SIX KILLED WHEN PLANE NOSE DIVES

Martin Bomber Comes to Grief With All Occupants During Stunt Flying Period Following War Maneuvers

MIDWOLLA, N. Y., Sept. 23 (AP)—Six occupants of a Martin bomber plane were killed tonight as Mitchell field when the machine fell in a nose dive following war maneuvers for the instruction of officers and regular army aviators.

The plane, piloted by First Lieutenant Raymond R. Davis, U. S. A., burst into flames on striking the ground. It was a twin-Martin bomber, the heaviest machine at the field, and had participated in a aerial attack on theoretical fortifications.

After the war maneuvers, and the judges had decided the raiders had won, the air men engaged in a "flying circuit" culminated by huge searchlights and cheered by thousands of persons who had gathered from all parts of Long Island and New York City to watch the military spectacle.

Passenger Taken Up After the flying circuit, a number of the aviators took a passenger, selected principally from among the 300 reserve officers from the second corps area for whom benefit the machine was had been reported.

Dying to the harness of the flames which enveloped the huge bomber, it was impossible to learn immediately the names of the five passengers, whom Lieutenant Davis had taken up.

Immediately after the crash, all sources of information at the flying camp were stopped and Major Weaver, the commanding officer, pending an investigation and until the names of the victims had been ascertained.

All Were Army Men Lieutenant Raymond E. Davis' home was in Danville Hill, his birth place. He entered the army air service in July, 1917, and after the war was assigned to a "major" rank in Hampton, Va.

All the passengers were army men, according to the Garden City police. It was not known whether any were reserve officers. The police say that probably one of the six killed was an enlisted man serving as a mechanic.

Major Weaver, commanding the field, who has ordered an immediate investigation of the accident, issued the following statement: "The accident occurred in exactly the same manner as other accidents in that the number cause probably never will be known. The plane had been in the air for about five minutes and was practically new."

Many Conflicting Reports All of the men killed, with the exception of Davis, were attached to the Sixth Air park, stationed at Mitchell field, Danville's home was in Chicago. Sixteen were in New York; Mitchell came from Carl Hill, Texas; and Whittaker from Annapolis, Md. Kane's address was not given.

10,000 WITNESS DEATHS OF TWO

Logan Field is Scene of Second Tragedy of Day in the Ranks of Flying Men

BALTIMORE, Sept. 23 (AP)—Before a crowd of 10,000 persons, Lieutenants Herbert V. Hanson and John M. Patton, Jr., of the Quantico aviation station, marine corps, today plunged into an aerial display at Logan field, Dandak.

The accident came a few minutes before the scheduled conclusion of a routine flying contest, which brought to a close the largest exhibition of aircraft ever held in Maryland. The victims of the crash, who had taken off from about 200 feet, had been brought down one balloon and were starting to circle for another.

The cause of the accident probably never will be known. Most of the flyers attributed it to a stalled engine. The machine was about 100 feet in the air, but fell with terrific speed. Both men had been seen in service in the marine corps. Lieutenant Patton, who was 30 years old, resided at Pasadena, Cal. Lieutenant Hanson's home was at Church's Ferry, North Dakota. He was 28 years old.

The contest in which the aviators were engaged, was the last event of the program given in connection with the first district annual aviation convention which opened in Baltimore Friday.

PRICE OF COAL IN HANDS OF STATE AUTHORITIES

Major Responsibility in Case of Fluctuating in Fuel Declared by Federal Official

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP)—The major responsibility for the price at which coal is sold to consumers by the wholesalers or retailers within the states must rest with the state authorities. Federal Fuel Distributor Eugene C. Galloway, in a telegram to the secretary of the various states.

The federal government, he informed the governors, can exert its influence only so far as concerns coal that may be transported from one state to another.

"It is," he said, "no jurisdiction as to coal produced and sold within the state of its production; retail of wholesale margins, or handling coal within the state. Responsibility for these features must rest with the state authorities and if profiteering in coal is to be prevented, except as to receive fuel, we must move across state lines at extraordinary prices. The proper remedy must be applied by the state authorities."

