AMENDMENT OF TREATY STILL INSISTED UPONSenate Listens to Lively Debate with California Speech of British Ambassador Cited as Ground for OppositionWASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)— Amendment of the four-power Pacific treaty to bind the signatories against secret diplomacy was urged in the senate today by Senator Robinson, democrat, Arkansas, in a speech attacking the pact as a dangerous instrument if accepted
as it is.In the course of the debate, Senator Lodge, Republican, the republican leader put into the record without comment a statement by Rene Viviani of the French arms conference delegation, characterizing the treaty as standing "outside all alliances." Mr. Lodge said he desired to present this statement in view of charge that Mr. Viviani had rejected the pact as an alliance.
Senator Shields, democrat, Tennessee, called attention to an address made by Los Angeles yesterday by Sir Auckland Geddes, the British ambassador, in which he was quoted as saying that the treaty had removed a menace from the Far East. Senator Robinson said the press report made it even appear that Sir Auckland had indicated he believed the treaty "inverted" a war that was "imminent" in the Pacific or the Orient.Wishes He Know More.
"Does the senator mean to say,"
asked Senator Johnson, republican, California, "that the British ambassador now is engaged in making advances for this treaty?"Senator Robinson replied that he only knew what had been published but hoped the senate might have a full or correct later.Senator Robinson asserted and Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, conceded that the Anglo-Japanese alliance, which is abrogated by the treaty, was not a menace to the United States. An agreement of 1911, they said, exempted this nation from its operation.Senator Poindexter, republican, of Washington, said Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, one of the most vigorous opponents of the treaty, had declared the Anglo-Japanese alliance was a menace.OBENCHAIN JURY STILL

Morning—Accused Woman
Confident of AcquittalLOS ANGELES, (AP)—The jury considering the guilt or innocence of Mrs.
Madelaine Obenchain, tried for the murder of her husband, J. Belton Obenchain, resumed its deliberations at 9 o'clock this morning.After nearly six and half hours of resultless discussion and balloting, the nine men and three women were ordered locked up for the night at 9:25 o'clock last night.At that time there was current about the hall of justice a report that the jury was divided nine to three, but few even pretended to know whether the majority favored conviction or acquittal.Accused Woman Confident.
Mrs. Obenchain, in her cell in the county jail during most of the time after the case went to the jury, was reported confident of acquittal.Much of the time and night, up to the time the jury was locked up for the night, a throng clustered about the hall of justice.Mrs. Obenchain, despite the crisis in her case, observed St. Patrick's day, wearing a little bunch of shamrock, the only bit of color on her black gown.This observance recalled a phrase from one of her letters, read during her trial in the courtroom."This old Irish girl may be broken and scarred, but she will be thorough."

Unpacked in New YorkNEW YORK, (AP)—A collection of guns, knives, chains, cooking utensils—the original equipment used by Theodore Roosevelt during the cowboy days in the Dakotas—was placed on view here today by the Roosevelt Memorial association for the first time since the collection was assembled.This association received the collection recently from A. W. Erickson of New York, who obtained them from A.
W. Merrifield of Bismarck, north, one of Colonel Roosevelt's ranch partners in the early 80's.A relic of the colonel's first experiences in big game hunting included in the collection is an old 4000 caliber rifle, known as old frontiersman as a "bear gun." It is decorated with engravings of a elk, a bear and a Rocky mountain sheep. "Bill" Sewell, Roosevelt's old guide and partner, who visited the association while the relics were being unpacked, recognized this old gun instantly."That's the gun he used when he shot his first bear," he exclaimed. "It was a favorite with him, and was the one he used on a thief hunt, when he and I caught three men who stole his boat."ALLEGED SWINDLERS OF

