Ford's Muscle Shoals Offer Divides House Military Body Into Three Groups With Divergent Views

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Enactment of legislation designed to bring about development of the government's power and nitrate projects at Muscle Shoals, Alabama, by private enterprise, was recommended Friday to the house in three reports filed by members of the military committee.

Each of the reports admitted that the committee had been unable to agree upon details for the proposed development and expressed belief that the task should be performed by the public itself.

World Eliminate Steam Plant The report presented by acting Chairman McKenzie of Illinois, called for the acceptance of Henry Ford's proposal as amended by the committee to eliminate the Gorges steam power plant from the properties to be disposed of at Muscle Shoals.

Representative Wright, democrat of Georgia, and seven other committee members asked that the house accept the Ford offer in the form it was finally submitted by the Detroit manufacturer without amendment or modification.

Representative Parker, republican, New Jersey, believed the Ford tender should be unconditionally accepted in any form, or the shoals properties should be returned to the jurisdiction of the war department and Secretary Weeks authorized to dispose of them under terms approved by congress.

Action Is Deferred Inquiry—as to when action would be taken on the bills directed acceptance of the Ford offer, which also were removed from the committee by acting Chairman McKenzie, was made by Representative Garrett of Missouri, the minority leader, in answer to the reports were announced in the house.

Majority Leader Kendall replied that while he was anxious for early consideration of the measure, it was impossible at the present time to say how soon action could be expected. He said he would be glad to have an opportunity to study the various reports and familiarize himself with the subject.

CONGRESS MAY EXAMINE INTO COAL BUSINESS Investigation of Prices Charged by Bituminous Operators Will Begin If Present Agreement Violated

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Congressional investigation of prices charged by bituminous coal operators and retailers was promised Friday night by Senator Borah of Idaho, chairman of the senate labor committee, at a conference with Secretary Hoover of the department of commerce, if the basic price scale established at conference between Mr. Hoover with the committee of producing operators is made the basis for profit-making.

Secretary Hoover was said to have assured Senator Borah that in furtherance of his attempt to prevent profiteering and to obtain price adjustment to protect the public, and Senator Borah was understood to have agreed to withhold any investigation pending the outcome of Mr. Hoover's action.

It was said at the conference, which was held at Senator Borah's residence at the instance of the commerce secretary, the question of governmental action for bringing about a settlement of the strike was not discussed.

"FROM WINCHESTER TOWN TO SAVE THE DAY"

FOR MANY YEARS, in the old Quartermaster Building on Governors Island, New York harbor, the chief object of interest was Winchester, the famous horse General Philip Sheridan, dashing cavalry leader, rode in the Civil War.

After his death, Winchester was "mounted," saddled and equipped as he was when General Sheridan saved the day by his Twenty-ninth Cavalry, to reform his shattered lines. Winchester has now been removed to the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, after a fitting ceremony.

Entire Staff of Physicians Quit Hospital in Body Resign Positions Through Unwillingness to Co-operate with Christian Science

SPOKANE, (AP)—Claiming they could not be responsible for the health of the children of the Huton settlement, a large orphanage near here, if Christian Science treatments by attendants were allowed, the entire medical staff of the institution, comprising nine doctors, resigned Friday night.

Christian Science treatments had been given by a nurse and one or two of the attendants. It was said by the doctors, they disclaimed responsibility for treatment of children "by methods with which the staff is not in sympathy."

L. W. Huton, founder and supporter of the settlement, could not be reached for a statement. It is believed by his associates, however, that he will urge the physicians to reconsider their action.

Fifteen Billions is Invested in Power in Each Ten Years

Convention Speaker Points Out Use of Capital in Eleven Western States

BOISE, (AP)—Fifteen billion dollars every 10 years is the present rate of investment in 11 western states for general development, said Robert Gilroy, editor of the Journal of electricity and western industry, in an address Friday before delegates to the Northwest Electric Light and Power association's convention assembled in Boise.

The speaker is said, the speaker declared following a survey in co-operation with officials of 58 power companies and executives of over 6,000 industries in these states. The speaker warned assembly that service and reasonable rates for power must be the ambition of every power company in the entire west, "if this ambition realized," he said, "divisions of the west will see to it that private initiative will be given fair and full play."

FORMER TWIN FALLS MAN IS MADE VICE-PRESIDENT

R. E. King Elected by Northwest Electric Light and Power Association

BOISE—(Special to The News)—The Northwest Electric Light and Power association convention, in session here, Friday, elected the following officers: President, M. W. Brockie, Seattle; vice-president, John M. Kinkead, Port Townsend; vice-president for Oregon, George L. Myers, Portland; vice-president for Idaho, B. D. King, Boise; vice-president for Utah, G. L. Inch, Salt Lake.

Former Young Woman Resident of Boise Assaulted and Murdered

SECOND VICTIM IS FLOGGED BY MEN IN MASKS

Sequel to Abduction Case is Brought to Light Through Story of Another Resident of Andersonville, S. C.

ANDERSON, S. C. (AP)—While Anderson was still talking Friday about the kidnaping here Thursday night of Robert W. Sullivan, 31 and Miss Ruby Floyd, 19, it became known that Ollie Crumpton was taken from his home at Williamson, near here Thursday night and flogged by masked men.

Crumpton told the police his captors charged him with bringing a bootlegger and advised him to sell no more liquor. No arrests have been made in either case and Solicitor L. W. Harris said he had not decided whether to seek a grand jury investigation.

Sullivan, who is a well known cotton mill man, was warned by his kidnappers to be seen again in the company of Miss Floyd but he declared he made no promise and they were said to have gone riding together again Friday night. He said he could not identify any of the men, who were garbed as Ku Klux Klansmen.

Sullivan and the young woman recently were taken into custody as a result of complaints by a neighbor but no action ever had been taken in the case.

HOSPITAL EARTH TURNED Site for Sixth Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children Formally Dedicated

PORTLAND, Ore., (AP)—W. Free land Kendrick, potentate of Lulu temple, Philadelphia, and past imperial potentate of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, Friday turned the first spadeful of earth at the site of what will be the sixth hospital for crippled children to be established by the Shrine in North America.

The ceremony was witnessed by representatives of many temples here en route to San Francisco for the coming convention of the Shrine. The hospital is to cost $250,000 and will be operated for the benefit of all crippled children applying for aid.

Wheat Stocks of World Approach Low Water Mark

Department of Commerce Declares July First Will See Small Amount on Hand

WASHINGTON, (AP)—World wheat stocks by July 1 will be lower than for several years, according to an analysis of the situation issued Friday night by the commerce department.

Both Argentina and Australia, the department explained, have considerably less wheat than last year, the United States carry-over will be light, and only Canada has considerable stocks on hand. A larger surplus than last year, it was declared, was indicated by the upward trend of European consumption, while the prospects are for a smaller crop.

"Until next February," the department said, "the international trade will be largely dependent for supplies on the surplus of North America and a limited quantity from Spain. With Russia entirely out of the export trade, North American wheat is in a relatively strong position."

CONVENTION DATE FIXED. EUGENE, Ore., (AP)—The annual convention of the Western district of American Physical Education association will be held in Eugene, June 28 and 29 during the "trial week" of the school year.

Six Deaths Follow Severe Heat Wave in Eastern Cities

Three in New York and Similar Number in Chicago Succumb—Denver Breaks Record

BOSTON, (AP)—Boston sweltered through the third successive day of temperature in the nineties Friday and had gained little relief from a late afternoon electrical storm accompanied by rain. Many prostrations were reported.

NEW YORK, (AP)—Three deaths and eight recorded prostrations were attributed to heat. It was the summer's hottest day, with the temperature going to 95 and the humidity hovering around the 60 mark.

CHICAGO, (AP)—Three more persons died from the effects of the heat wave in which Chicago has sweltered for three days. Five persons succumbed Thursday and nearly 100 have been overcome. The mercury reached 90 degrees Friday afternoon.

DENVER, (AP)—The hottest June 9 since 1878 was experienced in Denver Friday. The government thermometer registered 95 degrees shortly before noon and the heat was accentuated by clear skies and virtually no breeze. In 1878 the mercury soared to 99 in Denver, according to Frederick W. Dritz, district weather forecaster.

10 DAY DELAY IS LIKELY FOR SOLDIER BONUS

McNary of Oregon Offers An Amendment Providing for Preferential Land Entry Rights for Service Men

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Efforts to obtain prompt consideration of the soldiers' bonus bill will be deferred for at least ten days, it was stated Friday authoritatively. Whether it will be taken up by agreement among republican leaders or without the consent of some, remains to be determined.

Chairman McComber of the finance committee, who will pilot the legislation through the senate, has informed senators that in fixing a time to call the bill up he will try to suit the convenience of most of them. He said he realized that there were those on each side who had to be absent from time to time because of primary campaigns in their states and who desired to be present when the bonus is considered.

New Amendments Offered. Another amendment to the bonus measure was offered Friday, Senator McNary, republican, Oregon, proposing the Smith-McNary $350,000,000 reclamation measure as a land settlement feature. This bill already has been reported to both the senate and the house, but as part of the bonus measure it would be changed, Senator McNary said, so that veterans would be given preference in the purchase of land in excess of the farm unit, and in preference to homestead public lands lying within a reclamation district.

Under another change, the service of veterans would be utilized as much as practicable in the construction of each reclamation project.

Senator McNary said it was his purpose to press the amendment, provided a majority of the senate showed a desire to incorporate land settlement provisions in the bonus bill.