TURKEY UNWILLING TO GIVE ALLIES PLEDGES FOR GOD BEHAVIOR

Disposition is to Accept Terms Offered by Allies, but Not to Give Pledges

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 23 (AP)—There is an apparent disposition on the part of the Kemalists to accept Great Britain's new terms regarding Thrace and other disputed points. They are not willing, however, to give any pledges for the suspension of hostilities while the peace conference is sitting.

"The Kemalists insist," said Hamid Bey, the nationalist representative here, on the right to enter Thrace immediately in order to liberate the oppressed Moslem subjects of the empire. "All we seek," he added, "is to maintain small forces in Thrace for psychological effect upon the Moslems, to keep the peace and to preserve order."

"It has been suggested," continued Hamid Bey, "that the allies should have perfect freedom in military, financial and administrative matters. We must move on Thrace while our Greek adversaries are impotent. We can give no pledges, we have fought long for our opportunity; now we must make them realizable."

MOB SAVAGERY IS DECLARED UNBELIEVABLE

Grand Jury Investigating Heroin Massacre Returns Total of 214 Indictments and Files Drastic Report

MARION, Ill., Sept. 23 (AP)—The grand jury investigating the 32 killings at the Lester strip mine June 21 and 22 today returned 214 additional indictments bringing the total to 314, in a partial report regarding the "state administration," Adjutant General Black of Illinois, Sheriff Melvin and Police Commissioner (this county) and "local police."

The jury, after making its report, released October 23, "state administration" undeniably rolled the dice at the Lester strip mine, and asserted "the state administration is responsible, with neither taking effective action to prevent disorders and protect property."

Beyond Description "The atrocities and criminality of the murders," the report said, "cannot be described in words to describe. A mob is always cowardly, but the savagery of this mob in its ruthlessness brutality is almost unbelievable. The individuals happy upon the dead did not end until their bodies were covered in unknown graves."

The jury returned a total of 44 indictments for murder, 53 for conspiracy to commit murder, 63 for holding and 51 for assault to murder.

The report stated—a telegram from the grand jury to the state attorney, Miss Workers of America, was one of the causes of the riot. The telegram was to Blato Senator William Wood, a member of the union, and declared the union men "are justified in treating this crowd as an outlaw organization, and in viewing the mob as a threat to the life of the hardware store had been tried for firearms and weapons.

Among those indicted today were Hugh Willis, district board member of the Illinois Mine Workers, who was indicted for murder and assault to commit murder, and Will Davis, secretary of sub-district No. 10, of the miners' union, who was charged with murder.

The report, read by T. P. Russell, grand jury clerk, directed attention to the fact that Sheriff Thornton is a member of the miners' union, and is a candidate for county treasurer, and that "other because of loyalty to the union, or from fear of injuring his candidacy, the sheriff would make no demands for troops, nor did he take adequate measures to preserve the peace." The sheriff, the report stated, could not have been aware of an attack on the strip mine was being contemplated.

State is Criticized "The state administration undoubtedly realized the terrible situation by sending to Williamson county Colonel Hunter of the adjutant general's staff," the report continued, adding that although the sheriff had made several requests for troops the adjutant general denied his authority to send them, except upon request of the governor. The report also stated that there was no law limiting the authority of the adjutant general in this regard.

"The local police," of the various counties, were also indicted.

WHOLE BLOCK IS FOOD FOR BLAZE

Atlanta, Ga., Scene of Conflagration which Threatens Enormous Property Damage

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 23 (AP)—Fire which started here shortly before midnight had cut a wide hole in the center of the downtown business block and spread by Whitehall, Alabama and Broad streets, and the western and Atlantic railroad yards. It was still burning with every piece of fire fighting apparatus lighting to bring the flames under control at an early hour Sunday morning.

Heavy sparks were flying and an awning high up on the 10th story of the Fourth National bank building was burning.