COURT DECISIONNew York Supreme Tribunal Puts Ban on Temporary Residence for Divorce Purposes
in Finding of Great ImportNEW YORK, (AP)—The adage "marry in haste, and repent at leasure," has teeth put in it by a decision of the appellate division of the supreme court which, it is said, will prevent New Yorkers, wishing to rid themselves of matrimonial ties, going to Reno, Nev., and other places to obtain legal relief.The decision makes permanent an injunction granted by Supreme Justice Donnelly last July restraining Archibald B. Gwathmey, a New York broker, from prosecuting an action started in Florida to obtain a divorce from Isabelle C. Gwathmey.The appellate decision, rendered by unanimous vote, holds that Gwathmey's change of residence was a fraud upon upon his wife's matrimonial rights, and that they were married in New York and had their legal residence here.The decision is interpreted to mean that persons married in New York state, or maintaining their matrimonial residence here, cannot go outside the state and set up a residence that will be recognized as legal.

Settle Fake Divorces.

"This decision sounds the death
knell for fake divorces," said Edmund
L. Mooney, counsel for Mrs. Gwathmey when apprized of the court's findings."It also goes a long way toward solving a national situation which has given rise to much agitation for a federal divorce law. Any one may go into the supreme court of New York now, whenever an action is started against him or her in another state and get an injunction."Mr. Mooney contended, in defining the suit against his client, that Gwath-mey was a resident of New York, but fraudulently stated that he was a resident of Florida.POLICE INTERVENE IN charge, and John Gallagher and Rosalie Gallagher, Mexicans and brothers, have been sentenced to pay fines of $100

each on vagrancy charges with the operation of leaving town within a designated number of hours.All this has resulted from police intervention in a disturbance and gun play staged about 8:30 o'clock Friday evening in the furniture room in the basement of the Bough building, corner of Shoshone street and Main avenue north.The disorder was reported to police headquarters by John Gallagher, who told the officers that Christensen had threatened him with a gun when he and Christensen's wife were found in the basement quarters by Christensen.The police rounded up Christensen and Rosalie Gallagher and lodged them both with John Gallagher in the single cell of the municipal jail. The trio spent the night peacefully. Quarters for the woman were provided in the county jail.The three men involved appeared

Beet Contract Out

We believe that every farmer should investigate this year's Sugar Beet Contract which is now out.

The Contract has been delayed in order that the very best contract possible be issued. You will notice that on this contract beets testing 18 per cent sugar as they did last year will bring $8.35 per ton at the present price of sugar, and present conditions lead us to believe that by next fall sugar will be netting us $4.00 which would make beets worth $7.00 per ton.

What crop will assure you better returns? As our contract is participating it is important to the farmer that enough beets be grown to run our factories to capacity, thereby by cutting the cost of sugar production. For this reason every farmer within hauling distance of a beet receiving station should plant a piece of good land to beets. Early planting and attention should give us a 15 ton average, which at $7.00 per ton, would make $105.00 per acre for the beets, and $5.00 per acre for tops.

We estimate $62.00 per acre to raise, harvest and deliver the crop, which also includes maintenance, taxes, manuring, interest and depreciation. This estimate is conservative and open for your inspection. What can you raise that will show a better profit than $58.00 per acre based on above estimates?

Your attention is drawn to our Sile Contract, which provides $1.00 per ton extra for beets harvested and sliced. This enables those from four to six miles from a receiving station to raise beets profitably. Ask our representatives about this Sile Contract.

Our Contract is the best possible and should be accepted by the whole community. Let us pull with a long pull, a strong pull and a pull all together, and get a capacity run for YOUR factory.

WOMAN'S PLACE SUBJECT OF STIRRING PERFORMANCE

Attraction Scheduled for Orpheum Next Week Said to be One of the Best

Where is woman's place? Is it at home? Or does she belong in business or in politics? Constance Talmadge's latest Associated First National starring vehicle will throw some humorous light on these questions for local photoplay fans.

It will be shown at the Orpheum theater next week, commencing Wednesday. And, fittingly enough, it is called "Woman's Place."

