W. H. P. Second Fiddle.
Louis Barthou's address before the English and American newspaper correspondents yesterday, the report of which spread quickly through conference circles, was widely commented on this morning. His remarks, which were persistently conciliatory, is determined to play a second fiddle at Genoa. On the contrary, the impression is strong in France will limit to the bitter pill to be "right to live" as the French put it colloquially.

The head of the French delegation, who is one of his country's most persuasive orators, was much in better form than when he scolded those whom he charged with unjustifiably indicting France as a "France of the After-Admiral." The impression is strong in France will limit to the bitter pill to be "right to live" as the French put it colloquially.

World Will Be France.
"We will be France," an intellectual French which is at stake, and we are vain enough to believe that the world will be France. We are not excited; we are a little and we are vain enough to believe that the world will be France. We are not excited; we are a little and we are vain enough to believe that the world will be France.

Germany for Judges.
Dr. With, the German chancellor, who heads the German delegation to the economic conference today visiting Paris, is expected to express appreciation and gratitude for the interest displayed by Plus Plus in the work of the conference. This already had beneficially affected the gathering, said Dr. With.

Germany, added the chancellor, was looking with satisfaction upon the report of the party (and the minister and peace. Only by following the advice of Pope Benedict, confirmed by Plus Plus can the world again find peace. It has lost," the chancellor concluded.

Difference of Opinion.
Divergence of opinion over Russia are reported to have developed at the meeting this morning. The chief point of discussion of the Russian problem.

Participants were Prime Minister Lloyd George of Great Britain, Viscount Balfour of Britain, Foreign Minister Sciano of Italy and Foreign Minister Jaeger of Belgium. The Italian delegation, headed by Count Ciano, is expected to present a document drawn up by the allied experts in London dealing with the question of Russia, which has been the subject of much discussion, has been endorsed by the various allied governments. NEW YORK, (AP)— Death today was standing by the bedside of Patrick O'Connor in the reconstruction hospital and only to say, perhaps, before the mystery attending the apparently premeditated attack on him last night in an exclusive report. Connor, it is understood, was in the city on a mission for his associates, and members of his family were alerted. Around the case, however, there was an atmosphere of cold-blooded vindictiveness that has been a feature of New York's long list of recent homicide cases. STORIES OF MASSACRE WITHOUT FOUNDATION

Killing of Party of Armenians Is Officially Denied

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—After an investigation made by the state and labor departments over a period of three months, it has been determined definitely, Secretary Davis announced today, that no Armenian deportees from the United States under the immigration law have been massacred by Turks and Anastasiadis. Testimony before the committee in December by witnesses urging modification of the law included circumstantial accounts of the slaughter of a one case of Armenians who were deported after their return from the United States to Constantinople.

After having no avenue of useful "investigation" in Constantinople, the committee, representing the Commerce and Labor departments, is now endeavoring to find the slightest evidence to substantiate the charges. "You have invited my attention," the charges of massacres were made originally to the committee by C. V. Hedges, representing the Commerce and Labor departments, who said that the 17 Armenians in question after their arrival at Constantinople had been massacred in the Bosphorus or in the ocean.

PROVIDES TIME CLOCK TO CHECK WORK OF HONEY BEE

Device Soon to Go on Market to Register Activities of Immates of Hives

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The proverbial "busy bee" is to be kept still busier by an ingenious little contrivance just invented by a government scientist.

with a series of telephone message registers attached in such a way as to register each hour's work, when it jumps on or over the contrivance which was said to be operated electrically by alternating current.

The inventor explained that about three hundred thousand bees go out during the day, on honey gathering expeditions, and that while considerable electrical energy was needed to operate the recording gear on the average hive, the amount of energy expended by the device each time a bee passed was infinitesimal.

SACRAMENTO BALL CLUB WILL LET WHISKERS GROW

Spirit of '49 Takes Possession of California Team; Bunting of President Asked

SACRAMENTO, Cal., (P)—In keeping with the spirit of '49 all members of the Sacramento team, from Manager Chuzzle Pick to the utility brigade, today agreed to grow whiskers, provided William H. McCarthy, president of the Pacific Coast league, will permit it.

The movement started with Oscar Stange; who argued that in view of the days of '49 celebration to be held in Sacramento next May it would be proper for the Sacramento ball club to grow whiskers and look like "forty-niners." The "49ers" of the committee leading off the plan, has decided to make a contest of the whisker growing and has offered a list of prizes for players growing the best set of facial foliage.

