IDAHO CENTRAL FRISCO OFFICES CROWDING WORK

Statement Made That Crews Will Soon Be in Field and the Work Rushed During Present Season

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., (Special to The News)—Active work is begun in arranging details for the building this year of the link of railway to connect San Francisco with Twin Falls and southern Idaho.

Bulletin Tells Story. The San Francisco Bulletin, in announcing these plans and labor, says: The Idaho Central Railroad company has opened San Francisco offices on the twelfth floor of the Claus Spreckels building...

This proposed railroad will place the valuable mining, stock raising and agricultural district of south and central Idaho 250 miles nearer this city by rail, for it will be a cut-off from the present round-about rail route via Ogden and Salt Lake City.

The Interstate commerce commission has recognized the merits of the new project by granting to the company a certificate of public convenience and the same has been given it by the Nevada public service commission and the Idaho public utility commission.

This trio of permits authorize the company to finance the venture and commence actual construction work. Southern Idaho people have already subscribed $400,000 and bonus for the project.

It is understood New York bonds will finance the company because of its assets and also for the reason that the Southern and Western Pacific interests are favorable to it as a connection into northeast Nevada and southern Idaho.

President Davis said today the new cut-off railroad will reduce passenger time 24 hours between this city and southern Idaho as well as greatly expediting the delivery of freight.

He also pointed out the fact that the great expanse of country between Wells, Nev., and Rogerson, southern Idaho, a station on the Southern Lines division of the Union Pacific system, is absolutely without railroad facilities today.

BRITISH FLYERS PLAN VISIT TO UNITED STATES

Will Halt in Washington During Swing Around Globe — To Follow Hawker Course Over Atlantic Span

WASHINGTON, (AP)—By direction of the foreign secretary in London, the British embassy here has requested the state department to have all proper facilities extended to Sirs Ross and Keith Smith, British aviators, when they reach the United States on their attempted aerial circumnavigation of the world.

Will Start From London. Sir Ross, with his brother, Sir Keith, flew from England to Australia more than a year ago. Their latest venture will involve a start from London April 20, the first stop being France. The route lies across northern Europe, Asia Minor, India, China, Japan and Siberia. The Pacific will be crossed at Bering straits, landings being made on one of the Alaskan islands and at Unalakleet, in Alaska. The course will then be across Canada to the Ross, where it will swing to the southeast to New York. Then the line will be along the New England coast to New Foundland, where the start will be made across the Atlantic.

Follow Hawker Course. If weather conditions are favorable an attempt will be made to reach London directly from New Foundland, following the course taken by Hawker. Otherwise the plane will be directed to the Azores, thence to the European continent at Portugal, and up the west coast to the point of starting.

The adventurers will use a Vickers "Viking Amphibian" plane which, as its name indicates, can be landed on either land or water, being provided with wheels which are withdrawn into recesses in the hulls of the pontoons when not needed.

GOOD PROGRESS UPON PROPOSED RESERVOIR PLAN

North Side Farmers Listen to Outline of American Falls Scheme — Governor Davis Speaks at Hazelton

POCATELLO, Idaho (Special to The News).—Satisfactory progress is being made in the campaign to save the American Falls project, and save it to Idaho, according to a statement by through its head, Guy Plummer, who is managing the campaign. The first move on the north side Twin Falls tract was made Saturday with a big meeting at Hazelton attended by 150 farmers and addressed by Governor Davis, Frank Banks, engineer, and Mr. Plummer.

The farmers there are a unit for the American Falls project, but the Hazelton section, with Hazelton and the town, otherwise described as the first suggestion for a separate irrigation district and vote bonds to pay for storage water in the American Falls reservoir. These bond-holders have not yet and the question has arisen whether to go on with the district or disband and come into the big district. In either case, the formation of a new district would be in conflict with the extent of at least 35,000 acre feet.

Meetings in Upper Valley. Thursday and Friday meetings, well attended by farmers, were held at Hazelton, Idaho, and Governor Davis was present at both these meetings, and, emphasizing the importance of the project, stated the people could not be asked to give up this great opportunity.

The governor recited the strenuous demands elsewhere, including the Colorado river project, to get the government to make it easy for the government to come in. We should not, he added, make any delay for the government to get out of Idaho, which now has a load it should maintain as to reclamation.

At the Idaho Falls meeting all the companies that had been secured in the district decided to remain in the district. There will be included in the big district meetings with the farmers themselves, or stockholders of the same companies, will be held as fast as possible, after which the petition will be circulated.

