Soft Coal Men Resuming Work on Wide Scale

Miners Prepare to Return to Jobs Following Agreement Reached at General Conference at Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Aug. 15. (AP)—Immediate resumption of work in bituminous mines throughout seven states was ordered tonight and in some places the cutting of coal will be started tomorrow.

The formal break in the strike came at 3:10 p. m. when the scale agreement was signed by the unanimous vote of the miners and operators at their joint conference.

Plans for extending the break of the strike also were made by the union men. Frank Farrington, the Illinois miners' president, announced that he would ask Illinois operators to meet the union's district scale committee at Chicago on Friday.

Under the policy laid down today by the union, operators will be required to accept the interstate agreement, made at the general conference here, as the basis for their contracts with the union.

Both the miners and the operators said secret meetings to ratify the agreement before joining in the afternoon conference where unanimous approval was voted, to be followed by the signing of the document.

HARDING MAKES PLEDGE TO AID RAILWAY LINES

President Will Lay Facts of Strike Before Congress in Message Guaranteeing Maintenance of Rail Service

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13. (AP)—Congress and the country will be informed within 30 hours of the Harding of every fact in the railroad strike situation as he views it, and also—administration advisors said today—will be given an expression of his determination to give the full aid and protection of the federal government to maintenance of railway operations.

Meanwhile, there emerged today from the almost continuous sessions here of the transportation labor organization heads an invitation to the Association of Railway Executives to reopen negotiations for a compromise settlement of the shopmen's strike, an official at the White House who has been negotiating between management and employees said, adding that the president does not wish to hinder attempts of the railroad unions not on strike to mediate for their associates.

Will Support Law

President Harding tonight moved to support the interstate commerce commission in enforcing safety laws, which will be shortly reauthorized by locomotives from service on important carriers.

Leaders of the striking railroad unions now in Washington indicated their disposition to "accept" the new "peace" of safety laws that would be authorized by their later signing President Harding's final proposals for a compromise settlement of the strike.

Unveiling of Statue at Portland Draws Significant Comment From Executive

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15. (AP)—Tactics of the late Theodore Roosevelt in dealing, as president, with public problems, were recalled today by President Harding, who, in a telegram to Dr. Henry Waldo Coe of Portland, Ore., declared it was characteristic of Mr. Roosevelt's genius that he "always studied and inquired with infatigable patience until he unerringly recognized the comparative importance of elements involved in public problems and then courageously dealt with them in direct and vigorous fashion."

"It was a method worthy the emulation of all who would serve as he served," the president added, "and I trust that the nation may find that his example has not been forgotten."

Railway Executives Agree to Conference in Interests of Settlement of Strike Fixed for Thursday

NEW YORK, Aug. 15. (AP)—The Association of Railway Executives tonight granted the request of the five railroad brotherhoods for a conference looking toward the settlement of the shopmen's strike, and agreed to meet the union representatives here next Thursday.

T. B. Chinkler, assistant to T. Devitt Cuyler, chairman of the Association of Railway Executives, who made the announcement, said that the same committee of rail chiefs which conferred with President Harding in Washington on Saturday, would represent the industry at the conference.

On the receipt of the request from Warren S. Stone, chairman of the conference of railroad labor organizations in Washington, to confer in an effort to avert what the union leaders termed "the crisis which is approaching the railroads" as an informal meeting of eastern railroad presidents was called by Chairman Cuyler.

County Convention Sends Un-instructed Delegation to Wallace; Endorses Congressman Smith

Smith and his work for the reclamation of Idaho's arid lands, and the other calling upon the state board of equalization for a revision downward of Twin Falls county farm and city property valuations for tax assessment purposes.

Suggestion that a committee be named from the convention to gather data in support of the contention for this revision was voted down and as a substitute action it was decided to refer the suggestion to a later meeting of republicans convened as taxpayers.

The resolution which asked that property valuations was adopted in an amended form, the amendment being suggested by G. A. Robinson and accepted by Mr. Swesley.

Suggests Another Meeting

After the vote Mr. Swesley suggested that the proposition be presented at a meeting of the delegates, and others convened as individual taxpayers.

Perishable Freight and Livestock to Move Over Southern Pacific Lines Following the Agreement with Big Four

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15. (P)—The Southern Pacific company lifted its embargo late today on the shipment of perishable freight and livestock which was declared on account of a strike of train crews at Rosville, Cal. An agreement was reached at a conference by which the crews of the Big Four Rail Brotherhoods returned to work.

