FEEDS CHILDREN STRYCHNINE IN COCOA, TWO DIE

Terrible Crime Attributed to Woman Whose Excuse is that She Was Commanded to Sacrifice Her Little Ones

TORONTO, Ont. (AP)— After reading a newspaper article quoting Sir Arthur Conan Doyle as declaring that death was "painless and happy," Mrs. Thelma Taylor, 33, wife of James B. Taylor of Elmham, a settlement 20 miles south of here, fed her four children strychnine in their cocoa Saturday evening. Two of them are dead. A third is expected to recover and the fourth who drank a small amount of his cocoa suffered no ill-effects.

The children were Edward, aged 8, Arlin G. Keith, 3 and Leroy, 18 months. Edward and Leroy are dead while Arlin is expected to recover. Keith is said to have noticed a peculiar taste in his cocoa and expelled it from his stomach immediately.

Doctors Work All Night

Physicians were summoned to the farm house Saturday where they worked practically all night in an effort to save the children. The mother was not suspected of having given them the poison until Sunday, when officers began to question her and after an examination lasting over an hour she told them that she had been commanded to sacrifice her children. She was arrested by the sheriff of Blingham county and placed in the custody of officials at the Idaho asylum for the insane which is located at Blackfoot. She is said to be rational, quiet and grief-stricken over her action.

An autopsy was performed on the dead children and the contents of their stomachs sent to specialists for examination. Following the report on the autopsy will be held.

The husband did not persist of any of the cocoa.

Newton Galley Narrowly Escapes Serious Injury Under Disc Harrow

BERGER, (Special to The News)— Newton Galley, Berger district farmer, narrowly escaped serious injury Friday, when he was thrown under a disc harrow by a runaway team. He escaped with minor bruises and scratches.

FIRST PICTURE FROM ILLINOIS FLOOD TERRITORY

MANY HOMES were washed away, railroad tracks swept from their moorings and thousands of acres of land inundated by the flood that swept through parts of Illinois and Indiana, entailing a loss of nearly fifty lives. Here is the first picture of the flood crest as it swept away railroad tracks at Beardstown, Ill. A thirty-foot levee in the Mississippi Valley gave way and the maddest storm of gurgling waters rushed madly into the little city. The second from where this remarkable picture was taken was swept away five minutes after the camera man had completed taking the picture.

The citizens of Beardstown, Ill., refuse to have their spirits dampened, although the raging Illinois River put twelve feet of water into their houses, as was the case in the residence of H. C. Kead. Good old Illinois mud land sells at $550 an acre and the sign indicates that the bidder must go the limit.

WOMEN ARMED WITH VARIOUS WEAPONS BUSY

Pokers and Pepper Shakers Freely Used in Demonstrations Against Non-Union Miners in Fayette County

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)— Demonstrations against non-union miners on their way to work marked the progress of the coal strike in the Fayette county region today. Several men were hurt, some seriously, and two women were arrested and taken to the county jail in Uniontown.

The first demonstration occurred at the mine of the Anneton Coal company, four miles from Uniontown, where a crowd of strike sympathizers, in which there were a number of women armed with pokers and pepper shakers, met the men on their way to work. There was something of a scrimmage before the state police arrived and dispersed the crowd, arresting Mrs. Louis C. Edman and Mrs. Caroline Threlk.

Pepper Is Thrown. Superintendent Harry Clenningsmith was struck with a poker and had his leg broken in his eyes. The company's miners, numbering 35, were declared by the management to have succeeded in entering the mine.

The other row was at the Collier mine of the H. C. Fryck Coko company where a large body of women gathered and urged the men not to return to work. The uniformed guards at the plant rounded up the women, and hounding out a line of fire hose prepared to drench them. Water, however, was unavailable, but the sight of the hose, reports to the county authorities said, threw women into panic, some of them becoming hysterical. They were allowed to go home after refusing to engage in no more demonstrations. Eighty men were said to be working in the Collier mine.

Davis Death Will Not Affect Road

Suicide of President of Proposed Idaho Central Line Not Regarded as in Any Manner Militating Against Successful Carrying Out of Company's Plans

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)— Suicide replaced murder theories in the death Saturday of George L. Davis, president of the proposed Idaho Central railroad, with the discovery yesterday of a note saying the loss of his wife and his love for another woman was more than he could bear. Mrs. Davis died December 17, 1919, in Grand Rapids, Mich. The note was recovered with his hat and coat near Mussel Rock, where his body was recovered from the ocean.

Davis was once a national figure in railroad making and financial circles. When his body was found, there was but twenty-seven cents in his pockets.

Death of George L. Davis, president of the Idaho Central Railroad company, reported Sunday night in San Francisco, will not of necessity derange plans for the construction of the road, in the opinion of Twin Falls men who have been prominently identified with the work of raising a bonus fund for this purpose.

The certificate of necessity and convenience for construction of the road, granted July 29, 1921, by the interstate commerce commission, it is pointed out, was awarded not to Mr. Davis as an individual but to the Idaho Central Railroad company, a corporation organized under the laws of Idaho, and maintaining offices at San Francisco.

Under provisions of this certificate the road was to be completed and in operation by December 31, 1923.

