A number of other injured, the definite number not being learned early today, remained in Irvington. The majority are not considered serious.

The Illinois Central depot was shifted 500 feet from its foundation and carried about 500 feet by the twister, and was then safely deposited, remaining intact. No slight agent is maintained at Irvington.

The storm first struck here, traveling toward Irvington. The local telephone exchange sustained light damage, was put out of commission. HAYNESVILLE, La. (AP)—Prevented to visit with the mob they were after had been identified by his alleged victim, a mob viciously estimated at 300 to 400, which surrounded the Haynesville jail last night bent on taking Ralph Coleman, suspect in the assault and robbery of Tony Pierce, left 100 of his members in the jail and started on a "cleaning" of Haynesville.

As the crowd went about its self-appointed task, it grew rapidly until by the time it started for Oil Center and Bismaric—it was the announced intention of cleaning those oil field settlements also—it had grown to 8,000. The mob visited hotels and rooming houses, notifying certain men and women among their occupants to pack up and depart and then went to the negro quarters and gave orders to about three-quarters of the population to leave. Doors and windows were smashed at several places, but none of the negroes or others warned to leave were injured. Struck and Bobbed

Gorman Businessman Tells a Horrible Story of Branding of Convicts

BERLIN, (AP)—Fritz Noide, a German business man who has just been released from Butkha prison in Moscow and returned to Berlin declares there has been no modification of the treatment of prisoners there since the Moscow government announced that the dreaded Chkva and its methods were things of the past.

Noide said that from his cell window looking on the prison courtyard he saw naked men branded with hot irons and heard the cries of the victims. His experiences in the soviet prison were so much more horrible than the small fire and branding that he endured in the world war, that there was no comparison, he declared.

Several Hungarian officials released with Noide bore out his assertions concerning the cruelties inflicted upon prisoners.

RUSSIAN DIPLOMACY SCORES NOTABLE TRIUMPH OVER WORK OF THE ALLIES

FRERE OF PARIS OUTSPOKENLY HOSTILE IN ATTITUDE TOWARDS EXTRAORDINARY DIPLOMACY AT CONFERENCE

PARIS, (AP)—Commenting in the Genoa conference the Temps says: "Let's confess that the Genoa conference is a year and the first phase has ended to the advantage of the bolsheviks." "In less than a week," the newspaper continues, "face to face with the allies under the command of Lloyd George they have obtained three important results. They have been admitted to the conference upon an equality which is practically equivalent to official recognition; they have kept intact all the claims without signing or conceding anything; and their decisive success has been that the outcome of the conference now depends on Moscow."

GENOA, (AP)—A treaty between Germany and Russia, was signed at Rapallo yesterday, the signatories being the foreign ministers of the two countries, George Ghitchev for Russia and Dr. Walter Rathenau for Germany. The treaty nullifies the Brest-Litovsk treaty and re-establishes full diplomatic relations on an equality basis.

FOREIGNERS ARE GETTING READY FOR GOOD TIMES

Russian Conditions, Discouraging to Americans Since 1917, Hold Out Increasing Hope for Resumption of Activity

ODESSA, (AP)—Business conditions throughout Russia are improving from month to month, in the opinion of the Americans who are drifting here from many places hoping to be on the ground floor when the revival of Russian trade begins, as they believe it will in view of certain reveals made by the soviet government in its internal trade regulations.

Considered the foreigner's paradise in pre-war days, Russia has offered nothing but bitter disappointments to her American and British residents since 1917, but discouragement is giving place to optimism now that it seems certain the communists, realizing the failure of many formerly cherished principles, will show favor to some of the opportunities formerly enjoyed under the imperial government.

Business, at least for the present year, will continue to be at the carpeting kind, the Americans believe. There is a vast amount of internal trading in furs, shoes, coats, cloth, and other unmanufactured articles, and the traders are getting rich in rubles, which they hasten to convert into foreign money, diamonds or other objects of value.

Real Estate Booming.

The real estate field is enjoying a boom, largely through a regulation which permits individuals or groups to take up large tracts of land and even factories to be operated or leased for profit without interference from the communists.

One American here, Oscar Kuchman, a native of Fenimore, Wis., told the Associated Press correspondent that he has glimpsed prosperity for the first time since 1917. Educated in Russia, O. K. came here at the age of 18, entered the wholesale jewelry business, and finally branched out in the business of selling agricultural machinery.