Ballroads in the southwest reported progress in the movement of trains and in conferences with members of the big four brotherhoods of trainmen in California during the week. Trains were stopped on some of the roads last Thursday when brotherhood men alleged they were endangered by guards placed to protect property because of the shipmen's strike and detective equipment.

The Southern Pacific succeeded in getting its trainmen and switchmen at Rosville and Tracy, Cal., two important points in the movement of freight and passengers, to return to work.

Shippers and growers of fruit in central California immediately resumed picking of fruit and the lead cars at Rosville began to move. Oregon shippers also were advised to resume picking of fruit.

The Santa Fe sent two trains from Los Angeles to Berkeley, Cal., and the other towards Chicago. Both trains were crowded with passengers. The train that left Los Angeles yesterday for Chicago reached Gallatin, N. M., today, with a regular crew of engineers. Santa Fe passenger trains were moved in New Mexico and Arizona, but an attempt was made to move freight trains.

Good Progress Reported
The Western Pacific announced it was making progress in its conferences with trainmen and expected to start an overland train eastward tomorrow. No trains have moved on the Western Pacific for three days.

The Union Pacific's line from Salt Lake City to Los Angeles continued to be held up as in movement of trains. Locomotives were started for Las Vegas, Nevada, to move freight, and if this is successful, passenger trains will be moved. The contingent of state police of Nevada, which left Reno overnight for Las Vegas yesterday, has not arrived yet, the auto truck train being delayed by bad roads. Until the state police arrive, special police named from among the strikers will preserve order at Las Vegas.

No action had been taken in western states late today on the telegram that Warron S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, sent notifying members of the union, who walked out without authorization, to return to work. None of the officials of the local union would admit having received such instructions.

German Government Notifies Allies Amount How Do Will Not Be Met

BERLIN, Aug. 15 (P)—The German government today addressed a note to the British, French, Italian and Belgian governments, declaring that in consequence of the demand for foreign currency to pay for urgently needed necessities of life, and in consequence of the fall in value of the mark, it could not meet the clearing house installments of 2,000,000 pounds due today in payment of pre-war debts to allied nationals.

DEMAND ABSOLUTE RULING

Intermediate Rate Association to Ask New Law on Long and Short Haul

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 16 (P)—The Intermediate Rate Association, composed of representatives of chambers of commerce and trade bodies in eight western states, has declined to inaugurate at once a vigorous campaign to have the present congress enact an absolute short and long haul law. Members of the association meeting here declined to take any part in the discussion of the proposed legislation which would place the interstate steamship carriers under the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission for rate-fixing purposes.

In addition to their campaign for an absolute short and long haul clause, the association determined to prepare immediately a complaint in which the interstate commerce commission will be asked to establish graded freight of terminal rates on westbound freight hauling to intermediate points. At present most cities in the intermediate rate association territory pay the same rates on commodities coming from the east as do Pacific coast terminal cities.

The present W. S. McCarthy of the association was directed to name a committee representing Utah, Idaho, Washington, Nevada, California, Montana, Wyoming, Arizona and New Mexico to prepare the complaint, which asks for separate rates of what western shippers terms discrimination in the present rate system.

The association devoted considerable attention to a discussion of ways in which state appropriations can be secured for the furthering of the traffic interests of the intermediate producers and shippers.

COAL MINERS TO RETURN TO WORK

Approximately 1200 Union Men to Go Back to Jobs in Oklahoma and Arkansas

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Aug. 15 (P)—Approximately 1200 union coal miners in Oklahoma and Arkansas, who have been idle since April 1, will return to work tomorrow morning under the agreement reached at Cleveland, Ohio, today permitting operators to sign contracts either individually or collectively.

This announcement was made in a telegram from John Wilkinson, president of United Mine Workers of America, district No. 12, received at union headquarters. Wilkinson attended the Cleveland conference.

IRISHMEN PAY TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF LEADER

Thousands View Remains of Griffith, Prominent Figure in Annals of Country

DUBLIN, Aug. 15 (P)—Thousands of Irish countrymen, for whose freedom he fought, for whose emancipation he gave his life, viewed the body of Arthur Griffith as it lay in state in the city hall, directly under the statue of Parnell, whose uplifted arm seemed to beckon the laborer for the Irish people to see the promised land of Irish freedom, but is not fated to enter it; Parnell was cut down with his work still unfinished.

