IRISH REBELS RAID OFFICES OF DELEGATES

Seize Records of Free State in Sligo and Close County Quar- ters in Tullamore—Situation is Critical.

DUBLIN, (AP) — The offices of the Free State party in Sligo were raided today by men who damaged the furniture and removed all documents and propaganda literature.

CLOSE COUNTY OFFICES.
TULLAMORE, (AP) — Members of the Irish Republican army entered the King's county courthouses today and looted the various offices, which are "British institutions." The officials were ordered out of the buildings, but were allowed to retain the keys of the offices.

HOSTILE FORCES APPROACH.
BELLCOO, County Fermanagh, (AP) — An extraordinary state of affairs prevails in this district. Irish republican army forces are actually within 100 yards of this little town which is inside Ulster territory.

Use Sandbag Barricade.
The republican forces also have sandbag barricade and tank trucks ready to move into position to close the road. The southerners are believed by local authorities to be in possession of a large quantity of arms and ammunition.

OVERWHELM REBUT.
DUBLIN, (AP) — One hundred young men from Dublin and from other parts of the free state army, were intercepted today at Malloy, County Cork, where they were being changed by a strong party of republicans. A clash occurred in which it is reported one of the free state recruits was wounded.

ATTACK WITH MACHINE GUN
BELFAST, (AP) — County Inspector Harrison reported today that an officer and a sergeant, while on patrol on the shore of Lough Loughlin, ten miles north of Boleo, were attacked by 75 persons using a machine gun. One of the sergeants is believed to have been killed.

SITUATION GROWS DANGEROUS
LONDON, (AP) — Indications that the situation in Ireland is becoming increasingly serious are being met by antagonism of the republicans toward the supporters of the free state are given in newspaper dispatches.

Repulsion in some quarters that the seceding members of the army are trying to provoke retaliation. It is reported that they have killed, although the exact number is not known, several persons, but have created a dangerous tension.

Dublin news little informed on those occurrences than London and reports conflict there as here. The situation in some quarters that the seceding members of the army are trying to provoke retaliation. It is reported that they have killed, although the exact number is not known, several persons, but have created a dangerous tension.

DEAD MONARCH'S FAMILY IS IMPOVERISHED

YESTERDAY the body of former Emperor Charles was conveyed to a temporary museum in the parish church at Funchal, Madeira, where it will rest until arrangements are made for removal to Hungary. The coffin was covered with the old Austria-Hungarian flag. Today the nations of Europe are endeavoring to raise money for the support of the dead monarch's family and the education of his children. As he rose to the vast fortune of the Hapsburgs, he was one of Europe's rich men prior to the war. The picture here shows Charles, his wife and children. It is a reproduction of a photograph taken on Madeira, 1914, where the former emperor was held in exile after his last attempt to regain the throne in Hungary.

MAYOR CALLS FOR VOTE ON NEW OFFICERS

Date for Selection of Council- man Under the Commission Form of City Government is Set for Tuesday, June 6

Call for a special election in Twin Falls to be held on Tuesday, June 6, was given by Mayor P. W. McRoberts, chairman of the commission form of city government adopted March 25, 1922. The election is to be held for the purpose of electing five councilmen, one of whom shall be designated and elected as the mayor under provisions of the commission form law. In the event that any candidate fails to receive a clear majority of the votes cast, a second election will be held to determine the election as between the candidates highest on the list at the first election.

So Anxious for Home He Purloins One on an Installment Plan

PASADENA, Cal., (AP) — Somewhere in Pasadena is a thief who loves a home so much that he will steal it on an installment plan. For some time, hardly a night went by that some small quantity of building material—a window or a bath tub—was stolen from some house in course of construction. Then, indicating the police said that his house was built and he was putting in his sidewalk and driveway—came a series of thefts of cement.

ABANDONED FLAG IS DRAPED OVER GASKET OF EXILED MONARCH

FUNCHAL, Madeira, (AP) — Perfect weather marked the funeral of former Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary yesterday. The coffin, covered with the old Austria-Hungarian flag and smothered with floral crosses and wreaths was conveyed to the temporary museum erected in the parish church.

