YALE DEFEATED BY IOWA TEAM

Superiority of Western Eleven Displayed to Advantage in Struggle Between Schools

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 14 (AP)—Iowa's mighty football eleven, champions of the western conference, gave Yale, a member of the "big three" of the east, its first defeat by a conference eleven today, and it was a decisive victory. The score was 8 to 0, representing a touchdown from a march half the length of the field, which started late in the first period and ended at Yale's last whistle. The score after the second period began. Iowa's superiority was much greater than the score shows. The Iowa eleven, under the leadership of Howard Jones, Iowa's mentor, is, therefore, champion football coach of the Jones family, but in the latter half of the game he has revealed his striking finishes of Yale's football teams in the days when he and his brother, Ted, now Yale coach, played of the Yale eleven.

Yale threatened to win and possibly win the game, a concerted advance toward Iowa's goal of 79 yards ending a few seconds before the last whistle blew with a forward pass over the goal line which grounded.

Ted, as quarterback, directed two touchdowns. Jones, as fullback, led which Yale came from behind for victory.

Football Weekly.

Yale's efforts of Coach Ted's people to repeat football history, thrilled some 20,000 spectators on an ideal football day—thrilled them more than they had been amazed by the power of Iowa's offense, shown in the first half of the game, thrilled them even as much as they had been surprised in the first half of Iowa's failure to score more points. Fumbles were the principal reasons for this failure. Penalties contributed.

Howard Jones said, however, that he is a better coach than his brother. He insists he merely has a better team. He said his people boarded a train half an hour after the whistle blew, he said:

"I am glad for Iowa's sake that we lost. It was a loss of the two teams more than of coaching. Iowa played a good game."

Ted Jones crossed the field immediately after the game, and Howard with his brother and Captain Gordon Locke of Iowa.

In a statement Ted said:

"I have nothing but praise for the Iowa team, but also I have unlimited confidence in this Yale team. Any other comment that I might make would be to the disadvantage of my Captain Locke, his team, and Howard have my congratulations."

Iowa had four excellent scoring opportunities that it lost. It had a lead within 25 yards of Yale's goal. One of these opportunities was realized. Yale also had four opportunities. It failed to score. The forward pass was the chief factor in Yale's failure to make the best of its chances. Yale did not complete its forward pass throughout the game, while Iowa had four successful ones for a total gain of 69 yards.

PUNTS AND PASSES

By PULLBACK

A few notes on the Flies-Twin Falls football game of Friday.

It was a clean, hard-fought battle throughout.

Flies has one of the best teams seen here this season, and Coach Deuman is to be congratulated on his showing Friday with such limited material to work with.

His line is heavy and exceedingly fast. Several times Friday they got through and broke up and ran.

The backfield worked fine, too, although Timm didn't come through with his cut runs as was expected. Charlie Diehl shifted from tackle to full played a clever game, while Aman was the whole show for the visitors.

His dodging when running up on punts reminded one of Jim Seilly's. Howard Jones, who will be heard from this sterling player before the season is over.

Plym and Orrery scratched their names in the hall of fame, Plym with his cleverness in getting through, at the right time, and Orrery with his hard line charge. Mike Lester on the other side line was in every play.

"Hit 'em Hard" Robinson. This fellow, "Hit 'em Hard" Robinson, who plays the fans will figure out how many plays get past this stocky end, they will realize what Robinson really means to the team.

"Hit 'em Hard" Selck is another player who is in the hall of fame. "Hit 'em Hard" Selck's plow through, the opposition steps aside.

A feature of Friday's game was the spirit in which the school yell was given. The usual cut and dried tone was missing and in its place was snap and pep. This is the spirit that wins games.

The band rendered several selections much to the enjoyment of the large crowd present. If one wants to know how classy our band is let them listen to some of the other school bands around the country.

