Soft Coal Strike Virtually Broken as Result of Session Between Operators and Miners at Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Aug. 14. (AP)—The soft coal strike was virtually broken tonight, but prospects were that the actual signing of an agreement between the United Mine Workers and operators, controlling an annual output of 60,000,000 tons, would be delayed until tomorrow. The signing of the contract will actually end the strike in part.

All details of the agreement were accepted in principle by both miners and operators, and the actual drafting of the contract was left to a sub-committee, which continued its work into the night. The actual signing of the contract, President John L. Lewis of the miners said, is expected to follow a meeting tomorrow of the union's policy committee.

As a result of the progress made tonight by operators and miners, Governor Harry L. Davis announced he would call off the conference of governors of five coal producing states that was to have met here to consider the strike situation. He also announced that he would withdraw 100,000 militiamen who were sent into the coal fields recently.

Acceptance Looked For

No exact estimate of the number of miners who will be put back to work under the settlement was obtainable, but estimated between 60,000 and 75,000 men. Altogether there are 450,000 soft coal miners on strike, union officials said. It is expected by them that the operators will accept the settlement effected here but meanwhile the strike will continue at the mines.

Signing of a contract bringing to an end in part the strike that began last April 1, was predicted by those coming from the conference. All essential parts of the contract were understood to have been agreed upon and the actual framing of the agreement was left to a sub-committee. Most of the other conference, however, remained in Cleveland to meet the conference room. Completion of the contract during the night was predicted by those coming from the conference.

The agreement, it was said, would provide for re-establishment of the wage scales that were effective last April 1, and a new contract would run until next March 31.

For Future Action

It was also decided to establish a fact finding committee of advisory powers for dealing with the future negotiations in the soft coal industry. The committee would include representatives of miners and operators, with the personnel to be approved by the president.

Operators controlling approximately 60,000 tons annual production were represented in the conference. Their mines were understood to be in central Pennsylvania, western Pennsylvania, Indiana, Illinois, northern West Virginia and Michigan.

Under the decision of the conference, it was understood that any soft coal mine that might sign a separate agreement, become parties to the agreement, the reopening of these mines to follow immediately. These operators, however, might sign a separate agreement as individuals or by state or district organization.

Breakdown in System

The terms of the system collective bargaining that has grown up in the soft coal industry since 1881. It means the abandonment of the present system of the central office system, comprising western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, as the basis for fixing wages in fields outside that region. In the past, wage contracts have been made for the central field, and those in outlying districts have been based on the central field scale. This is not the first time, however, that the wage making machinery on the central field basis has broken down. It was in 1909, and was not fully re-established until 1910.

The new plan of settlement is a fundamental change in the policy of the United Mine Workers of America and the chief reason the union policy committee of 128 members was called to meet tomorrow to pass on it.

HIGH TENSION MAY RESULT IN SERIOUS BREAK

Situation in Nevada Town Critical — Governor Boyle Appeals to Strike Leaders to Hold Men in Check

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Aug. 14. (AP)—Las Vegas is at a high tension tonight. For two days the town has been without trains, mails or fresh foodstuffs. The supply of the city having been low before the railroad stoppage. State police, armed with machine guns, are expected from Reno but officers here said they feared an outbreak of some sort before the reinforcements arrived.

Approximately 150 persons, railroad shop employees, guards and their wives and children are virtually prisoners in a railroad stockade here and Union Pacific strikers are maintaining pickets outside.

Governor Boyle, who has been here for several days, addressed strikers late today, delivering a warning against a "psychic job." He told them a "psychic job" is to take a job of a plant between strikers and non-striker employees or strikers and officers might lead to something that would prove unprofitable.

Governor Boyle declared the isolation of Las Vegas made the existing situation one fraught with untold danger. He pointed out that "there is more than 300 miles of railway in this state, with all transportation facilities cut off."

Official Addresses Crowds.

District Attorney Harman told the men that an outbreak at this time would unquestionably result in a police inspection, search and arrest with the leaders to hold "hot heads in check."

