Cause of Gravitation Is Traced to Aether Waves

Long Sought Discovery in the World of Physical Science Is Credited to American Naval Officer

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27 (AP)—Discovery of the cause of gravitation—something that Sir Isaac Newton discovered of the law of gravitation could not find—has been made by an American Naval officer, Captain J. J. See, government astronomer at the Mare Island Navy Yard, near here.

Captain See announced his discovery in a lecture before the California Academy of Sciences here today.

Discovery by Captain See of the cause of gravitation, which was announced in the lecture led to the finding of a definite connection between magnetism and gravity. Both he said are due to variable aether waves traveling across the heavens spaces with the speed of light.

For forty years Captain See has been doing research work in magnetism and gravitation. He has completed this work chiefly since 1914.

The astronomer said his theory is a "distinct development on Newton's law of gravitation." Magnetism, he explained, is a million times as powerful than the corresponding force of gravitation.

Captain See demonstrated during his address that a small magnet, when suspended by a thread near a larger one, is pulled bodily toward the nearest pole of the larger magnet.

He showed that while the magnetic pole has the greater power, the remote pole of the large magnet actually pulls back on the opposite end of a magnet's needle suspended by a thread about its center. The result is to make the line of force tension lines stretched like taut ropes.

At the equator therefore, the two poles of the earth's magnetism, being equally distant, attract equally in opposite directions. But at the poles the needle stands on end and is pulled downward bodily by the magnetic force.

By an extension of the theory of the earth's magnetism by Gauss, celebrated German mathematician, in 1839, Captain See drew two conclusions:

1. That magnetism due to waves of the rotatory motion of the aether particles being about the lines of force which is also confirmed by Faraday's experiment of the magnetic rotation of a beam of polarized light, 1845.

2. As magnetism is connected with gravitation by See's mathematical law of 1922, it follows that gravitation also is due to waves like those of magnetism.

(Captain See is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Ben Hart, a former resident of Twin Falls, whom he visited here about three years ago.)

TRACTORS REPLACE SLEDS

Motorists Make Appearance on Roads Feeding Government's Zinc From Anchorage to Seward, Alaska

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Nov. 27 (AP)—Army-type tractors, which break their own trails over the snow, have replaced horse-drawn sleds on roads which feed the United States government railroad between Seward and Anchorage, Alaska.

One big company has purchased three tractors to haul coal from the Moose Creek mine four miles to the railroad. Last year this firm handled the coal in horse drawn sleds after the roads had been flooded and allowed to freeze with ice.

Tractors also are to operate on a regular schedule into the Willow Creek section, a recently discovered gold country thirty miles from the railroad. More than 100 tons of machinery are to be taken into the Willow by tractors this winter.

JAY WALKER IS HELD TO BLAME

Automobile Association Official Puts in Word for Drivers Involved in Accidents

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—Blame for the greatest amount of driver and road accidents is placed upon automobiles and pedestrian figures, is placed upon the shoulders of the "Jay Walker," by M. O. Eldridge, executive chairman of the American Automobile Association. The public is entirely too ready to blame the driver.

Mr. Eldridge declares, the first error that goes up as a rule, when such an accident occurs, is that the driver is at fault, when, in fact, the driver is in a large majority of cases, not injured was to blame.

Explaining a chart summary of traffic accidents in New York City in which the fault or responsibility of the proper party is shown, Mr. Eldridge declared that while almost 50 per cent of the causes of accidents are unknown, the blame in the cases where it is determined was overwhelmingly placed on the injured one.

Over a certain period of time in which 237 accidents involving private automobiles occurred, the police department in New York City found by thorough investigation, that in 100 cases the driver of the car was to blame; 22 the continued.

In 3,108 cases, the person injured was to blame and in 6,988 cases the cause of the accident was unknown. With the heavy responsibility of blame placed on the persons injured in the known causes of accidents it is not fair to presume that the injured person was to blame in more than 50 per cent of the remaining 3,683 cases, basing this upon conservative estimates.

During the period of time, in which 1,237 accidents involving taxicabs occurred, the cause for 51 such cases was traced to the driver while 437 cases were blamed on the party injured, and the cause of 714 accidents remained unknown.

These figures emphasize the conclusion that no traffic legislation is completed until it provides a penalty for "jay-walking." If a motorist is to be fined for disobedience of traffic signal, then the pedestrian should be fined for jay-walking across the street putting himself as well as the motorist in the immediate vicinity in danger.

GOLD DISCOVERY NEARBY

ELIZABETH TO POVERTY—CREEK RICH—Nov. 27 (AP)—Four years ago somebody named "Elizabet" Creek, but now a gold mine has been built on its banks for treating gold ore.

It looked like mighty poor country a few years ago, remarked W. D. Biley, who is interested in the mill. "And Pottery Creek was a good name, but now a gold mine is being operated nearby. It is called 'Elizabet' in the Black Range is picking up."