TENDER-SHADE BOUT IS OFF.
MILWAUKEE, Oct. 14 (AP)—The Wisconsin state boxing commission announced today that the Lew Tender-Dave Schade bout, scheduled here for next Thursday, had been called off.

Schade has failed to put up one-fourth of his guarantee which is $7500, and Tender did not place $1000 for weight and appearance. Both overweight are infractions of the state boxing laws.

PERSBO WINS PENNANT.
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14 (AP)—The San Francisco club won the 1922 Pacific coast league pennant by defeating Oakland today in the first game of a double-header. The game went ten innings and the score was 0 to 2.

The San Francisco club now can lose all of the three remaining games and still hold the pennant with the Vernon club second in the race.

This is the first pennant the San Francisco team has won since 1917.

FOR OPERA IN ENGLISH

Women's Organizations Appealed To on Large Scale for Purposes of Foundation's Work

CHICAGO, Oct. 14 (AP)—An appeal for the adoption of the English language in opera with the ultimate end of establishing a national opera company, sent to the country, that has been left to future generations.

"The development of the art of a country not only means an artistic aspect, but a commercial one, for the extent of millions. If our system is foreign, the millions are elsewhere; if national, the millions are ours and in the field of art we are a self-respecting nation and are respected by the whole world."

McCormick is a sponsor, that native opera be accorded a much larger position in the repertory of the women's organization.

"It has greatly surprised us," Mrs. Fraser said, "that Chicago would contribute two and a half million dollars to secure opera in Chicago for another five years without so much as a question or condition concerning the musical art of the country—the greatest heritage sent to the country, that can be left to future generations."

The foundation of which Mrs. Edith Rockefeller is a director, has been established by the Women's Organization of the Language Foundation.

Recalling the resolution passed at the national convention of the Federation of Women's club favoring the American singer and composer, Mrs. Archibald Fraser, a member of the foundation of which Mrs. Edith Rockefeller

IDAHO LOSES BY NARROW MARGIN TO WASHINGTON

Ancient Rivalry, Quiescent for Ten Years, Renewed in Heartbreaking Struggle of State Schools

SEATTLE, Oct. 14 (AP)—University of Idaho and University of Washington football teams renewed an ancient rivalry today for the first time in ten years here today, Washington winning by the score of 3 to 0. The game, first Pacific coast conference contest of the season was a fight from start to finish between the two teams, almost evenly matched as to defense, Washington having a shade the best in offensive tactics.

Only Score of Game. Washington's only score came on an Idaho fumble in the third period. The tackle had worked the ball to the Idaho half yard line when the Vandals held them for downs and the ball went over the goal line. The referee called a low pass and fell on the ball behind his own line, the safety counting two points for Washington.

INDIANA LOSES TO MINNESOTA. INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 14 (AP)—Leslie's team of the Indiana football machine today trampled over the Indiana eleven, 20 to 0. It was the first, Western conference game of the season. Minnesota took the aggressive from the start.

SCHOOLS BREAKING DOWN

Some Government Plan for Free Education Rapidly Wearing Holes of Financial Disaster. MOSCOW, Oct. 14 (AP)—Russia's children have started a new school year with little prospect of better conditions than they endured during the revolution. In the Siberian district the indifference of the government to the teachers for salaries has reached the sum of over $5,000,000 rubles, says a recent report to the district Soviet. This is a mere fraction of the total amount due instructors in salaries. In that district teachers have not been paid for several months, and the officials have even ceased to keep count of the arrears.

The lot of Russian school teachers has been a hard one. In the villages they have been somewhat better cared for than in the cities, because the peasants have taxed themselves to contribute to the necessary expenses, have themselves cut wood for school fuel, and have repaired many school houses. In other cities the schools have been left to government care. As a result of these conditions many teachers are turning to other means of earning a living.

THE ELKS' CIRCUS

The Elks of Twin Falls have undertaken an ambitious program in the so-called "entertainment and general good time" planned by the order for this week and apparently the effort is being accepted in the proper spirit.

