

LENRÖOT BLOCKS PLAN FOR VOTE ON TARIFF BILL

Refuses to Consent to Final Action Pending Debate on Various Schedules — Gooding Offers His Resolution

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—Upsetting plans of republicans and democratic leaders of a final vote on the administration tariff bill on August 17, Senator Lenroet, republican, Wisconsin, gave notice today in the senate that there would be no unanimous consent agreement for a final vote, at least until all important amendments had been considered to the measure had been discussed and acted upon.

Plan Is Frustrated

The Wisconsin senator said he was anxious to limit debate and proposed an arrangement under which, beginning today, discussion would have been confined exclusively to the tariff with each senator limited to ten minutes talk on amendments on the bill after August 11. Senator Lodge, the republican leader, objected to this, however, and the effort to come to an understanding in the open senate failed.

Subsequently private negotiations looking at least a curtailment of discussion were reopened and some republican proposals that might lead to results were made known; however, were represented as objecting to limitation of debate after vote on the tariff bill and dealing with duties on sugar and alfalfa.

The democratic proposal for a final vote on August 10 and the republican counter proposition for a vote on August 17, led to a long discussion.

Gooding Submits Resolution

Senator Gooding of Idaho, chairman of the "republican-agricultural-tariff bloc," introduced a resolution directing special committees of five senators to inquire into and report to the senate on:

1. The financial interests of senators in the wool and sheep industries;

2. The financial interests of Mr. Frank A. Munsey in European industries; the amount and percentage of his income derived from advertisements placed in the newspapers by the shipping department stores which have financed a campaign of defamation against the pending tariff bill and which will profit by the defeat of the tariff;

3. The number of senators owning or controlling or financially interested in newspapers, the amount of revenue derived by these newspapers from importing department stores, which will benefit financially by the defeat of the pending tariff bill;

4. The financial interests of all members of the senate or their immediate relatives in any American industry or in any property in any community in the United States which may be affected directly or indirectly either by the passage or defeat of any proposed schedule in the pending tariff bill.

From Newspaper Publisher

The preamble of the resolution reads as follows: "Whereas certain articles in the New York Herald, owned by Mr. Munsey, 'that members of the senate engaged in the sheep industry, have been financially interested in the wool schedule of the tariff bill.'"

It referred also to the resolution of August last introduced by Senator Gooding of Arkansas, providing an investigation of the financial interest, if any, of all senators in tariff schedules.

Senator Gooding's resolution was referred to the committee on contingent expenditures, which, on motion of Senator Harrison of North Carolina, was directed to report on it "immediately." Members of the committee said a report would be made tomorrow, but that the resolution would be modified.

Harrison Asks Enlargement

Senator Harrison and Senator Simmons, democrat, North Carolina, contended that the Gooding resolution seemed to propose an investigation of matters other than the Munsey newspapers and suggested that the inquiry be extended to all republican dailies attacking the tariff. Mr. Gooding replied that it was intended to apply to all newspapers.

Senator Harrison introduced a resolution providing that Senators interested personally in tariff and other legislation should not participate in legislative proceedings on such legislation. His action has not yet been considered, but at the request of Senator McCumber, republican, North Dakota, it went over, and the senate returned to discussion of the unanimous consent arrangement.

Objection by Senator Lenroet

Objection by Senator Lenroet to the making of a date for a final vote was fixed by Senator Simmons, for the measure, had agreed to accept the republican substitute date of August 17. Mr. Lenroet explained that while he was anxious to see an end to the consideration of the tariff bill, he could not consent to any arrangement under which important amendments might be acted upon without any discussion at all.

Cause of Appendicitis

When the bowels are constipated, the lower bowels or large intestine become packed with refuse matter, that is made up largely of curds. These curds enter the vermiform appendix and set up inflammation, which is commonly known as appendicitis. Take Chamberlain's Colic, who needed and kept your bowels regular and you have little to fear from appendicitis.

JEWISH RULE IS CHAFING ARABS

British Plan to Separate Governing Units; Self Government for Natives

LONDON, Aug. 3 (AP)—The government is unrelenting in its efforts to find a solution of the Palestine problem. To this end it has, among other things, recently published the official correspondence that has passed between the government, the Palestine Arab delegation now in London, and the Zionist organization since last February.

Included is an official statement of British policy, as given on July 1, to the effect that a Jewish national home will be founded in Palestine, and Jewish people will be in Palestine as of right and not sufferance. The disappearance or subordination of the Arab population, language or culture is not contemplated, and the establishment of a full measure of self-government in Palestine will be fostered. The special position of the Zionist executive does not entitle it to a share in the government of the country.