The 70 men arrested today following last night's shooting in the Union Pacific yards were arraigned tonight in a justice court, following an all-day investigation by Governor Boyle, State Police Inspector Harman and Sheriff Guy. All were charged with "unlawful assemblings to disturb the peace and riot." Additional charges of carrying concealed weapons were lodged against S. Madril and L. Flores. A new warrant served on John E. Bonomo charged him with carrying a concealed weapon. The warrant is the 18th arrest growing out of last night's affair.

RAILROAD CHIEF DEMANDS ACTION

Vice-President of Santa Fe Addresses Strong Message to Brotherhoods

CHICAGO, Aug. 14. (AP)—A demand that the chiefs of the "big four" brotherhoods take steps to end immediately what he denounced as the lawless and inhuman violation of their contracts by the train service crews of the Atchafalpa, Topeka and Santa Fe railways, was made tonight by A. G. Wells, vice president of the road.

In a telegram addressed to Warren S. Stone, head of the engineers; D. B. Robertson of the firemen; W. U. Lee of the trainmen and L. E. Sheppard of the conductors, he asked them whether they would get their men back to work, supply other men to take their place, or "shall the company proceed at once to accept the only alternative left in its duty to the public and engine services of men to fill the places of those on strike?"

"I want an explicit answer on the point from you today," the message ended.

RAIN QUENCHES FIRES

MISSOULA, Aug. 14. (AP)—Rain in all parts of District No. 1 of the forest service has aided the work of quenching the flames and fire-fighting crews are being reduced. Even though some of the fires are not entirely extinguished, forest service officials are optimistic tonight over the outlook for the ending of the fire season this week. Those fires that are still burning are being checked by "control lines," which it is expected will be laid indefinitely.

NON STRIKING RAILROAD MEN IN CONFERENCE

Rejection of President's Offer by Shop Men Fails to Strike Responsive Chord with the Brotherhoods

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—Leaders of the non-striking railroad labor organizations, after a conference tonight at the White House with President Harding, announced that they would continue their efforts at mediation of the existing shopmen's strike and that they would seek to bring the railroad executives into the scope of their mediation endeavors.

Spokesmen for the union leaders after the conference which lasted for two and one-half hours, said they were "gladly" to attend a conference at Los Angeles, but refused to disclose the subject of discussion. The committee was composed of men employed by the Santa Fe and other railroads. It was said that the strikers were holding a court injunction prohibiting picketing.

No Trains Moved

The Western Pacific line in Nevada, particularly at Las Vegas, was the scene of shooting early today. State police with machine guns were ordered to the scene and it was expected that Governor Boyle would have the police supplement the rail guards.

Twelve additional deputy federal marshals were ordered to Roseville, Cal., where the Pacific Fruit Express maintains its icing plants. Twenty deputies have been on duty and a report of the marshal in San Francisco said strikers were holding a court injunction prohibiting picketing.

The general committee of the brotherhoods held a conference at Los Angeles, but refused to disclose the subject of discussion. The committee was composed of men employed by the Santa Fe and other railroads. It was said that the strikers were holding a court injunction prohibiting picketing.

The Explanation

Failure of electric power resulted in a complete tie-up of The News plant at an early hour this morning. With lights out, linotypes silent and press stationary, The News force enjoyed a period of enforced leisure lasting upwards of an hour at what is usually the busiest period of the night — with results which are plainly evidenced by the appearance of this morning's News.

Telephone connection with power plant or sub-station was impossible and no explanation can be offered as to the cause of the sudden cessation of electrical service.

That The News regrets exceedingly the situation resulting in an issue of the paper such as that of today goes without saying.

ACTIVE LIFE OF NORTHCLIFFE IS BROUGHT TO END

Famous London Publisher Succumbs After Hard Fight Against Mysterious Malady; Had Remarkable Career

LONDON, Aug. 14. (AP)—Viscount Northcliffe, famous English publisher, owner of the London Times and other British publications, died at his Carlton Gardens residence at 10:15 o'clock this morning after a lingering illness. Lord Northcliffe was first taken ill following a visit to Germany early this spring and notwithstanding medical efforts in his behalf grew gradually but steadily worse. Hope of his recovery was abandoned about a week ago.