The greatest difficulty in operating a mine in this section of the country is the distance from a railroad. A number of very rich veins are being worked.

POWER—CONOCO'S strongest point!

WHEN you buy gasoline you want all the power you can get—uniform, dependable power—the kind that comes from instant ignition and complete combustion.

The strongest point about CONOCO is the POWER it delivers. But this is only one point in which it excels. Positive start, quick pick-up, less carbon and greater mileage are all there, too.

And there is a good reason for this. CONOCO has been scientifically developed with a carefully determined range of boiling-points—in just the right proportion.

Most any gasoline contains some sort of a range of boiling-points but it takes experience, resources and refining skill to get these nicely balanced—not too many low points at the sacrifice of the equally important higher ones, nor an uneven "jump" somewhere in between. It is this ideal proportion of the whole range that you will find in CONOCO. That is why we call it the balanced gasoline. That is why CONOCO does all the things you expect of a good motor fuel and does them well.

For all-round, year-round satisfaction you'll find CONOCO the best buy! Try it for a month and you'll use it the rest of the season.

No need for lubrication troubles. Use the proper consistency of POLARINE, The Perfect Motor Oil, and drain the crankcase every 400 to 500 miles.

SENATORS AIR VARIED VIEWS OF FRENCHMAN

Hitchcock Leads Off Debate with Attack on Clemenceau and is Joined by Others; Myers Comes to Defense

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—The Tiger of France again came under fire in the senate today when his utterances on the issue of the United States were the subject of a scathing debate which was enlivened by an interruption from the galleries by a negro soldier.

Senator Hitchcock, democrat, Nebraska, former chairman of the foreign relations committee, led off in the debate with an attack on M. Clemenceau and French politics in general, and in the criticism by other senators, while Senator Myers, democrat, Missouri, came to the defense of the aged French statesman.

Senator Owen, democrat, Oklahoma, also expressed sympathy with the American position in America, but criticized French politics.

Senator Clegg, republican, Colorado, also expressed sympathy with the American position in America, but criticized French politics.

It was during Mr. Hitchcock's attack upon the late premier in connection with alleged atrocities of black French soldiers in Germany that the negro soldier, who had been named as Louis Jones, a patient at a government hospital near here, rose in the gallery and called attention to the senator. "Victor, President Clegg," he called, and the senate attendant rushed forward and restrained the man, so that the question never was asked, but excitement prevailed in the senate.

The negro soon left the gallery but returned to the debate, the debate while Senator Griffin, democrat, Alabama, increased at what he termed an "attack" on the senate, "demanded the man's expulsion."

Chicago Disembarkation.

There had been discrimination, the Alabama senator charged, in that in the past white women had been ejected from the galleries of both the senate and the house, while this time the negro was permitted to remain.

Sensators Curtis, republican, Kansas, and Hiram, democrat, Kansas, also took the floor, the latter calling the belief that the negro had acted through ignorance, and no action was taken in the case.

Senator Hitchcock especially criticized the statements of M. Clemenceau in reference to the quartering of French "black troops" on the Rhine, declaring the former premier's denial of the use of these troops had been disproved. He also attacked the French reparations demand on Germany.

Myers' Voice Sympathetic.

Senator Myers, in defending M. Clemenceau, deplored Senator Hitchcock's criticism of the French statesman and commended French policies toward Germany. Senator Owen, although criticizing French politics, expressed sympathy with M. Clemenceau's

TWIN FALLS LAD WINS HIS NUMERALED SWEATER

Jack Phipps, Vandal, Idaho, Freshman, Comes in for Honors at Close of Season

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, Nov. 27 (AP)—According to recommendations made to the athletic board of the Associated Students of the University of Idaho by David MacMillan, freshman football captain, Jack Phipps of Twin Falls will receive this fall his numerated sweater, the official award given to freshman football players.

Phipps, a 150-pounder, is a 5-foot-10-inch, 150-pounder, who is one of the strongest freshman teams on the coast and without question the greatest wrestling selves ever produced at Idaho.

His successful season, culminating in a 21-to-7 victory over the Cougar Outlets, gives the Idaho yearlings the northern freshman championship. Records also show that this year is the first time an Idaho freshman team has been able to defeat a rival team from Washington state but this year made up for lost time and the victory was decisive.

As a scoring machine the Vandal youngster stood alone. During the season of six games they piled up 21 points and but for a touchdown in the last quarter of the game with the Washington team the freshman would have passed through the season without being scored upon. In the Washington-State freshman game was the only time the Idaho freshman goal was scored.

Phipps played a consistent game throughout the entire season and as the freshmen were coached along the same lines as Matthews handled, variety should be held in the local fall football fall for a place in the varsity lineup.