The Arab delegation has replied to this statement of policy as follows: "Since its establishment in Palestine the Zionist commission has very much interfered with the administration of Palestine under no pretext or another, all of which were based on solicitude for Jewish interests.

"One military administrator after another, and one British official after another, had to go because they could not and would not govern the country on lines laid down by the Zionist commission.

"We see division and tension between Arab and Zionist increasing day by day and resulting in general retrogression, because the immigrants dumped upon the country from different parts of the world are ignorant of the language, customs and character of the Arabs, and enter Palestine by the might of England and against the will of the people who are convinced that these people have come to strangle them. Nature does not allow the creation of a spirit of co-operation between two peoples so different.

"The fact is that His Majesty's government has placed itself in the position of a partisan in Palestine of a certain policy which the Arab cannot accept because sooner or later it means his extinction."

Commenting on this official correspondence, a diplomatic correspondent writes in the Sunday Times: "Evidently, the British government finds itself uncomfortably sandwiched in between two sets of promises. Driven by the exigencies of the great war to demand on behalf of the allies the cooperation of the Arabs against the Turks, Britain agreed to recognize their independence within a territory which included Palestine and Syria. That was on October 24, 1918.

"On November 2, 1917, possibly with a view to obtaining other and equally necessary support, the Earl of Balfour made his famous declaration in favor of the establishment of a Jewish home in Palestine."

The passage by the House of Lords the latter part of June of the Illington motion, disapproving the Balfour declaration, was immensely popular in Palestine, where this incident is regarded as a notable Arab victory.

REED'S VICTORY SEEMS ASSURED

Nearly Complete Returns Show 6,879 Majority Over Wilson's Friend

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 3. (AP)—Every fact that political experts note their opinions on indicates tonight that Senator James A. Reed has been nominated by the democracy of Missouri to be its standard-bearer in November to succeed himself.

Maintains His Lead.
With 222 precincts missing out of the 3548 in the state, Senator Reed was leading Breckinridge Long of St. Louis, former third assistant secretary of state in the Wilson administration, by 6879 votes. The vote in 3625 precincts stood: Reed, 100,211; Long, 28,442.

E. W. Brewster of Kansas City, supported over 105 regular-republican organization, has won the republican nomination for the United States senate. With more than three-fourths of the state, including the complete vote of the city of St. Louis, where William Sacks polled an enormous vote, Mr. Brewster is leading by nearly 10,000. The vote in 230 precincts gives: Brewster, 74,025; Sacks, 64,104.

Sitting Congressmen Win.
Thirteen sitting congressmen were nominated Tuesday's primary, two are apparently defeated, while Benny W. Shelton in the state in 230 precincts did not run for re-nomination.

Of four women seeking congressional nominations, Mrs. E. S. Hoen, Mrs. C. M. Hoen, Mrs. E. M. Hoen, and Mrs. C. M. Hoen, Columbia, was the only victor. She defeated two male opponents for the democratic nomination in the Eighth district. She will be opposed by Representative Sid C. Rosch.

KANSAS RETURNS SHOW.
TOKPEA, Kans., Aug. 3. (AP)—With more than 500 precincts yet to be heard from, a number of state-wide contests in the Tuesday primary election tonight were still close enough to warrant hope for the runner-up. It is probable that only one of an equal count is expected with the results of several contests to be determined.

This particularly applies to all the democratic nomination races, because democratic voters were meagre. As to the gubernatorial race it appears to be all over but one remaining in fact to be conclusively pronounced.

W. Y. Morgan, candidate for republican nomination, continues to gain with western Kansas counties, usually the last heard from, rallying strongly in his support. His plurality over W. B. Stubbis, his nearest opponent, was estimated to be about 10,000.

FITZGUGH CONDEMNS DEFEAT.
MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 3. (AP)—Captain G. T. Fitzgugh, at midnight, in a letter to the editor of the Commercial Appeal of Senator Kenneth B. McCallister in the state primary contest today for the democratic senatorial nomination, said that "I am disappointed in not hearing him that 'saw the nominee of the party he will have my support'."

WALTON NOMINATION ASSURED.
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Aug. 3. (AP)—Victory by decisive plurality for Mayor J. C. Walton of Oklahoma City, anti-Ku Klux Klan and Farmer-Labor candidate, in the state primary race for the democratic nomination for governor in Oklahoma, was assured tonight on unofficial returns from Tuesday's state-wide primary.

PRICE OF HAM DROPS FROM FIFTEEN TO TWENTY PER CENT.
CHICAGO, Aug. 3. (AP)—Wholesale prices for ham have gone down fifteen to twenty per cent since the last thirty days, and hams are relatively cheap, compared to other foods, according to Edward Morris, president of Morris and Company. He said today that consumers so far have failed to take advantage of the decrease in cost.

