FLOODS ARE ON WAY IN WIDE AREA

Rivers Rising in Many States—Torrential Rains Add to Fears of Inhabitants of Several Towns in Middle West

BEARDSTOWN, Ill., (AP)—Blown into a fury by a high wind, which sprung up about nine o'clock this morning, the Illinois river forced its way through Beardstown's levee at 11 o'clock today, flooding 25 city blocks under a four foot sheet of water.

OHIOAGO, (P)—Spring freshets which have already flooded many lowlands, now threaten more serious damage to many middle western states. Rivers almost everywhere are rising, as in Michigan, Wisconsin, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Arkansas. Storms in other states were also rising but not at an alarming rate. Snow was general throughout the northern and middle Rocky mountain area, reports from Denver indicated. Lander, Wyo., reported that it was digging its way out of eight inches of snow.

The snow and wind played havoc with telegraph wires. It was not until late last night that the Associated Press was able to establish communication to cities west of Omaha, Neb. Wind of especially high velocity seemed to center in Missouri. Three small towns, Ash Grove, Harold and Luck, northwest of Springfield, Mo., were in the path of the high winds and two persons were killed and property damaged to the extent of $100,000. The storm today was moving eastward slowly.

QUEER BREAK OF FLOOD.

PITTSBURGH, Kan., (AP)—Wilbur Pillezer of Wotr, several miles south of here, while watching the overflowing waters of a creek near his home yesterday saw a covered float, float into shore. Upon examination, he found scattered hen with hanging over 15 eggs, untouched by the water. He intends to let the hen complete the hatching.

MANY HOUSES WRECKED.

HELENA, Ark., (P)—Telephone messages from Melwood today stated that the midnight storm and 25 to 30 inches there were wrecked by last night's storm and that about 70 houses were demolished on the Lundell-Land and Lumber company's plantation at Lundell.

LEVER REPORTED BROKEN.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., (P)—A telephone message to the headquarters here of the third district, United States engineers, at noon today stated that the White river levee at Laclede Circle, near Helena, Ark., had broken. It was letting in water and, if not checked immediately will cover approximately 10 square miles of farm land.

ACCUSED MURDERESS FREE

Woman Who Fired in Self-Defense Declared Not Guilty in California Court

LOS ANGELES, (P)—Mrs. Esther Albano, tried for the murder of Leone Menfro, who she charged and attempted to extort money from, was acquitted by a jury in the superior court here yesterday. The jury was out 40 minutes.

Mrs. Albano admitted she shot and killed Menfro but declared she had done it in self defense after he had entered her home and demanded $500 under threat of death. She testified she suspected Menfro was responsible for the disappearance of her husband, Angelo Albano, about a year ago.

Menfro was said to have been well known to the police of New Orleans.

Former Denison of Underworld Dies in Salvation Army

'Chinatown Gertie.' Once Notorious Woman of Streets, Reaches Final Chapter

NEW YORK, (P)—"Chinatown Gertie," one of this city's underworld figures until 11 years ago, when she became a Salvation Army worker, is dead.

One bilkarily night in 1911, "Gertie," weary of her miserable existence purchased a phial of poison and snatched down the Bowery toward her quarters.

She stopped at Pell street, an entrance to Chinatown, where a Salvation Army band was conducting a meeting. She threw the phial in the snow and followed the band.

And so "Gertie," pickpocket and concert hall woman, was converted. "Gertie" she conducted a meeting on the Bowery, told the story of her life and converted several human devils.

Sunday night she died of heart disease.

SUGAR OUTLOOK IS IMPROVING REPORT SHOWS

Annual Statement of Utah-Idaho Company Indicates Partial Return to Normal, But Year's Deficit Is Heavy

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, (P)—The best sugar industry is improving rapidly, according to the annual report of the Utah-Idaho Sugar company, submitted at the annual meeting of stockholders here yesterday. The report covered the company's fiscal year, February 28, 1921, to February 28, 1922, and showed a deficit of $4,500,000.

As an indication of the improvement in the sugar business and in the affairs of the company, the report showed that from a total current indebtedness of the company on March 1, 1921, of $14,450,000, a reduction of 50 per cent had been made up to yesterday, when the current obligations of the company were $7,225,000.

The statement of current cash position of the company showed an excess of cashable assets over current debt of $2,403,021.14. In the general statement which provided the detailed report, various conditions and market factors which in the past have set the government Aid Help.

The report made mention of the help afforded by the war finance corporation, saying: "The securing of these funds proved to be a very splendid arrangement, and we hope the plan can be continued another year."

Regarding operation, the report called attention to the economies effected. Manufacturing expenditures were reduced 70 cents per ton of beets allowed, or a saving of 5.64 per cent, as compared with the previous year's expenditures, in spite of the decreased tonnage delivered last year.

Operating expenditures for the last campaign were reduced by $1.34 per

NEW TARIFF IS BEFORE SENATE BEFORE SENATE FOR ENACTMENT

Administration Measure as Reported by Finance Committee Expected to Raise More Money

WASHINGTON, D. C., (P)—The administration tariff bill as rewritten by senate finance committee Republicans on the basis for foreign valuation with provisions for flexible rates and graduated American valuation as recommended by President Harding was presented today to the senate. It was announced that it would be taken up April 21. A long fight is in prospect with some estimates that it might continue for three months.

Taken as a whole, the bill, according to estimates of committee experts, averages slightly higher than the Payne-Aldrich law, the last republican protective tariff act. As compared with the house measure, the specific rates generally are higher, but the ad valorem rates generally are lower as such rates in the house bill were based on American valuation.

Treasury experts have estimated roughly that the bill will raise from $200,000,000 to $350,000,000 of revenue annually. The Underwood law yielded between $200,000,000 and $300,000,000.

Effect in Doubt.

There is a division of opinion among the farmers as to the probable effect the measure would have on the cost of living. In the official report accompanying the bill, it is stated the committee majority had "endeavored to recommend rates that will afford protection to American industry and permit them to pay wages sufficient to enable our workmen to maintain an American standard of living."

With regard to the agricultural schedule, one of the "biggest" in the bill, the report said the committee "adopted the policy of giving to agriculture the measure of protection that has been accorded to other industries with due consideration to the needs of all sections and of all industries." The rates in this schedule generally average higher than those in the house bill and include a large number of items which were on the free list in the Underwood bill, but placed in the dutiable list by the emergency tariff act now in force.

