EUROPE ACCEPTS AGREEMENT WITH MIXED EMOTIONS

Feeling Over Signing of Separate Treaty Runs High in Both London and Paris with Lloyd George Bearing Brunt

ASTONISHMENT AND MISGIVINGS FREELY EXPRESSED BY PRESS

English Newspaper Deplored Founding of German-Belgian Treaty

LONDON, (AP)—It would not be easy to imagine any possible happening at Geneva which could excite greater astonishment or more misgiving than the agreement reached between the German and Belgian plenipotentiaries in the majority of this morning's London newspapers.

GENOA, (AP)—The allies have decided that Germany, having effected her own arrangement with Russia in the treaty signed Saturday at Rappallo, is debarred from further participation in the discussion of conditions of agreement between Russia and the various other countries represented at the economic conference.

PARIS, (AP)—The dramatic stroke of the Russians and Germans in concluding their treaty at Rappallo, the news of which incidentally first reached Paris by way of New York, does not fill the French with consternation.

Instead there is a perceptible feeling almost of satisfaction among the newspapers supporting the national bloc at what they consider a distinct but significant step toward the maintenance of Great Britain and at the same time the "democracy" of German psychology.

Mr. Lloyd George never thought when he admitted the Berlin and Moscow people on an equal footing, "the Journal" editorial continues, "that they might interfere with his maneuvers."

Chamberlain Session Called. Premier Chamberlain called his cabinet today to consider the attitude to be taken by France in case Russia and Germany propose to maintain a separate arrangement regarding the restoration of Russia.

Negro Bandits Take Bank Messenger from Car and Secure Cash

Bold Daylight Robbery. Pulled Off in Crowded Streets—Pedestrians Pay No Attention

KANSAS CITY, Mo., (AP)—Armed with revolvers two negroes today forced a messenger for the Southeast State bank to leave a crowded street car, enter a motor car and accompany them for several blocks while they robbed him of $1000 in cash and $7000 in checks.

Few persons on the car were aware of what was taking place until the negro, pushing their captive about the car, climbed off and "knocked" the automobile, which contained a negro and a white man and which had followed the street car several blocks.

UNION MINE OFFICIALS PLEASED WITH OUTLOOK

Chiefs Claim Defeat of Plans to Drive Organization Out of Mingo County

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—Complete upset of the "plans of the non-union coal companies of Mingo county, West Virginia, to drive the union out of that field," was claimed by United Mine Workers officials in making public here the superintendant's last night by Judge Martin A. Knapp, senior judge of the United States circuit court of appeals of the fourth district, suspending in part the injunction recently issued by Federal Judge McClinton of Charleston to the Boardman Coal company.

The superchase was issued by Judge Knapp at the request of W. A. Glasgow, Jr., of Philadelphia, and Henry Warrum of Indianapolis, attorneys representing the United Mine Workers. Judge Knapp, in addition to issuing the superchase, granted an appeal from Judge McClinton's injunction order to the United States circuit court of appeals.

Rat Catcher Named Officially to Save Records of Courts

Bavages of Rodents Destroy Judges' Robes, Stenographers' Notes, and Evidence

MONTREAL, Que. (AP)—An official rat catcher has been appointed for Montreal court house. Official stenographers had their notes eaten by rats during the night. A rat jumped into his gown and hid from the court in his chambers. Civil suits involving valuable property were delayed through the disappearance of records. Finally when "exhibit A" in a murder trial was eaten and the prisoner had to be liberated from lack of evidence, the authorities decided it was time to take action.

Receives Eleven Thousand Volts of Current and Lives

Firemen and Police Unite to Rescue Kinsman Caught in Wires at Top of Pole

OAKLAND, Cal., (AP)—Albert Stattenren, 29 years old, a lineman, was alive today after receiving a shock of 11,000 volts of electricity yesterday while making his repairs on top of a pole in west Oakland.

Firemen and policemen united to rescue Stattenren. Although it probably would have meant death to touch the electrician's body as it dangled stiff from a live wire, firemen put a rope around it and lowered the suffering man. His legs were burnt nearly off. Stattenren was rushed to a hospital and placed on a bed of oil-soaked cotton.

WILSON LETTER GROSS INSULT SAYS SENATOR

Reed of Missouri Declares Former President Exhibits Faulty Memory in Denying Former's Aid on Reserve Act

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—Declaring he had been "personally insulted" by former President Wilson, Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, in a formal statement today asserted Mr. Wilson's memory was shown to be "sadly deficient" by his letter to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, saying the Missouri senator had opposed passage of the federal reserve act.

"Those who know the man and the policy of Wilson of 1913," Senator Reed's statement said, "will hardly credit his having personally insulted a senator representing a great state, however humble that senator may be. Those who know me will scarcely believe that I would tamely submit to a gross insult even from so great a man as Mr. Wilson was at that time."

SUIT WORN BY MURDERED MAN IS INTRODUCED

Blood-Stained Garments of Stephen A. Browning in Evidence at Trial of Guy Carl and Clyde E. Nelson

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho, (AP)—Blood stained garments worn by Stephen A. Browning, aged grocer, when he was shot to death in his store on the night of November 28, 1921, were introduced into the trial of Guy Carl and Clyde E. Nelson, charged with the murder of Browning, by the prosecution this morning.

