UNION MEN STAND PAT ON STRIKE

Reports of Call for Meeting of Policy Committee in Chicago is Denounced as a Plot by Railroads

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Leaders of the striking railway shommen tonight denied reports printed that a call had been sent out for a meeting of the union policy committee of 90 men in Chicago on Thursday.

"Any such report is a plot on the part of the railroads to deceive our membership," declared J. F. McGrath, vice president and spokesman for the union in the absence from headquarters of B. H. Jewell.

While refusing to reveal the whereabouts of Mr. Jewell, who dropped from sight last Thursday just as the government announced temporary injunction against the strikers, Mr. McGrath said, referring to reports that Mr. Jewell had been in Baltimore, "I do not believe he has been in that vicinity ever."

"There has been absolutely no call for a meeting of the policy committee sent out from our headquarters," he declared. "And such a meeting would be impossible on Thursday, as our members could not be assembled on such short notice."

No Efforts to Settle.

At the same time railway executives said that they knew of no efforts to be made to settle the strike. H. H. Holden, president of the Burlington, said that he understood that all discussions had ended after the recent conference in New York, and that his road was well satisfied with government action. "We are quieting at New York, and now we are busy moving the traffic," he said.

Mr. Jewell, who has been sought ever since the injunction was handed down last Friday to obtain services for a writ and who has been variously reported to be in Chicago, Baltimore, New York, and elsewhere, was still absent today, although some of his friends indicated that he might return tomorrow.

Story D Denied.

DEBATES HUMAN OF CONFERENCE

President Willard of Baltimore and Ohio Settles Story of Reported Peace Session

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 8.—President Willard of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad tonight declared emphatically he had not had any conference with B. H. Jewell, head of the striking railroad shommen, with a view to settling the strike, nor had he seen Mr. Jewell.

Mr. Willard further said positively that no conference had been arranged with Mr. Jewell and his company now was going about improving its shop forces and increasing its working facilities.

Mr. Willard made the foregoing statement when questioned concerning a report that he had conferred with B. H. Jewell, head of the striking shommen, at a view to a settlement of the strike.

Color was given to the report when inquiry at the hotel disclosed that "B. H. Jewell of Chicago" had registered at the Emerson last Sunday and had left only last evening.

At the hotel, ignorance of his movements was expressed by his coming and going was unnoted.

State Mineralogist of California Declares Entombed Men Have Reasonable Chance

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—Belief that all or most of the 46 miners entombed in the Argonaut mine are still alive was voiced by State Mineralogist Fletcher Hamilton on his return here today from Jackson.

"With good air and sufficient water, the men should be able to live for two weeks and longer without food," he declared. "Of course there is the psychological factor of being entombed in the depth which might tend to shorten their endurance, but they can keep up their hope they will survive."

VETERANS AROUSED OVER DISABLED MEN'S WELFARE

BOISE, Sept. 8.—From all over the country are arising protests from former service men, filled with anxiety because of the welfare of disabled veterans, over the interference of Brigadier General Charles Sawyer with the planned hospital program of the veterans, according to Lester F. RULE OF REASON TO BE EMPLOYED

Attorney General Declares Injunction Powers to be Utilized Only as Necessity Dictates

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The injunction obtained in Chicago against the Pullman strike by the government, Attorney General Daugherty said today will not be used to curtail personal liberty, nor will freedom of speech or of the press be interfered with. But, added, "freedom of speech and freedom of the press does not mean those mediums may be used to incite riots and to interfere with the government."

The attorney general also declared that the injunction had not been obtained to force men to work, nor was it a move to prevent strikes. "The injunction is directed against the Chicago injunction proceedings which were followed up with determination of preventing interference with transportation."

Just how far the government would be obliged to go with prosecutions against individuals, the White House declined to answer a question submitted by events. It was indicated that no activities in connection with the strike outside of court matters now were in prospect.

Strikes to Quiet Down.

The attorney general expressed the belief that the strike situation would "quiet down" this week, and added: "I do not want to go any further in this proceeding than is necessary, and I want to be reasonable about it, but not so reasonable as to let the government and the people be tripped upon."

The attorney general also said that the department had received many congratulatory messages on it, including many from labor people.