CONFESSION IS OBTAINED

REHWOD CITY, Calif., (P)—Police stated today they had obtained a confession from Arnold Thompson, probably identified from photographs as the leader of a band which robbed the Julian Hart home in Menlo park the night of March 1, terrorized the Hart family and stole $25,000 worth of wine and liquor.

Thompson was arrested yesterday. His confession, officers said, implicated two other men who are under arrest in San Mateo, Cal., and five others who are being sought.

ROBBERS MAKE HIGH HAUL.

CATANIA, Selby, (P)—Bank robbers made a high haul here last night when they lifted the safe in the local branch of the Bank of Bellin, making away with $900,000 lire in bank notes (about $480,000 at present exchange). The doorkeeper and two watchmen have been arrested.

ST. MARIEN, Idaho, (P)—William Berensford, aged 17, of Millerton, Alberta, is dead here as the result of injuries he sustained when he fell under the wheels of a moving freight train last Sunday.

Declared to be a lunatic before he landed in a local hospital yesterday that he was faint from hunger because of having been without food for three days and was stealing a ride on the train. Both legs were severed by the wheels and he was otherwise injured.

His father, George W. Berensford, was expected to arrive from Alberta today.

Reconstruction Impossible Unless Disarmament Leads

War Department Charged With Fooling Congress

Report by Secretary Weeks Described as Fraudulent, Misleading and Deceitful

WASHINGTON, D. C., (P)—Charges that the war department has sold property and is today selling property at ridiculously and criminally low prices to favored customers, concealing from congress and deliberately misrepresenting the facts, were made in the house today by Representative Johnson, republican, South-Dakota.

"As proof of the fact that the war department is misrepresenting the facts to congress," Mr. Johnson, charged that a report by Secretary Weeks relative to sale of property, transmitted to the house last December was the "most fraudulent, misleading and criminally deceitful document that was ever submitted to the American congress."

SOVIET CHIEF PLACES FINGER ON KEY NOTE

Head of Russian Delegation at Economic Conference of World Powers Issues Statement Clarifying Atmosphere with Respect to the Main Feature of Program

GENOA, (P)—George Gitschtein, head of the Russian soviet delegation to the economic conference, issued a statement today declaring it useless to discuss the reconstruction of Europe without also discussing disarmament. Amelioration of present conditions is impossible while the "imperialistic countries" continue vast expenditures for the maintenance of large armies, he said.

Consideration of the Russian question began today with the meeting of the Russian commission appointed yesterday by the conference chairman, Premier Pacts of Italy.

Clash Narrowly Averted

The clash between the Russians and French at the opening session yesterday was still the subject of excited comment, as the delegates gathered today. Allied diplomats believe that only the prompt intervention of Prime Minister Lloyd George of Great Britain and the firm attitude of the chairman averted a break which would have seriously affected the coming deliberations.

Announcement by George Gitschtein, head of the soviet delegation, that Russia was prepared to support any proposals of disarmament were on the agenda was adopted by the supreme council at Genoa, he made the declaration that "unless the Genoa conference leads to disarmament, it will be a failure."

Disarmament Must Come

While Mr. Lloyd George appealed to the delegates to adhere to the agenda as adopted by the supreme council at Genoa, he made the declaration that "unless the Genoa conference leads to disarmament, it will be a failure."

"But before you get to disarmament," he added, "you must have a disarmament pact, with the present agenda, we have all the cargo the ship can carry."

M. Chicherin made another attempt to gain the floor, but was refused the privilege by the chairman, who insisted the discussion had gone far enough, and ruled that the agenda must be followed.

Lays Down Basis

"The first job," he said, "when a country enters into contractual obligations with another country or its nationals for value received, that contract cannot be repudiated whenever the country changes its government without returning value. The second is that no country can wage war on the institutions of another. The third is that no nation shall not engage in aggressive operations against the territory of another. The fourth is that the government of one country shall be entitled to impartial justice in the courts of another."

Any nation which repudiated these "elementary conditions of civilized intercourse," he declared, "could not be received into the comity of nations."

Russians File Protest

At this afternoon's meeting of the principal conference committee, which is to consider Russian affairs, Foreign Minister Chicherin of Russia protested against the presence of the Rumanian and Japanese delegates, because Rumania was occupying Bessarabia and Japan was occupying portions of Siberia.

Premier Pacts of Italy who was presiding over the committee, declined to consider the Russian protest, giving as his reason that all of the countries invited to the conference had a right to be represented on its committee.

The principal committee of the conference, composed of the chief delegates of all the states represented, and attended by the experts of the various delegations, assembled this morning in the palace. Considerable importance is attached to the deliberations of this committee.

Extraordinary police precautions

DELEGATES ARE QUARTERED OVER MILES OF COAST

Towns Along Ocean Front in Wide Area House Visiting Members of Conference—Inconvenience Is Main Feature

BAPALLO, Italy, (P)—The Genoa conference is easily the "most extended" on record—25 miles of diplomats scattered along the rugged Italian seacoast with mountain between them. If there is any advantage in keeping rival delegations from seeing one another, this conference is well located.

But it would be hard to persuade the breathless delegates who traverse the day and nights in motor cars or suburban trains that long distance diplomacy is tolerable. When the delegates enumerate they visit they had motorcars; and when they motor they wish they had taken a train.

The railway passes through a series of tunnels between Tagliero and Genoa, the cars are hot and dark and at length even the glorious glimpses of the sea begin to lose their charm. The motor road is highly picturesque, but as trains are frequent the crossing gates closed much of the time and impatient Austrians, Letts, Jugos-Slavs, Czechs-Slovaks, Estonians and Lithuanians are stalled along distant coasts.

All Languages Are Heard.

As one approaches Genoa, Poles, Spaniards, Portuguese, Hungarians, the noise of languages that never mix the accents and add their various tongues to the general chorus of expletives.

Newspaper correspondents are obliged to do a marathon as many of the delegations are located in hotels so far up the mountain sides that neither motor cars nor carriages can reach them. It takes men who are a combination of Alpine climbers and long distance walkers to cover the scenery over which this conference is sprinkled.

INDIANS PAYING THEIR OWN WAY FOR EDUCATION

Funds for Upkeep of School System Among Oklahoma Aborigines are Actual Property of Various Tribes

MUSKOGEE, Okla., (AP) — The modern American Indian may be said to be paying his own way in pursuit of an education, for nearly all funds expended in the education of the Indians of Oklahoma belong to the tribe administered under the department of the interior, according to H. C. Wilson, supervisor of the five civilized tribes schools here. These schools form the largest and of Indian schools operated under no supervision in the country, he said.

