BOISE WOMAN IS BURNED TO DEATH

Mrs. Hattie Rament, 64, Paralyzed and Dumb Meets Horrible End

BOISE, (AP)—Partly paralyzed and dumb from a former illness, Mrs. Hattie Rament, 64, a resident of a Boise rooming house, was found Monday afternoon lying in flames in an alley back of the building. All of her clothing with the exception of corset had been burned from her body, when she was discovered by two men in a nearby carriage works. The city physician, called in attendance, took the woman to a hospital where she died two hours later.

Unable to speak and alone at the time of the accident, Mrs. Rament was unable to attract attention or inform her neighbors of the manner in which she was hurt. A hot fire in her cook stove and a stove lid partly off the stove, led police to believe that the accident occurred while she was cooking. Her husband, found after a search, was unable to shed any light on the mystery.

Exhibit Cabinet in Lobby Plundered of $12,000 Worth of Fashionable Gems

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., (AP)—Jewelry valued at $12,000 was taken from an exhibit maintained in the lobby of the St. Francis hotel, noted local history, by Shreve and company. The robber had to work literally under the eyes of scores of persons who were in the lobby at the time.

The theft is believed to have occurred a few minutes after ten o'clock last night. Four pieces of jewelry, all of diamonds, set in platinum, were taken. The length of the thief's arm apparently limited the haul, as other jewelry in the case valued at more than $30,000, was not touched.

The case stood in a prominent position in the lobby. It contained two glass shelves, of which the lower one contained two rings, four brooches and a wrist watch. The thief had loosened and then removed one of the small glass cases in the side of the case.

He is believed to have worked for days at odd moments in loosening the pane. Fingerprint were plain on the glass and the mark of a hand was on the plumb of the case.

The jewelry had been in the lobby since December. A number of the latest settings were displayed. It is pointed out that the thief probably was fashionably dressed, as otherwise he would not have been conspicuously loitering about the lobby.

Young Woman, Trained in Chicago, Gets Away With $30,000 Worth of Goods in Single Week—Record as Shoplifter Slightly Clouded by Fact of Her Arrest

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., (AP)—Harriet Crockett, also known as Rita Dupont, confessed "professional shop lifter," waits placidly in jail here while a half dozen or more department store heads recover sufficiently from their astonishment over her story to decide what they want to do with her. In the meantime a check-up is being made to ascertain the value of goods the young woman late yesterday confessed to Police Chief Daniel J. O'Brien and the department store heads she had stolen. Tentatively the value is placed at $30,000. It was a week's work, Miss Crockett says.

According to the story which Chief

O'Brien said she told, the girl is a "graduate" of three months' course in a Chicago shoplifting school. Spurred by an oath which she says was administered by members of a Chicago shoplifting band to devote 15 years of her life in shoplifting, or "after the penalty," the young judge told the police she could have "bumped a truck up to any store in town, robbed it and got away without detection."

She said she took 70 goods from one store and 200 from all she visited. Miss Crockett says "a mob" of shoplifters is on its way here to "bump up" the store which she was caught only because she got careless.

Charles Smith of Virginia, After Career Replete With Criminal Adventure, Leaves British Jail for Home

SOUTHAMPTON, England, (AP)—Charles Smith of Virginia, who was sentenced to penal servitude for life in July, 1907, for shooting Edward Gurnea, was released today from the Brixton jail. He will sail for the United States on the S. S. Majestic under a deportation order issued by the home secretary Smith's liberation, after serving 15 years, was due to take effect today.

When Smith was sentenced May Victorian, Charles, alias "Chicago May," also was convicted and sentenced to 15 years penal servitude. Smith and Gurnea quarreled over "Chicago May" whom Gurnea had brought to London from Chicago in 1900.

They went to France and robbed the American Express company in Paris for which Gurnea was sentenced to life imprisonment at Devil's Island. "Chicago May" was sentenced to three years imprisonment at the expiration of which he returned to London. Gurnea, after four years at Devil's Island, escaped and returned to London, where he was again arrested. Extradition was demanded by the French government, which the British government refused after retaining him in jail half a month, deciding he was a British subject.

About the time Gurnea fled to England, Smith went to South Africa with a circus and remained there seven years. The same time he was in London and "rehabilitated" relations with "Chicago May," Gurnea, who was in jail, heard of this friendship, and made threats against Smith; according to the latter's story.

After Gurnea's release from prison, Smith met, and the latter shot Gurnea through the foot, necessitating his spending eight days in a hospital. Gurnea, who is still in London, was in the hands of the police of this country at various intervals during Smith's incarceration.

