

FIVE CANDIDATES ENTER RACE FOR SENATE IN TEXAS

Democratic Primary Scheduled for Saturday Center of Interest—Outcome Equivalent to Election

DALLAS, Texas, July 20, (AP)—The Democratic primary in Texas, which will decide many of the Democratic nominees, United States senator, congressmen and the state ticket, will be held Saturday, July 22. A second primary, August 20, is expected to determine the nominees in a few races. Nomination is considered equivalent to election. A majority is required for nomination in the first primary and wherever no candidate receives a majority, the two high candidates will enter the second primary.

In the first primary, United States senators are Senator Charles A. Culberson, incumbent, has five opponents, and in some counties possibly six. For a line James E. Ferguson, of Temple, Texas, former governor, and Mrs. Ferguson, his wife, both filed among the senatorial candidates, as did candidates against each other. Mrs. Ferguson is uncertain about the attitude of the Democratic state central committee towards her own candidacy, and had the committee decided her name should not go on the ballots Mrs. Ferguson's name would have gone on, and she would have had the support of her husband.

Applications Are Accepted

Both filed applications to have their names placed on the ballots, and the state committee accepted both applications. Mrs. Ferguson's name was accepted to withdraw, but the state committee accepted both applications. Mrs. Ferguson then sought to withdraw, but the state committee repudiated the name already had been certified to the county clerk. The state committee gave an opinion she could withdraw if she desired, and the matter was left to the discretion of the county committee, where Mrs. Ferguson's name would go on the ballot. It may appear in some counties.

Other candidates for the senatorial nomination are L. L. Henry, of Waco; Ernie B. Mayfield, Austin; Clarence O. Key, Fort Worth; and Cullen P. Thomas, Dallas.

Texas primary elections are held on Saturday, and the great distances make collection of returns slow. Saturday is said to have been designated election day as an outgrowth of the convention system. Primary elections were held on Saturday's it is said, to accommodate those living at distances from cities. Saturday was considered a day they could best attend the political meetings. So Saturday was selected as the most convenient election day.

ATKINSON INVITED TO JUDGE

DARTMOUTH AT CALIFORNIA FAIR
ANN ARBOR, Mich., July 20.—Professor F. W. Atkinson, head of the department of dairy husbandry in the college of agriculture at the University of Wisconsin, has received an invitation to judge Jersey and Guernsey cattle at the Southern California fair in September.

"Professor Atkinson's invitation is a great compliment," said Dean E. J. Judding of the college of agriculture. "The fair directors chose Mr. Atkinson at the request of the dairy breeders of California, and his selection places him in the forefront among the Jersey and Guernsey cattle experts of the Northwest."

ENGLISH WOMAN PASTOR IS POPULAR WITH BOTH SEXES

Changes in Marriage—Germany by Rev. George C. Gorman in Floating to Married Couples

LONDON, July 20, (AP)—English women are counting their American sisters in the scope of their occupations. Women legislators, lawyers, physicians and sculptors are fairly common in both countries. But now London comes along with a woman "marrying pastor." It is the Rev. George C. Gorman, a graduate of Oxford university, and joint pastor of one of the West End's fashionable churches. "Some women like to be married by Miss Gorman," she is not asked them to use the word "they," in fact tells them to avoid it. She requests the bride and the groom to present each other with a ring, separating the words: "As this ring now belongs to thy finger, so let me love surround thee all the days of thy life."

WOMEN OPPOSE DRESS REFORM

Police of Turkey May Be Called upon to Enforce Plan for Universal Costume

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 20, (AP)—The Ottoman government is attempting to persuade the women of Constantinople to adopt a standard form of dress, and the women of the city seem no more inclined to wear a uniform than would their sisters of London, Portland, New York, and elsewhere. The committee to do in London is thinking of calling upon the police for help in carrying out its plan. "Where are the women who would consent to have imposed upon them an antique and strange costume found only in museums?" is one of the questions hurled at the "reformers." "Where is the woman who would recommend such a costume to another? Can a Turkish woman of old world staidness dress like a modern heroine of a romantic novel? National fastidiousness is an excellent thing, but only within limits." The committee, in answer to these and sundry other attacks, has announced that it is not a committee to put over its project, the application of which will be placed in the hands of the municipal police.

ALASKA AVIATOR IS SAFE

Glenn G. Post Lost Between Dawson and Fairbanks, Located Near Fortym City

DAWSON CITY, N. Y., July 20, (AP)—Glenn G. Post, Nevada aviator on route from Buffalo, N. Y., to Nome, Alaska, and Siberia, and who was feared lost in the wilderness between here and Nome, has been located near Nigger Head flat, on Sawtooth Mt. river, 75 miles from Dawson, according to word received here today. Post's airplane was landed there Sunday on account of engine trouble. Post's airplane descended in the midst of a herd of caribou. The aviator killed one of the animals, thus supplying himself with food. He was found today by a party headed by Marshall Dunderberg on the trail 45 miles from Eagle, Alaska. The plane was partially wrecked when it landed, and according to Post cannot be used from his present location. The aviator will proceed by steamer to Fairbanks.

