Hearing Before Joint Commissions of Idaho and Nevada Brings Out Assurance That Work Will Be Commenced

The Idaho Central railroad company was not represented at the joint session of the public utilities commission of Idaho and Nevada held at Wells, Nevada, Monday, according to members of the committee of Twin Falls business men who made the trip to the Nevada city and were present at the meeting. Although Turner K. Hays, Twin Falls attorney, representing Conrad Wolfley, president of the company as successor to J. L. Stewart, stated to the joint commission that a surveying party of five was now in the field and that plans of the company provided definitely for the construction of the road.

Mr. Hackman further stated that he had written to Mr. Wolfley to advise the commissions and those present that the Idaho Central had no intention of accepting one dollar of the bonus raised in the Twin Falls country in connection with the promotion plans and that as far as the Idaho Central company was concerned it might as well be given back to the treasury as the conditions under which the sum raised was to be turned over were such that it would cost the constructing company more than the amount of the bonus to comply with the terms laid down.

Meeting Well Attended

J. M. Thompson represented the Idaho public utilities commission, Colonel Schragham the Nevada commission, John W. Graham, the petitioners for the hearing, and Attorney Hays of Idaho and Dolans mining companies of Nevada. In addition to these E. F. Gray and some five or six other contact men were present. The following were among those present from Twin Falls:

Dr. W. H. Dwight, Lawrence Dwight, Ben Boudahl, L. C. W. R. Friebe, Don McKay, Dr. W. H. Clouck, Newell Wight, A. N. Gilbert, F. W. Dunke, F. E. Chamberlain, Dr. C. A. Enes, Elmer Hollingsworth.

John Moran, attorney for the Oregon Short Line, was also present at the session.

Letters were filed with the commission from the presidents of the Riverside and Dolans mining companies stating that their names should not be properly attached to the movement in favor of a cancellation of the certificate of convenience and necessity issued to the Idaho Central by the interstate commerce commission and protesting against such cancellation.

Gives History of Road

John W. Graham detailed the history of the movement emanating in the organization of the railroad project together with the holding company and stated Twin Falls wanted only to be fully apprised of the progress of the movement and the necessary steps to be taken in connection with the project, adding that with this information Twin Falls was prepared to get squarely back of the project and to lend every aid possible in the furtherance of the company's plans.

Attorney Hackman had the commission that he was advised by Mr. Wolfley that the latter's associates now owned and had fully paid for a sufficient amount of 60 lb. steel rails to build 200 miles of railway and enough ties for 100 miles; that, further, the sum of $25,000 had been set aside for surveying and engineering the line and that a further sum of $50,000 was immediately available for the construction of the road.

Mr. Hackman stated that Conrad Wolfley had purchased the stock of the Idaho Central formerly held by Mr. Stewart and his associates, which was carried with it ownership of the certificate of the interstate commerce commission; that Mr. Wolfley and the interests associated with him were prepared to go ahead and build the road but that if their efforts were to be subjected to embarrassment of any sort, they would be obliged to discontinue the work to be built from Wells to Condon.

At the conclusion of the hearing it was announced that the matter would be taken under consideration for a period of 30 days. From remarks made following and engineering the line and that a further sum of $50,000 was immediately available for the construction of the road.

FOUR MEN ADMIT PRINCIPAL PART IN TRAIN WRECK

Confessions of Actual Participation in Attempt to Destroy Michigan Central Train Are in Police Hands

CHICAGO, Aug. 23 (AP)—Confessions of actual participation in the wrecking of the Michigan Central express near Gary, Ind., recently by the removal of 37 spikes from a rail, were made by the four men held in connection with the disaster, which cost the lives of two employees, according to police authorities tonight.

Following the alleged confessions, five of the nine arrested Sunday in connection with the case were released, but six others whose names were withheld, were taken into custody. The four from whom it was said confessions had been obtained, were all declared to be ex-employees of the shops, although it was indicated that no union officials were implicated in any way in the train wrecking plot.

All of the ten men held in connection with the conspiracy were being held incommunicado tonight, the police even refusing to tell in what stations they were being held.

All Railway Men

The names of the four declared to have made admissions in the case of the Michigan Central wreck were given as Charles Ueila, former New York Central employe; Joe Peparich and John Petrovski, car repairmen, and Adina Alessio, also a shopman.

Officials asserted that they had not excluded admissions in the case of any other men. According to J. J. Boone, of the United States department of justice, wholesale quantities of "communist" literature and propaganda and detailed plans for a series of sabotage attacks already have been uncovered.

The message also gives definite information that Captain Amundsen, who left the Walden some time ago with Lieutenant Oskar Omdal, aviator, and a motion picture photographer, will be wintered at Weiwright, near Pevek. ### New Regulations Set Forth Terms of Employment for Religious Purposes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (AP)—New regulations covering distribution of wine for sacramental purposes in accord with the recent opinion of Attorney General Daugherty were issued today by Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair, to become effective September 25.

The regulations provide that manufacturers or importers of sacramental wine may sell only to rabbis, ministers, priests or other authorized officials of a church. Church officers may not manufacture wine for their individual use or for the use of the congregation, but may qualify as proprietors of bonded wineries for the purpose of manufacturing wine for religious purposes or may be employed by qualified winemakers to supervise the production of sacramental wine.

NO CHANGE FOR GOVERNMENT TO TAKE CONTROL

Taking Over of Railroads or Coal Mines Regarded as Definitely Settled—General Opposition Strong

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (AP)—Proposals for operation of rail and coal properties were put aside, at least for the present, today, and administration leaders, both in and out of congress, centered their efforts instead on less drastic measures to meet the needs of the coal industry.

With the return to Washington of President Harding after an over-Sunday conference with some of his principal advisers on board the yacht Mayflower, it became apparent that no step toward government operation was being taken by the present administration program.

Not only was it revealed that the president himself was not disposed definitely to ask for congressional authority to take over the properties involved in the strike situation, but it was made plain also that an influential group of leaders in the senate and house had taken a position which would make passage of the authorizing legislation extremely difficult.

Meaning committees in both branches of congress reported out, for passage later in the week, bills recommending the administration to strengthen its hand in controlling coal distribution by creating a federal distributing agency and by giving the interstate commerce commission broader powers over priority of shipments. It was also reported that the senate and house had taken a position which would make passage of the authorizing legislation extremely difficult.

Debate Is Reserved

In the senate, committee action was taken after only a short discussion and with members reserving the right to debate the measure at length upon the senate floor.

President Harding was informed late in the day by republican leader Mondell that "the distribution measure" would be brought into the house tomorrow and passed before Wednesday night. No such quick action was in prospect.

WOULD COLLECT GOODLY AMOUNT

Suit by Miners to Compel Payment of Alleged Back Pay Is Threatened

PUEBLO, Colo., Aug. 23 (AP)—Suit for damages against 17 Colorado coal operators probably will be brought today in federal district No. 10, United Mine Workers, in an effort to collect between $200,000 and $500,000 in back pay alleged to be due the coal miners employed in those mines according to Felix Pogliano, secretary of district No. 10.

Mr. Pogliano claims the operators failed to pay the miners with the usual normal months before the contracts expired on April 1, 1922, and the men were forced to take a lesser wage for several months previous to April 1, when the contracts expired and the mine workers struck.