Zena Browning, a son of the deceased and the last member of the family to see his father alive, identified the garments and told of bidding his father good night at the store about 8:30 on the night of the murder. A gun found lying at his father's side and the swivel chair in which the murdered man is supposed to have been seated when he was shot, were identified by the son. The back of the chair is pierced with bullet holes. Engineers presented drawings of the layout of the store and a plan of the interior and Mrs. J. A. Zitting, who lived across the street from the scene of the tragedy, told of finding the body of Browning when she entered the store to make a purchase.

GIANT MERGER STORY DENIED

Projected Amalgamation of Three Packing Companies Has No Foundation

CHICAGO, (AP)—Flat denial that an amalgamation of the Armour, Cudahy, and Wilson Packing companies is contemplated was made today by J. Ogden Armour and Edward Cudahy, presidents of their respective organizations. Thomas E. Wilson, head of Wilson and Company, was not in the city.

"The Cudahy company is not in any way concerned in such a merger," said Mr. Cudahy.

Mr. Armour did not make a formal statement but authorized a flat denial over his name.

Informal negotiations for a merger of three of the "big five" packing companies into a $300,000,000 corporation have been conducted by James Ogden Armour, head of Armour and Company, according to the Herald and Examiner today. The corporation would have as its president Thomas E. Wilson, president of the Wilson and Company, and Mr. Armour would be chairman of the board of directors, according to the newspaper.

The firms involved are: Armour and Company, with a total valuation of $229,718,297; Wilson and Company worth $88,770,250; and Cudahy and Company, valued at $45,502,250.

MORAL COURAGE IS NEEDED BY CHRISTIANITY

Professor Ames of University of Chicago Delivers Remarkable Address Before Christian Church Convention

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—To determine whether modern moral ideals such as those of democracy and science are Christiana it is necessary "to distinguish between the inner spirit of the churches," said Professor E. S. Ames of the University of Chicago in an address here today before the Congress of "Bridges to Christ" (Christian church). "Christianity is recognizing the moral obligation of co-operation and experiments in this direction. The church should schools and when the Kentucky legislature recently considered prohibiting the teaching of evolution in its schools and other Christians vigorously opposed the measure."

Speaking of the moral courage required by science, Professor Ames said, "It required real bravery to follow the lead of the facts which showed that the earth is round and not flat. Just as the world is round and not flat, so we now to express the opinion that the present economic order is not just, that college football is an over-developed and over-commercialized sport, that cities are healthier than the country, that science is not essential to the 'Trinity' but a non-essential of the Christian religion."

Moral Courage Needed. Professor Ames asked if the world was growing better or worse, continuing that "this question is to be approached in terms of modern science, democracy and the human spirit. It is science which requires moral courage, patience, intolerance and reverence. Science has given me the courage to overcome many fears—the fear of superstition, of tyrannical authority, of certain diseases, and of the doubt, which lead to new experiments. The quacks and pretenders, and the incompetents are exposed to intelligence tests. The world is still in the process of evolution."

"Democracy, too, has had its heroes and martyrs. The individual is not the liberalistic man from many forms of dogmatism. Ultimately it will free the masses from economic want if guided by the essential principle of love and good will. The haste of true democracy is respect for every human being and the extension to him of the rights of a man."

"The third characteristic of the age is its self-consciousness. This involves restlessness, criticism and more or less cynicism. Novelists like 'Main Street' and 'The Winter of Our Discontent' are confused groping after the truth. "Are these morals and ideals Christian? Jesus taught love for one's neighbor and that is a democratic ideal. It is extending the suffrage and changing the life of the world. Democracy is a foundation stone of good government."

Demands New Ideas. "It is not so obvious that the moral ideal of scientific thinking is equally Christian. But Christianity keeps repeating the saying, 'Ye shall know the truth and the truth will make you free.' The acceptance of new ideas through the reversal of some ideas which have been very common in religion, for example, the depravity and original sinfulness of man. "The age has been restless under conflicting scientific and moral theories, but there are signs now of more constructive tendency. Wells' 'Outline of History' is a good symptom. Philosophers like John Dewey are beginning to feel that the age is moving, by means of the scientific and democratic spirit, toward the development of a new poetry, a new art and a new expression of religion."

ASK GOVERNMENT TO TAKE ACTION

National League of Women Voters Will Suggest Manufacture of Fertilizer

BALTIMORE, (AP)—That the government be urged to complete and utilize plants in process of construction for the production of nitrates and other necessary chemical elements needed in agriculture will be recommended at the convention here of the National League of Women Voters April 24-29. The convention will be held during the sessions of the Pan-American Conference of Women which opens April 29. The proposal is part of a program to be recommended by the committee on food supply and demand, of which Mrs. Edward P. Costigan of Washington is chairman. Lady Nancy Astor, M. P., will address a mass meeting to be held by the convention April 25. The food committee will also recommend the support of federal legislation removing all legal restrictions which hamper co-operative associations conducted on the Rochdale plan. It will advise continued investigation of the operation of the judicial decree of 1926 issued under the agreement between the United States attorney general and the packers, and of the effectiveness of the act of congress of 1921 regulating packers. Waste Largely to Blame. The committee attributes the high cost of living in large measure to unorganized and wasteful methods in the distribution and use of food. It condemns specifically "manipulation of markets" by large food organizations and combinations, and the practices of