The supervision of the schools of the five civilized tribes—Cherokee, Choctaw, Chickasaw, Creek and Seminole—is to do with direct pleasure of school activity which are ranked in importance as follows: Tribal boarding schools, public day schools and private contract schools. There are nine tribal boarding schools and seven contract schools while the public day school system includes 2300 districts with an enrollment of about 14,000 Indian children. The supervisor's office has jurisdiction over the Indian pupil only in these day schools, not over the public schools as such.

Schools Well Equipped.

The tribal boarding schools are maintained for each distinct tribe and are complete educational plants. Each is equipped with kitchen, dining room, dormitory, laundry, hospital and facilities for industrial and academic education. Most of these schools have a large acreage which is tilled and the product used in the maintenance of the school.

Agriculture is emphasized in all the Indian industrial schools, although saw work, carpentry, leather making and metal work, hand-making for silk and scientific home economics are all a part of the industrial course. The industrial program is a part-time course. Children are given half the pupil devoting half his time to industrial education and half to academic instruction. The academic courses are designed particularly for the Indian.

Six of the contract schools are denominational institutions, according to Mr. Wilson. While the majority is a state agricultural school. Courses in these institutions include the industrial and academic.

TO MEASURE OCEAN DEPTHS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP) — A new device just developed by the navy department and which makes possible the accurate measurement of any depth of the ocean, possible with small hydrographs are said today. In the character of spots in the sea which have never been measured because their depths were too great for the old methods of sounding.

The new device was said to employ sound apparatus similar to that used during the war for detection of submarines. The principle of the use of that of sending a sound on the surface and listening for the echo of this sound from the bottom of the ocean, measuring the time between the sending of the sound and the return of the echo.

REFUGEES ARE GIVEN SPACE IN HALLWAYS

Housing Conditions in Petrograd Beggar Description—Typhus Prevalent Among the Relief Workers

LONDON, (AP) — In the last three months 30,000 Russian refugees have been assigned Petrograd cellars and hallways as permanent living quarters after being housed in barracks, says a report received from an American relief administration agent.

The death rate among these people equals that of the rest of the population of the former Russian capital. "Every person is infested with lice," says the report, "and families huddle together in barracks, preferring death to separation."

All Contract Disappears.

The report states that the average term of work for the American relief administration native helpers is three weeks, for after that period they invariably succumb to typhus themselves.

Preventative Medicine

The tendency of medical science is toward preventative measures. It is easier and better to prevent than to cure. Pneumonia, one of the most dangerous diseases that medical men have to contend with, often follows a cold or a cough of the grip. The cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the pneumonia germ.

The danger of the cold hangs on, the greater the danger. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the first indication of a cold appears so as to get rid of it with the least possible delay. It is folly to risk an attack of pneumonia when this remedy may be obtained for a trifle.—adv.

Washington Monument Shortly to be Graced by Another Contribution

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP) — Word has just been received from the governor of South Dakota by the Washington Monument association that a large granite slab shortly will be shipped here to be placed in the Washington monument. With the installation of this slab, every state in the union, with the exception of Arizona, North Dakota, Idaho and New Mexico, will be represented. No date for the dedication has been decided but it was said to be likely that April 30, anniversary of Washington's inauguration, would be selected.

In accordance with a custom established when the monument was dedicated, February 21, 1885, every state that sends into position in the interior of the great shaft has been of uniform size, and the granite block now ready for shipment to Washington by the state of South Dakota will measure four by six feet, with a thickness of two feet the same dimension as other state stones. No stone may be placed in the monument unless it has been provided for by the legislature of a state, and the states have had the privilege of choosing a patriotic inscription or coat of arms on the slab sent to the monument commission. In the majority of instances coats of arms have been chosen.

Only Living Member.

Senator Sterling of South Dakota, who will be asked by the monument association to arrange for the dedication of the slab from his state. One member of congress who especially will be asked to participate in the ceremonies will be "Uncle Joe" Cannon, who was said today to be the only living member of congress who was present at the ceremonies in 1885 when the monument was dedicated.

INTEREST KEEN POSTAL CLERKS IN EDUCATION IN NEW LIGHT

Growing Enrollments Testify to the Moral Awakening of People

Translating Staff Confronted with Deciphering of Queer Tongues

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP) — The growing interest which officers of the National Education Association declare to be manifested in national problems of education both by teachers and the public, will be the central theme of the annual meeting of the organization in Boston the first week in July, it has been announced.

With the program grouped around the general subject of education and the democratic awakening, it was stated that education would be discussed in its relation to the new world outlook, with special reference to the far-reaching results of the arms conference. Other themes to be considered include training in citizenship, professional training of teachers and the equalization of educational opportunities in rural districts.

Enrollments Heavy.

Public interest in educational problems is finding expression, according to Charles Groves Williams, president of the association. "In the crowds of students that have overflowed the high schools of the land and revealed by enrollments that have exceeded the capacities of colleges and universities."

"It is convincingly evident," he continued, "in the determination of the best citizens, that in spite of the present economic stress, the work of public education shall not be curtailed. It is in every classroom in the land a competent and well trained teacher."

The membership of the association is more than 100,000 it was announced.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The annual commercial contest will be held at Twin Falls high school on April 28. There will be contests held in spelling, rapid calculation, shorthand, typewriting and penmanship. All the schools having commercial departments will be represented here.

READ THE DAILY NEWS

CHICAGO, (AP) — A newspaper clipping in some queer tongue lay on the desk of Michael O'Malley, assistant superintendent of mails at the Chicago postoffice. Attached to it was a type-written English translation.

"What is that?" said Mr. O'Malley in response to a visitor's question. "Oh, that's Vend, one of the 41 languages which our newspaper translators know."

For the benefit of those who have never heard of a language called Vend, here is its story, as told by Mr. O'Malley:

Hundreds of years ago, a band of Norse Vikings forsook the sea and tracked overland into what is now Jugoslavia. Here they found a broad fertile valley, nearly 100 miles across, the present Jug-Slav kingdom, and settled down, marrying native women, whose tribal tongue is the Slavonian of the present day.

From that union of Norwegian and Slav indeed a hybrid language grew, and today their descendants in that valley speak Vend, and in Chicago there is a native newspaper published in that language.

Vend, however, is only an incident in the translator's life at the federal building, for the man who transports it into English knows ten other languages. Like all the translators in the department, where 17 men were employed following the passage of the espionage act, he was drawn from the regular force of clerks and carriers, at present there are six translating on duty, reading newspapers and pamphlets in 11 languages and dialects, including Esperanto.

