

HIDES GO BACK TO "FREE LIST" BY SENATE VOTE

Committee-Provided—Rate is Rejected, with the Resulting Elimination of Duty on Leather, Boots and Shoes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (AP)—Hides, boots and shoes and leather were voted back to the tariff free list today by the senate, which thus concurred in action taken by the house more than a year ago. There was only one roll call—on hides—and the result was 59 to 25 against the committee's plan of two cents a pound on green or pickled and four cents on dried hides.

Party Lines Obliterated
The senate divided as follows: For a duty on hides: Republicans—Bursum, Cameron, Capper, Curtis, Ernst, Gooding, Harrell, Ladd, McCormick, McNary, Nicholson, Norbeck, Odell, Phillips, Shortridge, Smoot, Stanfield, Steiwer, and Warren—19.
Democrats—Auburt, Broussard, Fletcher, Jones of New Mexico, Kendrick, Russell and Sheppard—7.
Total 26.

Against a duty on hides:
Republicans—Hall, Borah, Brandegee, Calder, Colt, Cummins, Dillingham, Edge, Frellinghuysen, Hale, Keyes, Lorroot, Lodge, Moses, Now, Newberry, Pepper, Rawson, Spencer, Sutherland, Townsend, Wallworth and Willis—23.
Democrats—Dial, Gerry, Ulam, Harris, Hefflin, Myers, Overman, Pomeroy, Reed, Simmons, Smith, Stanley, Trammell, Underwood, Walsh of Massachusetts and Walsh of Montana—10.
Total 33.

Old Time Shattered
Most of the more marked lines which have developed in the senate during the tariff fight disappeared on this vote, but about the only surprise was that a majority of the republicans voted against making hides taxable. Not only was there a split among the majority leadership on the question, but also in the finance committee majority and among in the republican agricultural tariff bloc, which through its chairman, Senator Gooding of Idaho, had asked for two cents on green hides and six on dried hides.

Only two members of the finance committee—Curtis and Smoot—supported the duties, while four members—Curtis, Dillingham, Frellinghuysen and Sutherland—voted against them. Chairman McCumber and Senator Watson of Indiana, the other two members present, were paired and unable to vote. Five members of the tariff bloc broke away from the majority—Spencer, Willis, New, Keyes and Townsend.

Disagree to Amendment
With hides sent back to the free list, Senator Smoot of Utah, for the committee, moved that the senate disagree to the amendment proposing a rate of 12 cents a pair and five cents ad valorem on boots and shoes and varying rates on hand, rough and hole leather, hobbling and harness leather and various other kinds of this product.

This motion prevailed without a roll call and as a substitute the senate approved the house proposition proposing a duty of 20 per cent ad valorem on chamois skins, pianoforte, pianoforte action, player piano action leather, enamelled upholstery leather, glove leather, winelaid in white or in the crust.

Without roll calls the senate then cut from 4 to 3 per cent the proposed duty on bags, baskets, bolts, satchels, card cases, pocket books, jewel boxes, portfolios and other boxes and cases wholly or in chief value of leather. On such articles previously fitted and furnished with traveling, bottle, drinking, dining or luncheon, sewing, manicure or similar sets, the duty was made 45 per cent ad valorem in place of the 60 per cent originally proposed.

STATES WILL CONFORM TO SPENCER COAL PLAN

Groundwork for Co-operation Between Distributor and State Organization

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (AP)—Groundwork for co-operation between state emergency fuel organizations and the federal central coal distribution committee was begun today at conference between Fuel Distributor Spenger and the state coal committees of Michigan and Pennsylvania.

Arrangements were made with the Michigan committee, Mr. Spenger said, for caring for the fuel needs of that state by means of orders for coal passing through the central committee, while efforts to relieve the Great Lakes situation already are under way, the beginning having been made with weekly shipments of 200,000 tons of coal.