REPORTED COLLAPSE OF TUNNEL MAY CUT OFF LAST CHANCE FOR RESCUE

JACOBSON, Cal., Aug. 23 (AP)—Mine rescue crews worked without avail today in the Argonaut gold mine in which 48 men were entombed at midnight last night. The men were thought to be between the 4500 and 4800 foot level, while the main body of the fire was not more than 500 feet above them.

Employees of the mine were sent into the Kennedy mine, which connects with the Argonaut mine through a tunnel which is closed by a concrete bulkhead, with instructions to break down the bulkhead and enter the Argonaut. It has been reported that the Kennedy tunnel had collapsed, but the report was not verified. Early today the Argonaut succeeded in restoring the cut-off air supply to the 2800 foot level and efforts were continued to extend the air supply.

The woman fought desperately and bit her assailant on the arm. The negro became frightened and ran. Pursuit was started immediately by neighbors and police. The bloodhounds are said to have picked up the trail, which, it is said, led toward a negro section on the outskirts of Shreveport.

Profiteering in Coal Must Cease Says Henry Ford

Detroit Manufacturer of Opinion that in Taking Up Fight Against Operators He Is Serving All Interests

Detroit, Aug. 23 (AP)—Henry Ford in announcing Saturday that his plants would be closed September 16 because of conditions in the coal industry, began a fight for what he believes is a great principle, the Associated Press has learned from sources close to the manufacturer.

Mr. Ford, it was stated, has started what he declares is a fight against alleged profiteering in coal and he believes he is in a better position perhaps to do so than any one else. He feels, it was stated, that by taking up the fight, he is doing every other manufacturer a favor by working men throughout the country a real service.

Mr. Ford denies there is a coal shortage. The investigations of his representatives have convinced him, it was stated, that coal brokers of the country have an enormous supply of coal on hand.

The Ford-Motor-company could obtain enough coal to cover a tract ten acres square if it would submit to being victimized by profiteers, it was declared.

For several weeks, it was asserted, the Ford works at Dearborn have been flooded with offers of coal with deliveries guaranteed. It was declared that the prices asked if it would submit to being victimized by profiteers, it was declared.

See Heavy Rise

The Detroit manufacturer believes that if he yields to what he terms the "holding" of the coal brokers, every other manufacturer will follow suit, and that coal prices will reach an unprecedented figure. One source close to Mr. Ford said the manufacturer had "at the back of his mind" a picture of working men being unable to buy coal enough to keep their families warm because of the prices that eventually would be asked "unless this profiteering was stopped in its inception."

The Ford company recently has received a large number of offers on the part of coal operators to sell mine. None of these offers have been seriously considered, however, because of the present transportation condition. It was explained by persons close to Mr. Ford today that the offering of mines means little "as they can be purchased now for almost nothing, because of the large stocks of coal held by brokers."

World Solves Problem

The manufacturer still believes linking of the Louisville and Nashville and the Detroit, Toledo and Ironport railroads, the latter his own property, would solve not only the Ford company problems, but those of every other coal user in the lakes region.

INVESTIGATION UNDERWAY

Grand Jury Probe Into Herrin Massacre is Formally Opened

MARIION, Ill., Aug. 23 (AP)—The first witnesses were called this afternoon before the grand jury investigating the Herrin mine war, fought around the Lester strip mine, June 21 and 22 last. Today at least 100 include employees of an electrical railway, who were here and Herrin who were said to have been eye-witnesses of the man handling battle, and the owner of a hardware store from which ammunition was taken during the preparation for the battle.

The actual investigation began this afternoon when Sheriff Melvin Thaxton was called before the investigators. He was followed by his deputy, Colonel Sam Hunter of the Illinois national guard.

While nothing of the testimony is permitted to go outside of the grand jury room, it is understood that these witnesses repeated their statements made at the coroner's inquest with detailed accounts added.

INTEREST KEEN IN CALIFORNIA PRIMARY RACE

Hiram Johnson Stated to Win Republican Senatorial Nomination but Margin Will Likely Be Very Small

(By SAMUEL WHITE) SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—Senators Hiram W. Johnson will probably win the republican nomination at the polls next Wednesday, but the indications are that his victory will be by such a minor plurality as to seriously impair his political prestige in the future.

The many-sided primary campaign have closed, and from the harbor of the sun at San Diego in the south to the valley of the seven moons in the north, the people of California are stirred as never before in the history of the state.

Not All Republicans The republicans, with their overwhelming registration, are making the most noise and naturally would seem to offer a clear path to victory to party workers who wish to enter the race on the republican ticket in the primaries, but this far from being the case.

There is still another and more dynamic element of interest in the state, even the powerful Senator Johnson, as a candidate for re-election, pause in this unique campaign. The republicans of the state are divided into two great camps and engaged in a bitter inter-section which has become quite a task of bringing them together again after the primaries is bound to be a difficult one and many of the leaders, willingly and openly taking the lead at this time, have announced that if they win they will engage in the primary work for his democratic opponent at the general elections.

It is just this phase of the campaign that makes it unique in the political history of the state. If not, it is almost certain a negative campaign—one of protest and expression through the ballot of personal dislike and enmity.

In a hour of the state by automobile just completed, the writer has hundreds of voters to be made. The great majority were anxiously waiting primary day that they might vote against somebody. Few of them expressed a desire to make an affirmative vote. With the voters in mind, the writer could not do anything else, but happen at an election.

Some weeks ago the primary elections in California gave little or no promise of an interesting contest. Then Charles C. Moore, of San Francisco, was elected to make the race for nomination for the United States senate against Johnson. Mr. Moore, a man of large affairs, who made many friends as president of the Panama-Pacific exposition, developed a tremendous backing. It soon became evident that he was well managed and financed, and was in the race to win.

Hiram Johnson, aroused and angered, hurried home from Washington to enter the campaign. The writer was pictured as being in a fighting mood, and the photographers caught him with his fists doubled up and a glare in his eyes. He was out for a clean-up, and declared that it was "the best old fight against the same old gang."

Senator Johnson has put on a big campaign—a fight for his political existence—and has had big meetings and met much enthusiasm wherever he goes, but has also been heckled and led to the point of losing his temper and saying the things that have furnished political capital to the Moore people. He has been pictured as the "too" and slave of William Randolph Hearst.

As far as the United States senatorial fight goes, the democrats are sailing easy. They have put forward William J. Pearson, a farmer, to oppose either Moore or Johnson. Pearson has the strong backing of the "crude" in the state are going to vote a non-partisan democratic farmers' crusade in his behalf.

DAIRY INDUSTRY GIVEN ENCOURAGEMENT AT FAIR

Liberal Premiums Offer Expected to Bring Out Splendid Showing

FILED, Idaho, August 28.—(Special to The News)—Premiums totaling $765,000 are to be awarded prize-winning dairy cattle at the Twin Falls county fair at Filer, September 12 to 16, it was announced today by Secretary J. M. Mackel.

All of the leading breeds of dairy cattle will be shown. The bread-fed-fair by the fair include Guernsey, Jersey and Holstein. Plans for the housing of a large number of animals are being made. About 100 animals are expected, according to Superintendent J. A. Waters, in charge of the dairy cattle department.