Field Is Protected. Unless the rights under the certificate were voluntarily surrendered by the Idaho Central company, it is asserted, no other interest could enter the field prior to the expiration of the period designated in the certificate.

It is generally considered that Mr. Davis' experience as a railroad builder was one of the greatest assets of the Idaho Central company, but no indication of the plans of the company in view of Mr. Davis' death has come here.

Advices from San Francisco announcing Mr. Davis' death said that he intended to leave next week for Twin Falls to make surveys for the proposed railroad. This accords with plans previously announced in letters from Mr. Davis received here within the past few weeks. In these letters he stated that as soon as snow had melted from the hills on the route of the proposed road between Contact and Wells, Nevada, to permit traversing the entire route from the southern terminal, a party of engineers would begin actual work on the enterprise.

Health Was Not Good. Mr. Davis was in Twin Falls last about a year ago, and left here going to Washington to appear before the interstate commerce commission.

Opening of Third Week of the Genoa Conference Marked by Apparent Determination for Harmonious Outcome

FRENCH DELEGATION MAY LEAVE SESSION

BAR-LE-DUC, France, (AP)— Premier Poincare announced in a speech here today that if the French delegation at Genoa could not get along with its work under the present conditions, France would respectfully have to cease participation in the conference.

The 21st of May when the Germans must either accept the conditions laid down by the reparations commission or default in their payment is an important date for France, said the premier. It is France's duty, he added, "in full independence" to assume the duty of maintaining the integrity of the treaty.

GENOA, (AP)— Once more today the grating Genoa conference, which threatened to destroy it altogether, set itself grimly to the task of reconstituting the economic life of Europe.

The announcement by the German delegates late last night that they would not reply to the allies' second note, because they did not wish to endanger the success of the conference, was received everywhere, with frankly uttered words of relief, for almost everybody was beginning to despair secretly that the conference would end without reciprocal achievement.

To all quarters today were heard words of praise for the patient efforts of the Italian leaders in establishing harmony so that the conference might concentrate on constructive problems for which it was organized.

Six sub-commissions met today and the committee of experts on the Russian question made plans to take up immediately the report on the reconstruction of Russia submitted to the allied experts who met in London. This report concerns not only the question of the handling of Russian debts, but also matters vital to foreigners in their relations with Russia from the legal protection they are to have in their dealings in Russia.

Memorandum Discarded

The soviet delegation has thrown over for the moment its noted memorandum issued as an answer to the experts because it is in contradiction with the later Russian note accepting the allies' terms as a basis over which to negotiate. Russia explained that the memorandum which the soviet found inadvisable merely voiced the opinions of the soviet delegates at the first stage of negotiations whereas they now have decided to modify their earlier opinions.

They were careful, however, to make the "rejection" of this memorandum as intelligent as "the successful outcome of the present parleys," but the conference has produced so many shocks and sensations that more phrases no longer are causing the panic which they did at the outset of the deliberations.

Everybody appears to desire some concrete results, and then to return home feeling that at least a hopeful beginning has been made toward rebuilding the detangled economic machinery of Europe. Such was the spirit which animated the opening of the third week of the conference.

UNIQUE SCHEME LAD BARE

Wholesale Bootlegging Carried On by Means of Former Submarine Chasers

NEW YORK, (AP)— A bootlegging scheme whereby liquor was smuggled into this country from Bermuda and Cuba on former submarine chasers commanded by officers wearing the uniform of the United States navy has been unmasked. It was announced today at the customs house. The former captain, Lt. Leonard F. King, was seized with her command and crew of seven, the announcement stated. Customs officials claimed to have received from the crew a story to the effect that pirates looted the chaser yesterday afternoon, 50 miles off New York coast. King, England, boarded the craft with drawn revolvers, bound the crew to the mast and seized the chaser's cargo of liquor.

SOCIALISTS TO OFFER REMEDY TO CURE WORLD

Forthcoming Party Convention to be Held at Cleveland Will Undertake Elaborate Program of Reform

CLEVELAND, (AP)—Proposals for "immediate and drastic remedies" for what were described as "political evils and industrial arrangements" said to have been left as a legacy of the world war, will be presented at the annual convention of the Socialist party on April 29, according to the preliminary agenda issued by Otto Branstetter of Chicago, executive secretary.

The taking over by the government of the business of insurance and extension of it to include provision for unemployment, measures to remedy "the collapse of agriculture," gradual socialization of the great basic industries, and recognition of Russia form part of a proposed congressional program.

The measure relative to insurance is worded as follows: "The Socialist party insists that the business of insurance should be taken over by the government, and should be extended to include adequate provision for unemployment, accident sickness, invalidity and old age, without contributing on the part of the workers."

Remedies Also Offered

Proposals to remedy "the collapse of agriculture" specify that land not cultivated by owners shall be taxed its full rental value; that the federal government shall acquire other lands by taxation, purchase, lease, condemnation or otherwise, such lands to be operated as public domain, with annual credits to be extended to farmers at low rates of interest; that a comprehensive plan of elimination of farm tenancy be worked out with the aid of establishing socially owned and operated farms; that the relation of employer and employed shall disappear; that socially owned cold storage plants be established and rural wage workers be encouraged to organize unions of farm laborers.