AIRPLANE FLIGHT HAS GOOD EFFECT

Relations Between Portugal and Brazil Never So Friendly as at Present

LIBBON, July 20, (AP)—The dining card of Portuguese aviators in the flight from Libbon to Rio de Janeiro, says the Record in an editorial article, has created a bond of union and amity between Portugal and Brazil and has ushered in the psychological moment to improve existing political relations. "Under the monetary treaty signed on the day of accomplishment, the paper continues, the king was about to visit Brazil, but his assassination prevented the aviators at that time were most opportune. The old question between England and Brazil of the island of Trinidad had been settled by arbitration and Portugal's course had won the sympathy of Brazil. Today the two countries are uniting in their acclaim of the Hortizian flight, and the moment should be seized to reach mutually agreeable settlement of outstanding problems. The Record summarizes as follows: Nationalized and direct navigation, the establishment of radio communication, the making of a line of port of distribution to Europe for Brazilian products and a treaty of commerce. In conclusion the paper points out that Brazil has a greater population than any Portuguese colony, and exports both Portuguese and Brazilian to grant this opportunity and the aviators of the same race to set together in full understanding and to their mutual advantage.

NORTH POLE TRIP DELAYED BY FLOE

Amundsen's Airplane Flight to Await Breaking Up of Ice in Pacific Waters

SEATTLE, July 20, (AP)—Unfavorable ice conditions in the Bering Sea have delayed the arrival of Captain Roald Amundsen's exploration ship Maud at Point Barrow, Alaska, and delayed the start of his projected airplane flight to the North Pole to Fairbanks, or Grant's land, according to advices received here from several sources today. Captain Amundsen, when he left Nome, Alaska, for Point Barrow June 29, expected he would be able to begin his polar flight today. His wireless position reports from the Maud, received in this country as late as July 18, fixed the ship's position in latitude 66 degrees, six minutes north and longitude 102 degrees, 42 minutes east, or somewhere in the neighborhood of Good Hope bay, Kotzebue Sound. This is hundreds of miles from Point Barrow and only a few hundred miles from Nome. The fact that the Maud reported the same position July 15, led friends of the explorer here to the belief that the ship was lying to in the Good Hope bay anchorage waiting for more favorable conditions in Bering Sea and the Arctic ocean. Some advices were to the effect that the break-up of ice in the northern waters was later this season than for many years in the past, and that heavy floe ice was hampering the movement of vessels north of Cape Prince of Wales. No fear was felt here for the safety of the Maud as a wireless message received by a friend of the explorer several days ago reported "All's well."

GERMANY INVENTS PLAN TO TAX FOREIGN RESIDENTS

Renters of Rooms for Period of Less than Six Months Must Share Government Expense

BERLIN, July 20, (AP)—The Prussian government has drafted a bill for the legalization of taxation, in all communities of over 1000 inhabitants, on all persons who rent rooms for a season of a period under six months. The tax amounts to 40 per cent where the lodging charge is more than 600 marks. In the case of persons who have not resided in Prussia previous to January, 1921, the tax is 200 per cent. While the proposed assessment is ostensibly applicable to all persons including Germans, the stipulated five-fold assessment indicates a universal lodging impost fundamentally aimed at foreigners. Officials explain that local communities participate to a very limited extent in the nation's taxation proceeds. Hence they are obliged to look around for fresh sources of revenue, and the lodging house tax affords one of the easiest ways for communities to increase their income.

KERENSKY WILL GIVE NEW FACTS IN NEAR FUTURE

Former President of Russian Republic Promises Interesting Revelations in Forthcoming Memoirs

LONDON, July 20, (AP)—Startling revelations respecting the destruction and death of former Emperor Nicholas are promised by Alexander Kerensky, one time president of the Russian republic, who has been quietly writing his memoirs in a London flat. Kerensky's plan was to spirit the emperor out of Russia to a neutral European country or to the United States, but this he contends, was frustrated by Great Britain. The book of the former Russian dictator will begin with the inception of the war and cover the final collapse of the empire. It will explain not only the cause of the Romanoff overthrow, but the failure of Kerensky's own government. The writer declares that if the allies had been willing to let Russia remain passive for a period, they could have kept her as a valuable ally. The book will point out that the entente insisted on Russia displaying energy on the front while in the throes of a revolution at home. His own overthrow Kerensky attributes to simultaneous pressure from the two extreme parties, the royalists on the right and the bolshewiki on the left, aided by the hostility of the army.

UNION LABOR IS FACTOR IN CHINA

Organization of Guilds and Crafts Including Lowest Workers Proceeding

HONG KONG, July 20, (AP)—The lowly Chinese wage-earner, perhaps the most abject of all the world's toilers, is just beginning to organize. He is able to wield through the medium of organization, and like a great flood the movement to form various trade guilds is sweeping the country. It was hardly more than a year ago that China witnessed its first important strike. Since then the larger cities have experienced walkouts in almost all classes of work with the result that business is demoralized, transportation is so uncertain that merchants refuse to ship, and in many cases the public health is menaced through strikes of street sweepers and waterworks employees. At the present time in Canton the carpenters, industrial school teachers, butchers, street sweepers and city employees are on strike, while the seamen and launchmen, who but recently returned to work, are on the verge of another walkout. The city of Macao is in the thick of a general strike which is almost a state of siege. The casualties to date have been 40 killed and nearly 200 injured. The situation in this city is similar to that in Canton, although here even the beggars and slaves have formed unions which they are using for political purposes. The sanitary condition in Foochow, the purely Chinese section of Hong Kong, is said to be deplorable, as the street sweepers, garbage collectors and water carriers are out to a man. The seamen's strike here has had a tremendous effect all over the Far East, as it has given the laborers confidence in their new guilds and stimulated their desire for better living conditions. The seamen have been so successful in forcing their demands that they now talk of going into the shipping business for themselves. The men are being asked to subscribe $5 each, and judging from the eagerness with which they are responding, the backers

ONE DOLLAR SAVED REPRESENTS TEN DOLLARS EARNED

The average man does not save to exceed ten per cent of his earnings. He must spend nine dollars in living expenses for every dollar saved. That being the case he cannot be too careful about unnecessary expense. Very often a few cents properly invested like buying seeds for his garden, will save several dollars only later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Cough and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs but a few cents, and a bottle of it in the house often saves a doctor's bill of several dollars.—adv.