There are many reasons why the dairy industry is being encouraged with a liberal offer of premiums, says fair officials. It provides the farmer with a steady income from daily sales of milk and cream, gives employment to labor throughout the year, furnishes a ready market for much of the roughage about the farm which goes to waste ordinarily, and helps to build up the soil instead of wearing it out.

It is a matter of record that the average scrub cow produces only from 160 to 175 pounds of butter fat in a year, which does not pay for her keep. Still a herd of such cows can be made to return a profit in seven years by the purchase of a pure-bred bull, with a butter-fat record behind him.

Several entries are being received by the fair, although the bulk of the entries are expected later, when exhibitors work out their plans for exhibition at fairs. Entries for cattle close on September 11th.

SECURES MODIFICATION AS TO MAKERS' TAX LAW

Idaho Automobile Trades Association Gets Revised Regulation

BOISE, Idaho, Aug. 28.—The Idaho Automobile Trades association reports that success has attended the efforts of the organization and others representing the automotive trades to secure modification of the internal revenue regulations as to manufacture of auto tops, curtains, etc.

The association's attorney at Washington, D. C., Walter A. Guy, has advised the Idaho association that the Internal Revenue department has so modified its regulations as to eliminate some features of work from manufacturers' tax provision.

Any person manufacturing parts and accessories used in engaged in the regular business is held to be a manufacturer with respect to such parts and accessories sold by him whether in repair-work or not.

A person who does not manufacture any parts or accessories for sale separately, but is engaged in doing a strictly repair business, and makes only occasionally a part, need not for immediate repair work performed by him as a manufacturer and is not required to pay any tax with respect to such parts or accessories.

Every request to top and body work a person engaged in making complete top tops, or bodies without tops, is held to be a manufacturer and the sale thereof is subject to tax, even though it may be in connection with an immediate repair job. The same is true of press making, from new or used, such articles as auto curtains, detachable slip-covers, floor covering, etc.

The filling is changed so as to remove back curtains from the taxable list.

NATIONAL LIFE IS AFFECTED BY ATTITUDE OF LABOR CHIEFS

Connection Between Strike Leaders and Rank and File of Union Membership in Coal Fields—Declared to Amount to Little or Nothing—Entire Country Pays for Disturbance

(New York Times)

Just before leaving Pittsburgh a few days ago for a vacation in the White Mountains I found myself caught in the rain, but fortunately with an umbrella in my hand. In my hurried step I overtook a well-dressed man who was carrying a baby, and fearing lest the baby would catch cold I held my umbrella over their two heads, and together we walked to the Pennsylvania station. The man told me in good language that he was a coal miner from the West Virginia fields, a member of the union, and that although his wages were satisfactory, enabling him to get only to support his family, he had been ordered out on strike and had had neither work nor strike benefits for three months. He was now forced to live on his savings, although anxious to go back to work. When I asked him why he did not go back he replied simply, "They would shoot me." He said that neither he nor any of his fellow-workmen had been expelled by their leaders, and that when they were interested in the strike except to hope that the check-off system would be abolished. When I inquired how many would go back to work under the old conditions if they had a chance, he replied: "All of them except the leaders."

I believe from multiplied evidences that the story of this humble but successful and self-respecting laborer is the story of 90 per cent of the American working men who are now being buffeted by their leaders into the mire and welter which are paralyzing industry and destroying the prosperity of the country.

And what hand in all this strike-entangled business is our highest court? They country is raised to stop them! The supreme court of the United States has declared that these unions may sue for face to face with the big brotherhood and be sued. Why are they not sued and why does not the attorney general of the United States proceed against them, backed by all the forces of the law and of union which embraces the question in a new form. Let us suppose that the presidents of all the railroads in America were served notice that one time on the American people that the rates for transportation service of one automatic organization, and the labor of America is put under the control of a single railroad system? Would the railroads of the north and west and the labor of America be put under the control of one man? Would the labor of America be put under the control of one man? Would the labor of America be put under the control of one man?

When strikes are ordered by the one organization, it is time for the American people to dissolve that criminal enterprise. No government in any country in its infancy has ever been able to perpetrate itself when it has dissolved within its domain a force that is stronger than itself. What we will not allow to capital, what we will not allow to business, we must not—we shall not—allow to labor.

How are we to meet? We can do nothing without leadership. Yet our leaders are spineless, inert, silent and terrified. After all, of political punishment! If so base a motive keeps them inactive, they should remember that a governor of Massachusetts who dared to defy the striking policemen of Boston so thrilled the American people that they straightway made him vice-president of the United States. Where, today, is that man? He was a man of courage and leadership of labor and bring them to punishment!

BROWNS LOSE TO YANKS

Victory Puts Gothamites Game and a Half Ahead in Scramble for Leadership

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (AP)—The New York Americans increased their lead over St. Louis to a game and a half today, defeating the Browns in a thrilling 11-inning pitchers' duel. The victory gave the Yankees three games out of the four-game series.

Shocker, who won the first game of the series, found a stubborn opponent in Bob Shawkey. Shawkey pitched one of the best games of his career and finally triumphed over his famous rival from St. Louis. The Yankee twirler yielded only four hits against eight off Shocker, although the St. Louis pitcher had better control. The only bases on balls issued by Shocker were two intentional passes to Schang. Shawkey walked seven men, one intentionally.

New York scored the first run of the game in the second inning, when Schang singled and scored on Wertz's triple. Several tied the score in the fifth with a home run into the left field bleachers, the only extra base hit off Shawkey.

The game remained deadlocked until the eleventh, when Dugan led off with a single. Ruth fled to the infield, but Pipp's hot single past Sister advanced Dugan to third. Schang was intentionally passed and Menouli drove out a sacrifice fly to Tobin which was so deep that no effort was made to get Dugan at the plate. The game was perfectly flooded by both sides.

JOHNNY DUNDEE TAKES CONTEST

Veteran Italian Wins Judges' Decision Over Pepper Martin of Brooklyn

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (AP)—Johnny Dundee, veteran Italian pugilist, successfully defended his "world, junior lightweight" title tonight, receiving the judges' decision after a 15-round contest with Vincent "Pepper" Martin of Brooklyn.

In the first round Dundee sent Martin to his knees with a sharp left to the chin. Martin was wild and missed often as the speedy Italian danced about him, making him to the ropes time and again. They were in a series of vicious exchanges in the second, Dundee landing cleaner and oftener. They both jumped and danced in the third, exchanging heavy punches to the jaw.

The fourth was another series of hard exchanges, Martin holding his own in the punching.

He was made to miss of ten, however, by the wily Italian. Martin adopted the Dundee jumping and dodging tactics in the fifth and clipped Dundee, with hard lefts to the chin several times. Martin shook the Italian in the sixth with hard rights to the jaw.

Slow Down in Seventh

They slowed down in the seventh and after Martin had shaken Dundee with a right uppercut, the Italian launched a two-handed assault to the head. Dundee started a punching bee in the eighth and Martin responded willingly. It was about an even exchange. There was little heavy action in the ninth. Dundee punched Martin at will in the tenth after beginning blood from his nose with a straight right. Martin attacked Dundee cautiously in the eleventh and Dundee answered with a shower of rights and lefts to the jaw and body. The twelfth was slow and uninteresting, with Martin always on the defensive.