WILL NOT MEET IN CONFERENCE ON BIG STRIKE

PITTSBURGH, Pa., (AP) — The Pittsburgh Coal Producers' association, today declined the invitation of Chairman Nolan of the house labor committee to meet with the operators of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois and the officers of the United Mine Workers for a conference on the coal strike to Washington April 10.

Airmen Prepare for Hazardous Trip in 1,390 Mile Flight

LISHON, (AP) — Advice from St. Vincent, Cape Verde Islands, says that the Portuguese naval captain, Senechal and Coutinho, will resume their trans-Atlantic flight at 5 on the afternoon of April 11, according to present plans. They expect to arrive at the island of Fernando Noronha, off the coast of Brazil, at 11 o'clock the next day, covering the 1,390 miles which constitute the third and most hazardous leg of their flight from this city to Rio de Janeiro.

OFFICERS SEEK HIDDEN ANGLES OF DAY KILLING

Investigators Unable to Account for Exclamations of Wife of Killer if Stories Told are Correct.

OKLAHOMA CITY, (AP)—Various phases of the slaying here of Lieutenant Colonel Paul Ward Beck assistant commandant of Post field, Fort Hill, Okla., early Tuesday morning in the home of Jean P. Day, old man and prominent attorney, were being developed today by county officials. Forest E. Day, county attorney declared he was investigating possible "hidden angles" of the tragedy.

X-ray photograph settled the question as to whether Beck was shot. Shattered fragments of a bullet were disclosed in the head of the army officer. The bullet appeared to have entered near the top of the head, above the right ear.

Investigate Boos' Angle.
The liquor angle also is being investigated. Coroner McWilliams announced he found bottles and sliced oranges scattered about the room in which Beck was slain.

Mr. Day declared today that nothing stronger than non-alcoholic apricot cordial had been served at the midnight dancing party in the Day home preceding the tragedy.

Lieutenant Colonel Beck was sober, Day said he believed. County officials were trying to develop another phase of the slaying, and why Beck, with the reputation of an army officer to uphold did not leave the Day home after Day, as he asserted passed through the room on his way upstairs to get his gun.

Points Out Inconsistencies.
On this point, W. R. Withington, evidence man for the county attorney, said:

"Beck knew, according to statements which have been made to the police by both Day and his wife, that he was caught in a position which would justify Day in taking his life. He must have known, as he stated upstairs that he had gone for a weapon. Was it that he thought that he, an unarmed man, no matter in what physical condition he might have been, could overcome a man with a revolver and the moral right to shoot to kill?"

"Did he think that on account of his old friendship with Day that the old man would overlook his betrayal of confidence?"

"Did he believe, from an intimate knowledge of the family, that the affair might be hushed up or smoothed over?"

"The statement made by Day indicates that Beck knew of his entrance into the house, because he left the room in which the killing is said to have occurred and stopped behind the porters separating the drawing room from the next room."

Something to Explain.

"If this is so, if both Beck and Mrs. Day knew that Day had returned as they must have done, if the statement of Day tells all the facts, what is the explanation, according to the facts given by Mrs. Day after the killing?"

"According to the officer who arrived first upon the scene, Mrs. Day hysterically cried to Day: 'Where did you come from? How did you get here?'"

Both Day and Mrs. Day have announced they will tell the story of the killing at the coroner's inquest set for Saturday.

HARD TO BELIEVE STORY.

ROBT SILL, Okla. (AP)—The killing of Lieutenant Colonel Beck came as a shock to officers and enlisted men here who were the command of the dining pavilion. Comment on the case has been reserved.

Both officers and men however, made it plain today they found it hard to believe the charges made against him.

UNVEIL MEMORIAL TO LATE ROBERT E. PEARY

Daughter, Born Farthest North of Any White Baby, Lifts the Veil

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—President and Mrs. Harding, members of the cabinet and other high government officials, as well as Arctic explorers, joined in tribute to the memory of Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary today when a memorial was placed at his grave in Arlington National cemetery by the National Geographic society.