W. D. Bailey of Harrisburg, chairman of the Pennsylvania public utilities committee, which is the emergency fuel organization for that state, met with Mr. Spenger, Secretary Hoover and twenty-producing coal operators from Pennsylvania. It was decided to postpone the question of fixing a price for coal mined in Pennsylvania until Friday, when a committee of the operators is to meet with the state fuel committee in Philadelphia.

MORE STUDENTS ATTEND R. O. T. C. SUMMER CAMP

Commandant Says Idaho Cadets Rank at Top of Every Phase of Work

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, Aug. 9—A larger percentage of the students of the University of Idaho attended the Ninth Corps Area R. O. T. C. summer encampment just finished at Camp Lewis than from any other western institution, according to a statement by Colonel E. B. Christmas, commandant here, who commanded the summer camp.

"The Idaho cadets ranked at the very top in every phase of the work at the camp," continued Colonel Christmas. "They won a cup in the rifle shoot, distinguished themselves in the training work and excelled in athletic sports and contests.

"This year's encampment was the best in the history of the summer camp at Camp Lewis. The three units, infantry, engineers and field artillery, were stationed in the same camp, allowing students in each branch to get an idea of the work of the other."

"Field trips in auto trucks, various kinds of social activities under the management of special officers, demonstrations by the regular troops stationed at Camp Lewis in barracks and aerial work, all contributed to make the summer profitable and worth while to those in attendance."

NORTH RANDALL, Cleveland, O., Aug. 9—Setting his own pace, Lee Worthy, the colubian son of Lee Awor, won the $1,000 champion stalling steeple, one of the richest three-year-old Grand Circuit favorites of the season, in straight heats at North Randall today and, in doing so, broke three records, one of which is said to be a world record. The race was worth $48,276 to Frank H. Ellis of Philadelphia, owner of the colt. It was his fifth straight victory of the season. Lee Worthy was driven by Ben White of Cleveland, who steered him to victory in the steeple stakes at Toledo last week in the fastest heat trotted by a three-year-old this year, until today. This time, 2:05 1/2, was lowered by half a second in the first heat today. In trotting the mile in 2:05, Lee Worthy also clipped a second off the stake record. He trotted the last half in 1:00 3/4 and the last 1/4 in :29 3/4.

BILL HART AND HIS YOUNG WIFE HAVE SEPARATED

Movie Actor Issues Statement in Which He Says Disagreement Was Followed by Property Settlement

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 9. (AP)—William B. Hart, motion picture star, late today issued a signed statement that he and his wife, Winifred Westover, film actress, had separated about three months ago. The statement says that the two had been living together for the past maintenance and that of their unborn child and that he had no knowledge of any plans of Mrs. Hart for instituting divorce proceedings.

Hart also made public a copy of a night letter he said he had sent to Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors association of America, declaring he was not responsible for statements published here that Mr. Hays had attempted when in Los Angeles recently, to effect a reconciliation between Mr. and Mrs. Hart.

Statement Follows Rumors

Hart's statement came after several weeks of rumors that all was not well in the Hart household and that Mrs. Hart had left her husband in his Hollywood home and had taken up her residence with her mother at Santa Monica, a suburb.

The Statement Follows

"As all the newspapers of Los Angeles have announced, I have repeatedly and up to this moment, denied there has been any difficulty between Mrs. Hart and myself.

"The Los Angeles Times" publishes an article this afternoon containing statements which the paper intimates came from Mrs. Hart's attorneys—and some of them are villainously untrue—particularly the one referring to Mary Hart, my sister, and to Mr. Will H. Hays.

Property Settlement Made

"Mrs. Hart and myself separated about three months ago and a few days later property contracts were executed, making provision for her maintenance (as well as for our unborn child, which is expected in September. Whether she contemplates divorce proceedings or not, I have no knowledge. "It is totally untrue that my sister assumed charge of my home when Mrs. Hart left. My wife went to New York prior to the separation and is still there. She has never regularly lived in my household since my marriage. She lived at my Nevada ranch until she went east.