Although the postoffice employs a number of Chinese students as extra clerks and carriers, none of them has proven able to translate the various Chinese dialects into English, and the specialist in this language is a Norwegian.

Track Teams Are Expected to Bring Out High Order of Athletics

BERKELEY, Cal., (AP)—Two great all-around athletes, Irving Hamilton of the University of Missouri, and Jack Merriam of the University of California, will get into action against each other when their teams oppose each other in a dual track meet here April 15.

Hamilton, captain of the visiting team, holds the American decathlon record, doing 12 feet in the pole vault, 33 feet in the shotput, 23 feet 4 inches in the broad jump, 100 yards in 39.3 seconds, 400 yards in 1:35.75, 800 yards in 3:40.00 and high jumps of 11 feet 11 inches.

Merriam is not as versatile as Hamilton but it is thought he will take more points in Saturday's meet. Merriam jumped 23 feet 1 inch, put a ball 32 feet, threw the discus 130 feet, the javelin 170 feet and can do the hundred yard run in 10 seconds.

WOULD CHANGE MARRIAGE VOW IN MANY WAYS

Love, Honor and Obey Clause Should Work Both Ways. Declares Member of Commission to Revise Prayer Book

NEW YORK, (AP)—Women in the United States are, in nearly all respects, the equals of men and therefore the promises and vows of the man when at marriage should be reciprocal.

Such is the substance of a statement made today by George Zakrabick, member of the commission on revision of the book of common prayer of the Episcopal church, in explanation of some changes the commission will recommend to the general convention of the church in Portland, Ore., next September.

Old Law Different

The common law at that time regarded the personality of a married woman as merged for most purposes in the personality of her husband, a legal conception which, recognized by the church, persisted through the reformation. Mr. Zakrabick said, "I consider that the status of woman has been changed since the medieval time of the twelfth and thirteenth centuries from which it was derived."

Regarding the new financing account published last year the report said: "Because of the low price obtained from sugar sales the company's working account was drawn to a point where it was found necessary to provide new working capital and 300,000 shares of 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock of a par value per share of $10 were issued."

Hobler A. Grant, representing the largest stockholders and as trustee in trust for the L. D. B. church, underwrote the entire issue.

TODAY'S MARKETS

Chicago Grain Market. CHICAGO, (AP)—Wheat tended down in price today during the early dealings, traders giving attention chiefly to a decline at Liverpool and to weakness of foreign exchange.

Export demand was slow but the effect was partly counter-balanced by word of better milling demand at St. Louis, Kansas, and Omaha.

Trade was light and mostly of a local character. Prices finished steady, at the same as yesterday's close to 1-4 cent, July 63-8 to 63 1-4.

Movie Star and Girl Who Accuses Him

Herbert Rawlinson, famed film star, is being sued for $200,000 by Mrs. Ethel Clark of New York, who has charged in court papers that the actor wronged her daughter, Dorothy Clark. Rawlinson emphatically denies the allegations of his accuser.

NEW YORK, (AP)—Trading in prominent industrial and specialties was the feature of today's stock market. Halls were sluggish and the general list proved more susceptible to profit-taking. Sales approximated 1,350,000 shares.

Strength of coppers and foreign oils in the last hour, when call money eased to four per cent, was balanced by further selling of rails, steel and equipments. The closing was irregular.

Manumission was the only prominent exception to the further advance of prices at the opening of today's stock market. Other steels as well as equipments, coppers, motors and oils, notably the foreign group, were high.

Among the less conspicuous issues, Iron Products were the chief features. New high records for the year included several of the minor rails, but that group seemed to be hesitant as a result of overnight developments in the coal strike situation. Mackay companies and Market Street Railway preferred issues represented the higher utilities.

BANDITS STILL GRAVE MENACE TO GOVERNMENT

Official Advances from Mexico Indicate Renewed Outlawry in Three States with Preaching of Open Rebellion

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—Official advices received here today indicate increased revolutionary and bandit activity in the state of Vera Cruz, Jalisco and Nayarit, in Mexico. The rebel in Nayarit were reported to number from 200 to 300 men under the leadership of Pablo Gonzales. In Jalisco six separate bands were reported in the field in open rebellion against the central government, although their strength thus far is regarded as insignificant.

The activity in Vera Cruz was reported to have assumed considerable importance in view of the defeat within the rebel leader, General Miguel Aleman, with a hand estimated at 800 men recently defeated federal forces. The federal commander in Vera Cruz, it was said, is reported to have been better armed and equipped than his own forces and has requested authority to suspend the sales of arms and ammunition of all kinds.

Quiet in North.

Noticeable decline in bandit movements in the northern states of Mexico was reported in the dispatches, despite the sporadic uprisings in the state of Coahuila and in southwestern Chihuahua and Durango.

The spread of radicalism, it was reported, continues unabated, with impetus being given to the movement by emissaries from various countries, including the United States. These emissaries, it was said, are organized and assisted through the agency of various radical organizations and have the support of some Mexican officials. Control of the federal army, regarded as loyal to President Obregon and development of the government's financial resources, were declared to be the chief factor in the present Mexican situation.

Social Notes

Edited by Mrs. E. B. Williams, Telephone 394.

Mrs. J. A. Walker, assisted by Mrs. Mary J. Norton, Mrs. M. C. Ware, Mrs. L. W. Husted and Mrs. H. R. Smith entertained the Daughters of the American Revolution at a one o'clock luncheon Monday at her home on Main Avenue North. The society discussed at some length the matter of the new constitution of the state. Several instances of desecration were cited and plans for definite action were outlined.

Mrs. Kennedy Packard and Mrs. Wilbur Hill represented a committee appointed by the regent to investigate the feasibility of erecting a memorial tablet to the soldiers of the Twin Falls county who made the supreme sacrifice in the world war. This committee recommended that such a tablet be erected. The report was favorably received and plans laid for raising the required amount. Mrs. C. B. McMartin had charge of the program, the subject being "Forests and National Reserves in Idaho." Mrs. McMartin read the most comprehensive paper on the subject of "Forestry" which has been compiled by Mr. Gardner of Welor and delivered before the legislative assembly. Mrs. White outlined some of the duties of a forest ranger and graphically described the privileges and limitations of sheep and cattle ranging. Mrs. D. F. Sweet read from the report of the American Revolution Makers of the official organ of the national society, a very interesting report in this city last November, contributed by Mrs. Wilbur Hill, historian of the Twin Falls chapter. An excellent half-tone picture of the members as they appeared in the Martha Washington hall was reproduced in the magazine. Twenty-eight were present, including Mrs. Omund, Mrs. Larsen and Mrs. Allen, members of other chapters who are now residing in this city. Mrs. H. H. Schullman of Filer was a guest of the afternoon.

