RESCUE OF MINERS IS NOW NEAR

Town of Jackson, Filled with Excited Crowds as Drills Begin on Final Stage of Race to Save Entombed Men

JACKSON, Cal., Sept. 16 (AP)—It was estimated officially tonight that 237 feet, all of which is virgin coal, remained to be dug through by rescue crews working their way from the 3600 foot level of the Mammoth mine to the 3900 foot level where 47 miners are entombed.

The official statement said that five feet of the 237 feet had been drilled but not blasted. It was predicted the new working shaft would reduce the footage of the remaining barrier by at least 18 feet by 7 o'clock this morning. It also was estimated that the shaft which was started at 7 o'clock in the morning will break through into the Argonaut before it goes off shift at 1 p. m.

On the 3900 foot level, 50 feet of rock remained to be drilled through tonight and it was admitted the rescue crew on that level was hopelessly out of sight with its gear about 300 feet higher up unless some obstacle is encountered after the Argonaut mine is entered. Work on the 3900 foot level will continue to be pushed to provide an alternative route in case of cave-in or accident on the higher shaft.

Many visitors on scene Jackson tonight was filled with visitors, most of whom did not find sleeping accommodations, all eagerly awaiting the news that the rescue work was completed.

A squad of Berkeley, Cal., police officers arrived to aid in handling crowds and traffic about the mine. Doctors and nurses, by arrangement of the mine officials, are placed at their command, and 47 hospital cots graphically told the story tonight of the men lying in the Argonaut mine since August 27. are alive and will be rescued tomorrow, the twenty-first day of their imprisonment.

AIR OF MYSTERY SURROUNDS DEED

Discovery of Dead Bodies of Canadian Minister and Wife of Sexton Marks Culmination of Strange Story

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Sept. 16 (AP)—The Rev. Edward W. Hall, rector of the First Protestant Episcopal church of New Brunswick, told Mrs. James Mills, wife of the sexton of the church, were found dead from bullet wounds today under a tree in a secluded land in Somerville township. The two had been missing from their homes since last Thursday night.

Gov. E. M. Lang of Somerset county disclosed a case of double murder. He said the two had been dead at least 30 hours before the bodies were discovered and he was positive in stating he believed that the shooting did not occur in the rustic lane. No weapon was found near the bodies, which were lying about a foot apart. Near the woman's side, however, the exploded shell of a 38 calibre bullet was found.

The victim had been shot once between the eyes. Marks of bloodstains figured behind the left arm. The body of the rector bore two bullet wounds. One was over the left eye and two in the neck. Scattered in the greatest profusion about the man's body were cards and letters taken from his pockets.

Mills was questioned by the authorities and gave an account of his wife's movements and of the fact that she left her home on Thursday night. He is not being held.

Clashes Between Union and Non-Union Workers Interfere with Return to Shops

CHICAGO, Sept. 16 (AP)—Clashes between union and non-union workers and squabbles over the terms of the Baltimore peace plans, today halted the return of strikers to work in the shops here of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, and the Northwestern railroads.

AGED WORKMAN COMES TO END OF LIFE ALONE

Henry Wilke, One of Builders of Milner Dam, Believed to Have Been Dead when Body Is Found by Fellow Laborer

Lying face downward beside the narrow bed in his cabin near the McClellan dam, on the night of the discovery, was the body of Henry Wilke, 68, commonly known as "Dutch Henry," one of the workmen employed in the construction of the Milner dam and an employe intermittently since that time of Twin Falls Canal company, was found Saturday evening by John Hopper, a fellow employe.

Wilke had been dead three days, various circumstances indicated, according to a statement of P. J. Grossman, who was summoned after the police had notified of the discovery of the body. There was no indication of violence and about 470 in money was found in Wilke's purse and pockets, the doctor said.

According to Peter Minors, Twin Falls friend and confidant of the dead man, Wilke suffered from Bright's disease and an affection of the heart, and had been under a physician's care since last spring, when for a few days he was a patient at a hospital here. Wilke was a native of Westphalia, Germany, and leaves no relatives in this country. He had lost track of relatives in Germany and had not corresponded with them since coming to this country. He had accumulated some money which he had placed on time deposit in a bank here.