Others recommended for the awards are: Captain Wayne Davis, football quarterback; Victor Cameron, Boise, fullback; Clifford Davison, Nampa, fullback; Neal Nelson, Reynolds, halfback; Ted Buckle, Idaho Falls, end; Edwin Holden, Idaho Falls, tackle; Deane Riley, Boise, guard; Phillip McKinley, Lewiston, center; Orville Jones, Aberdeen, guard; Irving Terry, Plattsburgh, N. Y., tackle; Harley Payne, Idaho Falls, end; Wilbur Dixon, Rupert, guard; Ray Stephens, Blackfoot, guard; William Tander, Boise, end; Otto Mueller, Kellogg, halfback; Jack Phipps, Twin Falls, fullback.

Convicted Slave of Mrs. Alberta Meadows to Serve From 10 Years to Life in Prison

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 27 (AP)—Mrs. Clara Phillips, recently convicted of having slain Mrs. Alberta Meadows with a hammer here last summer, today was sentenced to serve from 10 years to life in the state penitentiary at San Quentin.

The commitment to prison was delayed when her counsel gave notice of appeal. A two-day stay of execution was granted. However, the attorney stated that the notice would not necessarily mean that an appeal would be perfected. They said that Mrs. Phillips would be held in the local jail for 10 days and then transferred to San Quentin.

DENBY SCORES MIDSHIPMEN FOR MORAL LAPSE

Secretary of Navy Holds Student-Officers Up to Public Scorn in Stinging Rebuke—Will Tighten Discipline

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27. (AP)—Midshipmen from the naval academy celebrated overindulgently after the annual Army-Navy football game Saturday night last after the Army-Navy game. I have no desire to mislead you by saying that the majority of the midshipmen did disgrace themselves and bring disgrace upon the naval academy for I know it to be true that many of them did. Such things could have occurred. The misconduct on that occasion was that has ever been charged against the academy. How many midshipmen drank heavily I do not know. The whole regiment was in Philadelphia. Only a relatively small proportion of the regiment attended the football game. Of this proportion I think the great majority conducted themselves properly but enough failed their duty to bring shame upon all. Such an occurrence will never be repeated. It is taken to make it impossible in the future.

In this connection I want to make it quite clear that the naval academy has heretofore set an example to the country of good conduct upon such occasions and will set that example in the future.

Weeks Declines to Comment. When his attention was called to the statement of the navy secretary, Secretary Weeks declined to make any comment. "The West Point cadets returned directly to West Point in special trains in accordance with the practice of the war department. The West Point cadets were pointed out, were in Philadelphia under direct command of Brigadier General Raymond, superintendent of the academy, while the superintendent of the naval academy, Rear Admiral Wilson, was forced to leave for Annapolis immediately after the game on account of the illness of Mrs. Wilson, confined at home with pneumonia."

that he was endorsing our stand for equal treatment at Lusanne."
Secretary Hughes' pronouncements of the open door in the West Indies, as presented and amplified by Ambassador CHAMBERLAIN, to protect the same in Europe, as did the declaration of Secretary HAY, concerning the open door in the Far East. Such is the impression resulting from the diplomats of many countries gathered in Lusanne.

England, through Lord Curzon, is understood to have ratified it completely, and the French spokesman has expressed approval of the American stand.

Speaking of the disputed Mosul oil area, a Turkish delegate announced that Turkey would claim sovereignty over this rich petroleum district and would distribute concessions over it of equal quality, probably favoring the United States, because the United States has no political designs in Turkey.

Thus the American note would seem already to have borne fruit.

OPPOSE RUSSIA'S DEMAND.
LAUSANNE, Nov. 27. (AP)—In conference here, tonight, the impression prevailed that England and France would oppose Russia's demand for participation in the conference on an equal footing with the other powers. It also was reported that England and France were trying to induce Italy to adopt the same attitude.

PACKER MERGER STILL WAITS FOR APPROVAL
Secretary Wallace Confers With President and Attorney General Relative to Consolidation Scheme

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27. (AP)—Secretary Wallace is not yet ready to give his consent to the proposed merger of two of the Chicago "big five" meat packers through the purchase of Morris & Co. by Armour & Co. It was indicated today after a meeting of the House conference on the subject, besides the president and Mr. Wallace, Attorney General Daugherty and Senator William of the agriculture department, were present at the conference.

Although J. Ogden Armour and his associates have desired an early decision, it is understood that Mr. Wallace wants additional information before forming a definite conclusion.

Attorney General Daugherty, who was called into today's conference presumably for an opinion as to the application of the question of the Sherman and Clayton anti-trust acts, is known to hold the view that a merger of two large business concerns of itself is not necessarily a violation of those statutes.

"I had a long distance call from Mr. Tiersan this afternoon," Mrs. Brimmer-Tiersan informed the Associated Press. "She told me he would be here Wednesday morning."