Socialization of the industry as proposed would begin with the railroads, mines, steel industry, and others of the larger industries, to be extended to the other large industries as rapidly as possible. It was represented that the great basic industries are marked by a "monopolistic character" and that they "involve the welfare of so many thousands of human beings that no private or corporate group should be permitted to own them for private enrichment." Conditions in the railroads, mines and steel industry were described as "becoming intolerable and intolerable."

A section of the agenda condemning militarism contains this pledge: "The Socialist party pledges its candidates to oppose universal military service, standing armies and large navies."

Foreign Policy Criticized

Criticism of the United States' foreign policy is drawn up as follows: "The Panama Zone II (the United States) maintains what in Europe would be called a 'Crown colony' ruled by a governor. It seized the Panama strip under the guns of American warships. It supported a financial imperialism in Haiti and Santo Domingo, overthrowing the republics of these countries and ruling them with an armed force. It has threatened Mexico repeatedly. For a generation it has controlled elections in Nicaragua. It maintains a protectorate over Cuba. After twenty years of repeated promises of independence for the Philippines it still rules these islands."

"No nation can rule with armed might abroad and threaten its weaker neighbors without becoming despotic at home. The foreign policy of the government under democratic and republican administrations has been the same since 1893. Each administration has followed the policy of supporting the big banks and American investors in their ventures abroad at the expense of a police force to back up their international financial ventures."

Not So Much

A professor in Chicago told his audience that there are no beautiful women in the United States. "We haven't been invited to get into this argument and it's none of our business but we would like to horn in with just this statement that we've never seen a professor who was much to look at."

FINANCIAL MAZE BARED TO LIGHT

Defalcations Totalling Over $200,000 Brought Out by Bank Investigation

HILLO, T. H., (AP)—A financial maze, involving two alleged "dummy" corporations, purported defalcations totalling approximately $200,000, alleged speculation in mainland stocks and conversion of funds and stocks of private individuals entrusted to the Peoples' bank and the Security Trust company, here, led to the closing of the doors of the two institutions when a business depression forced the sale of stocks and bonds down, according to the report of the grand jury which investigated the affairs of the two financial concerns.

The indictments were returned against Territorial Senator James W. Russell, former director in both institutions and prominent in their establishment; Herbert A. Truax, former vice-president and manager, and Leslie Everett, former cashier. The indictments charged Truax with embezzling funds of the bank and trust company, and Russell with aiding, abetting and encouraging him. Everett also was charged with forgery and bank cheating.

The jury's report charged that bank officials converted funds and stocks of private individuals, entrusted to the two institutions, to the individual use of Russell and Truax and for the benefit of the two alleged "dummy" corporations, the Securities Trading company and the Plantation Trading company.

The jury recommended the employment of more territorial bank examiners, saying, "It is manifestly impossible for one official, at present, to perform adequately this work, and his examination must be more or less cursory."

Deposits in the Peoples' bank fell from $1,350,000 in August, 1921, to $810,000 at the time it closed its doors on February 18. Many Japanese were numbered among its depositors and are reported to have been hit hard by the suspension.

GOODING COLLEGE BOASTS OF MANY MARRIED WOMEN

President Tenney Claims Nebraska University's Record is Broken

GOODING, Idaho—President C. W. Tenney claims that Gooding college has the record of the University of Nebraska for the enrollment of married women here.

Nebraska has seven and is proud of the fact that the story has been held from coast to coast. Gooding college has thirteen and there is no other school in the state which considers the number, unucky, either.

"One of them is a member of the senior class and will graduate the first of June. More than that she has a boy in the sophomore class, another in the freshman class, a girl in the grades and a husband who seems both happy and contented."

These married women at Gooding college are Mrs. Naomi Dohendorf of Salt Lake City, Utah; Mrs. Arnold Orland of Twin Falls; Mrs. J. E. Weaver of Shoshone; Mrs. M. B. Wilkott of Hills and Meadows; E. E. Roberts, H. H. Marsh, L. S. Ferris, Shirley P. Deich, J. H. Cromwell, C. L. Buckner and H. D. Cheney, of Gooding.

The list of subjects passed is quite varied, and without duplication includes—Engineering, mathematics, American history, bacteriology, chemistry, French, freshman English, rural sociology, rural economics, military, English Bible, seminar in history, remodeling of old clothes, wig-making, history, interpretation and criticism, music, education, theory, dramatics, voice, public speaking and domestic science.

Compared with the other students in the college, their grades are far above the average, most of them being of first rank, which entitles them to exemption from the final examination, and the unanimous sentiment is that Gooding college could not go and grow without them.

GOOD PLACE FOR GHOSTLY VISITS

Haverford College Letters and Signatures are Adjunct to History

Haverford, Pa., (AP)—Ghosts and shades of kings long dead, of geniuses and celebrities who have passed, would seem to foregather nightly in the vaults of Haverford college, where are kept the hundreds of original letters and manuscripts constituting the autobiographical collection of the late Charles Roberts and preserved, intact, in a box by his widow in his memory.