The memorial of white Maine granite of her father's own design was unveiled by Mrs. Edward Stafford, who as Marie Peary was known as the "snow baby," because she was born farther north than any other white child. Matt Henson, the only member of Peary's party to accompany him on the last leg of the dash for the pole, was among the honor guests, as were Ronald Amundsen, Vilhjalmur Stefansson and Captain Robert A. Bartlett, the explorers.

SEARCH IN VAIN FOR MAN WHO WIELDED AX

Slaughter of Sleeping Family is Thought to be Work of Insane Man

CONCORDIA, Kan., (AP)—Officers investigating the axe murder on the Tremblay farm near St. Joseph Tuesday night, when Theodore Tremblay was killed by an unidentified axo man and his body buried, four of his young brothers and father hatched, and the home and barn set on fire, said today they had failed to find any trace of the murderer. Bloodhounds failed to pick up a trail.

The four boys are not expected to live, while the father's injuries were not serious. The boys' heads were split open and the father sustained a slight scalp wound and several burns.

Officers said they believe the deed was committed by someone violently insane.

Mr. Tremblay told officers he was unable to remember anything that happened until he found himself on the back porch, where a neighbor attracted by the burning buildings, discovered him. He declared that there had been no trouble in the home or with neighbors and that no money or valuables were in the home.

TO BEGIN WORK ON ROAD OVER GALENA SUMMIT

Fred Ramsay of Forest Service to Leave This Week and Commence Opening of Highway into Stanley Basin

Galena summit now has 90 inches of snow on an average with an even greater amount in some spots along the road according to figures compiled by Fred Ramsay of the forest service, as compiled April 3.

Upon April 3 the actual amount of snow on hand at various points in the Wood River watershed was as follows: Halley, 18 inches; Solida, Creek, 29 inches; Litchum, 30 inches; Winalow's ranch, 40 inches; Bushan John's, 74 inches; Masco, 57 inches; Galena summit, 90 inches; Old Galea, 82 inches. Mr. Ramsay will leave on Saturday of this week to take up his regular duties with the forest service, the first of which will be to begin the work of opening up the road over the summit. He will go to Ketchum by stage and outfit at that point for the spring work. A party of six men will work under his direction at the close of the season. It will be made on snowshoes with toboggans to carry tent, bedding and provisions.

Travel Is Slow. Mr. Ramsay says it will probably take two days to make the trip from Ketchum to old Galea.

Work on the clearing of the road over the summit will be commenced at old Galea and continue to the top of the divide. Sand and gravel will be hauled on small sleds and spread over the roadbed from small pits opened at intervals for the purpose. The action of the sun on the sand and gravel-covered snow results in a much more rapid melting. Where the road is lined with trees those on the south side may be cleared away to facilitate the sun's action.

Mr. Ramsey gives it as his opinion that the road over the summit will be open by June 15, but in view of existing conditions it will take the hardest kind of work to bring this about. The entire party of six will camp on the job until the work is finished or the road in shape for travel.

The women of the Christian Church will have their annual bazaar and cafeteria dinner in the basement of the church on Friday April 7th. The bazaar will be open at 1 p. m. with a display of beautiful and practical articles offered at very reasonable price. The dinner will be served at 8 o'clock.—adv

Social Notes

Edited by Mrs. E. B. Williams. Telephone 393.

The advisory board of the Baptist church met at the paragona Tuesday evening with fifteen members in attendance. After the transaction of business Mrs. W. H. Tolliver served light refreshments, and a pleasant social hour followed.

Mrs. J. P. Duvall gave a delightful musicale at her home Wednesday evening. Those who were present were Mrs. W. H. Dwyer, Mrs. H. G. Alexander, Mrs. P. C. Borber, and Mrs. T. E. Thompson. Later in the evening games were enjoyed, and refreshments served by the hostess.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. John Harlin of Kimberly, entertained the members of the Ninth Avenue club at a delightful sixth party. After the mainline the guests were escorted in cars to the C. D. Weaver home on Ninth avenue east, where Mrs. Weaver served delicious refreshments. Annual election of officers was held, as follows: President, Mrs. P. L. Sheneberger; vice president, Mrs. H. H. Johnson; secretary, Mrs. J. H. Umhough. The ladies who enjoyed this affair were Mrs. B. H. Beatty, Mrs. W. T. Combs, Mrs. John Harlin, Mrs. Elizabeth Hildebrand, Mrs. G. D. Hernandez, Mrs. R. E. Hughes, Mrs. H. B. Johnson, Mrs. F. T. Kellogg, Mrs. Conrad Magel, Mrs. William Routh, Mrs. J. A. Noble, Mrs. R. A. Suttell, Mrs. B. M. Suttell, Mrs. A. D. Stafford, Mrs. P. L. Sheneberger, Mrs. C. D. Weaver, Mrs. E. A. Wilson, Mrs. J. H. Umhough, Mrs. Ed Tolbert and Miss Marie Nevell.