MANY TROUBLES

Minister Who Married Couple Attired in Bathing Suits May Resign in Order to Save Drastic Action by Church

LAWTON, Okla., (AP)—The judicial commission of the El Reno Presbytery, which has jurisdiction in this territory past here today to hear charges of "conduct unbecoming to a minister of the Presbyterian church" against the Rev. Thomas J. Irwin, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Lawton.

Mr. Irwin announced recently that he had resigned from the church and his recent for a disturbance of his pastoral relations with the local church was presented to the commission this morning. This action, in the opinion of members of the Presbytery will obviate the necessity of a trial.

When J. L. Hamon was buried at Ardmore in 1920, the Rev. Irwin presided at the funeral service, enjoining the former republican national committee. The pastor had been a constant supporter of Hamon, and with the funeral sermon brought down to his congregation, split the church and resulted in part of the congregation leaving. Then last summer the minister married a couple in a bathing pool at a summer resort near here and more discussion followed.

Fires Break Out

Recently fires were discovered in that portion of the church built by Mr. Hamon and attempts were made to destroy the wooden structure built upon in the church by Hamon. Late one Saturday, the pastor was abducted by three unidentifiable men and found several hours later in a mud hole several miles from the city.

An investigation by county authorities following the result being charges of arson were filed against the pastor and a member of the church board of sessions, which had resigned. [Arrangement of these charges is scheduled for tomorrow. The county attorney announced that the findings of the alleged abduction of the pastor to believe that it had been arranged and the matter was dropped.

NEW ORLEANS, La., (AP)—Flooding of Jonestown, La., with a population of about 1500 by a fresh break in the levee, today had swelled the total of Louisiana and Mississippi's homeless and increased the tremendous property damage in the inundated sections. Following the break in the levee protecting about two-third of the town late yesterday, the water today was reported to be two to four feet deep in the streets.

Supplying of food to the approximately 20,000 refugees scattered throughout the flooded areas, in addition to the 40,000 being cared for at relief camps still presented serious problems.

Funeral Services for Henry P. Davidson of Simplest Kind—Red Cross is Conspicuous in Disseques

LOUGHBURY, N. Y., (AP)—Men and women of prominence in the world of finance and society, bowed with plain villas in a common grief today at the burial of Henry P. Davidson, financier, philanthropist and head of the American Red Cross during the world war, who died Saturday.

The little fire covered chapel of St. Johns of Loughbury, nestled among the flowering hills of this picturesque Long Island village, was crowded and many hundreds unable to gain admittance stood silently outside.

A special train conveyed the mourners from New York. Buses, carried through rough lines of apple trees and blossoms and over verdant green lawns of the estates of the millionaires.

The last wishes of Mr. Davidson were fulfilled. Members of his family although dressed in black did not wear deep mourning.

The service was as unostentatious. The eulogy was omitted from the Episcopal ritual which followed private services at the home, and the scene at the grave side was reserved for only those nearest and dearest.

Sing Favorite Hymns

A mixed quartet from St. Bartholomew's in New York sang Mr. Davidson's favorite hymns "Abide With Me" and "Onward Christian Soldiers." Thirteen pallbearers were all members of Mr. Davidson's office staff of J. P. Morgan and company.

The Red Cross, the greatest mother of men, when Mr. Davidson died, shed a world in turmoil, played an important role in the final tribute. The little chapel banked with flowers, a "Red Cross" banner bearing the Red Cross symbol, occupied the place of honor. Over the casket, from the rafters, hung the flag of the United States and the Red Cross. Outside the chapel stood a group of nurses who sang the hymn that Mr. Davidson had called Mr. Davidson as their choir.

GRANDCHILDREN OF BIRD WOMAN BELIEVED HERE

Descendants of Sacajawea, Guide of Lewis and Clark Expedition, May Be Located by Mrs. Packard's Efforts

Through the efforts of Mrs. Augusta L. Packard, state regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Twin Falls chapter hopes in the near future to establish the identity of two young girls who are attending school within 10 miles of Twin Falls. They are believed to be the great-grandchildren of Sacajawea, the famous bird woman, who with her husband, Touissant Charbonneau, and her baby son, led the Lewis and Clark expedition across the continent to the Pacific coast.

To Finance Investigation Some curious investigation of the claim of these girls has led Mrs. Packard to believe their claim is a genuine one and the Twin Falls chapter has voted to sponsor and finance a complete investigation, which is already under way. The grandmother of the girls is now living in Utah and efforts to prove that she is the daughter of Baptiste, Sacajawea's son, will be made.