The great majority of the present 80 per cent—that portion of the respectable standing press, Mr. Daugherty said, approved the government's course. The press, he added, had performed "a very generous, helpful service to the American people."

RESCUE CREWS WORK TOWARDS ENTOMBED MEN

Victims of Argonaut Mine Disaster Expected to be Reached Some Time Thursday—
Progress is Rapid

JACKSON, Cal., Sept. 6, (UP)—Some time Thursday, it is expected, the men in the Argonaut mine will be reached. It is generally expected here today. It also is generally believed that some, at least, of the men who were trapped underground by a fire and falling rock nine days ago, are still alive, as a report yesterday that answering signals had been heard by a member of one of the rescuing crews followed by others in the same tenor today.

The rescue crew working from the 3000 foot level of the adjoining Kennedy mine toward the Argonaut, finished a detour around a virgin rock obstruction and today reached one of the old tunnels connecting the two mines. This tunnel was open to the 4000 foot level of the Argonaut. This work may be started tonight and is expected to progress rapidly, perhaps as fast as two feet an hour, since the rock cutting is being done by dynamite. The work on the men as fast as it is detected.

The other rescue crew, working from the 2000 foot level, of the Argonaut mine, has now more than 200 feet of old tunnel to clear out first, will then progress to cutting through 141 feet of quartz and other rock. For this they expect to use diamond drills cut small holes for admission of air and perhaps water had food.

FREE SPEECH IS NOT CURTAILED

Personal Liberty Not Abridged Under Terms of Federal Injunction, Daugherty Declares

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5, (AP)—The injunction obtained by the government in Chicago against the striking shipmen will not be used to abridge personal liberty, Attorney General Daugherty declared to newspaper correspondents late today. Nor will freedom of speech or press be interfered with, he added, or freedom of speech and freedom of press does not mean that mediums may be used to incite riots or murders.

"There will be no objection by the department of justice to meetings of union men to perform any of their functions," that do not interfere with interstate commerce or otherwise violate the law," the attorney general continued.

"If any one undertakes to abridge personal liberty," Mr. Daugherty said, "I will be as vigorous in upholding the people's rights as I am vigorous in opposing violence."

Flashlight Needed

Every household should possess a good electric flashlight. It is invaluable to the mother when there are little children and she often has to get up at night. Flash it into the medicine cabinet, and there will be no tragedies of mistaken bottles in the dark. Even in the daytime it is handy to look into dark closets, attics, drawers or dark corners. The beauty of it is that one may throw a strong light just where it is needed without a particle of danger from fire. You may even flash it into the gasoline tank with safety.

Every Day Bank Service for the Farmer
Every farmer around Twin Falls should have two months of helpful bank service every year.
When times are good and crops above the average, or when conditions are trying, the farmer needs bank service and the co-operation of a good bank. There are so many ways in which he can use bank service for his every day needs, also when unusual services are required.
Service here is constant and can be depended upon when needed most.

WORLD WIDE DEMAND FOR RESULTS OF FARM STUDY

Idaho Station's Mail Brings Communications From Producers in China and Europe

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO Moscow, Sept. 5.—(The day's mail to the University of Idaho agricultural experiment station not only contains communications from every state in the Union, but from almost every agricultural production section in the world, says Dean E. J. Edlings of the college of agriculture.)

"One day's mail will contain requests for university bulletins not only from Idaho farmers but from producers along the Atlantic coast and the south and occasionally a request from China and even Czechoslovakia."

"These requests come because the station is of practical importance to Idaho and also because the Adams fund investigations deal with fundamental plant, soil and animal problems that permeate the same all over the world."

"The experiment station organization consists of something over 4000 acres of land, located at five different points in the state. Stations are now being operated at Caldwell, Aberdeen, Felt, Sandpoint and at the university. Greenhouses, laboratories and special field stations operated at various points for one year or more complete the equipment of the organization."

"The experiment station is a service organization for Idaho which develops new information of importance to the agricultural industry."

PROMINENT ATTORNEY DIES

Theodore A. Bell, Former Candidate for Governor, Victim of Accident to Automobile

SAN RAFAEL, Cal., Sept. 5 (AP)—Theodore A. Bell, San Francisco attorney, former congressman from California, died candidate for governor on the democratic ticket and widely known as a champion of opposition to prohibition acts, was killed in an automobile accident here last night.