Hopper went to Wilke's cabin Saturday evening, found him dead for several days, and feeling that he had become ill. Several other acquaintances of the dead man returned with Hopper and officers, and made identification of the body.

The condition of the body indicated that death had occurred about three days before. Officer Grossman said Wilke had removed his watch and it evidently was in his pocket when he was stricken. The trousers and Wilke's watch were under the pillow.

It is noted that an oil lamp that had been extinguished stood at the edge of the table the coroner to believe that death had come after night.

Nothing was found in the cabin which Wilke had occupied for several weeks except an empty trunk, a suit case containing clothing, cooking utensils and a suitcase, and a few receipts.

After leaving the hospital here last spring, Wilke, Hopper said, moved his cabin here, Mr. Minors said, and then disappeared, returning about a month later saying that he had been engaged in road construction work near King Hill.

FORD ACTIVITIES CEASE

Seventy-three Thousand Men Out of Work as Result of Closing of Detroit Auto Plant

DETROIT, Sept. 16 (AP)—Henry Ford's industrial activities against what he termed the "Detroit strike" were in full swing tonight and approximately 73,000 of his workmen in the Detroit district were idle for an indefinite period. The Highland Park and River Rouge plants of the Ford Motor company employing about 60,000 men, were shut down for the night. The workers retained to keep cars on hand.

The majority of Ford workers who passed through the gates of the Highland Park plant after turning in their tools today expressed concern over the shutdown. Their foremen had given them advice to stay at home and to buy a little coal as possible to cover their living expenses to a minimum.

Allied Troops in Battle Array Massed Against Turkish Armies

GOVERNMENT WILL PROTECT ALL CITIZENS

United States Interested Only in Caring for Needs and Interests of American Subjects in Turkish War Zone

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16 (AP)—The Near Eastern situation resulting from the disaster at Smyrna, is being watched with closest interest by government officials, although it was emphasized in the issues before caring for its citizens and their interests in the war zone.

Official dispatches emphasize that, although the United States is naturally interested in the freedom of the straits, it has not taken any part in any of the territorial or boundary settlements in the Near East—has not been at war with Turkey, nor is it a party to the negotiations now pending in the signature of the peace treaty at Brest, in August 1920. It is understood that the American government has assumed no commitments and entered into no understanding which will involve it in any way in the territorial readjustments of the Near East.

The United States never has had any part in the patrol and protection of the straits, and it is not one of the powers which is carrying out the armistice with Turkey, or involved in the enforcement of such of the terms of the Treaty of Sevres as the allies may be able to maintain.

The American high commissioner to Turkey, Henry D. Gantt, in his diplomatic status, has duties to Constantinople as to protect American interests in general.

It is noted that although the United States has not taken part in the territorial settlement in Turkey, nor carried into any commitments which would involve it in any way in the present time, this does not mean that the government is prepared to abandon the interests of 16 citizens in that city, who have established a philanthropic of a commercial character.

SPokane, Sept. 16 (AP)—Walter Taylor, a sportsman, who was on North Central high school here, went forth this morning to shoot birds; he returned this evening with a 250-pound bear which he had killed in a wood yard.

At first Taylor was the aggressor, but after receiving three composite charges of bird shot the bear turned about and fired at Taylor with a 100 lb. Taylor said tonight, he finally shot finished in a tree and the bear returned home without any birds.

FATE OF GIRL STUDENTS IN COLLEGE AT SMYRNA CAUSES GRAVE CONCERN

American Commissioners for Foreign Missions, Much Disquieted Over Terms of Message

BOSTON, Sept. 16 (AP)—Concern over the fate of the 300 girl students at the collegiate institute for girls at Smyrna, conducted by the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, was expressed by the board today after receipt of a cablegram stating that all teachers at the college and other American women missionaries had arrived at Athens.

"This cablegram," said Dr. James L. Barton, secretary of the American board, "gives us reason to believe that the school buildings have been destroyed."

"The dispatch would indicate," said Dr. Barton, "that all the men at the station with Mr. McClellan have remained in Smyrna."

MEMBER SMACKS FELLOW WORKER

Lively Scene Marks Closing Hour of Work of House when Representatives Clash

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16 (AP)—While the House of Representatives, Democrat, Alabama, gave Representative Dewey, republican, New York, a slap on the cheek in the house today during the debate which was all attempts calling of the roll, and then as he was attempting to strike a second time, members rushed between them.