The free state leader, weakened by his excess labor for the Irish cause, went to his end a martyr to that cause and now rests in a simple mahogany coffin guarded by four free state soldiers.

Straggled around the saloons where the boys are making a martini of some of the notable men in Irish history—Cash Drummond, the English anti-secretary, whom Irishmen always found sympathetic in their century-old struggle for liberty; Gartery, the famous Irish poet; and others.

Patently the great multitude formed a line stretching for several blocks, waiting their turn to pass the coffin and pay silent tribute. Men, women and children, even mothers with babies in arms, all paused before the bier to say a short prayer for Arthur Griffith; some of them also uttered prayers for Ireland.

Whole Country Affected

The country has been stunned by the sudden death of the leader; Parnell's statue, draped in mourning, appears to symbolize the grief of the thousands who admired him. The coffin is covered by the Irish colors, green, white and yellow.

All Dublin is discussing the statement made by Mr. Collins, it being regarded as a bid for Eamon de Valera to abandon the civil warfare and unite in the common cause of building up the Irish free state.

Mr. Griffith's death places a heavy burden on the shoulders of Collins. He has made it clear, however, that he will not give up the direction of the army until trouble is ended, saying: "This job will be carried out to the best of my ability."

Snake "Played Possum"

Noting many small birds, chiefly sparrows, white-checked bulbuls and wagtails, hovering round the base of a date palm and every now and then darting at it with much noise, I went to investigate. I found coiled on the ribs of the palm a green snake about three feet long, looking as though dead. It was absolutely inert, and its tail had been almost completely severed from the body without its motion from the tip. On closer inspection, I noticed a flicker in the snake's eye, and on touching it with a piece of scrap iron which I picked up nearby, intending to kill it, it leaped forward like a flash of lightning, and, after a pause, dived into a stream and disappeared among the reeds—London Field.

When to Go Home

Mr. Meek and his wife had just settled themselves in their seats at the "morlo" when three large, buxom women took seats in front of them, cutting off their view of the screen. "If you look the soul of a worm," declared Mrs. Meek angrily to her spouse, "you'd do something." "Ehuh, my dear," replied Mr. Meek. "There's one thing anyway—when everybody gets up, we'll know it is time to go home"—From the American Legion Weekly.

The Test of Good Will

Most manufacturers appreciate the importance of good will on the part of the dealer, and count it one of their greatest assets. But many of them need to consider more thoroughly in what good will consists.

The final test of good will is the salability of the product—the consumer demand.

The dealer may be willing to concede the high standing and prestige of the manufacturer. He acknowledges freely that it is one of the foremost concerns in the business, that it is backed by men who have a solid reputation in their industry, and that its relations with the dealer are business-like and pleasant. He is disposed to estimate all these things at full value.

But all this good will cannot materially help the dealer sell your goods unless the public is disposed to buy them.

The kind of good will that counts most with the dealer is the good will of the public towards your goods.

If the consumer is demanding your product, and the dealer is able to supply it at a profit, he will have ample good will for the house that makes this possible.

There is just one way to build up this consumer good will, and that is by making the product right and telling the consumer about its merits through Advertising.

With the consumer demanding your product, and the dealer disposed to give it every preference, its steady sale is certain. Good will becomes a big reality in business when that good will extends to the consumer. More and better advertising will create the kind of good will that every manufacturer needs most.

When dehydrated vegetables are stored in airtight containers at ordinary temperatures investigations show that their moisture content is an important factor in their preservation. There is a "critical moisture content" below which the distinctive color and taste retained unimpaired for upward of six months. Lurid Story of Eventful Ocean Cruise Laid Bare Through Legal Action to Stop Alleged Extortion

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 15, (AP)—Mrs. Sarah Byfield, whose husband was charged by Walter T. Candler with having extracted a $25,000 check from him while the two were on route to Europe in July, was reported today as seriously ill at her home here at the same time that her husband, Clyde K. Byfield, a local automobile dealer, issued a statement denying the accusation of blackmail.

Mr. Candler, in a petition filed in superior court and made public yesterday, sought to restrain Mr. Byfield from collecting a 30-day note for $25,000, which Mr. Candler asserted he had given along with certain cash in exchange for the check. Today Candler's son, An O. Candler, Atlanta capitalist, issued a statement declaring there were "many glaring mistakes" in the automobile dealer's charges. He also denied having struggled with Mr. Byfield's 21-year-old wife as the husband alleged, and added "as the case is to be tried in court, I will make no further statement."

