approximately $100,000, were announced today by Assistant District Attorney J. G. Gordon, Jr., who said that Unger had confessed his guilt.

An alleged companion of Unger, who was arrested on a charge of having received stolen goods, also was to be given a hearing today. He bore the name of Charles Logan, but the police said he was known under several aliases. According to the authorities, Unger had given him more than $100,000. When taken into custody last night, Unger told detectives that he had not been out of his room for two days and had been without food for 30 hours. More than $100,000 in cash was found in his possession. This, the detectives said, was part of the $12,000 he had withdrawn the day prior to his disappearance on the pretext that it was to pay salaries of instructors in the dental school.

In his confession as given out by Assistant District Attorney Gordon, the prisoner admitted having taken $100,000 in cash and securities belonging to the institution with a par value of from $120,000 and $140,000.

HEAVY SUM MISSING.

OLAHIA, Neb., (AP)—A safe in the office of W. H. Sanford, treasurer of the Union Pacific railroad in downtown Omaha, was found open today according to a report. A report of about $100,000 in gold and silver was found in the safe's possession. This, the detectives said, was part of the $12,000 he had withdrawn the day prior to his disappearance on the pretext that it was to pay salaries of instructors in the dental school.

Electric Engineer Manufactures Lightning for Experiments

Dr. Charles P. Steinmetz, chief consulting engineer of the General Electric Company, is here shown in his laboratory at Schenectady, N. Y., examining fragments of a tree-branch which had just been struck by lightning. The lightning, which damaged the branch, was manufactured by Dr. Steinmetz's lightning generator, an ingenious laboratory apparatus which stores up electric energy as thunder clouds do in the sky. When a certain over-charged point is reached—in this case 120,000 volts—the machine gives off a lightning flash which does on a small scale what natural lightning does on a large scale.

at this time, she said, that she made the entry in her diary.

KENNEDY URGED EARLY MARRIAGE

Mrs. Oberchain testified that Kennedy urged her, during the summer of 1921, to go to Santa Ana and marry. This was after she had obtained her divorce. She said she refused, telling him that she wanted to talk to his parents, she said that during this time, early in the summer of 1921, she corresponded from Los Angeles with Arthur Burch, her co-defendant who was then in Chicago.

Mrs. Oberchain said she also received two letters from Burch during that time and that these letters were, to the best of her belief, in her trunk at the Alexandria hotel when she was arrested after the shooting. She said she never had seen them since. These were not offered in evidence by the state and the defense they began to try to prove their contents by Mrs. Oberchain's evidence. This attempt precipitated a heated wrangle between the attorneys, which Judge Reece halted by excusing the jury until 2 o'clock and then letting the attorneys discuss the admissibility of the evidence in the absence of the jury.

TOLD BUREAU OF BLANDEROUS ATTACKS

Mrs. Oberchain said her letters to Burch told him of the "blatant and brazen" attacks Mrs. Kennedy was reported to have made about her to Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Droun. An effort to prove the contents of these letters also was being made.

Mrs. Oberchain, in testifying of her correspondence with Burch, said she was at that time on friendly relations with the Burch family and with Burch himself, but had never seen Burch's sweetheart, or his hers. She said she knew that Burch intended coming to Los Angeles during the summer of 1921, but did not know the exact date.

It was at this point that the evidence was halted and the jury excused. It was expected by counsel that the court would also rule on the admissibility of the first letter the defense had sought to offer, which had been left undecided.

A NATIONAL QUESTION
In their opposition to the Dyer antilynching bill, which has passed the house, certain Democratic senators are raising the partisan and sectional issue, alleging persecution of the South by the North. It is not the fault of northern Republicans that the majority of murders take place in southern states where the Democratic party is in control. Plans for much more drastic action affecting southern states have been proposed only to be discarded for fear of the appearance of unfair discrimination against a particular section of the country. It has been argued that the representation in congress of those states which have presented denied political rights to a large proportion of their citizens should be reduced in accordance with the fourteenth amendment to the constitution.