State Highway: Bell's host is a gun club in the hills above Rose, Cal., was bringing Bell back to the railroad to take a train for San Francisco. He turned to alter another car to pass and swung over a right embankment. Bell was pinned beneath the car, probably dying instantly. Minister's arm was broken.

Fated to Be Bachelors
Probably no man of fame has gone to a "bachelor" grave without one or more interesting escapades. Cupid's darts, however, indifferently he may have professed to regard love, observes a London T. T. Bells writer. Even Alexander Pope, with all his grotesque deformity, was as vulnerable as any Adonis of his age. His last love affair, a devoted one to his many women, from Martha Blount, his boyhood's sweetheart, to Lady Mary Wortley Montague, who referred to him on one occasion as "a great bachelon." And it is said one of his lady-loves killed herself when her guardians sent her abroad to cure her of her infatuation.

Reasonable Idea
Le Roy was being teased by his aunt, who told him that his father liked his baby brother better than he did him. He was almost ready to cry when he looked up hopefully and said: "I think daddy probably likes me better, 'cause he knows me longer."

ARMISTICE MAY BE RESULT

French and British Governments Discuss Advantages of Interfering in Greco-Turkish War

PARIS, Sept. 5, (AP)—The French government today received through the British embassy a note from the British government requesting consideration of the possibility of taking steps to bring about an armistice between the Greeks and the Turks. The French replied in a note sent by the foreign office this evening.

Although the terms of the notes exchanged were not disclosed, it is inferred from the promptness of the French reply that an agreement between the two governments will probably be reached.

Electrical Hair Cutting

There is in use in France an electric substitute for the barber's scissors. It consists of a comb carrying along one side of its row of teeth a platinum wire, through which flows an electric current. As the comb passes through the hair, the force of the limited wire in stationariness severs the hairs, leaving them of even length and sealing the cut ends, as in the ordinary process, of singeing with a taper.

The Log Line
The log line is one of the older devices for measuring the velocity of a ship. The log is flat is made so that it will float perpendicularly. To this a line is fastened, called the log line. The exact speed of the ship can be determined by letting the line run out for any half a minute. The length of the line run out in that time gives a basis for calculating the speed per hour. The log during the experiment, remains stationary on the surface of the water, of course. This is the older method. A modern method involves the use of a log with a revolving mechanism which is dragged along in the water behind the vessel.

Man Who Succeeds
The man who succeeds above his fellows is the one who, early in life, clearly discerns his object, and toward that object habitually directs his power. Even genius itself is but close observation strengthened by duty of purpose. Every man who observes vigilantly and resolves steadfastly grows unexpectantly into genius.—Bulwer.

YANKEES LOSE TWO TO RED SOX

NEW YORK, Sept. 5 (AP)—The New York Yankees sustained a serious setback today, losing both games of a double-header to the last place Boston team, and losing first place to the St. Louis Browns. Boston now has won 11 out of 18 games with the Yankees this season. Former Yankee players in the Red Sox lineup played a prominent part in the champion's doubleheader. Mitchell's home run gave Boston its winning margin in the first game, and Pratt's homer, with Burns on base, decided the second game. Bush pitching for New York in the second game, suffered his sixth defeat in 23 games.

SECOND GAME AT JEROME

Southern Idaho Championship Contest to be Staged in North Side Town

The second game of the Hansen-Jerome baseball series for the championship of southern Idaho will be played Sunday at Jerome. This course was decided upon before the game Labor Day and although there is a possibility that there will not be a crowd at Jerome that there was at Twin Falls on Monday, nevertheless it is only fair to Jerome that the game should be played on their home grounds as the game before the Labor Day affair was played on the Hansen lot.

INSTRUCTOR DEFEATED

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Sept. 5 (AP)—Johnny Meyers, Chicago champion of the midweight wrestling title, defeated Paul Prhn, former Iowa wrestler and now wrestling instructor at the University of Illinois, in straight falls here last night. MAKES POOR SHOWING

DOISE, Sept. 5 (AP)—"Sugar" Willie Keeler, Montevideo, Cal., heavyweight, took a poorly-earned referee's decision at the end of a 15-round match with Manager Brooks of the Jerome club refused to say who he would use in the box for the coming game, but it may be that Clyde Wozdri will again be selected for the task of sending the Hansen players back on the short end of the score Clyde did some fine work last Monday, and with a couple of runs to help him out would have been in the win. REVISION OF PRAYER BOOK IS TAKEN UP

Many Important Changes Included in Proposed Alterations to be Passed Upon by Convention of Bishops

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 5 (AP)—Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal church in the United States of America today concluded a week of careful study and discussion of the report of the joint commission on the book of common prayer which is to be presented to the forty-seventh triennial convention of the church formally opening here tomorrow.