GERMAN LOAN LAID ON SHELL PARIS, (AP)—The international bankers at a session held Friday virtually decided to adjourn for three months and then resume consideration of a proposed loan to the Western district.

Although the bankers' committee will meet again tomorrow morning to complete its answer to the reparations commission, the decision to adjourn was taken Friday evening after its members had agreed that in view of the situation created by the reparations commission's vote, nothing could be done at this time toward arranging a large loan for Germany. The final decision is expected to be taken Saturday by the bankers.

DEATH CAUSED BY AXE BLOW POLICE CLAIM

Miss Alice Mallett, Matron of Crittendon Home for Girls at Jackson, Michigan, Victim of Criminal Attack

RESIDED TWO YEARS IN BOISE. BOISE, (AP)—Miss Alice Mallett, whose mutilated body has been found at Jackson, Mich., is the daughter of Mrs. G. W. Mallett, widow of a prominent farmer at Mallett station, west of Ontario, Oregon. Miss Mallett is 39 years of age, had been away from her home about two years.

Miss Alice Mallett resided in Boise for two years, leaving here six years ago. She is well known here, having been connected as a department director for the Y. W. C. A. Miss Nancy Mallett, a sister, left here Friday for her home in Ontario following receipt of message of the murder.

JACKSON, (AP)—State police and Jackson county and city officers spent the entire day Friday in a fruitless search for the slayer of Miss Alice Mallett, matron of the Crittendon home for girls here, whose body was found early Friday morning by a factory worker. Physicians who examined Miss Mallett's body Friday afternoon, announced she had been criminally assaulted.

The body was found in a vacant lot, about half a block from the street where the attack took place. The head had been crushed with an axe, and the woman's clothing was torn to shreds.

Of Prominent Family. PORTLAND, Ore., (AP)—Miss Alice Mallett, murdered at Jackson, Mich., was the daughter of a prominent pioneer family of Malheur county, Oregon. Her mother, Mrs. G. W. Mallett, and several sisters and brothers, reside at Ontario, Ore. The father died six months ago. She had been absent from Oregon for the greater part of six years.

Miss Mallett attended Willamette college when a girl, but left university at the end of her sophomore year. She remained in Ontario until six years ago when she received an offer to enter Y. W. C. A. work in Flint, Mich., which she accepted. More recently she was in the same service at Jackson, residing to take a post with the Florence Crittendon home.

Evidence in Trial of Pocatello Banker Deals Largely With Reece's Letters

BOISE—(Special to The News)—In the Reece bank trial in which G. L. Reece, former president of the Bank of Pocatello National bank at Pocatello, is the defendant, evidence was introduced on Friday to show that two loans of $95,000 were secured from the Spokane Castle and Loan company by a sheep man, through Reece on the same hand of sheep containing approximately 12,000 head.

Letters were submitted in evidence to support this contention. The trial will occupy several days.

COMPERS PLAYS COURT ROLE IN CORONADA CASE

Declares Organized Labor is Forced to Enter National Politics to Secure New Legislation Permitting Strikes

CINCINNATI, (AP)—Protests of organized labor, as voiced here Friday at preliminaries for the annual convention next week of the American Federation of Labor centered against the Supreme court, the congress and state legislatures in general.

Samuel Compers, president of the federation, in addressing a club of business men, interpreted the supreme court decision in the celebrated Coronada coal case as a negation of the right to strike and declared that organized labor would appeal to congress for new legislation setting aside the decision.

In criticizing the supreme court, Mr. Compers said that he expected the "taken strictly to account," for his utterances, adding that "it do not run away from a fight."

"But it has come to a pretty pass," he continued, "when an American citizen can no longer discuss and criticize the decision of the courts."

Must Invade Politics. "Anyhow, if he feels so disposed, can criticize even the president of the United States, or the United States senate or the congress. They of what flesh are the members of the supreme court that they are above criticism beyond that of the president of the United States?"

Delegates to the meeting of the national department of the federal congress and state legislatures as enemies of labor and declared for labor's active participation in the fall campaigns in an effort to elect its friends regardless of their politics.

In his speech, Mr. Compers said the Coronada decision might "differentiate" inflicting "liability for damages" and he asserted this meant the unions must withstand "constant litigation or go out of business."

CHICAGO CHEESE MAKER URGES DAIRYMEN'S BANK

J. L. Kraft Sends Message to Idaho Bankers Telling of Needs of State

BOISE—Establishment of a dairymen's national bank in Idaho was urged by J. L. Kraft, prominent cheese manufacturer, in a speech read Wednesday before the Idaho State Bankers' association in convention at Hayden lake. Although invited, Mr. Kraft was prepared to attend the convention, but prepared a paper and sent it to Governor D. W. Davis, who forwarded it to the bankers at Hayden lake. Word that the speech had been read, before the bankers was received Wednesday by F. W. Brown, secretary to the governor, who released the speech.

Mr. Kraft recently completed a survey of the southern part of the state to inspect dairying possibilities. He says in his address that Idaho is bound to become one of the greatest, if not the greatest, dairy state in the union.

Opportunity Is Best. The cheese manufacturer does not say that he will establish a bank in the state, but says that the opportunity for such a bank is one of the best he has ever seen. As far as a market for dairy products is concerned, Mr. Kraft says that the market awaits the product, and if a time should ever come when dairy products will be unsalable at a profit, much less would there be a market for alfalfa, corn and other grains now being raised.

He questions the possibility at the present time of awakening any great majority of the bankers of the state as a class to the opportunity which is presented. Idaho is naturally a dairy state, he says, and holds out to the dairy farmer a "future of excellent—perfect soil, perfect water and perfect sunshine, and in no other state have I found those three essentials made so available in right proportions."

Guard Against Forest Fire. A fire that would be the biggest ever known on earth would ruin, government officials believe, if a great mass of fallen timber in the state of Washington should be set ablaze. The trees were blown down by a 150-mile gale that swept the forest last Saturday. They cover an area 90 miles long and from 20 to 30 miles wide. There are more than 675,000,000 feet of timber in the mass. To guard against the fire danger, the federal government and the state of Washington have expended $100,000 each. The forest service and the state are taking all kinds of fire preventive measures, including patrol by airplanes.

Triplets Graduate in Same Class

Louise, Louise & Lillian Bursett. Louise Laura, Louise and Lillian Bursett, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bursett, of Pleasantview, are members of the graduating class, 1922, of the Pennington High School and are believed to be the only triplets in this country graduating from the same class at the same time. The girls were born in Eldred, Pa. May 18, 1903. They have dressed alike since childhood, but as matter boys daily their clothes may be mixed up at night they could always pick out their garments in the morning.

BURLEY DISTRICT SPUD FIELDS SHOW INCREASE

Ten Thousand Acres Devoted to Crop is 3000 More Than Last Year

BURLEY—Figures just compiled by the reclamation office here show 15,738 acres of alfalfa on the pumping unit of the South Boise Minidoka project this season. This is far the largest acreage planted to any one crop, and is approximately the same as last year. The alfalfa seedling last spring makes up for the large amount of the old crop plowed up this season for grain and potatoes. A lighter yield is anticipated, however, because of the backward spring, and the prevalence of the weevil over a large portion of the east end of the tract.

Wheat Banks Record

Wheat banks record again in number of acres planted, but 212 acres of 11,000 acres devoted to that crop. This is practically the same as in 1921. The outlook for the crop is not so good at this time a year ago. The stand is not so good, and the plants are small and weak. However, the yield should be higher than in 1921, when the stand tumbled down the average to less than 30 bushels to the acre.

Re Acreage Spuds

Potatoes are close contenders with wheat for second place, with a total of approximately 10,000 acres devoted to the crop. This is 2,000 acres above last year. Better seed was planted this season on an average, and while the crop will be late, the plants are coming up good and the stand over the period will be an average. Farmers will be forced to store many of their potatoes, if the yield is normal, because of the lack of railroad facilities here to handle them at digging time.

There are approximately 4000 acres of beets here this season as against 4200 last. Taken as a whole the stand is good and the crop prospects are promising, although much later than common.

Clover has made a gain from 1400 in 1921 to 1600 acres in 1922. There are 1300 acres devoted to oats, the same as last year; and 212 acres of barley as against 570 in 1921. The remainder of the project, some 3500 acres, is planted to pasture, gardens and other crops, running about the same as during the previous years. All crops are suffering for want of water at this time, and it will continue to be a hard year. Many farmers are behind with their irrigation, and some crops may suffer for want of water before the end of the season.

WHY WORRY

There are two reasons why man should not worry, either one of which must operate in every instance. First: Because he cannot prevent the results he fears. Second: Because he can prevent them. If he is powerless to prevent the blow he need not have mental concentration to meet it bravely, to lighten its force, to get what salvage he can from the wreck, to sustain his strength at this time when he must plan a new future.

BUSY YEAR FOR LIBRARY IS INDICATED BY REPORT

Gain in Membership is Shown at 1332; Net Increase in Volumes is 539

Net increase of 539 in the number of volumes on the shelves of the Twin Falls public library and a gain in membership of 1332 as compared with the previous year's membership gain of 2085, is shown by the annual report just submitted to the library board by Miss Jessie Fraser, librarian. "The number of volumes in the library May 1, 1922, was 6572, as compared with 6033 on the corresponding date last year. During the year 449 volumes were discarded; 572 volumes were purchased and 105 volumes were donated. The number of books and magazines accessioned was 698.