The McCune building, a structure several stories high, that adjoins the bank building in that direction, got to the blaze.

This building is occupied by the Woolworth fire and iron-ore store and also stores on the ground floor. Being Brothers Jewelry company, a whole lot concern, a business college and other establishments are on the upper floors.

Along the north side of the Kress establishment is located a four-story department store which apparently was burned.

On the Broad street side of the block directly in the rear of the building in which the blaze was said to have originated, is a ten-story building.

At Fall of Sparks With the fire almost completely surrounded, firemen were having difficulty in getting at it and the blaze was jumping high into the air with a moderate wind blowing towards the northeast and heavy sparks flying towards the street.

Thirty minutes after the fire was discovered, it had practically wiped out a building occupied by the Kress fire and iron-ore store and had spread to the Cluffs hotel, which faces on Broad street. The McCune building near door was burning slowly, an automatic sprinkler system apparently holding the fire in check in this structure.

It is assumed that the British troops will remain at Chank pending the peace conference. A broad neutral zone will be established in the area between Bulgaria in the treaty terms, which will be decided at the conference. Both Bulgaria and Rumania insisted upon the return of Turkey to Europe, although it is not mentioned in the note. It is thought probable that the British military force in Thrace and Adrianople will be rigidly limited, and that the strictest guarantees will be exacted for the Greek minorities in these places.

Attack Is Feared "The probability of a Turkish attack on the British position at Chank was given as the reason why the joint note was called immediately after the conference."

TURKS WIN ALL POINTS IN DEMANDS

Nationalist Peace Terms Are Agreed to by Representatives of Britain, France and Italy; War Believed Averted

PARIS, Sept. 23 (AP)—The return of Turkey to Europe was assured today by the Greek Nationalist forces and Italy at the final session of the allied conference, unanimously agreed to concede all the nationalist demands in eastern Thrace, to the Maritsa river and including the ancient Turkish capital of Adrianople, were agreed to by Great Britain, France and Italy in a joint invitation sent to Mustafa Kemal, Turkish Nationalist leader, to a peace conference to be held at London at the earliest possible date.

The Kemalists must agree in return not to enter the present neutral zone along the straits, nor make any pledge elsewhere, and must accept complete freedom of the Dardanelles, the Bosphorus and the Black Sea, to be preferably under the league of nations.

The invitation, which was called to order by British Foreign Secretary, personally urged an immediate meeting of the allies and Turkish and Greek generals at London, to formulate terms of an armistice between the two sides. It is regarded as virtually certain that Kemal will accept the conditions and a reply is expected from Smyrna in a few days.

In addition to other conditions, Turkey is promised the support of the league of nations for admission to the league of nations, and the return of the Dardanelles to the league of nations, and the return of the Dardanelles to the league of nations.

COUNTRY-WIDE INJUNCTION IS LEFT IN FORCE

CHICAGO, Sept. 23 (AP)—Holding the railway shopmen's strike a conspiracy in restraint of trade, in interference of interstate commerce and carrying of the mails because "where minds meet together on such a purpose a conspiracy exists whether or not the thing being spoken of is a crime," Judge James H. Wilkinson in United States district court today sustained the government's plea for a country-wide temporary injunction against striking railroad shopmen.

The decision was hailed as one of the most significant for law and order ever rendered in the records of the judiciary by Attorney General Harry Daugherty and Assistant Attorney General A. A. McLaughlin, who presented the government's case against the shopmen. Donald R. Ribberg, of counsel for the shopmen said he would take an appeal at once from the ruling of the court in an effort to have the injunction set aside.

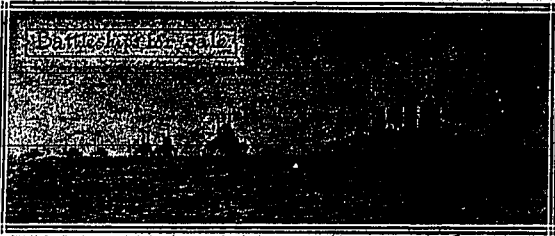

Order Still in Effect.