This report is the third on prayer book revision to be presented by the joint commission appointed by the general convention of 1913. As the prayer book is a part of the constitution of the church, alterations in it must be approved by two conventions before they become effective.

Beyond announcements from day to day that various sections of the report have been under consideration by the bishops have given no intimation as to what conclusions have been reached. The preliminary reports have been held with a view of expediting action when the convention opens.

That an effort will be made to lay the whole matter before the convention on the table was indicated by statements of delegates to the convention here today. The element opposed to prayer book revision dropped the entire matter if possible, and that falls would have it re-referred and ask for appointment of a new commission to further investigate.

New Sections in Use

Already two conventions have passed upon revision of the sections devoted to morning and evening prayer, and these new sections are now in use in the church. Some further changes in the prayers have been proposed and are to be up for final action at this convention.

The sharply debated alterations are those which concern the section on the holy communion; it was indicated to-day. Opposition was developed to the change of the title of the office of deacon and a number of the amendments to the church and the low churches over the doctrine of the "real presence."

One of the most discussed changes in the prayer book occurs in the section on matrimony. Churchmen here have voiced no opposition to the dropping of the words "obey" from the words which here begin the vows of matrimony, but on the omission of the words "with all my worldly goods I thee endow."

Important Innovation

In the section of visitation of the sick an important innovation is included according to delegates here. It provides for a minister visiting on his hands or administering an anointing person with oil and invoking divine aid "that all his pain and suffering may be brought to flight, the blessing of health may be restored to them."

Justification for this "ministry" is given in these words: "The church, teaching and practice of our Lord and His apostles, the church from the beginning hath exercised the ministry of healing, always with the use of faith, often accompanied with anointing with oil, or with the imposition of hands."

The matter of divorce being regulated by canon law, which is not included in the prayer book revision. Canon enacted by a convention became effective the first of the following year, while constitutional changes, including prayer book revision, require action at two triennial conventions.

The question of relaxing or tightening the divorce restriction of the church has been sharply discussed and may provoke debate on the convention floor.

Formal Opening Tomorrow

Preparations were completed today for the formal opening of the convention tomorrow. There will be committal services at the various Episcopal churches followed by a mass meeting at the auditorium. A procession by the bishops in their robes will be a feature of this service and the opening of the convention will be voted by the Right Rev. Edwin G. Bliss, bishop of Newark.

New Orleans, Philadelphia and Providence, R. I., have started campaigns for the next triennial convention.

DECLARES PARTY TO AGT AS HIS OWN ATTORNEY

First National Commander of Legion Takes Strong Stand on Ku Klux Klan

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Sept. 5 (AP)—"The existence of the democratic party in Texas and the nation is at stake as a result of the activities of the Ku Klux Klan," Colonel H. D. Lindley, first national commander of the American Legion, former mayor of Dallas and a member of the democratic state-convention in session here, declared in a statement tonight when it became known that the platform committee of the convention had rejected resolutions condemning the Ku Klux Klan.

"The Ku Klux Klan issue is not static, but national," Lindley said. "If the democratic party does not purge itself of the influence of this organization, it may soon become the party of the mob."

Would Affect Ballot.

"The result will be that voters will cast their ballots along democratic and republican, but Klan and anti-Klan lines," Lindley said. "The next national democratic convention must take up and make known its attitude on the Klan."

Colonel Lindley expected to lead an attempt to get a minority report on this issue before the convention tomorrow. It was indicated by anti-Klan leaders tonight that their supporters may break off from the convention if the minority report is not recognized.

Writers' Bill in Plant Virtue.