Candler's petition alleged that Byfield's statement, and asked that Byfield be restrained from collecting on a note of $25,000 which the petitioner said he had given, with $2,000 in cash and Byfield's notes for $25,000 in exchange for a check for $25,000.

Champagne With Dinner

Mr. Byfield said he and Mrs. Byfield and Mr. Candler dined with other passengers on the night of July 10, and that while champagne was served, "neither myself, my wife nor Candler became intoxicated."

Alleging he was attracted to his wife's statement by her outcries, his statement said: "I sprang to the stateroom and opened the door. I saw Candler in a struggle with my wife; the bed covers were stripped and her night clothes were disheveled. I was unarmed; did not have a pocket knife, but with my naked hands I did my best to kill him. I lost all reason, all sense of right and justice, and to my shame forgetting that my wife and child were in the room, I assaulted my wife as well as Candler."

Other people, it continued, intervened, and separated the combatants.

Mr. Byfield said he was in a dazed condition, unable to remember the names and short of funds when they reached France, adding:

"In this dazed and helpless condition, Candler himself came, cringing and cowardly, and begged me to let him, as best he could, make amends for his wrong to me. He reminded me that, as a result of the night's horror, my business was ruined and that $25,000 would not be more than just compensation. He then made no denial or excuse for his conduct, but freely admitted it in the presence of one of the ship's inspectors. In an 'evil hour, dazed, hopeless and desperate, on the morning after the outrage, I took a check for $25,000."

Two days later in Paris, the statement says, the check was exchanged for notes and a certain sum of money which enabled them to get home. "At the same time," the statement said, "I signed the letter (absolutely false), extorting Candler. There was no pretense by Candler or anyone else that the letter was the truth."

Letter Exonerates Candler.

The letter referred to by Mr. Byfield which was made public by Mr. Candler's attorney, was dated Paris, July 7, and addressed to Mr. Walter T. Candler, as follows:

"In regard to our misunderstanding, I wish to say to you that I want to withdraw the statement I made against you in regard to my accusing you of being ill, forgetting that my wife, Sarah Byfield, on board the steamer Berengaria. These statements were made in a moment of anger, and I am writing this letter in order to do you justice, and all the statements I made at the time and in the presence of my wife, and of an officer of the ship, to you of my own free will and accord and without any intimidation.

"Yours truly,
"C. K. BYFIELD."

OPERATORS WELL PLEASED

Agreement with Coal Miners Regarded as Real Victory

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 15, (AP)—The bituminous coal operators of the country have won a decisive victory as a result of the United Mine Workers of America, who have been contending for a four-year agreement, signing an agreement with individual operators at the Cleveland meeting of W. Kavanaugh, president of the coal operators' association of the Fifth and Ninth districts of Illinois, declared tonight.

WORLD FINANCE PROBLEM

Vice-President Coolidge Declares Money Matters of Greatest Concern

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 15, (AP)—Problems facing America and the methods of the administration in meeting them were the theme of an address by Vice President Coolidge at the audit forum here tonight.

The vice president was introduced by Governor Ben W. Olcott, who was present to the audience by John K. Kollock, head of the American Alliance National of Portland, which sponsored the appearance of Mr. Coolidge at the meeting.

National finances, said Vice President Coolidge, were now the chief concern of all the people of the earth. It was his duty to call attention to the expenditures of the United States and to call for a more conservative policy, but since that great conflict, involving as it did the expenditure of billions, thought of all turned toward how this great debt could be reduced.

OLD CHARGE IS BASIS OF SUIT

Governor Russell of Mississippi Made Defendant in Second Court Action

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 15, (AP)—Miss Frances Hickman of New Orleans today filed suit for $100,000 damages against Leo M. Russell, governor of Mississippi, in the United States district court for northern Mississippi at the instance of the governor.

The allegations made in the suit filed today are identical with those in the two previous suits filed by Miss Hickman against the governor. The first of these suits was filed in the United States court for southern Mississippi, was thrown out of court on grounds of lack of jurisdiction and the second, filed in the state circuit court at Oxford, is set for trial at the September term of court.

MOTHER SECURES PARDON

President Harding Listens to Plea for Clemency for Erving Son

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Aug. 15, (AP)—Mortimer M. Anderson, 63, who traveled west last January from Sioux Falls, S. D., to Washington, D. C., to ask President Harding to pardon her son, was rewarded today when her son, Joseph Anderson, 10, left the federal penitentiary here.