At the Blackfoot meeting there was even a more spontaneous response of all the contracting companies, through their representatives, and the governor, indicating a desire to get in. Meetings will be held in the Blackfoot district with the stockholders and the petition returned for signatures.

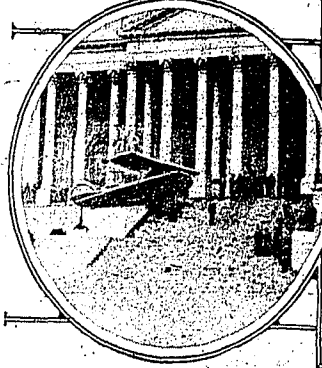

More Signatures Needed. The petition will be filed as soon as sufficient signatures are obtained or when the intervals prescribed by law will run. The commissioners will hold a hearing on the petition, and, if approved will fix a date for the first election to decide on the formation of the district. After this date has been fixed a campaign will be conducted throughout the entire valley. So far the effort, as stated, has been on a manifold preliminary, plus an active campaign by mail all over the valley. Many local misunderstandings have been ironed out and apparent complications removed through explanation.

Mr. Plummer recited the set up of the proposed district and the means of financing the project and the progress of the campaign. He stated that the district is already decided upon, represented more acre footage in the reservoir than was included in the first. He added that even if none of the companies present came in there would be more acre feet in the district than before, which meant the government would go ahead with the project, provided the district was organized and financed itself as proposed. He said that all that was needed was to know what companies wanted in and what did not, so the petition could be finished as to descriptions.

R. E. Stoutenburgh, chief counsel of the reclamation service; Warren G. Swendsen, head of the state reclamation department; and Frank Davis, engineer of the reclamation service, answered many questions of farmers on various phases of the district plan. Mr. Swendsen also related the efforts put forth in Washington to hold the petition open so as to give the people more chance to make good on the participation basis.

Profitable in Many Ways. Colonel L. L. Evans made the point

Airplane Lands in Capitol Plaza for the First Time

For the first time in history an airplane landed in front of the United States capitol at Washington, Law...

Sperry, driving one of the small open planes in existence, did this stunt in trying to stop the plane Sperry was...

that the proposed bond issue was simply the utilization of frozen credits in substitution for cash, which could not be raised either by direct assessment or through selling of county securities. It was an easy means not only of securing the great reservoir project but of paying other debts through the market development that would follow and the individual profit that would be made possible; that was now denied. He also called attention to the heavy losses in stock markets, including those of 1910, and said that the people of the Snake River valley were paying for the project five years anyway, so why not have it.

A half watered tract, he said, was the worst thing we could have in its demoralizing effects upon our home life as well as upon our agricultural and industrial present and future.

North Side Necessary. R. E. Shepherd, of Jerome, head of the North Side Twin Falls Canal company, also attended both meetings and was well received. Mr. Shepherd said those conducting these campaigns were not trying to unduly influence any company to come into the district but felt it was their duty to give all who had any interest in the project an opportunity. Any company having at all times plenty of water should not come in, but any needing water should come in as a matter of settling protection.

Mr. Shepherd stated that the Twin Falls north side tract would be included in the petition and, in his judgment, would vote for the creation of the big district, contracting for 270,000 to 300,000 acre feet of storage.

Shortage in 1910. Official figures were presented by Clyde Baldwin showing that the 22 contracting canal companies north of American Falls during the 1910 season had only 54 per cent as much water as the average for 1920 and 1921. In some cases it was worse, as for instance, the Blackfoot irrigation company, which had only 48 per cent in 1910.

It was pointed out at these meetings that in every instance where storage was supplied the lands enjoying the protection became more salable, at an increased price, than lands not so protected.

The farmer stated that it was plain to him that his land, if given American Falls storage, would be worth an acre more than it ever had been before, because of the water insurance.

Official figures were given showing that the Arrowrock storage in 1919 returned enough additional revenue to pay above what it would have been without the storage, to pay the farmers of the Boise valley $8 an acre more than the project cost.

GOTHAM STOPS FEMALE SMUDGE

Ordinance Forbidding Smoking by Women in Public Halls is Enforced by Police

NEW YORK, (AP)—Police Commissioner Enright tonight lifted the ban on smoking by women in public places as suddenly as he clamped it down last night, when he learned that Alderman McGuinness' anti-smoking ordinance never had been passed by the board of aldermen or signed by Mayor Hylan.

Ordinance is Mystery. Alderman records were studied today by officials eager to determine the truth about the ordinance prohibiting women from smoking in public resorts placed in effect last night by the police department.