In this production Miss Talmadge, as Josephine Gerson, a pretty society girl, gives politics a try-out, running for mayor of the town.

Of course, she gets into a mass of difficulties—leaves that to Constance, she does it every time—and, according to all pre-release reports, provides one of the most entertaining pieces of comedy drama of her brilliant career.

Kenneth Harlan, seen with Constance in some of her recent First National releases, is once more her leading man in "Woman's Place," and others prominent in the cast are Howard Short, Florence Short, Ina Burke, Marguerite Linden and Jack Connolly.

While "Woman's Place" has a novel political background, it also contains the thread of an extraordinary romance. That in itself is not very unusual, for Constance Talmadge is a most extraordinary little person, and practically all of her screen romances to date have been extraordinary.

Lionel Barrymore Stars in Performance Scheduled Next Week at the Idaho

A prison cell setting in "Boomerang Bill," a Paramount picture featuring Lionel Barrymore, which comes to the Idaho theater next Wednesday, had to be rebuilt and strengthened before Mr. Barrymore could do what he considered justice to one of the most dramatic moments in the picture.

"Boomerang Bill" (Mr. Barrymore) goes to prison for bank robbery, having committed the crime to get money to save the life of the invalid mother of the girl he loves. Again, the girl swears to him, as he enters the portals of the prison, that she will await the expiration of his sentence and marry him.

Later Bill receives a letter saying she is to be married and that this is the last time she can write to him.

Something in Bill's mind seems to snare Mr. Barrymore here into magnificent heights of artistry. It flings the lock on the floor, stamps on it, crushes the letter, tears his prison bed from its fastenings on the wall, and then savagely attacks the cell door.

When Mr. Barrymore attempted this action the first time he smashed through the side of the setting. Thereupon the carpenters were put to work barricading the setting so that it could withstand the weight of the actor.

"Boomerang Bill" is based on the story of the same name by Jack Boyle and was directed by Tom Terrill. Marguerite Marsh plays opposite Mr. Barrymore, and the supporting cast is adequate.

CAPPY RICKS

Thomas Meighan, athletic Paramount star, is a brawny sailor's mate in his latest starring vehicle, "Cappy Ricks," which will be the feature at the Idaho theater for two days beginning Friday next. As Matt Peaseley in this refreshing picture of the sea, Mr. Meighan is said to have one of the best roles of his stellar career.

One scene of "Cappy Ricks" reveals a boat propelled toward the treacherous rocks by heavy seas and a high wind. A great risk was taken by the actors of this scene, as it was necessary to have rough water and the possible danger of being stranded on the rocks.

VAUDEVILLE AT ORPHEUM GIVES SPLENDID PROMISE

Comedy Jugglers Heading Bill Are Said to Deal in Real Entertainment

The vaudeville program coming to the New Orpheum, next Monday promises to be one of the best of the season.

Kipp and Kippy are the headliners on this bill, offering a combination of pleasing specialties. They are comedy jugglers who keep their audience guessing as to what they are going to do next as they juggle almost everything in sight, mixing a lot of comedy that is well placed for laughter.

"Frank Shannon, who bills himself as a twin, sings real Irish songs, in the real Irish way. His Irish stories are a rare collection of Irish wit and humor. Fields and Brown are two versatile artists, with an act that contains comedy songs, sayings and dances. Miss Fields wears some stunning costumes. Frank and Mae Collins open the show with a musical act, that is well over the average. Stanpham, piano, accordion and banjo playing form the method of their entertainment.

A feature picture, "A Wide Open Town," starring Conway Tearle, is also on this clever bill.

CANNOT FAKE ON SCREEN

Wyndham Standing Authority for the Statement that Public is Not Easy to Fool

Sincerely and constant, conscientious effort are the keystones to success on the screen, in the opinion of Wyndham Standing, playing in the Goldwyn picture, "Earthbound," a great dramatic play by Basil King, which comes to the Star theater, Kimberly, Sunday and Monday.