Twin Falls and the Twin Falls county try needs this sort of thing, needs it at this time perhaps as never before. While the Elks' Circus is being undertaken primarily in the interest of the lodge, the whole town should join with them in their efforts to provide two or three days of entertainment of a kind calculated to promote a better feeling and a more cheerful line of thought on the part of all of us who need it.

KEEP YOUR EYE UPON THEM

A movement is on foot to urge the various state legislatures at the next session to adopt a uniform law, dealing with the sale and possession of firearms and modeled after the Capper bill introduced just before adjournment of congress and intended to apply to the District of Columbia.

How for the sale and carrying of firearms should be restricted is a question with many angles and there are commentators, cluttered with a "criminal" idea "sufficiently large to be a community element have adopted various expedients for the taking of deadly weapons from persons engaged in the promotion of banditry and violence and leaving them in hands where they properly belong.

Local laws commonly ignore the fact that someone sold the weapon to the criminal, probably on the frequently advocated objection that if it were not sold it would be stolen anyway. Moreover, for everyone who feels that no one should carry a weapon but a man on police duty there is someone else who believes that Americans inherit the handicaps with guns and that the ordinary citizen ought to be at least as well armed as the thug. Mixed with what is right are questions of expediency and practicability.

The Capper bill had the merit of attacking the matter from a safe standpoint. It provides that the dealer must know the purchaser. Also it provides that aliens and persons convicted of felonies shall not be allowed to possess arms. It may be that the Capper bill will suggest ways of strengthening the state laws now on the books. At any rate if the bill reappears at the next session and other states take action, as they will be urged to do, a great mass of evidence, data and argument on the subject ought to be forthcoming. It is recognized that it is easier to draft legislation of this kind than it is to enforce it. But if legislation can do anything toward abatement of miscellaneous public practice by potential murderers certainly it ought to be drafted.

WHAT THE PUBLIC WANTS

"The American public wants something a little better than it gets for," asserts Edward Bok, "and the successful man, in catering to it, is he who follows this golden rule: 'Following this principle made the success of one magazine possible to a far greater extent than could have been hoped for. This is evidently the belief of Will Hays in his policy of motion picture betterment. The public may well draw a breath of relief. If this encouraging fact is at last being recognized, cheap and lurid pictures will one day be a thing of the past, just as the same kind of fiction falls into decay. And the surprising thing is, if indications are a-fore—that the money returns for worthwhile pictures are even better than for the undesirable ones. If the customer gets full value for the article he has bought, he can make the seller rich even with some enthusiasm.

As Bok has pointed out, the customer cannot be sure just what is full value. He does not know what he wants, but he knows what he doesn't want. He wants something. To deal with this paradox, of late he is adopting the policy of choosing a man in whom he places the utmost confidence, who will give him this unadmitted thought that he wants but does not ask for.

Hays is this man in the realm of moving pictures; Landis arbitrates the affairs of baseball. Even the playwrights who have chosen a guiding star. Those are progressive steps toward reaching an ideal which, though hazy, is none the less real.

I could have faith in your word, except that I believe you to be mistaken, deceived. Hobart is not square; he is using you for his own ends. Under these conditions, I would be a coward to give such a promise and leave you helpless in this man's power. 'You intend them to refuse?' 'I do; I'll have it out.' She stared at him, scarcely believing her own ears, her lips parted, a look of angry fright in her eyes. 'You are a fool, Captain West,' she burst forth at last, unable to hold back the word. 'I have done my best for you, and you spurn that. Now look out!'

She stepped backward, still confronting him, and with hand behind her, rapped sharply on the panel of the door.