Although the ordinance was signed by Mayor Hylan last week, the manner in which it reached his desk is a mystery. Its author, Alderman Peter McGuinness, didn't know it had passed and other members of the board declared they were certain it had been buried in the legislative garbage yard and forgotten.

Notify Managers of Eating Houses. The mystery developed after the police department, pursuant to an order issued by Commissioner Enright, had visited public amusement places in Greenwich village, Harlem, the Bronx and along Broadway and had informed managers and proprietors they were subject to a fine and imprisonment if they permitted women to smoke in their establishments. It wasn't a joke, exactly, but it appeared somebody had played a practical joke on the mayor, and there was an inclination on the part of the female smokers to laugh.

In the first place, they said, they could not understand the ordinance. Under its provisions only the proprietors of restaurants and cafes would be subject to punishment if women smoked in their establishments. So far as known there was nothing in the measure that would prevent a woman from smoking as she walked down the street.

Ordinance Gets Through by Fluke. When Alderman McGuinness presented his proposed ordinance relative to smoking it was not considered seriously.

"When people from out of town come to visit you," he said, "you take them to the theater and later to have something to eat. Many of our visitors are shocked and indignant when they see women in public places puffing cigarettes. Outrageous."

Meanwhile copies of the ordinance bill were hanging on the doors of the city's resorts.

VETERANS BUREAU ADDS CO-OPERATION DIVISION

POCATELLO, Idaho (Special)—For the purpose of maintaining close contact with all ex-service organizations and investigating all complaints and grievances of war veterans, a new department to be known as the co-operation division is being established in connection with the United States veterans bureau in this district, according to Dr. C. H. Sprague, head of the bureau here. Bradley T. Fowkes has been named as acting chief of the new division in this district. The co-operation section will be established in veterans' bureau offices of Spokane, Tacoma, Portland and Pocatello in conjunction with the co-operation division of the bureau in Seattle, he stated.

Aside from the contact work and handling of complaints, the co-operation division will have the following duties: Carrying for government insurance for veterans; handling information regarding claims between district, central and sub-offices of the bureau; inspecting claims for compensation and training from sub-offices; personal service work with disabled veterans and their families; helping on compensation, vocational training and insurance claims for veterans; and giving out information.

This section on the part of Director Charles E. Forbes in making a separate department for personal service work for the benefit of disabled veterans will go far in clearing up many grievances and complaints of former servicemen and women in Washington, Oregon and Idaho, officials of the veterans' bureau believe.

CHARGED WITH MURDER OF HIS AGED MOTHER

Joseph Studer Faces Jury in Trial Growing Out of Death of Parent Following Quarrel

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Jos. Studer went on trial today for a jury in the superior court today on an information charging him with the murder of his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Studer, 86 years old, here last September. The district attorney announced, before the trial, however, that he would ask for a conviction of manslaughter only, thereby in effect reducing the charge to that degree.

Evidence adduced at the preliminary hearing showed that Studer, a brother and the dead woman engaged in a family dispute during the course of which Mrs. Studer fell or was pushed from a porch to the ground, receiving injuries from which she died later. The state's theory is that Studer thrust his mother off the porch. The defense is that the aged woman was taken with an attack of dizziness and fell. Because of these conflicting theories, medical evidence was expected to take a prominent place in the trial. The public defender is appearing for Studer.

SCHAEFER HAS OPENING TO TAKE LEAD FROM HOPPE

Veteran Champion's First Shot Tonight will be with Balls Nicely Grouped

CHICAGO, (AP) — Jake Schaefer, world's champion 18.2 ball-line billiardist, will have an opportunity from his first shot tonight to increase the 34-point lead he established last night over Willie Hoppe, former champion, when he was the first of the 1500-point, three-night match, 500 to 400. Bouncing out his fifth century with an unfinished run of 24, Schaefer left the balls nicely grouped at the head of the table for his opening shot tonight.

Except for the possibilities of Schaefer's opening play tonight, the game so far might be regarded as virtually even, the 34-point difference in the strings not being regarded as a great factor.

Without the champion's incompleting last night the honor last night went to the former champion. Hoppe had the high run, 200, against Schaefer's 222 and the best average, 51.74 against Schaefer's 50.

AUSTRALIAN PUG HOPES TO MEET JACK DEMPSEY

NEW YORK, (AP) — Jim Tracy, credited with being heavy-weight pugilist champion of Australia, has arrived here with the announced intention of eventually meeting Jack Dempsey in a bout for the world title. Tracy is a native of South Africa, but went to Australia while young. He is big enough to aspire to any heroic role, standing six feet, three inches in his ring shoes and weighing 210 pounds.