Mrs. Anderson had searched more than two years for her son, trailing across country and visiting practically every penitentiary in the United States. In January, 1921, she found her son serving a sentence in the disciplinary barracks at Fort Leavenworth for desertion and fraudulent enlistment. In the company of the sentence, a military prison, Anderson was re-arrested at the prison gate by Sheriff Wilson, who had authority from Cheyenne, Wyo., where the man was wanted on a charge of postoffice money order forgery.

BREAK GROUND FOR STATUE

Memory of Late Colonel Roosevelt to be Commemorated at Portland

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 15, (AP)—Three times a golden spade, held in the hands of Vice President Calvin Coolidge, sank into the ground today and on each occasion lifted out a head of dirt, marking the spot where a few months hence, will rise an equestrian statue of the late Theodore Roosevelt, donated to Portland by Dr. Harry Wald Coe. Thousands of persons gathered to view the ground-breaking ceremony.

Before actually breaking the ground, Mr. Coolidge paid tribute to Colonel Roosevelt, who, he said, though born in New York city, with a physical handicap difficult to overcome, was possessed of that resourcefulness and love of humanity which enabled him in the end to come before his fellow Americans as a man sprung from the soil.

"He loved the great outdoors, he loved the activities of life, he calmed the scientific that mark the hearts of all those who were like-minded when he said 'We are to live the strenuous life.' He represented that more than anything else," said Mr. Coolidge.

INDIANA MINES MAY ALL OPEN

Prospects for General Resumption of Work Are Declared Highly Favorable

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 15, (AP)—Prospects for a general resumption of mining in Indiana by the end of the present week are favorable, operators here predicted today, following the signing of the Cleveland agreement.

Although only a small number of Indiana operators were at Cleveland, it was understood here that a substantial tonnage is ready to sign the agreement.

The state committee of the Indiana Bituminous Coal Operators' association will meet in Terre Haute tomorrow and the Cleveland agreement will be considered.

Morton L. Gould, president of the association, declined to predict the committee's attitude but influential operators asserted that without a doubt a majority would be favorable to a resumption of mining on the basis of the agreement.

BEGINS RIRING MEN

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 15, (AP)—The Southern railway today began employing new men to take the places of its striking shufflers. It was announced at the local offices in a statement coming from Vice President Miller.

SOFT COAL MEN

"The interstate agreement" executed with operators, having a production of 600,000,000 tons," Mr. Lewis said, "will become the basic agreement for the bituminous industry throughout the country and I anticipate that in a comparatively few days supplemental agreements with groups of operators and individual operators will be executed with the majority of the operators whose mines are now on strike."

"The plan of settlement is based on a broad constructive premise, which carries with it substantial hope for a material improvement in the methods of collective bargaining in the industry and gives assurance that constructive reforms will be inaugurated, eliminating some of the organic ailments of the bituminous coal industry. Such reforms will not only operate as a preventive of future conflicts of the magnitude of this one, but will serve to protect the public interest and restore mutual confidence and respect between the coal operators and the mine workers."

To Conclude Conference.

Mr. Lewis and other union officials will remain here tomorrow to conclude conferences with operators but they expect the miners' officials to depart for their homes to seek negotiations with the operators here.

The conference here was postponed until Thursday. It will be held at Philadelphia.

No Illinois operators signed the agreement but one of them, Richard Campbell of Springfield, attended the conference.

DOES NOT SETTLE STRIKE

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 15, (AP)—The agreement between soft coal operators and miners in conference at Cleveland today will in no way settle the nation-wide strike, nor does it bind the operators in any of the states not represented at Cleveland, Harry N. Taylor, president of Southwestern Interstate Coal Operators' association, declared in a statement to 'The Associated Press' late today.

HARDING MAKES PLEDGE

What action will be taken with reference to the Kentucky walkouts and those in the bordering territory south of the Ohio, the attorney general said the department did not care to disclose at this time.

The union leaders contingent held their usual conference today, the "brotherhood" officials who have decried themselves mediators of the strikers taking occasion to visit members of the board. The final decision was requested a direct reopening of negotiations with the railroad executives resulted, participants said, from a meeting late last night between Warren S. Stone, chief of engineers, and Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio, who had acted separately from the national railroad organization at times during the strike.

Ask Men to Return.

E. E. Sheppard, president of the order of conductors, and Mr. Stone both sent messages during the day to workers, who members of their organization have walked out, seeking to induce a return. They indicated that union officials would be sent to all the affected plants.