Will Die Rich Man.

When the revolution swept Russia, he lost everything, and has been living from hand to mouth for nearly five years. He is now 62.

"But I will die rich," he said, adding that he could now resume his business selling machinery, which there is an ever increasing demand.

Despite this optimism there are many Americans anxious to get back home, as they dread the long struggle that will be necessary in order to achieve post-war success. One of these is a milliner who employed 30 girls several years ago, and now does all the work herself. In her windows were a few shirt waists, marked 44 each.

"I am willing to marry any American who will take me out of here," she said. "I'm a good worker and when we get back to the United States we can call the marriage 'off,' if desired. Let it go as a sort of communist affair."

CHARRED BODIES FOUND.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., (AP)—Two charred bodies, thought to be those of Clyde W. Dayton, aged 60, farmer, reputedly wealthy and his wife, Lulu Dayton, 39, were found by sheriff's deputies in the ashes of their home in Dayton canyon, Owens valley, about 20 miles north of Los Angeles last night. Deputies said they believed Dayton and his wife had either met death by violence at the hands of bandits or it was a case of murder and suicide. Neighbors said the Dayton's cabin burned last Wednesday and the couple had not been seen since then.

MEANS FINISH OF STREET CAR WAR

Election in Detroit to End Controversy Over Lines; Raged Thirty Years

DETROIT, Mich., (AP)—Detroit's special municipal election being held today will decide whether the street car war, waged almost continuously in one form or another for nearly 30 years is to be brought to a close.

The voters today are deciding whether the city should purchase at a cost of $10,826,000 all the line of the Detroit Union railway within the city for incorporation in the municipal railway system. The citizens also are called upon to vote $4,000,000 worth of street railway bonds in the first payment to the Detroit Union. The remainder of the purchase price would be paid at the rate of $1,000,000 a year, under the agreement signed some time ago by company and city officials.

The fight between the city and street railway company has come to be an institution in Detroit. It has colored virtually every municipal election for nearly a generation.

If the voters adopt the sales plan at the polls today Detroit will have the largest municipal railway in the world. The system would comprise 476 miles of tracks.

City Wins All Suits.

The effort in behalf of a municipally owned street car system bore fruit about two years ago when the voters approved a plan for a concern intended to operate in competition with the D. U. R. A series of suits were filed by the D. U. R. contesting validity of the election. Many of them were carried to high courts of the state and nation but the city won in each case. About 103 miles of city owned track has been laid and the municipal system has its own cars and other equipment. At present city and company owned cars are operating jointly on two important lines upon which the company franchise expired some time ago.

Saginaw, Mich., is voting for the ninth time today on a proposition to spend $2,500,000 for a new waterworks system.

LANGUAGE NOT KEEPING PACE WITH SCIENCE

Universal Means of Transmission of Thought Urged by the Students of World Conditions Upon Every Occasion

LONDON, (AP)—Language, the master key to thought and the vehicle of communication remains under the curse of Babel, while Arabic numerals, measurements of latitude and longitude, mathematical signs, chemical formulae, and even the metric system have progressed to such an extent that they are now used by all nations, declares the Times scientific expert, urging the necessity of a universal tongue.

Eperanto or Ido, or some modification of these, seem to hold the balance of advantages in the choice for an international language, he adds, although Latin and English have received sufficient support to be ranked as serious candidates. Scientific men, he says, form the group most anxious to see a world agreement on some auxiliary language and are not inclined to care what one is chosen.

"Were it possible to acquire a second language in addition to the natural tongue to convey ideas," the Times expert says, "one of the greatest barriers to the progress of science would be broken down."

Of the languages contending for world recognition, he says that a difficult and irregular grammar is one of the chief objections to Latin, while English has a "chaotic" spelling, with

Discount of Woman is Threatened, He Says

Printer Chiefs Ask Harding Why They Were Fired

Chiefs of the government printing office at Washington called at the White House to ask President Harding why he discharged them. Thirty-two men were let out "for the good of the service," the president explained. Senator Curaway, Arkansas democrat, as well as the president for his action in a speech to the senate. He asserted that the chief executive acted without legal authority in discharging the men. The first man on the left is James W. Wilmore, deposed director of the government printing plant.