"I do not regret that for the attention of great afflictions is too absurd and ridiculous to merit comment. "Mr. Will H. Hays has never acted as an intermediary nor did he attempt any reconciliation while he was here. In fact, to my knowledge, he did not even know about the matter.

"It is especially cruel and uncalled for to drag my sister or Mr. Hays into this matter for neither of them has had anything to do with it."

Hart and Miss Westover were married at his home here December 7, 1921. Miss Westover is the daughter of a San Francisco newspaper man.

No authorized statement has come from her on the separation.

UNDERSTANDING OF CASE STRESSED AT BAR MEET

Convention Opens with Discussion of Needs of People for Clearer View of Statutes

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9. (AP)—The need for a better understanding of the law as the people's guardian and defender, the champion of equal rights for all, was the keynote of addresses at the opening of the annual American Bar association convention here today.

From President Harding came a message emphasizing the part to be played by the bar in promoting the solving of the problems of the day; from C. C. Covance, of St. Paul, president of the association, a discussion of the increasingly close touch of the law with human institutions; and from Fred D. Knicker, of Kansas, an explanation of the attempts of the Kansas industrial court to settle controversies between labor and capital.

A call for closer unity between English speaking nations, to be fostered through the medium of the legal profession, was made by Lord Broomfield, of Dunfermline, representing the English and Scottish bars. Mr. Henri Aubergin, of Paris, who spoke on behalf of the French bar, told of the rise of judicial power in France.

William Howard Taft, chief justice of the United States, and Vice President Calvin Coolidge were among those on the platform at the opening session.

OHIO VALLEY IS IN NEED OF RAIN

Distribution of Waterfall During Week Not Balanced to Need of Growing Crop

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9. (AP)—Rainfall was unevenly distributed, with crop developments retarded during the week ended yesterday, the department of agriculture announced today in its weekly summary of weather and crop conditions.

Much of the west and sections from the north central states contained received beneficial showers but the Ohio valley, the central-northern states and most of the east gulf areas need moisture badly, the report said, while the damaging drought continued in the southwest and considerable rain was reported in scattered localities. Except for some delay due to heavy rain fall in the upper Great plains, farm work generally made good progress.

Results are Diverse

While wet weather delayed threshing of wheat in Nebraska and South Dakota, the weather generally favored this work. The winter yields in the Ohio valley, however, continued to show uneven results. Showers benefited late spring wheat in the northern Rocky mountain states, but in Idaho and Utah damage was caused by strong winds or rain.

The chief crop producing area experienced moderate temperatures and beneficial showers during the week, the report showed.

GOSLAR CELEBRATES TEN CENTURIES OF LIFE

Mathuselah of the Hartz Trips Lightly into News Columns with Story of 1000 Years

GOSLAR, Germany, Aug. 9. (AP)—Drowed old Goslar, Mathuselah of the Hartz, has tripped lightly into the limelight to announce to the world it has reached its thousandth birthday. A gala celebration, attended by prominent men from many parts of the country, marked the occasion.

In preparation for the event, Goslar dressed itself all up in its "Sunday best," with a general coat of fresh paint and floral decorations. It took for once more something of the old glory of centuries gone by when it often served as an imperial residence. Even the venerable Kaiserhaus, built by Henry III and said to be the oldest secular building in Germany, appeared brightened up for the day.

The anniversary observances began in this building with a formal morning program in which public leaders in town, provincial, and national life took part. A historical pageant several days long paraded the streets later, followed by a huge folk-festival on the mountain-side. In the evening a folk-play was presented by local talent.

DOG PACK KILLS MAN, WOMAN OWNER IS HELD

Eighteen Canines Are Believed to Have Caused Death of Man Whose Mutilated Body is Found

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 9. (AP)—Several hours of questioning this afternoon by Deputy District Attorney Russell failed to change materially a story told this morning by Mrs. Isabel Belarde that her pack of 18 dogs killed A. Biese, rancher, after she had quarreled with him yesterday.