While the decision was interpreted as holding in effect that the strikers were accountable for acts of violence, whether these acts were committed by the strikers or not, its exact form will be argued before Judge Wilkinson next Monday, pending which he continued in effect the present stringent restraining order. The restraining order prohibited the shopmen, and the injunction is expected to prohibit them from:

- Interfering with operation, repairs and employment on the roads.
- Conspiring to interfere.
- Lettering or trespassing on railway property.
- Attempting to induce road employees to quit or to prevent persons from seeking employment with the roads.
- Picketing.
- Harming employees or would-be employees of visiting their homes.
- Hindering transportation.
- Encouraging or directing employees (unless members or others) to stop work or to refrain from seeking work.
- Issuing instructions or public statements which might have the above effect.
- Using union funds for purposes enjoined as above.

BLOOD TEST MAY NEVER COME OFF

Reconciliation in Tiernan Family Likely to Change Result of Court Action

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 23 (AP)—Will the blood test to determine the percentage of the ten months old son of Mrs. Augusta Tiernan, wife of Professor John P. Tiernan of the law faculty of the University of Notre Dame, who charges Harry Poillon, campus haberdasher, with being the infant's father, be carried out, now that the Tiernan family has announced a reconciliation?

That was the question asked most frequently while the court, which is hearing the paternity case took a half holiday and recessed at noon today without the defense having completed its testimony.

The hearing is to be resumed Monday and it is expected that Poillon will take the witness stand on his own defense.

The fact that Professor Tiernan had opened negotiations some time ago with Dr. Albert Abrams of San Francisco, who claims he has evolved a system whereby he can establish the paternity of an infant through "whitney" blood tests, was disclosed this afternoon, though a statement given out in San Francisco by Dr. Abrams' office, to the effect that the physician had departed for Chicago and might be called in the case here.

Admits Correspondence.

Professor Tiernan, after being shown the dispatch from San Francisco admitted that he had been in correspondence with Dr. Abrams concerning the making of blood tests in the case of Mrs. Tiernan's youngest child. Dr. Abrams is expected to arrive in Chicago next Wednesday, but whether the blood tests will be made, since the Tiernans have announced that they will "forgive and forget," was said to be problematical tonight.

Intimations that Professor and Mrs. Tiernan had effected a reconciliation to inquiries from Professor Tiernan announced "it is probable that we will forget the past and begin life over again." Early in the week Mrs. Tiernan was the recipient of a large bouquet of roses. The flowers were without a card, but a canvas of the floral shop, "made by newspaper man developed that Professor Tiernan had ordered them.

Drugging With Frolics.

We shrink instinctively from trouble, as we shrink from hard and painful tasks; we cannot escape the suffering they bring; but we decide whether they shall weaken or strengthen us. It lies with us to receive them as enemies or as friends. They offer us fortitude, patience, courage, strength, growth or cowardice, bitterness, despair; we can prevent them from coming to us, but we can decide whether they shall help or hinder us in our life purposes.

Never Out of Date.

We are inclined to smile at the quaint costumes that our grandparents wore; and at their rather stiff, formal manners. We dispose with a great many things which were considered important a hundred years ago. But patience, plodding perseverance, sticking to a thing till you finish it, is held in as high esteem in the twentieth century as it was in the sixteenth. Industry and patience are never out of date.

HANSEN LOSES FIRST GAME IN BOISE SERIES

Mountaineers Too Many for Visitors by Considerable Margin; Suggestion for a Doubleheader at Kimberly

By P. H. GOLDWATER.

BOISE, Sept. 23.—Boise took the opening of a three-game series for the Twin Falls daily afternoon from the Hanssen team by a score of 12 to 4. Jimmie Thompson essayed to do mound duty for the visitors and was launched out of the box in the fourth inning. Jimmy Fuller led him much of his old time speed and seemed to throw the ball where the Mountaineers were waiting for, and consequently was given a good break. The Boise team surpassed the visitors in every branch of the game Saturday. The Hanssen side seemed to be nervous and were credited with eight errors, five of them being made with thrown balls.