The collection is said to be one of the three most valuable in existence. There are two complete sets of signatures of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, together with the specimens of signatures of virtually every great man in the history of the country. The letters of Washington and Lincoln are particularly valuable. The report of British statesmen from Dunstun to Gladiata is hardly less complete.

Great names in literature and philosophy not only American, but German, English and French, present an imposing array.

All the American poets and men of letters from Hawthorne, Poe and Irving to Walt Whitman are in profusion, while the signatures of Francis Bacon, Dryden and later poets can be found together with those of Hugo, La Fontaine, Goethe and Schiller.

Many Famous Letters

There is among them a letter written in a child's hand by the little daughter of James II to her mother from Windsor Castle. The prince's later was quick to respond as the wife of William of Orange. The letter said: "Madness! I long to come to London to see your Majesty, for it is verily cold here at Windsor. My sister Anne has a great cold. She thinks you for sending her a cloak; for she had great need of it. Fly as all in this cold place, and keep me still in your Majesty's favor, who is your Majesty's most humble and obedient daughter and servant, Mary."

There is a long letter in Swellish script by Gustav Adolphus, rimando signed at the top with Queen Elizabeth's flourish, the crabbled signature of Henry VIII, the Imperial "N" of Napoleon, together with the scrawls of Ferdinand and Isabella, Louis XI, XII, XVI, XVII, and others.

A personal intimation of Marie Antoinette is said to be the highest find, a card addressed to a letter penned by Anne of Austria, Queen of Queen Victoria, Philip of Spain, Charles I, Maria Theresa, Henry VII appear nearby.

A letter from Benjamin Franklin to a friend having to do with the victory of Gettysburg, written as a medicine for the soul, next to a report written by General Israel Putnam during the Revolution, concerning the heavy losses suffered by the enemy during the battle of Princeton.

"Australia."

"Australia" is a geographical term, used rather loosely by some authorities to denote all of the islands of the Southern Pacific, including Australia, New Guinea, New Zealand and Melanesia; while others confine it to Australia, Tasmania, New Zealand and the Fiji Islands.

BEAUTIFULS 14 ACRES FOR BIRD SANCTUARY

Iron Mountain, One of Few Hills in Florida, to be Used in Charitable Design

LAKE WALDS, Fla., (AP)—Fourteen acres of land at the peak of the hill near here known as Iron Mountain, the highest point in Florida, has been purchased by Edward V. Bok, of Philadelphia, for many years editor of the Lantern, Home Journal, with the intention of establishing on the site a park and bird sanctuary. Mr. Bok, it is said, has told his friends he expects to give W. H. Olmstead, well known landscape architect, now in Europe, carte blanche in laying out and beautifying the property.

Iron Mountain, included in the Magnolia Lake corporation, is 225 feet high, and, according to the United States Geological Survey, is the highest point yet measured in Florida. It is also said to be the highest land within 60 miles of the Atlantic ocean or Gulf of Mexico between Orange mountain, N. J., and the Rio Grande river.

From the top of Iron Mountain can be seen one of the remnants of the occupation of this section of the state by the Seminole Indians. It is a huge, screeching orange tree in Hickory Hammock, in the Peace River valley marsh, the sole survivor of a grove set out by the Seminoles on the then almost inaccessible island.

RICH LANDS OF UKRAINE BEING FAST DESERTED

Once Populous Center of Farm Activity in Europe Becoming Rapidly Depopulated by the Fear of Want and Famine

ODESSA, (AP)—Fear of starvation in the Ukraine, once regarded as the richest farming country in the world, has become so acute that thousands of peasants are abandoning everything they possess and flocking to the cities, where they hope to eke out an existence until all danger of crop requisition by the soviet has passed.

Hope for better crops this summer seems to have been lost. Merchants here who formerly bought everything they possess and flocking to the cities, where they hope to eke out an existence until all danger of crop requisition by the soviet has passed.

The Ukraine, commonly called the "granary of Europe," produced nearly 20,000,000 tons of wheat and cereals in pre-war years. Its annual yield of potatoes averaged 6,000,000 tons. In 1914 it marketed 27,000,000 head of horned cattle, 8,100,000 hogs and 6,300,000 pigs. It also exported coal, iron and manganese, dairy products and blooded horses.

Becoming Desolate Waste

The Ukraine, twice as large as the British Isles and with a pre-war population of 40,000,000, is fast becoming a desolate waste, according to the refugees. The only reason it has held together until now, they say, is because of rich stores of grain accumulated in the days of prosperity, which were hoarded from the soviet commissars on the plea that they must be used for seed. Now that these are exhausted, the rich, black earth of the Ukraine must lie idle and worthless.

Included among those who face starvation are half a million German colonists, descendants of Germans who settled in the country more than 100 years ago by invitation of Catherine the Great. In the German colony of Grod Lubelsk, near Odessa, one city of 10,000 population is said already to be in the grip of famine. In this section some 30,000 acres of grain was sown nearly a year before war. Today there is not a sheaf of wheat to be seen. In another section where 80,000 acres formerly were sown, there is now 100 acres under cultivation.

