WALTON MEN ELECTED BY SMALL LEAD

Citizens' Ticket is Beaten Except as to One Councilman; Dr. W. H. Dwight Defeats S. G. McCauley

THE VOTE IN DETAIL. For Mayor: Ward 1-Ward 2 Total. J. D. Tucker 438 723 1261. William Graham 579 656 1235.

Forces led by E. F. Walton scored almost a complete victory in Twin Falls' first commission form election Tuesday, electing J. D. Tucker, their candidate for mayor, with a majority of 23 votes over William Graham, and all of their candidates for councilmen with the exception of S. G. McCauley, who was defeated by Dr. W. H. Dwight with a margin of 19 votes.

The newly-elected officials who will take over the city administration Saturday evening are: J. D. Tucker, mayor; J. E. Roberts, P. L. Cogwell, S. A. Hill and Dr. W. H. Dwight, councilmen.

Whether or not a special election will have to be held under the commission form law to legalize an election in the case of Dr. Dwight and S. G. McCauley, was widely discussed following the tabulation of the returns last night. Under provisions of the commission form law, 50 per cent of the total vote cast is necessary to win an election. The total vote cast in the election amounted to 2308 and 50 per cent of this number would be 1154. Dr. Dwight's actual vote was announced as 1243, and that of McCauley as 1224, neither polling a number of votes equal to the required 50 per cent.

Storm Storm Voting. Voting began with the opening of the polls at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, and continued in a steady stream until 10 p. m. The polls were closed at 10 p. m. and the returns showed that 1700 votes had been cast. Collected with threatening storm and light rainfall the lines at the polls did not break and at 9 o'clock the total vote cast stood at 2003. Two hours later, an hour before the vote closed, a total of 2308 ballots had been counted. There was no variation throughout the day in the estimates of political observers that the result would be close.

Supporters of the Tucker ticket expressed confidence in their success in the total of 2308 votes cast around 2300 and there was little indication of material increase in the total number of ballots to be cast. Leaders of the opposition forces planned their hopes for success upon the polling of a total vote in excess of 2500.

No Overvotes Used. Voters Tuesday were under the necessity of making their own way to the polls. No instance of violation of the commission form law was reported to the authorities. Workers in the interests of both groups of candidates were kept at a distance of 100 feet from the polling places, and strict white line of demarcation had been placed across the pavement and sidewalks for this purpose.

ASSAULT FOLLOWS REFUSAL TO SIGN FALSE CONFESSION

Oklahoma Minister Tells Interesting Story as His Version of Recent Attack

LAWTON, Okla., (AP)—An attempt to force the Rev. Thomas J. Irwin, former pastor of the First Presbyterian church here, to sign a confession admitting responsibility for a large incendiary fire at the church and "framing" his own recent abduction, lay behind a reported assault upon the minister here Monday night, according to the story Irwin is said to have told friends Tuesday. Irwin refused himself to all visitors and would make no statement. Dr. W. D. Mead, who attended Mr. Irwin, said the minister's back was covered with large welts and that he had a large bruise on his forehead. A court of inquiry which County Attorney Holly announced he would call to investigate Monday night's alleged assault upon Mr. Irwin, was not covered Tuesday.

PUBLIC ESTEEM IS EVIDENCED BY MANY TRIBUTES

Messages of Condolence and Sympathy Pour in Upon the Family of Late Lillian Russell Moore

PITTSBURGH, (AP)—More than a thousand telegrams of sympathy and condolence, attesting the admiration and esteem of friends and acquaintances of Mrs. Lillian Russell Moore, were received Tuesday at the home here of the former actress. Among those was one from President and Mrs. Harding.

Arrangements for the funeral to be held Thursday will be announced by a bodyguard of United States marines who will accompany the body from Trinity Protestant Episcopal church to the cemetery. At the cemetery entrance they will be met by the 107th field artillery, the organization which Mrs. Moore helped to equip during the world war, which will escort the procession to the grave. A detachment from the American Legion post of which the deceased was a member, will form the firing squad at the last resting place. Among those who will attend the funeral Thursday will be Secretary of Labor James D. Davis, Florence Boardman, representing the Actors' Equity association; E. S. Albee and James M. Dock, representing the National Vandaville association, and the Keith and B. H. Burnside, representing the Producing Managers' association; Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Chandler Christy.

No Flowers by Request. Mrs. Moore had expressed the wish that no flowers be sent at the time of her death, believing, she said that people in moderate circumstances should not feel the necessity of contributing. Thus the employees of the Pittsburgh postoffice here decided to contribute one flower each toward a bouquet in token of their sympathy.

President and Mrs. Harding's telegram read: "Mrs. Harding and I are distressingly shocked to learn of the untimely death of Mrs. Moore. We feel the loss of a very dear friend. Please accept a more closely knit organization as a permanent organization meeting at the 'Henry Ford for President' club.