All that the Dyer bill proposes is the punishment of local officials for failure to prevent lynchings or to make reasonable efforts to prosecute mob murderers. The bill also defines participation in a lynching as a felony, with life imprisonment as the maximum penalty.
A county in which a lynching takes place must pay $10,000 to the victim's relatives. It has been found virtually impossible to obtain the conviction of lynchers in a state court. Althogether the governors and governments of the southern states have had it within their power to render federal action unnecessary. They have had plenty of warnings that some such action would have to be taken. Now when they see it coming they raise the cry of invasion of states' rights and sectional and partisan persecution.

The Dyer bill bears equally upon all the states. Those which enforce law and order and uphold respect for their citizens have nothing to fear. Not all officials of states where lynchings have occurred are indifferent to their responsibilities. But even the most conscientious state officers cannot helpless
in the face of local public opinion. Ev-erly day the time has come for the federal government to step in and restore the reign of law in these regions. It is not a question of parsimony; but of the reputation of our country. No other civilized nation is stained by such a disgrace.

FARMER WANTS CONSUMERS
The New York Journal of Commerce,
always a free trader, remarks in connection with the farm conference that "the only real help for present conditions is found in lowering of wages and prices that are out of line with the general level, reduction of taxes, including the tariff, thereby helping the farmer to get what he wants at lower cost." Reduction of the tariff, indeed! We are now operating under the Wilson-Underwood tariff law of 1913, except so far as the emergency agricultural tariff law raised the democratic rates.
Imports of foreign goods are increasing from month to month. If we are to comply with the demand of the Journal of Commerce for a lowering of the tariff, instead of increasing it in accordance with a nation-wide demand, then we shall import still more and buy less from our own producers. If we buy less from our own producers, we must diminish many employes, cut down pay-rolls, and add to the army of the unemployed.

How is the American farmer to find any relief from his present predicament
by diminishing the number of people who can buy his products? What they want is a consuming public with more capacity to buy. What shall it profit the American farmer if he buys
his new woolen suit from a British instead of an American mill, and then

discovers that the British woolen mill workman is eating food imported from Argentina?
The American farmer likes to see the British workman prosper, but he is much more interested in seeing the American workman prosper. The New York Journal of Commerce seems to be more interested in the workman in Europe.

CHAPTER IX.

Whither Now?
England was in a state of unrest.
She had, as yet, been none too successful in the war with France. From
the King's Castle to the poorest stumbling in Seven Dials there was a temper
boiling on despair. Ministries came
and went; statesmen rose and fell.
The army was indifferently recruited
and badly paid. England's battles
were fought by men of whom many
were only mercenaries, with no stake
in England's rise or fall.

The admiralty pursued its course of sending men of the class of sunset ships out, as yet, been none too successful in the war with France. From
the King's Castle to the poorest stumbling in Seven Dials there was a temper
boiling on despair. Ministries came
and went; statesmen rose and fell.
The army was indifferently recruited
and badly paid. England's battles
were fought by men of whom many
were only mercenaries, with no stake
in England's rise or fall.

Poverty and sorrow, loss and bewilderment, were in every street,
peeped mournfully out of every window, lurked at street corners. From all parts of the world adventurous came to renew their fortunes in the turbulences of London, and every street was a kaleidoscope of faces and clothes and colors, not British, not patriotic, not national.

Among these wanderers were Dyck Calhoun and Michael Clones. They had left Ireland together in the late autumn, leaving behind them the stirrings of the coming revolution and plunging into another revolt which was to prove the test and trial of English character.

Dyck had left Ireland with ninety pounds in his pocket and many tons weight of misery in his heart. In his bones he felt tragedies on foot in Ireland which concession and good government could not remove. He had fled from it all. When he set his face to Holyhead, he felt that he would never live in Ireland again. Yet his courage was firm as he made his way to London, with Michael Clones—faithful, devoted, a friend and yet a servant—treated like a creature. It was always with a little dominance.