Ten volumes of magazines were bound and 365 books were rebound. The library last year subscribed to 46 magazines and three newspapers, 44 magazines and 106 newspapers were donated. The number of books and magazines accessioned was 698.

Average daily circulation during the year has been 236, as compared with 207 the previous year. The highest daily circulation last year was 476 and that of the year before 411. For capita circulation for the Twin Falls independent school district is computed at 6.02.

Receipts from the pay roll during the year were $107,607; from county subscriptions, $25,500 and from fines and collections $428.33, making a total of $631,637.

Records showing the circulation by months show the following results:

Month	1920-21	1921-22
May	4527	5378
June	4435	4737
July	4216	4645
August	4458	5292
September	4112	4346
October	5118	5371
November	6283	6087
December	6093	6757
January	6364	6118
February	6210	7547
March	6192	7373
April	6068	6182
Total	64668	72263

No Time to Read

They were passengers on a College car and were discussing some friends who had evidently not called recently. "We've been there twice," she said, "since they were at our house." Convenient Road. In one of the rose garden displays at the Indianapolis flower show, a beautiful sun dial, inscribed with Browning's "Grow old along with me, the best is yet to be," held a prominent place. A woman, vigorously chewing gum, gave it a passing glance, and remarked to her companion: "Grow old along with me! Ain't that funny? I guess that must be for the chicken sort."

UNIVERSITY'S YEARBOOK IS RECEIVED ON CAMPUS

Vernon Walters, Twin Falls, Member of Staff of 1923 "Gem of Mountains"

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, MOSCOW—(Special to The News)—The 1923 "Gem of the Mountains" yearbook published by the junior class, has been received on the university campus. This year's book contains 353 pages and is profusely illustrated, including a nine-page color section showing the more familiar and picturesque scenes on the campus. A special section is devoted to the alumni and their work in boosting for the university. The innovation in this year's book is that student activities are placed ahead of the class groups in the makeup scheme. The athletic department is elaborate, featuring reviews of the basketball and football seasons.

Rex Kimmel of Boise, a junior in the college of law, was editor of the book; Louis A. Doeg of Boise, a junior in the college of engineering, assistant editor; William C. Carpenter of Boise, news manager; Vernon Walters of Twin Falls and A. Kenneth Anderson of Moscow, assistant business managers. Other members of the staff are: Ralph Cummins, Wallace, photographs; Richard Johnson, Morton, snapshots; Margaret Katonowsky, Boise, society; Kenneth Hunter, Moscow, alumni; Ellen Bloom, Spokane, and Cameron King, Lewiston, art; Sylvester Kieffer, Twin Falls, humor; Philip Buck, Boise, Tom Curtis, Boise, Ted Sherman, Idaho University; Chas. Press, Tacoma, Jack Armstrong, Pocatello, Robert Garver, Walla Walla, athlete; Ruth Litton, Lamont, Mary Ball, Colorado Springs, and Beth Collins, Boise, organizations.

Westminster's Bells

It is only on very rare occasions that the peal of the Westminster abbey bells is heard; but on Princess Mary's wedding day the bells in the northwest tower added their joyful notes to the proceedings. The tower bell is very old, dating from 1450, and two of the others were presented by Gabriel Goodman, a dean of Westminster in Queen Elizabeth's time. The octave was incomplete, however, until some little time ago, when two additional bells were added; and the existing six were at the same time rehung and tuned. The peal rang on February 23, which consisted of just over 5,000 changes, promises there to be an exceptional interest as the first full one heard from the abbey bells.

POLITICAL LID IS LIFTED BY G. O. P. RALLY AT BURPERT

BURPERT.—The lid was tipped off the county political campaign Friday night, when Republicans here held their first rally at the courthouse with a goodly number of persons in attendance. A. C. DeMay was elected chairman of the meeting, with Judge C. D. Philbin secretary. "E. R. Dempster, principal speaker, gave a resume of the county, state and national republican administrations. He laid great stress on a platform of local taxes, urging that all county and state candidates should be pledged to keep the cost of government to a minimum. His talk was well received. Announcement is made that on Saturday, 2 p. m., at courthouse, the new progressive party will come into being in Minidoka county. It is expected that a complete county ticket will be put into the field.

Time for filing for county offices commenced June 9 and all candidates must file with the county recorder between that date and July 2.

Never Again

A certain man determined to be on hand with his revolver the next time burglars got into an apartment in the flat where he lived. So much "blavery" had been going on that he wished to do a cleanup job. Early one morning he was sitting "Woolie" when he heard a noise, then the warning scream. He sprang for his revolver, rushed down the steps two and three at a time, arriving on the scene in his E. V. D.'s, his pipe in his mouth and his revolver flourishing wickedly—a combination of leisure, haste and quick action. It was a false alarm, and he "came to" when the screams turned into shrieks of laughter.

PAUL FARMER LOSES EYE

BURPERT.—As a result of infection caused by getting rust or some other foreign substance in his eye when putting a collar on together about ten days ago, George Kerbs, a farmer residing near Paul underwent an operation at his home Sunday for the removal of his eye. This was done that the vision of the other eye might be spared. Mr. Kerbs stated the operation went well and was resting as well as could be expected.

ON BURPERT COUNCIL

BURPERT.—Paul Zimmerman was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by resignation of O. F. Allen, at regular meeting of council Tuesday night. He is deputy county auditor and favorably known. His record in auditing financial records of the city was let to Frank Fox, $150 being the contract price.

What Is Woman's Part In Your Success?

Often the strongest impulse to SAVE comes from the woman of the household.

Every man should consider himself fortunate indeed when his wife or mother helps him to save money and to accumulate a nest-egg.

Folks who live the "thrifty way" usually achieve comfort and independence.

The formula for successful saving is a simple one; simply spend a little less than you earn.

President Harding once said: "Let us call to all people for thrift and economy, for denial and sacrifice if need be, for a nation-wide drive against extravagance and luxury, to a recommendation to simplicity of living, to that prudent and normal plan of life which is the health of the republic."

One of the best talks on saving was delivered by the Hon. Simon Bamberger of Utah when he said: "It is the dollar saved that provides shelter and comfort on rainy days; that is available for wise investment; that leads to financial success and independence. Saving is no more than intelligent spending. The man who saves is seldom out of a job. He is the man to whom comes the greatest opportunities."

And it was the Hon. John H. Bartlett of New Hampshire who gave equally sound advice in these words: "Nothing more conserves the peace of mind of the member of a home than the thought that they have at their ready command in a bank the ammunition to fight the sudden attacks of life."

Surely a man's best friend is his bank account. It gives him confidence to face the uncertain future. As it grows he gains courage—he feels himself climbing to the firm ground of financial independence and safety.

Remember that SERVICE is the very essence of banking. Your banker welcomes your account, no matter how modest it may be. And, too, your banker has a vast store of knowledge and sound advice at your disposal when you need it.

Call at this big, friendly bank and get acquainted.

HARDSHIPPING AS POSSESSING QUIET COURAGE

Dean West, of Princeton, Lauds President for His Position on Big Issues - Audience is Stirred

PRINCETON, N. J. (P.) - President Harding dedicated a monument to the achievements of George Washington in Princeton Friday and heard himself hailed as a man of "quiet courage" and "immense patience and self-possessing modesty" in his own policies toward current and controversial political issues.

The words came from Dean West, who used them in mention of the president's stand against the veterans' bonus and his votes for anti-railroad laws as a senator, as he recalled the reasons which induced Princeton university to give the president an honorary degree of doctor of law.

Breaks From Set Speech. Twice the stimulus of an instant audience caused President Harding to break away from prepared manuscript in speech-making.

When the Princeton student body, stirred evidently by the high praise and his votes for anti-railroad laws as a senator, as he recalled the reasons which induced Princeton university to give the president an honorary degree of doctor of law.

Possibilities Are Limited. "When I realize what has happened in that time, I dare not let the cup of gratitude to you. There are such limitless possibilities; we have seen such incomparable contributions to mankind's progress in our generation. We can't little imagine what time will bring."

President Harding's visit, historical references to George Washington's famous Jersey campaign against the British and Hessians, and military panegyrs supplied by troops in uniform, marked the day.

President Harding told the audience at Nassau hall, where the degree was granted, that the building itself was the barracks from which Washington's continental army drove British regulars in the Princeton battle.

The president dined with Dr. Hibben, after a reception tendered students and visitors. He left for Washington shortly after sundown. Speaker Gillette of the house and Senator Koenig and Freshphawer of the senate accompanied him all through the trip.

FALL FROM POWER POLE IS CAUSE OF BUBBLY FARMER BUREAU - Bent May's head 49 years, and one of his earliest settlers on the site, looked, project, passed away Sunday night, June 4, at midnight, at his home in the Claremont vicinity, death resulting from a broken back and other injuries received when he was struck by an electric line pole, 33 feet in air on which he was working last Thursday, June 3.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at Claremont, Rev. Zeigel of Paul in charge and interment was made in Pleasant Hill cemetery. Mr. Nelson is survived by a wife and five children. He was one of the highly respected farmers of this project, and had many friends here, who deeply sympathize with the bereaved family in their great loss.

"Would you give a weary wanderer a bite to eat, mom?" "I'll let you do me a favor."

LEGEND LIVES ON

Another Explanation of Lost Continent of Atlantis.

Students of History Are Coming to the Belief That There May Be Basis of Truth.

