

CAVE-IN OF MINE STOPE KILLS TWO

Body of One Miner Buried Under Hundreds of Tons of Earth May Not Be Recovered for Many Days

BISHOP, Ariz., (AP)—J. L. Began, 26, and Ely Vutsanovich, 55, miners, were killed early this morning by a cave-in at the Southwest mine here. Began's body was recovered a few minutes after the crash. Rescue crews are working to locate the body of Vutsanovich. The cave-in was one of the worst in the history of local copper mines.

tered the slope, when, with a terrific roar that was heard in every mine here, the group gave way. Ragan, apparently, ran toward an opening at the first crackle of the big timbers in the slope. He was caught and crushed just as he was a few feet from safety. Vutsenovich's body was buried under hundreds of tons of ore and wrecked timbers. Mine officials said it might be several days before the body was found.

At the same meeting the directors authorized J. C. Wilsdon, general manager, to replace the culvert under the railroad at mile post 42.50 at an estimated cost of $500.

General Leonard Wood in Typhoon on Board Yacht

Grave fears were entertained for the safety of Major-General Leonard Wood and his family when their yacht was reported missing in a typhoon off the Luzon (Philippine Islands) coast. The Apo was believed for a time to have sought refuge in some inaccessible spot on the coast, with her wireless disabled. The General is pictured with his wife, daughter and two sons.

PAINT COSTS LESS THAN IN SEVERAL YEARS PAST

Expense of Brightening Up the Premises Probably Smaller Now Than Before the War

From the days of the pyramid to the present is a long period of time, yet in those days as at present, paints were used for beautifying and preserving the objects which they covered. In the old days paint was used as a decorative material for the many cases. Today it is used to conserve the natural and converted resources of the country.

Painting one's building is not an expense. It is an investment. It is the only form of insurance that can be guaranteed to perform its duty 100 per cent.

Paints have been high during the last few years but are now down to a normal basis. It would seem to the economy to paint now. The Dutch have an old proverb which says, "Good paint costs nothing, for it saves more than it costs."

There are many brands of paint on the market and to the consumer all paints look alike. It is only when the paint has been applied to a building for four or five years that the quality is demonstrated. It is too late to regret one's action of a poor choice of paint. It is well to buy the advertised line. While we are not mentioning any brand in particular, a perusal of our advertisements will indicate the leading of the editorial chair.

Not until 2 o'clock on Monday afternoon were the final necessary arrangements completed for the issuance of a morning edition of an afternoon Twin Falls News. Because of the delay in working out the last minute details it is not at all unlikely that to begin with, carrier service in the various towns will give rise to complaints, that news service will fail to reach the point of efficiency demanded and that a dozen odd unforeseen contingencies will present themselves—BUT—
The News has set for itself a goal of journalistic achievement which will require the very best efforts of the publishers. No expense will be spared to publish and distribute every morning a newspaper which will be adequate to the newspaper needs of this section within the limits of this particular field.
And the Morning News will continue to improve from day to day and from year to year just as has the evening edition.
In this spirit we offer the initial number—may it prove as satisfactory to readers in its new field as has, hitherto, its predecessor, the evening News, as an afternoon paper.

ROMANCE DIES EVERY YEAR
Every now and then some wileless has a blue day and tries to take it out on the race by chattering the death of romance. The latest devilhood, someone discovers, is inflicted by so simple a thing as a gyroscope stabilizer to keep vessels from rolling except in heavy storms. The romance of the sea was about over, anyhow, he says, and this is one of "the final coffin nails."

Romance died when steam replaced sails, when the railroad crowded out coach travel, when the telephone opened all the situations founded on notes that were never delivered. The truth is romance dies every time someone discovers that his digestion is more important than his emotions. He doesn't want to be alone, so he kills off romance for all the world.

It doesn't, however, anybody—YET much. The young lovers, who in the old romantic days could never have gone on a horseback expedition, are taking the trolley to the country for a summer holiday. The poor lad for whom we are asked to grieve because he cannot dream of the joys of privacy is busy listening to talk that goes on a thousand miles at sea.

Romance may have died long ago if it had been made of iron armor or viking galleys or of muzzle loaders and sailing vessels. These things it needs, but it still thrives when they are gone. The poor soul who takes a romance is dead but makes unavailing confession of the poverty to which his own life has come.

THESE ARE DROWNED
CHILLICOTHE, Ohio, (AP)—Arthur Sheridan, 15, and Harold Richards, 16, gave their lives in an unsuccessful effort to save Hazel Evans, 14, from drowning here today. Their bodies have not been recovered.