Martin came out full of fight in the thirteenth, but Dundee put him on the defensive again with a sharp left to the chin that sent him to the ropes. Dundee pummelled Martin all about the ring in the fourteenth.

Martin fought like a tiger in the 15th, but was wasted in the heavy punishing assault.

HANSEN DEFEATS KIMBERLY TEAM

Best Game of the Season Goes to Eastenders After Hard Struggle

The best game of the season was played Sunday afternoon at Kimberly, when the fast Kimberly team was shut out by Hansen to the tune of 2 to 0.

Although "Pat" Thompson is recalled on the losing pitcher as far as the records go, he must not be underestimated, as his throwing Sunday was of the highest order. Horatoforo "Pat" has been in the habit of burning up things for five or six innings and then taking a heating, but Sunday things were reversed. The longer he threw the better he pitched, and in the last three innings he had far more smoke than at the start of the game.

Hansen got a run across in the third. After Weaver had popped to Emerson, and Minter had gathered in Darraz's long fly, Frank Fuller sent a long double to right center and scored when Chambers singled to right. It was the only earned run of the game.

The second and last run of the game of the opinion that it was the best game that he had ever pitched for the Kimberly team.

For the Hansen outfit, Frank Fuller was on the mound, and did great work. His best work was done when there were men on bases. In the second inning, with a man on second with one out, he fanned the next two batters. In the fourth, with two men on and no one out, he fanned the next two. In the last of the ninth, with the tying run on second and third, he forced Claiborne to wiff for the third out, Frank had his curve-ball working to a nicely and no less than ten of the Kimberly players took the strike-out route.

Play Good Ball

The game was replete with great plays, with Zienke and E. Fuller taking first prize amongst the fielders. Zienke made three beautiful catches in center field, while Fuller had six assists at third without the least sign of a bobble. In the fifth inning he had three assists. His throwing across the diamond was perfect.

The batting hero was "Lefty" Brown of the Kimberly team, Lefty getting three out of four and all of them clean bingles.

BOARD REDUCES VALUATIONS OF FARM LAND HERE

Twin Falls County Receives Only Cut Made in Fixing Value for Taxation; Requested Cuts Not Given Utilities

BOISE, Idaho — Net increases amounting to approximately $1,000,000 were made in the reported valuation of all Idaho property, except public utilities, by the state board of equalization with adjustment for 1922 this reported value. The equivalent value of all property in the state last year was $770, 973,780. This year the reported value of this same property according to the assessors' rolls, was $1,851,363,339, or a decrease of about $200,000,000. The board's increases for 1922 on this reported value to about $355,500,000.

The board cut the reported value of agricultural land in Twin Falls county 5 per cent. Twin Falls county was the only county in the state that received a reduction in the reported valuation. The board's action places Twin Falls county agricultural lands at a value 14 per cent less than the equivalent value of last year.

Increases in the reported valuations of property in four other counties were made by the board. Agricultural lands in Gooding county were raised 10 per cent on the value reported by the assessor. The reported value is 12 per cent less than the equivalent value of 1921, so that in reality the county is not assessed as heavily as last year.

Cassia Receives Balance

Irrigated land in Cassia county was raised 15 per cent on the value reported by the assessor. The reported value was 9 per cent lower than the equivalent value of 1921, so the value of the irrigated land in this county has been increased 6 per cent by the board.

Irrigated land in Kootenai county was increased 9 per cent over last year. In Minidoka county the board increased the value of agricultural lands, residence lots and business lots 40 per cent or 11 per cent less than last year. Industrial and business lots were increased 40 per cent this year over the reported value, the net result is that business lots are 17 per cent less than the equivalent value of last year and residence lots 14 per cent less.

Utilities Hold Firm

Valuations for taxation of all public utilities in the state remained practically the same as last year. The board requested representatives for reductions were made by agents of the Short Line and other corporations.

The state levy was fixed for 1922 by the board at 3391 cents on the $100 of valuation. This levy is a reduction from last year's levy, which was 3571 cents on the $100. In 1920 the levy was 416 cents on the $100, and in 1919 it was 728 cents. The distribution of the state levy this year is as follows:

Cents on $100
State aid valorem	3530
Second highway redemption	2200
Third highway redemption	2910
Fourth highway redemption	2690
Public building interest and sinking	2653
General interest and sinking	1873
Third state highway	1000
Total	15311

SCHOOL BOARD FIXES LEVY AT $1.85 PER $100

Reduction in Property Valuation Necessitates Increased Assessment Rate, but the Amount to be Raised Smaller

Twin Falls school-district-board-of-education at an adjourned meeting Monday night fixed the district's 1922 tax levy at $1.85 on each $100 valuation of property. The levy is expected to raise $185,745, and income from other sources is expected to bring the district's revenue this year up to the $221,000 provided for by the budget adopted last week.

Valuation Out $100,000

Because of the reduction of 5 per cent made by the state board of equalization in the reported valuation of Twin Falls county agricultural lands, valuation of property in the Twin Falls school district was reduced approximately $100,000. The equalized valuation of taxable property within the district is estimated this year at approximately $9,700,000 as against the equivalent valuation last year of $10,200,000. The lower valuation made necessary a slight increase in this year's levy which this year will be $1.85 on each $100 as compared with $1.75 on each $100 last year. The amount to be raised this year, however, is about $210,000 less than last year.

These figures do not take into account the special levy of $2 on each $100 which was collected by the district last year and which will not be levied this year.

Distribution of Levy

The distribution of the school district levy for this year follows:

	On each $100
General	$1.177
Transportation	.30
Interest	.25
Sinking fund	.125
	$1.85

The board's action setting the levy was preceded by an explanation of the factors of valuation and levy and the amount of estimated expenditure. Representations were made by past presidents of the board to amend its previous ruling limiting the territory from which pupils would be carried to and from school this year. This rule was amended to permit of the transportation of pupils living south of the bridge over Rock creek south of the railroad tracks.

Confirms Appointments

The board confirmed the recommendations of Superintendent M. C. Mitchell relative to appointment of teachers for the Twin Falls schools opening September 5. This list, it was announced, will be made available to the public later in the week. Three vacancies, it was stated, remain to be filled.

RADIO PROGRAM IS GIVEN

Local Audience Treated to Miscellaneous Collection of Music and Conversation

Atmospheric conditions interfered to some extent with Monday night's radio concert, and, incidentally, local weather conditions served to cut down the size of the audience. Telephone conversations from Catalina Islands, talk between persons on the California coast and some music made up the bulk of the entertainment.

As supplementary to the matter received from a distance a phonograph at the home of Scout Wesley Mente, some two miles out on Addison avenue, was used. A number of persons took advantage of Mr. Mente's offer to get with the closest sort of an investigation of the receiving apparatus and ear sets were supplied to them. Messages and music from distant points were distinctly audible, it is said, notwithstanding assertions to effect that such matter could not be distributed, except by means of ear sets, without appliances representing an outlay of $5000.