Oldman Wyman was on the hill for the home team, but he was usually heavy game. A change of pace in Wyman's chief stock in trade, and he had the Hanssenites completely baffled. Nine men fell victims of his slow ones.

The first inning passed along without either team scoring, although the handwriting was on the wall in this period that Thompson was due for some real trouble. In the second inning the Mountaineers tore loose and when hit after hit came, their run had reached the plate. Two hits, two errors, a wild pitch and an absence of head work did the damage.

Three More Come Quick.

Boise added three more in the third on a single, a double, a triple and a home run being the potent factors, and immediately brought about the resignation of Jimmy Thompson who gave way in the next inning to Frank Fuller. Fuller pitched fair ball, but like the rest of his team, was apparently stricken with stagfright. A single, a wild pitch, an out and the squeeze play added one more in the fifth.

Boise made two more in the sixth and one more in the seventh. Hanssen made their first run in the fourth inning when with one on, Lowery singled and Goodnight doubled. Goodnight made a hard run for Goodnight's long hit, but couldn't make the grade. Two in the ninth were earned after Chambers and singled. Lowery was pitched. Hughes singled to left, but was forced at second by Goodnight; Lowery moving to third. E. Fuller doubled to the right field foul line, scoring Lowery and Goodnight.

In the ninth Williams, the Boise backstop, tried his hand at pitching, but he didn't take long for him to discover his mistake, and after the Hanssenites had garnered three runs as many hits for the home team as they were given, and Jack Wyman finished the game by striking the next three batters in order: Vonemann was out the twirling in the first game Sunday for the visit with Ernie Wells doing the heavy work for the locals. A movement is on foot to have Boise come to Kimberly next Tuesday for a doubleheader so the Twin Falls fans can have an opportunity to see the Mountaineers at work.

LITTLE GIRL WINNING IN FIGHT WITH DEATH

Surgeon Says Condition of Child Shot Through Head is More Satisfactory

Hope was held out Saturday evening by attending physicians for the recovery of little Elizabeth McNitt, three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry McNitt, Roseworth, who was accidentally shot Friday forenoon; the bullet entering the forehead, ranging through the skull and lodging at the base of the brain.

"The general condition is considerably more satisfactory and there is a fair chance for recovery," is the statement made Saturday evening by Dr. J. R. Morgan, who is associated with Dr. W. H. Murphy, Sulist, in the case, and who Saturday performed an operation for removal of the deadly leaden pellet.

"Removal of the bullet," Dr. Morgan said "has relieved the pressure and this evening the little girl regained partial consciousness and asked for a drink of water." It was the first words she had uttered since the accident.

Parents of the little sufferer are at her bedside almost constantly. They are the parents of five children, a second of the family said Saturday, and never before have they had occasion to call for medical or surgical assistance.

FARMERS RALLY TO SUPPORT OF TRAFFIC BODY

Enthusiasm Marks Meeting Held Here Under Auspices of Rural Club Women to Consider Freight Problems

Initial steps toward the organization of south Idaho farmers in support of the work of the Southern Idaho Traffic association during the coming year were taken at a well-attended and enthusiastic meeting of farmers held under auspices of the Rural Federation of Women's clubs in the high school auditorium here Saturday afternoon. The meeting was presided over by the club women in the city park.