Similar clubs should be formed in each congressional district of the United States; it was decided, in order to effect a more closely knit organization. This method, it was pointed out, would show Mr. Ford's strength in each district and assure him of the proper congressional support should his ticket be returned the winner.

Good Little Girls on the Movie Screen Take Place of Vamp

Motion Picture Owners Told that White Face and Pencil-Eyebrows are Passe

CHICAGO, (AP)—The movie vamp with the white face, her penciled eyebrows, green eyes and dark hair earrings is gone and will flout her fascinations on the silver screen no longer, motion picture theatre owners were told at a meeting Tuesday. What the public wants now, according to the meeting, are good little girls, heroines of the Little Eva type with golden hair, blue eyes, sincerity and innocence. "The modern picture heroine," said Wm. J. Sweney, "must be young and inexperienced in appearance, guileless and appealing in her actions. The public has wearied of the vamp type."

Feeney, international organizer in charge of the Pennsylvania region union district, were the principal speakers.

Mr. Green told the miners that "the eyes of 100,000 miners in Illinois, 50,000 in Ohio, 100,000 in the anthracite belt, and thousands in Washington, Montana, Wyoming and throughout the world, are turned on the miners of the coke region. He appealed to the men to conduct themselves in an orderly manner at all times and by questioning brought out assurances from the workers that none would return to work so long as the strike order remains in force.

STRIKE VOTE RETURNS EXPECTED TO PARALYZE TRANSPORTATION LINES

Heads of Eleven Railroad Unions Reach Unanimous Agreement for Concerted Action After Less Than Two Hours' Discussion, as Protest Against Wage Cuts by Railway Labor Board

GREATEST STRIKE IN HISTORY OF AMERICA EXPECTED TO BE CALLED

CHICAGO, (AP)—Railroad wages under the new railroad labor board orders for seven of the larger groups of the country's rail workers soon will be at a level which does not measure up to the American standard of living and which will make vigorous protest necessary, according to R. M. Byram, head of the railway employes department of the American Federation of Labor, in explaining the quick strike vote action of the conference of railway union heads Tuesday.

In less than two hours' time, heads of 11 railroad unions arrived at an understanding whereby each organization will take a strike vote immediately on issuance of wage reduction orders from the labor board for its membership. The votes will be returnable in 30 days and the strike vote will be in six shop crafts, sent out by President Farrell's orders Tuesday will be in his office in Chicago by June 30.

The strike votes decided on Tuesday will affect about 1,500,000 of the country's railway employees—all except the train service men whose wages are not under the strike vote. Although wage cuts have not been announced for any classes but the shop crafts and maintenance of railway, pending decisions are expected to add five other classes of labor to the general slash. The strike votes of these organizations Tuesday decided to put their ballots and have them ready to send out to the memberships immediately if the board, as anticipated, orders further reductions in their pay.

WAGE CUTS ARE EQUAL TO HALF OF RATE SLASH

Chicago Railroad President Declares Reductions in Men's Pay Will Not Offset Lowered Freight Tariffs. OREGON, (AP)—Wage cuts thus far announced may be expected in the future, will average about half of the amount of rate reductions that have been made by the railroads, R. M. Byram, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway, said Tuesday night in commenting on the decision of the railroad labor board reducing the wages of shop employees.

"Nobly can't tell just where the railroads will wind up in this adjustment because the whole thing is new and must be worked out," Mr. Byram's statement said. "As matters stand, each of the wage cuts effected with what may come, would figure about one-half of the amount of the rate reduction. Now, the question is whether the board will increase in volume of traffic will be sufficient to bridge over the difference and leave the railroads a reasonable balance. We cannot at this time properly predict."

Question of Conditions. The communication was in reply to a request of Mr. Jewell on June 1, when Mr. Jewell appeared before the board and cited a number of carriers which six months ago the board had ruled that it is at its best and on January 1 I will be in a better position to restore the status quo prior to the increase stands than we are now. Certainly I would like to see traffic increased to such an extent that we would be in a position to help general readjustment. We are trying to give the public what it wants in the way of charges. We have reduced our freight rates and lowered our passenger fares for the six month period.

"I feel the labor board is doing everything in its power to exercise the functions of an impartial body, working in the best interests of the people as a whole."

Artificial Respiration Administered by Fellow Students to Injured Man

GROVE CITY, Tenn., (AP)—The fighting spirit of the trained athlete coupled with the skill of medical aid once may save the life of Edwin Leslie, who slaved his injury in a swimming pool Monday night, has been kept alive by means of artificial respiration supplied by volunteers among his school mates.