KIAWANIANS HEAR TALK ON DEFECTIVE VISION

Optometrist Tells of Increasing Need of Americans for Spectacles

Correction of defective eyesight is necessary from the standpoint of economy to increase efficiency as well as from a humanitarian viewpoint, Dr. Harry Davis, optometrist, told members of the Kiwanis club at their weekly luncheon meeting Monday. Dr. Davis referred to statistics showing the prevalence of defective vision and attributed increasing need for corrective measures to strain on eyes incident to modern mode of life.

J. H. Masters spoke briefly on some of the incidents he had observed in connection with the Kiwanis club district convention. Last week at Ogden, and attributed to the members of the Twin Falls club's quartet and W. J. Allen the credit for winning the 1923 contest for Twin Falls.

In observance of Labor Day next Monday, the club voted to postpone its regular weekly meeting until Wednesday noon.

In the absence of president and vice-president of the club, O. E. Wright presided at Monday's session.

CHILD ACCIDENT VICTIM

Little John Arthur Basse Falls From Wagon and Suffers Broken Leg

Arthur John Basse, aged three years, son of Olga Basse and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Itanac, residing southwest of Murrain, suffering from a broken leg, was brought Sunday afternoon to the county general hospital here, where the injury was given attention and the little fellow is recovering comfortably. The injury resulted when the child fell under the wheels of a wagon at his home. The leg was fractured above the knee.

IRELAND MOURNS

Impressive Scenes Mark Final Chapter in Life of Free State Leader

DUBLIN, Aug. 28, (AP)—Michael Collins rests in the soil of the Irish free state, for which he died fighting. He was buried today in the Glasnevin cemetery, where lie the bodies of Arthur Griffith, Parnell and other patriots, and many of his comrades in the struggle for Irish freedom.

The whole nation mourned; thousands at the graveside and those who sorrowed in Dublin were only a fraction of the whole. Dublin might have been a city of the dead; a great hush was everywhere, yet almost a million people were standing or kneeling on the street; gentry from the fine houses in the suburbs and the poor from the slums; women wrapped in their shawls carrying their infants, or leading their now-orphaned children.

A multitude were grouped in windows and, assembled on roof tops clung uncertainly to chimneys, while others climbed stone walls and monuments—all to catch a glimpse of Ireland's greatest patriot and pray for one of Ireland's greatest patriots.

While the requiem mass was being chanted in the cathedral, a military detachment rode up to the edifice and entered by the main portal. In carried in his hand a single white lily, a token sent by Kitty Korman, the dead patriot's fiancée. Their wedding on the coffin lid and was tenderly laid there again when the coffin was lowered to the grave.

At the grave side, Richard Mulcahy, who succeeded his commander-in-chief of the national army, speaking of the life work and the ideals of Michael Collins for Irish freedom, said solemnly:

Deaths

Lathel D. Meyer
Lathel D. Meyer, aged 13 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meyer, died suddenly Sunday afternoon at the family home about four miles southwest of Twin Falls. The child was apparently well in the forenoon, and death occurred almost without warning a few hours later. Physicians have not determined the cause of death. The body has been taken to the F. J. Grossman undertaking establishment here. No funeral arrangements have been made. Word is expected from relatives elsewhere.

"Michael Collins can never be buried, for his spirit will live to guide to achievement his ideals."
The sun shone down upon the coffin, and soft blue Irish flirts made a setting for the final picture, which Michael would himself have chosen had his voice-but spoken. Though he was buried in accordance with the rites of the Roman Catholic church, all religions, as all men, joined in today's wonderful national tribute.

Dr. Fogarty, bishop of Kiltalloo, was the celebrant of the mass, which was attended by a great gathering of clergy, including Archbishop Dublin of Brisbane, Australia, Archbishop Curley of Baltimore, who is visiting his aged mother at Anothias, was not present but was represented by Father Edward A. Williams of St. Mary's church, Cantonville, Maryland.

On a cataphage before the high altar rested the coffin, covered with a silk Irish-ricolor; the cataphage itself was draped in black; bullet holes in paintings of the church patron saints bore evidence of Ireland's war.
Bishop Fogarty compared Michael

Collins to Joan of Arc. "It seems to be God's way," he said, "that the flames that extinguished that heroine's life did not destroy her work. So will it be with Michael Collins."
"The work he did is indestructible. He gave us more than Orlena. It seems but a day that he burst on the Irish stage like a youthful Sauson, almost a boy, with his white lace, his royal helmet and just black hair; and in three years he transformed Ireland, forcing England to relax her powerful grip and winning for his country a triumph which Hugh O'Neill never dreamed of." "Sooner or later the people will be going in caravans, and when they do, they will make short work of the wreck."
Then will the heroic figure of General Collins tower high in glory while they who coveted his death lie buried in shame."

SENATE SPENDS MUCH TIME ON SOLDIER BONDS

Interest Keen For and Against in Matter of Cash for Service Men—Debate Curtailed Hereafter

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28. (AP)—Senate debate today on the soldiers' bonus bill centered largely on the land reclamation amendment offered by Senator McNary, republican, Oregon, but neither for nor either of the other amendments came to a vote.

The mainline of the current limiting discussion on amendments to 20 minutes for each senator will become operative tomorrow and leaders were hopeful that a final vote on the bill itself could be had before adjournment. In the discussion today Senator Woodworth of New York and Sterling of South Dakota, republicans, voiced their opposition to the bonus, although Senator Sterling supported the reclamation project. Senators Nicholson, republican, Colorado, and Griffin, democrat, Alabama, supported the bill, the former also arguing in favor of the McNary amendment.

Senator Nicholson attacked the business men opposing the bonus, mentioning particularly the United States Steel corporation and the Standard Oil company. He charged that the latter company profited through "unconscionable" prices charged during the war and declared that it will become Judge E. H. Gary, chairman of the board of the steel corporation, to oppose adjusted compensation for the veterans when his company had made "great profits" during the war.

Makes Vigorous Attack

Senator Woodworth was particularly vigorous in his attack on the measure. He declared that the bonus could be financed only through taxes now or later and that the American people would rather see a shift in the burden they could bear. He also urged that the veterans themselves, their wives and their children would have to work but the harder in the years to come to pay back the money the former soldiers had received. He contended, without justification to afford any lasting benefits. The New York senator argued that the measure could not be properly termed an "adjusted compensation" bill, because it proposed to treat all alike, no matter what their pay in war time and whether they needed assistance. He asserted that this was an invitation from the government to sell to the banks and then repudiate their notes, leaving to the government the payment of sums borrowed.

Offers Good Opportunity

In opposing his reclamation amendment, Senator McNary told the senate that it afforded an opportunity for congress to do "a great thing in empire building" by reclaiming arid lands in the west and swamp and cut-over lands in the south and east. He argued also that it would give opportunity to veterans desiring to get back to the land to acquire homesteads with government aid and operate to maintain a needed balance between the rural and urban population. The reclamation plan received the support also of several members from the west and south and was dropped in the debate by Senators Brander, Louisiana and Fletcher, Florida, democrats, pictured the benefits that would accrue in their states; while Senators Walsh of Montana and Pittman, Nevada, democrats, joined Senator McNary in reviewing the benefits that had resulted from the enactment of the basic reclamation law in 1902.