The mangled and mutilated body of Biese was found on a cot in his ranch house and he had been shot by his hand, Louis Belarde, were arrested.

Dogs Killed Biese

The woman at first denied she knew anything about the affair, but broke down later and said that her dogs had attacked Biese after the rancher had struck her over the arm with a club. She said she dressed his wounds, took him to his house and then prepared to take him to Sacramento, but failed because her husband's car was out of order. When she and Belarde returned to the house later, she said, Biese was dead.

District Attorney Russell declared there were many discrepancies in her story. He said she could not explain how some of Biese's clothing was found hanging on a fence between the two ranches.

Late today the woman was taken to the ranch and again went over the details of the killing to officials. Upon reaching her house she ran to the room where the dogs had been confined.

Dogs Crowded Out Woman

The woman was permitted to enter the dogs, who crowded around her barking and whining. "Men don't understand a woman's love for her animals," she told Mr. Tullman. "I would give my life for these dogs and they would die fighting for me. Other people don't understand they are more to me than my husband and brothers."

After the woman had been returned to the county jail, County Executive Officer H. J. Winters went to the ranch house with a deputy and shot the entire pack of eighteen dogs.

Mrs. Belarde said her first refusal to tell of Biese's death was due to fear the dogs would be punished.

"They protected me and I wanted to protect them," she said.

J. P. Morgan's Check is Turned Down by an Italian Official

ROME, Aug. 9. (AP)—Italian newspapers published a telegram today from Bolzano, on the Italian-Austrian frontier, stating that J. P. Morgan, who was passing from Austria to Italy at the Brenner pass, was asked by customs officials to deposit the equivalent of the Italian import duty on his car.

The officials explained that the duty would be returned to him on his leaving Italy. The district said that Mr. Morgan was without money. He offered a check on his bank but this was refused. He was forced to return to Innsbruck to secure the necessary cash, the newspaper says.

Radio Carries Typed Message from Airplanes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9. (AP)—Type writing, in an airplane flying among the clouds, with radio machinery duplicating the letters at a ground station through an antenna and routing the message off in print, is a development announced today by the navy department as giving to naval aviation "a means of communication in advance of radio telegraph and telephone systems now in current use."

Recesses already attained by experts working in conjunction with the navy, the department asserted, assure the practicability of the new scheme. That such a development will be of incalculable value to all forms of aviation, commercial and military, follows inevitably on the heels of the work now being done by the navy, it was predicted.

The device has been named the "teletype." It resembles the commercial typewriter in that a keyboard having the letters of the alphabet and other symbols on it, is arranged for hand operation. Each key is connected to the radio installation in the plane and when a letter is struck, a radio impulse is flashed from the antenna on the plane to the receiving station below, where the letter is reproduced on paper.

A reversal of the operation so that the plane can receive messages from ground stations, is said to be only a matter of detail.

"This," the statement said, "will be a marked step in advance, in that it will allow explicit directions to scouting and combat units in flight by the commander-in-chief of the fleet and will enable scouts and other types of planes to convey accurate and detailed information to the high command."

MATINEE AND EVENING

THREE PARTIES WILL ASSEMBLE IN CONVENTION

Precinct Delegations Chosen at Primary Elections Will Convene Simultaneously to Carry Out Purposes of Law

Election of delegates to the state convention and of a "state committeeman" or member of the state committee to represent the party in the county, are the principal items of business to be transacted by each of the three county conventions to be held here next Tuesday, August 15.

County conventions may adopt resolutions with a view to advising the state convention in their work of drafting platform.

State conventions of all three parties will be held simultaneously August 22. Nominees of each party for representatives in congress and state offices will be named at the state convention, each of which will promulgate its declaration of principles.

Vote Determines Delegations.

The republican state convention will be held at Wallace and Twin Falls county will be represented by 13 delegates. The democratic state convention will be held at Halley and Twin Falls county will send six delegates. The place for the progressive state convention has not yet been announced.