Editor at Seventeen Viscount Northcliffe, the son of an Irish barrister, became an editor at 17 years, owner and publisher of the London Times and Daily Mail, the moulder of public opinion, a man of powerful influence in the making and unmaking of British cabinets and, who with David Lloyd George, contributed in a great measure to arousing England to more vigorous action in the war.

He was created Baron of the Isle of Thanet in 1906 and made a Viscount in 1917 after he had served with distinction as head of the British mission to the United States to coordinate British interests here during the war.

To Viscount Northcliffe is ascribed the arousing of the British public to a knowledge of the fact that the British army in France was insufficiently equipped with high caliber shells. Had British guns on the French front were short of ammunition and that Lord Kitchener, then secretary of state for war, was sending the British abroad while Sir John French, as commander, was appealing for the same kind of high explosives that Germany was hurling over the lines in vast quantities. This exposure has been characterized as one of the outstanding journalistic feats of the war. It resulted in the appointment of David Lloyd George, as the first British minister of munitions and put him on the road to become primo minister.

Public in Dark Owing to it is said, to the rigid censorship which the then Baron Northcliffe himself exercised, the British people knew little about the conduct of the war at that time. They were told of the victories and advances, but it is claimed that the disasters and defeats were not fully revealed. Official England is said to have known for months that the wrong kind of shells were being furnished. Lord Northcliffe knew these conditions because he had visited the front on several occasions. He sent the military correspondent of the London Times, Colonel Repington, to France, and Repington sent and the Times published—a dispatch exposing the situation and attributing the failure of military operations and heavy casualty lists to a deficiency in shells.

This was followed by an editorial criticism of Lord Kitchener who up to that time had been regarded as England's greatest war genius. The revelations and criticism shocked England into quick action. Mr. Lloyd George appealed to the British workmen to back up the British army and England became a vast shop for the manufacture of guns and ammunition. Meantime Florenz Ziegfeld, noted theatrical producer, and his wife, Billie Burke, who met him on his return from Europe. Their pose plainly tells there is nothing in the talk of trouble between them. So undoubtedly the Marilyn Miller-Jack Pickford trouble is all settled.

Lord Northcliffe was denounced on all sides by the Irish press, his newspapers publicly burned in the streets and his life is said to have been threatened.

Demanded More Action Through his newspapers and periodicals, Lord Northcliffe had demanded a more vigorous prosecution of the war. He attacked the government for its failure in the Gallipoli campaign and in Mesopotamia. He demanded that censorship be put into effect. Next he turned his journalistic guns upon Premier H. H. Asquith, denounced the general war committee as a "town meeting" and demanded a compact war cabinet. He supported Lloyd George in a demand for a small and efficient cabinet of which Asquith should not be a member. Mr. Asquith resigned and Lloyd George succeeded him.

Lord Northcliffe had pointed out that America was waging in remaining out of the war until Germany forced her to act. Because of his acquaintance with American conditions, Lloyd George prevailed on him to accept his first public office, contrary to his resolution, and Northcliffe came to the United States as head of the British Mission in which ish conduct in the war. In declining to accept the position, he declared, that the United States was preparing with fervor and enthusiasm for the war, England, wobbled for two years over conception, was dallying with the question of unity of war control, eradication of sedition, mobilization of the whole man and woman power of the country and introduction of compulsory four rationing.

At the conclusion of the war he and Lloyd George were characterized as the "two strongest personalities in British life."

Began in Minor Way Hagen in Chappelrod, Ireland, July 15, 1905. Alton Charles William Harnsworth, Viscount Northcliffe, started his career as a subordinate editor in a publishing house writing answers to correspondents. This suggested to him a newspaper career which he embarked upon by publication of a weekly magazine called "Answers." Succeeding in this and other ventures in publication, he eventually founded the London Daily Mail, the first London morning newspaper to sell for a half penny. He is said to have been the owner of some 60 periodicals having a circulation of 20,000,000 copies.