The journey to London had been without event, yet as the coach rolled through country where frost silvered
the trees; where, in the early morning, the grey mist was hanging; where the everlasting green hedgerows and the red roofs of villages made a picture which pleased the eye and stirred the soul. Dyck Calhoun kept wondering what would be his future. He had no profession, no trade, no skill except with his sword; and as he nearly London town—when they left Hendon—he saw the smoke rising in the early winter morning and the business of life spread out before him.

At a street corner, by a chemist's
shop where a red light burned, Dyck opened and read the letter. This is
"My Dear Friend:
The time has written (I understand by a late letter to my mother from an official) when you will be freed from prison and will face the world again.
I have not written you since your trial,
but I have never forgotten and never shall. I have been forbidden to write to you or think of you, but I will take my own way about you. I have known all that has happened since we left Ireland, through the letters my mother has received. I know that my name has been sold, and I am sorry."

"Now that your day of release is near, and you are to be again a free man, have you decided about your future? Is it to be in Ireland? No, I think not. Ireland is no place for a man who has fought his fight and suffered, for honor, fame and name. I hear things are worse there in every way
than they have been in our lifetime.
"After what has happened in any case. It is not a field that offers you a chance. Listen to me, Ireland and England are not the only places in the world. My uncle came here to Virginia a poor man. He is now immen-sely rich. He had little to begin with,
but he was young like you—indeed,
a little older than you—when he first came. He invested his money wisely and bravely, and his wealth grew fast. No man needs a fortune to start the business of life in this country. He can get plenty of land for almost nothing;
he can set out for planting and furnishing his land, and, if he has friends,
the credit is sure to be forthcoming."

"All America is ready for the likes of you," think it over, and meanwhile please know there has been placed with the firm in Dublin money
enough to bring you here with comfort. You must not refuse it. Take it as a loan, for I know you will not take it as a gift."

"I do not know the story of the bank
at all, even as it was told to you. Well,
one who killed the man, but not you,
and the truth will come out, in time.
I should come to see out of the course of heaven and say that there it was declared you were a rogue, I should have no objection to your name. No, of one thing I am sure, you never killed an undefended man. Wayward, wanton, reckless, dissipated you may have been, but you were never depraved—never!"

"I am free, I am free, lift up your shoulders to all the threats of time, then so straight to the old firm where the money is, draw it, take ship and come here. If you let me know you are coming, I will be there to meet you when you step ashore, to give you a firm and a home to go to. You are in this land there is a good place for
you. If you will win it."

"I beg you take ship for the Virginia coast. Enter upon the new life here with faith and courage. Have no fear.
Mean that has his hands upon that will give you to the end."

"I write without my mother's permission, but my uncle knows, and though he does not approve, he does not condemn."

"Once more good-by, my dear friend,
and God be with you."

TO STOP CRIME
BY TREATMENT
Sweden Would Inter Habitual
Criminals Under Terms of Proposed Law

STOCKHOLM, (AP)—Habitual criminals in Sweden would be "interned"
until they are cured of their criminal tendencies under a plan recommended by a special government committee.
The committee has been making an extensive study of the best means of protecting society from such undesirable as well as from degenerate mentally diseased, epileptics and moral offenders.

It recommends the establishment of special institutions in which to keep habitual criminals until they are reformed to normal.
Many Swedish legal experts favor
the committee's plan.

The head of the Swedish plan
board has further recommended that effective means be taken to prevent such undesirable from having any protection. He says this is in line with efforts which have been made in certain parts of the United States.
Chief inspectors of hospitals and homes for indigent have sponsored a bill in the Riksdag which provides that habitual "alcoholics" who have repeated to drink after treatment in asylums for incurables shall be sent to special workhouses for indefinite periods.