Disagree on Corviation
Some rather foolish explanations are being given as to the derivation of the English term "so long" uttered when parting. The "Dictionary of Posing English of the Victorian Era" says it is a corruption of the Jewish word "selah," used in the Whitechapel district of London as a form of goodbye. Equally curious is the statement that it may be a form of "salomon," the eastern salutation of peace.

Go to Extremes
"Some mule ideas of personal enjoyment," said Uncle Eben, "is no novelty, dey'd like to make it n'glo de law foh anybody to be a policeman."

TO OUR BOYS IN THE SILENT CITIES

By Carrie Christian Kunkley

Bring the budding bloom of the sweet springtime,
To the quiet cities, that lie so still,
Where winds blow in chimneys, and birds
note rhyme,
As they wing swift flight, and sing at will.

In the silent cities, so dreamlike and still,
Gather wild blooms sweet, that in mosses grow
Side by side with ferns on the Earth's sweet breast.

Sweet violets blue, blooms of every hue,
To cover the graves of those who
rest,
In the silent cities, dreamlike and still.

Ah! no more for them, comes the sweet new day!
Or bloom of blossom, in yore eden
sweet.

No song birds of May, or Summer
gay,
No voice of neighbor to neighbor,
shall greet;
In the silent cities, dreamlike and still.

No sound of battle, from scene of fierce strife,
No roll of cannon no heat of drum;
No shrill note of life no sound of camp life.

Shall lie in these cities of peace ever more,
In the silent cities, dreamlike and still
Then bring the sweet bloom of blossoming
May.

To the silent cities, so white, so still,
Dock the graves today, of the "Boys in Gray."

Who thousands of graves, in our breast land fill,
In the silent cities, dreamlike and still.

God painted our flag, in the sky
bright,
The stars at night, still more
brightly glow,
So by day and night, from its lofty height,

The star flag waves o'er "the dome" below,
In the silent cities, dreamlike and still.

Then bring the colors they loved so well,
In the moon of Spruce, to lay
a, their feet.

Write their deeds we tell, how fighting
they fell,
Brave heroes! They lie in a rest so
sweet,
In the silent cities, dreamlike and still.

HANSEN BUTTE DISTRICT FILES ON AUGUR FALLS

Reclamation Plans Contemplate the Development of 13,500 Horse Power to Operate Pumps at Milner

With a view to development of hydro-electric power to operate pumps for life water for reclamation of the lands within the district's borders, directors of the Shoshone Irrigation district have filed in the office of the federal power commission at Washington, an application for a power site at Augur falls on Snake river, four and one-half miles northwest of Twin Falls where Rock creek enters the Snake river.

Funds Made Available

Resident landholders of the district recently voted unanimous approval of the issuance of $5,000,000 worth of the district's bonds to carry out the reclamation plans in which development of the power site has an important part. These plans have been made by H. T. Henderson, engineer for the district.

Development of 13,500 horsepower at the Augur falls site is contemplated by the plans. This power will be carried over a transmission line 24 miles to Milner, where it will be used to operate seven 30-inch pumps capable of lifting 600 second foot of water to the district's lands situated between Hansen and Shoshone in what is known as the Hansen-Butte region.

Under Two Lifts

Approximately 37,000 acres of land are to be reclaimed under the district's plans. This area is divided almost equally into two regions the first of which will be irrigated with water lifted to a height of 92 feet and second with water lifted to a height of 155 feet.

Power developed at Augur falls may be made available also for use of residents of the district for lighting and heating in their homes.

GOVERNMENT WILL MEND BAD TEETH FOR VETERAN

Veterans of the World war whose teeth have been impaired by reason of their military service are being sought out by the government through the veterans' bureau in order that the damaged teeth may be restored without expense to the ex-serviceman.

The procedure through which this service is rendered by the government was Monday explained by Dr. C. E. Jance, district dentist, in respect to A. Wilton Peck, acting commander of Twin Falls post, American Legion, through which the government hopes to get in touch with former service men who are eligible for dental treatment.

First and foremost, the inspector, advised, the applicant must write his own letter setting forth the circumstances in regard to his case. The letter should be addressed to the Commander of the 13th District, U. S. V. 34, Bruner, freight claim agent, Miss Maxie McMurrian, Miss Watkins, Miss Schacht, Miss Trapp, Miss Harrison, Miss Pitt, Miss Cain and Miss Maxwell.