"We are trying to keep the lines open, and to prevent our men from breaking their working contracts," Mr. Stone asserted in discussing the action taken in the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe walkouts.

It appeared by the disposition of the striking craft leaders to await the outcome of the new peace efforts of their associates, before making any move. W. M. Jewell, their chairman, explained that the issuance of their letter rejecting President Harding's proposals, was merely to make the facts public and carried no other significance.

The president was said today to consider that the coal strike soon would cease to be a serious factor in the situation, though his message may deal with consequences which have to be faced as a result of that controversy. Senator Lodge, the republican senate leader, has arranged a conference at the White House for tomorrow morning to discuss the terms of the expected message.

JOHNNY DUNDEE DEFEATS FRUSH

New York Man Wins in Ninth Round Before Crowd Estimated at 18,000

NEW YORK, Aug. 15, (AP)—Johnny Dundee of New York, knocked out Danny Frush in the ninth round of a 10-round bout tonight at Abbot's field, Frush had taken a count of nine in the eighth round.

Frush rocked Dundee in the fourth round but Johnny returned severe rights and lefts to the head. A crowd of 18,000 clamored for action in the fifth and Dundee, falling into his boozing style, let loose a left jab and Frush became dizzy. The Cleveland counterer effectively with both hands but was beaten again in the sixth from long range.

Use Left Hand.

Dundee baited Frush into leading in the seventh and then used his left effectively. He sent Frush to the floor in the eighth with a right to the stomach and the Clevelander walked for a count of nine. The ball saved Frush. Dundee tore into a tiger in the ninth, rocked the groggy Frush with both hands, sank lefts into the stomach and test hear some person remark as an ex-ample for "hitting the pack." True, we can be young but once, and the pleasures of youth must be crowded into that long time of time.

But how long are you young? Some men are old at forty, while others are still young at sixty. It depends upon the pace they hit and the manner in which they hit it.

We can crowd a lot of work and pleasure into youth. If we keep our hearts and our minds and our bodies clean, or we can reduce the amount of both and shorten our youth by resorting to reckless dissipation.

Your youth is your own. It will be prolonged or curtailed by your own acts.

Dwight had recovered his authentic self.

"Oh, well, he said, 'we can inquire at our leisure. If it is necessary, I should say we can have it set aside quietly in the city—no one'll be the wiser."

"Get aside nothing!" said Ninian. "I'd like to see it stand!"

"Are you serious, Nin?" "Sure I'm serious."

"I'm in earnest—hope to die." Ninian declared. He was on two legs of his chair and was slightly tilted back so that the effect of his earnestness was impaired. But he was obviously in earnest.

"They were looking at Lulu again. And now she looked at Nin and there was something terrible in that look which tried to ask him, alone, about this thing."

Dwight explained. "There was a fellow I know there in the theater. He said 'I'll get him on the spot. I could tell me if there's any way—' and was off."

Ina inexplicably began touching away tears. "Oh," she said, "what will mamma say?"

"You sure?" Lulu said low to Ninian.

"For the first time, something in her expression really touched him. "Say," he said, "you come on with me. We'll have it done over again somewhere, if you say so."

"Oh," said Lulu, "if I thought—"

"He looked and patted her hand. "Don't be afraid," he said.

"They sat silent, Ninian padding on the cloth with the flat of his plump hands."

Dwight returned. "It's a go, all right," he said. "We'll do it now, tonight, if you wish."

"God enough," said Ninian. "Lulu, Lulu!"

"Well, it's all right, I guess," Lulu said. "Oh, I'll be dished," said Dwight. "Sister!" said Ina.

Ninian meditated, his lips set tight and high. It is impossible to trace the processes of this man's mind. They were all compact of the devil's may-care attitude perhaps in its permanent traveler. Endeavored in the comparable cooking of Lulu played his part.

"He was going to make a trip south this month," he said. "On my way home from here. Suppose we get married again by somebody or other, and start right off. You're like that, wouldn't you—going south."

"It's July," said Ina, with her sense of fitness, but no one heard. "It was arranged that their trunks should follow them—Ina would see to that, though she was scandalized that they were not first to return to War-bleton for the blessing of Mrs. Bett. "Mamma won't mind," said Lulu. "Mamma can't stand a fuss any more."

They left the table. The men and women still sitting at the other tables in the dining room looked at them, indifferently dressed, indifferently conditioned. The hotel orchestra, playing ragtime in dentening concert, made Lulu's wedding march.