CHARITY USED AS BAIT FOR MURDER

California Authorities Believe Philanthropic Tendencies are Responsible

LOS ANGELES, Cal., (AP)—Authorities of Orange and Los Angeles counties, inquiring into unexplained circumstances of the death of Julian F. Cumberland, whose body was found Saturday at Sunset Beach, near here, with a weight tied around the neck, to-day were investigating reports by friends concerning philanthropic activities of the rancher.

It has been suggested to the police that Cumberland may have been lured to death by a man seeking to take advantage of his philanthropic nature.

L. V. Shepherd of Pasadena, an acquaintance for 18 years of Cumberland, expressed belief that Cumberland was lured to an act of benevolence and murdered, and the body thrown into the sea. The day before he had opened a safe deposit box at a local bank.

Oldest Train "Butch"

For forty-five years Rocky Swayer, of Philadelphia, has sold salted, peanuts and candies and other "goodies" to the passengers on the Reading Railway. He holds the distinction of being the oldest train "butch" in America. Swayer began his life as a child of the circus and for thirty years lived under the "big white top."

He served for a time as a balloonist, but this career was shorted by rheumatic attacks. In 1877 he started as a train "butch," running between Harrisburg and Leray, Va. Later he was transferred to the main line of the Reading and has been there since. Swayer is the father of four children, all of whom are traveling with circuits.

Flash Swim Upside Down. The humus lies in the vast majority of fishes, in that he can swim on his back. There is, however, just one member of the finny tribe that does it quite often. This is an inhabitant of tropical waters, known as the globe fish. The skin on the underside of this fish is loose and can be filled with air at will. When the fish blows itself out of its entrails, it naturally turns on its back and goes on its way in that position.

FEW REGISTER AS ELECTORS IN SPECIAL VOTE

Less Than Score of Citizens, In Addition to Those Already Enrolled, Sign Up to Vote on Commission Form

Less than 20 persons have registered to vote on the question of adoption of the commission form of government under provisions of the Black law to be submitted at a special election March 23.

Registration books have been open for this purpose at the municipal office since Thursday last week. They will continue open until the evening of Saturday, March 25, two days before the election.

Registration officials are inclined to regard the light registration as an indication of lack of popular interest in the forthcoming election, although they point out, the registration books were opened with the names of some 3000 citizens enrolled who voted at the city election last May and who are qualified to vote in the forthcoming special election without necessity for registering again.

SCANDINAVIANS SUFFER IN POST-WAR CONDITION

A. M. Sande Says Money Decline in Norway Deals Blow to Industry

Economic conditions are not less affected in countries that were neutral during the world war than in those which were belligerents, according to the statement of A. M. Sande, director of the Twin Falls Food and Ice company, who has just returned from three months' trip to his former home in Norway.

Decline in the value of the money of his native country, Mr. Sande says, has dealt a severe blow to the shipping interests which ranked among Norway's most important industries. Still he has tended to retain the value of his property. There is, consequently, an increased demand for farm products and other goods produced in Norway, but the producers' profit is not great because of the lower value of money.

Norway, along with the other Scandinavian countries, is being called upon to extend relief to famine sufferers of Europe, and frequent "drives" are made for this purpose.

In comparison with other agricultural regions in this country which he traversed on his trip abroad, Mr. Sande says the Twin Falls district has abundant occasion for self congratulation. He attributes the Twin Falls country's advantage to its diversification of agriculture.

Mr. Sande visited in Norway with his father and brothers and sisters.

MOTOR TRADE IN COURT

Another Jury Impenched to Determine Validity of Dealer's Claim

Claim of Magel Brothers, automobile dealers of Twin Falls, against Henry Thomey, dealer of Buhl, for $208 not legal to be due on return of car made on an automobile accepted in trade, was again submitted for determination of a jury in probate court here today.

The jury in a former trial of the case was unable to agree upon a verdict.