LOCALS TO PLAY HANSEN

Real Game Promised When Teams Clash—Hansen is Confident

That the game scheduled with Hansen Sunday is drawing marked attention is evidenced by the large crowd of fans that are going out to Lincoln field each evening to watch the local celebrities work.

Manager Alworth saw the handwriting on the wall at Kimberly last Sunday, and to avoid a repetition has had the boys out every evening this week. There isn't a doubt but what there is plenty of material for a fast team here, and the only way that it can be brought out is to practice. The old adage, "practice makes perfect," still holds good.

The game at Kimberly last Sunday, although won by the locals, did not show the team at its true strength, and only by hard work will the locals be able to bring home the bacon from Hansen this coming Sunday.

Hansen Has Good Team.

Hansen has a crackjack of a team, and is in perfect condition, having played every Sunday since the season started, and each game and shows them with better teamwork. Walton, their star hitter, was an interested spectator at the Kimberly-Twin Falls game, and there isn't a doubt but that he saw a few things that he will use against the Twin Falls team when he faces the Sunday.

In all probability, "Lefty" Oliver will start things off for the locals, with Don Chiverton seery. Zander will don the mask for Twin Falls, with Patton doing the same for Hansen.

The game will start at 3 sharp and don't forget that the road is paved from Twin to Hansen.

YANKEES BEAT TIGERS

NEW YORK, July 20, (AP)—After losing eight straight games to Detroit, the New York Yankees today reversed the score of yesterday and defeated the Tigers, 6 to 1.

Score: R. H. E.
 Cleveland..... 8 12 0
 New York..... 6 9 0

Batteries: Oldham, Ebanke and Woodall; Manion; Mays and Schang.

ATHLETICS BEAT OUT—PHILADELPHIA, July 20, (AP)—Van Glider held Philadelphia to five hits today and the Athletics won the second game of the series. Four double plays in the first seven innings kept the Athletics from reaching second, only 21 men being in the lead of the time. Score: R. H. E.
 St. Louis..... 2 6 0
 Philadelphia..... 5 9 0

Batteries: Van Glider and Seay; Bommel and Bragg.

WHITE SOX LOSE CLOSE ONE—BOSTON, July 20, (AP)—Dugan's single with two out in the last of the ninth, following E. Collins' error on Smith and Harris' sacrifice gave Boston a victory over Chicago today. Hooper's lead throw to third let in one Boston run. Sherry's home run was a long drive over the left field fence in the seventh. Score: R. H. E.
 Boston..... 3 9 0
 Chicago..... 2 9 0

Batteries: Falber, Hodge and Schalk; Pennock and Walters.

ASKS REJECTION OF FORD OFFER

Senate Urged to Turn Down Detroit Man and Go Ahead on Government Capital

WASHINGTON, July 20. (AP)—Rejection of Henry Ford's offer for the Muscle Shoals and enactment of legislation for development of the war-built projects in Alabama by a government-owned and government-controlled corporation, was recommended to the senate today by Chairman Norris of the senate agriculture committee.

His views were set forth in a voluminous report, differing portions of which were supported by various members of the committee. Senator Page, Vermont; McNary, Oregon; Keyes, New Hampshire; Gooding, Idaho; Norbeck, South Dakota; Harrell, Oklahoma; and McKinley, Illinois, reported in favor of the Ford offer. Senator Norris and Kendrick, Democrat, Wyoming, the report stated, favored rejection of the Ford offer along with Chairman Norris, Senators McNary, Norbeck, McKinley and Gooding. It was added, concurred with the chairman in the recommendation for government development along the lines detailed in the pending Norris bill.

Wants Limit Set

Senator Kendrick declared in the senate after submission of the report, "I would be glad to vote to approve the offer of Henry Ford, but I would not vote to give the Ford offer precedence for a hundred years and Senator Kendrick said he favored the fifty year maximum provided for such leases in the federal waterpower act.

The report criticized the Ford offer sharply, describing it as "the most unscrupulous real estate speculation since Adam and Eve lost title to the garden of Eden," and inquiring "why a war hero died to the capital at Washington is not included in this great trust for government property, to this wonderful corporation."

ing a placard, sympathizing with the strike of the Emporia Hotel. He was sitting in a window in a window with no terrors for Wm. Allen White tonight.

"I'm taking down the sign. It is going to stay there in my window," he said to a friend.

Mr. White said he had been informed by the editor of the Emporia Hotel of both himself and the governor that Governor H. J. Allen was going to sanction the proposal to place him under arrest.

Mr. White could not be seen personally tonight. A business associate said that "he has not been feeling very well lately" and he was spending the evening at home.

PLAN NEXT STEP IN COAL STRIKE

President Favorable to Appointment of Commission when Events Justify

WASHINGTON, July 20. (AP)—Appointment of a commission to go into the coal mining situation, notwithstanding the refusal of mine workers and of a minority of operators to accept such arbitration, will be made "in due time," it was announced by the White House tonight when telegraphic correspondence between President Harding and Governor Spradley of Pennsylvania was published.

Governor Spradley telegraphed he hoped the president was merely withholding appointment of a commission until it could be determined whether satisfactory arbitration would result under the program which has been adopted by the administration.

"If this does not occur within a reasonable time," the governor's message said, "I respectfully urge the prompt creation of your commission, either as originally proposed or in modified form."