"Any lack of sincerity, any letting down of effort, will reveal itself at once on the picture screen," says Mr. Standing. "The camera is relentless in showing everything one does, or fails to do, or feels. The great motion picture public is relentless, too, and quite capable of judging whether work is good or bad. If an actor's heart is not in the work the public soon knows it, tires of him, quits him."

Individuality

Individuality is the salt of common life. You may have to live in a crowd, but you do not have to live like it, nor subsist on its food. You may have your own orchard, you may drink at a hidden spring. Be yourself, if you would serve others.—Henry Van Dyke.

TREMENDOUS PLOT IS BARED IN EARTHBOUND

Story of Compelling Intensity Offered for Sunday Opening at Kimberly Theatre

In the quiet of a college room three chums were talking over their pipes of life and its problems, discussing vividly and debating the thousand and one questions that absorb and fascinate youths about to go forth into the world.

Two of the three finally put upon paper the creed upon which they were agreed, a creed which was to regulate their future conduct. The third man refused to subscribe.

"No job, no sin, no future life; nothing but the survival of the fittest; and every man for himself." This creed was signed by Nicholas Desborough and James Bittenbaw. Under their signatures the third man of the trio wrote his opinion of it: "All my own," and signed his name, Harvey Brock. Probably it was not applied as it was written; until Nick entered into an affair with Jim's wife, Daisy. Then it hit home.

"Every man for himself—no sin—the survival of the fittest—" these principles were part of the creed when Jim and Nick had agreed upon; but when that struck at the very vitals of his happiness, Jim brought it aside—and killed his friend. How the soul of a man wins, through agony and tears, to a wonderful redemption, is the theme of the Goldwyn picture, "Earthbound," which comes to the Star theater Sunday and Monday.

PREPARE FOR BALL SEASON

Expert Team This Year as Fast or Faster Than Last Season's Bunch

Expert sends word that they will have a town unit team this year, which will be as fast if not faster than their team of last year. They want to get into a league composed of teams on the Twin Falls branch.

With Kimberly with their date in the ring, and Twin Falls ready to go, it looks as though it would be good policy to get in touch with Bobbi, and form a four-team league for Sunday ball.

This plan would not interfere with the proposed Twilight league that is under way at the present time, and a short Sunday schedule could be fixed, so that before the season ends, Twin Falls could invite outside teams to this city for an inter-city series.

These plans, of course, can materialize only with the support of the fans in seeing that the old ball park is fixed up.

With a four-team league for Sunday ball, and two twilight games during the week, Twin Falls would have plenty of baseball this coming season. The people of Twin Falls want baseball, and the want good baseball, which at the present time is available, owing to the fact that not the players of last year's team are still here. It is to be hoped that some definite plans will be made inside of the next week, so that things can be started and Twin Falls can be picked on the baseball map.

English "Boxing Day"

Boxing day is the 26th of December, and is one of the four legal bank holidays in England. It was on this day that in olden times the gentry made presents, especially of money, to their servants and dependents. These presents came to be known as Christmas boxes.

SPRIT OF OUTDOORS LIVES

Combining three of the most popular figures of the screen—Wallace Reid, Gloria Swanson and Elliott Dexter—the two former stars and the latter a featured player for Paramount picture—come "Don't Tell Everything," which will be seen at the Idaho theater next Sunday and Monday.

The most interesting feature aside from the exceptional cast is that it is typically an act out of door story, breathing the fragrance of the pine woods, the life and action of the polo field, the charm of a California golf course.

Sam Wood, the director, is a keen sport lover himself. So is Wallace Reid and so, indeed, are all concerned. Dorothy Cumming, who plays a girl of the modern athletic type is an accomplished sportswoman. A real polo game was staged for the picture; and indeed nothing has been left undone to make this one of the season's most notable productions. Lorna Moon wrote and A. S. Telford adapted the story to the screen.