A story of the perhaps authentic continent of Atlantis has recently appeared from the pen of Scott Elliot, that submerged land in which legend is heightened by the fact that so little is really known about it. The present writer tells us that several colossal geologic catastrophes took place prior to the Christian era - some between 20,000 and 80,000 and of more recent, 9,654 years; after the drama of Calvary. At these several periods the form of the seas and continents was modified, water taking the place of land and vice versa.

The traditional geologic conforms to the last of these hypotheses, which is also the basis of the legend of the lost city of Za. It explains, moreover, the confused memories of certain ancient peoples relative to a large island lying beyond the Pillars of Hercules, our modern Gibraltar.

Plato, and others before him, spoke of the invasion of Greece by a people from a distant land. There were gold-colored temples in this land, wonderful orchards and forests, and its inhabitants dwelt in peace and prosperity under the scepter of Neptune's descendants. But, it was noticed, this people fell into evil ways, so that Jupiter rolled the ocean over them, and all perished.

This happening, ignored by us, barely punctuate the myths that enshroud the hundreds of centuries that have come and gone; yet it is none the less true that human kind recognizes the belief in these gigantic earth movements concerning which so many suppositions have been advanced. Dionysus of Sicily mentions the hypothesis of a violent disturbance of the earth's surface in the present through the straits of Gibraltar, overwhelmed Atlantis beyond.

In this all dream stuff? Is there no basis of truth in these strange legends? The world has attempted a landing in the face of Mr. Elliot's evidence? What became the wonderful tales of flourishing countries amid splendid cities forever covered by the waves?

It is easy to appreciate the attraction of the legend, the imagination of poets, the doubts of philosophers by the mystery of Atlantis. Plato made it the subject of a magnificent narrative, which, in turn, has supplied the plot of a beautiful present day poem by the Spaniard, Don Jacinto Veiguer. The French poet of "The New Atlantis" city of scientists, where everything that could produce human good, brought its focus and was prosecuted and brought to perfection.

It is possible that we shall never know anything definite concerning this dream country in which superstitious sailors still believe, bending over the rail on dark nights to catch the distant ringing of water muffled bells in the darkness, and to be answered. Ah, no! like enough we shall learn nothing more. No doubt that is why the story is so dear to us.

Have Crooked Spines. Miss Margaret McKnight, director of women at the University of Pennsylvania, declares that half of the 200 freshmen coeds at the institution have developed some sort of curvature of the spine from sitting and standing carelessly.

They are accustomed to carry their books in their right hand, she says. "They rest on the right foot when they sleep. That raises the right hip and raises the right shoulder and soon, without they counteract exercises, they have developed curvature."

Sitting with the right leg crossed over the left likewise tends to the same effect, according to Miss McKnight.

Sweet Things. Dr. George T. Harling, the president, discussed in his recent wedding trip certain aspects of Germany's position.

"When you console a German" by telling him that his depreciated exchange allows him to undersell his rivals," said Dr. Harling, "he feels I'm sure, like the young lady."

"That says it in the best thing," said this young lady to her companion.

"Well, never you mind what Jane says," the chum consoled her. "I'm sure, by your complexion, she's right, too."

HUNT FOR SECRET OF LIFE

Dream of Every Scientist, Although Always Regarded as a Widely Improbable Thing.

A hunt more exciting than any manhunt is going on at present in the laboratories of some of the most advanced of biological chemists - a hunt for the secret of life.

It is now seriously hoped by some of the more advanced scientists that the secret of the causation of life may be discovered - that it may be possible to find the formula which will open the door of the creation of new living things.

Some years ago a scientist described to the British association experiments which he believed would prove that new life had been created in a test-tube, but critics pointed out that there was some flaw in the process - that the spark of life has crept in unobserved and had not been created.

Efforts are now being made to arrive at the point of discovery along the road of chemistry - to discover the exact combination of oxygen, nitrogen, and so forth, that goes to make up the term of life.

One scientist is already said to have made "synthetic eggs" - that is, to have compounded substances which had the taste of eggs, and it is claimed that real hens' eggs in an infertile state - incapable of developing into chickens - will, if treated with lithium chloride, manifest the signs of life and undergo development for a few days.

These infertile eggs, fertilized with lithium chloride, have not yet produced chickens - after a few days the development stops - but hope is not abandoned that the secret of introducing effective life into an infertile egg by chemical means may be found.

The starting of life in frog's eggs has also been controlled, merely by picking holes in them, but here also the process stops after a few hours.

The idea of being able to create life is so "colossal" that some scientists and most thinking people regard it, and regard it as widely improbable.

The Blue and the Gray

HAVENS IS NEW HEAD ROTARY ASSOCIATION

Kannan City Man Chosen on Initial Ballot on Last Day of Convention

LOS ANGELES, (P.) - Raymond Havens of Kannan City, Mo., was chosen president of the international association of Rotary clubs at the final business session of the thirteenth annual convention of the organization, Friday afternoon.

The selection was made unanimously by the delegates after the election committee had announced the result. Mr. Havens' closest rivals were H. F. Litcher Stark of Orange, Texas, and William Cuppock of Council Bluffs, Iowa. Revealed figures showed Havens received 551 votes, Stark 291 and Cuppock 137.

Hard-Worked Cabinet Official. John W. Weeks breathes a very sigh of relief at the end of each week of his official life. Being secretary of war and frequently called upon to testify before some committee of congress is only part of his duties.

He is also chairman of the council of national defense, a member of the Smithsonian Institution, the Arlington memorial amphitheater commission; chairman of the commission on memorial to women of the Civil war, president of the national reservation commission, of the Great memorial commission, chairman of the Mendocino memorial commission, on the United States interdepartmental social hygiene board, member of the Rock creek and Polomac parkway commission and chairman of the federal water power commission. Aside from that he has nothing to do but try to beat President Harding playing golf - Washington Star.

HE'S KIDDING HIMSELF

A Twin Falls business man approached on the proposition of advertising his store in this paper the other day made the statement that advertising didn't pay, and that three-fourths of the money spent on advertising was wasted.

Efforts to find out how much money he spent on advertising every year, a number of which are worked in over time in the country every year, were futile, but it wasn't difficult to assure the non-advertiser that if he'd spend his money in newspaper advertising and give a little attention to the proper preparation of his copy, the money so spent would not be wasted but would return to him many times in increased sales.

"The same merchant, who asked what kind of a suit he had on, said it was a 'Kuppenheiner.' He was asked what brand of shoes he wore and immediately said that they were 'Florsheim' shoes. He stated without hesitation that his shirt was an 'Arrow' brand, and that he always wore a 'Stetson' hat.

Why does he wear those things and WHY was he able to tell the representative of this paper the names of the brands so readily? Simply because they've all advertised the length and breadth of the nation.

Articles on this merchant's clothes were examined and in almost every instance they were from manufacturing concerns who advertise their products constantly in every conceivable way.

The merchant said that his customers called for that article and that one, quite frequently. When asked why his customers wanted things made by certain companies, the merchant replied that he supposed they had used them before and found them to be worth the money. All of which is true, but it's a safe bet that the first time they tried an article they did so because they had read the manufacturer's descriptions of it in an advertisement and that after purchasing they found the article exactly as advertised and through truthful advertising became satisfied customers.

The clothes this merchant wore were made by companies which advertised and he knew the names of them because they were advertised; the car he drives and the tires on it are advertised several times a month in The News, and he admitted that he bought the machine because of the things he had read about it; the biggest seller in his store, the things his customers call for by name, are advertised by name, yet this merchant says he doesn't believe in advertising and that money so spent is wasted.

He's kidding himself at his own expense, and doesn't know it.

The Third corps area won the meet with 98 points; Norfolk naval base was second with 13; Philadelphia navy guard third with nine, and Fort Meyer, fourth with five.

FISHING GROUND DISPUTE IS DOWN TO BRASS TACKS

State Warden Says Thousand Springs Waters Closed Only in April and May; Sportsmen Here Attack Deputy Law

Complaint that has been especially vigorous on the part of Twin Falls fishermen on the state fish and game department's ruling with respect to the Thousand Springs fishing grounds, is the result of misunderstanding according to statement of J. W. Cunn, chief clerk of the state game warden's department, in a letter to C. A. Bailey of Twin Falls.

Deputy Held to Blame. Sportsmen here are of the opinion that a certain deputy game warden, one Law of Gooding, had a good deal to do with bringing about the situation complained of, and at a meeting here Thursday night of the Twin Falls Fish and Game association, adopted resolutions addressed to the state game warden referring in emphatic terms to this man Law and requesting his removal.

The state fish and game bureau in its letter to Halley, refers to an article published some days ago in a Boise paper with reference to streams closed by proclamation of the state fish and game warden, among which was included Thousand Springs.

Quoted Vital Factor. "The publication," the letter says, "did not take into consideration that Thousand Springs, although closed by proclamation, was for the months of April and May only, of each year, and that it has led to considerable misunderstanding."

This matter was called to our attention by Ernest White who was in formal personally of the error. At the same time we phoned "Pop" Fisher advising him that the stream was open for fishing from the month of June on any time with the exception of April and May of each year."

Under the provisions and by the authority of Section 2333 of the compiled statutes of the state of Idaho, that channel through which the Thousand Springs waters course, from its intersection with Snake river on the north and south, including the rapids between the outlet from the Thousand Springs power plant and the point at which these waters enter the main channels of Snake river, is hereby declared closed during the months of April and May of each year.