"open price associations" which distribute to members information in regard to costs, prices, production and available supply and demand. The program to be proposed by the committee on women in industry, of which Miss Mary McDowell, Chicago social worker, is chairman, will include State legislation limiting working hours of wage-earning women in industry to a maximum of eight hours in any one day and forty hours in any one week, with one-day's rest in seven; establishment by law of a committee with power to fix and enforce minimum wages; reclassification of federal civil service without discrimination on the ground of sex. Mothers' pensions will be recommended by the committee on uniform laws concerning women, of which Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCall, Chicago is chairman. The committee will also counsel support of federal legislation for independent citizenship of married women, and state legislation for equal guardianship of children by both parents, for abolition of common law marriages and for other reforms in marriage and divorce laws. The program of the committee on social hygiene will be subdivided as education, recreational, law enforcement, legislative, remedial and medical. Mrs. Ann Webster of Washington is chairman.

Preventative Medicine. The tendency of medical science is toward preventative medicine. It is easier and better to prevent than to cure. Incurable diseases that medical men have to contend with, often follow a cold or attack of the grip. The cold prevents the system for the reception and development of the pneumonia germ no longer the cold hangs on, the greater danger. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the first indication of a cold appears, so as to get rid of it with the least possible delay. It is folly to risk an attack of pneumonia when this remedy may be obtained for a trifle.—Adv.

ANALYZES COST OF FARM CROPS

State University Experiment Station Compiles Figures on Agriculture

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow. (Special to The News)—With the object of placing the comparative costs of growing seven principal crops in the hands of Idaho farmers, the station has compiled the current conditions and estimate the probable profit which will be forthcoming. The University of Idaho agricultural experiment station, co-operating with the United States department of agriculture, has issued Research Bulletin No. 5, bearing the title, "Farm Costs and Relative Profitableness of Seven Crops." The bulletin was compiled by Byron Hunter, specialist in farm management at the University of Idaho, who represented both the university and the United States department of agriculture, and B. B. Nuckolls, representing the office of sugar plant investigation of the department of agriculture. Answers Problems. Answers to problems concerning net returns per acre and per dollar expended, influence of yield per acre on the cost per unit and net returns per acre, and the chances for increasing farm efficiency are of great importance and concern to the average farmer, and for this purpose the bulletin was issued. Data for the bulletin was obtained during the year of 1919 when a business and farm production study of 500 farms in the irrigated region of Twin Falls county was made by the University of Idaho in co-operation with the office of farm management and farm economics and the office of sugar plant investigations of the United States department of agriculture. The business analysis for the year of 1919 has already been published in a special bulletin and a similar report for 1929 is now in preparation.

Crops Featured. The crops featured in the bulletin are wheat, potatoes, sugar beets, beans, alfalfa hay, silage and red clover seed. In addition to the farm business records, the enumerators secured from the farmers in the area studied detailed figures and estimates covering the cost of producing the seven leading crops grown in the district. These estimates include value of land, hours of man and horse labor, quantities of materials and other items of cost necessary to produce an acre of each crop. (The object of the bulletin is to enable farmers to decide intelligently which enterprises to undertake, increase or reduce, by being familiar with the comparative costs and relative profitableness. During the period covered by the bulletin, as outlined in the summary, the cost items of crop production were at their highest. The survey will be conducted each year, according to Mr. Hunter, until the comparative profitableness of the principal crops is definitely established. The basic requirements for production, such as labor, seeds, sacks, twine, fuel and fertilizer vary but little from year to year, the bulletin states. The cost of producing any crop for a given year can be determined fairly accurately by applying current prices for the year in question.

Gives Wide Latitude. With such material in the hands of the farmer he is given considerable latitude of choice between the several kinds of crops which may be suited to his particular locality. The conditions surrounding the study in the Twin Falls region are very similar to those in the other irrigated regions of southern Idaho and as a result it is felt that the bulletin will have a wide application and will be of great value.

LIVELY ROW IS ASSURED OVER SENATORSHIP

St-Louis Attorney Reiterates His Statement that President Wilson Commended Reed for Stand on League of Nations

ST. LOUIS, Mo., (AP)—Leo Meriwether, attorney, and supporter of Senator James A. Reed, today reiterated his statement that he had seen a copy of a letter by former President Wilson praising Reed's attitude on the federal reserve bill, which the former executive last night denied existed or he had read Meriwether's recent statement in the Globe Democrat.

Meriwether said he also had seen a letter from William G. McAdoo, under-secretary of the treasury, written when McAdoo was secretary of the treasury commending Reed's work on the federal reserve bill.

Meriwether's statement follows: "When the league of nations fight was on in 1919 and while there was much criticism of Senator Reed in public print because of his opposition to the league pact, I asked Reed what he had to say in reply to the charge that he was always knocking the president.

Reed Exhibits Letters. "The senator mentioned several important measures in which he had cooperated with the president, one of those being the federal reserve act. He then pulled out his secretary, a hat, and told him to 'show Meriwether those letters'.