Mrs. Packard has been an industrious student of Indian history, its legends and traditions, and from the facts that she has assembled it appears highly reasonable that she is yearning about to locate what descendants of this remarkable Indian woman there are now living. She had but one child as the result of her union with Touissant Charbonneau, a French Canadian who obtained her from an Indian chief, Red Arrow, in a gambling game. After losing everything else he had he was asked by Charbonneau to bet his spotted horse, but he refused. Charbonneau then said to him: "I will give you a chance to get meat for your children. I will bet you my fast buffalo horse against your two black caplives (Sacajawea and Otter woman).

Red Arrow agreed to the spite of the fact of the two women captives, who promised anything rather than have to go with the Frenchman. Charbonneau won and then Red Arrow is said to have offered to bet his 14 horses against them, to try to get them back, but Charbonneau refused, taking them with him.

When Sacajawea reached her own people, the Shoshones, from whom she had been taken captive by the enemy tribe known as Earth House, years before, with her son, Baptiste, and her husband, she decided to remain with her people. Her husband received $500.00 for his services as guide, but Sacajawea received no compensation and yet history says she prevented her own husband from turning traitor to the explorers several times and she was able to "sell off" a maid on the explorers which had been previously purchased by her own people, before she reached them. They had sent word to other tribes to join them in killing the members of the expedition.

Boy Sent to St. Louis The boy, Baptiste, was later given several years' schooling in St. Louis by Mr. Clark. Sacajawea also adopted her dead sister's boy, several years Baptiste's senior, who was named Basil.

Inquiry into the history of Sacajawea at the time of the St. Louis fair, when special recognition was given to her through a statue erected to her memory, it was learned that she died on the Shoshone reservation in Wyoming, April 9, 1884, at the age of 100 years. The records say that she was buried at Spokane, as did her two sons.

According to Dr. Grace Raymond Hobard, librarian of the University of Wyoming, who has made a special study of Sacajawea, the descendants of Basil should be in them and claim only the blue blood of the American Indian. The descendants of Baptiste took the mixed blood and act as such. They have acted as guides in earlier days and as United States police later, intermingling with white and Mexican people.

At the state meeting of the D. A. R. at Twin Falls last month, it was decided to place a bronze marker on a granite boulder at the old Spaulding station near Lewiston. This is to be financed by the state treasury and a subscription from each chapter. The locality of the first printing press brought into the state was found to be Portland. The location was also made of the millions used in the first flat mill.

Required Signatures and Acreage Expected to be Obtained by May 15—Weeks of Hard Work Will Be Crowned with Success, is Belief of the Men in Charge

POCAHELLO, Idaho.—The weekly A. V. Moreover, he has interested a number of automobile factory executives and they have brought influence to bear on members of congress from their respective districts. This argument has been put up to many other eastern establishments having western business through the efforts of the Idaho Reclamation association and the co-operation of business organizations and men in Idaho.

ISSUE REFUNDING BONDS Northern Pacific Securities Are Approved by Interstate Commerce Commission

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Final approval was given yesterday by the interstate commerce commission to recently submitted plans of the Northern Pacific railroad to take advantage of recent falls in the interstate rates to issue new securities which would bring about savings in interest payments.

The road was authorized to issue $115,435,000 in five per cent refunding and improvement mortgage bonds for sale at 90 and secured interest. With these funds the roads will pay off in cash and retire at 103 all of the outstanding 6 1/2 per cent gold mortgage bonds which it issued in 1921 in association with the Great Northern road. The net result of the operation will be to save a large amount in annual interest.

Infection and Contagion. Infection is the spread of disease through the air, through water or some other distant means. In pathology, infection means the communication of disease as by entrance of pathogenic germs into an organism in any manner; distinguished from contagion, in which direct or indirect contact with a diseased individual is implied. Contagion means the communication of disease from person to person by contact with the body of a diseased person.

McNary-Smith Bill. The association has been putting forth special efforts, in aid of the Western States Reclamation association, headed by Governor Davis of Idaho, to secure additional support in congress for the pending McNary-Smith bill. In a variety of ways means have been found to call this vitally important measure to the attention of members of congress who are on the fence or arrayed in opposition. The co-operation of the Idaho Automotive Trades association was enlisted some time ago, and through it influential factors in the nation's automobile industry have been lined up for the McNary-Smith bill. FAMOUS TRINITY CHURCH OBSERVES ANNIVERSARY

King William III of England Granted Charter in 1697—Document Preserved

NEW YORK, (AP)—Historic Trinity Church on lower Broadway Sunday celebrated with two special services the 25th anniversary of the granting of the charter by King William III of England.

Bishop William Thomas Manning and Rev. Dr. Charles L. Blatter of Grace Church officiated at the morning service and Bishop Daniel Sylvester Tuttle of St. Louis, presiding bishop of the church, at the afternoon service.