The next 30 hours will determine Leslie's fate, Dr. James O. Wallace of Pittsburgh announced Tuesday afternoon following an operation. Dr. Wallace said the first vertebrae of the neck which was dislocated when Leslie dove into a gymnasium swimming pool, striking his head on the concrete bottom. The operation relieved a nerve pressure which had resulted in paralyzing the youth's body. Two hundred male students stood up in chapel Tuesday in response to a call for volunteers to work in relays in applying artificial respiration without which, doctors said, Leslie would not live for five minutes. Other students who have been constantly at the bedside since Monday night refused to leave Tuesday night, saying they would "fight it out with him."

WILL TAKE UP DEBT QUESTION

French Government Notified that America Ready to Discuss Details of Loans

PARIS, (AP)—Notification from Washington that the United States government was ready to discuss the settlement of war debts, was presented to the foreign office Tuesday afternoon by Charles Whitehouse, ambassador of the American embassy. Though fixing no date, this notification is understood in official circles as a reply to Premier Poincare's note to the debt commission informing it that a French mission headed by Jean V. Barnaud had been appointed and was ready to proceed to the United States whenever the commission deemed it advisable.

Mr. Barnaud is only awaiting the word from Premier Poincare that was explained by the minister of finance Raymond Lanson, while the foreign office is in retreat, pending the premier's decision, which may be delayed until the Lankers' committee and the reparations commission finish their work, or arrive at a point where it may be possible to make certain what the results will be. The payment of reparations and the payment of war debts are closely allied in the French viewpoint, and it is said that M. Poincare, in opposing any reduction of the total debt, is really protesting the interests of the creditors of France.

CHINESE CHIEF MAY REFUSE TO GIVE UP OFFICE

Political Situation in the Republic of China is Complicated by Possibilities of Pending Action

PEKING, (P)—Sun Yat-sun, president of the republic of South China, will refuse to resign and thus clear the way for Wu Pei-fu's plan to reunite China under one government, according to advices received here from Canton. Sun contends that the Canton administration represents the only legal government in China.

The head of the Southern republic has persuaded many members of the original republican parliament to remain at Canton, and Wu Pei-fu, in his role as director of plans to heal the rift between the north and the south, now faces a second split in the old republican parliament unless he can establish a new president at Peking without delay.

With many members of the old parliament yielding to Sun's arguments to remain at Canton and approximately 800 members assembled at Tien Tsin, where they recently declared for Li Yuan-hing for president, Wu Pei-fu hurried to Tien Tsin today to urge Li to proceed without delay to Peking and assume the presidency.

May Call Original Members

Wu is understood to fear the possibility of Sun calling together the members of the original republican parliament who are in the south and thus strengthening his contention that he is the only legally elected chief executive in the country.

On the other hand, Li Yuan-hing, whom the militarists forced out of the presidency of China in 1917, is said to have no inclination to resume that office unless he can do so with a united country at his back and the support of the old parliamentarians now at Canton.

TARIFF STILL STRONG TOPIC OF DISCUSSION

Senate Leaders Continue Efforts to Whip Pending Measure Into Shape for Passage; Former Senator Under Fire

WASHINGTON, (P)—An attack on former Senator Henry F. Lippitt of Idaho Island, a cotton goods manufacturer, for alleged activities in the interest of high tariff protection for his products and additional recessions by the finance committee majority from rates originally proposed, marked senate consideration Tuesday of the tariff bill.

There also was a general of general debate, Senator Harrison, democrat, of Mississippi, replying to the address delivered Monday by Senator Watson, republican of Indiana, in defense of the tariff measure. Senator Harrison charged that the republicans had determined upon a policy of replying to attacks on the bill so that senate action might be delayed and the measure finally killed in conference between the house and senate after the November elections.

Question of Ethics

The attack on former Senator Lippitt was made by Senator Ashurst, democrat of Arizona, who expressed doubt of the "propriety and the ethics" of a man who once had been a senator, and thus had entered to the senate chamber, interviewing his former colleagues here with a view to increasing tariff duties from which he would profit financially.

Senator Ashurst read from an article in the New York World in which Mr. Lippitt was termed a "super lobbyist" on the cotton schedule of the tariff bill and said there was a story going around that the former senator had been admitted to the secret sessions of the finance committee majority after producers of long staple cotton in Arizona had been heard.

Smoot Enters Denial

This brought a denial from Senator Smoot of Utah, ranking republican in the senate, who added that an examination of the tariff bill would disclose that no matter how often Mr. Lippitt had been heard, he had not had much influence with the committee in changing the rates.

