PLAN TO MAKE THERAPY TESTS MORE EXTENSIVE

Rear Admiral Braisted, Retired, Will Expand Scope of Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 2 (AP)—The creation of a national institute of experimental therapy, to have relatively the same scope as the Rockefeller institute in pathology or the Mayo clinics in surgery, is the plan of Rear Admiral William G. Braisted, retired, for the expansion of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science of which he is president.

The college soon is to leave its present site in North Tenth street for newer and more commodious quarters in West Philadelphia. A plot has been acquired in this section of the city and work on the new college edifice will begin within the year.

According to Admiral Braisted's plan therapeutics would be placed on the same basis of systematic research and coordination as those of the two other branches of medical science.

While the institute would be meant primarily for students of pharmacy, it would be composed of many buildings and laboratories for a host of demonstrators—physicians, chemists, pharmacologists, bacteriologists, serologists, and other scientists.

At present, it was explained, the bulk of pharmaceutical research in this country is made in the laboratories of large drug and chemical companies. While some valuable contributions to medical science have been made by these laboratories, the research work necessarily has been done largely on a commercial basis, and many experiments are said to have been abandoned when their commercial value became doubtful. Also the inevitable competitive spirit makes for a needless multiplication of formulae, thereby making more difficult the problem of drug standardization.

The institute proposed by Admiral Braisted would, to a great extent, remedy this condition.

A Good Suggestion.

"When I write a story," said the struggling young author, "I make out a list of magazines to send it to, and I usually get mighty close to the end before I sell it." "If that's the case," returned the practical man, "why in the world don't you begin at the other end of the list?"—Horton Transcript.

LONDON SHIVERS FROM FEAR OF AIR BOMBING

English Press in Speculation as to what Enemies Could Do to Little Isle

LONDON, Aug. 2 (AP)—London is still thinking of what might happen to it in case enemy airplanes again ever flew over the city, and the picture is not a pleasant one. The executive committee of the parliamentary air committee has sent a letter to the prime minister in which, after referring to what was accomplished by air fighters in the European war, it proceeds to draw an appalling picture of the next air war. The letter says:

"The bombs dropped on London during the last war averaged less than 100 pounds in weight. Bombs or torpedoes are now carried of 4,000 pounds weight, containing a mass of high explosives. The effect of a dozen bombs of this character dropped on London can readily be conceived. There is not merely a possibility, but a great probability that in the event of war this country would be razed, and London and other towns destroyed by aqueous or even jets of airplasma, traveling at 150 miles an hour, at a height of 20,000 feet, silent as an aircraft, and certainly not to be destroyed by any means now available."

The committee prophesies that all great wars in the future will begin with terrific battles in the air, and says that if the country suffers a real defeat in the first battle, the victor will in a few days destroy her airports, her railways, her munition factories, and her capital by intensive bombardment from the air. It considers that at present England is not in a position successfully to combat an air attack, and that the government should appoint a strong commission to investigate.

WHITE COLLAR JOBS ARE HELD BY GIRLS

21 Paso Women Crowd Men From Office Work in All the Industries

EL PASO, Texas, Aug. 2 (AP)—"White collar jobs" are becoming "cerise de chine positions" since girls have entered the field of industry on a large scale, in the opinion of J. E. Gilkey, head of the El Paso business college.

Many office positions formerly held by men are now being given to women, according to Mr. Gilkey.

Ten years ago there were five office jobs in the city where there are now one for a woman, he says. Now it is the other way, according to Mr. Gilkey, and employers cannot find enough women to fill vacancies.

"Some local business men now designate women office workers as the 'third sex' as women who since 1917 have been doing men's work."

DEAN IDDIGES IS ON TOUR OF SOUTH IDAHO

Farm Bureau Work to be Inspected and Help Extended by Visits and Meetings

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, MOSCOW, Aug. 2.—Dean E. J. Iddings of the college of agriculture, is on an extended tour over the state inspecting experimental work, visiting county agents and attending farm bureau and grange pleins at different points. In company with Prof. G. B. McDole, soil technologist, the dean will first inspect the experimental work being done on the post boys in the northern part of the state under the supervision of Mr. McDeale.