In substantiation of Senator Reed's claim that he had received the approbation of the president for his work on the federal reserve bill, Hunt produced from the senator's files, after a letter from Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, in which McAdoo very warmly commended and thanked Senator Reed for his work in perfecting the federal reserve bill. Hunt then produced another letter of the same general nature written on White House stationery and signed by 'Woodrow Wilson.

Made Statement Before. "I made the same statement in a speech before 10,000 people at the Colliseum during the league of nations fight, and it was never challenged from any source."

Senator Reed's statement and the letter containing the same, after being read, were printed in parallel columns of the Globe Democrat here today on the first page under a banner head reading: "Woodrow Wilson curried readings-Senator Reed as latter exhibit ex-president's letter of praise to his secretary." A note below the banner in boldface type reads: "Drops bomb in contest for senate."

In his letter the former president denied he had ever written such a letter. "I have no recollection of ever having written any such letter," his letter says.

Good Natured Difference. "I did have a difference with the president, rather good natured, over the federal reserve bill," Senator Reed's statement given out last night said. Senator Reed explained that he had insisted that hearings be given on the federal reserve bill, while the president, which the bill passed without the hearings. "As a result of the hearings the bill was amended hundreds of times," the senator's statement said.

It was after the hearings, according to Senator Reed's statement, that he received the letter of praise, from the former president.

WHAT ABOUT BASEBALL?

Definite and Speedy Action Necessary if Twin Falls Is to Witness Games This Season

Are we going to have baseball? This question has been asked time and time again in the last two weeks, and as far as is known every one is in favor of baseball. In Twin Falls this coming season, and yet there hasn't been a thing done as yet. The Coast league is on its third week, and the big leagues have just started their second week, and yet the fans of Twin Falls are patiently waiting for the other fellow to start things.

If the people of Twin Falls really want baseball, it is high time they got busy. This is not a one-man job, but needs the co-operation of every red-blooded fan in this section. It is true that a movement toward baseball was started a while back, and the Twilight Police added over $300 to the treasury, but it takes more than money to start baseball in any community. There must be unity among the fans, and each must do his share. It isn't a question of promising to attend every game, and donate 50 cents a week. How are you going to attend a game in Twin Falls if Twin Falls hasn't any baseball?

Of course, there is the time-worn argument that the weather has been so poor that people won't take an interest in baseball until the warm weather sets in, but this is all foolishness. The biggest trades and deals in the big leagues take place with six feet of snow on the ground. Now is the time to get busy, so let all the fans either hold a mass meeting or appoint a committee to start things. Are we going to have baseball in Twin Falls this year?

Under the direction of Bill Hayward, coach and trainer, the track team is preparing for the University of Washington relays at Seattle this month and also for the dual meets next month with Washington and the Oregon Agricultural college.

Coach George M. Bolter is whipping the baseball team into shape for the Northwest conference race which the nine will open against Washington at Seattle, April 21 and 22. The Oregon team will have a strong infield, which was lacking last year.

Football logs were jammed recently by members of last year's team, which entered the Pacific Coast conference race week but which finished fourth. Coach Shy Huntington expects to have most of his team back in school. He is trying to develop a kicker.

GOSSACK CHIEF MAY HAVE PLAN FOR REVOLUTION

Immigration Official Expresses Belief that Semenov is En Route to Paris on Anti-Bolshevik Mission There

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—Suggestion that General Semenov, now in jail in New York, was en route to Paris for the purpose of meeting Grand Duke Nicholas to plan a counter revolution against the soviet regime in Russia was made by Immigration Inspector Zurburk in Vancouver in a report to the immigration bureau following his examination of the Russian officer. The report of the inspector, laid before the senate labor committee today by Commissioner General Hubbard of immigration, stated that admission of the anti-bolshevik leader to the United States was the only course the immigration authorities could have pursued unless he had been "arbitrarily debarred."

BOTH SIDES IN SESSION AGAIN

Meetings Between Coal Miners and Operators Interrupted Before Strike Are Resumed

NEW YORK, (AP)—The anthracite miners and operators joint sub-committee of its own motion on the present trip reopened conference which began two weeks before the strike was called April 1.

The issues of the strike have not yet been defined, according to members of the sub-committee. Although the operators have refused point blank to grant the miners' 10 demands for higher wages and altered working conditions, they have declined to make specific counter demands.

All of the 10 demands have been submitted, one by one, by the miners' delegates. In rebuttal, the operators have challenged four of the demands, leaving 15 yet to be considered. Crisis Still Ahead.

The crux of the situation is expected to be reached the latter part of the week when the operators indicate they will make known the percentage of reduction in wages they will ask the strikers to accept.

In the meantime, the public clamor for anthracite coal, which operators had predicted would develop as soon as the strike became a fact, has failed to materialize. The reserve stocks, first estimated to be sufficient for about ten weeks, remain almost intact, producers announced today. "Anthracite is going begging," said a New York broker today. "We can't dispose of it at any price. We can't even give it away."

Bowker, according to a story told the police by his brother, had had an appointment with Hecker Sunday night. Hecker was represented to have promised to deliver a quantity of liquor. Bowker was said to have left his home here with $100 in his pocket. Young Hecker refused to make a statement to the police, but his father was reported to have broken down his reserve after three hours of private interrogation in the jail cell.