Delegates to county conventions were elected in each precinct at the primary elections last week.

In each precinct one delegate was to be elected by each party for each 25 votes or major fraction thereof cast in that precinct for the party's candidates in 1920.

On this basis the republican county convention would be composed of 137 delegates, and the democratic convention of 76.

Since the organization of the progressive party took place subsequent to the 1920 elections, there was no basis for apportioning delegates, and each precinct was allotted one delegate.

How Chicago Travels During Strike

The strike on the street-car lines and elevated in Chicago seems to have little effect on the spirits of the workers in the mid-Western metropolis. Trucks, private cars, horse-drawn vehicles and buses were pressed into service. This photograph shows one of the streets early in the morning for some truck or wagon and takes them to their places of business.

WANTED: A NEW WONDER

The committee in charge of preliminary arrangements for Philadelphia's exhibition to celebrate the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of American Independence is said to be wondering what the great outstanding feature, the principal "talking point," will be.

It is an interesting commentary on the progress made during the last few years in science and invention that there seem to be no new wonders to exploit. However, the possibilities of radio and of aviation have not yet been exhausted.

are no longer crowding the lines and fighting for a place in the land of promise as they once did. Reasons in explanation differ, but when all the answers are in, the condition remains.

Whatever the reason or reasons, the outlook for many months has about equalled arrival, but the surprising fact is that immigration from the more desirable countries has fallen off almost to the vanishing point.

Long ago when the haunted house was a favorite theme in fiction, the place with such a reputation was avoided, and at night when one was compelled to pass it he ate as though he'd see in fear and trembling.

But all this has now been changed and the shrewd person who keeps a summer resort advertised in addition to boating, fishing, scenery, spring chickens, and fresh vegetables, that he enters a ghost as a permanent boarder.

With the demand for haunted houses such as it is, it cannot be expected that even this confession of fraud will deter boarders from flocking to the haunted house, for it is a well known fact that there is nothing so obliging as a ghost, and one is sure to appear if only you are determined to see it.

Miss Lulu Bett

(CHAPTER II—Continued) In the early part of the next afternoon, with the sun shining across the threshold, Lulu was putting something at the kitchen table. Miss Bett was asleep.

"I don't blame you a bit, mother," Lulu said, as her mother raised up from the bed. "I was asleep. (But I never took out of her course by calling it her 'a-sleep,' long I.)" Monona was playing with a neighbor's child—you heard their shrill yet lovely laughter as they creased the sofa before his chair and sat down heavily, forcing his fingers through heavy, upspringing brown hair.

"Oh, yes, then, Lulu," "I'll call her," she said. "Don't call her, then," said Ninian. "Let's you and I get acquainted." He said it absently, hardly looking at her.

"I'll get the pup a drink if you can stay up a bit longer," she said. "Lulu brushed the hair and, while he went to the dog, she ran (flipping to the dining room china closet and brought a cut-glass tumbler, as heavy, as ungrainy as a stone rock. This she held with milk. "I thought maybe..." said she, and offered it.

"Thank you!" said Ninian, and drained it. "Making pipe, as I live," he observed, "brought me, I understood, 'the old' didn't know I had a slater," he went on. "I remember now Bert said he had two of her relatives."

"Lulu flushed and glanced at him pitifully. "He has," she said. "It's my mother and me. But we do quite a good deal of the work." "I'll bet you do," said Ninian, and did not perceive that anything had been omitted. "What's your name?" he hectorously.

"She was in an immense and obscure excitement. Her manner was serene, her hands as they went on with the sewing did not tremble; her clothes were given with sufficient quiet. But she told him her name as one tells something of another and more remote creature. She felt as one may feel in catastrophe—no sharp interjection, but merely the sense that the thing cannot possibly be happening.

"You folks expect me?" he went on. "Oh, yes," she cried, almost with vengeance. "Why, we've looked for you every day." "See?" he said, "how long have they been married?" Lulu flushed as she answered: "Fifteen years."