LAST ELECTION RETURNS CHANGE NONE OF RESULTS

Candidates in Close Contests Retain Relative Positions With Votes All In

Complete returns from the democratic primary elections in Roseworth and Latah and from the republican primary election in Roseworth received here Thursday, do not change the position of the candidates involved in contests for nominations. Gov. L. Kinney, Democrat, Twin Falls, has, on the basis of complete returns, a lead of 12 votes over A. W. Ostrom, Bull, and over O. W. Witham, Twin Falls, for the democratic nomination for prosecuting attorney.

The status of the contest on the republican side for the nomination for prosecuting attorney is unchanged, with W. Taylor, Bull, holding a one vote lead over J. Myers, Twin Falls.

Possibility that primary elections were held in Shoshone Basin, that might change results in these contests, was "eliminated" tonight when an "air" was received Thursday from that precinct, and it was recalled that Shoshone Basin in the past has never held a primary election.

Complete Returns.
Following are the results in contests for nominations on both republican and democratic tickets, as shown by complete unofficial returns from all precincts except Lardin 705; Miller 678. Other members work inside the burrow, throwing out earth to fill in the building. When a dog has been built, the animals jump the earth down with their heads—an amusing sight. As these operations inevitably take place before a storm, the obvious purpose is to build a dam that will keep the water from running into the burrow.

Paris, where the attitude of the United States government had been anticipated since the note was published.

Further, it has been learned that Lord Balfour's communication probably will have no effect on the detailed proposals and his decision to present it to the British government.

This plan, it is generally agreed, is to include a reduction in the total German indemnity in return for a proportional cancellation of French debts to Great Britain, priority to France on account of the devastated regions, and the proposition of a restricted financial control over Germany in order to insure payment of the reduced reparations bill and prevent the flight of capital from that country.

COMMONS NOT ADOPTED.
LONDON, Aug. 3. (AP)—Today's debate in the hours of common on inter-allied debts and German reparations proved disappointing. It had been expected the debate would bring out further interesting facts regarding the recent note of the Earl of Balfour on the subject and regarding Great Britain's future policy on the whole subject of international obligations.

Mr. Lloyd George declared there was an absence of any concrete suggestions or better formula than already has been adopted, for a solution of the debts and reparations questions, the premier called attention to Mr. Asquith's desire for a clean slate. He said that was exactly what Lord Balfour's note had advocated.

"That it is not a clean slate," he added, "when you wipe off every debt due us and when you engrave more deeply upon the slate the debt which is due by us to other people. That isn't a clean slate. It neither clears it, nor alters it, nor makes it more useful for further use."

GHANDI PLAN IS LLANES PURPOSE

Would Refuse All Co-operation With U. S. to Awaken Demand for Independence

MANILA, Aug. 3. (AP)—Resistance to America by non-co-operation, along the lines of the revolutionary movement led by Ghandi in India, as a means of gaining Philippine independence is advocated in a published statement by Representative Vincente Llanaes of the Philippine legislature.

Returns from America.
Llanaes was a member of the Philip Independence mission which returned from the United States yesterday. He is a representative of the First district in the insular house of representatives.

Llanaes suggested that the way to "awaken the American nation to the situation here," was non-co-operation by resignation of all Filipinos non holding positions in the insular government and the refusal of others to accept the positions left vacant.

His statement, published in the Manila Daily Bulletin, read in part: "The Philippine government should call on every Filipino, through the adoption of a resolution, to abstain from giving co-operation to all branches of the Philippine government, including the example of Ghandi."

World Legislature Party.
"Should the legislature adopt such a policy, a party should be organized with non-co-operation as its principal plank. The adoption of such a resolution or the creation of such a political party would awaken the American people to the situation here and the American nation which is just and square will grant us independence."

"America is so large that to awaken its interests something extraordinary must be done. It has so many problems long that it forgets ours."
Llanaes lauded the treatment of the Philippine independence mission in the United States.

True Fortitude.
True fortitude I take to be the quiet possession of a man's self, and an undisturbed doing of his duty, whatever evil heets or danger lies in the way.—Locke.

AS OTHERS HERE: There have visited this country since the close of the World War the commanding general of the armies of the allies, and many citizens of Great Britain and France. There are in prospect visitors from other countries, announcements to this effect having been made by foreign newspapers.

They are quoted by home newspapers as criticizing almost everything American, even to our peculiar house furnishings, dress, and conversation. Some of this criticism may be justified, but much of it is far-fetched to say the least.