"I am Tiersan's wife and I am going to live with him," she declared. "There is no personal animosity between Mr. Tiersan and myself. He can't go back to his first wife under the Indiana law, and I am going to fight any action to set aside the divorce if such action has been taken."

REPRESENTATIVE'S VISIT George B. Davis, Co. Sec. of the Middle West, New York, A. K. Keator, 1111 First Street Building, Chicago.

BOONOMOY Hard times, apparently, have come to the official organ of the municipality of Twin Falls.

But, granting that it would be convenient for a greater or less number of persons to have a revised edition of the city's ordinances...

As a matter of fact it has been less than three years since the ordinances were re-compiled last and published in book form.

But, granting that it would be convenient for a greater or less number of persons to have a revised edition of the city's ordinances...

The suggestion at least gives the city commission an opportunity to indicate by its negative vote...

REAL ORLAINY The Salvation Army during this Thanksgiving week is offering to Twin Falls citizens an opportunity to assist in its work during the coming year.

The Army is endeavoring to raise by popular subscription approximately four thousand dollars toward its next annual budget...

Records of the Twin Falls Salvation Army corps show that the organization distributed last year among needy persons and families of this county...

There are other phases of the Army's work that perhaps are not so widely known. It may be seen, perhaps to a good many persons...

The charity of the Salvation Army is not like "the gifts without the giver." The Army does not stop when it has contributed to the physical well-being of the person it seeks to relieve.

Then Aunt Jane cleared her throat and all not let her go, of course. Charles, but naturally I had to read the letter to you. I will write to Mrs. Anderson tonight.

"Yes," he said quickly, "and you may tell her, please, that Mary will be 'Charles'."

"Aunt Jane said that. But I—I almost ran around the table and hugged him. (Oh, how I wish no was the kind of father you could do that to me.)"

"Charles?" said Aunt Jane again, "Surely you aren't going to give to so tamely as this to that child and her mother!"

"I'm not giving to at all, Jane," said Father, very quietly again. "I am consulting my own wife as to that matter. I prefer to have her go."

MARY MARIE By Eleanor H. Porter Illustrations by R. H. Livingston (Continued) I'm so excited I don't know what to do. The most wonderful thing has happened. I can't hardly believe it yet myself. "Tell me," said my mother, "and I'm to go home tomorrow. Tomorrow!"

"This is the way it happened:—Mother wrote Aunt Jane and asked if I might not be allowed to come home for the opening of the school. I had an understanding quite well that she had no right to ask this, and of course, if they say it, they were entirely within their rights to refuse to allow me to go. All the allotted time. But that she could not help asking it for my sake on account of the benefit to be derived from being there at the opening of the school year."

"Of course, I didn't know Mother was going to write this. But she knew about the school here and how it came out, and everything. The very old Mother everything that has happened. Oh, of course, I haven't written seven-fifty minutes, as she asked me to. (That was a joke, anyway.)"

"But I have written every day, and, as I said before, I told her everything. Well, when the letter came it took to Aunt Jane myself; and I was crazy to know what was in it, for I recognized the writing at once. But Aunt Jane didn't tell me. She opened it, read it, kind of fished up, and said, 'Humph! The idea!' under her breath, and put the letter in her pocket."

Mary wanted to make a scene and insist on knowing what was in her letter. But Aunt Jane, who was content herself with looking supercilious and disdainful, and marching out of the room without giving Aunt Jane the satisfaction of even being asked what was in that letter. "I'm not giving to at all, Jane," said Father, very quietly again. "I am consulting my own wife as to that matter. I prefer to have her go."

under the circumstances, you would have been obliged to put up with the noise and— "Yes!"—Just like that he interrupted; and by thunder, too. So that Aunt Jane actually jumped. And a guess as to what he was doing was made. "You're not to close this matter due for all. I am not letting the child go for my sake. I am sending her for her own, so far as I am concerned. If I committed no sins, I should have been a fool. I have done it."

With that he turned and strode from the room, leaving Aunt Jane and me just staring after him. "But only for a minute—did I state. It came to me then what he had said, and he would be to keep me here always. For I had heard it, even if he had said the last word very low, and in a queer, indistinct voice. I was sure I had heard it; and I ran after him; and that could not be helped. But I didn't and him: He must have gone quite away from the house. He was gone out to the observatory. I went out to see."

"He didn't come in all the afternoon. I went out for that to see what he did come—well, I wouldn't have dared to hug him then. He had his very sternest, I am not thinking of you call it, and he just came in to supper, and then went into the library without saying a word. I had an understanding quite well that she had no right to ask this, and of course, if they say it, they were entirely within their rights to refuse to allow me to go. All the allotted time. But that she could not help asking it for my sake on account of the benefit to be derived from being there at the opening of the school year."