Mrs. I. E. Joslyn was hostess to the Pan-Hellenic club Monday evening at her home on Eighth avenue east, also presided over the business session, being vice president of the organization. Plans were made for a spring luncheon and the names of all who were invited were handed to Mrs. E. B. Heinke, not later than May 1. The entertainment for the evening was a "white elephant" party and there was a choice collection of amusing articles. "After the inspection and exchange of 'white elephants,' there was an elephant hunt, a contest on the part of the guests blindfolded, attempted to pin the tail on the animal. Prizes were won by Mrs. Harold Merritt, Miss Alice Johnson and Miss Zella Ellis. Twenty-five members were in attendance, and daily refreshments were served.

The Shaurter club had a pleasant meeting on April 20 at the home of Mrs. Frank Woods. There was a business session and a social hour during which the hostess served delicious refreshments. The next meeting will be held April 20, with Mrs. W. Z. Irons.

The business and professional women held their regular meeting at their clubroom Monday evening. After the transaction of business, Rev. Charles Gleason Baird gave an interesting address on "Psychology as it Applies to Modern Life."

The coming of new settlers to the Roseworth district, including members of the "modern caravan" which looked westward from the mountains, is largely responsible for the restoration of the old precinct. It is composed of the north end of what was Butte precinct.

WOULD REVIEW ACTION TAKEN ONE YEAR AGO

Attorney General Daugherty Is Investigating the Indictments Returned Against Coal Miners and Operators in 1920

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., (AP)—Attorney General Daugherty was to resume today his investigation of the pending cases in federal court here under indictments returned more than a year ago against 225 coal operators and miners. The attorney general planned to leave here late today. It was believed that the attorney general would resume conferences with Judge A. B. Anderson and Homer Elliott, United States district judge, who will again be conferred yesterday. At his conference with the attorney general, it was believed that Judge Anderson declared he would not permit dismissal of the coal cases.

Operators have declared that the pending cases prohibit participation in a general conference with miners. Mr. Daugherty indicated last night that dismissal of the indictments is under consideration. He declared no decision has been reached.

No Action Probable.

"I may do nothing while I am here," he said.

"The situation in the coal strike is a 'continuous controversy,'" Mr. Daugherty said. "It is nothing but a continuous struggle with periodical respite, that come around like a geyser, but with not half so much fun to the people who pay the price."

"The government is not talking sides but it is interested. We are not deciding now who is right or who is wrong. The government is interested in seeing that the people enjoy the natural resources of the country and get fair and reasonable prices."

"The government is interested in the fact that the owners of mines get a fair return on the capital and labor invested. The public will be willing to pay a fair return to both."

"The government is very anxious to know all it can of the situation," said the attorney general, explaining his attitude. "I am here to investigate certain things that cannot be investigated in the regular course of affairs."

HEAD-LETTUCE INDUSTRY MAKES ENORMOUS STRIDE

Requests for Information on Crop Production Come In by Hundreds

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, (Special)—The head lettuce industry is growing by leaps and bounds in Idaho and throughout the northwest if the numbers of requests for information on this subject received by the University of Idaho department of horticulture can be taken as a criterion. In an effort to supply this demand the college of agriculture recently issued a bulletin, "Head Lettuce," and the demands for copies are unprecedented. The booklet was written by Professor C. C. Vincent, head of the department of horticulture. In one single day the requests totaled approximately 700. Orders have been received from eight western states.

The circular deals with the selection of seed, preparation of the soil for planting and some general suggestions regarding the marketing of head lettuce.

WOMEN ATTACK LAWS

The "militants" of other days may again return to the national stage... The National Woman's party. Property and marriage laws which discriminate in favor of the male of the species will be the target to displace enfranchisement of the fair sex.

Investigators of the Woman's party had quite a time finding the one state that would make an ideal "horrible example," but Maryland's qualifications finally won for her the coveted honor.

Maryland, it seems, is a barbarian state which freely gives man permission to literally treat woman under foot... Maryland is one of three states which give the father the right to will away from the mother the guardianship of her minor children without her consent.

Mothers are not equal guardians of their children; the right of the father is superior to that of the mother; he owns the children's services and their earnings; he has a legal right to control their upbringing; decide their religion; their education; their work.

A married woman may not choose her legal residence. Should the husband maintain a voting residence in another state while actually living in Maryland, his wife would have to go to that other state in order to vote.

Divorce laws are more liberal for the husband than for the wife... Inheritance laws discriminate against women. Women may not serve on juries in Maryland. Women may not hold certain municipal offices.

Maryland's laws have been found out, and that fair state may now expect stirring trials until the constitution, laws, or whatever it is that is trampling woman in the dust, has been amended.

CHURCH MEMBERS INCREASE

The oft-repeated charge, that the American people are becoming more worldly in their outlook on life seems to be refuted by church membership statistics printed in the current number of the Christian Herald...

These figures indicate that the churches are not only confining their power for good, but are steadily increasing their sphere of influence... These figures effectively answer the question, "What is the matter with the church?" There is nothing the matter with it.

BANITY RETURNS IN MEXICO

Americans generally should be pleased with the prospect of a return of amicable relations with Mexico... The causes that led to Mexico's fall into disrepute with the United States government and people were not so much material as moral, and remedial by the Mexican government of the causes for disunion will be a great moral victory for this country.

There will be a lesson too, for European governments in the conference to be held in New York next month between international bankers who floated securities of the Mexican government, and railroad securities guaranteed by the government, and representatives of the Obregon regime to discuss recognition of the southern republic's obligations, upon which no interest has been paid for nine years.

These bankers now have slight financial interest in the obligations of the Mexican government, but they distributed more than half a billion of these securities among investors in the United States and Europe and feel that their reputation is at stake. A nation that fails to meet its contracts and obligations has no standing anywhere, and this, in the main, is the cause that led the world to continue its ostracism of Mexico after a semblance of order had been restored in the land to the south of this.

ENGLAND WILL SATISFY DEBT TO LAST PENNY

Great Britain Asks Only for Friendly Co-Operation of America in Matter of Financial Obligation of the Nation

LONDON, (AP)—Frederick C. Goodenough, widely known British banker, discussing "some aspects of the problem of international debts and reparations payments" at a luncheon given by the American chamber of commerce on Monday, said it would be for the good of the world if Great Britain and America should come to an agreement as to the economic aspects of the problem.

