CONSERVATIVES IN CONTROL OF BRITISH HOUSE

Group Strength Not Questioned With Possibility of Actual Majority Put Forth by Liberal Press

LONDON, Nov. 13 (AP)—While all the newspapers of Great Britain practically concede that the conservatives will have the largest group in the next House of Commons, if not a majority over all the others combined, even the liberal papers which opposed the coalition are no longer so certain of this prospect.

The Manchester Guardian, which is the strongest pillar of liberalism, points out that the conservatives are winning more seats than they lost in the last election, and that the country will be ruled by a minority of the majority, meaning that the majority will be a minority.

The Guardian also points out that the conservatives are winning more seats than they lost in the last election, and that the country will be ruled by a minority of the majority, meaning that the majority will be a minority.

EDISON SUGGESTS PLAN TO LOWER LIVING COSTS

Great Inventor Would Revolutionize Modern Business and Furnish Small Producer Ready Capital

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—Thomas Edison, 71, has submitted to the staff of engineers of the Babson Institute his plan for revolutionizing modern business and furnishing small producers ready capital.

With characteristic audacity, he goes to the heart of economic life. He proposes to afford the ordinary consumer (producer) something like the benefits of the modern stock market, and security and to eliminate such parasites as unnecessary middlemen and dishonest speculators by establishing the "producer's certificate," which is a certificate of ownership in the producer's business.

What is "Balanced" Gasoline?

THE gasoline user wants a combination of many desirable qualities in the fuel he feeds his motor. He wants a gas that is not only positive starting but full of power one that gives a quick pick-up and still shows that extra mileage at the end of a long run.

Almost any motor fuel will meet some of these requirements but to fulfill all of them is a task that calls for a balanced gasoline. The reason for this is simple. Certain properties are necessary for positive starting, whereas others are demanded if the gasoline is to deliver maximum power and mileage.

To illustrate, when you set out to build a fire in the grate you use plenty of paper at the bottom, some coals, dry kindling in the middle and a layer of coal on top—much of each but not too much. The paper is there to insure a "positive start," the kindling to give a "quick pick-up," and the coal to furnish abundant heat units ("power") with the greatest economy of fuel ("mileage").

Why the Nation Demands Calumet

—because it has more than the ordinary leavening strength, it raises millions of bakings every day to a light perfectly baked perfection that cannot be equalled.

—because it contains white-egg—the vital element that gives the housewives protection against using a baking powder that has lost its original leavening strength. It assures light, tender, tasteful things every time you bake.

—because it is economical—pure, sure and wholesome.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 ounces. Some baking powders come in 12 ounce instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

NATIONALISTS DEMAND TURKEY FOR THE TURKS

American Relief Workers Returning from Constantinople Advise Allies to Get Out of Turkey

PARIS, Nov. 12. (AP)—American relief workers returning from Constantinople advise the Allies to get out of Turkey.

Mark C. Pringle, special representative of the American Near East Relief Association, returned from Constantinople after a survey of the work in the Orient and will have just received from Constantinople a report on the conditions in the United States to report on the future possibilities of relief work.

Pringle advised that the relief workers in Constantinople are convinced that the only way to solve the Turkish problem is to get the Allies out of Turkey and let the Turks take care of their own affairs.

There was certain to be a disposition to demand through the Allies, in his opinion, (would be) to get the Allies out of Turkey.

Pringle also stated that the relief workers in Constantinople are convinced that the only way to solve the Turkish problem is to get the Allies out of Turkey and let the Turks take care of their own affairs.

The Santa Catalina-Gulf firm, according to Mrs. Pringle, dropped all secret agents, and these agents took advantage of the situation to get the firm's business.