PLAN TO TUNNEL THE OHIO RIVER

Coal Companies Engaged on Engineering Plan which Will Save Large Sums Annually

DELAWARE, O., (AP)—The Ohio river no longer is to be a barrier between coal mining operations in Ohio and West Virginia.

Three big coal companies opening up the Powhatan district in the extreme southwestern part of Belmont county, Ohio, and the equivalent district on the West Virginia side, already have development's well under way or outlined to tunnel under the Ohio river and deliver their product at the surface, either on the Ohio or West Virginia side as the route of shipment contemplated.

An advantage of 45 cents per ton in shipping charges will accrue by using the tunnels—a saving of 20 cents per ton on zone rates and 25 cents per ton bridge charges. If coal mined on the Ohio side is destined for shipment east, it will be taken through the river tunnel and loaded on the West Virginia side, thus saving the bridge charge, also the zone differential. Likewise, coal mined on the West Virginia side, but destined for points west, will be taken through the tunnel to the Ohio side, again saving 45 cents differential. Companies preparing to tunnel the Ohio river are the Cleveland and Western Coal company, Mahor Collieries company and the George M. Jones Coal company. One of the companies already has shafts down on the West Virginia side and the other companies are beginning work on the proposition. The tunnels will be 150 feet under the bed of the river through the regular coal seam.

It is expected that within five years this new district will be producing coal at the rate of 60,000 tons per day, making it one of the most important districts in the West Virginia-Ohio soft coal region.

The heart of the new district is about 10 miles below Marietta, W. Va. On the Ohio side it is known as the Powhatan district and on the West Virginia side as the Crowsaps district.

Leading delegates of the little nations, who were especially invited because of the vital character of the question to be dealt with and its possible effects on central Europe.

Recognition Assured

Without exception, the delegations of the 34 countries represented here are wondering what the real effect of the surprise treaty will be on the conference. The pact constitutes recognition by Germany of the Russian government—a question forming one of the chief points of the conference agenda. Hence, the terms "dishonorable" and "disloyal" employed by the British spokesman in referring to Germany's action, and the words of warning uttered significantly by the French, that if the conference were employed to construct secret combinations one against another, then Genoa instead of proving a boon, would develop as an obstacle to re-establishment of an era of confidence and peace. Louis Barthou, head of the French delegation, last night sent a long telegram to Premier Poincaré outlining the situation and presenting his personal views.

Germany Breaks Loose

Despite their feeling that Germany acted behind the back of the conference, the British delegates apparently do not foresee any danger of the conference collapsing, even though an authorized spokesman put it, "Germany has broken loose from it." It was stated that after a full discussion of the treaty at Mr. Lloyd George's villa, the delegation "decided that it was exceedingly difficult to imagine any excuse for the action of Germany."

Some of the younger members of the French delegation thought both Germany and Russia should be excluded, but France's attitude will not be determined until Mr. Barthou receives instructions from his president.

Feels better than this treaty could have been devised to support the French attitude toward Russia and Germany in the opinion of the Italian delegation, the spokesman for which declared it "a great political mistake."

German Express Surprise

The Germans expressed surprise that the allies should reassemble what they called a perfectly logical outcome of negotiations previously inaugurated in Berlin. Dr. Rathenau declared that the treaty "does not in the least interfere in the relations of Russia and Germany with any other state, but simply cancels the past action of the Germans."

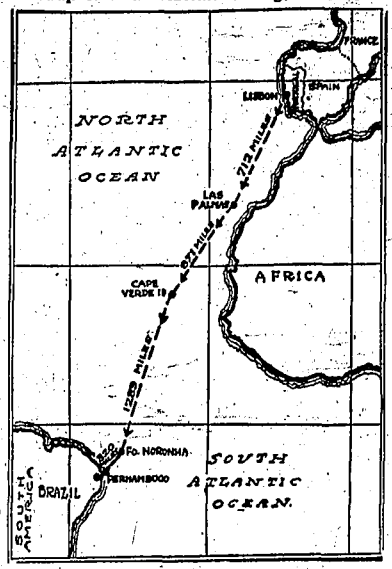

But and lays the foundation for future common reconstruction.

M. Chicherin said no special significance should be attached to completing the treaty at the Genoa conference rather than elsewhere as it was contemplated long ago.

Rather Gaudy Thought

When we come to think it over, only a few of us have done the best we could in what we have undertaken. And only those who have had much to do in the past have done so well. I am sure that we have done so well.

Map of Trans-Atlantic Flight Route

The fourth transatlantic air flight will have been completed when the Portuguese flyer, Captain Gouline and Captain Scandara, reach Pernambuco, Brazil, from St. Vincent, Cape Verde Islands. The flight was started from Lisbon March 30. Stops were to be made at Las Palmas, Canary Islands; St. Vincent, Cape Verde Islands; and Fernando Noronha. The airline distance between Lisbon and Pernambuco is 5,192 miles. This map shows the route. Other "successful" trans-oceanic flights were those of the NC-4, from Tisbury, Newfoundland, to Plymouth, England, May 19, 1919; Captain John Alcock and A. W. TODAY'S MARKETS

Chicago Grain Market

CHICAGO, (AP)—Wheat took a new upward swing in price today during the early trading, although the Liverpool market showed but little advance as compared with the big gains here, while the Liverpool exchange was closed for the Easter holidays. Notable absence of pressure to sell was apparent in Chicago and a renewal of crop damage reports from the southwest tended also to stimulate buying and to lift values. The opening for Chicago wheat was practically ignored here except at the opening. Initial quotations, which ranged from 1-2 to 1-4 lower, with May $1.30 1-2 to $1.40 and July $1.24 to $1.34 1-4, were followed by a rise all around to well above yesterday's finish.