Tin Can is Waterloo for Amphibious Cat in Pursuit of Fish

A tub partly filled with water was not a serious handicap to a cat at the H. H. Hodstrom home in the pursuit of some live fish deposited in the bathtub by the children of the family, but the cat was completely out of luck when it attempted to extract these fish from a small tin can in which they were placed when discovered in the tub by the children's mother.

Upsetting all feline traditions, this particular cat not only ventured near the water after the fish but plunged boldly into the bath and closely imitated the prey in their movements through the water. But the small tin can presented a problem that effectively balked feline efforts. It was easy enough for the cat to get its head inside the can but withdrawing it was a different matter, and before that was accomplished the kitchen in which the scene was staged bore resemblance to the path of a small cyclone.

PUBLIC MAY BE BARRED OUT OF SEEING START

Interest Keen in Big Balloon Race Scheduled to Begin at Milwaukee—Spectators to be Kept at Distance

MILWAUKEE, (AP)—The twelve candidates for honors in the national balloon race starting tomorrow were fitted tonight with thousands of feet of gum and late in the afternoon they will be released for their perilous flight into uncharted areas of the upper air with their destinations dependent entirely upon the whims of the winds.

Score of men worked over the last of the ball park today, stretching them flat on the ground for the final examinations and repair work.

Attracting the most interest among the spectators who witnessed the final work were the two bags which will fly for the United States navy. Besides the experiment with helium, one of the navy balloons will carry a secret radio outfit recently developed and from which remarkable results are expected. Three army balloons are also in the race.

Whether or not the balloons will make their appearance undisturbed by the public was undecided tonight. The gas company today announced that no spectators could be present when the balloons were released, this announcement being made when its attorneys decided that the company would be responsible for any accidents from an explosion. The decision means that the Aero club of Wisconsin stands to lose from $10,000 to $15,000 which it expected to take in at the gate.

Social Notes

The Flying Squares, Mrs. Church, will give the Presbyterian Sunday school its regular meeting with Leavitt-Craves on Saturday afternoon at his home on Shoshone and Seventh. After a short business session the meeting was in charge of the entertainment committee and the time was spent with the initiation and various games and stunts. The boys are doing special work, and among other things have raised money and sent baseballs to the boys of an Indian school at Tucson, Ariz. At the close of the afternoon Mrs. Craves served refreshments. Members of the class are Leavitt Craves, Harold Hoover, Teddy Slizer, Stanley Davies, Rollin Jacky, John Maxwell, Robert Nixon and Charles Simpson.

The members of the Blue Lake Reclamation club spent a pleasant afternoon on Friday of last week with Mrs. C. C. Croxon. At the business meeting there was a general discussion in regard to the club taking charge of the serving of hot lunches at the Washington school for next year, but nothing definite was decided upon. The club voted to take the study of parliamentary law. The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to sewing for the Red Cross, on garments for the hospital at Boise for our invalid soldiers. Officers of the club were Mrs. Peter Munn, Mrs. Lloyd Miller, Mrs. K. S. Peters, and daughter, Fay, and Mrs. Preckl. Eleven members were in attendance.

The business women held their annual election of officers at their regular meeting Monday evening with the following results: President, Mrs. Cora Croxon; vice president, Miss Ada Walington; secretary, Miss Mary Dellinger; treasurer, Miss Blanche Hill; corresponding secretary, Miss Elizabeth Driskell; superintendent of tennis court, Miss Irene Frost. There was an informal discussion of plans for the coming year and a social hour.

Miss Thelma Dawson entertained the King's Daughters Monday evening at her home on Sixth avenue east. A business session was held and new officers elected. Miss Wilma Keel was elected president, Miss Margaret Selby, vice president, Miss Beulah Froelich, secretary, Miss Audrey Brann, treasurer. A social hour followed with music, both vocal and instrumental, and the hostess served dainty refreshments. There was a large attendance.

Fifty members of the Star Social club met at the home of Mrs. Ira Taylor on Third avenue east Monday afternoon. Under the direction of Mrs. Charles Dwight the entertainment took the form of a "stunt party," and the afternoon will long be remembered as one of the gayest and most musical that the club has enjoyed during the gatherings of the past year. At the close of the afternoon refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs.

Charles Dwight, Mrs. John Harvey and Mrs. Harry Myles.