In 1898 he married Miss Mary Elizabeth Milner, daughter of Robert Milner, of Millington and St. Vincent. One of Viscount Northcliffe's brothers was Baron Rotherham of Hemstead, who with another brother, Hildebrand, was associated with Viscount Northcliffe in journalism.

Reward for Efforts For his services to the government in this and other respects he was made Viscount. Returning to England he was offered the post of air minister. This evoked a letter in which Viscount Northcliffe sharply criticized the British

First Illustrated Book There was a time when the first illustrated book created a veritable sensation. The event, occurred in the year 1911. G. Varro, a rather mediocre writer of ancient Rome, had been struggling for recognition for a good many years, when he suddenly conceived the idea of preparing a volume containing the biographies of 700 of his famous fellow-citizens. History is silent on the rather interesting question whether Varro charged them for his services, but it is told in his praise as the first writer who conceived the idea of illustrating his work with portraits. They were crudely drawn. But they were illustrations all the same, and after that the custom of embellishing historical works with drawings became a fad among the writers of those days.

SPUD CHAMPION WILL BE NAMED

Title to be Conferred Upon Boy or Girl Who Wins First at County Fair

Potato champion of Twin Falls county is the title to be conferred upon the boy or girl in potato club work who wins first place at the Twin Falls county fair at Piler, September 15 to 15.

Potatoes of standard varieties, suited to local conditions, are being raised by boys and girls for exhibition at the fair. In making up the list of selected varieties for the show, many kinds of potatoes in this territory of an inferior sort were left out. One of the big benefits obtained from potato club work in this locality has been this emphasis of standard varieties.

Treatment Prescribed Boys and girls enrolled in potato club work this spring were instructed by club leaders to treat their potatoes with a solution of corrosive sublimate. The potatoes were sunk in this solution before they were planted. This treatment is protecting their potato crop from attacks of early blight, late blight, black scurf, and common scab. As a result, potatoes of a splendid quality are assured for the fall.

A few years ago, potatoes were killed with blight and rot, and it was necessary only to kill the weeds. Now club members are being taught to use lovel cultivation, and stir the ground frequently not only to kill the weeds, but to keep moisture in the ground. The potatoes intended for the show will not be dug until a day or two before the fair.

Prizes offered by the fair for all kinds of children's work this year total $503.00.

Boys Company Special The Boys—Commission company, through its manager, Carl DeLong, will pay the following cash prizes for potatoes shown at the Twin Falls County Fair, September 15 to 16th.

	1st	2nd	3rd
Idaho Rurals	$10	5	$2.50
Irish Cobblers	10	5	2.50
Noted Gems	10	5	2.50

One-half bushel is an exhibit. Prizes to be paid by the Boys Company direct to the exhibitors on receipt of certificate of awards by the Secretary of the Fair.

This special exhibit is open to all growers, and a special booth will be set aside for the display.

Cause of Appendicitis When the bowels are constipated, the lower bowels or large intestine become packed with refuse matter, that is made up largely of germs. These germs enter the vermiform appendix and set up inflammation, which is commonly known as appendicitis. Take Chamberlain's Tablets when needed and keep your bowels regular and you have little to fear from appendicitis.

"IT'S GOOD"

I was using a well known household article when my friend came in.

"Why did you buy that kind?" she asked.

"Because it's good," I told her.

She asked me why. Without realizing what I was doing I gave her several technical reasons for the superiority of that machine. I listed a number of its mechanical advantages and one or more very special conveniences that I felt meant a great deal to me.

My reply surprised even myself. I had not realized I knew so much about it. After I had recited my reasons to her I analyzed my first answer, "It's good," and I found that answer typified all of the specific things I was able to recite about the machine which I had as a matter of fact recently purchased.

It had been widely advertised and I, as a large buyer for a household, always felt that any woman may be guided to safe and satisfactory investments for her own needs and the needs of her family if she will but use the messages which the manufacturers send to her in her newspaper or in her magazine.

Until I had said "it's good."

I did not realize that I had been reading so much about the advantages of the machine which I subsequently purchased. One after the other those messages had gotten into my mind until when asked to do so I was capable of repeating them almost as if I had been a salesman for the company making that article.