When the bowels are constipated, the lower bowels or large intestines become packed with refuse matter, that is made up largely of germs. These germs enter the vermiform appendix and set up inflammation, which is commonly known as appendicitis. Chamberlain's Tablets are needed to keep your bowels regular and you have little to fear from appendicitis.

prospect in the senate, where the legislative situation was much more complicated, but the leaders predicted that there would be favorable action without much delay. Several cabinet members, senators and other officials, including Secretary Hoover, Attorney General Daugherty and Chairman Cummings of the senate interstate commerce committee, accompanied President Harding on the Mayflower trip and are understood to have taken part in a prolonged round table discussion of administration policies. It was said tonight that opinion among the chief executive's advisers was divided on the subject of government re-orientation, but that in the event Mr. Harding indicated that he would exert no pressure for legislation authorizing such a step.

Coal Outlook Hopeful

As viewed by the Mayflower conference, the coal strike situation, both unattractive and bituminous, appeared in a way to solve itself and insure increased production in the very near future, leaving the problem of moving the product to the consumer as the crux of the whole effort to restore industrial stability. It appeared to be the opinion of the present "cabinet" that a great deal could be done in that direction under authority already possessed or to be conferred by the distribution and priority legislation pending.

There was an indication that a further extension of the most important classes of railroad service, such as passenger and freight dispensable traffic, in order to utilize motive power and cars for food and fuel, might be one of the steps taken to relieve the emergency.

Output Increasing

Despite the transportation difficulties, the increase in bituminous production has reached a point where the administration decided that the voluntary distribution organization, which has been functioning for the past four weeks, could be abandoned, pending enactment of the distribution legislation before congress. Federal Fuel Distributor Spencer announced the abandonment of his voluntary committee by the end of the week of a discontinuance of super-priority orders for the movement of coal.

Special arrangements were being considered by the interstate commerce commission—concerning the western coast for the northwest section, while coal movement directed heretofore by Mr. Spencer would be shipped under the existing priority classifications of the commission.

In the anthracite field, reports reaching the White House were so reassuring that it was indicated an agreement to insure reopening of the mines was expected within a very short time.

STRIKE COMES TO END

ROODHOUSE, Ill., Aug. 28. (AP)—The walkout of trainmen of the Chicago and Alton railroad, who went out Friday in protest against what they termed "unsafe working conditions," was ended tonight, following a request by A. P. Tilton, vice president and general manager of the road, that they reconsider their action.

PAY QUARTERLY DIVIDEND

NEW YORK, Aug. 28. (AP)—The board of directors of the Coca-Cola company meeting here today, declared the usual dividend of $1 per share on the common stock, payable October 1 to stockholders of record September 15.

HANSEN BEATS KIMBERLY

was made in the sixth. Hughes had grounded out, Schmidt to Brown, when Zienke came to bat. With three and two on him he pulled the time-worn stunt of dropping his bat and starting for first base before the umpire called the ball, and he got away with it. He stole second, and scored when Patton sent a scorcher to right field.

Ninth Grays Dangerous

Kimberly became dangerous in the last of the ninth, when they got two men on with one out, but one of the runners was shut off at the plate and the other was left stranded when the fuzzy Fuller forced Chalmers to bunt.

The errors were conspicuous by their absence, but three being made during the entire game. In the second Frank Fuller let Emerson's easy roller get away from him, and a moment later he threw wild to first allowing Emerson to reach second. This was the extent of Hansen's error, while the only miscue that Kimberly made was in the ninth when Chalmers let E. Fuller's bit get away from him.

The game gives Hansen the edge, but it is to be hoped that the two teams clash again before the season ends.

NOTES OF THE GAME

The big league doesn't put out a better brand of ball.

Those who missed it missed the best game of the season.

Zienke made a beautiful running catch of Courts' long drive to deep center in the first inning.

Courts almost made the Hansen bid a run in the second inning when he thought that Patton had wildfired, and tossed the ball high in the air to Riley.

with Zienke on third. The wily Zienke tried to score, but was nipped at the plate with a perfect pop.

Schmidt drove a long fly in the second to center that Zienke tried to get, but couldn't, and Schmidt was nipped at second by Zienko's perfect pop.

Earl Fuller had a busy afternoon at the hot corner, having seven chances and taking care of all of them.

Zienko had two official trips to the bat, and both times he fanned. In the eighth he swung at three fast ones and missed connections each time.

Brooks, the Jerome infielder, took Weaver's place in the sixth and in his two appearances at the last fanned out.

Emerson was robbed of a hit when Zienko speared his Texas leaguer in the seventh.

Motion for Reduction of Bonds for Confidence Men Leads to Lively Scrap

DENVER, Aug. 28. (AP)—District Attorney Philip VanDise exchanged blows in the courtroom here late today with W. A. Bryan, attorney representing 30 alleged members of a "confidence ring" arrested here last Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The clash followed a dispute over a motion for the reduction of the amount of bond for the alleged confidence men. The amount of each bond was fixed Saturday at $25,000 by District Judge Haggett, who was also conducting today's hearing.

According to witnesses of the clash, VanDise and Bryan got into an argument over the question of whether the district attorney had received proper notification of today's hearings. After the exchange of blows, court attendances intervened.

The attorneys apologized to the court, after which Judge Haggett announced that the hearing would be postponed until Thursday.

"EXPECT THE UNEXPECTED"

"Use your horns, that's what it's there for," is the advice of an experienced driver to motorists in an effort to prevent automobile accidents. He urges them not to steal up on behind people without some signal of this kind. They are to use it whenever the slightest occasion demands it.

But they should also be urged to use their heads, and what is supposed to be in them. They should give evidence also of some consideration for the rights of others on the road; they should keep in mind that public highways are not private lanes, and that some one is always likely to drive into their path from some side street or road.

SUPERVISE EVERYTHING

There seems to be a craze for supervising things. Judge Landis supervises baseball, Will Hays motion pictures, Augustus Thomas the drama. They appear to be doing good work and to be getting respect. Now it is dancing to supervise dancing; but if dancing is supervised why not golf and bridge whist, which appear to have degenerated into sports pure and simple.

Indeed, why not supervise everything? No longer are there rigid standards of "honors," or even of propriety and decency. With audacity the people cry "Evil only to him who will think" and live with one another to shock the rest. The challenge is unmitigated and, if supervision is the remedy it should be applied, especially as there appears to be no dearth of supervisors ready to accept the salaries that go with the jobs. Supervising everything might possibly reduce the number of unemployed.

NOTHING SO DEARBY

A New York agency which controls the services of hundreds of variety acts has just issued an ultimatum that hereafter prohibition signs shall comprise no part of the comedian's repertoire. The ukase is part of an older campaign to rid the vaudeville stage of such political philosophy as is involved in the efforts of the putty-noses and trousers-washers.

While the temptation is strong to observe that the time is appropriate for an absolute divorce of government and the variety stage by removing vaudeville from polltax, there is a tribute of genuine thanks due to the agency that took the Volstead Act out of acting. Nothing is as dreary as an old job, and no tremendously comic variation of the wet-and-dry theme has materialized in the last three years. And nothing is better calculated to bore the world than the convictions of a gentleman whose mental wave length does not correspond to that of the subject in discussion. Edison and others have a monopoly on that sort of thing anyway.