Replying, President Harding said: "Your telegram relating to appointment of coal commission, notwithstanding the refusal of a minority of mine operators to accept such an arbitration, is received."

Matters in Suspension

"Matters are temporarily in suspension because when arbitration was denied there was but one consistent thing to do as I see it, and that was to invite production. You may expect the selection of a commission, because American welfare will not permit this matter to remain in a state of uncertainty for any reason, the supply of such a necessary life and thereby jeopardize American life and health and happiness."

"Moreover, there was a third party to submit its case to the commission—the great American public. The primary object was the prompt and just settlement of this dispute. The broader purpose was a searching inquiry into the coal industry, to learn all the causes of dispute and find a way to avoid them in the future. It may be desirable to modify the form of the commission as originally proposed, because it was first designed to meet most promptly the situation then existing. I wished a settlement at the conference table where all could be heard and all be represented on the commission.

To Come in Due Time

"It has seemed to me that time to appraise the situation, the opportunity to measure the unopposed fairness of the proposal and sense the obligations involved, and a period in which to resume production, would either avoid drastic steps or force one hand or clearly justify them on the other. The commission will come in due time. There is no authority above all workers and operators and that authority—the American public—must have an agency of effective expression."

CLOSE FINISHES IN ORDER

Four Events on Grand Circuit Characterized by Fine Reliance

KALAMAZOO, Mich., July 20. (AP)—Close finishes in which the winners of the four events were crowded all the way and forced to go the limit in order to annex each heat was the feature of today's Grand Circuit racing bill.

An average time of 2:00.50 was marked in the 12 heats race.

The big upset of the day was in the 2:07 1/2, when Main Lick, the favorite, came off with the three heats with Pop George, Peter June leading King Watta was second in the first mile, but was obliged to give way to Miss Ellen Todd in the remaining heats.

After winning the first mile of the $1000 Columbia hotel purse for 2:18 trotters with the Laurel Hall, Walter Cox was obliged to drop out of the contest of lameness after which Tommy Murphy drove Princess Etawah to victory in straight heats.

At the close of the afternoon-winchup in the 2:12 pace when Abbeek, the favorite, traveled the second heat in 2:04 1/2. The Thomas entry took the race in straight heats with King Bigger and Robert M., taking turns at hurrying the winner along down the stretch.

Lee Tild and Noble Argot were once again favorites in the 2:10 trot. The latter traveled true to expectations by taking two of three heats.

Mrs. Mollie Malloy, Not at First Inclined to Admit Superiority of French Champion

NEW YORK, July 20. (AP)—Unconvinced that she is not a better tennis player than Miss Louisa, who defeated her recently at Wimbledon, Mrs. Mollie Malloy, American champion, came home today, vowing that she will go back to England next year "if I am alive" in the hope of again meeting the French star.

Mrs. Malloy admitted she was "in a hurry" when newspaper men questioned her as she came up the bay. She at first declined to make a statement, declaring she had been "misquoted" to effect "I am afraid to open my mouth." Finally she authorized the quotation: "The better player won."

She denied everything that has been published, about her reported to have been exchanged between herself and Miss Louisa after the match, denouncing these reports as "lies, lies, lies."

Hard on Newspapers

"The newspapers are the vilest and dirtiest things in America and if they don't let me alone they will drive me out of tennis and back to Norway," she exclaimed.

At the solicitation of Dean Malloy, American player who accompanied her, she withdrew her characterization of the American press. Mrs. Malloy said she could be quoted as saying that Miss Louisa is the most marvelous woman tennis player in the world. Clapping her hands in prayerful attitude she said she swore it on the Bible. "Is that what you want me to say?" Malloy pleaded with the interviewers to "remember that Mrs. Malloy is a woman and hot tempered."

DETROIT PLAYERS BEATEN

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 20. (AP)—Fritz Bastian and Ralph H. Burdick, Indiananapolis, national clay tennis champions, defeated Tommy and Clark Franks, Columbus, were today's winners in the first round of play in the latercity doubles tennis tournament for the championship of the United States.

The smashing attack of the Indianapolis duo was too much for Walter Westbrook and Theodore Lightner, Detroit, who were defeated in straight sets, 6-1, 6-0, 9-7.

The Bello-Pacific.

"E. G. Wells is known in Europe as a bello-pacific, and truly his recent peace articles have stirred up a lot of bitterness and strife."

The speaker was Stephen Lausanna, the French publicist. He went on: "Wells reminds me of the canorous individual who was about to be married. When he came to the church on the wedding morning he warned the minister beforehand that he didn't want any fuss."

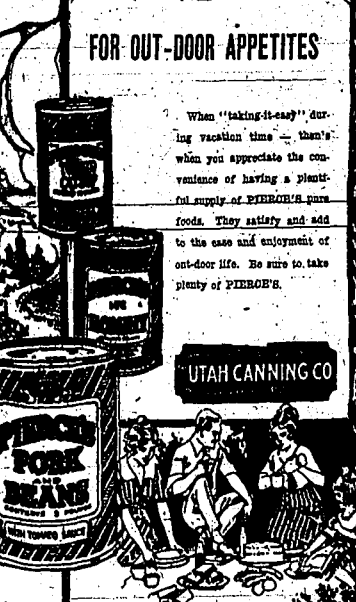

He consented, however, to station himself in due form at the flower-decked altar; but as the minister proceeded with the ritual he got more and more impatient. Finally, when he was asked if he Henry did take the woman home, to be his lawful wedded wife and so on, he gave a moor, before the question was half through, and then turned to the congregation and said in a loud, jeering voice:

"Well, I guess I came here with that intention."