Complimenting their son Edwin, and Clayton Lyons, who left this morning by automobile for Berkeley, Cal., where they will spend the summer. Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Sigurdson entertained at dinner Monday evening at their home on Sixth avenue east. Other guests were Stanford Cron, Francis Flynn and Donald Flynn. The boys had a jolly time singing old-time songs, afterward spending the evening at the movies.

TRIBUTE PAID IN TWIN FALLS TO HERO DEAD

Memorial Day Observance Sets
New Mark With Hundreds Gathering for Decoration of Last Resting Places

On the most generous scale in its history Twin Falls Tuesday paid tribute to the memory of fallen veterans of the great war.

Business activities were entirely suspended and through silent flag draped streets, veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic at 10:30 o'clock led the Memorial Day procession to the cemetery where nearly 1000 persons assembled to pay honor to the heroic dead.

Weather conditions were ideal, permitting general participation in the Memorial Day services.

Move With Precision.

Events of the day moved with precision and dispatch. Promptly at 10:30 o'clock the procession moved forward, direction of the march given by leader, direction of the march given by leader, direction of the march given by leader.

SISTER CONTINUES HER
HUNT FOR MISSING LAD

Applies to Police for Aid in Locating Frank McGeehin of Thompson Lake—Hears From Him

In a further effort to find her brother, Frank McGeehin, who is known as Frank Thompson, Miss McGeehin, of Thompson Lake, Idaho, has written to Chief of Police R. B. Brown, advising that she has arranged through a Twin Falls bank to furnish funds if the brother is found in any of the states.

Miss McGeehin wrote the police here asking for assistance in locating her brother, but search made at that time was unsuccessful.

The missing young lad wrote to his sister soon after his arrival here last March. He told her that he had been seriously ill with influenza.

He is 18 years of age and six feet two inches in height. He has light hair and blue eyes. His disposition is said to be quiet and retiring.

CARRIERS NEW CROP PROSPECT

Pacific Fruit Express Company
Prepares to Meet the Increased Demand

The Pacific Fruit Express company, which last year handled 185,000 carloads of fruit and vegetables out of the western country, has added 2000 new cars to its equipment, making a total of 22,000 cars, to handle increased crops expected this season.

This was the statement of J. R. Crawford, assistant general manager of the company, who is at present in Twin Falls Monday on an inspection trip over the Union Pacific system.

Mr. Crawford, accompanied by other officials of the company and some railroad officials, came here in the course of his inspection trip over the Union Pacific system to determine requirements for transportation of fruit and vegetable crops this season. The company he represents is owned jointly by the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific companies.

Other members of the party included G. G. Wall, superintendent of refrigerators; C. S. Gunnell, superintendent of the company at Ogden; I. N. Randall, general agent refrigerator service for the Union Pacific system with headquarters at Omaha; and T. R. Sweeney, Salt Lake, car service agent for the Oregon Short Line.

G. M. Seelie, president of the Pacific Fruit Express company, left the party Monday at Salt Lake, where he received a telegram telling of the critical illness of his daughter at Tucson, Arizona. The daughter has since died.

"We haven't been over the whole system," Mr. Crawford said, "but we have information that conveys us the crops will be as large as last year or larger. We are making this trip to inspect our icing facilities and to get a closer estimate of crop conditions. We are making many improvements in our preparation for the season. Our expenditure on new ice plants will be about $2,000,000 this year. We are building a new plant at Pocatello and a big addition to the old one at Nampa. This expenditure does not include repairs on old plants. Our business is good now and has been good for there is heavier work ahead and we are getting ready for it."

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Post Masters' Club will meet with Dr. Emma C. Crowland, 203 Eighth avenue north, Friday evening, June 2, at 7:30.

incurred during 1921, has been applied toward reduction of the outstanding warrants account.

Comparative figures showing the expenditures in 1920 and 1921 in each of the departments of the municipal government are shown in the city clerk's statement.

More money was spent in 1921 than in 1920 only in the case of the street lighting and public library funds.

The excess in the case of the street lighting fund is accounted for by additional expense incurred in installation and operation of the new street lighting system. In the case of the library, a expenditure was made of $2,000.00 in payment of indebtedness incurred in 1920, so that actually the amount spent by the city for maintenance of the library was 95 less in 1921 than in 1920.

The detailed figures set forth in the city clerk's financial statement for the two years are as follows:

MISCREANTS STEAL HOSE

Enter Statement of George Haeley's New Home and Make Away with Property

George Haeley, whose new home is in course of construction on Eighth avenue north, is today mourning the loss of a brand new hose taken from the premises some time last night. A hole was in the screen door, although it is believed that the miscreants entered by the unsecured window.