NEW YORK, (AP) — Brooklyn and New York are baseball teams today and will continue home-sell today and will continue home-sell today and will continue home-sell today and will continue home-sell today.

Mentioning the Giants and the Chicago White Sox continue their threatening gestures, which so far have resulted in the Sox having the edge. Yesterday's encounter at Fort Worth, Texas, was won handsily, 11 to 3 by the Giants.

McGraw's infield is intact, and presents a stone wall first line defense, while the outfield guardians are hitting well. Higgins seemed to have found in McMillan a lad who can fill Bob Messel's shoes until that player can return to his regular position in rightfield.

ATHLETICS ARE OVERWHELMED

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP) — Facing major league opponents the first time this season the Philadelphia Athletics were humbled, 13 to 3, at Galveston yesterday by the St. Louis Nationals. The American League were able to collect but five hits while the Cardinals hammered out 18 safeties.

At Leeburg the Phillies continued to overwhelm college opposition, defeating Stetson college, 26 to 1. The Athletics and Cardinals play again today.

Hoosier Captain to Lead His Men Against Japs

DAUPERT GETS HOME RUN

LEWIS' RECORD ONE OF FIGHTS

Head of Miners Union Experienced in Combats Between Employers and Employees

INDIANAPOLIS, (AP) — As the leader in the happening, nation-wide coal strike, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, will enter his fourth big industrial conflict. Unless present indications convey he will lead labor's largest strike army in the history of the United States, for the strike set for April 1 threatens to call more than 500,000 workers scattered throughout the United States.

Conflicts between employers and workers, in which Mr. Lewis has stood out prominently, are these: The 1919 soft coal strike of 305,000 miners, which was broken by the government, after which the miners got a 23-cent a ton increase in the wages, the largest single pay advance. The first national coal strike in 1913-14, to unify the steel industry. Mr. Lewis having charge of the field work of the American Federation of Labor, the movement failed, according to union men, because of widespread unemployment.

Hold Important Post

The great copper strike in Upper Michigan, during 1918, in which Mr. Lewis, as general field agent of the American Federation of Labor, assisted in the general conduct of the strike. Strike troubles, however, have been only a small part of Mr. Lewis' work within the organized labor movement. In 1910 at the age of 29 he was elected a representative of the Illinois union miners, and in October, 1911, he became general field agent of the American Federation of Labor, residing in February, 1917, to become statistician of the United Mine Workers of America. On October 25, 1917, he was elected vice president of the United Mine Workers, and on February 6, 1920, became president, having for a short time previously held the union's acting president.

Since 1916 Mr. Lewis has participated in all interstate conferences between miners and operators in the adjustment of questions affecting the mining industry, and since 1917 he has had full charge of the administrative and field forces of the union in extending the organization into many non-union fields.

To Revise Mining Laws

In 1910-11 he was a member of the commission, composed of miners, operators and public men, which was created by the Illinois general assembly to revise mining laws, and in 1916 he declined an appointment from Governor Lowden as director of the Illinois department of labor. During the war he was a member of the National Committee on Coal Production, and later co-operated with the National Fuel Administration on problems affecting coal production and distribution in the first year of President Harding's administration. Mr. Lewis served on the commission that correlated the work of various government bureaus dealing with the welfare of ex-service men, and also on the commission that laid the foundation for the recent unemployment conflict.

NATIVE OF IOWA

In brief, Mr. Lewis' life story is one of a miner's son, born in an Iowa hamlet, who has become the leader of one of the most powerful labor organizations in the world. He was born February 12, 1880, at Lucas, Iowa, and after attending the public schools entered the mines to work for his father. Later he supplemented his public school education with courses of reading and study in specialized subjects, particularly economics. In his twenties he traveled extensively through west and southwest states, engaging in coal and metalliferous mining. He is married and has two children, a son, age nine, and a daughter, age two.

Disagrees with Howatt

As president of the miners' union Mr. Lewis has for months past been in disagreement with Alexander Howatt, who he accused as president of the Kansas district union, and Frank Farrington, the Illinois district president, who has championed Howatt's side. In those controversies Mr. Lewis' policies have won approval wherever brought before the union's conventions. The fractional fight, however, is a latent threat of a rift in the unity of the miners' toilers in event of the great strike.