This order is issued by reason of the fact that the water of the Thousand Springs on the channel of that stream is used as a spawning bed and that this closing order, therefore, becomes necessary as a matter of conservation and protection to the spawn which would be destroyed annually were fishing in this channel permitted.

It is therefore unlawful to fish in any manner during the months of April and May at Thousand Springs, except in what is known as the main channel of Snake river; until this order is revoked and properly amended.

Ask for Free Zone.

In addition to the resolution relating to Deputy Law, the rod and gun men at their session adopted a resolution declaring in favor of the enactment of a law permitting fishermen to ply their arts in a zone 15 feet in depth around the power line of streams without incurring danger of prosecution for trespass. Another resolution requests the state game department to designate section 11, township 11, range 17, formerly known as the Twin Falls cooperative Orestor company's holdings, southwest of Twin Falls, as a permanent preserve for the protection of Hungarian partridges recently placed there through the Twin Falls association.

World Close Lake. With a view to protection and preservation of fish which use those waters as a spawning bed as late as June the association directed its secretary, E. H. Dooley, to request the state game warden to change the closed season on the Cedar creek reservoir at Bosworth from April and May to May and June. The state game warden also is to be requested to install a fish ladder at the low line siphon across Rock creek, to permit passage of fish to spawning beds in the upper waters.

Special feature—Luck, the magician, assisted by his assistants, Hildgay, March, "The Great Divide," Maurice. Waltz Concert, "The Kiss of Spring," Rolfe. Popular Melody introducing "Stealing," "Sweet Love," "Somebody," "Bright Eyes" and "Ten Little Fingers and Ten Little Toes." March, "Need's Fashion Plate," English.

Under the provisions and by the authority of Section 2333 of the compiled statutes of the state of Idaho, that channel through which the Thousand Springs waters course, from its intersection with Snake river on the north and south, including the rapids between the outlet from the Thousand Springs power plant and the point at which these waters enter the main channels of Snake river, is hereby declared closed during the months of April and May of each year.

WANT QUICK ACTION ON SMITH-McNARY MEASURE

WALLACE, Idaho, (AP)—Resolutions urging immediate enactment of the Smith-McNary reclamation bill, and asking co-operation of Republican Leader Mondell to that end, were among those passed at the closing session of the semi-annual meeting of the North Idaho chamber of commerce here Friday.

Greater protection of the timber industry and forests of North Idaho were urged, the use of airplanes for fire observation purposes being suggested. Commercial organizations were also urged to give aid and support to agriculture, as Idaho's basic industry. Recommendation was made that a book be prepared for distribution, detailing Idaho's industries and resources.

INCOMES NEVER WILL RECEED TO PRE-WAR LEVELS

President Harding in Speech at Trenton Declares Capital and Labor Must Both Relinquish Old Ideas

TRENTON, N. J., (AP) — Business is improving and wages, though readjusting, are never going down to pre-war levels, President Harding told an audience in Trenton from a train platform Friday night. The crowd shouted "atta boy" to his response.

His speech was made en route to Washington after two days in New Jersey, and he told his station visitors that he had visited spots where his story was made in forming the republic, and where education was training the youth of a new generation.

But at the industrial center of Trenton, he said, he was impressed with the even greater significance of the work and all it implies. There would be no advantage, he indicated, if founders of states and traders of youth did not have their efforts made effective by people in work-a-day life. Everything out of joint. "Everything has been thrown out of joint," he said. "Now we are trying to get back to normal. I believe that we are seeing a measurable degree of success in the effort. I am very glad to say to you that your government is interested in the good fortunes of business; interested because if there is no business there is no good fortune. No business good fortune depends upon the maintenance of fundamental principles in business activities. It depends upon the people engaged in business, not the capitalist alone, but the man who gives his brain for daily wage. "During the war, capital got used to unusual profits and labor became acquainted with unusual wages, which both have been reluctant to relinquish. There must be a readjustment but it must be a fair readjustment. We must say to capital that wages must not go back, and ought not to go back entirely to pre-war levels."

JURY SELECTED IN JONES TRIAL

Action to Collect State License Money Begun Against Former Game Warden

BOISE (Special to The News)—LeRoy C. Jones, Gooding, former United States marshal and previous to that state game warden under the Alexander administration, was Friday on trial in district court here in a civil action brought by the state of Idaho to collect $23,034.37. This is money the state alleges Jones failed to account for on account of licenses sold by his department. The jury was secured Friday afternoon.

Charles S. Moody, former Idaho adjutant general under the same administration, was exonerated in district court on a charge of presenting false claims for supplies against the state. He was directed to return to the state $60,736 excess salary allowed him by the state board of examiners.

RICKENBACKER IS AGAIN COMPELLED TO DESCEND

Trouble Caused by Lightning Storm of Preceding Day Necessitates Delay

OMAHA, (AP) — Captain Eddie Rickenbacker again encountered trouble in his around-the-country flight, which late Friday his airplane was forced down near Dexter, Iowa, 80 miles east of here, while he was flying on the Chicago to Omaha leg of his trip to the west. The plane was forced down in a power field two miles from Dexter when lightning trouble developed. Captain Rickenbacker, in a long-distance telephone conversation with a local motor car distributing company, declared that the mishap was directly attributable to that which occurred in Detroit Thursday when his plane was struck by lightning. Efforts to repair the machine and continue to Omaha were futile, according to Captain Rickenbacker, who said that he would resume his flight to Omaha until Saturday.

Mrs. Asher D. Wilson entertained the luncheon club Friday. A silver basket filled with bridal wreath and pink carnations formed the centerpiece for the table. Nut cups and place cards carried out a pastel color scheme, and green candles in gold candlesticks added to the beauty of the table. Covers were laid for twelve. Guests followed the luncheon, Mrs. Wilbur Hill winning the club favor.

Mrs. A. G. Shado of Churchill was the honored guest at a delightful 1 o'clock luncheon Friday, at the home of Mrs. C. A. McMaster on Third avenue west. The centerpiece for the table was a large crystal bowl of yellow roses. The afternoon was spent socially, and Mrs. R. D. Stover gave several instrumental numbers while Miss Georgia McMaster sang a number of vocal selections. Those present were Mrs. Shado and her little daughter, Mrs. H. A. Hickey, Mrs. William Baker, Mrs. E. L. Stover, Mrs. J. J. Denney, Mrs. F. L. Cogswell, Mrs. Lytle, Sr., Mrs. John Hardin, Mrs. D. R. Churchill, Mrs. Combs, the last three ladies from Kimberly and vicinity, Mrs. B. D. Stover, Mrs. C. A. McMaster and Miss Georgia McMaster.

The marriage of Miss Viola Skilman and Carl Edwards, was solemnized at the home of the bride at six-thirty o'clock Wednesday evening, June 8. The Rev. E. L. White of the Methodist church read the ceremony in the presence of the parents of the bride and groom and other relatives and friends. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Edwards will make their home on Jackson avenue. They are both graduates of the Twin Falls high school.

Mrs. McDonald was hostess to the Junior club on Thursday evening. The regular order of business was transacted and a program of vocal and instrumental music and readings was enjoyed. A social hour followed and dainty refreshments were served. The guests were Mrs. Wilkinson, Mrs. Dora Gentry, Miss Hazel Park, and Miss Crystal Gingrich. Fourteen members were in attendance. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Lantz.

Mrs. Harry Smith and Miss Emma Smith entertained the members of their family on Thursday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Smith's niece, Miss Bertha Norton. The guests honored her for the honored guest, and refreshments were served. Those present were Mrs. Mary V. Norton, Miss Norton, Mrs. T. J. Youngs, Mrs. James A. Walker, Miss Ruth Youngs, Mrs. Leo Chase and her mother, Mrs. Corbin.

Complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Peavoy on their seventeenth wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Ostrander were hosts at dinner last evening at their home on Maple avenue. The centerpiece for the table was a bowl of yellow roses, other decorations carrying out a color scheme of yellow. Those present beside the guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Booth, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Larned, and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Read. Mr. and Mrs. Peavoy were presented with a handsome silver sandwich plate by the hosts and guests.

The Altar Society of St. Edward's church met Thursday afternoon at the home of the pianist, Mrs. E. J. Koyser. After the transaction of business a delightful program was given consisting of two viola solos "Woeing," and "College Medley," by Dorothy Neely, accompanied by Miss Margaret Beuby; piano duet, "Hesperia" by Elizabeth and Agnes Strank; reading, "Jann," Miss Lola Bewley; piano solo, "Robin's Return," Miss Marjorie Knafel; vocal solo, "Hush-ten," Miss Lucille Wolfe, accompanied by Mrs. Fred Beckwith. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Frank Thomas, Sr., Mrs. M. A. Thumert, Mrs. Anna Taylor and Mrs. Frank Klaffner. This was the last meeting of the season.

The Presbyterian Missionary society met in the church parlors Thursday afternoon. Mrs. G. M. Hall presided at the business meeting. Mrs. Gillette led the devotions. The society voted to send 2 surgical aprons, 1 mattress cover, 2 blankets, 12 sheets and 500 surgical dressings to a mission hospital overseas. The meeting was closed with benediction by Mrs. M. F. Gambie. The subject for study was the Philippine Islands in charge of Mrs. G. J. Scott who told of the work done by the United States government there. Mrs. L. L. Brocknourigo talked on the people of the Islands. Mrs. O. H. Kregeloff gave an interesting paper on South America. Mrs. Zenas Smith sang a solo. A social hour followed and refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. L. L. Brocknourigo, Mrs. Thomas Fisher, Mrs. Charles Jones and Mrs. James Fitzgerald.