One of the thrilling scenes of "Don't Tell Everything," a big Paramount picture featuring Wallace Reid, Gloria Swanson and Elliott Dexter, which comes to the Idaho theater next Monday, is a real polo match in which two horses crash together and fall upon their riders. No one, however, is hurt. The story of this picture is strong and every situation has a tense dramatic flavor.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

At the general assembly held Friday during the fifth period the junior high school orchestra made its initial appearance. The orchestra has only been organized about eight weeks but yesterday's splendid performance was a credit both to Mr. Balbridge, the leader, and to the pupils themselves. Three numbers were played and enjoyed by the entire student body. The members of the orchestra are: Marjorie Winkle, Dorothy Roberts, Willard Landin, Dorothy Paulin, Opal Yantis, Russell Potter, James Walters, Roderick Wight, Randolph Crotty, Audrey Fortune and Luyo Peters.

Following the orchestra numbers the best debate of the year was argued by three representatives of the 8-B class and opposed by three members of the 8-A class. The topic under discussion was: "Resolved, Congress Should Pass the Soldiers' Bonus Bill." The affirmative side was handled by Loyal Perry, Orville Thompson and Billie Davis. The defenders of the negative side were: Lawrence Trousdale, Clyde Ross and Donald Lora.

Miss Grace Tobill, Marie Nelson and Ella Francis Hackman, acted as the judges. The decision was given two to one in favor of the affirmative side. The work of all the speakers was of a high order both from the point of view of delivery and of argument. Holman Gray acted as chairman and conducted the debate well.

BROKE IN STRANGE LAND

Irish Tailor Tells Interesting Tale But Ominous His Point Just the Same

ROME, (AP) — A burly Irish sailor who had arrived at Naples on a ship from New York paid a visit to Rome the other day and soon found himself "broke." Calling upon the Rev. Father O'Hagen, acting rector of the American college, he said:

"Father, I am here among Protestants, broke and hungry. Could you give me the loan of a meal?"

Father O'Hagen smiled but he did not tell the sailor there are 740,000 Catholics in Rome's population of 750,000 and that there are several hundred Catholic churches in Rome, as compared to eight or nine for all other denominations. Instead the rector led the way to the kitchen.

LOCAL EIGHTH GRADERS WIN OVER MAROA TEAM

Good Playing on Both Sides Characterizes Game Replete with Individual Features

The local eighth grade basketball quintette put another notch in the win column yesterday afternoon, when they came out on the long end of a 26 to 18 score with Maroa.

It was probably the best game that the locals have played this season, and their victory came as a surprise, as Maroa came here with a reputation of having won most of their games this season.

With the exception of one man, the enemy stood head and shoulders over the locals, but with recent victories still ringing in their ears, they couldn't see anything but a win.

The team work of Miss Casey's five showed considerable improvement yesterday, with none of the boys trying for individual honors.

Clyde Ross started the fans with two of the prettiest baskets ever seen on the local floor. City who has been in a sort of a slump lately, fully redeemed himself yesterday.

"Jim" Grigsby, although not playing the spectacular game of last week, came through with 9 field goals, making a total of 18 points. Jim has developed into one of the best basketball players in the junior high. It is too bad that he still has another year to go, as Coach Evans could probably use him very handsily on the high school team next season, if he were eligible.

Russell Potter, captain of the locals, confined himself to guard and well did he do his work.

Correll Jarman shot two dandy baskets, being in the game at all times.

Alvin Kelley, who has been substituting for Howard Berg at guard, although but a seventh grader, played a great game. Alvin has shown wonderful improvement.

For Maroa, Darnell at forward, played a fine game, making four field goals, and throwing four free throws.

Lyon, the other forward, also played a nice game, but perfect guarding kept him from shooting but one basket.

Diell helped his teammates with two classy field goals, beside doing some clever guarding.