From there Dean Iddings will go to the southern section of the state. On Aug. 3 he will speak at the annual farm bureau picnic of Fremont county at St. Anthony. He will be present at a field day held at Pelt on the fourth where the farmers will inspect the work of the experiment station on the adaptations of varieties of crops for high altitudes and short seasons.

He will spend a day with D. L. Fourt, county agricultural agent of Teton county. The farm bureau work was just begun in Teton county in the early part of July and Mr. Fourt, who is completing his university course this summer, is very anxious for the dean to look over the situation and confer with the stockgrowers and farmers. While in the south section the dean will also attend a series of important grange pleins arranged by W. W. Dool state master of the Ponoma grange. Dean Iddings will speak at the pleins. The Ponoma grange pleins that have been arranged are: Nampa, Aug. 9; Kagerman, Aug. 10; Richfield, Aug. 11, and Halley, Aug. 12. These pleins are a vital factor in the grange work and have taken an important place in the yearly program. Nampa expects an attendance of from 2500 to 3000 persons there this month.

TORACO MONOPOLY YIELDS MILLIONS TO GOVERNMENT

ROME, Aug. 2 (AP)—During the fiscal year ended June 30, the tobacco monopoly in Italy gave the state two and one-half billion lire, or about 125,000,000. During the same period the post, telegraph and telephone services showed a deficit of 425,000,000. The telephone service is badly in need of new equipment, that is, use today being very much out of date. New installations will call for heavy expenditures. The reason for the deficit in the public services is found to be in the greatly increased wages demanded by the personnel, who were described the other day as being in a "permanent state of agitation for higher pay."

BOY CRAP SHOOTERS TO ATTEND SUNDAY SCHOOL

Texas Magistrate Sentences Youths Caught in Raid to Sabbath Observance

EL PASO, Texas, Aug. 2 (AP)—Severed El Paso boys, arrested recently by policemen who discovered them playing dice in an alley, must attend Sunday school at least once for every time they have gambled, according to a ruling made in justice court by Police Magistrate Charles E. Pollock.

"Young men at your age need the refining influence such as that of your home or church," the judge told the boys in urging them to give up the practice. "Now, by regular attendance at Sunday school in the future you can counteract the influence of your gambling in the past. Attend at least once for every time you have played. "Gambling, as shown by your own case, tends to produce stupidity," the judge asserted. The youths are all between 16 and 19 years old.

New Machine Reproduces Human Voice as it Photographs Acts for Movie Screens

URBANA, Ill., Aug. 2 (AP)—Professor Joseph T. Tykociner of the University of Illinois, after ten years' work, has patented a machine which not only photographs the usual moving pictures as seen on the screen, but at the same time records on the same film photographs of the human voice...

With the patenting of this machine, the university has obtained the second of its patents on apparatus fundamental in the art of taking motion pictures. Six months ago that institution announced another of its staff, Professor Jakob Kutz, had perfected a selenium cell which, unlike its predecessors, it was stated, did not show any fatigue through use.

The apparatus which is working for the university takes moving pictures simultaneously with the photographing of the speech of the acting person...

PRESBYTERIANS PLAN TEMPLE IN WASHINGTON

Structure to Provide Auditorium and Offices for Divers Religious Organizations

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Plans for the erection in Washington of a great Presbyterian temple, or, as an alternative, a large Presbyterian building to house an auditorium and offices for other religious uses, have been announced by the Presbytery of Washington City.

The vision of a great Presbyterian cathedral was first conceived by the late John M. Horan, justice of the United States Supreme court, and it was said to have been the disappointment of his life that he was unable to bring the plan to fruition.

As furthered by a committee of Washington patriots, the plan includes a building to be erected at a cost approximating $10,000,000, to be contributed by members of the Presbyterian church (North) of all parts of the country, as a gift to the capital city.

RECALLS STORY OF EARLY DAYS IN TWIN FALLS

Boise Newspaper. Man Describes Twin Falls Tract and Its Magic Growth From Sagebrush

(By J. N. FLOYD) From the Oregon border line on the west to Utah on the east there is not an agricultural section in Idaho, where the crop conditions are as good as famous as well kept up as in the Twin Falls district.