The doctrine of signatures, was preached by William Cole in his "Art of Singing" in 1606, and by Ferriter in 1700. These writers believe in the virtues of plants, and in certain external appearances, supposed to have been impressed on them by guardian angels. Thus the spotted leaves of lungwort were supposed to indicate the presence of certain diseases of the lung, and the shape of the widow to show that it was good for affections of the head. Plants were supposed to be under the influence of the sun, the moon, and the planets, and to possess virtue equivalent to that of their celestial position at the time they were gathered, to the heavenly body which ruled them.

"Round Robin."

A round robin is a form of petition, protest, or appeal signed by a number of persons whose signatures are arranged in a circle so that no signer can be identified from the position of his name on the document as a leader in its composition. It is not authorized by army or navy regulations, which are designed to provide ample opportunity for reporting dissatisfaction through official channels. Recent has been had to it sometimes by military men to protest against the conduct, plans and behavior of commanders deceptively or undesignedly unpopular.

GOVERNOR IS SUSPICIOUS THAT BOUB WAS REAL ONE

Indiana Executive of the Opinion That Pal Moore-Joe Lynch Fight Was a Prize Fight

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 5 (AP)—Governor McCray, after reading newspaper accounts of the Pal Moore-Joe Lynch fight at Michigan City on Labor Day, announced today that it seemed to him that another prize fight had been held in the Floyd Fitzsimmons arena. He insisted that he believed the time had come to stop all matches of the character held in the arena under the present statute.

The governor said former matches held at the arena had seemed to him and to many other persons to be prize fights which are prohibited by the Indiana law. The governor insisted that he had forbidden the Jack Dempsey-Brennan match, which was to have been staged yesterday, but had permitted the program, which the promoters had assured him would be made up of boxing contests.

"I trusted them once more," said the governor. "and now I see what has been going on. I guess the way to handle that situation, up there is to stop it right. I don't believe I could trust them again. However, I had a special representative there who will not be fooled by any of them and I shall wait until I hear from him before say or do anything more about it."

OPPORTUNITY FOR EMPLOYMENT

Oregon Short Line Railroad Company

The Oregon Short Line Railroad Company announces its intention to give preference to young men residing on its lines in employing men, as far as possible, to fill places in all classes of the railroad service and advances the following reasons therefor.

FIRST—it will eliminate the "Floater" among our employees and substitute local citizens and taxpayers.

SECOND—it will create a mutual interest and a common understanding between the railroads and the people they serve whereby each will be able to understand and appreciate the problems and difficulties of the other, and work to a common end, viz: the welfare of the country generally as the interests of the railroad and the communities they serve are identical. To this end they extend a special invitation to young men who live in the country and towns along their lines to enter the railroad service.

At the present time their greatest need is for rough carpenters and experienced shop men and mechanics, and while they prefer men who have had some mechanical experience that would enable them to finish their training at an early date, they are willing to employ, to a certain extent, young men who are ambitious and willing to learn and teach them the various trades or professions which enter into railroad work.

There are also a number of advantages which railroad employees enjoy which do not obtain in other lines of work, and employment officers will be glad to explain these matters by personal interview with prospective applicants.

DEBTS SHARING STICKING POINT IN BIG DISTRICT

Aberdeen - Springfield Project Settlers Have No Wish to Incur Responsibility for Twin Falls' Liability

Some Twin Falls district land owners are dissatisfied with the proposed American Falls irrigation district because it involves liability of payment for American Falls water that may be furnished by other included areas while owners of approximately 20,000 acres of approximately 20,000 acres of irrigated land have applied for exclusion of their lands from the proposed district because they are fearful of financial collapse. Some Twin Falls defaulted payments.

This was made evident Tuesday at the hearing before the board of Twin Falls county commissioners. It is their duty to determine whether or not the proposed American Falls district to include all of the lands under Snake river valley and which have been included for American Falls water.

Do Not Ask Exclusion

Objectors to the formation of the super-district system presented a remonstrance against the calling of the election. The remonstrance was signed by about 300 persons representing approximately 300 acres of land of the total of 22,000 listed as Twin Falls district lands in the petition under consideration.

Some of the remonstrance did not request exclusion of their lands from the boundaries of the super-district, but asked the commissioners not to call the election for the reason that it requires us to become common debtors with other irrigation systems throughout the district and for the further reason that they would not want to be included in the boundaries of the super-district, but that if additional water is necessary, then this project should be continued as a separate project and remain independent of other irrigation systems proposed to be combined.