Some time ago a quantity of lumber disappeared from the premises under similar circumstances.

Altercation with Umpire Results in Suspension of Detroit Manager

ST. LOUIS, (P)—Ty Cobb, manager of the Detroit Americans, who was suspended today for an altercation with Umpire Wilson in yesterday's game, tonight declined to return to the bench. He would present a formal protest to President Ben Johnson of the American League regarding the work of this umpire, who has been rumored to be a former Detroit player.

"I have nothing to say at present but will present my case in detail to Mr. Johnson, if he will accept my protest to call the Detroit manager."

Cobb and Holloman are put out of the game Monday when they disputed Wilson's decision in a double play. Clark, who also participated in the argument, was not suspended but appeared in the game.

Smoking in Churches.

The churches on Manhattan Island in the very early days were not heated, says Gas Logic. It is related that the "half-dons, dummies, preached with heavy knits or fur caps pulled over their ears, and wearing mittens."

Both men and women carried pipes and wore them in church, and the head of the family, when he felt so inclined, smoked his pipe.

Keep Out Heat, as Well as Cold.

The Turkish peasants in Asia Minor believe in keeping out the heat as well as the cold, and it is not uncommon to see in many parts of the country people wearing huge coats in the midst of summer, with the thermometer standing at 100 degrees.

Twilight Ball is Possible for City If Players Willing

Four Local Managers Bend Out for Help in Work of Organizing Teams

Shades of Jehovah, Twin Falls may have a Twilight League after all. Plans are on foot to see what material there is in Twin Falls for a four-team league and the players are looking pretty promising.

E. P. Stettler of the Bank's team last year, is at the head of the Bank organization this season, while Ben Wilson will be in charge of the "Elks" brigade. Ray Brown, the leading first baseman of last season's Legion team, is at the head of that team this year.

Frank Kleffner, Jr., being in charge of the Merchants.

The four managers have put out a call for ball players, and they are to report to meet in the twilight managers, and get located on a team so that Twin Falls can have twilight ball. One month has slipped by already, so let's hurry and get started.

Smoking in Churches.

The churches on Manhattan Island in the very early days were not heated, says Gas Logic. It is related that the "half-dons, dummies, preached with heavy knits or fur caps pulled over their ears, and wearing mittens."

Both men and women carried pipes and wore them in church, and the head of the family, when he felt so inclined, smoked his pipe.

Keep Out Heat, as Well as Cold.

The Turkish peasants in Asia Minor believe in keeping out the heat as well as the cold, and it is not uncommon to see in many parts of the country people wearing huge coats in the midst of summer, with the thermometer standing at 100 degrees.

NEW LIGHT IS SLOW TO COME

Police Continue to Check Up on Fruitless Pursuit of Clues to Blackmail Murder

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., (P)—Westchester county officials, investigating the killing of Clarence Feltz, former sailor, by Walter S. Ward, wealthy man's son, endeavored today to check up on the movements of the slain man at the United States marine corps training station at Paris Island, St. C. Ward was reported as tried to assist him but was rejected because of an unsatisfactory navy record.

Sheriff Vernon heard that Feltz missed a transfer from Paris Island to New York, and had to remain one day, in which event, it was said, he had been "arrived" here only a few hours before he was slain.

Ward stated that he had been blackmailed for six weeks prior to the killing.

Detectives went to New York to question Christopher Ryan, the railroad worker who said he was offered $400 by a woman to kill someone in the Ward household. They also hoped to find some trace of the woman.

speeding machine turned completely around. The car had crashed into a concrete retaining wall and the mechanism remained in the car and neither was injured.

Car Catches Fire

Wilbur D'Alone furnished a second thrill when his car caught fire on the back street. D'Alone and his mechanic remained in the car and neither was injured.

Tommy Milton, 1921 speed champion and winner of the 500-mile race here last year was among the drivers forced out of the race early. A bad gas line caused his withdrawal. Jules Goux of France, went out of the contest on the sixteenth mile with a broken axle. He was among the leaders when the axle gave way.

Terrific Fire Battle

Leon Dury, claimant of the 1921 dirt track champion, and driving his first, speedway race, gave Murphy a terrific battle early in the contest, but was forced out on his 233th mile with a broken axle. Peter De Paolo, nephew of Ralph De Palma, was in the third position at the start, his car striking the outside retaining wall, adding more than a hundred feet and landing at the bottom of the track. The driver was uninjured, but the car was unable to proceed.