FINAL TRIBUTE PAID TO MEMORY OF A. M. FLORY

Funeral Services for Pioneer Twin Falls Citizen Largely Attended

Neighbors and friends joined with bereaved relatives in paying a final tribute to the memory of a pioneer citizen of Twin Falls at funeral services Friday afternoon at the Church of the Brethren for Abraham M. Flory, who died Wednesday at his home here at the age of 79 years. Accommodation at the church were inadequate for the number of people who gathered to attend the services, which were conducted by the Rev. Charles W. Rank. The casket was covered with a profusion of floral offerings. Pallbearers chosen from among intimate friends of the family were C. H. Hempelman, A. J. Marquis, J. W. Norris, I. F. Finney, E. A. Moon, C. H. Perry. Burial was in the Twin Falls cemetery.

Coming here in 1909, from Illinois, Mr. Flory became actively interested with his sons in a grocery business and erected the building in which it was conducted. The business now is owned by the Florys interests. Later Mr. Flory owned extensive orchard lands here which he operated until failing health caused his retirement from active work. The sketch of Mr. Flory's life read by the minister at the funeral service contained the following: Abraham M. Flory was born in Augusta county, Virginia, March 1, 1843, and died at his home in Twin Falls May 7, 1922, aged 79 years, two months and six days.

Active in Church Work

He was the eldest of a family of five children and had two brothers and three sisters. Mrs. Barbara Swink of North English, Iowa, and Mrs. Sarah Brower of Reedy, Calif., remain. He was married to Susan Miller, March 17, 1870. To this union were born four children: Anna May, who died at the age of two years; John S., pastor of the Church of the Brethren at Polo, Ill.; Henry D., who died at the age of 25 years; and Elmer N. of Twin Falls.

He united with the Church of the Brethren in 1870 and lived true to his faith until his death. He served the church faithfully as a deacon during the greater part of his life. His wife was a patient sufferer for 12 years, being almost helpless for the last three years of her life, but with it all he never murmured nor complained of his lot. In the last days of his life he repeated his oft expressed desire to move to his permanent abode in the summer of 1909, even under the hand of affliction, he never missed a service in this church for seven years. Those of his family, his relatives and friends of whom he leaves a large number, will remember him as an example of patience and Christian fortitude to the end.

Police Effect Release of Dog From Basement

A dog's unassisted efforts to escape from the basement of the Woodworth store last night attracted considerable attention and several calls were turned in to the police station before an employe of the store with a key to the building was located by the officers and the dog's release effected. The animal was owned by J. W. Britz, manager of the store, but its presence in the basement was unexplained so far as the police were concerned last night.

Clouds Bring Heavy Rain Along Foothills With Sprinkle Here

Cloudy weather promised by the state's official forecaster Friday developed into rain clouds which left a sprinkle at Twin Falls and immediately vicinity while along the range of hills to the south and at Hollister and Mustang, the precipitation was considerable. Temperature during the 24-hour period ending at 6 o'clock last evening was high at 77 degrees above zero and low at 48 above. The weatherman says that today will be fair and warmer.

BALL PLAYERS RESPOND TO CELEBRATORS' BID

Interesting Baseball Games Assured for Independence Day Here

Baseball teams of neighboring towns, in numbers sufficient to provide games for a three-day tournament, have responded to the invitation to participate in contests in connection with the Fourth of July celebration here, Novel B. Wight, secretary of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, said Friday. Not all of the teams which he represented can be accommodated, because the celebration will be of only one day's duration, although it will extend well into the night, and selection will be made of the teams whose appearance in contests here would culminate in well-developed rivalry and communal widest interest. Arrangements for a wild horse bucking contest in connection with the celebration are progressing satisfactorily, Mr. Wight said, as are arrangements for the event generally in the hands of the celebration committee.

Twin Falls Bank & Trust Company

TWIN FALLS, IDAHO
"Member of Federal Reserve System"

If all the printed matter used in Twin Falls county were purchased from Twin Falls county printing establishments, at least $2,500.00 a month would be distributed in wages over and above the amount now paid out.

Of course the time will never come when all printing used here will be produced here, principally for the reason that there are certain kinds of printing which require special machinery of a sort which could not be kept busy one day a week if all the printing of that particular kind in Southern Idaho were obtained.

This is the branch of the business known as the "specialty" lines. Always it must be purchased in the large eastern or western printing centers.

BUT many a local business man receives his local monthly statement or bill upon a printed form printed miles away from Idaho—many a blank of every-day use by public and private institutions was printed on either coast—many a letter written in Twin Falls extolling the virtues and advantages, business and otherwise, of Southern Idaho helped to pay printers' wages in Chicago or San Francisco instead of in Twin Falls.

And there isn't an ounce of advantage in it to the user anywhere along the line. It doesn't cost less, last longer or look better and it might just as well be printed at any one of half a dozen printing establishments in Twin Falls county.

PRINTED matter is not purchased more extensively at home because the average buyer never gives the matter of the actual printing a thought.

To be sure every man has the right to purchase his requirements in any market he sees fit to patronize and the only real argument in favor of home purchases is as to whether or not he can actually do as well here as elsewhere.

News printing is in competition with the world.

News printing asks no favors and no odds from anyone.

The quality of News work is comparable to that of any printing establishment in America.

And the price is never higher.

On this basis of understanding, and this basis alone, The News submits its claims to patronage.

TO BURY DUNN
HIS CHILDHOOD

Body of Baseball Magnate To Be Taken to Iowa Town Where He Played as a Bare-foot Boy

CHICAGO, (P) - The body of James C. Dunn, one time a country boy, who rose from an obscure position as a bank messenger to that of chief owner of the Cleveland American league baseball club and partner in one of the largest construction firms in the country, will be sent to Marshalltown, Iowa, his home town, Saturday night for burial Sunday afternoon. Accompanying the body of the baseball magnate, who died at his home here early Friday morning after a lingering illness induced by an attack of influenza last winter, will be three cars of admirers of the sportsman, headed by Dan Johnson, president of the American league and for many years an intimate friend of Mr. Dunn. The body Friday night lay in its casket, covered with flowers, dozens of wreaths being sent to the Chicago home. Mrs. Dunn, the widow, Friday received many telegrams and messages of condolence, all speaking in the most profane terms of the late Cleveland club owner. Mr. Dunn's life was typical of the self-made man. From his work in the Marshalltown bank, when 14 years old, he acquired the construction material business and later, after a short instruction, being the builder of the Cleveland ball team.

MOURNED IN CLEVELAND
CLEVELAND, (P) - All Cleveland baseball fans Friday night were mourning the death of James C. Dunn, president of the Cleveland American league baseball club, whose demise his disposition had won the appellation of "Sunny Jim." Mr. Dunn died in Chicago early Friday.

BOISE POLO CLUB TEAM WINS ITS THIRD GAME
Beats Elsworth Ostraly Team in Easy Style by Lopsided 15 to 4 Score

BOISE, (P) - Boise polo club's team won its third game of the Northwest polo tournament here Friday from the Elsworth cavalry team from the Monterey Peninsula, California, by a score of 15 to 4.

James is the six-year-old Los Angeles boy, who has fallen in love, as far as he knows how, with a little girl of the same age. Recently he gravely told his mother that he was going to get a job and marry Helen. His mother suggested that he should get the burden of matrimony too heavy for him, and added that in course of time a family might appear, to increase the household expenses. "Oh, no," replied the youngster, "the little Helen says she'll do it all for me, like that," and he stamped his little foot on the ground.

Experience Speaks.
Remarkably independent is an old man who lives in the Soldiers home, whose age is not less than ninety-one. For some years his family has been worried about his habit of traveling alone. When he last proposed to go to San Francisco to see some friends they urged him to let one of his relatives accompany him. But the old fighter would have none of her. "A man of my age," said he, "must be able to take care of himself without having a woman traveling around with him." - Los Angeles Times.

Hold Your Feet After Hitting

LESSONS IN BASEBALL, by J. B. Shneider

It is important that, having taken the proper step in towards the plate to hold and having hit, that the batter should "hold his feet," that is maintain the position of the feet until he starts his dash to first base.

Many batters who stop correctly to the plate have the habit of "falling away," that is losing the position of the feet and staggering back towards third base.

The action of running to first base after hitting the ball is almost instantaneous with hitting. But there is a slight pause that causes the batter should keep his feet in the position they held when he hit and not stagger or flop all over the box.

The importance of "holding the feet" is that any extra motion when hitting is bad for the eye, for the follow through and hence for the power of the batstroke.

When a batter hits the ball he must have his feet in the right position. He must keep them in that position if he is to get the value of his batstroke by following through.

If he goes forward through, he won't get a good follow-through, hence a great part of the value of his batstroke will be lost.

Many otherwise good hitters lose a lot of their power by losing their feet as they finish the swing. Spectators at baseball games will have at times noted that some hitters have taken a huge swing which spun them around once, or even twice in the batters box.

When a batter swings around he loses his feet. He loses his feet by "losing their feet," overawing, throwing their eyes out of focus and missed.

Losing your feet means, principally from swinging too hard. Do not swing too hard at the ball. Remember our preceding instructions on this point. The bat swing should be strong and powerful, have lots of body power behind it, but it never should be too hard or too desperate. It should be a sweep rather than a blow.