While there will be exceptional crops throughout Idaho this year, when the hay is stacked, the grain harvested, the potatoes dug and the sugar beets harvested, the Twin Falls county will add another year to its record as the greatest producing territory of the state. Not only does the Twin Falls tract enjoy this distinction, but its fame goes even farther; for government statistics show that in grain and hay there is not another like area in the United States which will produce as much per acre.

A Talked-of County. Sixteen years ago Twin Falls was only a talked-of territory. Work had been in progress several years to reclaim the great sage brush tract of the southeast. It was being advanced in the east and people of Boise and vicinity were making few large real-estate investments and the values that would come from irrigation.

The Ferris hotel had then a small structure, one or two dusty streets formed the business district and occasional stakes could be seen above the dust marking the proposed route. Travel through the country in any direction was difficult. Attempts had been made in cutting a few roads through the sage brush and many cart-roads were driven out to sea land returned dusty, tired and discouraged and left for their homes. But men of vision saw the possibilities and laid plans to attend the land openings.

Recalls Old Pioneers. "Cyclone Bob" McCollum and Major Fred B. Reed were the most popular men in the Twin Falls territory in those days. People who wanted to know things; people who wanted information sought them; and those who wanted to be "put next" to their possible townsfolk singled them out and held them in high esteem. These gentle, far-sighted pioneers of the Twin Falls district pointed the way to prosperity.

In 1906, when one of the land drawings was held here, the present beautiful city of the Snake had all the appearance of a new mining camp. There were signs of things to come, but the men and women who were here to make a "big camp" were still sleeping in chairs. One or two half-timbered houses were scattered about. One of those had procured a big canvas and stretched it over the roof to keep out the rain and the other was a small one that had been used for sleeping. Men slept in these on cots and on the floor.

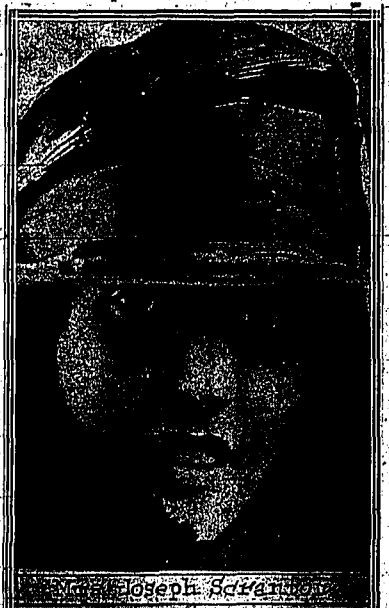

Drawing in Downpour. After several days the drawing was held and on the evening of the 20th, 200 men and women lined in front of the drawing pavilion. They were in line, at a clock in the morning in line, at a clock in the afternoon in line, at a clock in the evening in line, at a clock in the morning in line, at a clock in the afternoon in line, at a clock in the evening in line.

Farms Well Kept. There is not a section of the state where the farms are so well kept up. Here they are places of beauty. The homes are attractive, the barns, lawns, front most every farm house, flowers are grown in profusion; the fences are models of perfection, and the ditches comparatively clean and free from weeds. These attractions as well as the wonderful crops are calling attention to Twin Falls. People seeking a new locality are here a big territory more than many places of 20,000 or 25,000 in the east, surrounded by the best land and a farming community which helps progress prosperously. Today the Twin Falls section is in a better position than any part of the state and the finest territory of settlers who are now looking over the west. They may go through Twin Falls to the coast and even into California, but they often return to stay in the tourist camping grounds along the line it is not uncommon to hear tourists say: "The Twin Falls section of Idaho is the finest territory I have seen anywhere on my trip."

Buildings Are Modern. In its buildings, Twin Falls has kept pace with the rapid improvement of the surrounding country. There are no better schoolhouses to be found in the state than the Twin Falls high school and the Washington school, the latter being the last ward in school architecture. The Twin Falls courthouse, post office building, Lincoln school and the isolation hospital, the Methodist and Presbyterian churches are models in architecture and none which would do credit to much larger city.