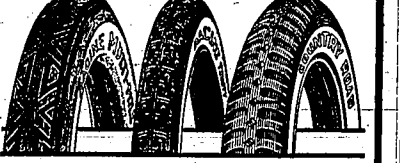

However I realized that the printed message had not really meant so much to me as the repeated appearance. Seeing that article over and over again meant to me that many other women had reached the point where they could purchase it sooner than I and were well satisfied with it.

Almost instinctively the thought took hold of me that when I saw the name of a product appearing again and again I could feel sure that that product was living up to its promise. "I could feel secure in buying it.

If only all women would realize that in whatever they buy—machines or furniture—clothing or food—dress goods or hats—jewelry or toys—they may save themselves, unwise expenditures by seeking the product which through its advertising and behavior after purchase compels its thousands of customers to say, "it's good."

FINAL SESSION IS BROKEN UP

Thirteenth Allied Conference on German Reparations is Virtual Failure

LONDON, Aug. 14 (P)—The thirteenth allied conference on German reparations broke down today, agreeing to disagree on the proposals for both France and Great Britain but it has having been a complete lack of unanimity on the important points discussed.

From its commencement the conference seemed pre-destined to failure, according to the view expressed by those observers of the situation, and these observers tonight are of the opinion that the failure indicates utter incompatibility between the policies of Great Britain and France toward Germany.

To what extent the recent note of the Earl of Halifax contributed to today's results is not yet evidenced by the line of the eleventh hour, attempt by Signor Schanzer, the leading Italian delegate, at mediation with Premier Lloyd George at Chateau near St. Germain, when the Italian foreign minister proposed that discussion of a moratorium on Germany and essential matters should be adjourned until after the various countries had carried out their debt funding negotiations with the United States.

Mr. Lloyd-George submitted this proposition to the conference today, but although it was supported by the other delegates it was opposed by Premier Poincare, and therefore Mr. Lloyd-George declared he was unable to agree to an adjournment of conference without dissent.

The situation now appears to be that the conference has separated without any final agreement on essential matters. The British government holds upon a moratorium as an imperative precedent to any further negotiations. On the other hand, Mr. Poincare resolutely maintains a moratorium, unless it is accompanied by what he calls "guarantees."

Arabs Use Oplum Bait.
A novel way of catching fish by Arabs was described by Lieutenant Commander A. S. Ewell-Sutton in describing the work of the British gunboats on the River Niger above Bahr-el-Ghazal.

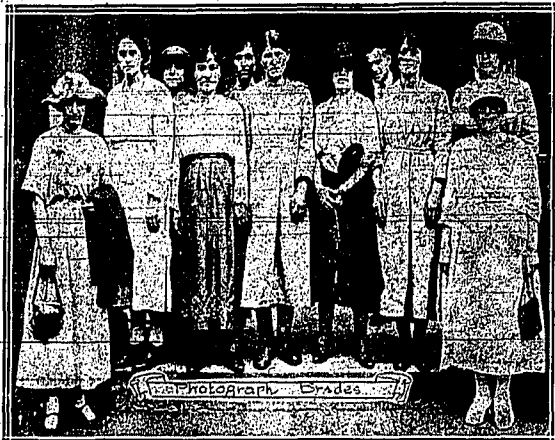

The natives, there, he said, laid a ground bait of lumps of dough containing a small quantity of opium. The fish swallowed the bait, becoming stupefied, floated about with their white bellies upturned. Arabs went in pursuit of them on blown-out sheepskins which they maneuvered with their feet while the hands were free to hold the landing net.

Frank B. DuPre, only nineteen, will be hanged in the Atlanta, Ga., jail in September for the murder of I. C. DuPre shot down the detective and then ran a crowd of street in the heart of the city and into a hotel lobby, where he shot Graham West, proprietor of the City of Atlanta, in the chin. He later sought to disarm him. He escaped to Detroit and was caught there after having written a letter to Betty Andrews, of Atlanta, for whom he tried to steal the ring.

OLD QUARRY TO BE STADIUM

Minutia California Mountain Can Be Paid for Good Idea at Company.

Atively Small Expense.