John Barleycorn

"Sir John Barleycorn" is a personification of malt liquor whether in the form of ale or beer. The expression is common to both England and Scotland. The name is the subject of an old ballad ascribed to Robert Burns, the Scotch poet, although all he did was to alter, slightly, parts of it.

OLD VESUVIUS DYNAMITE SHIP SOLD FOR JUNK

Famous Naval Disappointment of 25 Years Ago Ends Career for Good and All—Had Only Brief Record

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP) — The old navy "dynamite" cruiser Vesuvius... Famous Naval Disappointment of 25 Years Ago Ends Career for Good and All—Had Only Brief Record

In 1897, when the American fleet was concentrated before Santiago de Cuba to battle up the battle craft of Spain, the Vesuvius steamed down to join the grim gring of steel.

Wild conjectures filled the newspapers as to the terrible damage such an engine of war would do to the ships of Spain and the forts that guarded the harbor.

The nation waited breathlessly for the test.

As a trial, she was finally ordered in to hurl shells and destructive into the walls of Morro castle, on the high bluffs. When, at the close range necessary because of the lower power of the air guns the Vesuvius finally "hit go," a terrible roar came back from the bluff. It shook the earth and sea with sound and sent frightened residents of the city scurrying in fear to caves and cellars.

But it proved to be only sound. When Santiago fell and examination was possible, it was found that no damage had been done to the old, tottering forts and ancient bronze guns. The Vesuvius returned with the fleet through the war-torn straits and dispatched itself—But immediately after the war, in September, 1898, she was decommissioned, never again to be rated as a fighting ship.

Over a Million to be Expended Upon Building to be Used as Center of Research

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—Plans for the erection in Washington of a $1,300,000 building as the home of the National Academy of Sciences and the National Research Council and a center for American science in all its fields were announced today by Dr. C. L. Walcott, president of the national academy at the opening session of its meeting here.

The building, which is expected to be completed by a year from next fall, Dr. Walcott said, is a gift of the Carnegie foundation of New York.

COMPLICATION IS AVERTED

Many Married Couples Badly Worried for a Time as to Validity of Divorce Rights

HONOULULU (AP)—Divorced or not divorced was the problem that faced scores of worried Honolulu residents whose matrimonial bonds had been severed ostensibly by Judge John H. Dosh of the domestic relations branch of the circuit court here, until a message received from Attorney General Harry Daugherty said that a flaw in Judge Dosh's commission, which threatened to nullify his acts on the bench, was negligible and would not affect his decrees.

The statute creating the office which Judge Dosh holds designated the position as "Judge of the division of domestic relations." His commission from President Harding created him "fourth judge of the circuit court." The discrepancy which created until some time after Judge Dosh had assumed his position and had granted scores of divorces. The anxiety of the persons affected by these decrees arose from the unofficial opinion of several justices of the territorial supreme court that Judge Dosh's official name probably would be declared invalid. The anxiety was dissipated by Attorney General Daugherty's message.

Dempsy and Harry Wills, Negro Contender, May Stage Fistic Encounter in London

NEW YORK, (AP)—The possibility of Jack Dempsy and Harry Wills, negro heavy weight contender, meeting in a championship contest in London this summer loomed today on the strength of a cablegram from George McDonald, English promoter. According to Dick Hollings, English fight manager now in America, he received the following message from McDonald.

"Can you get Wills to come to London to box Dempsy?"

Wills, when informed of the cablegram, announced he would be ready to depart on the first boat, but his manager offered no comment except to say he "could see no reason for leaving yet."

Bolling did not indicate whether he had sought a definite answer to McDonald's cablegram.

Dempsy, so far as it is known here, has signed articles for any match in connection with his present bout at the top although he has announced his willingness to meet Carpenter for a return engagement, or any other European contender.

WOULD GRANT PRESIDENT RIGHT TO CHANGE TARIFF

Senator Smoot Suggests Provision in Bill Which Would Render Law Elastic

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—Provisions in the pending tariff bill which would authorize the president to increase or decrease rates and prohibit American or valuation were described today by the senate by Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, as not only offering a solution of the particular tariff problem now before congress, but also "suggesting a practical basis for a continuing scientific adjustment of the tariff in the future."

"Once they are understood," Senator Smoot said, "I believe every member of congress will welcome them as legislation which will in part free us from dealing with burdensome details and from the exactness of putting through a general tariff revision in a single bill."

Commenting upon the time necessary to bring out the present bill, Senator Smoot, who is the ranking republican on the finance committee, which deals with tariff questions, said it must be expected that "every conscientious legislator of the tariff will encroach to a greater extent than the previous one upon the time of the legislative branch."

HUGE METEOR IS VIEWED

Celestial Visitor Said to Have Been of Unusual Coloring and Brilliance

LOS ANGELES, Cal. (AP)—A meteor of unusual size and brilliancy darted across the sky west of Los Angeles last night.

Observers at the Mount Wilson observatory about 20 miles north of here, said the meteor was 15 or 20 times as brilliant as the planet Venus. From their perch high up on the mountain side, the meteor was seen to break at an apparently short distance from the earth and its flaming mass was dissipated in the air.