Referring to the British debt of $52,000,000 pounds to America, Mr. Goodenough said: "This amount was borrowed from America after she entered the war, and during the same period some of the largest sums were lent by Great Britain to her allies in addition to what already had been lent before that period. It is important to recall that the United States had not lent this sum if it would not have been necessary for her to borrow money from America. Everyone will agree that through the action of Great Britain, America is in a better position than if this money had been lent by her directly to the other allies."

Will Pay in Full "I do not suggest that Great Britain should not pay this debt for which she has been held liable. My own view is that Great Britain inevitably will pay her debts in full, even though they were incurred on behalf of others. But I think such a case as this America should not press up but should stipulate time for payment and should lend a friendly hand in the matter of interest by modifying the rates charged in earlier days while she were finding her hard struggle to cope with the financial obligations which were incurred through the part we played in the war."

Miniature Paper Mill An American-built paper mill, shipped to the Siam government for experimental purposes, according to an illustrated article in the Popular Mechanics Magazine, is one of the most complete units ever built. The mill is of small size, being only 45 feet long. It is equipped for the manufacture of all kinds of writing and printing papers, and is patterned after the experimental unit of the United States Government of windows. The mill includes such essential parts as a Franklin stove, 43 inches wide and 23 feet long, two 300-pound wood-tube boilers, a small engine, a 600-point rotary beater, a cylinder drier, screens, sheet cutter, and bleaching plant, besides all fittings and accessories.

Out of the Mouths of Babies. A few days ago, a leading business man of Jeffersonville, an active Republican and widely popular, as well as a most forceful basketball bug, which makes him popular also with the boys, went into a barber shop for a shave.

During the shave, however, the barber and the customer were in a tussle when a little miss of three stepped in with her mother to have her hair bobbed. She looked instantly at the barber's subject and her countenance registered great surprise, then horror and then disgust.

"Oh, mamma, look at that ugly man!" she exclaimed.

Woman Students in Prussia.

During the school session, 1920-1921, there were 41,377 women students in Prussian universities as against 1,150 in the winter semester of 1908-1909. Medicine seems to be an especially attractive subject since the year. The admission of several cultures was given as the main reason for study 12 years ago. There are now definite goals of a professional nature. It is interesting to note that the mechanics and day laborers' classes are furnishing an ever-increasing number of women students.

AN ORVILLE

By MILDRED WHITE Copyright, 1922, Western Newspaper Union

Diana's elder sister brought her argument to a climax. "Remember, my dear," she said grandly, "that you are an Orville."

"Orville?" asked Diana, "exactly what does that mean? First and always, I am an American, and if my mother chose to fall in love and marry into an aristocratic old family, why should I be continually persecuted with the fact?"

Goodenough shrugged. "Mother was a sweet and lovable lady. You greatly resemble her picture, Diana. But she wore herself out endeavoring to live up to the requirements of father's family, falling completely in the end. Mother's tastes and ambitions were simple and homely, like yours, my dear. The rest of us are all Orvilles. And I don't mind confessing here, in the secrecy of my household, that my marriage was made in accord with the dictates of fatherhood. I need them, my dear. Aunt Phyllis Orville talked with me often concerning my duty, and I knew what would be expected when Grandmother Orville, in my girlhood, sent me abroad, was supposed to repay that kindness by a qualifying marriage. And I did. Goodenough is a banker, coming from one of the finest families in Boston. There was a boy in the co-ed college I attended—"

Goodenough paused. Her usually sharp blue eyes were filled with dream. "Never mind that episode," she went on. "I merely refer to it to show you that we all love our lives and that they are really put in abeyance. I admit I rather fancied this stranger admirer of yours, until Louise Atwood, accidentally of his boarding place, my dear! Think of a man of the 'sums' presuming to force his attentions upon you! I declare it makes me furious when I realize how Louise must have 'traged' in secret over our humiliation."

"She need not grieve," Diana said, her quiet tone in pleasant contrast to her sister's excited one. "John Dalton is a man, whether he lives in the sums or in the exclusive parks, though that 'sums' remark is an exaggeration. He does border, he told me so frankly, in an old and shabby part of the city. He is trying to make his way up in his profession, alone and unaided. He thought," added Diana gravely, "that could marry some girl who had nothing in the world, 'the girl raised her lover, dashed free, 'tis of consequence to John now, save our marriage—and his profession.'"

Goodenough jumped to her feet. "How 'bravely'?" she exclaimed. "Has your affair gone as far as that? What will father say, if you persist in this foolishness?" the sister asked.

"Diana arose. "I don't know," she replied. "I guess I'll go and ask him."

Her father was not in any room of the apartment which they shared together, so she sought him later in his office.

"Father," the young, lovely daughter asked abruptly, "what would you say if Aunt Phyllis Orville, and my very sisters obliged to live up to her snobbish standards?"

"Brought up like a Orville, Phyllis was," he said. "We Orvilles had a pretty fine home, big stone place facing the city court. Phyllis inherited the property and disposed of it, I suppose, long ago. Foreigners and business bucks have crowded out the court. It's railed plain Court street now. I never drive down that way—tarnishes my manure."

"Court street," repeated Diana. "Father, I came to ask you about Court street. It's where a man lives that I love."

"Loving," whispered Colla Orville. He went out to his daughter.

Diana nodded. "John is a civil engineer, father," she went on, "and I own a few Old Stewart thinks a great deal of him. But Goodenough is humiliated because I want to marry John. For I am an Orville, and he lives on

GRIM WEST AFRICA

Country of "Heat and Horror" to White Man.

British West Coast Colonies Hold Immense Wealth and Secrete Which Daily Modern Science.

W. Alan Leithbridge, in his book "West Africa," gives a clear and interesting account of the West Coast colonies as they are today, of their "heat and horror," of their immense wealth, and of their strange medical problems. Wounds in the white man will not heal there and no white child may be born. Nor has the secret of tropical fever been mastered, though Sierra Leone is no longer "the white man's grave."

He has some grim stories to tell—one, which is one of the lauded castle at Elmina, where no one sleeps without a quail. It appears that a party of three men and one woman were playing bridge very keenly in the tropical night: "Of a sudden the lady put her hands to her eyes as though dazzled. Asked if anything were the matter she denied anything wrong and continued playing. Then and she clapped her hands to her eyes, gave an exclamation, and fainted 'dead away.' What she had seen she could not or would not say, but the tradition is that a headless woman walks the castle."