General selling settled mainly to weakness of the New York stock market and to European diplomatic complications, led to setbacks in the price of wheat as the board of trade session drew to a close. The finish was heavy, with 1 to 1 5/8 lower, with May 1.30 1-4 to 1.30 1-2 and July 1.23 3-8 to 1.23 1-2.

Up to mid-day there was persistent buying on the part of houses with eastern connections, prices meanwhile continuing to ascend. Later, however, the market rapidly fell ground.

Corn and oats paralleled the action of wheat. After opening unchanged to 3-8 lower, July 64 1-8 to 64 1-4, the corn market scored a moderate general advance.

Subsequently the corn market fell when wheat prices turned downgrade. The close for corn was weak, 7-8 to 1 1/8 and lower, with July 63 1-4 to 63 3-8.

Oats started 1-8 off to 1-8c up, July 40 3-4, and then showed gains for all months.

Provision prices were inclined to sag in the absence of any special demand.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, (AP)—Realistic influence prevailed in today's active and broad stock market. Aside from rally, extreme losses of 1 to 6 points were made throughout the list. Sales approximated 1,700,000 shares.

Losses among oils, steels and equipments were extended in the further selling of the final hour and after forfeited part of their gain. The closing was heavy.

In striking contrast to initial dealings of the past few weeks, opening prices were decidedly reactionary, yesterday's record operations and the unstable movements of certain leaders, especially the oils, violently prompted a renewal of sharp selling. Although rallies showed marked firmness, Sinclair, Standard Oil, Aldrich, Dalziel, Bethlehem, Westinghouse, Mexican Petroleum and Atlantic Gulf lost substantial amounts. Standard Oil of California, United States Rubber, St. Paul, Atchafalaya, Illinois Central, New Haven and Coca Cola featured the market's strongest slide. Repeating's one point reaction reflected the latest aspects of the coal strike.

Should Be Protection From Bore

It is to be hoped that, with all the modern improvements, a mode will be discovered of getting rid of bores, for it is too bad that a poor wretch can be punished for stealing your pocket handkerchief or gloves and that a punishment can be inflicted on those who steal your time and with it your temper and patience, as well as the bright thoughts that maybe have entered your mind, but were frightened away by the bore—of the individual who, lost his fortune before he got it.—Lord Byron.

EUROPE ACCEPTS

Bustian (former commission of the conference if they persist in maintaining the Russo-German treaty.

MUST CANCEL TREATY

A high official of the French government declared this afternoon there was no possibility of re-opening the discussions at Genoa unless the Russo-German treaty were cancelled. Even if it were annulled, he declared, the moral effect would remain of the pact to the detriment of the Genoa conference maneuvering of the slide to forestall the conference's work.

COMBINATION CONTINUES

GENOA, (AP)—The consternation caused by the German-Bustian coup included in the treaty at Rapallo supporting the Brat-Lovak pact showed no signs of abating as the economic delegates continued their deliberations today.

On the contrary as the different national groups examined the text of the new agreement and deliberated on its possible effect upon the future balance of power in Europe, they were impressed with the deep importance of the signing of this separate pact was likely to have on the general political situation.

The prophets who when the economic conference was inaugurated predicted that it would result either in great good or disaster to Europe were inclined today to take the view that the conference seemed to be headed in the direction of disaster which only the coalition of Prime Minister Lloyd George of Great Britain and other conference leaders could prevent. Some men in allied circles read into the Russo-German treaty and especially the manner in which it was signed, a future alliance between these two countries.

The Big-Town Round Up

by William MacLeod Raine
Illustrations by Irwin Myers

HERE is a reversal of the usual situation—instead of the easterner going West, Arizona goes to New York; "Arizona" is Clay Lindsay as fearless and resourceful a son of the wind-swept, sun-drenched desert as ever swung a lariat or mixed in the perils of a stampede. Cunning as a fox and hard as nails, this unspooled man outwits and outgits the worst bad men of the metropolis.

But even Arizona meets its match in the person of a girl as game and resourceful as Clay Lindsay himself, and the ensuing events will satisfy the most romantic reader.

Every one who has read "The Big-Town Round Up" says it is by far the best novel Raine has ever written and will surely place him once and for all in the very front rank of writers about the West.

NAMES SET OUT IN LITIGATION OVER ELECTION

Suit to Annul Commission Form Proceedings Involves Names of Scores Whose Qualifications as Voters are Attacked

In support of his assertion that the special election of March 23 at which the commission form of government was adopted for Twin Falls was and is "unauthorized by law, illegal and void," and as a basis for his application to the district court for a writ of prohibition against the holding of an election June 9 for election of councilmen under the commission form law, John Koshland, husband of Mrs. John Koshland, charges irregularities in the petition for the election of March 23, and lists names of persons whose signatures are questioned under three headings:

Went to Nullify Petition

Exclusion of the names listed under any one of the three headings would be sufficient to nullify the petition, it is alleged, on the grounds that it would not then contain the names of electors "equal to 25 per centum of the votes cast for all candidates for mayor at the last general heading city election," as is required.