Slerer and Day, the two guards, did all that was expected of them. The Maroa team is by far the best balanced quintette seen here this season in the junior division.

These two teams will lock horns two weeks from last night, on the Filer floor, which will end the local's basketball season.

The Kimberly freshman will play Miss Casey's home team next Friday afternoon on the local floor.

FIGHT POSTPONED.

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—The ten round bout between Billy Mike, St. Paul light-heavyweight boxer, and Bartley Madden, scheduled for St. Paul on March 27, has been postponed until April 8, it was announced today. The postponement was requested by the state boxing commission, which held that the show conflicted with a card arranged by the Minneapolis fight club for the same week.

USES SPECTACULAR MEANS

NEW YORK, Boxing enthusiasts of this city were convinced today that Johnny Dundee of West Orange, N. J., was a better aerial fighter than Charlie White of Chicago. The two lads met at Madison Square Garden last night, and the boy who had traded his Italian name of Giuseppe Corra for the British moniker of Dundee, was given the decision. White, who in private life bears the peaceful name of Charles Aschowitz, did not have an anti-aircraft gun, and thus could not cope with his opponent's unusual strategy.

White worked his well known left hand over the top of Dundee's head, and it seemed to lack wrecking qualities. After a few rounds, Dundee threw overboard the caution that marked the first phase of the battle, and began to leave the floor on long plunges. At White, he bounced off the ropes and landed on the startled Chicagoan. Before the latter could duck away, he vaulted into the blue, smoky atmosphere and planted his two mitts squarely on White's jaw, and then indulged in pyrotechnics that made even the spectators dizzy. Fans who go to see Dundee engage in a milder generally get action and last night was no exception.

WESTON IN ON THE FINALS

Lohi High of Utah Will Try Conclusions for Intermountain Championship

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah. (AP)—As a result of victories in games last night, Weston high school of Idaho and Lohi high school of Utah tonight will battle for the intermountain basketball championship.

Last night Weston defeated Missoula high of Montana 30 to 24 and Lohi defeated Greeley high of Colorado 25 to 23.

Weston was given a real battle by Missoula. There was but very little difference in the two scores at any stage of the game, the six-point margin at the end being as much of a lead as either team obtained. Gasman and L. Olson showed best for the Idaho quint.

The Greeley-Lohi game was decided in Lohi's favor about 15 seconds before the final whistle when Turner, Lohi forward, eluded the Greeley guards and counted a neat basket.

Missoula and Greeley play tonight but only for the third and fourth places in the tournament.

FAMOUS BATTERS TO PLAY.

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Nabe Ruth, Alton of walt, and Rogers Hornsby, slugger extraordinary, are in measure bats this afternoon when the New York Americans and the St. Louis Nationals meet in the first contest of a two-game exhibition series at New Orleans, the Yankers' training camp. The other game is scheduled for tomorrow.

TODAY'S MARKETS

Chicago Grain Market

CHICAGO, (AP)—Wheat trade was light and prices flung and tumbled in the early trading on the Chicago board of trade today. The first prices were unchanged to a cent higher, with May $1.38 1-2 to 1.39, July $1.20 1-4 to 1-2 and September $1.13 to 1.13 1-4.

This response to higher Liverpool quotations was disappointing to the buying element, and under commission house pressure prices eased off to under yesterday's finish. Local buying caused a rally from the inside figures but the market again turned flat.

Bulges could not be maintained in the mid-session trading and toward the close the market sank into apathy until the final 15 minutes when a sharp rally took prices to near the high points and made net gains for the day. Final prices were $1.30 1-8 to 1.30 3-8 for July, $1.21 1-4 to 1.21 1-4 for August, and $1.13 1-4 for September.

Corn started 1-8 to 1-4 lower, May being 62 1-2 to 62 5-8, July 65 1-8 to 65 1-4 and September 67 1-2 to 67 1-4.