Nor does Mr. Leithbridge reject the power of magic. He ventures for one strange story: That at a point in the Niger delta is a hut near a store were a number of native workers, under "liberal supervision." Their headman said it was "good place." "One morning a Koro boy was reported dead; a post-mortem revealed no apparent cause of death. Next morning two men had departed this life and again post-mortems revealed nothing. On the third morning four men were dead and there was something like a panic."

All the men were at once removed, and a fresh batch brought up to be placed in "the same sinister house." They, too, died in the same mysterious way, and it was decided to burn down the hut. "Then something fell to the ground and was seized by the headman who rushed up to the doctor shouting, 'Here he plenty bad thing, sah! Fit to kill all men, sah! He hold at arm's length two human finger bones which had been tied together with a bit of native twine in the shape of a rough cross.'"

This and the Juju was disposed of the doctor ceased. The Niger delta is not a place for lonely white men to take walks in the gloaming, an instance mentioned of one "rummer" who did so and "two days later his mutilated corpse was found waterlogged in the sinister mangrove swamp. Nor is it a place to be hurried in we are told that in digging graves the water is reached and the mourners have to stand upon the coffin to hold it down.

Not That, Not There, My Child. "Mother," said little Raymond, "please show me the place in the Bible where it tells about Santa Claus."—Boston Transcript.

Unlucky Tom. A real old-fashioned Yankee was telling a friend of the ill luck experienced by his son Thomas.

"In the last case, as an example," he said, "just as soon as he went to Boston to work, Tom fell in love. She lived in one of the suburbs, and liked Tom made up his mind to like her, he went and bought a dry-trip ticket to her place and—"

"Well, what happened?" "What happened? Why, he was turned down at the second call and the ticket was left on his hands! If that isn't hard luck, please tell me what is!—Milwaukee Sentinel.

New Ship Signals for Use in Fog. Most ship collisions in fog are due to the difficulty in detecting the exact direction that the white and bell signals come from. A veteran sea captain has devised a new method to overcome this.

He uses four signal horns of different tones, two alrens, a steam whistle and a steam gong, all operated by foot levers. Each of these corresponds to one of the cardinal points of the compass, and is sounded in a fog only when the ship is headed in that direction.

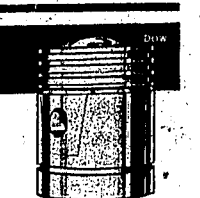

Sure of One Audience. Having retold his favorite joke several times without eliciting even a polite smile from any of his listeners, Boggs turned angrily on his heel and muttered:

"I'll get a laugh on that story if I'll get the reason why. I'll go tell it to Smithers. He borrowed money from me yesterday."

Peculiar Chinese Rice. An exceedingly interesting article in China the coloring food products, ones its color to a species of mold which is cultivated with the rice by special treatment. The red rice is reduced to a fine, soft, red powder before used.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale
BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

WITTY WITCH'S PARTY

The trees around which all dressed in their best gowns which the dressmaker, Madame Fresh Snow, had just finished for them. She had sent these gowns by her messengers, the trusty Snowflakes.

"You know," said one of them, "there were a little bit faulted and hurt the other day because one of the fairies came up here to see one of our cause she said there was an expression about being up a tree."

"She had wanted to have a job for the party and so she had said she was up a tree and didn't know whether to go to the fancy dress party or to be because she only had her regular dress on."

"We were quite doubtful for a time as I seemed to it was quite a dreadful way for folks to regard us, as though we were such unclean, puzzling creatures. And as though we never had any minds of our own."

"But he has been explained to us since by the Fairy Princess Twilight Bell and so now we understand that there is no fault in it to us and we're very thankful and feel quite all right."

"To show how happy we feel again we've got these new gowns from Madame Fresh Snow, aren't they lovely?"

"Lovely, lovely," said Witty Witch. "And now all my guests are coming to the party. Later on we're going to get inside my dear home but I've built some snow castles about with snow roofs and we're going to look out of the windows made by the icicle brothers at the late visitors."

"The windows are very thick and well made. They're not so thick we can't see out of them."

"And the late visitors are going to be Prince Sleet and some of that jolly old crowd."

"I expect to have my guests watch a most beautiful winter storm."

"Ah, here come my guests. Before they arrive at my door I want to tell you, Trees, that I'm giving an entertainment for them."

The guests all arrived and greeted Witty Witch with smiles and bows and cries of joy.

"I'm going to have an entertainment all the party," said Witty Witch and all the guests clasped their hands with joy and cried out:

"Hurrah!"

They went into Witty Witch's hut and through a door entered the most enormous snow castle where chairs were arranged for all.

"You will see," said Witty Witch, "the entertainment which I have arranged for you. You will see some of the old sayings acted out."

A stage was before them and the curtain now was being raised. They saw many, many enemies dressed in the rucks threw up into the air the spooks they had been stirring the broom with and cried:

"It is quite simple, there is no use in doing anything now."

Then they saw the curtain lowered and in another moment it was raised again and there were many children sitting in front of huge plates of food. Their eyes were as enormous as could be and their mouths looked very amill; over them a sign read, "Their eyes were bigger than their mouths," for they had thought they would be able to eat more than they found they could.

Again the curtain was lowered and again it was raised.

This time they saw a great many people smiling and laughing and in the distance, from where they had come, were many bridges.

"We didn't worry or cross our bridges until we came to them," they cried, "and so we didn't waste our time worrying but went ahead and when we came to them they weren't bad at all!"

So the entertainment went on, winding up with a glorious winter storm which they all watched as they sat and ate a delicious supper which Witty Witch had prepared for them. Mosquito Wisp and Fleck Ball.

BUTCHERS MUST PAY UP OR GIVE UP INSPECTION

City Council Instructs Meat and Dairy Inspector to Collect Fees Under Provisions of Ordinance

Instructed to withhold inspection from slaughter house operators who should fail to pay inspection fees were delivered Monday evening by the city council to Dr. W. L. Khard, meat and dairy inspector, who reported that out of the three operators who had paid the fees in full, and defunct names had not been received from the other two.

Inspection of meats which was suspended under provision of a restraining order obtained by several of the butchers, has been resumed since receipt of District Judge F. Bailey Lee's decision upholding the city's meat inspection ordinance. One of the butchers has renewed the suit attacking the validity of the ordinance, but no restraining order against inspection has been asked. The city has filed a writ in district court against delinquent butchers for payment of inspection fees.