"It was still early next day—a hot Sunday—when Ina and Dwight reached home. Mrs. Bett was standing on the porch.

"Where's Lullie?" asked Mrs. Bett. "She's out," said Ina.

Mrs. Bett took it in a bit at a time. Her pale eyes searched their faces, she shook her head, heard it again, shrugged in. Her first question was: "Who's going to do your work?"

"He thought of that, and this was manifest. "Oh," she said, "you and I'll have to manage."

Mrs. Bett meditated, frowning. "If it's because her cooking is so good, I'll let her stay here. She can't cook bacon fit to eat. Neither can you."

"We've had our breakfasts," Ina escaped from this dilemma. "I'll let her stay here. She can't cook bacon fit to eat. Neither can you."

and her face was the face of an angel in a young, so questionable, so utterly devoid of her sophistication. "That child," said Ina, "must not see so much of that Larkin boy. She's just a little, little girl."

"Of course she mustn't," said Dwight sharply, "and if I was her mother—"

"Oh, stop that," said Ina, sotto-voce, at the church steps.

To every one with whom they spoke in the aisle after church, Ina an-

"Certainly, the 'Woods party' 'Woody' want to pay for Jenny and I."

"No, darling," said Ina patiently, "punctiliously—and less punctiliously called 'Monsieur.' This is going to be a little party."

"But we had the engagement with Woody. It was an engagement."

"Well," said Ina, "I think we'll just set that aside—that important en-gagement. It's not yours just yet."

"I don't want to be the one to pay for Jenny and I—"

"No!" Ina's voice dominated all. "Will you be more careful of your grammar or shall I speak to your grammar?"

"Well, I'll rather use bad grammar than—than—than—" she looked resentfully at her mother, her father. Their moral defection was evident to her, but it was ineluctable. They told her that she ought to be ashamed when papa wanted to give them all a treat. She sat silent, frowning, put-upon.

"Look mamma!" cried Monna, swavering a kind of air of grace and impulse. Ina saw only the empty plate.

"Mamma's little girl!" cried she, whiting upon her child.

BOURBONS SEND DELEGATES WITH DETAILED ORDER

Instruction for Alexander is Followed with Directions to Vote for All but Two Designated State Candidates

Under instructions to vote for the nomination of Moses Alexander as candidate for governor, and under the usual, six delegates to the democratic state convention at Hatley were elected here Tuesday afternoon at the democratic county convention held in the district courtroom. Subsequently, a delegation was instructed, on motions of anti-Alexander leaders, to vote for the nomination of designated candidates for all except two candidates to be nominated on the democratic state ticket.

Other Candidates Endorsed.

The candidates thus endorsed were Chester G. A. Divelbitt, Duhl, representative in congress; W. F. Alworth, Piler, lieutenant governor; John C. Gray, supreme court justice; Harlan G. E. Shoshone, attorney general; Don H. Gray, Hatley, chief of state; and Miss Fernand French, Moscow, superintendent of public instruction.

Delegates chosen to attend the Hatley convention were W. Orr Chapman, Twin Falls; Hans D. Whelan, Twin Falls; R. E. C. Moorehouse, Lewiston; F. Alworth, Piler; R. E. Moorehouse, Hollister; Lawrence Hansen, Hansen; Thomas M. Robertson, Twin Falls, was defeated for reelection as state commissioner, 35 to 20, by J. M. Shank, Duhl, former probate judge.

First Vote Shows Division

Division between the county convention delegates over the candidacy of former Governor Alexander was first plain early in the proceedings, the first test of strength coming in the vote for chairman when E. J. Finch, leader of the Alexander forces, defeated S. H. Kaylor, 30 to 25. Delegates present voted an individual secretary, W. F. Alworth, Piler, was elected secretary, without opposition.

The convention voted down a motion for appointment of a committee on resolutions and adopted as a substitute resolutions recommending W. Orr Chapman, who with R. H. Stevenson, led the anti-Alexander forces.

Gets Through Instructions.

Joe Day, Kimberly, then moved that delegates elected to the Hatley convention be instructed to vote for the nomination of Alexander for governor. The motion carried by vote of 35 to 25.

Subsequently, after the anti-Alexander leaders had obtained from the convention successive votes binding the delegates to vote for the nomination of Alexander for state office, Mr. Day was one of the chief speakers, stating that perhaps the trend toward instructing the delegation had gone far enough. Objection to further instructions was also registered by H. W. Barry, county R. E. Moorehouse, Hollister, P. E. Dean, Twin Falls, and others.