Under the first heading there are listed names of 240 persons, more than half of whom it is alleged, did not themselves sign the petition, but whose names were written on it by other persons. In most instances falling under this head, it is assumed that the husband signed for his wife, or the wife for the husband.

There are listed also under the second heading, 110 names of persons whose qualifications as electors are denied on the grounds that they were not registered when their names were signed to the petition.

Under the third heading there are listed 134 names of persons who were neither registered nor did they vote at the election of March 23. Their qualifications as electors are therefore denied on these grounds.

Bogus Signatures Alleged

On the list of names of persons, more than half of whom, it is alleged, did not sign the petition but whose names were written on it by other persons, the following names are given:

PRESIDENT MAY JOIN EDITORS

National Convention of Newspapermen May Have Executive as Guest

ST. PAUL, Minn., (AP)—President Harding has indicated that if congress adjourns on July 1 he will participate in the thirty-seventh annual convention of the National Editorial Association at Missoula, Mont.

Definite dates for the convention have been fixed as July 19 to 22, according to R. C. Hotelling, secretary of the association.

"I am shaping all my plans toward attending the convention," the president is quoted by Mr. Hotelling as saying, "and the only possible contingency that could prevent my going would be congress continuing in session until the middle of July. I expect congress will adjourn about July 1, however."

Special trains will leave Chicago the evening of Sunday, July 2, taking the party westward and participating in the semi-annual opening of the Yellowstone National park, according to Mr. Hotelling. Later Glacier National park will be traversed.

Secretary of the Interior Fall probably will be a member of the party.

To Make Many Stops.

The itinerary of the special train contemplate stops at Meador, N. D., where a tribute will be paid to the late Colonel Theodore Roosevelt in the erection of a monument with suitable ceremonies. Numerous other stops will be at Montana towns as well as St. Paul and Minneapolis.

A daily newspaper will be published on the convention train while a complete printing office, including type casting machine (Mintype) and a press will be installed in the baggage car and a copy of this publication will be mailed each day to every daily paper in the United States.

The convention will receive a special message from E. E. Brodie, president of the association, who now is United

CHECKING BUSINESS IN NEW YORK BROADENING

Police Use Disturbance Designed to Take Care of Gunney's Artillery in Leisure Hours

NEW YORK, (AP)—The checking business, which has made rapid strides with the opening of check rooms for babies and parking stations for flappers' cars, has been broadened again.

The police announced today they had discovered a checking station for pistols whose members of the underworld may park their artillery when they have a few hours of leisure.

Most of the city's gun wielders apparently were on the crime path, however, as the parking station had only two pistols on its shelves.

The concessions account was booked at police headquarters as Fred Piccola.

Kansas Court of Industrial Relations Figures Indicate Coal Stocks Intact

TOPEKA, Kan., (AP)—An order directing coal operators to report to the Kansas court of industrial relations the exact amount of coal on hand and unmarketed, the number of orders and the amount which could be marketed and the general condition of coal reserves in the state has been issued by the industrial court, it became known here today.

Members of Kansas cities and towns also were requested to report stocks of coal on hand and the danger if any of an emergency demand for fuel.

Reports the court has received, according to a statement by Judge John H. Crawford, indicate that there is no market for the coal reserves now on hand.

One of the court's most notable achievements was the ability of bringing order to the confusion.

TEAM WORK IS BADLY NEEDED

Lack of Co-operation Between Bureaus of Soviets Leads to Odd Situations

KIEV, (AP)—Team-work between the soviet bureau of marriage and divorce and the bureau of housing is not so good as it might be in Kiev.

In the past many young husbands have found it impossible to obtain living quarters with their brides, as one can move without permission from the housing bureau; and this department invariably frowns upon such application.

While these young men have complained, they have not been the object of much concern, for soviet Russia has many problems of far greater magnitude in the air.

But cold and hard-hearted have not completely banished the ability to sympathize, as was demonstrated recently when the heads of the populace went out to a young university professor who procured a divorce and walked jauntily over to the housing bureau to get a moving permit.

"Nothing doing," was the gist of the clerk's reply.

Thinking he was misunderstood, the professor made it clear that he was divorced and exhibited "documents" to prove it. Still the clerk remained obdurate and was supported by his superior, even to the head of the bureau.

The professor spent many long hours pleading with the authorities, whose reply finally was "no." The professor finally gave up his patience and on this day he and his wife are fighting their battles within the same four walls.

Martello Towers.

A round masonry tower designed to form a part of coast defense is called a Martello tower, hence so named for its inventor. The original Martello tower was situated in the Gulf of Spezia, Florence, Corsica. These became popular about 1800, but their use has in most cases been discontinued long ago, as they were found to be of little practical value.

MAY SEPARATE TWO BRANCHES

Mission Field of Methodist Episcopal Church Likely to be Divided

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—A plan for dividing the board of missions into a board of home missions and a board of foreign missions will be before the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South which meets here May 3 and according to Bishop John M. Moore, of Nashville, the bishops have expressed themselves as favorable to the change.