A short distance from Oakland, and marking the terminus of a popular driveway along the eastern shore of San Francisco bay, is a miniature mountain covering an area of about 5 acres and 135 feet in height. It has furnished a large amount of material for building purposes, its bowels being quarried out in such fashion as to leave only a shell of the original hill.

About a million and a half cubic yards of stone have been removed by quarrying from the inside of the hill, which has been thereby converted into a sort of rotunda amphitheater, with a flat, smooth floor and an entrance through one side, represented by a straight and narrow tunnel, this passage of entrance and exit being used as a stage for the "busted rock" to which many of the hills.

To some ingenious person the idea occurred that the hollow hill might be utilized for a stadium, and the scheme is soon to be carried out, the hill being obtained by purchase from the quarry company. It has cost the company $1,500,000 to create the amphitheater as it stands (which is so much to the good from the buyers' point of view), and the expense of putting it in shape for the contemplated purpose will be relatively small.

The above-mentioned tunnel is to be converted into an ornamental entrance, with concrete columns. Directly opposite it is a vertical cliff more than 100 feet high and 200 feet wide against which a concrete stage will be built. The floor (providing for a great arena) will be encased by a concrete wall, from which concrete seats will rise in tiers, with six concrete stairways.

Everything about the Stone Bowl, as it is to be called, will be extremely Greek. It will have seating capacity of 125,000 persons, and the arena will be large enough for football and baseball games, with a running track around it.

STUDY AND WORK

Columbia Students Give Cafeteria an "Atmosphere."

Variety of Races and Countries Represented in Small New York Eating Place.

There is one cafeteria in New York where the dishwashers discuss relatively the fourth dimension, where the countermeasures have plastic degrees, where the bus boys are prepared to give an opinion on the Genoa conference, the the Italian agreement, this cafeteria is located in a one-story building just back of the massive grandiose library of Columbia university and is best known by its title of "commissary," the New York Sun points out.

Needy students are given all the jobs in this cafeteria, with the exception of some managerial positions and those in the culinary department.

A visit to this cafeteria a little after noon on a week day in the company of one familiar with the place and its inmates will yield some interesting information. The student who serves the soup, for example, is a Nova Scotian. A student of journalism, he is carrying his way through by free lanceing and by doing odd bits of work. Beside him is a Greek, in this country only a year, but already a master of English.

The dark-skinned man at the griddle is a native of Turkestan, a penniless student. He has announced his intention of leaving Columbia at the end of the present semester to continue his studies at Iowa State university, because the expenses are less at the latter institution. The 1,100 miles from New York to Iowa he is to travel by amulating Jack London in his adventures days. This man will practice in Iowa when he has finished his education.

Behind the salad counter stand two Chinese students, both beneficiaries of provincial government scholarships worth about $30 a month. There are more than 300 Chinese students in New York city alone, it is said, and more than 2,000 in the whole country.

Mostly sent here by their governments, at the present moment is a Japanese.

Further along are to be found native American countermeasures, like the other, obliged to earn their way through college. The man who operates the butter cutting machine was a seaman all the early years of his life and went up as far as a third mate's berth before he decided to chisel the sea and get an education. He has four years of college, and two in a professional school behind of him, even after he works out his matriculation requirements. Besides this work at the cafeteria he has a job taking care of an old man, a paralytic.

PARIS ETCHER FOUND ARTIST

Marketed Prints Which Brought Fame to Soldier of the American Expeditionary Force.

Alonso O. Webb, the American soldier who has won sudden fame in Paris art circles by his distinctive etchings, was content to pass his quiet days, whether having his etchings printed by the old-fashioned process called "litho douce," the printer said: "Why don't you sell these etchings?" "They're not good enough," replied Webb.

"You're crazy," said the printer: "You wouldn't mind selling them, would you? Don't you need the money?"

"Yes, God knows I need it, but I never thought of selling these things," rejoined Webb.

The old man gave Webb a note to a dealer in the Rue de Rivoli who took "litho" one each of five prints. The very next day Webb received a letter at his home at Badouy, advising for three more to replace those the dealer had sold the first day.