After the house adjourned, Mr. Oliver and Mr. Dewey shook hands and the Alabama member said the Alabama member had apologized to him for striking the "beat of friends."

As an explanation later, the house speaker said the incident was due to misunderstanding. Representative Dewey, chairman of the rivers and harbor committee, in charge of the rivers and harbor bill, was trying to reduce the bill, but was opposed on the democratic side discussing the question with Mr. Oliver, when and after the Alabama member's left hand shot forward and caught the New York man on the cheek.

Representative Dewey, who was not wanted more than the five minutes Representative Dewey had allotted him in the debate on the item in the rivers and harbor bill relating to the death of the East river in New York.

Oliver said Dewey replied in a manner which he considered offensive, saying "I won't give you any more of that kind of talk."

FIRE STILL RAGES OVER GREEK CITY

Transporters Carrying Remnants of Population Bear Brunt of Violent Fire Notwithstanding Pleas for Mercy

LONDON, Sept. 16 (AP)—With British troops entrenched at strategic points on the Dardanelles, French and Italian battalions rushing to join them, and from far New Zealand went that an Aegean contingent will be dispatched to relieve the town of Smyrna, the British government has decided to assist in dealing with the Turkish nationalists, there has been a firm carrying over of the allied pronouncements regarding a speedy determination to preserve the freedom of the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus.

The British troops are reported to be making no further sacrifices in the field, and officials here are confident that the combined allied land and sea forces, which are declared to be prepared for any possibility, can hold Constantinople against all odds.

The Turks have bombarded the last departing Greek transports from the Chaux peninsula, despite the British appeal for mercy on the ground that the Greeks were helpless and no longer combatants.

Increased prosperity in the mining industry is believed to be the reason for the wage increase.

Executives of American Federation Ask for Demonstrations Against Attorney General in "Impeachment Day"

ATLANTON CITY, N. J., Sept. 16.—Calling upon unions throughout the nation to observe "Impeachment day" for demonstrations against Attorney General Daugherty and Federal Judge Wilkerson, the executive council of the American Federation of Labor today passed through the last of the business which has kept it in annual session here since 1919.

Notwithstanding its avowed determination to remove the two government officials from office because of their part in obtaining the restraining order against the rail shopkeepers' council, as one of its last official acts, went on record as opposed to a general strike of organized labor in sympathy with the railway men.

The general strike situation was brought up again by Samuel Gompers, president of the Federation, because of more than 800 resolutions from American unions demanding such a strike, he said the report.

The labor chief requested themselves with ordering General Frank Morrison to communicate to the officers of the railroad shopmen that every assistance within the power of the labor leaders would be accorded the shopmen.

Prepare for Campaign
The labor leaders completed their political program for the coming year into the hands of the executive campaign committee responsible for speeding preparations to enter the fall campaign; denounced the Eight-Cent minimum wage law and the United States railroad labor bill; and made their paramount stance in labor's platform; and expressed sweeping opposition to the Kansas court of industrial relations and all similar tribunals as part of the open shop campaign inaugurated by the big employers' interests since the world war.

The action of the American Federation of labor leaders toward settling the jurisdictional controversy between carpenters and sheet metal workers' organizations today took the form of a drastic resolution, framed in secret, and forwarded to the building trades department of the Federation at Washington.

A national conference of the building trades unions, to be held in Washington or Indianapolis, will be called by the American Federation of Labor officials.

Various Species of Gulls
The common species of gulls found in the region of the Great Lakes in the winter are the herring and ring-billed. The former can be told by its larger size, and its flesh-colored feet. The feet of the ring-billed are bluish in tint, as if the poor bird had frozen them in the cold water; he also has a distinct dark ring on his bill. The darker colored birds seen in the harbors at this season are usually immature herring gulls. The habits of the ring-billed are similar to those of the herring gull except that they will also frequent the interior, feeding on insects which they take on the wing with remarkable skill. Individuals of both species often remain throughout the spring and summer—Exchange.