Rates from which the committee rejected today included those on cut nails and spikes; horseshoe nails; horseshoe rivets and studs; and steel and iron screws. On cut nails the duty of 30 per cent ad valorem originally recommended was cut in half, the vote being 55 to 1, with Senator Wadsworth, republican of New York, casting the single negative vote. The duty on horseshoe nails was reduced from 2 1/2 cents a pound to 1 1/2 cents and the 40 per cent proposed for rivets and studs was reduced to 30 per cent. On horseshoes the rate was made 1.5 cent a pound instead of 3.5.

ORDERS REDUCTION IN IDAHO'S FREIGHT RATES

Public Utilities Commission Authorizes Carriers to Lower Tariffs

BOISE — The state public utilities commission Monday issued an order authorizing all railroads in the state to make reduction in intrastate freight rates comparable with the reductions ordered recently by the interstate commerce commission on interstate rates.

The order permits the railroads to make the change on 10 days' notice instead of the 30 days prescribed by law.

The new rates are effective July 1, 1922.

The federal commission found that the freight rates, with the exception of those on hay and grain, should be reduced 10 per cent. The Idaho commission's order says that a like reduction in freight rates should be made to apply on traffic within the state simultaneously with the going into effect of reductions ordered by the federal commission.

The Idaho commission also ordered that any railroad in the state which fails, neglects or refuses to put into effect the reduction in intrastate rate shall be subject to the further proceedings of the commission.

Alaskan Gulls Defended

The Alaskan gulls eat a great many fish eggs, but usually these are eggs mostly dead, that float ashore, to be picked up on the benches by the birds. They would not hatch anyway. There is no warrant for the statement that sea gulls are wholesale destroyers of nesting fish eggs and young fishes in the Atlantic or anywhere else. Nearly, if not quite all, of the Atlantic coast states have laws protecting sea gulls. But these laws were not made for "sentiment's sake." The gulls are not allowed to be killed for the common reason that they are indispensable to sea scavengers.—Exchange.

MRS. JEAN DAY GIVES VERSION OF BECK DEATH

Wife of Man Who Shot Army Officer in Lengthy Session Before United States Military Board

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., (P)—Mrs. Jean Day, local society woman, related Tuesday to a special army board her story of an alleged attack upon her by Lieutenant Colonel Paul Ward Beck, commanding officer at Post Field, Okla., which resulted in Beck's death at the hands of her husband here early in April.

The army officers composing the board went to the Day home this afternoon to hear Mrs. Day.

At a morning session of the board in the federal building, Jean Day appeared with his attorney and submitted to questioning. Both hearings were strictly private and neither Mr. Day nor the board members would make any comment.

Dig Up Old Record

A surprise developed at the morning session it was understood when Frost, Day's attorney, introduced several letters concerning alleged relations of Beck with women at other army posts where he had been stationed.

Before the hearing Day and his attorney assented to waiving the right of evidence so that all questions might be answered.

A coroner's jury exonerated Day shortly after the slaying.

Liquid Fuel

For a long time liquid fuel was employed only for steam production, but an indication of the wide application that it may have in many forms of industry is afforded by the experiment of the owners of a large glass manufactory at South Hackney, in England. The experiments there were begun more than ten years ago and after overcoming many difficulties a special form of burner was evolved which appears to be entirely satisfactory. Four to five thousand gallons of oil are burned every week with perfect combustion and a total absence of smoke, and the temperature obtained ranges from that of a baker's oven to that required for melting crucible steel. Elsewhere in England liquid fuel has been applied to such industries as the distillation of petroleum, steel smelting, heating the kilns for the production of art glass, carbide, electric light plants and heating furnaces of various kinds.—Washington Star.

LABOR LEADER OFFERS PROOF OF HIS CLAIM

Secretary of American Federation of Labor Would Have Government Investigate the American Plan Efforts

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A complaint was made to Attorney General Dargaherty late Tuesday by Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, against the alleged refusal of certain building material dealers in San Francisco to sell to firms employing union labor. Mr. Morrison said later the attorney general had assured him he would investigate the complaint.

Mr. Morrison presented letters and telegrams from the bricklayers', masons and plasterers' international union, with headquarters in Indianapolis, naming the Industrial Association of San Francisco as representing the employers' association in the alleged boycott of construction jobs employing union labor, and other firms and organizations which were charged with specific instances of discrimination. Included in the exhibits placed before the attorney general was also purported to be a letter sent by W. H. George, chairman of the industrial relations committee of the San Francisco builders' exchange, to all members of that organization, in which was listed the construction material which would be "put under the permit sign."

Must Be American Plan.
"You are particularly requested," the letter said, "to make sure before applying for a permit that your job is running on the American plan. All jobs will be carefully inspected; permits will not be again granted to any members or non-members of the builders' exchange who does not run his job strictly on the American plan and pay strictly the builders' exchange wage scale and no more, in any way, shape or form."