Offers "Negative Order."

After the instruction to the delegates to vote for the nomination of Alexander for governor, another motion of instruction was carried. Mr. Chapman thereupon offered what he termed a "negative instruction" that would have bound the delegation not to vote for the nomination of W. F. Alworth for Piler, for any state office. The chair ruled the motion out of order. Mr. Chapman appealed from the ruling, and the chair was sustained by the convention's vote.

The convention divided along lines previously defined when it came to the election of state committee men. The name of Mr. Robertson was presented by H. Crookham, Berger, and that of Mr. Shank by L. E. Finney, Twin Falls. Vote was by secret ballot, each delegate being required to put his name on a slip of paper, fold it and drop it into a hat held by a designated agent of the convention.

Groups Choose Delegates.

In accordance with provisions of an order of business adopted by the convention, precincts were grouped according to geographical location, and each group selected its delegate or delegates.

The contest for election of the two delegates allotted to the Twin Falls precincts was exceptionally close. The successful candidates, W. O. Chapman and J. D. Whelan, each received 14 votes. T. M. Robertson received 13 and W. P. Egan 12.

The county convention was limited to 76 delegates and 60 were present and voted.

CONCRETE ASSOCIATION BLAMED FOR AGITATION

Warren Construction Company Agent Gives Views on the Situation Here

Agitation here over the pavement built in 1920 is attributed by Leo D. Chase, engineer for the Warren Construction company, to effects of propaganda disseminated by a cement makers' association. In a statement made shortly before his departure Tuesday for Casper, Wyoming, where the Warren company's work was awarded, Chase, in reply to a question by the Twin Falls commissioners to accept the paving here that it was not clear what the agitation was about as the pavement and curbing was accepted two years ago and no one had been asked to accept maintenance work recently completed. The maintenance work, he said, was done in compliance with a guarantee agreement to keep the pavement in repair for five years.

The cement association, he said, is promoting use of concrete pavement, and is employing every means to cause agitation against asphalt pavement. In this connection he declared that copies of a local paper, receiving the press service of the cement association, have been circulated in several other towns for the purpose of creating sentiment against asphalt pavement.

Mr. Chase came here Saturday from Casper to close up affairs of the Warren company here. The company, he said, will leave its plant and other equipment here with a view to future new work or maintenance operations in the vicinity.

Nevada-Copper-Camp-Ablaz with Enthusiasm Over Railroad Prospects

Butte, Montana, mine operators are in the contact, Nevada district with a view to obtaining copper mining interests, according to report brought from contact Tuesday by Dr. B. H. Rouse.

Contact residents generally are convinced that the district is on the eve of a boom and that activities now in progress will result in the immediate construction of the railway connection between Rogerson and Wells, giving an outlet by rail to the district, Dr. Rouse said.

Dr. Rouse said that he talked at contact with W. T. McArdle, an associate of Conrad Wolfley, who in Twin Falls recently announced that his principals were negotiating the purchase of the rights for some by the Idaho Central company with a view to constructing the line. McArdle said, according to Dr. Rouse, that grading operations on the proposed line would be inaugurated this week or early next week; that a crew of engineers had been in the field for some days on location work, and that six carloads of ties and rails for the road were due to arrive Tuesday at Wells, having been delayed in transit by the strike.

Conrad Wolfley was to arrive Tuesday at Wells where offices have been opened for the railroad builders by E. E. Rouse, Twin Falls. Dr. Rouse was advised.

PRICE CONTROL OF GOAL ASKED

Congress to be Requested to Pass Law Aimed at Practices of Profiteer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15. (AP)—Congress will be called upon for legal weapons to arm the government for war against coal profiteers, it was announced today by high administration officials. Legislation will be requested, it was declared, to assure price control and equitable distribution of fuel, even in the event of a settlement of the national coal controversy.

Coal operators, Secretary Hoover stated, were breaking away from the voluntary fair price agreements, except in some districts in Virginia and West Virginia, and congress, he declared, must act to check advances in charges and at the same time authorize the continuance of the federal distribution machinery now functioning by voluntary services which could not continue indefinitely.

Mr. Hoover indicated that about a week's study of the situation and the effect of the Cleveland agreement on production, would be required before the necessary legislation could be framed. Attorney General Daugherty declared that several plans were already under consideration to combat coal profiteers and that careful study would be given to the proposed legislation.