PARDON IS DENIED

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Governor Miller has denied the application for a pardon for Jim Larkin, the Irish agitator convicted of criminal anarchy he announced today. STRIKE SCOPE EXTENDED. LAWRENCE, Mass. # Two Ounces OF MIRACLE OIL poured in the fuel tank to each five gallons of gasoline or kerosene, by living through heat of the combustion chamber, will lubricate the upper cylinder walls, valves and valve stems, reducing friction where friction is greatest; prevent carbon formation, maintain compression, and save at least 15 to 25 per cent in fuel which is three to five times the cost of MIRACLE OIL.

Considering the facts, can you continue to operate your car, truck or other combustion engine without this upper lubrication when every stroke of the piston against dry upper cylinder walls is grinding away the most vital parts of your motor?

TWO METHODS MAY BE USED

Technical Tangle in Senate Over Pacific Treaty to be Cleared Up Soon

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Two methods of clearing up the technical snarl over the four-power Pacific treaty and its supplementary measures were under consideration today by republican leaders, while senate continued debate on the supplementary measure excluding the Japanese mainland from the scope of the four power treaty.

Adoption of separate resolutions ratifying the supplemental declaration, including mandated islands and excluding domestic questions from ratification of the declaration would not require action by the other signatories.

Ratification of the Japanese mainland supplementary treaty within a few days was predicted. Informal discussions today, it was said, disclosed that the ratification vote probably would be larger than that which approved the four-power treaty.

Leaders planned to proceed with voting on the supplement despite the absence of fifteen senators on the Muscle Shoals inspection trip.

PARIS, (AP)—The French government will approve of adoption by the League of Nations of a resolution for the four-power Pacific treaty adopted by the United States senate, it was stated today in official circles.

RUSSIAN GRAIN IS FAR SHORT

Yield for Year Estimated to be but a Fourth of Pre-War Averages in Country

MOSCOW (AP)—Russia's total grain yield for 1922 will be only about one-half the average before the war, the commissar of agriculture estimated. He forecasts the total as two billion pounds (about 36 pounds each).

The 1922 crop will be small, it is estimated, principally because of the failure of the seedling campaign. Some of the seed purchased in America for the government may arrive in time for use but, up to the present, out of the 10,000,000 pounds of seed grain which the government hoped to furnish, only 1,000,000 pounds have been received.

The unexpected famine in the Ukraine also contributed to the lack of seed and grain. The government has decided, it is said, to fix the national levy this year at 35,000,000 pounds, or about 10 per cent as compared with 250,000,000 pounds requested but not all secured last year.

Institutionary tendencies continued to rule at the opening of today's stock market. Leaders of the railway and industrial groups were neglected, while speculative issues denoted further selling pressure. Gains extending from fractions to one point in Pullman, Virginia-Carolina Chemical, International Harvester, Sears Roebuck and Central Leather were balanced by recessions of the same extent in domestic and foreign oils, junior transportation and utilities; notably Market Street railway preferred. Stocks were steady on the prospect advance of who advances announced by independent producers.

NEW YORK, (AP)—Trading in stock today was moderate, but prices again moved forward on buying of speculative industrials and specialties. Sales approximated 650,000 shares.

SAG IN WHEAT PRICE RESISTS SHARP BUYING

Weakness of Liverpool Market Depresses Chicago and is Reflected in All Grain Prices on Board

CHICAGO, (AP)—Downturn in the price of wheat here continued in the early trading today from relative weakness shown by values at Liverpool. Selling here was also induced by estimates that the Argentine exportable surplus is 10,000,000 bushels in excess of figures heretofore generally accepted.

Subsequently, unfavorable crop reports from Oklahoma and Kansas, together with cold weather in the northwest and west, had a bullish effect but the market soon weakened again. The close was unsettled, 3-4 net lower to 5-8 advance with May $1.22 1/2 to $1.32 1/2 and July $1.19 1/2 to $1.19 1/4. Corn declined with wheat. After opening 1 1/2 to 5-8 lower, May $8-3 to $8 1/2-2, the market displayed but little power to rally.

NEVADA COPPER CAMP TOWN WILL BE PUT ON SALE

Twin Falls Men, Confident of Construction of Idaho Central Railroad Form Company to Put Townsite on Market

Confident of the early construction of the Idaho Central railroad to afford a railway outlet to the south for Twin Falls, an act of J. H. Detweiler, M. F. Rhyley, J. N. Charr and H. S. Beale, heretofore composing the Twin Falls Realty company, have formed the Contact townsite company with headquarters here, to act as a local agent for sale of townsite property at Contact heretofore controlled by the Gray Mining company together with the adjoining townsite property known as the "railroad" townsite.