"Fifteen years before that the first one died—and five years that they were together," he computed. "I never met that one. Then it's close to twenty years since Bert and I have seen each other."

"How awful!" Lulu said, and flushed again. "What?" "To be that long away from your folks!" she found herself feeling this honestly, as if the impossibility of her present experience were clarifying her understanding; "Would it be so awful to be away from Bert and Monona and Ol—yes, and—in, for twenty years?"

to see any of these places. She did not want to see any of these places. She did not want to see any of these places. She did not want to see any of these places.

"What's the name of the man who was looking at my picture and she was ashamed and turned away." "Well, I hope," she said, "which had certainly never been true, for her old forms dreamed were no intention of nothing but a mush of discontent."

"I'm glad to see you," she said. "I'm glad to see you," she said. "I'm glad to see you," she said. "I'm glad to see you," she said.

"Hello!" said Ninian. "I had the one formula. 'I believe my husband's brother. Ain't this it?'" It had not crossed the mind of Lulu to present him.

"Ninian?" she asked. "Ninian?" she asked. "Ninian?" she asked. "Ninian?" she asked.

"I brought her a pup, and it didn't give to give to her." They adjourned to the porch—Ninian, Mrs. Bett, and Lulu. "The puppy was kept on about 'the place.' In delightfully exhibited the tomatoes, the two apple trees, the new shed, the third hat. Ninian said the unspelled 'see,' prolonging the verb as was expected of him. In a manner that he meant to build a summer house, only dear me, when you have a family—but there, he didn't know anything about it."

"Never give myself away," he answered. "Say, by George, I never meant of it. I was just saying, telling whether a man's married or not, by his name?" "Why not?" "Why not?" "Why not?" "Why not?"

"Again he laughed. This laughter was intoxicating to Lulu. No one ever laughed at what she said save Herbert, who laughed at her. "Go it, old man," Ninian was thinking, but this did not appear.

"The child Monona now arrived, banging the front gate and hurrying round the house on the board sidewalk, with her foot in the heel of the other and humping forward, head-down, her short, straight hair flapping over her face. She landed flat-footed on the porch. She began to speak, with a ridiculous suggestion of words, scarcely articulate, then in voice in her group. And "Whose dog?" she shrieked.

"Ninian looked over his shoulder, held out his hand, finished something that he had in his hand, and then came to him roughly enough, staring, loose-lipped.

"I'll bet you're a nut," said Ninian, "Relationship being her highest claim, she felt that she was being thrilled by this uncouth, Monona was said to be a nut."

"You folks expect me?" he went on. "Oh, yes," she cried, almost with vengeance. "Why, we've looked for you every day."

and she looked at him. "He was completely like his picture." "She felt, as if she were looking at his picture and she was ashamed and turned away."

"Hello!" said Ninian. "I had the one formula. 'I believe my husband's brother. Ain't this it?'" It had not crossed the mind of Lulu to present him.

CROP FORECAST-ROBS WHEAT OF SUPPORTERS

Speculation Buyers Show Little Interest in Staple Grain at Board Quotations—Corn Also Gaps

CHICAGO, Aug. 9 (AP)—Wheat, corn and oats all established new low record prices for the season today. Weakness appeared to be due primarily to the big yield of corn forecast in the government crop report. The wheat market closed unsteady, 7 1/2 to 1 1/4 not lower, with September 1.05 to 1.05 5/8 and December 1.05 1/4 to 1.05 3/8. Corn finished 1.14 to 1 3/8 to 1 3/4 down, oats off 8-10 to 3-4. In provision the outcome was unchanged to 10c higher.

Although exporters took 600,000 bushels of wheat here and 600,000 to 800,000 bushels at the seaboard, liquidating sales on the part of holders proved to be more than an offset. Speculative demand was of much the restricted character as to be of slight importance in supporting values. The government crop report was regarded as mildly bullish regarding wheat, but this condition was soon shot right, and attention focused instead on the great increase of corn looked for as compared with a month ago.