"Shall cry," Di sobbed. "Then shall tell papa—and he'll never stop talking about it. I know him—every day he'll keep it going. After he goes, no till he's a joke for months. I'll die—I'll die, Aunt Lulu." In's voice sounded in the kitchen. "What are you two whispering about? I declare, mamma's hurt, Di, at the way you're acting."

"Let's go out on the porch," said Lulu, and when Di would have escaped, Lulu drew her with her. It was a warm dusk, moonless, windless. The sounds of the village street came in—laughter, a touch at a piano, a chiming clock. Lights started and quivered in the blurred distance. The garden echoed on the board walks. The gate opened. The gloom yielded up Corbath. Lulu was inordinately glad to see him. To have the strain of the time broken by him was like hearing, on a lonely winter morning, the clock strike reassuring dawn.

"Mamma!" Monona shouted from her room. "Come and hear me say my prayers." Monona entered this request with precision on In's nastiest moments, but she always rose, unashamed, and went, motherly and dutiful, to hear devotions, as if that function and the process of living ran their two divided channels. She had dispatched this errand and was returning when Mrs. Bett crossed the lawn from Grandam Gates, where the old lady had taken comfort in Mrs. Bett's ministrations for an hour. "Don't you help me," Mrs. Bett warned them away sharply. "I guess I can help myself yet awhile."

"You have a genius in representing facts," she knew, Lulu. "Bobby wanted to say something," said Ina, still troubled. "No, Mrs. Deacon," said Bobby, low. "I have nothing—more to say." In a little while when Bobby went away, Di looked with him to the gate as if the worst having happened to her, she dared everything now. "Bobby," she said, "you hate a lie. But what else could I do?"

"You opened the letter?" He inquired incredulously. "You opened the letter?" He inquired incredulously. "You opened the letter?" He inquired incredulously. "You opened the letter?" He inquired incredulously.

Not What He Wanted. I had taken my little napkin to a restaurant for dinner. When the waiter put the menu down in front of him, he picked it up and handed it back to him, politely. "We don't want anything to read, thank you, we want something to eat,"—Chicago Tribune.

THE MARKETS

Chicago Grain Market

CHICAGO, Aug. 28 (AP)—An unexpectedly strong market at Liverpool caused a sharp bulge in wheat prices here, and during the day commission houses bought on the breaks in sufficient volume to hold a good share of the rally. Toward the finish, short covering also strengthened the market and the close was 1 1/2 to 1 5/8 up. September 11.05 to 1.07 1/2, December 11.04 1/2 to 1.04 1/2. Corn was 1 1/4 lower to 1-8c higher. Oats were unchanged to 3-8c up and provisions ranged from unchanged figures to 17 1/2c advance.

Wheat in the English market was in good demand and the strength there was reflected in the market's price at the start, but the best early prices were not maintained, because of a lack of aggressive buying. Corn advanced early, but more than the options later on selling by long. Receipts here were 600 cars and this took the edge off the demand, especially as it is expected there will be a heavy run all through the week.

Cattle followed grain and issued off with that but averaged higher. A lack of support, with scattered selling, made a lower range for provisions despite the strength in hog values.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (AP)—Unfavorable week-end developments in the industrial situation, combined with aggressive short selling and a slackening of demand, resulted in a moderate recovery of prices in today's stock market. The sharp break in French governmental and municipal bonds also caused some uneasiness.

Pool operations forced up several gas and tobacco shares to the highest prices of the year, but the bidding up of these stocks failed to check the decline elsewhere.

Consolidated Gas sold above 140 for the first time in nearly six years, probably in anticipation of capital readjustment.

Announcement that maintenance of way men were demanding a minimum wage of 84 cents an hour and the declaration of federal Fuel Distributor Spencer that the fuel situation was again serious, with many railroads, probably indicating some selling of car 3 1/2s and 4s.

DIRECTOR DAVIS OF RECLAMATION SERVICE COMING

Twin Falls and North Side Canal Companies Bring Federal Official Here to Discuss the American Falls Project

A. P. Davis, director of the United States reclamation service, with headquarters at Washington, D. C., accompanied by F. E. Weymouth, Denver, chief engineer for the reclamation service, will come to Twin Falls Wednesday at the request of the directors of the Twin Falls and North Side Canal companies to discuss the American Falls reservoir project from the standpoint of the reclamation service.

Announcement to this effect, made by H. E. Shepherd of Jerome, president of the Twin Falls North Side Canal Water company, coming at the close of a day spent principally with discussion over a broad field relating to responsibilities in connection with the undertaking, was an outstanding development in connection with the first day of hearing before the board of Twin Falls county commissioners here Monday on the petition for an election on creation of the proposed irrigation district to finance payments of contracting companies for water from the American Falls reservoir.

Opposition in Evidence
General discussion in which there was manifested a strong disposition on the part of between 30 and 40 land holders under the Twin Falls canal system in attendance to oppose the formation of the proposed district, and the first day of hearing before the board of Twin Falls county commissioners here Monday on the petition for an election on creation of the proposed irrigation district to finance payments of contracting companies for water from the American Falls reservoir.

Two Petitions Presented
Only two petitions relating to boundaries of the proposed district were presented at the hearing Monday, although Mr. Shepherd advised that the recommendations of the Twin Falls and North Side companies in this regard, as agreed upon at joint sessions here, would later be presented to the board. Several of the objectors here to formation of the proposed district indicated Monday that they would file petitions for exclusion of their lands, while T. J. Windle, Twin Falls, one of the spokesmen for the objectors, said that he would not ask for exclusion of his lands but would fight the organization of the district.

Power County Represented
In response to invitations sent to counties having lands within the boundaries of the proposed district, E. E. Zaring, power county commissioner, and Leo C. French, clerk, power county, attended the first day's hearing. Directors Traylor and Paul and Superintendent Willis of the Minidoka irrigation district, although not interested in formation of the district, were present in connection with the American Falls reservoir would make additional water available for their districts, were present.

Flenner Answers Questions
Questions raised at the forenoon session were referred by the commissioners to Guy Flenner, managing director of the Idaho Reclamation service. Mr. Shepherd spoke at considerable length at the forenoon session, and in reply to several questions raised by Thomas Costello, Twin Falls, and other objectors either individually or through their attorney, S. L. Hodgkin. Several legal questions were referred to consulting Attorney Frank L. Stephens, who worked with the county commissioners throughout the hearing.

Shepherd Welcomes Discussion
Mr. Shepherd welcomed upon and broad discussion of the district plan. "We have here a proposition to be decided on a business basis," he said. "The question is whether we want storage for additional water, and whether we want to obligate ourselves to pay for it. If it is the fact that a majority of the landowners do not want to undertake the obligation, it would be best to head off the proposition right here and not go to the ex-

CEMETERY GATE SCENE OF AUTOMOBILE WRECK

'Bug' Car Overtakes in Ditch Within Few Paces of Entrance to Graveyard

An overturned light "bug" automobile in the ditch with four wheels high in air a few paces west of the entrance to the Twin Falls cemetery marks the scene of an automobile accident Sunday evening. John Bates, Twin Falls, is the only one of the four occupants of the machine who was injured. His arm was fractured just above the wrist. His injuries were given surgical attention at his home here. He will go to the county general hospital Wednesday morning for further treatment of the fracture.