On May 6, 1697, a group of New Yorkers describing themselves as the "managers of the affairs of the Church of England," asked Governor Fletcher for an act of incorporation in conformity with the Ministry Act of 1693. The charter was granted the same day.

The original charter covers three large sheets of parchment. It is written in antique style, with a great seal of red wax. The document still is well preserved.

The members set forth that there was then no public church or building within the city and that Trinity was to be a parish church. The rector was declared to be "a good and sufficient protestant minister" and the churchwardens and vestrymen of the city of New York were required to pay to him "the sums which, according to the provisions of the said act, they were required to raise for the support of the ministry in the city, and in case of their failing to do so, the rector for the time being was authorized to bring an action against them in any court of record within the province."

Before the charter had been granted construction of a church had been begun. The corporation at this time had no productive estate and to help defray expenses the governor granted a patent for wrecks and drift, whales. This patent authorized the wardens to seize all wrecks, drift, whales, and "whatsoever else drives from the high sea and is then lost below high water mark and not having a lawful owner within bounds and limits of his majesty's province of New York."

Whales proving somewhat scarce, funds had to be raised by contribution, subscriptions and loans. A group of Jews contributed to a special fund for erection of the steeple.

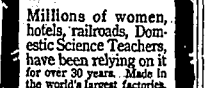

Childish Frankness. Charles, with his father and mother, was spending the day at the home of his grandparents. When he had finished his dinner he excused himself, as he wished to play with his tops. Upon being prompted to say "Thank you, grandma," he was equally audacious. "Good dinner—and good supper, too, I hope."

ANCIENT AND HONORABLE GAME GAINING CONVERTS

Many Residents of Spokane Take Up Golf; Women Players May Organize

SPokane, Wash., (AP)—Golf in Spokane this year boasts 35 per cent more converts than last year, with the immediate result that two of the three greens of the city are being standardized, and the third lengthened, at an aggregate cost of nearly $30,000 for land and improvements.

Golfers of the Mantle Golf club have given up the standard green already by them for a number of years, and have bought a new green site at a cost of $21,000. Work of building the links is already in progress. Play on the first nine will start probably sometime in July, and the second nine will be finished in time for the 1923 season.

Ground for an additional nine holes on the Downriver municipal links has been purchased by the park board for $5,000. The second nine, completing the 18-hole standard course, will be finished by December 1, 1922. Local golfers contributed $2,500 of the purchase price as a community gift, the board not being able to include the first payment on the land in this year's budget.

The upper nine of the Spokane Country club course is being lengthened about 300 yards. The course already was standard, but the increased distance is expected to help improve the play.

Plans are being made for organization of women golfers on the municipal course. No exact estimate of the number playing the game this year is available so far.

The Balanced Gasoline

Every motorist should know what this means in terms of motor car performance and operating economy

ONE of the really difficult problems of petroleum refining is the production of a perfectly balanced gasoline in large enough volume to meet the needs of the motoring public. The task doesn't require exclusive processes so much as it does highly skilled attention to details, not only of refining but of shipping, of the condition under which the gasoline is going to be used, of motor operation and even details of motor construction.

The manufacture of a balanced gasoline involves the consideration of a hundred and one different factors. There's the factor of starting, for instance, another and quite different one of power development and of acceleration, mileage, and so on.

We do not say that an unbalanced gasoline will not run a motor. It will, and so will various other liquids under certain conditions and with certain types of carburetors. But years of experimenting and costly research have demonstrated that gasoline is the most satisfactory motor fuel and that a balanced gasoline is vastly superior to one that is not balanced.

—What Balance, as applied to gasoline, means

Gasoline has several characteristics which make it the ideal motor fuel. The natural composition of the particular kind of crude oil it is made from controls some of these characteristics, the skill with which it is refined determines the others.

Practically the entire development of gasoline production for the last thirty years has centered around one problem: that of making a gasoline that would possess certain necessary properties all of which would be in a definite relation to each other, carefully balanced; in other words, not too much of one and too little of another.

Knowing this, it's not hard to understand why experience is of such great importance in producing a balanced gasoline, one that is always easy starting, always develops its full equivalent of power in your motor, is always dependable as to mileage, cleanliness and economy. It takes a good deal more than modern equipment, even as necessary as that is, to refine a balanced gasoline.

And what Conoco, the Balanced gasoline, means to the motor

The ability of Conoco Gasoline to start a motor promptly even on a thin mixture is the result of the liberal but not excessive low boiling-point fractions that it contains. Its ability to move you slowly and steadily along in heavy traffic, to respond instantly to the urge of the accelerator, to carry you swiftly over the long turnpikes in the country at a high mileage per gallon—this ability Conoco derives from the fact that its manufacturers know how to make a perfectly balanced gasoline.