Osmap that happenings at the international conference in London might adversely affect foreign exchange rates, and situation focused instead on the wheat market, and so to a degree quotations at Liverpool. Another disturbing factor was much selling of September and simultaneous buying of May for leading elevator interests. Besides, it was said shippers here were selling wheat at a loss.

Liquidation sales was evident in the corn market from start to finish. Favorable crop advice and liberal receipts added to the bearish results of the government report. Auto gave way in sympathy.

Packing buying rallied the provision market.

New York Stocks
NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (AP)—Consolidated price movements took place on a relatively dull stock market today, but the undertone continued strong and most important price changes were within narrow limits.

General uncertainty regarding the railroad strike situation more than offset by the government's report of bumper crop conditions. Grangers which will benefit by this increased crop movement, such as Northern, Union and Canadian Pacific, Great Northern, Chicago and Northwest and Erie Marine, closed generally at gains of 1 to nearly 2 points, after an initial display of weakness. Cuban sugar stocks were reactionary as a result of the senate's fixing the tariff on Cuban sugar at 1 1/2 cents a pound, but American Beet Sugar, which will benefit by the increased rate, was up 2-1/4 points.

Motor and shipping shares were again under pressure today.
Grain and wheat shares were in good demand in response to improved grain conditions. There was a good inquiry also for public utilities, Peoples Gas, North American and Philadelphia companies reaching new high records. Total sales were $75,000,000.
Call money opened at 1 1/2 per cent, but hardened to four and thence to 4 1/2 when banks began calling loans, coincident with heavy withdrawals of government deposits. Some small lots were loaned but at 4 1/2 cents a pound, but American Beet Sugar, which will benefit by the increased rate, was up 2-1/4 points.
Business in foreign exchange was restricted because of cable congestion, due to the cutting of lines of the cables by Irish insurgents. The situation held steady, but French and Belgian francs were down about 10 points. German marks also were reactionary and other continental remittances were irregular.

DAIRY EXPERTS ON IDAHO TOUR BOHL'S GUESTS

Eastern Visitors Looking to the State for Possible Development as Dairy Center, Enter Twin Falls Country

BUHL, Aug. 9.—(Special to The News)—Bringing what is said to be one of the greatest opportunities ever offered to the people of a western state, the party of eastern dairy experts and representatives of eastern agricultural publications, invited to Idaho by Governor Davis, arrived here this evening on its investigation of the region for possible development as a center of the country's rapidly growing dairy industry.

With Wisconsin, the present center of dairy farming, capable to expand further into the west, the party of eastern dairy experts, who are here to investigate the possibilities of its own territory and the opportunity if intelligently grasped, of tremendous development in Idaho, are here to find out if Idaho is a possibility for the near future. Mr. Kraus is also a member of the present party.

Mr. Kraus was quoted at Boise as saying: "I am ready to purchase 200,000,000 pounds of cheese from Idaho annually, and am besides willing to establish 300 cheese factories in the state as soon as the government will permit the shipment of dairy maps appropriate."

The second object which is of equal importance to the gaining of direct information by the dairy experts and agricultural journals for use in eastern dairy districts for the guidance of the dairymen there in expanding their activities into the Idaho region, which is the greatest of the western states, is a survey of the dairy industry as it exists on a given acreage as the richest Wisconsin land.

WILL ADVERTISE IN IDAHO Tremendous publicity for the southern Idaho region is expected as a direct result of the visit of the dairy experts. One member of the party, J. H. Engstrom, who was formerly professor of dairying at the University of Idaho, is dairy editor of the Capper's Farm Press, representing the Nebraska Farm Journal, Kansas Farmer, Capper's Farm Journal, and the Dairyman of the West.

isolation of Pocatello. Governor Davis met his guests early Monday morning at Payette. From Payette, the party went to Boise, spending Monday and Tuesday there, leaving Boise Wednesday for Shoshone, spending the day on the Twin Falls North Side, and Wednesday at Buhl. Leaving Buhl Thursday they will motor to Durley, stopping at Twin Falls for lunch, and spending the night at Rupert. Leaving Rupert by train, they will visit the Pocatello region, stopping there Friday night, going north through Idaho Falls and Rexburg to Ashton on Saturday.