MOONSHINE IN IRELAND REAL ITEM IN TRADE

Annual Drink Bill Threatens to Displace Emerald Isle as the Most Temperate of Entire British Group

DUBLIN, (AP)—The making of moonshine liquor in Ireland has assumed alarming proportions and threatens to impair Erin's standing in the European Isles as the most temperate of the group.

The traffic in illicit liquor or "pot stills" is described by the Catholic Total Abstinence society as a by-product of the conflict in Ireland, and its rapid growth during the past three years was confirmed by many of the bishops in their recent Lenten pastorals. Even the Daily Eireann, in spite of its usually veiled political opinions, has taken note of the situation and appointed a commission of inquiry to examine the excesses which one bishop declares "are gravely demoralizing the masses of the people."

Ireland's drink bill for 1921 amounted to 20,300,000 pounds, of which nearly half went to the British exchequer in taxation. Fertilizable as this figure may appear, however, comparative statistics for the United Kingdom show that the drink record of Ireland was lower by a comfortable margin than that of England, Wales or Scotland.

Per capita of the population, Ireland consumed 6 pounds 14 shillings in drink last year as compared with 5 pounds 17 shillings for England and Wales and 7 pounds 10 shillings 6 pence for Scotland. But these estimates are based solely on the liquor that pays tax therefore the patient computers of all statistics are endeavoring to ascertain Erin's standing with the addition of her bootleg fraternity.

Temperance Badly Needed.

While there is no move in Ireland for prohibition there is a strong public sentiment in favor of temperance, and the chief executive acted without legal authority in discharging the men. The first man on the left is James W. Wilmore, deposed director of the government printing plant.

COMMITTEE IS ASKED NOT TO DELAY ACTION

Program for Defense of Panama Canal Zone and Hawaiian Islands Urged Upon Senate Appropriations Body

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP) — Completion of the defense program in Hawaii and the Panama canal zone as an integral feature of the defense of continental United States was urged before the senate appropriation committee today by Colonel D. H. Wells, head of the war plans division of the general staff.

Colonel Wells criticized the pending army bill as inadequate and tending to wreck the progress already made in providing for national defense.

In explaining that the defense of the Hawaiian group had been centered on the island of Oahu, the witness pointed out that Harbor and Honolulu harbors. Colonel Wells said these waters were seen as "bases from which the fleet may protect the west coast of the United States, Alaska and the Panama canal."

Is Important Point

"Oahu is the most important island strategically, of the Pacific ocean," the witness said. "Reserve supplies, reserve ammunition, etc., to be maintained there are based upon computed requirements for a self sustained defense for a period of four months. In order to properly prepare the island for this purpose, the authorization of construction requested in these estimates should unquestionably be made as the amount is small compared with its importance in connection with the whole plan of defense."

Referring to the Panama canal, Colonel Wells declared that its value, both commercially and from the standpoint of national defense was such that its loss, in the opinion of military experts would be a greater blow than the loss of any other of our possessions.

Wants General Defense

The present harbor defenses, he said, "must be supplemented by adequate mobile forces of arms, including aircraft."

The department also, he said, "has been alive to the weakness of the fixed defenses of Panama and has announced the purpose of installing a number of 10-inch 30-caliber guns at either entrance."

These guns, the witness added, are "superior to any possessed by any power," having an approximate range of 10,000 yards.

Putting the requisite peace strength of the canal garrison at 10,000 men, Colonel Wells said in time of war this would be raised by increasing the units to war strength and "by additional units from personnel available locally."

Asks Heavy Garrison

With respect to the Philippines, the witness said the department had estimated that an adequate defense would involve "maintaining on the island of Luzon a garrison of 100,000 men, generously provided with aircraft and supplemented by a considerable force of submarines."

Under the four power naval treaty, however, additional defense are prohibited, he pointed out, and there is no item in the department's budget for 1923 for new defenses in the Philippines.

also, with May $1.40 1/2 to 1.40 3/4 and July $1.24 3/4 to 1.24 1/2. Corn and oats were lifted in value by the strength of wheat. After opening 1-4 to 3-4 higher, July 63 1/4 to 63 1/2 c, the corn market eased off to little but hardened again later.

Toward the last the corn market set a new record for the weakness of wheat. The close was easy, 1-2 to 3-4 net, July 64 1/4 to 64 3/8.

Oats started 1-2 to 1-2 1/8 higher, July 61 1/4 to 1-1 1/2 and then made slight further upturn.