Other exhibits purported to be letters from individuals or organizations notifying prospective builders that the jobs at hand had been examined to see whether they conformed to "American plan" requirements before orders for materials were filled.

All Spring From Dreams.
"There is not a single invention achieved by man—from the making of the first stone ax to the construction of the latest model in airplanes—has not had a dream behind it—H. Addington Inves."

FACTS FAIL TO JUSTIFY CUTS LEADER CLAIMS

B. M. Jewell, Head of Six Shop Craft Unions, Outspoken in Condemnation of Policy of Railroad Labor Board

CINCINNATI, (AP)—Characterizing the shop crafts wage cut decision as "basically dressed up and obviously unfair apology" for the $60,000,000 slash, B. M. Jewell, head of the six shop crafts unions, declared Tuesday that the evidence in the case had been totally ignored and that the decision gave rise to the belief that the board was trying to help the railroads carry their labor policy.

The labor union head, here for a conference of union heads which Tuesday called for a strike vote of 1,200,000 railway workers, said the board's latest cut could be justified by no stretch of the facts.

"The board was offered evidence as to the amount necessary to secure the necessities of life for working men's families," Mr. Jewell said. "The rates in this decision are so far below those necessities that this evidence must have been ignored."

Charges Misrepresentation.

Mr. Jewell charged that tables published in the decision comparing the purchasing power of railway wages now with those of the pre-war period misrepresented the facts. Based on previous wage reports of the board, Mr. Jewell estimated that in the case of five crafts, new wages which became effective July 1, would purchase less than those of 1915 by over 10 per cent, and in the case of three crafts will mean a decrease of over 15 per cent in the standard of living.

Contrast Not Good.

"The employees cannot help noticing the contrast between their losses and the increasing profits of the railroads," he said. "The payroll losses of the shop crafts since 1920 as the result of decisions and law-offs amount to at least $320,000,000 annually. Similarly the maintenance of way men amounting at the rate of $300,000,000 annually. Such a reduction makes the 10 per cent reduction in railroad rates, totaling $400,000,000 look pretty small. Someone is pocketing the difference."

"The shopmen's chief grievance pointed out the increasing income of numerous roads, declaring that the strikes for whose returns had been published, showed a net gain of $157,708,784 for the first four months of this year."

Not Impartial Court.

"The effect of this 'contract,' Mr. Jewell said, would be "confirmation of the belief among the railroad employees in general that the railroad labor board is not an impartial court created to dispense justice, but created to help the railroads carry out their labor policy."

The new wage slash also would affect morale, President Jewell said, because the employees would not be able to give their highest efficiency as under "just conditions."

The decision, he said, did not measure up to a minimum "officiency wage."

ALL MAKE MERRY

"Pancake Night" Old World Period of Rejoicing.

Also Time of Fear for Bachelors' Able But Not Willing to Take Unto Themselves Brides.

In the Old World the last night of Shrove-tide, the night of February 23, the time of merry marriages, is a general night of rejoicing and merry-making, writes Katherine Fieldman in the Kansas City Star. With the long days of Lent looming ahead, young strives to fill as much joy as possible from the festive hours. And so in every home, until the clocks chime the midnight hour, there is a good time for old and young.

The man of the house, entering a few of his old cronies together, takes an extra smoke or two from his pipe, the pipe which he holds the good woman, of the house, life away before retiring on that night, and which he sees not again until the Easter sun comes up over the hills. On this night, too, comes a welcome opportunity to toast the health of any young married couple present, and there are always a few of them, for in every community there are dozens of weddings during Shrove-tide.

Pancake night, as the name implies, is also the night on which a huge pancake is mixed up to be baked and eaten after the hours of dance and song are ended. The pancake is usually stirred up by the woman of the house and in addition to the things that go to make it palatable, there is stirred into it a number of articles, any one of which will determine the fate of the one who gets it in the portion served them. A wedding ring, a silver sixpence and a button are the articles usually mixed in the pancake. The man who is considered the maiden who eats the wedding ring in the portion of pancake served her. For the Fates have willed that before a year passes she will be led to the altar. In marked contrast from the future of the one who comes the button, for to her will never come the joyous peal of wedding bells, her lot is to walk alone through life's ways. The sixpenny piece, which foretells wealth to whoever may find it, is of course not at all despised.

Pancake night is a time when all tardy bachelors begin to fear for the morrow, because for several days after this night life becomes almost a burden for him who could, but did not take good notice of a wife. From the small boy up to the tottering grand old man, all conspire to make him see the error of his ways, and very often in consequence, when Easter-time comes he is one of the first to look a blushing bride to the altar. And because of this, very often the maiden who was lucky enough to find the wedding ring in her portion of pancake Shrove Tuesday, is led to the altar before even the altar call for the tall-ment of the prophecy has passed, thereby fixing more firmly in the minds of her companions the truth of the things the Shrove Tuesday pancake tells.