"That must have been a happy morning at Bellevue," I remarked, somewhat stirred at this turning point in the life story.

"Not especially," Webb replied. "I'm partly Scotch and don't often get excited. I take good luck just as I take bad. I rarely even tell about good luck."

"But don't you deprive yourself of a delightful thrill?"

"The pleasure is no less in the negative. I take it in a quieter form; it lasts longer and there is no repetition." Charles H. Gray in the New York Times.

One Consolation.
There's one good thing about being a nobody. When you make an ass of yourself, the newspapers don't send reporters for the particulars.

Same Old Story But a Good One.
Mrs. Mahala Burns, Savannah, Mo., writes an experience, the like of which has happened in almost every neighborhood in this country, and has been told and related by thousands of others, as follows: I used a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough and Diarrhoea Remedy about three years ago and it cured me of flux (gastroenteritis). I had another attack of the same complaint three or four years ago and a few doses of this remedy cured me. I have recommended it to dozens of people since I first used it and still continue to do so for I know it is a simple and positive cure for bowel troubles.—Adv.

HAVE NO WORRY ABOUT DATES

In Fortunate Albania They Know Nothing of Such Things as Calendars or Clocks.

Calendars and clocks are luxuries in Albania. The untutored peasantry know only three periods of time—morning, noon and night, and two seasons of the year, winter and summer. Days and dates are Sanskrit to them. Nor have they any conception of distances. When a traveler asks an Albanian the distance of one point from another, he never answers in miles or kilometers, but "It is half a day, it is two days, it is a week." When an Albanian makes an appointment, he is considered to have kept it if he comes within two or three hours of the time set.

With the absence of calendars the people naturally do not know their correct ages, especially those in the country districts. In this respect the women of Albania enjoy an advantage over their sisters in foreign countries who guard so jealously the secret of their years. After the age of an Albanian woman is unknown even to herself.

HOPE EXPRESSED IN OUTCOME OF JOINT MEETING

White House Conference Devoted to Close Study of Details of Plan to be Offered Coal Miners

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—The whole coal situation with especial reference to conditions arising from the anthracite strike and phases of the conference to be held in Philadelphia Wednesday between anthracite operators of Pennsylvania and officials of the United Mine Workers of America, were said to have been discussed at a White House conference tonight participated in by Dwight H. Hooper, Secretary Hoover, Governor Sprout of Pennsylvania and Senator Hooper of that state.

At the conclusion of the conference, Senator Hooper expressed the belief that "an adjustment of all differences for the time being at least," would be accomplished at the Philadelphia meeting.

Senator Hooper explained that he had given the president all the details of his recent negotiations with the operators in Philadelphia and that he had been "commissioned by the president to induce the operators" to meet in joint conference with John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers. Tonight's conference, it was added, was arranged at the suggestion of Mr. Harding when the latter learned that Governor Sprout was to arrive here this evening.

After the conference had been in progress for more than an hour and one-half Secretary Hoover left for a few minutes and stated that one of the subjects under discussion involved plans for the distribution of coal. The anthracite situation appeared to be the main topic under consideration, it being said that the bituminous question had not been discussed. The conference, it was explained, had been arranged at the suggestion of President Harding when informed that Governor Sprout would arrive here tonight with Senator Hooper. The president, it was added, also requested Secretary Hoover to attend.

The Japanese paper Mainichi brings the information that the Christian school "Kwanan-Gakulin" in Kobe, and the Buddhist "Koyama College" have entered into an agreement according to which Christian preachers are to lecture to the Buddhist students on Christianity, and the Buddhist lecturers are to speak on their religion in the Christian school. The initial lectures have already been given.

Every day in the school year 14,000 children motor to school in North Carolina. Consultation of the one-room rural schoolhouses into high grade central schools is going forward rapidly in this state. ### Unmarried Americans

KNEW ALL ABOUT "LA GRIPPE"

People of the Eighteenth Century Suffered From Its Attacks as Do Those of Today.