Higher quotations on hogs and grain helped to lift the price of provisions.

NEW YORK, (AP) — Numerous confusion price changes accompanied today's record operations in the stock market but the trend among popular issues was again mainly upward. Rates approximated 2,600,000.

On the stock exchange the week opened with a continuance of the recent active speculative buying. Com- mision traces were prominent. In the

Oils and rails were in the forefront with copper, Sinclair, Middle State, Royal Dutch and Standard Oil of New Jersey, Anaconda, Utah, Atchafon, Northern Pacific and Reading were higher by fractions to one point. TODAY'S MARKETS

TENDENCY STILL UPWARD BUT TONE MORE MODERATE

Sensational Features of Saturday's Market Give Place to Suppressed Activity

CHICAGO, (AP) — In sharp contrast with an abrupt advance of 9 cents a bushel on Saturday, the wheat market today kept within moderate bounds during the early trading. The tendency of prices was still upward but fluctuations were rapid, and the activity was of a character to indicate that the struggle was to be a two-sided one for at least the time being. The chief influence was the question whether such a high price would be paid for wheat in Chicago to settle contracts for delivery during May and the sharpness of Saturday's advance caused friends of higher prices to exercise unusual caution. Opening prices, which varied from 1-4 decline to 1-4 advance for the market taken as a whole, with May at $1.42 to 1.43 1-2 and July $1.26 1-2 to 1.26 3-4, were followed by gains of 3 cents in some cases but then a setback to about the initial range.

Profit taking on the part of owners of wheat caused prices to fall during the final dealings. Export inquiry was slack and so also was the call for wheat for milling purposes. There was an unsettled finish at 3-4 to 2 1/2 net de-

GENOA SESSION PRELIMINARY TO THE REAL WORK

Belief is General that at Least Two More Conferences Will Have to be Called Before Affairs Can be Adjusted—

GENOA, (AP) — After Genoa what this is the question uppermost in the minds of the delegates to the international economic conference. Experts and delegates alike are agreed that it probably will be necessary to have at least two more conferences before peace is restored and financial reconstruction possible in Europe.

France has expressed a desire to discuss disarmament with the British, but not with her enemies; constantly there may be some difficulty in getting her to enter a general disarmament or peace conference embracing all the powers which still have armies on a war footing.

Must Disarm First — Frank Vanderlip, the American financier, Professor Gustav Cassel, Swedish economist, and other experts at Genoa, apparently are agreed that summoning of a disarmament conference is a necessary step before a successful financial or economic conference is possible.

The United States and Germany probably would not participate in this, as Germany is already disarmed under the terms of the Versailles treaty, and the United States is not directly concerned with European war affairs.

Washington is generally regarded as the best site for an economic conference to follow the disarmament meeting, but holding the meeting there would scarcely be possible unless the Russian government were in the meantime recognized by the United States.

Watch American Position — As the chances for recognition of the Soviet by the European powers become brighter the attitude in America's capital toward Russia increases, and there delegates are eagerly asking the United States in Genoa how long the United States will hold aloof politically from the Moscow government, which it is helping so generously with food.

France's financial determination not to permit the slightest revision of the Versailles treaty would undoubtedly prove a great handicap to another economic conference or financial conference which would have to deal so largely with the reparations problem, but the present conference is breaking much ice and Mr. Lloyd George, the British premier, is generally looked upon as a leader skillful enough to overcome any French opposition in this regard.

No Intimation Given. Although negotiations between Germany and Russia have been in progress for some months on various subjects mostly relating to trade matters there has been no indication that signing of a formal treaty superseding the historic Brest-Litovsk pact of early 1918 was contemplated by the plenipotentiaries of the two nations at Genoa. The countries had previously made a trade agreement which became effective nearly a year ago.

The treaty of Brest-Litovsk was a sequel to the armistices between Germany and Russia signed at that place on December 14, 1917, following the rise of the bolsheviks to power in Russia. Its regulations were begun between Russia and Germany in 1918, but demands of the central powers were considered excessive by Russia, which refused to concede them.

Germany not Satisfied. The most move by Russia was to announce on February 10, that she had withdrawn from the war without signing a peace and had ordered immediate demobilization of the troops on all fronts. This maneuver did not satisfy the Germans, however. Declaring the war was still on they renewed their invasion of Russia but this was speedily cut short by a declaration by the Russian government that it accepted the terms recently declared.