The change in the girl was so pronounced, her action so impetuous, as to leave West astounded and silent. The thought came to him instantly that she was not the innocent victim he had supposed. Her words and movements expressed disappointment rather than regret. She was angry at his choice, ready to withdraw from him all sympathy, all assistance. Her plea had failed, and the woman had become a tigress. Then she must have been endeavoring to deceive him; as deeply interested as these others in getting him safely off the trail of this crime. It was a hard lesson, one that instantly turned all his theories upside down, but the truth came to him with blinding stunning force—she was as guilty as Hobart; they were both working to the same end, as deserving to get him safely off the way. They would accomplish this with less if possible, if not then with force. It was for no other purpose he had been granted this interview alone. In the hope that he might then be deceived by her. Now he saw through the trick.

These thoughts swept West's brain to a sudden flash of revelation, but he had no chance to act, to denounce her, to make a single movement, before the door opened swiftly, and Hobart alighted eagerly into the room. The first glance the fellow had of the prisoner, standing erect and unbound, must have deceived him into believing the girl had succeeded in her quest.

"So you've set him free," he exclaimed. "The fellow has come to his senses; has he?"

"No, he has not," she snapped with bitterness. "I wish you to understand, and not afraid of him, so I let him loose, but he's made me no promise. Now it is up to you; I'm done."

She slipped out through the opening, and Hobart, leaning against the door, finished it about behind him. His scowling eyes watched West intently.

"So, that is how it stands, is it, my man?" he growled threateningly. "You even refuse to accept the word of the lady who has just been in her quest. 'West replied steadily. 'Then I told her I thought she must be mistaken; now I believe she was sent here for no other purpose but to deceive me. I am getting my doubt of a crime. It has vanished since this interview.' 'What crime?"

"Murder: the killing of Percival Coolidge. Is that plain enough, Hobart? I wish you to understand, and not letting this case from now on in the open; it is going to be man to man."

"What the—? do you mean, you can?"

"Will talk you?" West calmly determined now to no anger the fellow as to bring the whole matter to a climax, reckless of the consequences. "I charge you with murder. I haven't the proof, but I'll get it; I do not know the object, but I'll find out."

"You fool! You'll never get away from here."

"I am a soldier, and am taking a soldier's chance. Now listen. I feel no particular interest in the death of any man, but in my judgment the world is just as well off with him dead as alive. But what this means to Natalie Coolidge is another matter entirely."

Why This Massive Cushion Gives Longer Life

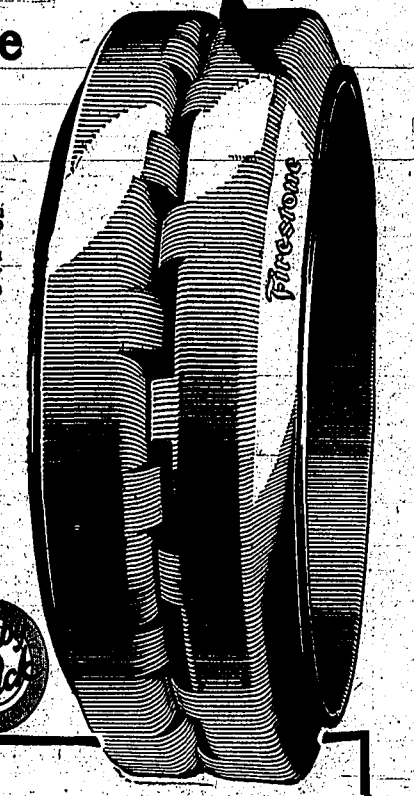

Did you ever stop to think how much action goes on inside a solid tire under the stress of load and speed? When we selected the right truck tires to offer you we knew that in designing the Firestone Heavy Duty Cushion Tire, Firestone engineers allowed for the "play" and "flow" of rubber. They built a tire in which the free, easy rubber action is assisted and heat carefully radiated. And the result is a tire of greater traction, better cushion and longer mileage.

The traction groove at the center has powerful ground-gripping shoulders and frequent radiation pockets. After thousands of miles of service it will still be lively and resilient because constant heating has not hardened the mass of rubber. It will show less wear because it is tough and resilient.