FINE TRIBUTES PAID BY EDITORS TO SERVICE MEN

Address of Hanford MacNider, Commander of American Legion, Feature of Day's Session of Convention

MRS. OGDEN, Mont., July 20 (AP)—The second day of the National Editorial association convention was featured by talks made by Hanford MacNider, national commander of the American Legion, and C. F. Kelley, president of the Associated Copper Mining Company.

He said the Legion in one day was instrumental in placing 200,000 men in jobs where other men had been unable to do the work.

Mr. Kelley spoke on the state of Montana from an industrial standpoint. Before launching into the main part of his address he paid a glowing tribute to the state.

Mr. Kelley told the visitors that the settlement of the cement quarries in Montana was not to be a class struggle but that the settlement was to be made by the growing population of the state.

Col. V. B. Crowley, chief forester of the United States, delivered the main address of the morning. He told the delegates that the per capita consumption of paper in the United States was 140 pounds, over twice as much as that of any other nation.

They are more than buildings. The work of a man, a man can understand; but those are the words of success. Nothing is marked, nothing is clear, nothing is individual nor thrust forward as artistic; they are serene, matter-of-factly, impersonal, like works of nature.

Republican gubernatorial nomination in Nebraska awaits official canvass

OMAHA, July 20 (AP)—Political observers watching progress of the vote in Tuesday's primary in the race for the republican gubernatorial nomination between Adam McCullum of Beatrice and Charles H. Randall of Beatrice tonight expressed the opinion that there was no doubt it will take the official vote with mail votes permitted under the absent voters' law to decide the outcome, so narrow was the margin separating the contestants.

These political students estimated the mailed votes would total 14,000, which they thought would be sufficient to swing victory to one or the other, as with 1,857 of the state's 1,913 precincts reported the difference between their vote was less than 100, the total being: McCullum 47,400 and Randall 47,347.

WILD WEST IN TWIN FALLS

If a man be bitten by a dog on the streets of Twin Falls and he happens to have a gun in his pocket it is a question if he is very much to blame if he shoots the dog. If the shooter doesn't happen to be a policeman he probably would be amenable to the law on two counts, namely, for discharging firearms within the city limits and for carrying concealed weapons—and there are people who would figure that the satisfaction gained from the killing would be almost worth the amount of the fine.

But the vicious part of the incident of the killing of the Snook dog lies not so much in the animal's killing but in the method employed. Possibly it was all right to shoot the dog, although even that is open to question, but if Policeman W. H. Oheen then attached a chain to the animal's neck and dragged it, wounded but still living, through the alleys of Twin Falls at the back of a motorcycle to a point selected by him for the completion of the killing, the said W. H. Oheen hasn't any business in the job which he holds, Commissioner Roberts and Chief of Police Cress to the contrary notwithstanding.

Twin Falls is not a Wild West town where policemen pull guns and shoot down barking dogs in the streets. There are better and more humane ways. According to Police Magistrate Kennedy Packard no orders were issued for the killing of this or any other dog, with or without license tags, and the discharge of firearms in the residence district in the presence of women and children who might easily be hit by a bullet glancing from the paving no matter how familiar the snuff with the gun may be with firearms, constitutes a community outrage which the city cannot afford to condone.

CHAUTAUQUA

It is to be regretted that with Chautauqua less than two weeks away, there is apparently, so little interest in the event. From outside towns comes news of light attendance, general apathy and in some cases, guarantors being called upon to make up the deficit between the ticket sales and the guarantee.

Under ordinary conditions the appeal of the Chautauqua, properly advertised, operated and managed, is just as great as it has ever been. Most of the members are good and all in all the entertainment fills a real need in the quiet days of summer.

But as long as the guarantee system in its present form obtains one does not have to go far to find the reason for the lack of interest in the Chautauqua. The profit to the Chautauqua owners is assured whether people attend or not. If the tickets are sold, well and good. If they are not, and the performers play to empty benches through the entire season, it makes not one penny's worth of difference to the men whose business it is to "sell" Chautauqua.

No adequate provision is made in the contract for advertising, and for years now, the amount of money spent for this vital necessity in these parts has been steadily cut down until, during the present season, the advertising actually does is but a drop in the bucket compared to the amount which should be done if the Chautauqua is to be put over successfully.

But as before stated it makes no difference to the Chautauqua. The profit to the managers was assured when the contract was signed up. A Chautauqua cannot succeed without advertising, any more than any other amusement or educational enterprise can succeed, and until this is provided for there is going to be a feeling of general apathy with respect to

OUR LAMENTED WAR LOANS

"Business is picking up," according to reports from all sections of the country, none of which refers to the receipt of principal or interest on Europe's war loans to this country.

Events emphasize the sound business sense of President Harding and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon in opposing passage by congress of a soldiers' honor bill which depends upon repayment of the billions lent by the United States to her allies in the war to pay H. J. Jules V. Parmentier, France's envoy to confer with the war debt refunding commission, has arrived in Washington. Parmentier, it is indicated, will present his finely engrossed, presidential, review France's financial condition at length, and conclude by telling the commission his government can pay nothing now, leaving it to the commission to suggest a solution of the debt problem.

It is becoming increasingly doubtful if the United States will receive payment of interest even on its war loans to Europe for years to come, with the possible exception of partial payment of interest from Great Britain. Administration leaders who have held to a financial program that did not anticipate such payments have followed a wise course—and the only logical one—under the circumstances.