The meteor was of startling appearance. The body was followed by a flaming tail of blue and green shades which spread out like a fan for a considerable distance.

TODAY'S MARKETS

Chicago Grain Market

CHICAGO, (AP)—With the beginning of May deliveries only a week off, the wheat market showed a tendency early today to rise in price for May but to decline for later months. The difficulty of filling contracts for May delivery was emphasized by acceptance of a reduction in the United States via the supply table. On the other hand, believers in lower prices put stress on notices that Canadian wheat was already being imported at a profit, duty paid.

Opening prices, which varied from unchanged figures to 1-3/4 higher with May $1.18 to 1.19 and July $1.23 to 1.23 3/4 were followed by moderate fluctuations in which May continued well above Saturday's finish, with July and September below that level.

Subsequently May as well as July and September underwent a decided drop in value, lack of any immediate aggressive demand being apparent.

CHICAGO, (AP)—Selling on the part of houses with extensive connections led to a material setback all around in the wheat prices today. Absence of export buying together with arrivals of Canadian wheat at Minneapolis had a pronounced bearish influence, that more than counterbalanced price upturns with which May wheat opened the week. The close was unsettled, 3-4 to 2c net lower, with May $1.15 3/4 to 1.15 7/8 and July $1.28 3/4 to 1.28 1/2 c.

Seaboard demand gave a little impetus to corn. After opening unchanged to 3-8 to 1-2c higher, July 65 3/4 to 66c, the corn market held at about the initial range.

Later, the weakness of wheat caused easy, 1-4 to 1-2 to 6-8c cut lower, with July 65 1-4 to 65 1-4 to 33-8c.

Oats sympathized with corn, starting a shade off to 1-4 higher, July 41 1/8 to 41 1/4 and later hardening a little due to the receipt by Senator Smoot.

Lower quotations on hogs tended to weaken the provision market.

Woman Charged with Death of Brooklyn Physician Expected to Tell Strange Story on Witness Stand

NEW YORK, (AP)—Trial of Miss Lillian Raizen, charged with the murder of Dr. Abraham Glikstein in his Brooklyn office, has been indefinitely postponed pending the report of a commission which has been examining her case. District Attorney Ruston announced today. The trial was set for today as a sequel to a tragedy that already has cost three lives.

Mrs. Lillian Raizen shot Dr. Abraham Glikstein, Brooklyn physician, to death in his office last December. The case follows close on the heels of the trial of Miss Olivia M. P. Stone, graduate nurse, who recently was acquitted of a charge of murdering Ellis G. Kinkaid, former corporation counsel of Cincinnati, in Brooklyn last fall.

In both cases, the defendants told a tale of betrayal at the hand of the man they killed. In both cases a defense of insanity was made or indicated. In both cases a triangle existed.

A calamity of Miss Stone's in the Raymond street jail, Mrs. Raizen followed closely every move in the Kinkaid case, and at night the two women would sit up late chatting over details of the trial.

Another point at which the cases crossed trails came shortly after the acquittal of Miss Stone, when Mrs. Anna Glikstein, the physician's widow, leaped to her death from a window in her home.

Insanity Sure to Acquit
"Any woman can commit murder now," Mrs. Glikstein said before she killed herself, "especially a woman like Mrs. Raizen. She will be freed, too. All she will have to do is say she was insane."

As dramatic as the suicide of the widow was the death of the physician's aged mother, Mrs. Lena Glikstein. Gazing on the bier of her beloved son, she fell dead across the coffin.

The shooting itself occurred in the doctor's office.
Three patients were waiting to see him, among them Mrs. Raizen, heavily veiled. She was called into the office, remained a few moments and left hurriedly. When other patients opened the doctor's door, Glikstein was found dead. Mrs. Raizen had fired the shot which killed her victim through her heart.

Then after the police had hunted in vain for two days for the slayer, she gave herself up to the district attorney. She pleaded that Glikstein, before her marriage had wronged her, and had forced her to submit to two operations which he, himself, performed.

The defendant is expected to plead insanity. She has been examined by three commissions of alienists, whose reports will be read.

OBESON, R. (AP)—Protesting against the 2 per cent statistics of miners' issued by the department of labor, a letter addressed to James J. Davis, secretary of labor, by John Brophy, president of district No. 2 of the United Mine Workers, today took sharp issue with the figures given out by the department and asked the secretary if he regarded $760 a year as a saving wage?

Brophy's letter declared that a survey of district No. 2 covering 31,970 miners, made by the miners' union, showed that the average wage was $14.60 a week or $76 a year, as against the department's statistics of $1375 for the year.

The letter also insisted that the use of the production peak in October for the purpose of fixing statistics is a "favorite stratagem of the operators" as the last two weeks in October average 50 per cent capacity while the miners' actual average for capacity for the year was 39 per cent.

There were 2 1/2 average working days a week, according to Brophy's figures, and he urged Secretary of Labor Davis to verify his figures and see that the bureau's statistics were accurate hereafter.

Irish Free State Loses Touch with Outside World as Result of Labor Walkout

LONDON, (AP)—The Irish free state was cut off from the outside world and even from Ulster today as a result of a great 24 hour general strike of labor against militarism in Ireland. Telegraphic and telephonic communication had ceased, and all means of transportation apparently were halted.