Anesthetics for Trees
The theory that trees should be treated with anesthetics to enable them to withstand the shock of transplantation has been advanced here by Dr. Jagdish Chandra Bose, an Indian scientist. Dr. Jagdish showed photographs of large trees which he had successfully transplanted in Calcutta in spite of their age. He said he explained, that the difficulty of successful transplantation lay in the shock of removal, and that these effects in plants and animals were on similar lines. He treated these trees with an anesthetic which they bore the uprooting and removal well.

turned. Again at 9 o'clock that morning, he said he wandered back to the church. On the front step he met Mrs. Hall, the rector's wife.

"She asked him, he said, if he had seen her husband. He declared he counted by telling her his wife was missing; Mrs. Hall then went to the police station.

Today, Raymond Schneider and Pearl Babner went to stroll in the Buxey lane, a quiet rustic way, known by young swains of the countryside as lover's lane. The apple tree mid-way down the lane was the objective of their stroll. And there they found the bodies of the rector and the sexton's wife.

"Light winds had carried several of the notes and cards some distance from the bodies. Mills, in his statement to the authorities, asserted that he had seen several of these letters, and declared that they were written by his wife to their children while she was visiting in the southern part of the state this summer. The detectives declared they were written to the rector.

One of these letters, bearing no salutation and no signature, written in pencil, read:
"You are a true priest. You see in me merely your physical inspiration

You are the priest. Was Pan religious? God made his people to enjoy themselves deeply."
Another, in the same handwriting, read: "Please do not laugh at this. I know I'm crazy cat, but I can't be different. I love to talk when Dan asks questions; then he annoys, so how can I write!"

Dan and Charlotte referred to in the note are Mrs. Mills' two children. County authorities said that an arrest would be made in a few hours, but declined to say whether the person would be a man or a woman.

On the Wrong Track
A prominent young actor, on being introduced to the late Reginald de Koven, greeted him enthusiastically. "Do you know," he queried, "I've always wanted to meet the man who composed—" and he whistled a few bars of a well-known waltz. "That should not be a difficult matter," said Mr. de Koven, quietly. "Victor Herbert is very approachable."—Boston Transcript.

was going," Mills said, "and she told me that if I really wanted to know I could follow her and find out."

Or the front steps as she went out was Mrs. Mills' 16-year-old daughter, Charlotte. In answer to a question from the girl, the mother is said to have replied, she was "going out for a little while."

Mills told the authorities he did not follow his wife. He said as the evening wore on he was "too nervous" to go to bed and that at 2 o'clock in the morning he went out for a walk. This led him to the bill to the little church of St. Regis, the Evangelical, an edifice which crowns a rising knoll—the church which he served as sexton, where his wife sang as one of the leaders of the choir, where a small but rich congregation worshipped and where the Rev. Hall had been assigned for ten years.

Wife Still Absent
Mills said he entered the church and sat down in one of the pews. Near dawn he got up and returned to his home, to find his wife had not returned.

NINE HUNDRED VETERANS IN IDAHO REHABILITATED

Certificates of Graduation from Vocational Training Courses Here for Former Service Men

POCATELLO, Sept. 16.—Certificates of graduation for rehabilitated veterans have been received in this district of the United States veterans' bureau, and presentation to former service people who have completed their vocational training courses in Pocatello and vicinity will soon be made, according to Spriggs-Francis, local head of the veterans' bureau. More than 900 veterans of the United States were to carry on their former occupations because of war disabilities, have been rehabilitated and are entitled to graduation certificates, he stated. A large number of the 3300 present trainees will graduate within the next two or three months, it was stated.

Fred W. Washburn of Seattle, sheep shaver before the war, was presented with graduation certificate No. 1. He studied accounting and now holds a responsible position with a big Puget Sound lumber concern. It is expected that these certificates will stimulate employment of rehabilitated veterans, many of whom are now unemployed. An employment service has been established by the veterans' bureau throughout the Pacific northwest.

An unusual feature in connection with production of disabled war veterans in their new vocations is that many of them are completing educational courses along agricultural lines on their own land projects. Graduation certificates are also being issued to veterans who have trained in factories, tailor shops, commercial offices, lumber yards and a variety of industrial plants.