In argument before the commission, Mr. F. M. Hodges, attorney for Twin Falls objectors to the project, pointed out that the area proposed to be combined in the district is not contiguous and indicated the danger to water right priorities. J. Costello, Twin Falls, and W. T. Sheldon, Filer, were called by Mr. Hodges to present their views on the proposition.

Aberdeen-Springfield Situation

Protest on the part of landowners of the Aberdeen-Springfield irrigation system bore signatures representing ownership of approximately 20,000 acres of about one-half of the project, according to D. H. Blossom, Idaho Falls, by whom it was presented. In addition to their aversion for assuming liability for Twin Falls indebtedness signs of the protest offered as a reason for their request for exclusion of their lands the argument that they are "already provided with an adequate water right except in seasons of extreme drought which occur very infrequently."

Proceedings Tuesday were rather informal, a running fire of debate and questions continuing throughout most of the afternoon. The case for the proposed district was represented by E. A. Banks, reclamation service engineer; E. E. Stenham, former resident of the North Side Land and Water company; Guy Flenner, managing director of the Idaho Reclamation association; Mr. L. E. Evans, president of American Falls Irrigation, president of the Twin Falls Canal company; J. A. Cron and others.

Other Counties Represented

Frank L. Stephens, prosecuting attorney, was occasionally consulted by the commissioners during the proceedings, other counties were represented by Commissioners E. M. Howell, D. E. Keith and C. N. Dilworth of Gooding county and Commissioner E. E. Zaring of Power county.

In reply to an objection raised by Twin Falls landholders, Mr. Stenham said that the annual charge to the Twin Falls project landholders in joining the proposed district would be a saving of approximately two and one-half cents per acre interest charges on bonds that would have to be floated either by the Twin Falls company at a higher rate or by the super-district at a lower rate.

Mr. Evans urged the commissioners to submit the district's formation to a vote without material change in its boundaries, for the reason, he said, that the petitioners are not asking for a requirement and for the further reason that needless complication and expense would result from apportionment of reclamation water supply to lands within the district if adjoining lands were excluded.

This latter point also was emphasized by Mr. Evans, who said that he would rather that the district be not formed than that variation in water rights should result.

Mr. Flenner suggested that signs of the remonstrance and petition be probably heard only one side of the proposition presented, and that "a year or so from now they will thank us for keeping them in the district."

POTATO RATE REDUCTION EFFECTIVE ON THURSDAY

Short Line Agent Here in Advance of Steps Taken by Road Officials to Meet Situation

Emergency reduction in the rate on Idaho potatoes over the Union Pacific railway system to Missouri river and California points will become effective September 7, and continue in effect until September 30, according to word received Tuesday by D. E. Sullivan, Oregon Short Line agent here, through J. A. Priest, general manager of the J. A. Reeves, Short Line assistant general freight agent.

The reduction will apply to all destinations on the Union Pacific railway system except to points on or reached by way of the Chicago Rock Island and St. Louis and San Francisco lines. These lines have refused to participate in the emergency rate.

Notice from the interstate commerce commission to make the reduction on one day's notice was received by Mr. Reeves last Sunday. By mailing a supplement embodying the reduction to Washington Sunday night, Mr. Reeves advised, "I figure it will thereby make the rate effective September 7, which is the earliest possible date."

Mrs. Jaud Craven Best, president of the Twin Falls school district board of education was re-elected Tuesday with a margin of 68 votes over John G. McKinley, third candidate in the race for two positions for which Mrs. Scott and C. E. McClain sought re-election. Mrs. Best was returned with the largest vote polled by any of the candidates.

Soon after the voting began in the afternoon it became plain that the race was between Mrs. Scott and Mr. McKinley, and that Mr. McClain was running far ahead.

Friends of either candidate bent their efforts to obtaining the largest possible expression of the voters and the total of ballots cast, 547, was one of the largest ever polled in a school district election here.

Polling places were provided at the Lincoln and Dickel schools, and the voting was in progress between the hours of 1 p. m. and 6 p. m.

THE OTHER NINE HOURS

Going back to school looms large in the minds of most youngsters these days. Their state of mind seems about that of the school kids of a generation ago—they'd rather play outdoors.

Most parents, although it scarcely seems credible, accept the child's judgment in the matter. That is, they decide that summer, the playtime, being over, it is school that will be the big thing from now until next June.