LIBERTY BONDS

NEW YORK, (AP)—Liberty bonds closed: 3 1-8's $97.20; first 4's $97.70; second 4's $97.60; first 4 1-4's $98.00; second 4 1-4's $97.80; third 4 1-4's $98.20; fourth 4 1-4's $98; Victory 3 1-4's $100.60; Victory 4 1-4's $100.60.

Increase for Week

NEW YORK, (AP)—The actual condition of the clearing house banks and trust companies for the week shows that they hold $40,160,820 in excess of legal requirements. This is an increase of $18,758,670 from last week.

LEWIS' WIFE IS CONFIDENT

No Question of Outcome in Mixed Match Scheduled with Jack Dempsey

SAN JOSE, Cal. (AP)—Dr. Ada Scott Morton of San Jose, wife of Ed (Strangler) Lewis, heavyweight wrestling champion of the world, is certain her big husband can defeat Jack Dempsey, heavyweight boxing champion, in the proposed match between the two.

"Why, certainly Bobby could defeat Dempsey in a mixed match," Dr. Morton said. "All Bobby would have to do would be to get his hands on Dempsey and it would be all over."

When it was suggested that possibly Dempsey would floor Lewis with a blow, Dr. Morton said it was impossible.

"Bobby is game," she declared. "He has been in many a clutch before blows were struck. We have talked such a match over, Bobby and I, and we both know that wrestling is far more scientific than boxing."

Light receipts prices eased off further in the first hour.

Corn failed to recover its early losses in the late trading and closed with May at 62 1-2 bid, July 64 5-8 to 64 7-8 and September 67 1-2.

Oats were steady to firm early but later were affected by the weakness in corn. The first prices were unchanged to 1-8 lower, with May 39 to 39 1-8, July 41 1-8 to 41 1-4 and September 42 1-2.

Provisions were fairly strong and until the end of the first hour when they were quiet.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, (AP)—Price changes in the stock market today were confusing, although higher prices prevailed among the popular issues. Reading, Mexican Petroleum, Baldwin Locomotive and several of the motives were under pressure, while other stocks of the same descriptions were steady to strong. New York Central reflected further substantial support, independent stocks extended recent advances under lead of Ansonia and American Sealing, Elide and Leather preferred and Edgewater-Oakland gained one and two points respectively. Tidewater Oil recovered part of yesterday's sharp decline. The closing was irregular. Sales approximated 550,000 shares.

Selling for profits on the one hand and covering of short contracts on the other made for uncertain price changes at the opening of today's stock market.

Credible steel was the only active issue to vary more than a fraction, declining one point. Other independent steels and the coppers were better. American Smelting led the coppers. Rails

Building a Big Business

These Men Did It—
So Can You!

A recent article in the Outlook mentions some remarkable cases of business successes. Such instances show that there is no limit to the advance of the competent business man who believes in advertising.

In a town of 4000 people in the state of Washington this writer found a department store doing a business of $783,940 last year. In a town of 2800 people in Georgia he found sales for 1919 of $898,486. And in a town of 3000 in Missouri he found a store that did $250,000 worth of business last year.

Cases like these, which are not uncommon, suggest that the enterprising dealer almost anywhere can expand his business far beyond the limits that conservative people would consider possible. And usually in such cases, advertising is what does it.

It has become possible during recent years to draw trade much farther than formerly. Automobile travel gives people a much wider circuit through which they can reach out to find bargains. They will travel a long distance to reach a trading center where enterprise and the spirit of growing business is found. The persistent advertiser finds that he can pull trade three times as far as he could 20 or even 10 years ago, and every year the possibilities of expansion through advertising are increasing.

The people have confidence when they read the notices of a well advertised store that it is doing a large business in comparison to its expense, hence that it is able to put its goods on the market at a reasonable expense for distribution costs. The efficiency of a store depends upon the relation between its volume of sales and its overhead and operating expenses. Advertising provides a big trade on a relatively small burden of expense, hence helps the dealer to serve the public economically.