Conoco, briefly, means more power because there is less waste, less carbon because there is complete combustion, continual satisfaction and economy because its quality is always uniform. Standardize on Conoco Gasoline this season and watch the results.

PESSIMISM IS RULING SPIRIT IN CONFERENCE

Lloyd George Alone Affects Optimistic Point of View—France and Belgium Stand Solemnly Aloof

POSTPONE NEW FORMULA.
GENOA, (AP) — English and Italian delegates to the economic conference met today with members of the Russian delegation and began work on a new formula for the restoration of foreign property in Russia, said an announcement this afternoon by the French delegation. The announcement said it was hoped to devise a new clause in the Russian memorandum which would satisfy Belgium, therefore, France.

GENOA, (AP) — Genoa broke today to another day of uncertainty, with Premier Lloyd George optimistic that the conference could be saved, but an unmistakable pessimism prevailed in most quarters.

Belgium is the center of the controversy over the Russian question. It is Belgium and clause 7 in the allied memorandum to the Russians behind which France is standing in her opposition to the memorandum. Consequently all eyes in Genoa are on Belgium and M. Janssen, foreign minister and chairman of the Belgian delegation.

"The question raised by Belgium about clause 7 has two aspects," M. Janssen said. "On one side it is a question of principle, concerning respect for and protection for private property. On the other side it concerns the economic restoration of Russia by reviving the industry of that country."

Belgium invested two and a half billions of francs, gold in Russian industry and possessed 201 furnaces including blast furnaces, glass factories, steel railways, electric mills, water works and electric plant. We used to produce in Russia before the war 70 per cent of the foundry output of the entire country, 48 per cent of the steel, 75 per cent of the chemical products, 60 per cent of the glass, table ware, and 30 per cent of the window glass.

Could Help Restoration.
No one, however, is so prepared as Belgium to restore Russia if the latter returns to the former Belgian proprietors their old possessions. Money will again pour into Russia. Belgian industrialists already have a billion francs at hand to restore their industries there.

"In clause 7 Belgium admitted a formula which allowed for nationalization of property in Russia on condition that its use should be granted to the old proprietors, or, when this was impossible, compensation be given them."

M. Caster, our legal expert, simply translated in compiling clause 7 on the request of Mr. Lloyd George and M. Barthou, under the express condition that his presence there would pledge Belgium the Russian delegation and the government to the work of the experts.

M. Caster, after the clause was drafted, brought it to me, and agreed with me that it was unacceptable to Belgium.

Lloyd George Agreed.
"I recall that I coupled that section of the Cannes resolution respecting foreign property and that all, including Mr. Lloyd George, agreed in interpretation in a sense that the soviet must return foreign properties except when physically impossible. Mr. Lloyd George expressed himself in the same sense in the house on April 11."

TAKES STEPS TO AIR HIS CHARGE

British War Veteran Will Lay Alleged Dislosure Before British Embassy

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP) — Alexander E. Robertson, British war veteran, arrived today from Newark, N. J., to carry out his announced purpose of laying before the British embassy his charges of kidnapping against three private detectives, who he alleged attempted to force his departure from this country because of his affection for Miss Mary Culbertson, 21-year-old daughter of Senator Culbertson of Texas.

Officials at the embassy indicated that any action the embassy might take would depend on the information and evidence submitted by Robertson.

No Excuse on Hand.
The veteran found no escort for him on his arrival here, as he announced he had requested in a telegram to the embassy from Newark yesterday. Embassy officials said no such request had been received, and they believed, his statements were groundless.

Senator Culbertson, who continued to maintain a strict silence regarding the affair, yesterday is said to have indicated that he might make a formal statement today. Miss Culbertson is now in the hospital where there has been some mystery since the matter was first given publicity, was understood to be at the home of her parents here today.

TODAY'S MARKETS

Chicago Grain Market.
CHICAGO, (AP) — Wheat took a moderate upward swing in value today soon after the opening, which was of a heating character. The advance was attributed chiefly to absence of any notable pressure to sell. Besides, new deliveries on May contracts were only moderate, 111,000 bushels. Today's receipts here, however, were estimated at 350 carloads. The opening which varied from 74c to 75c, declined to 74c, and with May FIX AND PUTZLER IN CONTEST FOR BATTING HONORS

High School Baseball Men Compile Good Averages Except in Fielding—Lavell Jarman Plays Without Error

After playing three games away from home, it is quite natural that the averages should be a little, and in looking over the averages for the day it is found that there is a hot race on between Cliff Fix and Bob Putzler for batting honors. Up to the time of leaving on the northern trip Putzler had a comfortably lead, but Cliff has been pretty often while away, and sneaked a few points ahead of Bob. Cliff is out in front with an average of .387. Putzler is second with .344, and the coming game with Buhl Friday will in all probabilities decide the winner as to who is in the leading hit of the team.