One wireless set was working between military headquarters in Ulster and the Dublin headquarters, and since this was reported to be carrying only routine messages, it was assumed in Ulster that nothing untoward was happening among her neighbors to the south.

Between London and Dublin there were no means of communication whatever.

terstate commerce commission in the interests of his application for the certificate of necessity and convenience. As soon as the certificate was granted Mr. Davis went to San Francisco, where, it was reported, he was for some months confined to his home by illness. Some of the lines in this spring were to the effect that offices had been opened there by the Idaho Central company, and extensive preparations were being made toward beginning active work on the road building enterprise.

Mr. Davis was credited with having built seven railroads in the Pacific northwest. Some of these lines were later taken over by larger railway systems while others have been maintained as independent lines, but all are said to be in operation at the present time. Mr. Davis' last big work, according to acquaintances, was the construction of the Pacific Railway and Navigation company's line, running from Portland to Tillamook City in Oregon. It was following the completion of that line, which was said to have cost $4,000,000 and which was sold to the Southern Pacific company, that he launched the Idaho Central project.

A meeting of the directors of the Idaho Central Holding company and of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce has been called to be held here this afternoon to determine upon steps to be taken with reference to plans for the railway project in view of Mr. Davis' death. The holding company was formed about a year ago to conduct the campaign for the railroad bonus fund.

Save the Repair Bill

When the bells refuse to respond do not send for the electrician before you examine the battery. Perhaps the water has evaporated; in that case a little water added will repair the bell. If this does not prove satisfactory empty the bell and refill with water then add salt ammoniac, allowing a quarter pound to one quart of water. The probabilities are you will save the repair bill.

Debils Really Mexican.

There seems to be an impression that the first debils to be cultivated in Europe and America were single-flowered forms. This is a mistake; the very first species to be described and figured, debilia mexicana, was a form with a duplex or double head. It was propagated in the royal gardens at Madrid from roots of Mexican origin, and was named by the botanist Cavanilles in 1701 in honor of Andrea Dabi, a distinguished pupil of Linnaeus.

UASSAU, N. H., (AP)—Virginia Pearson, motion picture actress who was to have spoken at the First Baptist church last night, was prevented at the last minute by the deacons. They instructed the pastor to announce that the action was for "the good of the church."

A crowd that filled the auditorium for the first time in its history had appeared to hear Miss Pearson tell "efforts to raise the moral standard of the stage." She said afterward that she was invited to speak by the pastor, adding that the action of the deacons was "apparently the work of people who think that actors and actresses are damned forever."

WASH AWAY MOUNTAIN OLOANA, Calif., (AP)—A mountain washed away by placer mining operations is being successfully undertaken at the Elephant Deep mine near here; the results of which have been rich in gold. Huge boulders and tons of earth are melting under the force from three monitors, which use an average pressure of 1200 pounds of water. It is believed the entire mountain will be leveled by July.

Operations on the Elephant Deep property started in October, 1920, and the mountain has since been demolished at the rate of 2,000 cubic yards a day.

SUPREME COURT FIXES EQUITIES IN HOTEL CASE

Thomas - M. Robertson Wins Two and Loses One Decision in Complicated Transfer of Hotel Perrine Stock

BOISE—Thomas M. Robertson of Twin Falls won two out of three cases decided Saturday by the supreme court when decisions on two of the cases he lost in the district court for Twin Falls "early" were reversed by the high tribunal.

The litigation grew out of a contract agreement entered into by Robertson, George Horlitt, W. A. Babcock, H. M. Spargur, A. D. Cowling and A. L. Houghtelin, all stockholders in the Hotel Perrine Hotel company.

The effect of the decisions is to vest in Mr. Robertson the title to the stock in the company. This was done and the decision which, under the court's order, he may pay off. Control of the Hotel Perrine thus passes to Mr. Robertson and to George P. Sprague, his associate in the irrigated lands company.

Pooler His Block

These stockholders agreed to pool their stock and to control the company. This was done and the decision was placed in the hands of the First National bank of Twin Falls. Subsequently Robertson purchased the stock, 75 shares, of Cowling and Spargur and demanded of the bank that certificate for 9 and 10 shares of the stock, he turned over to him. The bank refused and Robertson brought the first action to force the bank to deliver the stock. He lost this case in the district court and the supreme court affirmed the judgment.

After losing this case he filed another suit naming the bank, Houghtelin and H. B. Cowling as defendants. Houghtelin claimed the stock in question as a purchaser. In this action Robertson sought to restrain the bank and Houghtelin from selling or transferring the 75 shares of stock to anyone but himself. He also asked the court to declare the pooling contract null and void as to the certificates Nos. 9 and 10 and that upon final determination the 75 shares be transferred to him free and clear from all claims.

Wins in Higher Court

In the district court he also lost, this case but he better luck in the supreme court. For the high tribunal reversed the decision of the lower court in this case.