A child should have nine hours sleep. That leaves 15 waking hours in every day. Of these, about six are spent in school. Parents, what are your children of school age doing in the remaining nine hours?

Let's hope they are playing, romping, chasing, getting into a little mischief now and then, getting scolded and spanked, fussed and hugged, eating plenty and eating it slowly, going to bed at night dog-tired.

These nine hours are the 'social hours.' In them the child learns the lessons of living. While in school, a boy or girl is more or less an automaton, receiving lessons and digesting them more or less perfectly.

It is when they are playing, run, sheep run, mumble-peg, marbles, or jackstraws that they are learning how to get along with their playmates. They are adjusting themselves to social life. They are becoming citizens of society.

It is the boy or girl who is too much alone, whether in a corner with a story book or plugging away at home study, who is falling to learn the true lessons that school age should teach. The teachers look out for six hours of our children's time every day, but in many respects these six hours are the smallest part of the real business of preparing the youngsters for life.

WHAT MAKES IT SPORT

Looking along the sport horizon the eye encounters a variety of interesting phenomena this season. A notable exception that a man must be matured to play championship golf, or in the first flush of youth to dominate in baseball are being exploded with considerable frequency and experts are beginning to figure that age cuts very little figure in any final standing in sport.

Golf is living down the stigma of being an exclusive possession of the aged and decrepit. The country's new open champion is a youth who will vote for the first time this fall. His victory will promote a new interest in the game among youngsters. Curiously, enough the runner-up in the championship was a grandfather, a veteran before the winner was born. An Atlanta boy is uniformly the lowest championship scorer, although he has never won a national title. His work is matched by the work of men who are fathers, settled golfers. Apparently age counts for nothing in one's golf status.

In baseball it is commonly supposed that one is on the decadent after 30, but the year's sensation have been the achievements of the ancient Mr. Cobb and the resurrection of Mr. Bush, who has pitched himself to more victories than any other player.

Swimming would seem to be a sport in which established strength and endurance of the late twenties would prevail, but the other day a 16-year old girl broke five records up to a mile in one race, and a 20-year old Chicago boy has been shattering old standards in monotonous succession. 'Olden's' age would appear to be the tennis player's idea, but a stripling is being picked as his successor, and Helen Wills, another 16-year old, is giving Molla Mallory a battle for the woman's title. Youth comes to the front in what have been regarded commonly as the property of maturity.

There are no conclusions to be drawn from these facts, save that achievement in sport is a matter of heart and the will to win as well as the agility that youth implies and the experience that age brings. No conclusions are necessary. It is good that sport is not a matter of foregone conclusions and inevitable decisions. That is what makes it sport.

Making New Markets With Printer's Ink One of the most striking changes of the past ten years is that which has come about in the important business of housekeeping. In this short time the broom and the washboard have vanished from the housewife's coat of arms, and the comic pictures in which Mary hurls the flatiron at John don't ring true, as they once did. Broom, washboard and flatiron have given way to suction sweeper, electric washing machine and electric iron. And Mary doesn't hurl the iron at John any longer, not simply because it's fastened to a cord, but because she's taking no chances with it. What has brought about this new and agreeable state of affairs? Well, how did Mary happen to buy that new iron which has proved such a boon to herself—and John? She saw it advertised, of course. And the multiplied Marys of today represent a great market created largely through national advertising. No wonder the alert retailer and the wholesaler have come to hold national advertising in high esteem—for besides making easier for them the sale of goods with long established markets, quickening their turnover, pro- tecting them against inferior merchandise and benefiting them in many other ways, national advertising is constantly creating markets for new merchandise and opening up new channels of trade. It is because America reads advertising that the new idea today so swiftly supplants the old. Advertising changes deep-rooted habits. Advertising creates new desires. Advertising sets new and better standards. And all this it does with amazing swiftness—for advertising speaks to millions simultaneously. The safety razor, the player piano, rassaage cream, the glass baking dish, wallboard, fireproof roofing, the talking machine, soap flakes, canned soup—one could go on indefinitely extending the list of products which today testify to the ability of national advertising to create new merchandise demands. There is probably no industry today for which advertising has not blazed new trails. There is no merchant, wholesale or retail, the scope of whose business it has not greatly widened. But the main thing which advertising does for the retailer is to speed up his turnover; that's what makes him a profit. THE MARKETS

Chicago Grain Market

CHICAGO, Sept. 5. (AP)—European purchasing estimated to total as much as 2,000,000 bushels led to something of an advance today in the value of wheat. Trading quietness was unmitigated, 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 cts higher with December, 11.07 1/4 to 11.07 3/4 and May 11.07 1/4 to 11.07 5/8. Corn gained 1/4 to 1/4 cts. In potatoes, there was a net decline ranging from 10 to 25 cts.