Duration of Life Prolonged.
Since 1900, according to the findings of the American emergency council's committee on elimination of waste in industry, the duration of life has lengthened by five years and the nation has benefited to the extent of millions of dollars by lessened disability and sickness. There is still a startling sick list of 2,000,000 persons, but this is a marked reduction from the 3,000,000 of 1900. The improvement is due, not to any physical advance of the race, but to "a mitigation of the struggle for existence" and a protection of life, community from communicable disease. A survey of five basic industries shows that the average individual now loses only seven days annually from sickness, as compared with 35 days in 1900.—Scientific American.

A FEW YEARS FROM NOW

On Saturday of this week the present city administration will turn over the reins of municipal management to their successors and retire from the scene.

It's all right, of course, but the average man is perhaps inclined to wonder what the verdict will be a few years from now, whether, in fact, the record will show that there was any real necessity for such change...

The News believes that it would be impossible to secure a more conscientious, honest group of men to administer the affairs of the city than that constituting the outgoing administration.

Analyzing clear down to the bottom the elements which compose the Walton following, two things are clear, namely that a large part of such following was composed of men and women who pay no taxes whatever...

This was the ball held out, apparently, the crazy suggestion, craftily implied that if the Walton forces could only be elected, goodbye to all further taxes of any kind for recent public improvements.

This character of bunk was not dealt in by the McRoberts administration. When all is said and done it would seem that the Service Men were entitled to something more than they received from Twin Falls in the way of public support and public approval.

But what's the use; it's all over any way, and time alone will demonstrate whether or not the City and its people are any better off under the commission plan than they have been under the old form.

WHAT MEN MUST LEARN

Civilization is pleasant and desirable, but it doesn't cultivate individual responsibility. The man and woman who are attempting to demonstrate that they can go up into the woods of Maine and live without the implements or the assistance of civilized society are doing nothing more than was required of the progenitors of our race.

They have a lot of the advantage of the cave man because they have been schooled in all the miracles which modern civilization has produced. They know the why and the how of the thousands of useful things which the cave man would have dismissed as witchcraft.

The average man who thinks himself poor nowadays enjoys daily luxuries unimagined of by the kings of old. He begins to suffer famine and want when deprived of a few things which man once would have considered superfluous.

And nations have taken on the same bonds of interdependence. Russia has a mighty domain, fabulously wealthy in resources, with great range of climate and variety of production, and yet the friends of Russia charge that the other nations brought Russia to starvation by refusing to trade with her for a year after the war.

Civilization teaches men to co-operate and to rely one upon another. But it has not yet taught them not to break up that system of co-operation and throw their organization into chaos.

GRADE CROSSING MUST GO

There is general recognition among progressive railroad men that the grade crossing eventually must go.

But the change will require many years and large expenditures and the movement must be encouraged patiently as well as confidently.

President Harding had these things in mind when he endorsed the "railroads" campaign to decrease the toll of the grade crossing, a safety drive which is to extend through the summer.

In that movement progressive railroad men probably will continue to lead as they have led in recent years. With the co-operation of public officials many dangerous crossings have been eliminated within the last two decades.

The purpose of the safety campaign is not to protect the railroads, but to protect the public. In a collision the average pedestrian or automobile driver is usually more severely damaged than is the locomotive that hits him.

CITIZENSHIP IS LAST REQUISITE

Russian Princess Admitted to America by Special Permission But Case Not Closed

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Princess Ivan Tcherichinich of Russia, unconditionally admitted into the United States by Secretary of Labor Davis under decision Tuesday overruling immigration authorities at New Orleans who had denied the princess entry, must establish American citizenship before her case is finally closed by the department.

A few hours after the order had been issued permitting her to remain in this country, the princess called at the labor department and conferred with officials of the bureau of naturalization. Facts and documents said to relate to her birth in this country in 1881 in London, 1875, were presented.

Elates Her Experiences

Princess Tcherichinich related her experiences as a stowaway and stow-away aboard a trans-Atlantic liner, in reaching the United States after the execution by Bolsheviks of her husband and the disappearance of her eight-year-old son.

"My mother was a Russian and my father a German," she said. "I shall endeavor to secure my father's naturalization papers and present them to the labor department. When this is done I have been assured I shall be accorded naturalization papers, though I now claim American citizenship despite the fact that when I married into the Russian nobility, I naturally sacrificed my citizenship in this country."

GRAND JURY TO OBTAIN FACTS

Wife of Man Who Shot Peters Directed by Court to Answer Questions of Body

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., (AP)—District Attorney Weeks registered satisfaction Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Walter S. Ward left the stand of having been directed by Supreme Court Justice Morehouse to answer certain questions put to her by the grand jury in connection with its investigation of the shooting of Clarence Peters by her husband, May 15.