Erskine Dale, Pioneer By John Fox, Jr. Illustrated by R. H. Livingston Copyright by Charles Scribner's Sons

Dressed as an Indian, Erskine rode forth next morning with a wampum belt and a talk for the council north where the British were to meet Shawnee, Inoupa and Algonquin, and urge them to enter the great war that was just breaking forth. There was open and angry protest against sending so young a lad on so great a mission, but the old chief haughtily brushed it aside: "He is young but his feet are swift, his arms are strong, his heart good, and his head is bold. He speaks the tongue of the paleface. Besides, he is my son."

"One question—the boy asked as he made ready: "The white woman must not be buried while I am gone?"

"No," promised the old chief. And so White Arrow fared forth. Four days he rode through the north woods, and on the fifth he strode through the streets of a town that was well filled with great forest trees: a town at which he had spent three winters when the game was scarce and the tribe had moved north for good. He lodged with no chief, but slept in the streets of a town that was well filled with great forest trees: a town at which he had spent three winters when the game was scarce and the tribe had moved north for good. He lodged with no chief, but slept in the streets of a town that was well filled with great forest trees: a town at which he had spent three winters when the game was scarce and the tribe had moved north for good.

"I am no royalist," he said. "Nor am I," said Erskine. "I came because Kaitoo, who seemed high to death, begged me to come. I am only a messenger and I shall speak his talk; but my heart is with the Americans and I shall fight with them." The old priest put his fingers to his lips: "Silence!—It is not wise. Are you not Kaitoo's son?"

Erskine hesitated. Earlier that morning he had seen three officers riding in. Following was a youth not in uniform, though he carried a sword. On the contrary, he was dressed like an English dandy, and then he found himself face to face with Dane Grey. With no sign of recognition the boy had met his eyes separately and passed on.

"There is but one man who does know me and he did not recognize me. His name is Dane Grey. I am wondering what he is doing here. Can you find out for me and let me know?" The old priest nodded and Erskine slipped back to the woods. At sunrise the great council began. On his way Erskine met Grey, who apparently was leaving with a band of traders for Detroit. Again Erskine met his eyes and this time Grey smiled.

"Aren't you White Arrow?" Some how the tone with which he spoke the name was an insult.

"Yes."

"That's true. We heard that you had left your friends at the fort and become an Indian again."

"So you are not only going to fight with the Indians against the whites, but with the British against America?"

"What I am going to do is no business of yours," Erskine said quietly, "but I hope we shall not be on the same side. We may meet again."

Grey's face was already red with drink and it turned purple with anger.

"When you tried to stab me do you remember what I said?" Erskine nodded contentedly.

"Well, I repeat it. Whatever the side, I'll fight you anywhere at any time and in any way you please."

"Why not now?"

"This is not the time for private quarrels and you know it."

Erskine bowed slightly—an act that came oddly from an Indian head-dress.

"I can wait—and I shall not forget. The day will come."

The old priest touched Erskine's shoulder as the angry youth rode away.

"I cannot make it out," he said. "He claims to represent an English fur company. His talk is British, but he told me many things which he was drunk—he could have a commission in the American army."

The council fire was built, the flames crackled and the smoke rolled upward and swept through the leafless trees. Three British agents sat on blankets and around them the chiefs were ranged. All day the powwow lasted. Each agent spoke and the burden of his talk varied very little.

The American palefaces had driven the Indian over the great wall. They were killing his deer, buffalo and elk, robbing him of his land and pushing him ever backward. They were many and they would become more. The British were the Indian's friends—the Americans were his enemies and there; could they choose to fight with their enemies rather than with their friends? Each chief answered in turn, and each cast forward his wampum until only Erskine, who had sat silent, remained, and Pontiac himself turned to him.

"What says the son of Kaitoo?" Even as he rose, the lad saw creeping to the outer ring his enemy Crooked Lightning, but he appeared not to see. The whites looked surprised when his boyish figure stood straight, and they were amazed when he addressed the traders in French, the agents in English, and spoke to the feathered chiefs in their own tongue. He cast the ball forward.

"That is Kaitoo's talk, but this is mine."

Which driven the Indian from the great water to the great wall? The British. Who were the Americans until now? British. Why were the Americans fighting now? Because the British, their kinemen, would not give them their rights. If the British could drive the Indian to the great wall, would they not go on doing what they now do? If the Indians must fight, why fight with the British to beat the Americans, and then have to beat the British? If the British would not treat their own kinemen fairly, why likely they would treat the Indian fairly? They had never done so yet. Would it not be better for the Indian to make the white man on his own land a friend rather than the white man who lived more than a moon away across the big sea? Only one gesture the lad made. He lifted his hand high and paused. Crooked Lightning had sprung to his feet with a hoarse cry. Already the white men had grown uneasy, for the chiefs had turned to the boy with startled interest at his first sentence and they could not know what he was saying. But they looked—relieved—when Crooked Lightning rose, for his was the only face in the assembly that was hostile to the boy. With a gesture Pontiac bade Crooked Lightning speak.

The tongue of White Arrow is forked. I have heard him say he would fight with the Long Knives against the British and he would fight with them even against his own tribe. One grant of rage ran the round of three circles and yet Pontiac stopped Crooked Lightning and turned to the lad, saying the boy's uplifted hand came down.

It would be better through the head-dress of a chief in the outer ring and sped away through the village. Some started on foot after him, some rushed to their ponies, and some sent arrows and bullets after him. At the edge of the village the boy gave a loud, clear call and then another ran. Something black sprang smothering from the edge of the woods with pointed ears and searching eyes. Another call came and like the swirling edge of a hurricane-driven thunder-cloud fire fell around after his master. The boy ran to meet him, caught one hand in his mane before he stopped, swung himself up, and in a half of arrows and bullets swept out of sight.