Similar meetings, it was indicated, will be held at various other points in the county and district with a view to increasing support among the farmers of the association. Leonard Ward, managing secretary of the association, was introduced by Mrs. White as the presiding officer at the Saturday meeting. The accomplishments of the association during the year past and to discuss along general lines the traffic situation as it affects farmers and the traffic problem in its relation to the marketing of the potato crop, Mr. Ward said:

Close Potato Growers Problem

"We have about 20,000 acres in potatoes this year. The crop will be approximately 7,000 carloads, or 3,500,000 bushels, approximately 3,500 carloads. That means we must move almost two-thirds of the crop between now and frost, and the farmers are short of cars and low market prices. We are endeavoring to make permanent the 20 cent reduction which the Union Pacific agreed to last year, and we will expire under its terms on September 30. If we are successful the situation will be relieved materially."

Business Men in Line

While the farmers were in session Saturday afternoon an announcement was made at the offices of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce of the appointment by that organization of Wendell Allen of Twin Falls, as the chairman of a committee to study the Chamber's contribution to the support of the Southern Idaho Traffic association by business men of Twin Falls.

CHAPTER VIII

It was a long time before Drace found a boat to set him over to the opposite shore...

"Pole that can hold, but to me it will ever be red..."

"At the breakfast table, Tyde, with mother tenderly, upbraided Drace for sleeping out for fear of arousing the house..."

"You must mean old Spence. But are you sure it is not that pretty daughter of his that attracts you?"

"The black hawk's hand played a welcome, and the captain came down the plank to conduct the General on board..."

"I don't see why Spittle ever called you a remarkable character..."

"Now, my boy, as we've got through with those heaters that cut out of old copper, we'll have some fun..."

"The tavern was as tough a place as river ever could make it..."

"Well, I'll be knocked in the head for a stealer!"

other day. "Glad to shake your hand, Mr. Drace. Set right down..."

"The wine was as red as blood, cool and yet warm..."

"Yes, my boy! Enjoying yourself?"

"You hit it all right. But what is the matter with all those windows?"

"The dark-faced man looked Drace in the eyes..."

"Major, Mr. Drace and I have in our precious possession three quarts of old Tobac's wild grape..."

"The General roared his delight, said that he would go on the stand to swear against Sour Sorceries in favor of the fiddler's dialogue..."

"The General called to the waiter..."

THE MARKETS

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET

CHICAGO, Sept. 23 (AP)—Wheat sharply today as a result of news from abroad which told of a more favorable political situation and because of a decline at Liverpool. There was general selling at the start and some spot orders were caught on the way down. The flats were weak, at a net low of 7 1/2 to 8 1/4 cents, with December 10.07 1/2 to 1.08, and May $11.10 to 11.14; corn was off 1/8 to 1/16. Oats declined 1/8 to 3/4 and provisions were unchanged to 1/2 cent higher.

Cable news and trade reports were a more vital factor. This caused some heavy selling of long wheat by the "war" bulls and prices slid downward because the demand became broad enough to absorb the offerings. There was some good buying on the break which led to the declining tendency and toward the finish, wheat came back up by about a cent, market a slight uptick.

Corn and oats were affected by the action of wheat and advanced lower, although the latter firmness was maintained as local sentiment was inclined to the bull side and on the break numerous small buying orders were brought out.

Provisions advanced higher with renewed buying of nearby deliveries of lard by leading packers.

STATE OF IDAHO

Get Sun and Fresh Air

As much outdoor life as can be conveniently crowded into a day, with agreeable forms of diversion that make music and encourage deep breathing, should be a part of the daily routine. Deep breathing, when it becomes habitual, is of the greatest value, as the increased oxygen supply burns up the poison of the body. If it is not possible to spend some part of the day out of doors open wide a window and stand before it and breathe deeply twenty or thirty times. Sitting before an open window and in the direct sunlight is good if one can get out.

"Haberdasher"

One of the most puzzling words in haberdashery, this was formerly a peddler who went round to fair selling ribbons, buttons and other small articles, which he carried in a sack. His name comes from two old words—habber, meaning oats, and tasche, a sacker.

Need New Supply of Nitrogen

The more we get power from oil, the greater the need is of obtaining nitrogen from the air. A vast amount of fertilizing material has been lost to American agriculture through the carrying out of tons of horses by millions of gasolined-driven vehicles.