Although Mr. Weeks declined to disclose what had taken place at the examination, it was understood that Mrs. Ward had been questioned concerning the card party which was alleged to have been held in her honor the night of the shooting.

Must Answer Questions.

Earlier in the day it was reported that she had declined to answer questions as to what time her husband returned that night and how he looked. At a conference in his chambers, Justice Morehouse was understood to have ruled that while she might plead privilege she also was asked questions concerning communications passing between her and Mr. Ward, as man and wife, she would have to reply to questions concerning conversations at which a third person was present.

Convention of Financiers Lists on to Strong Address by Retiring President

HAYDEN LAKE, Idaho, (AP)—Sharp attacks on the proposed soldiers' bonus from the bankers' viewpoint, and advice to bankers not to enter the bond business, were features of speeches delivered Tuesday before the 18th annual convention of the Idaho State Bankers' association, meeting here.

E. M. Ehrhardt, of Lewiston, retiring president made the attack on the bonus.

"There is no thinking man in this country who does not know that this measure is principally a political measure, and it is appalling to think that our congress is full of men of both political parties who are willing to prostitute their positions in support of such injudicious measure in return for votes sufficient to enable them to retain their seats in congress," he said.

"The simple proposition that a government's resources are limited to its taxing power means to have but little weight with the supporters of this measure."

Mr. Ehrhardt also discussed the desirability of maintaining the federal reserve system and shift for Idaho grain farmers on his address.

BARRETT'S OUT IN SIXTH ROUND

Low Tender of Philadelphia Too Much for Clifton Heights Aspirant

PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—Low Tender of Philadelphia Tuesday night knocked out Bobby Barrett of Clifton Heights, Pa., in the sixth round of their scheduled eight-round bout at the National league baseball park in the presence of more than 20,000 spectators, one of the biggest crowds that ever saw a boxing match in Philadelphia. The knockout came at the close of the sixth round.

It was a ripping left hand swing that caught Barrett full on the solar plexus. He dropped to the mat, writhing with pain, and at the count of ten, when the bell rang, his seconds jumped into the ring to revive him. Many of the ring "crowd" believed the blow was low, but Referee Herman Taylor declared it was not. In order to keep the crowd out of the ring, where Barrett was being given a hasty medical examination, a cordon of police was thrown around the ring. Referee Barrett was assisted to his dressing room. He was not badly hurt. From the beginning until the finishing blow Tender showed that he was the better man. Although both boxers were said to have been equal, the 137 1/2 ringer, Barrett appeared to be lighter and was more immature than his opponent.

Barrett repeatedly attempted to get in a knockout with wild left swings, but Tender was too clever. Barrett hit Tender a few times, but the blows although seeming to have great power had no effect.

At no stage of the battle did Barrett put up an adequate defense against Tender's rain of blows. On the other hand Tender's defense was almost perfect.

In the first round, after a cautious start, Tender drove into Barrett with a series of swings to the body, interspersed with several sharp jabs to the face. Before the close of the round Barrett was bleeding from the nose, and as the gong sounded Tender laid his opponent well on the run.

Tender Too Fast

Barrett tried his vicious swings in the second round, but Tender was too fast for him. Barrett's attempted blows missing their mark on each occasion. Tender did little but jab Barrett in the face with his right in this round.

The fighters weighed in at ringside, both tipping the beam at 137 1/2 pounds. Herman Taylor, one of the promoters of the show, was chosen to referee.

In the next two rounds Tender forced Barrett to take a lot of punishment. The Philadelphia kept jabbing with rights to Barrett's face with an occasional slashing uppercut that had his opponent bleeding freely from the nose and mouth when the third round ended.

Barrett Unable to Land

The fourth was a repetition of the third with Barrett attempting more of his wild swings, none of which landed. Tender, in the meantime, continued to hammer Barrett all over the body and several times had him staggering.

In the first preliminary to the Tender-Barrett fight, George Chaney of Baltimore knocked out Alvin York in the opening round of their scheduled eight-round contest.

Phil "KO" Kaplan, Jersey City, gave Joe Jackson, Philadelphia, a severe hammering in the second bout and won by a wide margin.

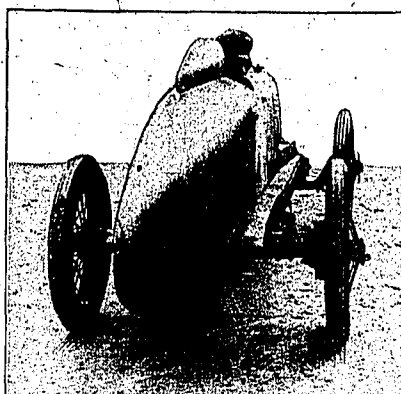

In the semi-final Earl Francis of Los Angeles defeated Tim Dronay of Lancaster in a clever, clean eight-round bout. Not once during the contest did Referee Cutch have to put his hand on either man or stop between them to prevent hitting in the back way.