Putzler and Thomé are tied for first place in total bases, both having stretched their hits to 32.

In the stolen base division Putzler is far ahead of all his teammates with 14. Thomé leads in errors with 14, with four, with Hammond having made three. Three members of the team have made home runs, namely Fix, Putzler and Harper.

Garold Jarman is the leading runner maker for the team with 23, but Putzler is crowding him with 21.

The team average is .308 which in itself tells the story as to why the team has won all the games played this season.

In the fielding branch of the game the boys don't average so well, but they are improving, and each time that the averages are compiled, they show a tendency to pass the 100 mark.

Lavell Jarman still holds his perfect record, not having erred once. Bob Putzler is second with an average of .981, which is going some, considering the fact that he has had 102 chances.

Hammond is third with .960, with 71 chances accepted. The team average is .904.

FRENCH PERFUMERY HOLDS ATTRACTION FOR DEMPEY

American Traveler Decides to Leave Paris for London—Packs Up with Regret

PARIS, (AP)—After postponing his departure from Paris several times Jack Dempsey finally made up his mind to break away from the charms of the French capital and leave for London this afternoon. He spent the morning shopping and returning the visits of friends. Among his purchases were several quarts of exotic perfume.

"I'm glad to be off," he said, as he started to pack his trunk. "I don't want to stay in London beyond Saturday," said Dempsey. "I must get back to the United States and start training to meet Willard and other combatants."

HIGH SCHOOL BALL TEAM SHOWS PEP IN PRACTICE

Men Are Training Hard for the Game at Buhl on Friday Afternoon

Couch Evans had his ball tossed working and last evening at Lincoln field for the training camp Friday afternoon at Buhl with the fast high school team of that town.

Elated over their success with Idaho Falls and Pocatello the team showed more pep than usual.

It is likely that Cliff Fix, the hero of last Friday's battle, with Pocatello, will be on the mound for the Blue and White, while there is a possibility that Hogan, last year's star hurler for the West-enders, will do the heavy work for Buhl.

Buhl has the best team that Twin Falls has bumped into this year, as they are a well-balanced bunch. There isn't a doubt that the Bohlites have been working diligently since their defeat here last week, and who knows but what Friday's game will be a repetition of last Friday's game with Pocatello.

A large crowd of fans are preparing to leave with the team and witness what looks to be the last game of the season. Overtures have been made to several teams but so far nothing has materialized.

Friday's game will start at 3:30 sharp, and the merchants of Buhl have declared a half holiday, in honor of the occasion.

AROUND THE BASES

Well, the high school team arrived home Sunday after a wonderful trip in every sense of the word. They opened last week by winning from Buhl on Tuesday and Wednesday evening they left for Pocatello. The game Thursday at Idaho Falls brought out the fact that Couch Evans has yielded to a team that is by far the best in the state. Every eighth inning the locals torched with the Idaho team, and it was only in the ninth that they were able to get a run across, and then only with a lucky home-run hit. We say lucky, because Thompson, the man that made the circuit drive, according to the score book, in his previous attempts, had grounded out to the shortstop, popped an easy one to third and found out to the catcher. This in itself shows that although it was a mighty clutch to left field that kept Lavell Jarman from getting a shutout, Thompson was not out of his mind. The boys played great ball on Thursday and came back to Pocatello that evening with enough pep to carry an ordinary team through two seasons.

The Friday game at Pocatello was by far the best game that the Twin Falls high school boys have ever played. This assertion is not confined to this year's team, either.

It was a game that the Pocatello fans will remember for years to come. As has already been said, Cliff Fix star twirled, was the hero, but a few more words of his wonderful exhibition of last Friday, should not go astray.

From the opening inning, it was plainly seen that the game would be a pitchers' battle between Erickson and Fix as both men had everything that goes to make a real chucker.

Erickson's hook ball was baffling the Pocatello team, and he had more speed than Benny Osburn.

Jackson, the pudgy first baseman of the Pocatello team, hit one in the first inning that went for a circuit swing. Twin Falls made two in the second, and from then on until the sixth, the game was between Fix and Erickson with honors about even. Pocatello made two in the sixth and one in the seventh, and it was at this stage of the game that the boys from the town of perfect physical training showed it.

The boys went to bat in the eighth with blood in their eyes, with Evans pouring oil on the fire. What happened in that famous eighth, is now history, so we go to the last of the ninth. With the score 6 to 4 in favor of Twin Falls, Sam, a left-handed hitter, opened up for Pocatello and sent one far over Thomé's head. It was a good clean smash.