The automobile dealers allege that Thomey was to have received credit for the purchase of another car for the value of the car which he owned after it should be repaired. The Buhl man denies that he was to stand the cost of the repairs under the exchange agreement.

Magel brothers are represented by Aaker B. Wilson, and Thomey by J. W. Taylor of Buhl.

MILLER DENIES LIQUOR FOUND BELONGS TO HIM
Evidar of Police "Floater" Faces Prosecution on Charge of Illegal Possession

Charles "Whitney" Miller was late Thursday afternoon arrested at his dwelling on Second avenue south by police officers who preferred against him a charge of illegal possession of liquor. Miller denied not guilty upon arraignment and was admitted to bond in the sum of $100, which he furnished, to secure his appearance at a preliminary examination Saturday morning before Police Judge Paul H. Taler, sitting as a committing magistrate. The prosecution will be conducted by the county attorney's office.

Miller was arrested some time ago on a charge of drunkenness and released upon his promise to leave town. The arrest Thursday was effected by Patrolman W. R. Patton and W. G. Shipman.

GOOD SHOW PROMISED IN HOME TALENT PRODUCTION

Twilight Follies to be Staged at Orpheum Next Week Contains Fine Material

Rehearsals and plans for the big home talent production, "The Twilight Follies," which is being staged for the benefit of the Twilight League have been held at the New Orpheum theater next Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon in fine shape. Howard E. Sahlin, who is directing the show, states that the song and the dancing numbers compare very favorably with many professional companies and the talent far above the average found in an amateur production.

Mr. Heisman and Mr. Stettler, who compose the minstrel committee, will witness the rehearsal this evening and perhaps offer some suggestions. The cast has been called in meet at the Park hall this evening at 7:30.

The Twilight Follies will be divided into three big parts of one act each. An old fashioned minstrel show done in a modern way, a complete vaudeville show of several high class acts including a very clever skit entitled "Lecture on Wives" and played by two popular Twin Falls young people, some single acts, musicals, a clank character act, and Young Men's acrobats present an act that is full of pep and life. The opening act shows the opening of the Twilight cabaret, a very pretty scene and will offer some very clever numbers. Mr. Bablin has arranged with Professor McFarlane, the dancing master, to present an act showing for the first time in Twin Falls the beauty of the modern dance and eliminating all elements of vulgarity. Professor McFarlane will be assisted by a Twin Falls young lady.

Every one is working hard to make this affair a big success and give the national justice a great send-off for the coming summer. A big street parade is being arranged for next Tuesday noon which will be well worth seeing. Theaters are also at the Public Pharmacy, McNulty's, The Snacker and Murphy's cigar stores.

THIEVES BREAK WINDOW

Gun Taken from Second-Hand Store by Swift Working Operators

Thieves, at about 3 o'clock this morning, broke a window at the T. E. Lucas second hand store, 343 Main avenue south, and through the opening thrust inside two caliber automatic revolvers, with which they made their escape.

Mr. Lucas, who was sleeping in an adjoining room, was awakened by the national justice at 4 o'clock. He made his way to the front of the store just as the thieves disappeared. It is believed that the robbery was committed by persons who were familiar with the store, that Mr. Lucas occupied connecting rooms and that they would have to make quick work of their undertaking. An old shoe was used to break the window.

DE VALERA DECLINES TO FOLLOW GRIFFITH'S LEAD

Former President of Irish Republic Has No Statement on Present Trouble

DUBLIN (AP)—Eamon de Valera, the former republican president, declared today he would take no statement in answer to that of Arthur Griffith, president of the Dan Eireann, on the Limerick situation, until such time as the controversy would not embarrass the difficult situation.

Mr. Griffith's statement, issued last night, declared the situation in Limerick was "largely the outcome of opposition to discipline, indulged in or connived at by some of Eamon de Valera's supporters," he added. "If Mr. de Valera will end now condemn the mutiny in the army, the danger of the situation in Limerick will be considerably lessened."