The townsite property covers approximately 100 acres. It is situated about 70 miles south of Twin Falls. That portion of it heretofore held by the Gray interests was taken over some time ago from Henry Smith of Tacoma and associates who gained possession of it some 15 years ago.

Facilities Are Immense.
The present population of Contact is estimated at about 100 persons. Resources of the copper mining district for which it is the center, together with the building of the railroad, it is said, will make possible the building of a city of 10,000 within the next few years.

The new townsite company is arranging to open offices at Contact and will immediately launch a vigorous campaign for the sale of lots which have been listed at from $400 to $500 for business property and down to $200 for residential lots.

In connection with its interests in the townsite the company has obtained control of a rock quarry in the vicinity of Contact, which, it is said, is capable of producing an almost unlimited quantity of "luffs" rock. This rock, when quarried, is so soft that it can be worked with a hand saw. It hardens under exposure and becomes a durable building material. Several buildings in the vicinity of Contact are constructed of this rock, have stood for years without indication of deterioration.

Give Basis for Confidence.
As a basis for their confidence that construction of the Idaho Central railroad will be started in the near future, officials of the Contact townsite company today made a letter from George L. Davis, president of the railroad company, to J. A. Cron, of Twin Falls, in which Mr. Davis says that he "can only reiterate what J. L. Stewart and myself made public through the public press in Twin Falls, that so soon as weather conditions permit, we will have engineers in the field making the final survey for the Idaho Central railroad."

Accompanying this letter Mr. Davis sent a copy of the San Francisco Bulletin containing an article in relation to the plans of the Idaho Central company. "The meaning of the Western Pacific and the Southern Pacific being in favor of the line is that favorable traffic agreements will be made with them, which is much better than otherwise," Mr. Davis says in reply to a letter from Mrs. Cron advising that many "and various" rumors were afloat and that he wanted the facts first hand.

WOMEN TRIUMPH OVER JOWA MEN

Swamp Males Under Flood of Ballot in Many Municipal Elections

DES MOINES, Ia., (AP)—Activity of women in the political affairs of Iowa towns and cities at yesterday's elections is believed to have brought about election of two of their number as mayor, victory to candidates they endorsed in other towns, the defeat of Sunday motion pictures at Ames and New Sharon and the routing of the town's pool hall at Newmarket.

Women candidates for mayor were elected at St. Charles and Calamus while voters at Charlotte, Mount Vernon and Lenox defeated women candidates for mayor.

Women were elected to the city council in several towns. It turned out that a municipal bond was collateral issue in the towns and nine of them voted two-mill tax levies to have town bands.

WOMAN IS ELECTED.

ST. CHARLES, Ia., (AP)—Mrs. J. C. Young was elected mayor here yesterday and with her the entire women's ticket, Mrs. Jennie Lamb and Mrs. J. K. Kunkle both running for city council.

FARMER-LABORER WINS.

CLINTON, Ia., (AP)—H. W. Cowley was elected mayor on the farmer-laborer ticket over H. N. Howes, republican, by a majority of 320 in yesterday's city election here.

BEST HAND-PICKED MEN.

BRITT, Ia., (AP)—With only one ticket in the field in yesterday's election and that one hand-picked by the men it looked like smooth sailing until the women of the town, some 300 strong, staged the polls in the afternoon and wrote in the name of H. C. Armstrong with such consequence that the republicans elected their entire ticket, three farmer-laborer and one democratic candidate for councilmen defeating the republican opponents. Voting was comparatively light.

Photos Are Hidden Ten Years in Mails

SALEM, Ore., (AP)—J. R. Luper, of the state engineer's office yesterday received a package of photographs which were mailed to him at a little town some 200 miles away in eastern Oregon nearly ten years ago.

Although the package had been in the possession of the postal department since early in the year 1912, the photographs were in a perfect state of preservation and the address could be distinguished easily.

NAVAL TREATY BEFORE SENATE

Lodge Presents Pact in Speech in which He Commends It as Means to World Peace

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—Rapid progress was made by the senate today in consideration of the five-power naval treaty and as midnight passed without the signing of it, much opposition administration leaders began to see a possibility that the pact might be ratified before adjournment to-night.

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—The naval limitation treaty establishing a continuing ratio of sea power in capital ships among the five great powers was brought forward by before the senate today by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the republican leader, in a speech praising the pact as an epochal achievement in the interest of peace.