A telegram has been sent to President McCarthy in San Francisco, asking for a whisker ruling. Pending the ruling Sacramento players will boycott the barbers.

Loss of Two Runs in Fifth Falls to Stop Victors; White Sox Benton 4-2.

CHICAGO, (P)—Loss of two runs in the fifth inning when the ace stopped one and won the luck of the St. Louis Americans in their game here yesterday, but they eventually defeated the White Sox, 4 to 2.

In the fifth with two men out and the bases full, Sister hit to center. Danforth and Tobin had scored when Eddie Collins called for the bat at second, declaring Billie, in rounding second, had failed to touch the bag. Umpire Hildebrand supported the Sox's second out. The inning was over and the Browns were out the inning that would have put them in the lead.

TREE TO BE MEMORIAL FOR LATE MAJOR REED

Idaho Reclamation Association Plans a Living Memorial for Former Managing Director
POCATELLO, Idaho.—The Idaho Reclamation association will plant a tree in conjunction with the "Plant-a-Tree—Make a Pocatello Beautiful" campaign now being conducted in the city. The association will plant some hardy and beautiful tree at some spot to be selected by the people in honor and memory of Fred R. Reed, first secretary of the association and the man who gave it nation-wide fame.

Regarding the memorial plan, Guy Floener, successor to Major Reed as managing director of the Idaho Reclamation association, says:
"The tree planting movement is one to be commended and we of the Idaho Reclamation association desire to join in the effort to improve Idaho. It is worthy of the place of the new park as the late Major Reed devoted his life to improving and beautifying the state and nothing would please him more than this simple, yet effective testimony. His many friends will be glad to join in this memorial. We do not care where it is located, either in some public place or in a private cemetery, but if the people will select a place the Idaho Reclamation association will plant a tree in memory of Major Reed and in yours." The tree will be used to remind a forgotten posterity of the deeds of this pioneer builder of the Gem state.

ELDERS HOSTS TO BOY SCOUTS OF TWIN FALLS

Junior Citizens, Guests of Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs at Opening Evening of Scout Week, Elect Officers

Between 150 and 160 Boy Scouts of Twin Falls were guests Thursday evening at dinner served by members of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, for Scouts, scoutmasters and fathers, marking the opening evening of Boy Scout week observance here.

Electors of Boy Scouts who will serve Saturday as Twin Falls municipal officials, occupying positions ranging from mayor to clerk collector, took place after the dinner and exercises of the evening, including a number of brief talks and exhortation by Scouts of progressive steps in the work of scoutcraft.

Joe Deas to be Mayor

Choice of the Scouts for mayor fell upon Joe Deas, head of the Public Service ticket, for whom 70 votes were cast as compared with 55 for R. R. Reardon, candidate for mayor on the Democratic ticket. With two exceptions all of the candidates on the Public Service ticket were elected, the exceptions being Earl H. Murray, candidate for sanitary collector, and Earl Dierdorf, candidate for city engineer. The highest vote cast was 99 for R. O. Cole, who was elected chief of police.

Every one of 132 Scouts registered for the election actually voted, and judges of the election declared that there were only ten or three ballots which would have been considered spurious at a regular election.

List of Officials-Elect

The complete list of Boy Scout officials elected comprised: Mayor—Joe Deas; commissioner—Wm. D. E. Alford; chief of police, R. O. Cole; "street cop," W. Mentch; fire commissioner, K. Kivrenko; fire chief, T. H. Mery; sanitary commissioner, W. Murray; sanitary inspectors, G. Winder, R. Smith, O. Floyd, R. O'Connell; city clerk, J. H. Harkness; city treasurer, John H. Dyer; city engineer, Ed. Martin; police judge, Carl H. Harkness; city auditor, H. W. Grever; city dog catcher, Burton Perrier; weighmaster, H. Martin; school superintendent, G. W. E. McDonald; Paul McGillion, Fred A. Kingston.

The election and counting of the ballots was not completed until after midnight.

While an orchestra of nine members composed of Kiwanians, Rotarians and scout leaders played "America," the Scouts in a body marched into the high hall where the dinner was served, taking their places alternately with an adult host, scout leader or father.

Expatriation

While the dinner was in progress, members of several scout troops explained and demonstrated the progressive steps in scoutcraft; short talks were given by Wm. E. Bredley, president of the Kiwanis club; Judge James L. Hethwell and Dr. W. P. Passer, and Paul McKinley gave two vocal numbers. The orchestra punctuated the proceedings with instrumental numbers. L. H. Breckenridge was master of ceremonies.

