

WHEN the events of the day are over and the smoke of man's activities has cleared away, all over the country the work of getting out the Morning Newspaper commences.

Then it is that a sane, reasonable and untrammelled view of the march of progress of the twenty-four hour period begins to be possible. The business of the country is over for the day; offices are closed; courts have ceased to function; the world gradually settles down to rest in preparation for the day to come.

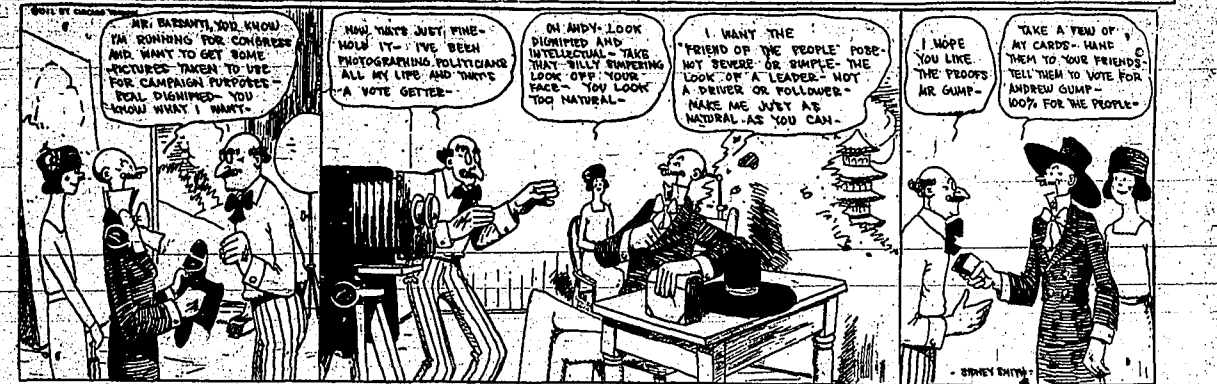

But in plants and offices of the Morning Paper, activity grows apace. The great network of wires and cables of the Associated Press settle down to their work. The editors and reporters sharpen their pencils and limber up their typewriters. Linotype men and printers take off their coats and press men go over their machines in readiness for the labors of the early morning hours. The Morning Papers of the country set to work on the job of providing their readers with their Morning Paper.

THERE are in America a little less than one third as many morning newspapers as afternoon newspapers, but the number of readers of morning newspapers has always been greater than the number of readers of afternoon papers. There are many reasons for this; chief among which is the fact that a Morning Newspaper is a Complete paper. Its articles are as to events and happenings which have happened or will happen, and only rarely as to matters which are half finished or partially completed.

And the fact that readers of Morning Newspapers know this is the thing which gives to Morning Newspapers their position of commanding importance and influence in the newspaper fields of the world.

The News is the only Morning Newspaper South and East of Boise in the entire State of Idaho.

HANSEN TAKES THE FIRST GAME

Great Pitching and Fine Fielding Features First Game for Baseball Championship

Jerome went down to defeat yesterday afternoon at Lincoln field before the fast Hansen team by the score of 3 to 1. It was the first game of ball that Twin Falls has been treated to since July 4, and a crowd estimated at 1000 thronged the stands to root for their favorite.

As the score indicates it was a real battle between Jimmie Thompson and Clyde Modrell. Jimmie had a slight shade the better of the argument, allowing but three hits, one of which was a circuit club by Brooks in the fifth inning. Not one man did Thompson pass to first.

Modrell pitched well enough to win the average game, allowing the hard hitting Bannassee but six scattered hits and passing one man. He fanned the mighty Zienke three times, twice with run on base. His own error was responsible for one run, while his pass to Zienke resulted in another marker.

From a fielding standpoint it was the best exhibition seen in Twin Falls in years. No less than 18 catches were made in the outfield and all of them bobbing the batter's base hits.

Admission Features. Ashenfaller, the centerfielder for the North Side side, made the sensational catch of the day when he speared Patton's long drive in the fourth inning with one hand after stumbling over a bunch of weeds.

Jimmie Thompson led the Hansen boys with the club making two out of three, one a two-bagger.

For the benefit of those that were unable to attend the classy afternoon's entertainment, we give the game in detail.

First Inning. JEROME—Pethis fell a victim to Thompson's glove and punctured the ozone. Luch sent a long fly to right and Hughes was credited with a put-out. Ashenfaller took three healthy springs and went back to the bench.

Second Inning. JEROME—Brooks got in the road of Prosler's hot grounder and threw him out at first. Patton sent a high one to Ashenfaller's waiting mitt.

Third Inning. JEROME—Prosler got in the road of Prosler's hot grounder and threw him out at first. Patton sent a high one to Ashenfaller's waiting mitt.

Fourth Inning. JEROME—Prosler got in the road of Prosler's hot grounder and threw him out at first. Patton sent a high one to Ashenfaller's waiting mitt.

Fifth Inning. JEROME—Pethis grounded out to Bernard, assisted. Luch sent a high fly to right and Bernard made a classy stop of Ashenfaller's hot roller along

PROFESSOR TO PRESS CHARGES IN QUEER CASE

Member of Faculty of Notre Dame University Will Attempt to Show Improper Conduct by His Wife

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 4 (AP)—Professor J. A. Tiersman, of the law department of the University of Notre Dame, continued his plans today for pressing his charge that Harry Poulin, campus representative of a local clothing store, is the father of a child born to Mrs. Tiersman last November. Poulin was arrested Saturday on a preliminary charge, will be arraigned in a justice of the peace court tomorrow. He is at liberty under $2000 bond.