Captivity Shortens Lives of Animals
Statistics tend to prove that the lives of wild beasts in captivity are much shorter than the lives of those which are at liberty, especially in the case of exotic beasts. The tiger and panther in captivity do not live more than seven or eight years, lions a little longer, hyenas five or six years, and the brown bear seven or eight, although they often reach 20 when at liberty. In captivity the white bear reaches only four or five years, and the elephant, which often attains 100 when at liberty, lives only 25 to 30 years.

EASTERN REPRESENTATIVES

THE LATEST FROM TURKEY

As a nation, the Turks are prohibitionists. They drink nothing stronger than coffee, but when it comes to downright cruelty, violence and general depravity, the Turk has no equal on the face of the earth.

The stories now beginning to come out of the Near East reflect a condition of affairs which is a disgrace to civilization, and yet the present holocaust is but another chapter in the history of murder, violence and unspeakable atrocities which has been years in the writing.

There is satisfaction to be gained from England's apparent determination to protect Constantinople, yet a feeling of grave uneasiness is engendered through the reported determination of the Bolsheviks to throw in with the Turk in return for complete freedom of action in the Black Sea.

AT DETROIT

The closing of the Ford automobile and subsidiary plants need not be regarded in the light of a national calamity. In and around Detroit the effect on business will be marked for a time, yet the fact should not be lost sight of that the general trend of affairs on the part of a majority of all car manufacturers is in the direction of expansion rather than curtailment.

FIND A BETTER WAY

The settlement of the great coal strike gives assurance that the people will not freeze this winter. For so much we are thankful. But it does not contain any assurance that the same conditions will not prevail a year hence, with all of their attendant ills and inconveniences to the nation.

Price Increase Looked for on Raw Materials Where Deflation is Already Complete with Consequent Strengthening in Majority of Lines on Retail Quotations

By ROGER W. BABSON, PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 16 (Special to the News)

It is not so much by labor difficulties and the threatened coal shortage. In a statement issued today by forecasts good for the next few months.

This increase in business will be due to a combination of increased purchasing power and a change in the attitude of the general public. In spite of the fact that the unemployment rate is relatively little unemployment at present.

often in New Orleans." Drace passed an uneasy night, his mind torn by his suspicion that Nadine in Vitis was the daughter of old Stephen. And when Liberty came to his room next morning, eager for praise and reward, the truth came out.

CHAPTER IV

Now more than ever was Drace resolved to find where the girl lived, to find out Stephen, too. What would he do when he found them? He was bent on revenge upon his father's murderer.

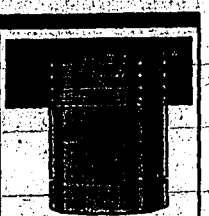

That afternoon they set out on their quest. But the scheme of knocking at every door soon seemed foolish and impotent. They decided to hit early in front of habitations that seemed to invite inquiry.

They went to one, and from a stage box gazed through red-velvet glasses at every face. Not there. They went out, walked a short distance, talking not of disappointment.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 16 (AP)—Lack of effective buying power and abandonment of bull operations by speculative interests, combined with weak profit-taking and extensive short-selling, caused a general reaction in today's brief stock market session. The decline, in some of the recent strong issues, confirmed the belief of bear interests that they had been pushed too far out of line, although the selling proceeded in an orderly manner.

The largest variations were afforded by so-called specialties, losses of 5 points or more being registered. On the other hand, Air Reduction, Postum Cereal and New York Air Brake were pushed up to new high records. Developments in the Near East were watched closely by financial interests, and the little visible effect either on stock or bond prices, or the foreign exchange. New York Central shares responded only feebly to the announcement that that road had reached separate agreement with the conductors' and trainmen's brotherhoods. Equipment issues plainly showed the effect of the selling, Pullman declining 1 3/4, Baldwin a point and others fractionally. Mexican Petroleum moved to higher ground, but a reaction had little visible effect either on the stock of the other oil, particularly in General Asphalt, which was down nearly 2 points, and some of the domestic issues.

Total sales were 446,000 shares. Foreign exchanges continued to lose ground. Recessions were only nominal in character, except in the Greek market, which dropped 20 points. The closing loss statement showed an increase of $13,710,000 in loans, discounts and advances, as compared with a decrease of $1,270,000 the week before. Cash on hand decreased $3,700,000, but there were increases of $53,244,000 in the reserves in the Federal reserve bank and $138,015,000.