Another point in which Twin Falls excels is that of a city of homes. They are many of the "bungalow" type, attractively designed, are kept up, the

HELLO GIRLS IN RIGA SPEAK MANY LANGUAGES Polyglot Population of New Baltic State Leads to Complication of Tongues

RIGA, Aug. 2, (AP)—There have been so many delegations of French officials and business men in Riga this summer that the French language is becoming popular, adding another tongue to the three others—Latvian, Russian, and German—already recognized in the new Baltic state.

Because of the polyglot population of the country, Latvian money has the wording in Latvian, Russian and German. The telephone "hello" girls all speak these languages and some of them also English, French and Italian. Many of the Latvian government officials speak English and French. At the postoffice and at many other government bureaus the public notices are in the three official languages and this summer, with the inauguration of the aerial post, French has appeared on the Oregon trail, and again in 1910, as a young man 40 years ago when he was prompted by necessity and love of adventure to cross the continent over the Oregon trail, and again in 1910, at the age of 80 years, when he retraced his course in an effort to perpetuate the history of the early migrations and to suitably mark the course of the now-famous Oregon trail.

Mr. Meeker, who is now on his way to Washington in the interests of legislative recognition of the Old Oregon Trail, told the Belgians of his former residence—the site of Twin Falls, first as a young man 40 years ago when he was prompted by necessity and love of adventure to cross the continent over the Oregon trail, and again in 1910, at the age of 80 years, when he retraced his course in an effort to perpetuate the history of the early migrations and to suitably mark the course of the now-famous Oregon trail.

Captain James W. Porter also was a guest of the club and was called upon to discuss the proceedings of the Idaho department American Legion convention recently closed at Nampa, which he attended as a delegate from Twin Falls.

Cyril Rice, director of Twin Falls Chautauque, as a guest of the Rotarians, gave several vocal numbers. Lady Luck Was With Him. An illiterate justice of the peace used to consult what looked like a law book, but was only a small orator catalogue. One day a negro was sued before the justice on a charge of drunkenness. The justice heard the evidence and then, after opening his book and glancing at it, fined the negro $4.49, to be worked out on the roads at 25 cents per day. As the negro was being led away, he said to the marshal: "I sho is a unlucky nigger!" "Unlucky nothing," said the marshal. "If the justice had happened to open that book at automobiles instead of pants you'd be working on the road for the rest of your life!"—New York Evening Mail.

ALEXANDER BELL LAPSSES INTO HIS ETERNAL SLEEP

Inventor of Telephone is Called by Death at His Summer Home in Nova Scotia, Canada, at Age of 75 Years

RADEXED, Nova Scotia, Aug. 2 (AP)—Surrounded by members of his family, Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone and one of America's foremost scientists, died at his summer home here today. He was 75 years old having been born in Scotland March 3, 1847.

DEATH IS UNEXPECTED
SYDNEY, N. S., Aug. 2 (AP)—Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, died today at Beins Brookside estate near Baddeck. Although the inventor had been in failing health for several months, he had not been confined to bed, and the end was unexpected.

Lived Down Riddance
Alexander Graham Bell lived to see experiments which he began with a dead man's eye, result in a means of communication for millions of long distance telephone conversations daily in all parts of the world.

Reached Crisis
Bell reached a crisis in his life at the age of 25, when he was threatened with tuberculosis. The white plague caused the death of his mother and the Bell family migrated to Brantford, Canada.

Teaching Interfered with his inventing, and he soon gave up all but two pupils. One of these was Mabel Hubbard, of a wealthy family. She had lost her hearing and speech as a result of scarlet fever while a baby. It was she who later became Bell's wife.

Worked in a Cellar
Bell spent the following three years in night work in a cellar in Salem, Mass. His monotonous work was that of Gardiner G. Hubbard, his future father-in-law, and Thomas Sanders, the owner of the cellar. As he worked he began to see the possibility of conveying speech over an electrically charged wire—the telephone. He used a dead man's ear for a transmitter.

Social Notes

Edited by Mrs. E. B. Williams Telephone 354.
Mr. and Mrs. W. Zenas Smith entertained at dinner Tuesday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Phelps. The centerpiece for the table was a basket of awesopes, and after dinner the evening was spent with cards. Refreshments were held for Mr. and Mrs. Phelps, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Macanley, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. McElwain, Mr. and Mrs. Z. H. North, Miss Florence Costello and John W. D. Smith.