Chicago Grain Market.

CHICAGO, July 20, (AP)—Big export buying, together with diminished prospect of a wheat strike, gave an upward slant today to prices for wheat. The market closed firm, 1-2 to 1-4 cent higher, with September wheat at 1.12 1/2 to 1.13 1/2, and October at 1.14 to 1.15 1/2. Corn finished at unchanged figures to 1-4c gain, 1-4c off to a shade advance, and provisions showing a rise of 1/2c to 3/4c.

Export buying of wheat was estimated as reaching fully 5,000,000 bushels, although it was after midday before signs of any annual purchasing for wheat developed. Earlier the bulls had their eyes chiefly on the strike situation as a motive for higher prices. In 1921, however, significance attached to the strike was confined to the southwest complaining of inability to get cars to move wheat that had been sold by farmers.

Some transportation of European demand for wheat was in some quarters attributed to increasing concern abroad as to the strikes interfering with the shipping of wheat from Italy and France were said to be the principal foreign buyers. Some removal of talk about black rust danger was noted, but tendency of the market was an opinion that the crop had become too far advanced to be much hurt.

Provisions were again in good request for export. Trade in oats lacked volume. Flour was firm in line with logs and as a result of improved export inquiry.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK, July 20, (AP)—The stock market was today a fairly active session, but developed irregular tendencies later on renewed selling of prominent specialties, including the notes.

Traders for the long account showed of greater caution as a result of the considerable amount of coal at the descriptions were well supported, although strikes, although shares of coal.

Offerings of automobile issues were attended by rumors dealing with the financial status of several of the prominent companies, but general conditions in the motor trade were declared to be favorable.

Washington advices intimating that the federal trade commission is likely to announce formal approval of the Republic-Midvale-Idaho merger stimulated further buying of secondary steel and United States Steel established a new quotation for the current movement.

Changes among equipments, copers, textiles, rubbers and chemicals ranged from one to two points at best. The most marked change was in cotton, which was up 1/2c to 3/4c. The market for the first hour, when Fire-Arrow preferred and Studebaker led the reaction.

From its extreme rise of six points to a level 21 points above the recent low, Mexican Petroleum fell back, but making a net gain of 1 1/2 points. Republic Iron was the only stock of its particular type to retain much of its advance in the reversal, and was up 1/2c. Sales amounted to 725,000 shares.

The money market followed the course of the preceding day until the final hour when call loans rose from 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 per cent, and three months time was offered at 8 3/4 per cent and some of the longer maturities were negotiated at four per cent, but with an increased demand for commercial paper.

Part of yesterday's setback in the leading foreign exchanges was recovered today, but the market was improved 3/4 to 1 point and the German mark also rallied. Austrian re-mittances were at low ebb during the morning but rallied later. The Greek rate was perceptibly better and strength was shown by Dutch and Scandinavian quotations.

They Never Did.

My most embarrassing moment occurred while dramatizing a Christmas play. I had the part of the mother of a large family proceeding at the scene. Christmas day. It fell to me to carry the goods. Having rehearsed this part, I was unprepared on difficulty. So I started bravely on to the breast. Gently and slowly it slipped out of my grasp. I tried again with the same effect. As the litter from the audience increased, I became slightly confused.

At this opportune moment the father, sitting opposite, uttered his next lines, which were: "Did you ever see such a goose?"

With that the audience began to roar, and I gave it up in ignominious defeat.—Exchange.

HITCH APPEARS IN SCHEME FOR NEW PIPE LINE

County Commissioners Take Time to Study City's Proposition on Water Main on Addison West

Members of the board of county commissioners and of the Twin Falls city administration agreed, after a survey of the situation Thursday, that a new pipe line is needed to carry water along Addison avenue west to serve the county general hospital and other consumers in the north end of the city. Reference to opinion seems to have developed as to the portion of the expense involved, if any, that ought to be borne by the county.

Salaman on Hand

A representative of a cast iron pipe concern was here Thursday ready to close a contract for the material required for the water main. The contractor declined to commit themselves without further consideration of the expense involved.

Former Arrangement Unrecorded

The city's proposition is said to be based on the arrangement under which the main that is to be replaced was laid. No record of this arrangement is to be found but it is said that the county paid for the pipe laid from the city limits and in return was to receive water free for the county hospital.

In the first place, it is said, other consumers notably the city, who pay for service to the city receive water through the pipe installed by the county, and again it is pointed out that the county does not receive water free for the hospital but is paying for it at a rate said to be 50 per cent higher than the rate charged to consumers within the city limits.

It has been suggested that consumers outside the city limits served through this main should divide with the city the cost of the water through the city limits, although this suggestion, admittedly, leaves the way open for many problems and perplexities in the future.

Lower Pressure Gives Relief

The main in question is one that has made the waterworks department a great deal of trouble for several months. The pipe is of the wood stave type and although the ground has settled around the wire bands that hold the staves together. Several breaks have occurred in the past two weeks. A measure of temporary relief seems to have been found by reducing the pressure of the water through this main.

Indications Thursday favored purchase of cast iron pipe for the water main.

Commissioner of streets and public improvements, said that he had not made enough investigation to recommend that the city be inclined to consider use of a wood stave pipe for the replacement as yet, other than a temporary expedient.