At this stage that the training of Cliff Fix made itself apparent. Cool as the proverbial cucumber, Fix fanned L. O. and big Erickson. Woodmanne sent a long fly to Thomé, who was placed in the same position as was Fred Sorenson a few years ago at Boston during a world's series game. Fred missed his fly, but not Gono. He took it in with the ease of a big leaguer.

The only reason attributed to the closeness of the score in this game was the fact that the boys were sort of inflated over their easy victory over Idaho Falls, and thought that they had a cinch with Pocatello, and took things too easy at the start of the game.

After their Friday's game they play.

STUDENT KILLED BY SCHOOL MATE

Dead Man and Slayer Overseas Veterans; Fatality Believed Outcome of Grudge

STILLWATER, Okla., (AP)—Beckham Cobb, 25, of Birmingham, Ala., a student at Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college here, was shot and killed on a street bordering the college campus at noon today. Earl Gordon, 25, of Miami, Okla., also a student, was arrested and placed in jail. Gordon was standing by Cobb's body when Sheriff O. R. Little arrested him. He made no statement other than that "Cobb was after him." A revolver was found on Cobb's body, according to the sheriff. Cobb was shot four times, dying instantly. He was married and had a son 18 months old.

Both Gordon and Cobb were former soldiers who had been sent to the college for vocational training by the federal government.

BOOKERAGE FIRM FAILS

NEW YORK, (AP)—Failure of the brokerage firm of Carpenter, Caffrey & Company of 74 Broadway, was announced this morning from the rostrum of the New York Stock exchange.

The firm's usual hard hitting game and took an early lead.

As a ball team they are in a class by themselves, but as a set of clean-cut, well-behaved boys, they take all honors.

Goodness at all times, they won the respect of the hotel manager at Pocatello, who asked that in case the team ever came back that they come to his hotel.

As a general thing, a hotel usually bucks about allowing a ball team to stay in their place on account of the noise and damage done, but not in the case of the Twin Falls boys.

The high school and Couch Evans are to be congratulated upon the wonderful showing made by the ball team, both as ball players and as gentlemen.

FRIENDLY HELP COSTS HIS ROLL

OGDEN, Utah, (AP)—Robert McCoy, described as a rancher living near Ogden, was robbed of $1,100 by motorists on the state highway two miles north of Brigham City at noon today, according to information sent to Ogden. The Brigham City authorities say McCoy told them that he stopped his car to help motorists apparently in trouble. He loaned them a jerry pump, and was towing to get a jack when he was struck down by one of the men who used the tire pump for a weapon. He said he was robbed of $1,100 which he was taking to Malad, Idaho, to buy chickens.

HORSE HALF CENTURY OLD

NEW YORK, (AP)—Clover, 51-year-old horse, showed his teeth, tipped an automobile car, and settled himself on exhibit in Madison Square Garden today—the central figure in the art show at the Museum exposition.

Veterinarians assert that Clover's teeth not only prove his age, but are the cause for it. The act is said to be wonderfully preserved.

There may have been a time when Clover, then a racer, liked the plaudits of the multitude, but he unquestionably resented being where he was today.

He will stay, if all goes well, just a week. He will eat especially prepared grain and drink only water.

POLSON TAKES TIME FOR PLEA

Alleged "Blackhand" Letter
Writer Changes Course and Surprises Authorities

In district court here at 4 o'clock this afternoon Leo Polson was to enter his plea in charge of attempting to extort $100 from Arthur J. Feary by threatening letter as charged by the prosecuting attorney in an information filed Monday after Polson had waived preliminary examination and, according to authorities, had expressed desire that sentence in his case should be pronounced without delay.

Polson's request for 24 hour interval provided by statute before entering his plea, made through O. C. Hall, appearing as his attorney in the district court came as a surprise to authorities who had anticipated that the arraignment would be a more matter of form proceeding, immediate imposition of sentence.

Polson did not speak at the arraignment except to indicate in reply to Judge Backus's formal question, that Leo Polson was his true name and that he had counsel. He stood calmly throughout the tedious process of arraignment, giving no indication of anger from the bullet wound inflicted by a deputy sheriff who questioned him as he appeared in the courtroom. He claimed the reply to the threatening letter he is alleged to have written.

CITY WILL HIRE MEN TO REMOVE GARBAGE HEAPS

Temporary Arrangement for Dealing with Problem of Sanitation is Authorized by City Council at Session

Temporary arrangements for removal of garbage from more than 50 miles of alleys in Twin Falls by men and teams employed under supervision of J. A. Polson, authorized by the city council at a brief session Monday evening.