Work Grows Rapidly. "The fact that our work in the nine foreign fields of China, Japan, Korea, Manchuria, Africa, Europe, Brazil, Cuba and Mexico has grown to such proportions that it demands the full time and attention of a central board and the fact that the work of home missions has become tremendously urgent have brought the commission to declare for two boards," Bishop Moore said.

"Said it with MILK." Last year I started going with a farmer boy whose motto was not "Say it with flowers, candy or innuendo." Instead, it seemed to be, "Say it with milk." AMERICAN INDUSTRY FIRST

Although the tariff bill as drawn by the senate finance committee and reported to the senate is different from the bill passed by the house, both bills have the same aim and with the recognition of differences there will result a tariff act promotive of prosperity so far as that is possible by legislation in the present abnormal state of world trade.

Since the degree of protection that 10 years ago was capable of supporting American standards of living would be insufficient now, the proposed rates of duties necessarily average somewhat higher than those of the Payne-Andrich act, the Republican law which was cast aside by the Wilson administration. The proposed rates, of course, are much higher than those provided in the Underwood law, the last Democratic tariff act.

America today has to fear not merely cheaper goods from abroad but a far greater volume of imports pressing for dominance in American markets. The protective tariff will be a dam against the menacing flood. It will permit the maintenance of essential price levels here, price levels that will assure employment of Americans at satisfactory wages and form the basis of domestic taxation that is bound to remain high for many years. Unless American industries are adequately protected it

FASHIONABLE YEARS AGO

BERKELEY, Cal. (AP)—Bobbed hair and curluffs were fashionable, 2,600 years ago, according to the results of an investigation conducted here by students of the University of California who recently produced "The Villas of Mispeyeh," a Grecian outdoor pageant.

Several of the girls had demurred at talking past because they feared their bobbed locks would not look sufficiently elegant. An investigation was started and the students and their faculty advisers found that the Greek women of centuries ago bobbed their hair, used curluffs and also resorted to brilliantine and other beauty aids on occasion.

PRINTING bills will be smaller by the year if TWIN FALLS PRINTERS are employed the year around to produce the printed matter used in Twin Falls.

Specialty houses located on the Coast, in the East and the Middle West outbid local printing establishments on work of producing their particular specialty---they fail utterly, however, to produce as good a grade of general printed matter at as low a price as maybe obtained right here at home where the taxes are paid.

Twin Falls Printers ask no special favors, no extra concessions of any kind. Twin Falls Printers are in active competition with the Printing establishments of America and where better goods are obtainable for the same money or goods equally as good for less money, Twin Falls Printers are perfectly willing to concede the purchasers' right to buy them.

THERE is no difference between material used here and elsewhere and there are no more skillful craftsmen employed anywhere than in Twin Falls.

There are certain classes of work which Twin Falls Printers cannot turn out, namely, the specialty work of the specialty printing establishments, but---

All other work can be and is done every day in the week, and THERE ISN'T ANY BETTER WORK OBTAINABLE ANYWHERE.

VOLUNTEER AID IN FIGHT UPON CITY ELECTIONS

Commission Form Committee Offers to Take Defense in Litigation Instituted by John Kosharek Off-City's Hands

The commission form of government, through its chairman, Homer C. Mills, is a letter delivered to Mayor P. W. McRoberts and members of the city council at a meeting Monday evening, made known its desire to take off the hands of the mayor and council the defense of the suit instituted by John Kosharek, attorney for writ of prohibition against the holding of an election called for June 6 for election of a board of five councilmen for Twin Falls. Under the commission government, adopted at a special election March 23.

"In justice to the people who favor the commission form and in justice to yourselves," the letter says, "you should either permit the defense of this action to be made by our committee or at least allow us to work with your city attorney to see that legal questions are properly raised and presented. We offer to take the defense off your hands without cost to the city so far as counsel fees are concerned."

Taylor Cummins, city attorney, was authorized by the council to accept today with Mills with a view to determining a possible arrangement by which the commission form committee might be retained in the case.

Pays Walker's Claim.
Among the bills in payment of which the council ordered warrants drawn was the claim of E. P. Walton, leader of commission form advocates, for $17 as his debt in an action instituted by himself against the city to obtain a writ of prohibition against the holding of a special election April 18 for submission of the city manager plan.

A major portion of the attention of the council at Monday evening's session was devoted to consideration of a proposed tentative report of the budget committee of Councilman C. H. Krenge and C. P. Barker.

Before entering upon deliberations as to the budget the council approved the recommendation of Councilman W. E. Sanger that the city pay the cost of installing a budget in an irrigator district, water to lands owned by George W. Dean in the Moorman addition, an arrangement having been reached whereby the canal company would pay the cost of installing the check found necessary for this purpose.

Committee to Investigate.
W. J. Luck, appearing again before the council as an applicant for official approval of his plan for building a service station at Five Points at the junction of five highways on Main street, was assured by the mayor that a committee would be named to go with him today to inspect the premises. Councilmen C. T. Drankon and W. E. Sanger were named as members of this committee.

The council ordered warrants drawn in payment of claims against the general fund in the sum of $374.52, against the sprinkling fund in the sum of $85.87, and against the waterworks fund in the sum of $829.42.