BUYLEY BANK SOLVENT WHEN DOORS WERE SHUT

Attorney Tells How Dismissal of Charge Against Officials Was Won

Charges of receiving money for deposit after they knew the bank to be insolvent, preferred against D. B. Langlois and M. A. Ross, formerly vice president and cashier respectively of the Commercial State bank at Burley, were dismissed at a preliminary examination at Burley Wednesday when attorneys for the bank appeared. The bank, actually was solvent when it closed its doors some months ago, according to statements of Frank L. Stephan, one of the attorneys for Ross, who returned Thursday.

Evidence introduced by the defense showed, Mr. Stephan said, that the bank was not insolvent at the time it was closed by its officers and directors to the state commission, in an effort to protect the legal depositors when it became known that the bank was actually insolvent. The bank, however, was not insolvent when it closed its doors. Mr. Stephan said that the bank was held before Probate Judge E. M. Wright at Burley, occupied ten days.

No other charges have been brought against Ross in connection with the bank case, but Langlois will be brought before the court to answer to a charge of issuing a letter containing information which is alleged to be false.

Associated with Mr. Stephan as attorney in defense of Ross was C. W. Turner, who also acted as counsel for Langlois. The action was prosecuted by T. M. Morris, Casita county attorney.

WATER RIGHT TRANSFER IS AIRED BEFORE COURT

Rock Creek Water Users Object to Proposed Application of Water to Other Lands

Trial in the case of George Crockett and others against Henry Jones and W. H. Turner, involving an attempt by the latter to transfer to other lands a right to water from Rock creek to lands five miles higher on that stream, was held before Judge W. A. Babcock in district court here. Decision in the case was taken under advisement.

The case was brought in district court on appeal from the ruling of the state engineer. F. T. Lewis appeared as counsel for the proposed transfer. Turner is the present owner of the water right in controversy and the other lands which he seeks to transfer it to.

The right from Jones who filed upon it in 1892. The plaintiffs are landowners and water users of the Rock creek region.

E. M. Walters and J. F. Martin appeared as attorneys for the plaintiffs, Thomas J. Lewis appeared as counsel for the defendants.

SETTLING BASIN GIVEN SCOURING DURING NIGHT

Crew of 12 Workmen Remove Accumulation of Mud Collected in Three Months

A crew of 12 workmen under the supervision of J. T. Kivlausk, street and water department, and the operators of the filtration plant, at 7 o'clock Thursday evening began work on the settling basin which has been filled with mud and debris since last March. Using rakes and working a stream of water on the bed of the basin, the men succeeded in clearing the basin of a heavy coating of silt that had collected on the floor through drain-pipes, while others scraped the mud from the walls. When this was done the whole inside surface was to be disinfected. It was expected that the basin would be completed by about Friday morning. The second settling basin is scheduled to undergo a similar treatment Monday night, and the third basin to be completed by the fourth Thursday night will be applied again that night.

PRISONER GETS BRIEF LIBERTY

Court Upholds Technical Objection and Perkins Visits Restaurant and Barber

Fred Perkins, Roseworth project-artist who is accused of threatening to kill P. C. Meredith, probate and general manager of the Idaho Farm Development company, was given a few hours Thursday when Judge O. P. Duval in probate court sustained a motion offered by Perkins' attorney to dismiss the complaint on technical grounds.

Perkins, who has been a prisoner in the county jail in default of bail since Saturday, employed his brief period of freedom to patronize a restaurant and barber shop downtown, and then was placed under arrest by Deputy Sheriff H. S. Hamilton on a warrant issued after a new complaint designed to meet the technical objection had been placed on file.

Perkins will be brought before the court Monday for hearing on the new complaint.

Perkins' attorney Thursday based his motion for dismissal on grounds that deposition of witnesses had not been taken before the warrant of arrest was issued.

At the hearing Meredith will ask that Perkins be placed under peace bond.

INQUIRIES TO PRECEDE OFFICER'S PROSECUTION

County Attorney Will Interrogate Witnesses Before Proceeding in Case

Criminal proceedings against W. H. O'Brien, Twin Falls traffic policeman, whose method of killing an Albatross dog owned by Dr. E. F. Snook Tuesday have occasioned general discussion here, will not be instituted by the prosecuting attorney's office until after inquiries to the incident have been interrogated, prosecuting attorney Frank L. Stephan said Thursday evening.

A complaint charging O'Brien with cruelty to animals involving penalty upon conviction of $500 or imprisonment for not more than 10 years, or both, was issued Thursday at the instance of E. J. Hornbush, Twin Falls attorney. Mrs. Snook advised that the dog, a bulldog named Albatross, was killed by a shot fired from the dog ran out at him as he was passing on a motorcycle, and that the dog, after being wounded, bit him in the leg. Hate and Husbands.

People are making investigations as to which class of men make the best husbands. I suppose it all depends on what you call a “good” husband, whether you want one free from vice, and quiet about the house, or the other sort. Personally, I've got a decided longing toward a millionaire, but it's like choosing a new hat—whichever one you have, you'll always wish you had the other—London Opinion.

E., is not entitled to exemption from payment of 1921 taxes levied against its dues and building raising completion laws, according to statement made by Mrs. Emmet Longley, Warren county treasurer and tax collector, in an answer filed Thursday in the suit instituted some weeks ago by the lodge. Bulimous and Constipation

“For years I was troubled with biliousness and constipation, which made life miserable for me. My appetite failed me. I lost my usual force and vitality. Peppin preparations and cathartics only made matters worse. I do not know where I should have been today had I not tried Chamberlain's Tablets. The tablets relieve the ill feeling at once, strengthen the digestive functions, helping the system to do its work naturally.” writes Mrs. Rosa Potts, Birmingham, Ala.—adv.