And the signing of Brest-Litovsk on March 3, of the treaty now superseded. As indicated these terms were virtually dictated by the central powers. Although war indemnities were renounced, Russia agreed to resign all claims to Finland, Estonia, Livonia, Courland, Lithuania, "Western" Poland and the Ukraine to return all the Anatolian provinces to Turkey, and to evacuate Russian Armenia.

Obligations Accepted. This treaty was effective, so far as its continuing provisions were concerned, however, only so long as Germany remained in the war. With her defeat, Germany, in the treaty of Versailles, agreed to accept the abrogation of the Brest-Litovsk and all other treaties entered into with the Maximilian government of Russia, to recognize the full force of all treaties entered into by the allied and associated powers, with states which were a part of the former Russian empire, and to recognize the frontiers as determined therein. It was added that the powers reserved the right of Russia to obtain restitution and reparation on the principles of the Versailles treaty.

Michael Collins Object of Vicious Attack — Several Shots Fired and One Assault Captured with Bomb

DUBLIN, (AP) — An attempt on the life of Michael Collins, head of the Irish free state government, was made here shortly after midnight this morning, coming almost simultaneously with an assault on the Beggar Bush headquarters of the Irish republican army, says an official army statement.

Mr. Collins was on his way home after having addressed a meeting at Naas, county Kildare, when the attack occurred. A group of armed men rushed at the Collins party by car and opened fire, the free state leader apparently being the special target.

According to the negro, the men were in the theatre when he arrived to start his work, and forced him at the point of a gun to the dressing rooms under the stage, where he was bound.

KEEP OUT THE ALIENS

The United States senate has done well to pass the bill providing for the extension of the present three per cent quota immigration act for two years beyond July 1.

Labor especially is pleased at the results under this law... Representative Albert Johnson, chairman of the house immigration committee, estimated on the floor of the house recently that the percentage set has kept from the United States 500,000 or 700,000 aliens to date, and will by June 30 next have kept out 8,000,000.

The immigration peril from which this country has been spared is not fictional as evidenced by the testimony of many American observers who have recently returned from Europe... Mrs. Moore recommended that the sifting of prospective immigrants be conducted abroad instead of at Ellis Island.

MANDATES COME BYON

In trying to show that no country need remain outside the League of Nations on the score of expense, the secretary general of the organization recently presented figures to prove that the assessments were not burdensome... Winston Churchill, British secretary for the colonies, has, however, said some light on the cost of mandates, the real item of expense for nations connected with the discredited organization.

HAMMER AND SAW AT WORK

"The noise of the hammer and the saw is increasing throughout the country," says the American Lumberman, which is a kind of racket American can stand a lot of without it getting seriously on his nerves.

For the first time in many months the production of lumber since the first of the year is exceeded by the orders placed, and there is more pleasure than pain in the Lumberman's report that an occasional complaint is heard that cuts are becoming difficult to secure. It has been so long since the term "car shortage" has been heard that the public scarcely knows what the words mean.

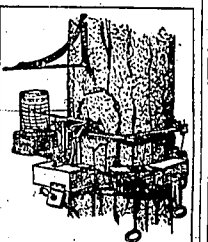

Farm products are selling at higher figures, the farmers are going to market, railroad shipments are improving, the iron mills have orders booking them to 75 per cent of capacity. All things point to a steady grind toward normal—and by it is not meant that we are going back to the prices of 1919, but that the time is approaching when a bushel of wheat or corn will be as good as much as leather as it did in previous days.

RECORDS GROWTH OF TREE

Apparatus Known as the "Dendograph" Does Useful Work in Garden of New York Park.

A simple tree in the botanical garden at Bronx park in New York is the subject of a very interesting experiment. It is being used in a test of the dendograph, an apparatus for recording the growth of a tree.

To a casual observer the tree appears to be merely the central support of a wire mesh, such as might be used for housing some small animal, and many visitors possibly approach it with that mind. There are four square walls of wire and a roof which enclose the tree trunk above.

Dendograph in Position.

Other arrangement is in contact with the trunk of the tree at only two points. The instrument was installed before growth started. It gives continuous record of all changes in volume in the trunk of the tree. It records these changes with extreme accuracy.