Mrs. H. F. Magel entertained informally at luncheon Wednesday, following which the afternoon was spent with bridge. Mrs. Z. H. North winning high score. The guests numbered eight.

The Business and Professional Women held their regular weekly luncheon Tuesday in the club rooms. At this meeting a committee was appointed to make definite plans to entertain the Junior and Bull doctored women at a picnic, these plans to be submitted to the club at next Tuesday's luncheon. Twenty members were in attendance.

Mrs. H. P. Barger entertained the Harmony club Wednesday afternoon, which is the organization for the club and Mrs. P. A. Costello presiding. The members present in addition to the hostess were Mrs. E. B. Van Cott, Mrs. M. C. Coover, Mrs. Ernest White, Mrs. M. C. Bohler, Mrs. J. G. Moore. Guests for the afternoon were Mrs. L. H. Masters and Mrs. P. J. Costello.

The members of Pappas Camp Fire club with their guardian, Mrs. Katherine Provoost, met on the banks of the coulee near the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fox, Thursday morning. They first had a swimming lesson, followed by a lesson on darning, and then a study hour with primary civics as the subject. A picnic supper, and a welfare most completed a delightful afternoon.

The Loan-Camp Fire circle met at the home of their guardian, Mrs. E. B. Johnson, Wednesday morning. The meeting was devoted entirely to the transaction of the business connected with their recent camping trip. It was also decided to discontinue meetings during the month of August.

Members of the Henry V. Walling Circle No. 10, Ladies of the G. A. R., met at the home of Mrs. J. H. Wain, Tuesday evening, the president, Mrs. Alice E. Barger, presiding. After the business session the hostess served refreshments, assisted by Mrs. Cliff, Miss Helen Cliff and Miss Anna Mary Magel. A delightful social hour was enjoyed.

Impossible!
"Die byah now minister am here" said the colored woman. "We die me husband, what weigh two hundred an' fo'v' pounds, to bovar' less, he should be weighed in do balance an' four' wantin'."

Dogs, like horses, remember the sound of the language of their master, and even after many years in a foreign land can remember the meaning of sentences. Cats seem incapable of comprehending the human tongue.

WILL STAND BY LANDS

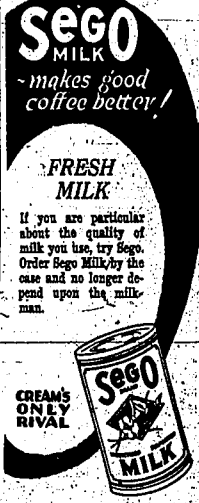

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2 (AP)—A coalition that the Pacific Coast Baseball league will abide by and enforce Baseball Commissioner Landis' decision of May 24 suspending Wm. H. Kleeper, president of the Portland club, for alleged objectionable activities, was adopted today at a meeting of the league directors which was called to act on the decision. The motion followed receipt of a telegram from Judge Lathrop explaining that the decision barred Kleeper from attending to everything relating to the business of the club except its actual corporate interests.

THE OLDEST INHABITANT... It might be worth while if those persons who are always looking for the 'oldest man of woman living' were to give a little thought to what it means when they find such an individual.

Merely as an object of interest the oldest inhabitant deserves no more comment than the tallest man, the stingiest woman or the most mischievous boy. These are traits or characteristics which bring little credit to him or to the community.

Why do men persist in wearing coats in torrid weather? What became of the shirt sleeve style that was being boomed before the war? No matter how wide the agitation or the discussion of the abolition of the coat, man comes back to it and offers no explanation.

LIFE'S ARCHITECTURE... Ruskin had a characteristic theory regarding the degree of ornamentation on a building. The first requirement was that the decoration should be honest.

The application of this theory to the lives of men and women in public life is coming to be inevitable. Whether their career lies in administrative offices, or the moving picture screen, or what not, they cannot escape this severe scrutiny of the public judgment.

In the good old days, when we were good we were called pet names. When bad, we were called to the woodshed.