Amid all our sufferings from the "grip," "Russian influenza," "hills butlers," "Spanish influenza," "flu" et id omnia genera, the name and writings of Sebastian Mercur, are too much forgotten. In his picturesque "Tableau de Paris" is to be found the following passage on the "grippe," written in 1757, which might have been written today:

"Almost every year toward the middle of November occur catarrhal indispositions caused by the presence of a humid and cold atmosphere and fog—which suppress transpiration. Many die of it, the Parisians, who laugh at everything, call these colds the 'grippe,' the 'flut,' but the laugher three days later is himself 'gripped' by it and goes down to the grave."

"Somehow from old times and theater halls to the open air makes this suppression of the transpiration almost unavoidable. The new fashion of wearing long cloaks is excellent. It gives protection against the cold, taking good exercise is very a sure remedy. The women who are compelled to wait some time for their carriages—those charming, delicate women I see shivering along the sidewalks and porches—should consider that their dresses are not sufficient to protect them against mishaps."

What would he have said to the abbreviated skirts of today?

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. DeWitt on Sixth avenue north was the scene of a social gathering Monday morning at 11 o'clock, when their daughter, Miss Faith, became the bride of Kenneth Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Moore. Rev. E. L. White of the Methodist church officiated, using the beautiful ring ceremony. The bride wore a handsome brown panne velvet gown and carried a bouquet of roses. Only relatives and close friends were in attendance. Immediately after the ceremony the young couple left for a motor trip to Boise and other points in southern Idaho. Upon their return they will be at home at 428 Fifth avenue north.

Mrs. John W. Graham entertained at bridge Monday evening in honor of her sister, Miss Laura MacDonell. At the conclusion of the card party refreshments were served. Those present were Mrs. C. E. Booth, Mrs. E. A. Walters, Mrs. O. D. Thomas, Mrs. O. A. Robinson, Mrs. Donald McLean, Mrs. Burton E. Moran, Mrs. Shad L. Hodgins, Mrs. W. R. Prieb, Mrs. Dorman Johnson, Mrs. J. H. Wise, Mrs. W. E. Following dinner the evening was spent socially at the Sweeley home on Eighth avenue north.

C. L. McNew, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. McNew, celebrated his ninth birthday Monday afternoon with a swimming party at the natatorium for fourteen of his boy friends. They were taken out in cars by his mother and uncle, E. F. Aubury, and after the jolly time in the pool they returned to the city park where they enjoyed a watermelon feast. The guests were Harold Gray, Hoyl Hyndale, Clarence Stein, Delbert Wilson, Van Ballantyne, Jack Dwight, Roy Reed, Jr., Frank Peavoy, Donald Smock, Stanley Ludwig, Meredith and Bernard Dickerson, Doran and Carl Paster.

Mrs. Joe Cordes was hostess to the Salmon Social club at their last meeting. An extremely pleasant social afternoon was spent with sewing and conversation. There was a good attendance and Mrs. Cordes served delicious refreshments late in the afternoon. The next meeting will be with Mrs. George Catherston on August 24.

Changes in the Pliades.

The question presents itself whether three stars of the constellation of the Pliades have less brilliancy than formerly, or whether prehistoric man had a better sight than ours, or if he was wiser to climb up the mountain to examine the four great stars, or if the atmosphere of past ages was purer than ours? This problem arises from the fact that we see from below only seven of the stars of the Pliades and that the last three stars can only be seen by ascending to the highest altitude, while there have just been discovered stones dating from prehistoric times upon which the ten stars are engraved. This interesting question in astronomy and archeology has been broached to the French Academy of Sciences by M. Bigourdan.

"Why Not Say the Wedding Service?" Asked Ninlan.

They developed this theme extravagantly. Dwigth usually speaking in the third person and always with his shoulder turned a bit from his wife.

"You could see everything they said," she added. "It was" she dwined to silence.

Dwigth Herbert swayed his rarebit with a great show of long-winded simplicity.

"Excellent" since they make her excellent," he said, with the firm of an epure. "As they sit in front of Athabasca," he added, and they all laughed and told him that Athabasca was a hot city of course.

"Got to amuse ourselves somehow. Come, live up. They've begun to read the funeral service over us."