The problem of garbage removal was presented in a report presented by Alex W. Murray, health officer, recommending release from their bond of men who last year and this year have worked under contract with the city. Murray previously had been instructed by the council to check up the garbage situation at the time the contract expired, May 1.

Garage Will Quickly
In his report the health officer said that garbage cans under ordinary conditions were filled each week. Clean-up days this year, he said, brought a repetition of the conditions. If any year when more rubbish than could be handled away in several weeks by the city department had been dumped into the alleys. Division of wet garbage and ashes into separate cans is the solution of the garbage problem, according to the health officer, who advised that persons with cans had lost trouble than others in disposing of garbage.

He suggested that printed cards bearing instructions as to separation of garbage schedules for garbage haulers should be provided for households. He advised that contracts for garbage removal should be awarded to contractors in each ward who should be paid on a basis of weight of garbage hauled, or that men and teams should be hired by the day to do this work.

Will Close Street
The council voted to approve the request of the chamber of commerce "dollar days" committee for permission to close Shoshone street between Main avenue and Second avenue north and east for entertainment purposes in the evening during the observance of the event.

Issuance of daymen's licenses to J. A. Johnson and L. J. Brockway was authorized by the council upon recommendation of Dr. W. L. Lard, meat and dairy inspector.

In payment of obligations, the council ordered warrants drawn against the chamber of commerce fund in the amount of $111.26, against the water fund in the sum of $40.16; against the street sprinkling fund in the sum of $12.35; against sidewalk district No. 30 fund in the sum of $5.78, and against local improvement district No. 34 fund, in the sum of $85.42.

Ordinance Goes Over
The ordinance introduced last week providing for revision of the system of numbering residences houses and was read for the second time, final action being deferred until next week.

The session lasted only 45 minutes and was one of the shortest regular meetings ever held by a city council in Twin Falls.

SUNDAY GAMES ISSUE BURIED BY DELEGATION

Twilight League Representatives Abandon Request for Use of Lincoln Field in View of Manifest Opposition

Question as to whether use of Lincoln field for Sunday baseball games would be permitted was not raised at a meeting of the Twin Falls district board of education Monday evening.

A delegation of between 25 and 30 persons headed by R. J. Finch and bearing resolutions signed by approximately 400 persons, was on hand to see that the board did not recede from its position taken last month when it voted to deny the request of officials of the Twin Falls Twilight League club for permission to use the field for Sunday games.

Four representatives of the Twilight League discussed the question informally with members of the larger delegation but did not appear before the board. Before leaving they told Sports editor M. C. Mitchell that they had decided in view of evidence of more or less general disapproval, to withdraw their request for permission to use Lincoln field for Sunday games.

Abandonment of Public Speaking
As a measure of retrenchment, the board voted to abolish the public speaking department from the high school curriculum next year and to revert to the plan employed prior to three years ago when a member of the faculty was depended upon to train declaimers and assist students in production of class plays. Abolishment of this department means the elimination of one teacher, from the high school faculty. The board has heretofore voted to eliminate the departments of manual training and home economics from the high school course of study and the position of instructor in personal hygiene in the intermediate grade.

A suggestion made by Mrs. G. P. Duke that the manual training department be retained next year was considered by the board Monday evening, but no definite action was taken. Mrs. Duke suggested that arrangements might be made whereby students of high school manual training help to help the manual training of the intermediate grade. Superintendent Mitchell reported that M. S. Hoover of the Gregg Business College, had abandoned his proposal for possible co-ordination of work as between the business college and the high school commercial department. Mr. Mitchell had been delegated by the board to confer with Mr. Hoover in respect to Mr. Hoover's suggestion to this end.

Pink candles in crystal candlesticks added to the attractiveness of the tables. The entertainers were M. C. Mitchell and M. J. R. Smith. The program was as follows: Dr. Emma C. Crowland, Mrs. H. J. Young introduced Mrs. Burton E. Morse as toastmistress. Mrs. Morse had the visiting delegates welcome, and asked for a song, which was given by a male quartette, composed of Messrs. The program closed with a song by the quartette "Don't You Cry My Joy." Mrs. H. B. Smith, president, presided.

Standing room was at a premium at the Rex theatre at Buhl last evening when Mrs. Dorothy Levy of this city presented 15 of her pupils in a ball of the name of "Dorothy." Many attended from both Pocatello and Twin Falls.

Bell and Mrs. Zeuss Smith each sang two solos, and the remainder of the evening was spent in social conversation. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

A charming feature of the entertainment given by the Bickel teachers for the faculty of the other schools on Saturday evening was a Japanese dance given by four of the pupils of Mrs. Dorothy Levy. The little girls taking part were Josephine Kallman, Emma Jean Levy, Alice King and Janet Fell, all of whom were most attractive in Japanese costumes.