Having been satisfactorily installed, the dendograph needs no further adjustment, or, in fact, attention of any kind, excepting that once a week the clockwork must be wound and a new record sheet placed on the recording.

The tree whose daily and hourly growth is thus being noted and recorded is a young sugar maple about a foot in diameter, a native tree, not planted, but having sprung from a chance seed.

The official memorandum accompanying the dendograph stated that the instrument consists essentially of a belt of blocks to be clamped around the trunk of a tree in such manner that it is believed that no modification of the growth of the tree is caused except of the actual tangents where the blocks touch the tree. This belt of blocks serves as a stable support for the recorder and other parts of the apparatus.

The essential nature of the apparatus is the jokers, made up of slotted bars of barite, an alloy with a very low temperature coefficient, which is held in position by the upright "fingers" of spring brass wire which hold the jokers in place without exerting any notable pressure on the tree.

The woman was passing a church on a west-side corner. It was a crisp evening and the electric light near by flicked full upon a crippled colored man sitting on the top step of the church entrance. His deplorable attire had spelled ex-service man. As the woman showed a jaunty doughboy, cap at an angle, and a smile at the foot of the stairs and breasted: "Hello, old fellow, what's the matter?" "All in, dead broke—and hungry," was the reply. The doughboy turned his pockets out ruefully, and—as a bit of small change clinked to the sidewalk he stooped, picked it up and handed it to the other, with: "I'll get some more soon. Hope it helps a bit."

CRUELEST ASSASSIN KNOWN AS "GOLD TOOTH"

Kin of Slain Portuguese Statesman Tells Court of Sailor's Atrocities.

A sailor, known as "Gold Tooth," is the principal person among the ten charged with the assassination of Premier Granjo and other Portuguese statesmen in the revolution on October 20.

He admits that he accompanied the other soldiers and sailors in the raids on the statesman's houses, but contends that he did so to save the lives of those chosen to be victims of the revolutionaries.

Confronted by the son and the brother of Admiral Machado Santos, founder of the Portuguese Republic and one of the assassinated men, he was accused by both of them as one of the most cruel and thoughtless of the savage group of men who broke into Santos's house and dragged him to his death.

A similar scene occurred when Bertha da Silva, widow of Commandante Carlos da Silva, another victim, was brought face to face with this sailor in court. Pointing at him, she burst into sobs and cried: "There stands my husband's assassin. When the others retreated, when my knees before them, holding my baby in my arms, I implored them to spare my husband's life, that wild beast there, seeing they were inclined to mercy, shouted at them and pushed my husband into their midst, asking them if they were going to let the man who sent them to Africa four years before. And they took him away and murdered him."

Standling high above the buildings of London is a huge tower known as the air traffic control tower of the London air station.

The wireless operator can communicate with any air express flying between England and the coast. The controller in his lofty perch gets a clear view of the aerodrome and surrounding country. He can communicate with the movement of the ground by megaphone and in the air by wireless phone. He can by the use of the wireless guide an express down to safety even though the whole district be enshrouded in fog or mist.

Accused Man Could Do With One Lawyer and Use the Other One as a Witness.

Not so long ago a Quaker city lawyer found a formidable opponent opposed to him in the trial of a case. Presumably the other side was not strong, at least in the lawyer's estimation, in point of witnesses, and when he came to sum up the attorney deflated the following to the jury as illustrative of the pretentiousness of the other side.

A negro was brought before the court to plead in an office.

"Sam Jackson, you are in custody for the law," announced the judge. "The state provides counsel for those who lack it. I hereby appoint these two gentlemen present in court to defend you. Have you anything to say?"

"Two lawyers, yo hounh!" he exclaimed delightedly, "and then with an engaging grin: 'Yes, sah, yo hounh... but if it ain't crowdin' de law, sah, I want de one of dem lawyers for a witness!'"

Fainting Man Not Unnaturally Objected to Poor Imitation of the Poet's Spirit.

Observing a poorly dressed man stagger and fall prostrate on the sidewalk, a passing physician hurried to his side and began to feel for his pulse. Apparently the man was unconscious and the physician was about to draw his hypodermic syringe from his medicine bag when a workman with a dinner pail in his hand stepped forward from the group of surrounding spectators. "Here, give him some of this," he said, exhibiting a whisky flask in his hand.

Grabbing this the physician poured part of its contents into the victim's throat, whereupon the victim suddenly raised his head and spat it out, gasping: "We're you doin' dat?"