"It's so nice," said the Australian Monitor, "to sound rather important at first. I believe they have monitors in Australia and that they are glad to have you take charge of things that are important and trusted and all of such things."

"But what they know, I'm sure, is that I sound important at first, they may not be disappointed when they find out I'm a curious creature even if I'm not important in any school way."

"I've never been to school. No one ever asked me to go, and no one ever sent me. They didn't care if I didn't go to school and by then I mean my family."

"For an Australian Monitor learns all he has to learn out of school just as well as he would in school. Perhaps he learns his lessons out of school better and what he should do and eat and so forth."

"An Australian Monitor might be in school filling ink-wells when he could be making himself a stronger and a better animal or reptile by being out of doors and catching a small rabbit or something like that."

"An Australian Monitor, of course, is a lizard—and a good strong lizard too. We can eat small snails and whole. We are very large and very big and grow to the eight feet long."

"We can run very fast and we live in the dark jungles. We are fond of meats in the way of food, or rather, we don't care about vegetables."

"We are from India and we have relatives in Africa and in Australia."

"But one of the most important things about us is that we can eat eggs whole and that the shells dissolve themselves just like capsules or pills do."

"Yes, eggshells are alright for us, and I'll tell you the reason."

"We have fine digestions. We don't have our tummies getting upset the way so many creatures do."

"Of course, we don't have to go to doctors and take bad medicines and say: 'Oh dear, oh dear, why did I eat that?'"

"Yes, we have superior digestions and they are important."

"We are beautiful," said the Green Lizard. "And our family came over from Europe. That is, we didn't come from our own accord. You know what I mean."

"We didn't go down to the pier with our luggage and put our names on the passenger list and then come across in cabins on the big boat or anything like that."

"But we were brought over."

"And when you speak about digestions we agree with you."

"It is most important and very pleasant to have a good digestion. It makes a creature feel better and happier and all of such things. I always enjoy my meals and I always feel happy. I feel so pleased with myself that I show off and folks coming to the zoo quite enjoy seeing me."

"And I," said the Chameleon, "have been brought over here to join the lizard family, for I have such a lot of interesting colors which I show at different times."

"I am a curious creature," said the Gila Monster, "and I am really stupid. I came from the desert, and I move slowly and awkwardly along, for my body is fat and brown."

"I took a through I'm covered with black and brown and tan and yellow bands, but I'm not. I've just because of the kind of a suit I wear that I look that way."

"I give a good hard bite and I make anyone suffer whom I bite, but I don't kill them. No, I'm not mean enough for that. I'm satisfied to make them suffer, that's all."

"Well," said the Gila Snake, "I would like to have a word to say, or a hiss to make. I'm really a lizard and should talk with all of you, though I look so much like a snake that creatures call me a snake by mistake. Very often and my 'Really a Lizard' name, as you know, is Gila Snake."

"I'm a real lizard, but I look like a snake. That's pretty interesting. Now that I'm more than a child I ever saw, could do. I've seen a lot of them at the zoo, too."

"I'm sure you could look like puffy rats and yet be children, or could be puffy cats and look like children. I'm an interesting creature, I am!"

Eggs and Nutrition.

"Geeze! you the best egg from the point of view of nutrition. Then come ducks and guinea fow. These are fourth on the list, with turkeys as puffers following, but it is the hen on which the world depends for its egg supply."

The Literary Farmer.

Sign on a truck farm: "Truth crushed to earth will rise again, but vegetables will die. So be careful with your feet."

Dust Carried Long Distances.

It has been calculated that storms in the western United States are responsible for carrying $50,000,000 worth of dust 1,440 miles every year.

The Politician's Handicap.

All politicians agree that one improvement could not be made in the human body. It ought to be possible to get better eggs to the ground at once—Chicago News.