BUILDING READY FOR NEW SCHOOL

Hollister District Tenders Quarters Rent Free to New Rural District

Directors of the Hollister rural high school district which was created last week to include seven school districts had had a favorable vote on the proposition at an election August 21. They have been appointed by Miss Eriton-nart Wolfe, county superintendent of public instruction, and at a meeting Saturday evening organization of the board of directors was effected with the election of W. H. Craven, Hollister, as chairman, and J. Blair Langford, Hograsan, clerk.

Accepts Offer of Building
The board accepted the tender by the Hollister independent school district of its school building erected about 10 years ago at an approximate cost of $30,000 to the new rural high school district rent free. It was elected L. E. Baer, formerly a Twin Falls high school teacher, and last year principal of the high school at Burley, as superintendent of the Hollister rural district high school. It is expected that the first year enrollment of the new rural high school will number between 35 and 40. Residents of Hollister have offered to furnish room and board to pupils attending the new school from outlying districts at minimum cost.

Directors Named
Members of the board of directors named to serve until the next general election, in addition to the officers chosen, are J. R. Troendly, Hollister; A. E. Holquist, Amsterdam; W. W. Powell, Berger, and J. M. Elzer, Berger.

Districts which united to form the new rural high school district were Berger, Hagar, Hollister, Springs, Amsterdam and Hograsan.

Referring to events leading up to the plan for the proposed district, Mr. Shepherd said that in 1920 when it was announced that certain interests had filed on all of the surplus waters of Snake river in connection with a plan for reclamation of the Bonanza project, landholders throughout the Snake river valley were represented at a meeting of canal company directors at Idaho Falls at which it was decided that supplemental water was desired by the owners of the established projects, including the Twin Falls project. Bureau project promoters thereafter, indicated that they would relinquish as much of the surplus water as established projects desired.

Twin Falls Calls for 100,000
The Twin Falls project, he said, indicated that it desired 100,000 acre feet more water, and eventually a contract with the reclamation service for this amount of water was entered into. This water was to have been paid for by assessment against lands under the plan for reclamation of the Bonanza project, and the plan of forming the proposed irrigation district for the sole purpose of meeting these contract payments came into being.

Quotes Cost Estimates
Mr. Shepherd quoted reclamation service estimates giving the cost of American Falls water as a maximum of $8 an acre foot. He said that the reclamation service had built the Arrowrock and Jackson Lake reservoirs for less than their estimated cost. He pointed out that other states were "clamoring" for federal funds appropriated for the American Falls reservoir, that would be spent in Idaho only upon contracts that the companies make their contract payments. The hearing will be resumed at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. What is useless to you may be valuable to others—insert it in the classified columns.

COMMISSIONER'S MEET MARKED BY FORENSICS

Demand for Sidewalk Construction and Taxi-men's Objections to Talk in Council Subjects for Debate

Two more or less prolonged and spirited debates were featured of Twin Falls city commissioners session Monday night, which adjourned at 10:30 o'clock next Friday evening to convene then with the announced purpose of taking action on claims against the city's funds.

Talks at Building Sidewalk
Question as to whether Mr. M. Mar-tin should be required to build sidewalk along the side of his property on Ninth avenue east to connect with walk already built by residents further up the street was the topic for the debate with which the commission's proceedings were opened. Mr. Martin contended that he ought not to be required to build the walk under prevailing economic conditions and prices of material and that persons complaining had a crossing to a sidewalk on the other side of the street. The other side of the argument was urged by Robert Steele, with occasional suggestion by O. R. Koth, who said he represented 25 persons asking for the walk. Commissioner S. B. All announced his intention to take action on the proposition without further opportunity for investigation, and other commissioners seemed to be of the same mind, so that on the mayor's motion, which was not put to vote, action was deferred until a subsequent meeting. The subject of the argument was urged by Robert Steele, with occasional suggestion by O. R. Koth, who said he represented 25 persons asking for the walk. Commissioner S. B. All announced his intention to take action on the proposition without further opportunity for investigation, and other commissioners seemed to be of the same mind, so that on the mayor's motion, which was not put to vote, action was deferred until a subsequent meeting.

Taxi Men Voice Protest
The second debate was precipitated by the delegation of taxicab drivers, who stated their emphatic objections to the published discussion among commissioners attending the adoption last week of an ordinance to license and extend police powers to licensed operators. The arguments of the delegation were conducted for the most part by the city attorney. Members of the taxicab drivers' delegation would have had no objection to the ordinance provided, but they did object to interference in the conduct of their business by the ordinance that some, at least, of the taxicab operators here were persons of shady reputation. In this connection Mayor J. D. Tucker disclaimed responsibility for reporters' accounts of the commission's proceedings.

News Story in Evidence
A copy of The News' article relating to the adoption of the ordinance in question was presented in evidence by the taxi men. All of the commissioners said they had read it and none of them denied its accuracy. The News representative was called upon by Commissioner J. E. Roberts to state whether he had understood the discussions among the commission to refer to all taxicab operators. The reply was a negative and the article in question was referred to by a member of the commission as indicating that a general indictment was not implied. Members of the taxicab drivers' delegation were E. D. Minnerly, L. C. Smith, A. Erickson, E. G. Driskell and J. L. Tomlinson. None of the members of this delegation, Commissioner Roberts said later, would find difficulty in obtaining and holding a license under the new regulatory ordinance.

Ordinance Won't Stand Test
Discussion in connection with the taxicab ordinance brought out a statement by Commissioner All and an admission by the city attorney that the ordinance defining illegal possession of liquor as a misdemeanor, which by maximum fine of $100, adopted last week, would not stand the test of constitutionality. It was also disclosed that the commission in adopting the taxicab ordinance last week had failed to insert the

MOUNTED POLICEMAN INJURED IN COLLISION

W. H. Gheen on Motorcycle Crashes Into Car at Crossing and Two Are Hurt

W. H. Gheen, Twin Falls traffic policeman, is a patient at the county general hospital, suffering from fractured wrist, three broken ribs and gash over the forehead, received in a collision in which his motorcycle, he was driving, crashed into a light touring car driven by Leonard Roberts of Murtagh, at the intersection of Shoshone street and Fourth avenue east at about 7:15 o'clock Sunday evening.

Policeman's Injury
After Roberts of Boise, who was with Mr. and Mrs. Roberts in the car, suffered a dislocation of a wrist. Hospital attendants said Monday evening that Gheen probably would be discharged from the hospital Tuesday. Both the motorcycle and the car were badly damaged. The crash when the machines came together was heard three or four blocks away from the scene of the accident. Persons who witnessed the accident say that the car, proceeding south on Shoshone street and turning onto Fourth avenue, had passed the center of Shoshone street when the mounted officer coming at a high rate of speed from the south on Shoshone crashed headlong into the side of the car. It was said that Gheen was pursuing another car that was being driven at an excessive rate of speed.