"Reveling you with whisky," said the doctor.

"That ain't whisky, it's cold tea."

"An hour later the man and the bride were back. They had the required $2.

"Where'd you get it?" inquired the city officer. "Borrow from friends?"

"Naw," said the man. "We didn't want to borrow from, so we went out and looked the wedding ring."—New York Sun.

"Eagerly the child looked up and appeared: "Oh, daddy, do tell me what it is."

"Father, looking very solemn, said: "I'll give you one guess. What is it you want from mother more than anything else in the world?"—and then collapsed as the darling, clapping hands, shrieked "Guinea pigs!"

SUIT TO ANNUL CITY ELECTION IS DULY FILED

Action Begun By John Kosharrek Consists in Application to District Court for Writ of Prohibition Against Mayor

Alleging that the special city election March 28 at which the commission form of government was adopted for Twin Falls, "was, and is, unauthorized by law, illegal and void," John Kosharrek, local attorney, today applied to Judge W. A. Babcock in district court at Jerome for a writ of prohibition to prevent the holding of an election called for June 6 to elect councilmen under the commission government. P. W. McComb, as mayor of Twin Falls, is named as the defendant in this case. Kosharrek says that Judge Babcock had set Monday, May 1, as the day for hearing argument for and against issuance of the writ to prohibit the holding of the election.

The election of March 28 is attacked in this action on the ground that the petition voted upon at that time was "submitted without first requiring a petition of electors equal in number to 25 per centum of the votes cast for all candidates for mayor in the last preceding general election of the city."

Insufficiency of the petition filed for this purpose is charged on three grounds:

- First—That the petition was signed by persons other than legal voters. In this connection, a list of 240 names is set forth, more than one-half of which, it is alleged, were signed by persons other than those whose names appear.
- Second—That the petition contains the names of 110 electors who purport to be qualified electors, but who were, in fact, unqualified electors for the reason that they were not registered for the preceding city election.
- Third—That the petition contains 134 names of persons who were not qualified electors for the reason that they were not registered for the preceding city election, and did not register subsequent to the filing of the petition and did not vote at the election.

Previous Petition Filled
It is asserted, further, that at the time of the filing of this commission form petition, January 23, there was already on file a petition of qualified electors requesting the mayor to call an election for submission of the question of adopting the city manager plan. The city manager plan was filed January 23. Mr. Kosharrek asserts in his affidavit that it was the duty of the mayor to call the city manager election and that the mayor was "without jurisdiction," because of the prior filing of the city manager petition, to call the commission form election on March 28.

James R. Bothwell and W. Orr Chapman are attorneys for Mr. Kosharrek in this action.

COUNTRY WOMEN OPPOSE COUNTY FAIR CARNIVAL

Rural Federation Goes on Record Against Certain Concessions

Opposition to carnival features in connection with Twin Falls county's agricultural fair this fall, formally expressed at an annual meeting here Saturday of the Rural Federation of Women's club, was communicated later that afternoon to the board of county commissioners by a committee composed of Mrs. Carrie Harper White and Mrs. E. E. Cory.

The commissioners agreed to bring the subject to the attention of the county fair board.

Similar action was last year taken by the Rural Federation and other organizations including women's clubs of Ellet.

PHYTHIANS TO EXCHANGE WORK OF DEGREE TEAMS

Twin Falls and Buhl Lodges to Assist Each Other in Preparation for Convention

Preparatory for the approaching district convention Knights of Pythias, an exchange of work between Twin Falls lodge and Buhl lodge has been arranged.

Tomorrow night members of Twin Falls lodge and team will drive to Buhl to assist the team in that city in its interpretation of the ritualistic work. Friday night Buhl lodge will return the visit, and assist Twin Falls lodge in work at hand.

Buhl lodge now holds the cup for the district, and if victorious in the approaching contest, will retain it permanently. Twin Falls lodge is attempting to perfect a team to wrest the cup from the holders. Yet with this rivalry, there is such fraternal co-operation between the two lodges that they will assist each other in preparation for the contest. Shoshone lodge will send a strong team. For a generation Shoshone has always had one of the best teams in the state, and the claim is that this is a more perfect interpretation of the ritual is offered by that old lodge than in its entire history. The district convention will be held in Twin Falls, May 12.