Ends Naval Competition.
"The spectacular thing in this treaty," said Mr. Lodge, "is the scrapping of ships, but the most important thing in it does it to put an end absolutely to naval competition." The history of the treaty was reviewed in detail by the republican leader, who read from the Baruch resolution authorizing the calling of an armament conference, explained the preliminary diplomatic steps and quoted finally the report of the American delegation explaining the provisions of the pact. The delegation, he said, had the best of technical naval advice throughout its deliberations.

France in the Way.
Regarding land armaments, Senator Lodge said the United States had not further reductions in her own army or propose while the attitude of France made it apparent that "there is nothing sure to be done" in that general direction.

Figures presented recently in the report by Senator Red, democrat, Missouri, in an effort to show that the celebrated 5-5-3 ratio was not in fact was one built largely from popularly in the treaty, were examined in detail by the Massachusetts senator, who declared there was no foundation sense as it had been in America by whatever for such a change. The treaty the same means.

Defies Objection, Elopess

Despite the objection of her parents, due to her youth, Miss Margaret Train, daughter of former Assistant District Attorney Chesney Train, of New York, has eloped and become the bride of Richard Embree, of Boston, her former art student in Paris. They will go from Los Angeles to Algiers for a honeymoon.

provisions, he asserted, carried out precisely the ratio and the policies that had been decided on and announced to the world previously.

Japan Yields Reluctantly.
The Massachusetts senator said that probably the greatest of the controversies within the conference was that originating in the 5-5-3 ratio which France was one all the more to be valued.

Discussing the ratio further, Mr. Lodge declared that France had been treated "much more generously" by the 5-5-3 ratio than she would have been had the basis of ship ratios been taken from the present relationship of tonnage. Under the existing tonnage comparison, he added, France would have had only one ship to America's four while under the conference ratio she is given one to two in the American navy.

Replying to questions as to the reason for Japan's contention for the ratio, Mr. Lodge said that the vessel built last year was not in fact was one built largely from popularly in the treaty, were examined in detail by the Massachusetts senator, who declared there was no foundation sense as it had been in America by whatever for such a change. The treaty the same means.

WILL REPRINT BIBLE AS NEWSPAPER SERIAL STORY

Topeka Journal is First Newspaper to Begin Publication of Book in Its Columns

TOPEKA, Kan., (AP)—The Topeka State Journal is the first daily newspaper in the United States to begin publication of the Bible in serial form, in accordance with the recent suggestion of Dr. Charles M. Sheldon, of Topeka, editor-in-chief of the Christian Herald.

The four gospels will be published in weekly installments of about 3,000 words, Arthur J. Carrath, managing editor of the State Journal, announced. The first installment of the New Testament, a translation in everyday English, will be used throughout. The first installment gives "The Good News as Recorded by Mark."

In a recent address to journalism students at Washburn college here, Dr. Sheldon declared the newspaper publishing the Bible serially would not only give its subscribers an opportunity to read the most interesting story in the world but would render an important service in developing a taste for literate literature. The Topeka state journal made the same statement in a talk before the Methodist School of Journalism at Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill.

Dr. Sheldon is the author of "In His Steps" and numerous other books dealing with practical Christianity. He is a thorough believer in the power of the press and has advocated the establishment of religious dailies for dissemination of Christian literature.

THE OLD OREGON TRAIL

A Narrative of the Wilson Price Hunt Expedition in 1811-12 and the "Great Migration" Into the Oregon Country, in 1862-3

BY WALTER E. MEOGHAM, President of the Old Oregon Trail Association

The history of the Old Oregon Trail is one full of mystery, romance, hardship, faith and endurance.

Why so many people left comfortable homes to plunge into the wilderness known as the "Great American Desert" will never be known.

Why so many people left comfortable homes to plunge into the wilderness known as the "Great American Desert" will never be known.

A part of the trail was traversed by Lewis and Clark in 1805. Then came the Hunt expedition in 1811-12.

Ten years later a party of trappers found and crossed the South Pass. Then in 1823 Nathaniel J. Wyeth built Fort Hall near the present site of Pocatello, Idaho.

Part Hall was the extreme outpost and no wagon or ox team ventured beyond that point. Finally in 1846 a thousand men, women and children blazed the trail clear through to the Willamette Valley.

Mormons on the Trail: In 1847-73, the Mormon made their celebrated pilgrimage to the Great Salt Lake. In 1849 came the great gold rush to California.

The path of the great army of pioneers is a narrow one, and it is of those who fall on the way, victims of cholera and fatigue.