Professor Tiersman and his wife, it was learned today, have reached an agreement of separation by which he is given custody of their two daughters, five and three years old.

Professor Tiersman issued a statement today outlining his attitude.

For Integrity of Home.
"My fight is for the integrity and morality of the home," he declared "In my mind, the sanctity of the family is the very basis of our life. I have no desire for vengeance and I hate to make five percent of our innocent children, two of them my daughters and two of them Poulin's sons, suffer the disgrace that falls heavily on them, but the question involved in this case reaches into the very vitals of our whole system of life."
Poulin, registered that Professor Tiersman's charges were the aftermath of a blackmail plot. The professor declares that an affidavit signed by his wife in which she sets forth the details of an intimacy with Poulin, will be presented in court.

BISHOP TUTTLE ARRIVES AT ANNUAL CONFERENCE

Well Known Dignitary of Episcopal Church Extends Greetings to Former Field of Labor

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 4 (AP)—Plans for a spirit of cooperation and for serious consideration of the increasing importance of women's work in the church were made in a statement issued by the Right Rev. Daniel Sylvester Tuttle, D. D., bishop of Missouri, presiding bishop of the Episcopal church, on his arrival late today to attend the 47th triennial convention of the church which opens here this week. He extended greetings to the west, in which he labored 66 years as a minister.

"Eighty-five years old and still vigorous, Bishop Tuttle recalled incidents of another journey west in 1857, when he made his way to the fields of which he had just been elected missionary bishop. That field was Montana, an undeveloped wilderness. He was a passenger on the first train the Union Pacific ever sent west of North Platte. Neb. Fifty miles beyond that point he boarded a stage coach and with an escort of cavalry detailed by General W. T. Sherman marched on Denver. Owing to the menacing attitude of Indians, Bishop Tuttle had provided himself with a rifle and had spent several days at target practice. When he reached Salt Lake City a month later, after a topographical survey, he was flannel shirt and boater like the herd, he said, he was not at all surprised to be taken for a "bad man" instead of a bishop.

Great Good Engendered.
"Great good comes to our church from its general convocations because of the companionably, cooperation and brotherliness that the meeting engenders," said Bishop Tuttle's statement. "Statutes for the regulation and government of the church are not of all-time importance. Of greater value is the spirit of allowance-making and of fair play in which men of different views and of different schools of thought meet each other and talk and work together."
"When is doing which and is going to do more along the lines of the family and the church and the state. My God's help abided and bless her plans and strivings."

"And the missionary spirit will be warmed and fed by the convention we may feel sure."

Muriel McCormick Declared to Have Refused Proposition to Earn Million on Screen

CHICAGO, Sept. 4 (AP)—Nawanna Minor, who in every day life is Miss Muriel McCormick, has refused a $1,000,000 contract to appear in a million picture, according to close friends. Miss McCormick refused to make any comment on her plans today, being busy moving from the home of her father, Harold P. McCormick, who recently married Ganna Walska, the Polish opera star, to an attic studio, three flights up, where she will pursue her operatic studies.

Her apartment is just across the street from the home of her mother, Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, from whom she has been estranged since the divorce was obtained by Mrs. McCormick upon charges of desertion. Miss McCormick, who is known to her gold coast friends as "the poor little rich girl," has expressed her desire to become a grand opera star to achieve success through her own efforts alone and without the assistance of her family's wealth.

"Her stage name of 'Nawanna Minor' was said to have adopted on the advice of a New York actor."

Austria's Marriage Law

The Austrian supreme court has decided that the law prohibiting marriages between Christians and non-Christians applies to marriages contracted outside Austria. The court held invalid the marriage of Count Rudolf Schirring and a Protestant of Berlin. The court left the Roman Catholic church in 1913, and was married here in August, 1914. In the following October he returned to the Catholic faith. The lower courts held the marriage was invalid, and this decision now is sustained by the supreme court. Under the Austrian law non-Christians may marry Jews, but not Catholics nor Protestants.

BUNKO VICTIM NEAR TO DEATH IN CALIFORNIA

John B. Norris, Former Twin Falls Resident, Broken in Body and Spirit Through the Loss of $35,000 to Sharpers

Broken in body and spirit, John B. Norris, former Twin Falls resident and landowner here, is a victim of a California bunco ring, hovering between life and death at his home in Los Angeles...

Retires With Wealth. Here is his story, as told by the Los Angeles newspaper, under date of September 1.

"Three years ago Norris, a well-to-do Illinois farmer, retired and came to spend the rest of his life in southern California. Two weeks ago he collapsed.

"Last night a crisis in his condition was reached and a slight improvement noted, but Dr. Robert Griffith, attending physician, said that another intestinal hemorrhage would prove fatal.

"Against Big Hatch, now in San Quentin prison, Norris and his wife hold no great bitterness. They believe 'Hutch' alone was instrumental in getting back a part of Mr. Norris' $35,000 and reportedly told his wife gullily that 'Hutch' is still free in Los Angeles."

Another Idaho man, Geoffrey Sommers of Filer, outwitted the Los Angeles bunco ring, according to the latest copy accumulated by the newspaper clipping. It says:

"The outfit referred to was a wonderful organization. Many a man met a fortune with them but did not have to relate it to the rest of the world. I have heard much of them. Several acquaintances have been worked by them, but most of them only desire to 'live it down.'"

"The best story yet is the one of Geoffrey Sommers of Filer. He sold his land adjoining town and went to Long Beach to live, and, in fact, strange to say, still lives there. He was duped in one of his many deals by the very same men. Sommers is Swiss, but it sounds Yiddish when I tell you that he was duped from the influence of this wonderful organization about $25 winner instead of loser."