HOW BAKER "HOLDS HIS FEET"

Frank Baker, of the New York Americans, has hit the ball so hard that his body has been carried away around him. Like all good hitters, he keeps his feet in the places that they were in when he stepped in to hit the ball. Young players should note this splendid batting particularly the way in which Baker "holds his feet." Don't stagger or fall away from your position when you hit.

Remember when you find yourself "losing your feet," that you are in all probability hitting at the ball too hard.

Remember that by going back by the full power of the entire physical structure, from the spine to the feet, you will not need to hit too violently or too quickly.

J. B. Shneider

will until you get back? "Why, Harriet," and his arm went about her shoulder, and he bent his face over hers, "Harriet, why not let me go happy?" he pleaded.

"You'll see a dozen younger girls at the Bellamy camp," Harriet reassured him with what she thought would be laughably more suitable.

"Please!" he interrupted, patiently. And almost touching her warm, smooth cheek with his own, and coming so close that to raise her beautiful eyes was to find his only a few inches away, he added, fervently, "You love me and I love you - isn't that all that matters?"

Did she love him? Harriet hoped, when she reviewed it all in the restless, tossing hours of the night, that she had thought in that moment, that she did. It was wonderful to feel that strong, eager arm about her, there was a sweet and heady intoxication in his passion, even if it did not awaken an answering passion in return.

Under all the railing and counter-rending in the night there crept the knowledge that she had known that this was coming, had known that only a few days of encouraging friendliness, only a few appealing glances, from uplifted blue eyes, and a few casual touches of a smooth brown hand must bring this hour upon her. And back of this hour, and of a man's joy in winning the woman he loved, she had seen the hazy future of prosperity and beauty and ease, the gowns and cars and homes, the position of young Mrs. Ward Carter.

She had let him turn her face up, in the strengthening moonlight, and kiss her hungrily upon the lips, and she had sent him in to his dinner half-wild with the full power of the entire physical structure, from the spine to the feet, you will not need to hit too violently or too quickly.

CHAPTER VI.

A most opportune lull followed when Harriet fled and time to collect her thoughts, and get a true perspective upon the events of the past week. Nina was leaving for a visit to Anthony and the extremely dull and empty hours of Harriet's lonely life were four unmarried daughters constituted a chaperone against all criticism. Isabelle Carter was giving and attending the usual luncheons and dinners, her husband absorbed in an especially important business deal in the city. Harriet alternated nights in the city. The house was quiet, the domestic machinery running smoothly, the weather hot, sultry and enervating.

She dined as usual alone, that evening, and was surprised at about eight o'clock, to receive the demure notification from them that Mrs. Carter would like to see her. With hardly an instant's delay she went downstairs.

On the terrace outside the drawing room Harriet sat, and she saw the little Richard, looking tired and hot in rumpled white, Isabelle exquisite in silver lace, and young Anthony Pope. Near by, Madame Carter majestically negated some illustrated magazines.

"It was too hot, too hot - said Isabelle pathetically - to live!" Obligingly, Harriet took her place, out for the deal. But her eyes had not fallen upon the group before she sensed that something was wrong, and she had a moment's flutter of the heart for fear some eye suspected her, that she was under surveillance. Had Royal - had Ward -

She turned a card, took the deal, found Anthony Pope her partner, and entered into the game with spirit. Richard's first was almost surprising; if there was constraint here, she was not involved in it.

"No trump - says little Miss Field. Well, that doesn't seem to frighten me. Two spades."

"I think we might try three diamonds," said Harriet. "No," Anthony said, gravely and pleasantly, and Harriet felt herself acquitted of any apprehension in that direction as well. It only remained for Isabelle to show friendliness.

"Do not hand diamonds and perjure, you two," said she to Tony and Harriet. "Mrs. Carter, said thoughtfully, Harriet began thoroughly to enjoy herself. If they were all furious, at least it was not her. She speculated, as she watched in Richard did not enjoy the discovery of the ten-ten dinner? But Isabelle had often-been equally indiscreet, and he had never seemed to resent it before. Harriet knew that Isabelle was in at ease; she suspected that Tony was furious. The old lady was obviously quivering with bated interest and curiosity.

After three rubbers the game ended suddenly; Richard said he had some letters to write, and was keeping Isabelle waiting in the library. Anthony said he had a check, said brief and unfeeling good-nights; Isabelle merely raised passionate dark eyes to his. She was languidly gathering in her spoils when the lights of his car flashed yellow the drive home, he was gone.

Immediately afterward Richard Carter said good-night to his mother and wife, and went in to his study. Madame Carter followed him in, and went upstairs, but Isabelle sat on moodily slouching and rehashing the cards in the bright soft light of the terrace lamp.

"Wait a minute, Harriet," she said, briefly, and Harriet obediently lapsed. But Isabelle seemed to have nothing to say. Her eyes were on the cards, all the evening, and exposed in the low-cut silver gown, she and fell stormily, and Harriet said that she was hitting her full under lip, as if anger seethed strong within her.

"Come upstairs to my room; I want to speak to you," Isabelle said suddenly. Harriet followed her upstairs, and they entered the beautiful boudoir together. Here Isabelle dropped into a chair and stared dully ahead of her a queen of gravity.

"I'm covered, evidently more accurately than the mood that Harriet was. Like a flash the high-heeled shoes, the silver gown, and the brocade slaves were whisked away, and a cool, loose silk robe enveloped Isabelle, who sat in her accustomed chair by the window. The lights were lowered, Isabelle nodded Harriet to the opposite chair.

"I ask you," she said, with a great breath of anger restrained. "I ask you if any woman in the world could create the kind of a woman that you are doing at the Jays' tomorrow. There's to be tennis at about four."

"Flair's," he said, nodding, and went out to his car apparently well pleased with himself and his life. Harriet started for the Hawkins' with a philosophic reflection, or two, as to the ephemeral quality of married quarrels.

"Oh, I don't think that!" Harriet said, in honesty. "Mrs. Carter said in upon us, at dinner," she said, and suddenly burst out, "Harriet, my heart aches for that boy! My God - my God - what have I done to him!"

She rested her white full arms on the table, and she covered her face with her hands. Harriet saw the first silk of the dressing gown stir when her sudden cry sobbing.

"My God - if I could cry!" Isabelle said, turning. And Harriet realized, with a shock, that she was not acting. "Oh, Harriet, only see what I've done! I'm afraid, that it must stop. But I am afraid, it will kill him. He isn't like other men. He isn't a drawer, fumbled there. "Read that!" she said.

Harriet took the sheet of paper, pressed it open. "My heart," she read, in Tony Pope's handwriting. "I will go away from you if I must. But it will be further than India, Isabelle, further than Rio or Alaska. While we are alive, I must see you sometimes. Perhaps outside the world there, is a place big enough for me to forget you."

"Now -" said Isabelle, rising and beginning restlessly to walk the floor. "Now, what do you do? Send him away? By his death, or risk Mr. Carter's insulting him again, as he did tonight! Anthony Pope means it. Harriet - I know him well enough for that."

She fell silent. Germaine appeared with a tray, and began to loiter, and brush the dark hair, and Isabelle went automatically to the business of creaming and rubbing, still shaken, but every minute more mistress of herself. With the thick, dark switch comb Harriet was almost shocked by the change in the severely exposed forehead and face. Isabelle looked fully his age now, more than her age. "Wait," said the mistress, sober-eyed still, and with a still hearing breast. "There was something else. Harriet - Gently, please, Germaine, my head aches frightfully. Oh, Harriet, will you see what this Blondin man wants with Nina? She tells me he suggested some sort of summer party in his roof garden; I don't know quite what it is. But her heart is set on it. They seem to understand each other - I always felt that when Nina's affairs did begin, she would pick out people like this! Don't!" Germaine had gone to the bathroom for a hot towel, and Isabelle dropped her voice, almost affectionately - "Don't worry about this little scene. Harriet, it will be quite all right!"

"Oh, aren't!" The companion's voice was light and cheerful; she went upstairs only pleasantly excited and thrilled. And at the breakfast table next morning Harriet could show the head of the horse the same bright assurance. Richard had come down stairs early, and they had their coffee alone.

"Nina?" asked her father. "She comes back today," Harriet said. "Mrs. Carter is going to have her manasse, so she won't be down here. She's going to be at the Jays' tomorrow. There's to be tennis at about four."

"Flair's," he said, nodding, and went out to his car apparently well pleased with himself and his life. Harriet started for the Hawkins' with a philosophic reflection, or two, as to the ephemeral quality of married quarrels.

ALEXANDER'S PITCHING BEATS MCGRAW'S LEADERS

Nash, Giant Twirler, Yields Three Runs for Onbs in a Bad Inning

NEW YORK, (P) - Alexander's steady pitching in the places enabled Chicago to defeat New York Friday in the last game of the series. Nash had one bad inning, the sixth, when Chicago scored three runs after two were out.

Score: R. H. E.
Chicago 4 9 2
New York 3 11 1
-Batteries: Alexander and Hartnett; Nash, Shava and Snyder.

BREAK LOBING STRIKE

BROOKLYN, (P) - Brooklyn broke its losing streak Friday when Grimes lightened up after the first inning and beat Cincinnati. A sensational catch of Ward's wide throw by Schmandt, completing a double play, stopped the Reds in the ninth. Errors gave the Dodgers their two runs.

Score: R. H. E.
Cincinnati 1 7 4
Brooklyn 2 8 0
-Batteries: Couch, Gillespie and Wingo; Grimes and Miller.