Mention of the very fine paper by Mrs. Turner K. Hackman on John Brinkwater, at the Twentieth Century club Tuesday afternoon, was unfortunately omitted, in the account of the same.

Mrs. George R. Draboy was hostess this week to the Wednesday Bridge club. Mrs. E. S. Larned won the prize for high score, and Mrs. Jack Thorpe received the consolation.

The Mountain View club met with Mrs. Reideman on Wednesday afternoon. In the absence of the president, the vice president presided. As it was Mrs. Fuller's birthday the club honored her with a handkerchief shower. A pleasant social hour was spent and the hostess served refreshments.

Mrs. E. R. Van Cott entertained the Harmon's club Wednesday afternoon at her home on Sixth avenue east. Bridge was the diversion, Mrs. J. A. Campbell winning the club favor. Club members present besides the hostess, were: Mediana H. P. Bates, J. A. Campbell, M. O. Conover, Thomas Rowberry, M. L. House, A. E. Siller, A. W. Husted, J. G. Moore, Ernest Whitteman's Orchestra and Mrs. J. E. Madsen were guests. At the close of the card games a two-course luncheon was served. Mrs. Bula Sawyer coming in to participate.

The Trouseau Shop at the Idaho theatre Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Twentieth Century club proved to be a real attraction. Fifty per cent of the tickets sold go to the club for the fund for the students at Gooding college, and also for the Camp Fire girls' summer camp. Mrs. Dorothy Levy is featuring some of our pupils in athletic dancing at this affair, which will be concluded with this evening's performance.

The Elks gave their last dancing party last evening under the auspices of the outgoing officers. A large number were in attendance to show their appreciation of the faithful work of these members. Good music, good fellowship, and punch to gratify the inner man; all contributed to a delightful evening.

Mrs. J. R. Scott was hostess to the Winodana club yesterday at a 1:30 luncheon. The guests were seated at two tables, attractively decorated with pink and white carnations and ferns. Mrs. C. E. Scott, Mrs. A. K. Pearson and Miss Ruth Youngs were guests. Following luncheon the afternoon was spent with needlework and conversation. Miss Priscilla Munson assisted Mrs. Scott in serving.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Satterlee entertained with a dancing party at their country home south of the city Wednesday evening. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. James Knoll, Mr. and Mrs. James Porter, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. McNew, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. C. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Burt, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Heull, Mr. and Mrs. H. Smock. Delicious refreshments were served at midnight.

Mrs. John Kincaid was hostess to the Optimist club yesterday at her home on Eleventh avenue east. Eleven members were present and the afternoon was pleasantly spent with needlework and social time. Delightful refreshments were served.

The Drama and Literature department of the Twentieth Century club will meet Friday afternoon, April 7, at 8:30, with Mrs. F. O. Dawson, 352 Sixth avenue east.

PLANS ARE DEVELOPED TO FIGHT PROHIBITION

Undertake Repeal of Volstead Act, and Delegation of Authority to States

NEW YORK, (AP) — Leaders of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, had completed today arrangements for a membership rally to be held tonight in Carnegie hall. Announcements of the meeting detailed the purposes of the association as follows:

"To get the Volstead act out of the law and keep it out."
 "To oppose the passage of similar tyrannical laws and to endeavor to have the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment (so long as it remains in force) left to the people of the several states under the concurrent clause."
 "To work patiently, lawfully and patriotically for the real repeal of the prohibition amendment and to preserve the constitution of the United States from further mutilation from a fanatical minority."
 "Pending the accomplishment of the above program, to favor and encourage obedience to the prohibition laws as now effective."