The fact of the matter is visitors from foreign countries seldom come in to touch with real Americans. They are entertained by persons and families of wealth and social position—wealth that is inherited and social position that is too frequently superficial.

Should Americans visit Europe and indulge in similar criticism they would therefore be unwelcome guests. But, thank goodness, real Americans assume no superiority that they do not actually possess.

Of course, it is distasteful for many Europeans to admit that America and the American people have progressed faster than some nations and peoples of the continent have. The German idea of "superiority" was not wholly German; the same idea has been entertained to some extent by Englishmen—especially by Englishmen who flaunt titles.

Terrorful Visions in Dreams. Dreams about rain or water are often signs of irritation of the nervous system and the dreamer will usually be awakened to wake-up with a sore throat. Should you dream of people several times their normal size, it is an infallible sign that the liver is affected; if it has been noticed that when the dreamer sits motionless the torn bits of Erskine's keratinized skin seem to crawl over his feet.

GARVAN DEMANDS HARDING CLEAR HIM

Writes to President That He Has Been Grossly Mislabeled by Daugherty.

New York—Flatly refusing to return to the United States government a signed check for $100,000, donated by the Chemical Foundation, Inc., which he is president, Francis P. Garvan, in a spirited and energetic letter to President Harding, asserted that the check was "grossly mislabeled by the attorney-general."

Absolute legality in the sale of 4,700 and odd former German patents to the Foundation, and complete publicity in the organization and operation of this quasi-public institution, together with the highest of ethical motives, are strictly maintained by Mr. Garvan in his communications, and he says that figures which show that the capital of the institution consisted of $228,000, all of which has been spent in the purchase of the patents and in educational efforts through the medium of colleges and in the encouragement of chemical scientists, and says that the Foundation income from licensees barely meets the modest running expenses.

Mr. Garvan goes on to state that at that time he was a dollar a year man, and with no expectation whatever of becoming a millionaire. He says that it was only when Attorney-General Gregory resigned and Palmer was appointed attorney-general that Palmer asked him to take on the case.

Mr. Garvan states that the total gross income of the Foundation has averaged $143,210.35 per year. The running charges have averaged $121,077.60, leaving a net excess of $22,132.75, or 0.40 per cent on the $228,000 invested, allowing nothing for depreciation. The average life of the patents is about seven years, so that 12 1/2 per cent of the $221,850 cash paid for the patents, or $33,981 per year, should be subtracted from the net receipts per year, which leaves an actual annual operation deficit of $12,735.70.

Mr. Garvan states that the total gross income of the Foundation has averaged $143,210.35 per year. The running charges have averaged $121,077.60, leaving a net excess of $22,132.75, or 0.40 per cent on the $228,000 invested, allowing nothing for depreciation.

to accept my present statement of the matter, but later have extracted from the report of A. Mitchell Palmer, filed with the President February 22, 1919, and sent him forwarded to the Congress, and by the Congress to the attorney-general and most wisely commented on by the press of the country.

Mr. Palmer stated in the course of the report referred to by Mr. Garvan: "These patents, as had already been stated, were secured by a colonial chemist of the development of the American chemical industry. Evidently they had not been taken out with any intention of making money for their inventor.

Mr. Garvan goes on to state that at that time he was a dollar a year man, and with no expectation whatever of becoming a millionaire. He says that it was only when Attorney-General Gregory resigned and Palmer was appointed attorney-general that Palmer asked him to take on the case.

KNOW LITTLE ABOUT AMERICA

Traveler Tells of Odd Beliefs That Are Prevalent Among Well-Educated Europeans.

Austin Stahl, minister of commerce in the former cabinet of Esmeirgo de Valera, tells of some of the curious impressions regarding life in the United States still prevailing among Europeans.

Mr. Stahl recounted a story told to him by a friend from Butte, Mont., who was entertaining a visitor from Europe. The visitor expected to see the streets of Butte built and peopled along the lines shown in the overhanging western picture, and his last notice that he seemed to be constantly on the lookout for some one or something.

"Flimsy," Mr. Stahl said, "the visitor turned to his host and asked: 'But where are all the cowboys?' 'Oh, they are never seen in the daytime,' the other replied. 'They are very shy. They only come out at night, in the valleys, as you call them.' And the visitor believed it, Mr. Stahl claims.

"Of all American novels received in the last six months, Zona Gale's 'Miss Lulu Bett' seems at the top of the list."—Haywood Brown, in New York Tribune. "A story that is certain to appeal to every reader who enjoys real human beings in the pages of a novel. Throughout the tale runs a shining line of humor, warming the whole book."—Hildegarde Hausler, in Chicago Daily News.