Undeclared and vague, this was still somewhere in the background of her thoughts as she returned to Crownlands, and when she met Ward Carter, rathery disappreciable racing out into one of the clean, groveled spaces near the garage.

Harriet felt a little quickening of her pulses as she saw him. There was no mistaking the pleasure in his eyes as she came close.

"Spark plugs" she asked, with the sympathy of one to whom the peculiarities of the car were familiar. "She's fixed now; I've just cleaned 'em." Ward announced, flinging away his cigarette and straightening his back. "She'll go like a bird, now, Say, bet I and try her, will you?" he asked, eagerly. "Come on - come on, be a sport!" But perhaps he was as much surprised as delighted when she very simply stepped into the low front seat.

It was her, more than one silvery glance as they went dipping smoothly up and down the green lanes, and said to himself, "Gosh - when she crinkles those blue eyes of hers, and her mouth sort of twitches as if she wanted to laugh, she is a beauty - that's what she's got."

About a week later they met for a few moments in this very old garden. It was early evening, and twilight and moonlight were mingled over the silent rocks, and the trimmed turf, and the low brick walls.

It is a motion picture. Yet it is more than that. It is a living, thrilling scene. The husband, busy in the work of the world, hasn't time to entertain his wife. So she seeks her pleasure elsewhere. And what she does, almost causes chaos, yet is stopped in time.
Five days at Monte Carlo, where both run the gamut of every human emotion, and come in contact with the fading glimmers of Europe, teaches one wife to realize that her husband is a mighty good, clean sport after all and the only one to tie to.
It cost Universal more than one million dollars to preach this great sermon in a picture. It is too magnificent, too thrilling to describe. It simply MUST be seen.

WHEAT RESPONDS TO DEMANDS FOR EXPORT

Overhead Closing Falls to Hold Prices to Levels at Opening of Chicago Market

CHICAGO, (AP) - Wheat opened at a price Friday chiefly as a result of improved export demand. The finish, however, unsettled, was 1-8 to 1-8-1/2 cent higher, with July $1.15 to $1.15 1/8 and September $1.10 1/8 to 1-1/4. Corn closed 1-8 to 2 3/8 up, oats 2-8 to 1-2 off, and provisions unchanged to 6c advance.

It was announced that 300,000 bushels of wheat had been worked Friday for export and that wheat from 75,000 bushels of wheat had been cleared here, largely for shipment to Georgian Bay.

There was also gossip current that domestic millers were after supplies here. Scandinavian messages asserting that 30,000 bushels of new American wheat had been bought back from Europe and to be below an American party failed to weaken values.

Dearish sentiment resulting from the government crop report had only a transient influence on wheat traders. At the end of the session porting was responsible for clipping off of the gains.

A big bulge in the corn market was started by heavy commission houses buying based on an opinion from a leading authority that corn supplies were no longer a burden, and that every dearish factor had been exploited to the fullest extent.

Provisions held steady owing to corn market strength and good export call for meats.

PORTLAND, Ore., (AP) - Cattle market slow receipts 35.

OMAHA, Neb., (AP) - Hogs - Receipts 9,000; active; mostly 5 to 10c higher; bulk 180 to 240 pound butchers $10.30 to 10.40; top $10.45; bulk 230 to 255 pound butchers $10 to 10.30; packing grades $9 to 9.25.

CHICAGO, (AP) - Cattle - Receipts 5,000; active; generally steady on all classes; some gram bred cows and heifers weak to lower; part load beef steers $8.00; weight 1,284 pounds; light beef steers and yearlings in load lots $8.40; bulk beef steers $8.40 to 8.50; bulk fat sheep $5.75 to 7.40; bulk canners and cutters $3.25 to 4.25; bulk veal calves to packers around $1.11.

BOSTON, (AP) - The Commercial Bulletin Saturday will say: "While the market at the eastern seaboard has been only moderately active, it has nevertheless been moving steadily at firm prices also. The woolen mills are generally well occupied while the worsted manufacturers still find business rather slow."

While the foreign primary markets are a bit easier on topmaking machines...

while good combing wools are firm. Yorkshire reflects the same condition of affairs, tops being down a penny to 64 pence for September-October delivery."

Ohio and Pennsylvania floeces: De-laine unwashed 57 to 58c; fine unwashed 46 to 48c; half blood combing 50c; 3-8 blood combing 46 to 48c.

Wisconsin, Missouri and average New England had blood 44 to 45c; 3-8 blood 44 to 45c; 1-4 blood 41 to 42c.

Secured basis: Texas fine 12 months $1.30 to 1.35; fine 8 months $1.10 to 1.20.

New York Stocks - NEW YORK, (AP) - Stock market prices were again irregular on a very small turnover in the early stages of Friday's trading, but became decidedly heavy in the last half of the session when the weight of offerings effected numerous extreme reactions of 1 to 4 points.

Almost 40 per cent of the day's business was transacted in the last hour, the entire list then displaying general unsettlement. Net declines of 1 to 3 points were registered by such leaders as Baldwin, Glushko, Macdonald, Petroleum, New Haven and Reading.

There were no new phases in the general financial situation aside from the initial renewal rate of 3 per cent for call loans, that figure later being advanced to 3-3/4 per cent in private offerings.

Open rates for 30 and 60 day funds also showed concessions, but longer maturities remained firm.

Better earnings by utility companies were indicated by the resumption of a higher basis of dividends on Brooklyn Union Gas and general business in the middle and larger distribution of the more essential merchandising houses.

Rates on London were steady but virtually all the allied and neutral remittances eased 2 to 8 points, while banks at 34 1-2 were 3 1-2 points under last week's rally.

Grin Dream

The Horroseth people's is a revival of a title which had become extinct. There is a curious bit of family history connected with that Simon Horroseth who was created an earl by George III. His daughter, with him at Nuneham, was much disturbed by a dream one night in which she saw her father lying dead in the kitchen at four o'clock in the afternoon.

The following morning the earl went into the park. He was not seen again till a laborer was attracted by the barking of a dog to a well in the grounds. There the body of the dead earl was found, head downward, in the mud.

It is supposed he crevassed while receding his little dog, which had fallen into the well. The corpse was taken into the kitchen of the house where it was laid on the dresser, exactly at four o'clock in the afternoon. The story is often told at Nuneham, and seems to be well authenticated - Montreal Family Herald.

WATERWORKS DEBT CUT HEAVILY DURING YEAR

Surplus of $30,173.13 Clears Up Open Account and Reduces Warrant Debt

Bills payable by the Twin Falls waterworks department amounting to about $100,000 on May 1, 1921, have been paid off and leaving a surplus of $30,173.13 to be applied on reduction of indebtedness and sinking fund.

The commissioner's statement showed receipts of the waterworks department during the year amounting to $7,193.30, with operating expenses in the amount of $37,016.23, leaving a surplus of $30,173.13 to be applied on reduction of indebtedness and sinking fund.

MICKELWAIT COMPLETES THIRD YEAR AT COLLEGE

Twin Falls Student at Oregon School of Agriculture Specializes in Farm Economics

CORVALLIS, Ore.—(Special to The News)—Dean W. Mickelwait, son of Mrs. May I. Mickelwait, 252 Sixth avenue north, Twin Falls, has completed his third year's course of study in the school of agriculture. He is a member of the agricultural club, Kappa Theta Rho fraternity and the Junior class.

Mr. Mickelwait elected agricultural economics for his major subjects during his last two years of his four years' work in agriculture. The course is designed to give the student training for positions in state and federal bureaus of markets. It also lays a foundation for a business career as commission man, broker, jobber, wholesaler or exporter of farm products, county agent, farming and the like.

MARITAL BONDS LOOSED FOR THREE BY DECREES

Charges of Cruelty Prompt the Court to Sever Matrimonial Relationships

Decrees of divorce were granted on Friday by District Judge W. A. Babcock in the case of three applicants for release from marital bonds. Testimony was heard in a fourth case which was taken under advisement in none of the cases were the defendants present in court or represented by counsel.

Extreme cruelty was alleged in each of the three cases in which decrees were granted. They were the cases of Marian Rowberry against George W. Rowberry; Louise M. Puckey against Nelson O. Puckey; Carl W. Friedrichson against Ollie May Friedrichson. The case taken under advisement was that of Thomas Arnhart against Pearl May Arnhart.

RED CROSS WORK GUESTS' THEME

Divisional Officials Tell of the Peace Time Activities of Relief Organization

Various phases of peace-time activities of the Red Cross were discussed by Miss Mary Concanan, divisional director of Junior Red Cross, and Miss Grace Harrington, assistant divisional director of nursing, at luncheon Friday at the beginning of the fiscal year in May. Warrants were ordered drawn in payment of claims against the city...

Miss Concanan, who is a member of the faculty of the University of Southern California, discussed the work of the Junior Red Cross among pupils of the public schools. She told of different methods adopted by Junior Red Cross members to carry out the organization's object of service.

Miss Harrington, who is learned, had received a degree in law from the University in Russia, but she could not be persuaded to discuss her experiences in that country. She spoke in regard to the training and work of Red Cross nurses, and expressed the hope that provision might be made again soon for a Red Cross nurse in this county.

Miss Concanan and Miss Harrington are in Idaho, returning to San Francisco after attending the annual convention of the Red Cross. They were taken Friday afternoon by Mrs. C. E. Wright to see Shoshone falls and other points of interest here.