Budget Under Consideration

The council Monday night divided its attention between a tentative budget for the coming fiscal year reported by the budget committee composed of Councilmen C. H. Krengeil and C. P. Bowler, and petitions and requests presented by individuals and delegations representing the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce and Twentieth Century club.

Permission to the Twentieth Century club to construct a swimming pool in the city was one of the items of the council after the proposition had been presented by a delegation composed of Mrs. H. W. Clouche, Mrs. H. P. Laird and Mrs. A. B. Martyn and accompanied by John B. Ault, probate officer.

The pool will be constructed in the south corner of the park just across the street from the Christian church. It will be built of concrete in circular form, ranging in depth from three to six inches. The estimated cost is $200 which will be paid by the city. It is anticipated that the pool will be a gathering place for the little folks during the period described by Mrs. Clouche as "the three most difficult months in the year." She said that no civic enterprise upon which the club members had embarked had commanded more nearly unanimous support than the swimming pool project.

Clean-up Suggestions

Suggestions on the part of Alex W. Murray, sanitary officer, for observance of "clean-up week" in Twin Falls were combined with those presented by the chamber of commerce civic bureau members of the business headed by E. H. Hagganworth, waited upon the council with a request for proclamation by the mayor and cooperation by the city in the undertaking.

The date for "clean-up week" to which the chamber of commerce is suggesting a proclamation for the week beginning Friday, April 14. Members of the council took occasion to suggest to the chamber of commerce bureau the formulation of rules for the observance of "clean-up week" that would prevent recurrence of the situation last year when municipal garbage haulers were kept busy for three months after clean-up week hauling away garbage and trash that had been dumped by the citizens on the streets. They argued for recognition of individual responsibility in the matter of disposing of garbage, and for rules for the occasion that would set forth plainly just what would and what would not be hauled away by the city haulers.

Street Signs Costly

The chamber of commerce bureau representatives were told that granting of their request for erection of street signs would involve an expense of "several hundred dollars," and that the city had no funds for this purpose, but promise of consideration for the request was made. City Attorney Taylor Cummins suggested that permission might be sought from owners of corner lots to attach the signs to the dwellings and thus eliminate the expense of poles, which, it was asserted, would be considerable.

The council took under consideration W. J. Luck's application for official sanction for his plan to construct a service station on a corner lot at "Five Points" at the juncture of Main avenue and Washington streets. In this connection the mayor advised that an ordinance under consideration would provide that new buildings erected on residents' districts would have to be built back from the property line on a line with that established by the buildings already constructed in that block.

Authorities Removal of Trees. Authorization for the removal of trees in Hayburn avenue at the south boundary of Yeastert addition, preparatory to grading of that thoroughfare, was granted by the council. Councilman W. E. Sanger was delegated as a committee of one to confer with the Twin Falls Canal company and G. W. Dean in relation to the proposed installation of a check in an irrigation ditch to provide for delivery of water to Mr. Dean's property in the Moorman addition.

Upon recommendation of Dr. Khard, meat and dairy inspector, licenses were granted to the Kluener Wholesale company and to the Arlington Brothers grocery, and the renewal of dairy licenses for W. W. Ashbury and J. W. Young was approved.

The council ordered warrants drawn in payment of claims against the water works fund in the sum of $1044.77, against the general fund for $232.41 and against the street sprinkling fund for $67.75.

CONCERT THROUGH AIR INTERRUPTED BY STORM

High Wind Snaps Pole and Halts Evening's Radio Entertainment

High wind accompanying snowfall that resembled a blizzard Monday night snapped off a pole from which antennae of a radio apparatus at the home of Dr. Frederick E. Snook was supplied through the air from San Francisco. The concert Dr. Snook says was the last that had been received through the device since it was installed some two weeks ago. A group of friends shared the doctor's disappointment, interrupting a concert between war-announced early this morning to repair the pole, because, the doctor says, another concert just as good as last night's is scheduled for this evening.

Power company linemen were called between 2 and 3 o'clock this morning to repair a transmission line bearing electric power to the filtration plant of the municipal waterworks. Damage to the line resulted from the storm. Operations at the plant were suspended while the line was out of commission.

SCHOOL BOARD PLACES BAN ON SUNDAY GAMES

Denies Application of Twilight League Representatives for Use of Lincoln Field for Sunday Baseball

A majority of the members of the board of education of the Twin Falls school district at a meeting Monday night with emphasis put their feet down, individually and severally against a proposition for Sunday baseball games this season on Lincoln school field. The proposition was submitted by representatives of the Twin Falls Twilight baseball league. They offered to put a roof over the grandstand and otherwise improve the grounds at an expense of approximately $700 and pay a nominal rental in addition for the privilege of staging Sunday games. It was represented to the board that the league if denied use of the Lincoln field for Sunday games would endeavor to lease it for week-day games, but would construct a ball field elsewhere.

Sunday Schools to Play

H. E. Powers, former county agent, is representing a proposed Sunday school baseball league, applied for use of Lincoln field for a series of games this fall. The board delegated M. C. Mitchell, superintendent of schools, to further negotiations on this application. It also authorized Mr. Mitchell to deal with the Twilight league in the event the Twilight league decided to leave the field for week-day games.

There will be no abandonment of the general course of study, the board decided by its vote in approval of the report of a committee composed of C. E. McClain and K. B. Peters, previously appointed to investigate the suggestion of Mr. S. Hoover, proprietor of the High Business college, that the course be dropped in the interests of economy. Mr. Mitchell was instructed to confer with Mr. Hoover relative to possible co-operation as between the business college and the high school department.

PREDICTS HEAVY SPUD CROP

Acreage Planted to Potatoes Indicates Production in Excess of Last Year

The potato production for the United States during 1922 will be 100 per cent more than the crop of 1921, according to Willard E. Snedden, San Francisco farm expert, who was in Ogden yesterday, according to the Ogden Examiner.

Throughout the country the farmers have doubled their potato acreage and from those indications over-production will result. This will not only result in a low price for the farmers, but will oversupply the market, Mr. Snedden said.

"This is true, not only in California, but in Utah, Idaho, and other States of the Union," said Mr. Snedden. "In many of the states the farmers have eliminated other crops to plant potatoes."

"The government officials at San Francisco and other points are conducting surveys to determine the exact acreage proposed for potatoes."

"If the farmers complete their present plans the country will have just double the potato, a feature which is bound to hurt the farmers financially," Mr. Snedden advised Utah farmers to get in touch with government agencies before planting too heavy in potatoes.