No Defense By Gilbert Parker Author of "The Seats of the Mighty" and "The Right of Way"

"Then you do not speak what is in your mind, your honor. You say what you feel is the right thing to say—the safe course of action. I will be wholly true with you. I came here to see Dyck Calhoun, for I knew he would not come to see me. Yes, there it was, a real thing in his heart. If he had been a tanner man than he is, he would have come to America when he was freed from prison...

"I know he would have done so if he could." When I came to know what he was jaded for doing, I felt there was no place for him and me together in the world. Yet my heart kept crying out to him, and I felt there was but one thing left for me to do, and that was to make it impossible for him to think of him ever, or for him to think of me. Then you came and offered me your hand. It was a hand most women might have been glad to accept from the standpoint of material things...

"No, no, I am not so vain as you think. If I were I should have seen at Salem that you meant to say yes. If you know well you say yes, I thought you were mad and mistakes here. Do not think it was your personality, your looks that induced me to think of you, to listen to you. When Mr. Calhoun told me the truth, and gave me a letter he had written to me..."

"A letter—to you?" There was surprise in the governor's voice—surprise and chagrin, for the thing had moved him powerfully. "Yes, a letter to me which he never meant me to have. It was a kind of diary of his heart, and it was written even while I was landing on the island on Christmas day. He gave it to me to read, and when I read it I saw there was no place for me in the world except a convent or marriage. The convent could not be, for I was not Catholic, and marriage seemed the only thing possible. That day you came I saw only one thing to do—do me mad, hopeless and heart-broken Lord Mallow. "How so? Your very reason shows that it was sane, well founded in the philosophy of the heart."

Sheila smiled painfully. "Yes, mad and hopeless, for he sure as this: He could not kill me one day the growth of years. I could not cure myself of loving him by marrying you. There had to be some other cure for that. I never knew and never loved my father. But he was my father and if Mr. Calhoun killed him I could not marry him. But at last I came to know that your love and affection could not make me forget him—no, never. I realize that now. He and I can never come together, but I can be so much—I owe him my life, for he saved it; he must ever have a place in my heart, be it more than any one else can be. I want you to do something for him. "What do you wish?" "I want you to have removed from him the sentence of the British government, and go anywhere in the world—to return to England if he wishes it."

to be a free man and not a victim of misery. I want that, and you ought to give it to him." Lord Mallow was angry and disconcerted, but he did not show it. "I can do no more than I have done. I have not confined him to his plantation as the government commanded; I cannot so beyond that."

"You can put his case from the standpoint of a patriot." For a moment the governor hesitated, then he said: "Because you said me that, for his sake, not for mine," she returned with decision. "You owe it to yourself to see that it is done. Gratitude is not dead in you, is it?"

Lord Mallow flushed. "You press his case too hard. You forget what he is—a mutineer and a murderer, and no one should remember that as you should."

"He has atoned for both and you know it well. Besides, he was not a murderer. Even the courts did not say he was. They only said he was guilty of manslaughter. Oh, your honor, be as lenient as your name and place warrant."

"It might do," she murmured, and strange to say, she had a sure feeling that he would say yes. In spite of her knowledge that in his heart of hearts he hated Calhoun. As she left the room, Lord Mallow stood for a moment looking after her. "She loves the rogues in spite of all!" he said bitterly. "But she must come to me. They are apart as the poles. Yet I shall do as she wishes if I am to win her."

"No Woman Knows," at the Orpheum theater is the story of great moments in the lives of simple people. It is adapted from the novel "Fanny Herself," written by Edna Ferber and is offered as a Universal-Jewel production of unusual appeal.

"Her Husband's Trademark," Gloria Swanson's new Paramount picture, "Her Husband's Trademark," has secured a decided hit at the Idaho theater this week. This is a remarkably dramatic picture, some of the scenes of which are laid in Mexico and in which highlights appear in all their divinity of action. Richard Wayne renders the star highly efficient support as a leading man and the players generally are of the best.