Various tribes of Indians were encountered on the journey up the river. The Ojibwas were very friendly and traded with the party for such things as beads and powder.

Benjamin and Alexander Carson, two great hunters, were met and injured to turn back and go with the party, being a welcome addition to the little band.

The Poncas were the next tribe met with friendly intercourse established with it.

The Shoshone and Flathead Indians were the next tribe encountered and traded with the party for such things as beads and powder.

These Indians invited the party to visit their village which was not a great distance away and the invitation was accepted.

Mr. Hunt and his party intended to leave the river soon and strike out overland. The Arcticans had plenty of horses and Mr. Hunt hoped to be able to trade with the Indians for a sufficient number to carry the party and its luggage.

A party of several days was made in this village with a view to the purchase of trade with the Indians and attended to supplying them all that they needed but could not compete with the activity and shrewdness of the private companies which were not bound by government red tape.

In 1809 he formed the American Fur Company with a capital stock of a million dollars, bought out the Mackinnaw Company and formed the Southwest Company. This movement attracted the attention of the British government.

In 1782 Captain Gray discovered the Columbia River, named after his ship. The United States government attempted to claim the continent reached the headwaters of the Columbia and sailed down to the mouth of the river.

Mr. Astor conceived the idea of establishing a great trading post at the mouth of the river and top of all of the fur bearing country of the Northwest.

His idea was to establish a line of trading posts from the Missouri to the Columbia and have China as the great market for the fur obtained. He interested with him Alexander McKinnaw, John McLaughlin, Donald McHenry and Wilson Price Hunt.

The Pacific Fur Company was formed with the above named men as partners of Mr. Astor.

Two expeditions were devised and set on foot, one by sea and one by land to reach the mouth of the Columbia and establish a trading post. The ship Tonquin, under command of Captain Jonathan Thorn, was fitted out for the voyage and the land expedition was placed under the command of Mr. Hunt.

Mr. Hunt proceeded to St. Louis, which was then the outpost of civilization, to fit himself out with a company to undertake the tedious and perilous trip overland through a savage and unknown country.

He was greatly harassed in his undertaking by the Missouri Fur Company which did not relish the thought of a rival company coming into the field.

Gathers Up Company: But by persevering Mr. Hunt finally gathered together a company of hunters and hunters with which to make the journey.

Included in his company were such men as Donald McHenry, John Day, Ramsey Crooks, Pierre Doran, interpreter, John Bradbury, scientist, Mr. Nathaniel Wyeth and John Bell.

In October, 1811, the party left St. Louis, and proceeded up the Missouri River in boats, where a winter camp was made.

Early in the spring of 1811, the start was made from St. Louis, there being twenty-five in the party. On the trip up the river great flocks of pigeons were encountered which at times blackened the sky, their numbers were so great.

Frequent desertions were made in the ranks of the little company but recruits were also received as they went along so that the party was enlarged, rather than diminished.

Various tribes of Indians were encountered on the journey up the river. The Ojibwas were very friendly and traded with the party for such things as beads and powder.

Benjamin and Alexander Carson, two great hunters, were met and injured to turn back and go with the party, being a welcome addition to the little band.

abandoned at this time and the party took possession and proceeded to build boats on what is now called the river.

At this place Robinson, Hoback, Hizer and John Miller, one of the partners, stayed to hunt and trap for beaver and other animals.

The party embarked on the river October 18, 1811. On October 21st, what is now American Falls was reached. It was necessary to lower the boats around the falls by means of ropes.

On October 24th, the party arrived at a point near the present site of Twin Falls. Here the party met with many reverses and endured many hardships. One of the boats was wrecked and one of the boatmen, Antonio Clappino, was drowned.

CHAPTER XXV: A quarter of an hour later Darius Boland said to Sheila: "He's got an order from England to keep Mr. Calhoun to his estate and to punish him if he infringes the order."

Sheila started. "He will intrude the order if it's made by law, but he will not intrude if he is wise to try to impose it. I will let him see."

Sheila had changed since she saw Dyck Calhoun last. Her face was thinner, but her form was even fuller than it was when she last saw him.

"In some ways only. We have not the same profusion of wild fruits and trees, but we have our share—and it is not so bad as here. It is a better country, though."

"No, why is it better?" the governor asked suddenly. "It is better governed."

"What do you mean by that? Isn't America well governed?"

"Not so well that it couldn't be improved," was Sheila's reply.

"How is it better governed?" the governor asked suddenly. "It is better governed."