TWIN FALLS SEEN AS LOGICAL CENTER FOR HUGE DAIRY INDUSTRY

Chamber of Commerce Points Out Agricultural Resources, Good Roads, and Effects of Farm Evolution as Factors Making for Development Here of Supply for Country's Growing Demand for Dairy Products

Twin Falls is a logical location for a cheese factory, milk condensory or evaporating plant, because of its natural advantages and acquired improvements according to a statement issued Wednesday by the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce.

- 1. The agricultural community surrounding Twin Falls will support a cheese factory, milk condensory or evaporating plant. 2. Twin Falls has good paved and gravelled roads leading into the city, which fact guarantees year-round truck haul service for milk. 3. Twin Falls community has the number of cows necessary to furnish the quantity of milk required for manufacturing a cheese factory or condensory. 4. Twin Falls farms have reached the stage of development in the evolution of agriculture where concentrated methods and highly improved farming require the extension of the dairy industry.

Twin Falls county, the statement says, is the largest producer of farm products in Idaho. It has an area approximately 40 miles square; 280 miles of gravel and hard surfaced roads and more than 1500 miles of standard roads.

Four Wealthy Counties Adjoining counties of Twin Falls, Cassia, Blaine, and Jerome, contain 518,418 irrigated acres and 6924 farms producing crops valued at $22,100,000 last year. Irrigated in the region including 17,420 milk cows, is valued at $14,160,000.

During the year 1921 these four counties shipped out 1029 cars of live stock; 46,705 tons of potatoes; 1810 tons of wheat and flour; 5575 tons of fruit; 15,687 tons of hay, with a total of all commodities forwarded amounting to 559,802 tons. During the same period it received freight shipments with an aggregate weight of 409,012 tons.

The average size of all farms under the Twin Falls canal system, according to estimates of the canal company, is 61 acres. The average value of all farm lands in Twin Falls county is $1200 per acre. Irrigated in the region including 17,420 milk cows, is valued at $14,160,000.

Destined for Dairying. With farms as small as the ones in this district, the statement concludes, the land value as high as that of Idaho, and with crops grown that so readily adapt themselves to the dairy industry, it is only fair to suppose that in the future the production of milk will increase, and with the stimulation that establishment of a cheese factory or milk condensory here would produce, this section of Idaho should become the greatest dairying section in the United States.

Perplexing Problem Faced by Man Whose Wine Store is Gone

Ranchman May Prosecute Alleged Thieves but Will Face Charge of Assault

Whether to prosecute a number of young men for theft of three gallons of home-made wine from his cellar and at the same time to prosecute for assault with one of the jugs containing the wine upon one of the alleged burglars, or to accept the loss of his beverage and dismiss the notion of applying to the law, is the question being debated by a Tilden precinct ranchman, according to a story told with names of persons concerned, omitted by Probation Officer John E. Aull. Both sides of the case have been investigated by the probation officer, and the decision as to subsequent steps in the premises rests upon the dispossessed vintner.

It seems that this ranchman treasured three gallon jugs of home-made wine in his cellar. One day they were missed and his suspicion pointed to a number of young men of the community. Guided by these suspicions the ranchman laid in wait and one evening overhauled the young men in a car on their way to a dance. He recognized one of his jugs in the car. He rode along with them for a way and watching his opportunity, seized the jug and quit the car. Stopping the machine, the youths turned back to recover the jug. The ranchman showed indignation and the jug he fetched it from the head of one of the young men with such emphasis as to render the youth unconscious, and to break the jug so that its contents were wasted on the thirsty soil.