Exhibition of the "Tenderfoot"

Exhibition of the "Tenderfoot" Scout tent was given by members of W. E. Nixon's troop. Jim Stillwell reciting the Scout law, and Bob Nixon a history of the law. Members of E. W. Berg's troop explained several details of Scout tents and gave a demonstration of the amphiprot signaling. Requirements for qualification as a first class Scout were explained by members of Donald McNell's troop.

Hoger Provest, six year old son of Mrs. Katherine Provest, was introduced by H. E. Schuler as Twin Falls youngest Boy Scout.

Members of the orchestra were A. O. Passer, E. W. Shilper and Dr. R. H. Reilly, violin; Dr. H. Harkness and W. Zane Smith, viola; J. T. Bainbridge, clarinet; J. G. Thorpe, cornet; the Bar. Charles Glenn Baird, baritone; M. G. Baitley, piano.

CLEAN UP WEEK BEGINS TODAY FOR TWIN FALLS

Chamber of Commerce Civic Bureau Calls Attention to Spring Event

Calling attention to Arbor day and the opening of "clean up, plant-up and plant-up week" proclaimed by Mayor W. Schuler, the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce civic bureau today issued the following statement:

"This day, Friday, April 14, is Arbor day and dedicated by the mayor of the city of Twin Falls as the opening of Clean-up, Plant-up and Plant-up week.

Where is that tree going to be planted? Of course, the best place for planting shade trees is in the city streets, but incidentally shading yards adds more to the looks of the home place than adds more to the selling price than any other shade tree.

It's spring time now, and time to plant the garden and plan the flower beds which means that it is time to purchase the plants and seeds for the year 1922. Flowers and seeds can't occupy the same garden space which shall it be?

Of course, the best thing to do is to clean up, plant-up and plant-up in order. Doesn't the wife spring clean-up the house every year? Who plants the curtains, cleans up the yard, basement, attic and garage in order. Doesn't the wife spring clean-up the house every year? Who plants the curtains, cleans up the yard, basement, attic and garage in order.

And while you are looking around, something surely needs painting up. Like Lincoln said, "I like to see the front of the house in which I live."

We urge your observance of Clean-up, Plant-up and Plant-up week. It helps prevent fire and makes the city a better place to live in.

INSPECTION IS AGAIN ATTACKED

Twin Falls Butchers Seek to Renew Restraining Order Against Ordinance

Resolving an effort to prohibit municipal taxation of meat and slaughterhouses pending settlement of conditions in dispute at between some of the butchers and the city of Twin Falls, operators of the Independent Meat market are asking for a restraining order from the district court, hearing on the request for the restraining order is to be held before Judge R. Bentley Lee in district court at Rupert next Monday, according to notices received by City Attorney Taylor Cummins.

Municipal inspection of meats and slaughter houses was suspended for some time under provisions of a restraining order issued by Judge Lee the result of several meat butchers when their suit attacking the validity of the ordinance compelling the inspection was instituted some months ago.

While the past week Judge Lee decided the questions raised in favor of the city and inspection was resumed. Subsequently the Independent market sought and obtained permission to file a writ of habeas corpus in the independent. Adjudication of the issues raised in this amended complaint is still pending.

COPPER MINING DISTRICT ON EVE OF GIANT BOOM

H. S. Beals Says Outlook for Road Building Brighton Contact's Prospects

Contact, Nev., copper mining district is on the eve of a tremendous boom, according to H. S. Beals of the Contact Town company, who has just returned from a trip to the district. In this regard Mr. Beals said today:

"With the announcement that the United States government will construct work as soon as weather and quality conditions will permit, making the final survey for their road between Coopers, Idaho, and Wells, Nev., giving transportation to Contact, the center of one of the largest mineralized districts in the country, people are becoming very active in securing their business locations in Contact. Many are already arranging to commence construction of their buildings as soon as the survey is under way, and material can be laid on the ground."

With a mineralized area 50 miles around, and about 12 miles across (about ten times the size of the Contact district), with quantities and quality of the ore already proven by several companies, both for surface and deep workings, Contact promises to be one of the greatest copper centers in America.

Today every one familiar with the immense showings of the camp, together with the extensive interest taken by copper people from all parts of the country, and the development of transportation, are expecting one of the great boom years in the copper industry, and arrangements to take care of the crowds are being hurried as fast as possible.