Before the trial all the stock in the pool was delivered to Cowling and loaned to Robertson as security by the company. The transfer on the books. He refused to transfer certificates Nos. 9 and 10 and the third action was brought by Cowling to compel him to make the transfer. The bank was also named as a defendant. Robertson lost this case in the district court but the supreme court reversed the district court so that he won two out of three of the decisions which, because of their close relationship, were all grouped under one case.

Must Keep Contract

In reversing the decision of the lower court in the first case, the supreme court said that as Robertson had bound himself to the contract by agreeing to its terms at the time of purchase of the 75 shares of stock, he could not withdraw it except upon payment of the amount of the list which his stock was charged. He had agreed to the provision that Houghtelin should be reimbursed for all expense he had stock to purchase the stock for the pool.

From the record it appeared that Cowling made an offer of $1500 to buy the 137 1/2 shares of stock embraced in the pool. The offer was accepted by Babcock, Houghtelin and Horlitt. It later appeared in the record that at the time the offer was made Houghtelin was the owner of Horlitt's stock, which gave Houghtelin control of all the stock in the pool. Cowling had no financial interest in the transaction and admitted he was acting for Houghtelin.

"Bought from Self"

"It thus appears," says the court, "that Houghtelin as purchaser fixed the price that he was willing to pay for the stock in the pool, submitted his proposition to himself as owner of a majority of the stock and as such majority owner voted to accept his own proposition, which, if the transaction had not been transferred to himself against Robertson's wishes, the ownership of the stocks of Robertson for a price which he claims, and the evidence shows, to be much less than the actual value of the stock."

The court declares that the hotel property is worth $105,000 net and on this valuation with 615 shares of outstanding stock each share was worth $172. The estimate shows, the opinion says, that Houghtelin bought Robertson's stock for at least $2000 less than its reasonable value.

Mr. Robertson was represented in this suit by James R. Bothwell of Bothwell and Chapman; E. A. Walters of Walters, Houghtelin and Bailey was counsel for the opposing interests. The case in the district court was tried before Judge H. F. Dargis.

Contract for marketing practically all of the potatoes produced this season in the district between Salt Lake and Teton counties, Utah, involving an estimated production of between 1500 and 2000 carloads, and constituting one of the largest contracts of its kind ever negotiated, has been completed for the Boyo Commission company by Carl L. TRYING AGAIN TO GET BEETS

Closing of Twin Falls Factory Alternative if Final Campaign Fails

With the definite statement that the Amalgamated Sugar company would not operate its factory here this season unless an adequate acreage in this district was devoted to production of sugar beets, the company today announced launching of a final campaign to secure additional acreage for this crop.

Failure of this campaign would not inevitably result in the closing of the beet processor, which was implied by the company for grinding at another factory, probably the one at Burley. Payment to growers in this district for their beets, would be made upon the basis of the yield by the growers at the loading station, regardless of whether the Twin Falls factory were operated.

NO CANDIDATES FOR COUNCILMEN ARE YET NAMED

First Day for Filing Brings No Aspirants for Place Under Commission Form; Only the Committee Interested

Saturday as the first day for filing of nominations for members of the board of five councilmen to be elected June 6 for Twin Falls under the commission form of government, brought forth no aspirants for municipal office. Fourteen days remain for the filing of nominations.

Blanks for this purpose have been prepared and are available for general distribution at the office of the city clerk. So far, the demand for these blanks has been confined to persons identified with the "commission form of government committee." Statements by leaders of the commission form for government committee indicate that there will be no nominations filed early in the period prescribed for this purpose.

But May Be Influence

Among some political observers it is considered probable that a great number of candidates will be more sparse until after the decision of the court in the suit instituted by John Keshark to test the validity of the commission form elections. Hearing in this suit has been set by District Judge W. A. Babcock to be held here May 3. The time for filing nominations is May 6, so that five days time for this purpose will elapse after the hearing.

Only Councilmen to Be Elected

Only candidates for councilmen will be nominated and elected at the commission form election, if the court's decision is favorable to the holding of the election. All other municipal officials and employees will be named by the councilmen.

Defendants, Counsel and Newspapermen Will Court Room as Opening of Trial

CHADLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The opening of trial of 120 officers, and members of the United Mine Workers of America for the part they are alleged to have taken in the march against the non-union Logan county coal field last summer, was delayed more than half an hour this morning while court attaches arranged to seat the large gathering of defendants, counsel, witnesses and newspapermen.

The defendants are charged with treason, murder, jurisdiction, conspiracy to commit murder and inciting and abetting murder.

Wives and other relatives of a number of the prominent defendants were seated in the front part of the room. They include Mrs. C. F. Keeney, wife of the president of district No. 17, United Mine Workers and their son, Belmont Hill last summer, wife of the district secretary.

Supreme Court Decision Holds Against Winstead Hester Company in Matter of Trade Name

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—Trade names and labels used by manufacturers must not convey to the purchasing public an inaccurate description of the materials or ingredients of the manufactured products, the supreme court decided today in a case brought by the Winstead Hester company against the Federal Trade commission.

Justice Brandeis in delivering the opinion of the court upheld the authority of the trade commission to issue an order to the company to modify certain practices typical of its trade, particularly its label "Merino" as used in connection with knit goods, on the ground that they constituted unfair competition. Justice McReynolds dissented.