We sell Firestone Tires because Firestone has consistently been a pioneer and leader in this field and results tell.

We would like to show you the full line of Truck tires and give you benefits of our specialized knowledge.

Most Miles per Dollar

The Idaho Auto & Supply Co. is now the only garage in this vicinity equipped to change solids. Their heavy, powerful, 300 ton tire press makes short work of the process. This tire service is entirely free in connection with the purchase of solid tires from them. Otherwise a charge of 50c per inch of width is made for pressing.

Decoration of Midway and Booths All That Remains to be Done Before Opening of Elks' Four Day Carnival

With four more days before the opening of the Elks' circus and fall festival, the committee have practically completed preliminary work and all that remains to be done is the decoration of the midway and booths.

Tasks Descriptive of Work The authorial response of the members of the general committee and the co-operation of the merchants who have given generously of their time and space will ensure a carnival, which for the four days, October 19, 20, 21, will require the descriptive words of the old-time circus advertisers.

Wildier Than Wild West With "Pop!" Placer in charge of the wild west camp which will be confined to the basement of the Elks' building, visitors to this part of each evening's entertainment are assured of witnessing something just a little bit wilder than anything ever seen in the west.

For those desiring a bit of fun and amusement and who desire to be fortunate in getting a turkey, a garden, hot dog stand, odd jobs, a country store and a big round, soft drink and hot drinks, doll and candy booths, a live stock show and a live-stock exhibit, and all this sort of with a monster street parade on Wednesday evening at seven o'clock. Preparations are being made to handle a large crowd on each night.

ROAD BUILDERS DELAY DECISION

Highway District Considers Proposals for Construction of Eight Miles of Road

Twin Falls highway district directors Saturday deferred until next week their decision with respect to bids for construction of eight miles of hard surface road involving an estimated expenditure of $240,000. Three bids were received for graveling of a stretch of five and one-half miles of road in the vicinity of Lapland, and two proposals were submitted for hard surfacing of one and one-half miles of road between the high and low line canals south of Twin Falls. This work, when completed, will provide a continuous hard surfaced road from Twin Falls to Lapland. Bids on the road in the American area were William Hoops, William Jackson and J. Willis. Mr. Hoops and Mr. Jackson also submitted bids for construction of the road between the canals where gravel is to be spread on a crushed rock foundation. A. A. Shober, highway district engineer, announced Saturday that operations would be inaugurated at once by the district in cooperation with the city of Lapland. The work is being contracted by the Blue Lake road building company, in surfacing of one-quarter mile of road east from Blue Lake boulevard south, to connect with several miles of gravel road in the vicinity of the sugar factory.

IDAHO PEP BAND READY FOR YEAR'S ACTIVITIES

Organization is Completed with Lynn Hersey as Leader and Four Twin Falls Men

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, Oct. 14.—With Lynn Hersey of Lenore, continuing as leader, the Idaho Pep band has completed organization for this year. Last week the hall was one of the most important features of the Idaho routing section at athletic contests and its appearance at the Armistice Day football game at Boise was a distinct attraction. The band this year is for the large part composed of players remaining from last year. Only two new members have been added.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Elmwood Rebekah lodge will meet Tuesday evening, October 17, at 8 o'clock in E. O. O. F. hall. After a short business session the members will join in a kid party. All are asked to come in appropriate costume.

To the Voters of Twin Falls County: It having been brought to my attention that certain rumors are being circulated among the voters of this county that I am slated to the office of sheriff, I will appoint as my deputies Y. H. Ormsby and E. J. Van Assin, who have promised me, (deputiable to either of these gentlemen) not to any other person, and I further state, that it should not be expected either of them in that or any other capacity. As an aspirant to this very important official position, I deem it beneath the dignity of a task to make any pretension, promise, feeling that if such promises were made it might influence the free choice of some voters, which, in my judgment, is contrary to the law of the land.