FOLLIES SCORE A PALPABLE HIT WITH AUDIENCE

Generous Measure of Mirth, Music and Comedy is Crowded Into Elks' Home Talent Offering

More than eight hundred persons filled the Orpheum theater to see comedy, made up of highly appreciative audience for initial performance of the Elks' Follies last night, giving evidence of a duplication tonight of the success scored at the first presentation.

Thirty distinct numbers of vaudeville, singing and dancing, presented in a setting of mirth, music and color entered into the program which was built about a slender thread of plot to substantiate the claim to being a musical comedy. There was a laugh in every line, and dull moments were conspicuous by their absence.

Performers responded with generosity to lavish accolades. Every number came in for its share of applause. Three numbers, perhaps, might be regarded as standing out in special relief, if it is possible to make distinctions in a program such as this.

In a "Six Hopkins" solo, Florence Fitzwater brought down the house with her song "Don't." The appeal of childhood was an especially strong element in the song, "Goodbye Shanghai," given by Miss Thelma Wela Bergan, assisted by Walter, Joe, and four other boys.

One of the hits of the evening was scored by the "Old Timers" quartet, composed of Miriam Batley, C. E. Weicht, Bill Gohmert and Bob Lee, with "some old favorites and some new and timely waltzes."

Handy With Fiddle. "The Brother from 225," in the person of U. P. Nell, who played the fiddle with a bottle, an old shoe or most anything else that came handy, provided some of the diverting numbers, and Luck, the "magician" with the assistance of Emil Stroeck, gave a really clever exhibition of sleight-of-hand.

"All Aboard," a vaudeville number with its setting at the Idaho Canal, started at home in the auditorium for some clever comedy presented by Jimmy Wheeler, Arthur Beckwitz, Alvin Posters, and the McEates, Bebie Hildes and Gail and Emil Stroeck as passengers.

"Hans and Gretel" afforded P. C. Ellis and Miss Maurine Siffer an arena for putting over an entertaining act, and M. Siffer, J. Caldwell and D. Bon, "singers and stoppers," were pleasing in "Some of Us Boys (1)!"

Composed for Occasion. An interesting feature of the musical program was the song, "I'm Glad I'm an Elk," words and music of which were written especially for this production by Iddor G. Friedman. It was sung by Ernest Bennett.

Other musical numbers were "Tim, Tim," by Maezer Rybalch; "Angel Child," by R. L. Beach, the "Angel Child" and chorines; "When Miami Dreams," by Ludena Ellis; "My Last Ballad," by Arthur Beckwitz; "My Last Ballad," by Ernest Bennett; "The Ballad at Twilight," by Truesen Neice; "The Bluebird," by Edna Lewis; "Hello, My Dearie," and "Play That Song of India Again," by Julia Taylor.

"Good-bye Girls," by Walter Buchanan and the Goodbye Girls, and a selected solo by Paul McKinley. Combining the features of both song and dance Howard E. Kahn, under whose direction the Follies was produced, and Mrs. Sahlin gave "After Sundown" and the "Spirit of a Play Dance."

Mrs. Sahlin's proposition for a Spanish dance and Miss Lona Yochekin in a ballet classique, gave entirely pleasing performances. With minor variations the musical program will be duplicated at night's performance.

Prominent People Impersonated. Well-known Twin Falls people were impersonated by players in the presentation of this plot. Hermon Yarbough, Henry White, Ed Dixon, Arthur Baker, were impersonated by Arthur Beckwitz, Jimmy Wheeling, Emil Stroeck, and Guy Ryan. Howard E. Kahn directed the production.

Mahin took the part of Tom Reed, boss of the club room; Hugh Lewis was Judge Taber, the main officer; Emery Bennett was Herman Dohy, the recording angel; Felix Andriano was Ernest Giles, an "unklick"; Jack Bonfield was Alvin Reed, newspaper man; E. W. Fivester was Asher B. Wilson, in favor of presentation; Carl Peterson was Turner K. Heckman, willing to defend; Donald Crow was Sheriff Sherman, on the job; and Herman Dohy was a past exalted ruler, C. A. Bailey figured as the accused visiting brother; Mauser Rybalch as Willie Nolliste in whose possession the plans were found; and Ralph Hawkins and Gene Thometz, on 81 and 111, two old cronies.

The performance opened with a chorus "Hello," by the entire company of more than 50 persons, and was closed with a spectacular finale following the singing of "Anil Lang Bane" and "The Star Spangled Banner."