Influenced by an upward "quote" at Liverpool, the wheat market advanced at the outside, but a firm rally set back in prices followed as a result of selling on the part of houses with eastern connections, and because of a steady European demand was chiefly for Canadian shipments and that there was relatively little call for domestic wheat. Later, however, word that European buying since Saturday had been on a large scale gave renewed strength to prices here.

Persistent reports of damage to the growing crop of corn had considerable effect in an upward movement of higher prices for wheat. Besides, the report of wheat today at Winnipeg and other centers, although heavy, were not so heavy as they had been in the past, and the United States visible supply showed a decrease whereas a moderate increase had been generally expected.

Buying orders from rural sources gave decided emphasis to reports of increasing damage to corn as a result of prolonged dry hot weather. There appeared to be a likelihood of a heavy crop, but a wide territory. Places in northern Illinois were said to have been more than a month without rain. Advances in the price of oats were noted as freely to the upward edge of the corn market.

Provisions went down in line with grain.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK, Sept. 5. (AP)—Settlement of the hard coal strike imparted a buoyant tone to prices in today's stock market. The market closed steady for the advance value of 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 points. Profit taking and short pressure against a few stocks in a weakened technical position gave the market an appearance of irregularity at times.

Wall street's belief that the independent steel mergers would be carried to completion despite the ruling of the Federal Trade commission that they were illegal monopolies, found expression in the break demand for steel shares. Republic Iron and Steel closed at a new high of 107 1/2 points with Crucible Bethlehem B. and G. fell more on a point or more.

The regular quarterly dividend of 40 cents on common and $2 on the preferred was declared today, as were the regular quarterly dividends of $1.50 on both classes of the Pan-American parent company. Monthly bond interest was reactionary on reports of heavily decreased production, indicating further shrinkage of the late crop. Royal Dutch Shell Oil of California and Standard Oil of Indiana were also strong.

Copper shares moved into higher ground under the leadership of Utah and Anaconda. The regular quarterly meeting of the Kennecott Copper company directors, scheduled for today, was postponed until later in the month because of the lack of a quorum.

Total sales approximated 900,000 shares.

Foreign exchanges were irregular, British and other allied remittances declining slightly from Saturday's level. German marks sold around 70 to a hundred, as compared with the extreme low of 110 cents.

MAYOR DENIES LIABILITY FOR WRECKED AUTO

Injured Traffic Policeman Says Car Seemed to Stop in His Path, and Owner's Damage Claim is Refuted

Liability of the city of Twin Falls for repaying a light touring car owned by J. W. Roberts of Marquette, that was damaged when it crossed the path of W. H. Gheen, traffic policeman, at the intersection of Shoshone street and Fourth avenue east Sunday evening, August 20, was denied by Mayor J. D. Tucker at a meeting of the city commission Tuesday evening.

The mayor's pronouncement came after Mr. Roberts told the commissioners he came before them to see about getting the car fixed or to "see what was the matter with the public safety" damage bill at between $75 and $100.

Commissioner J. D. Tucker said there was any city officer who would be liable through the streets. The mayor declared that he would be liable for the car if it was not fixed.

License Problems Figure Problems growing out of municipal licensing requirements occupy the attention of the commission members out a considerable part of the session.

Under that line of procedure, the attorney retorted, "you could break my country. If you got it in for me, for instance, nobody could help you. How can you know before trial whether a person is immoral?"

Question Anticipated The question presented by Mr. Montgomery had been anticipated by members of the commission and the mayor had a reference to it in his notebook.

At the Lincoln school a first day enrollment of 485 was reported; at the Bielke school, 385, and at the Washington school 334, making a total enrollment of pupils in grades from the first to sixth inclusive, aggregating 1204.
