WEEKS ARGUES AGAINST CUTS IN ARMY SIZE

Secretary of War in Annual Report, Says Inadequate Strength Has Been Shown at Cost of Blood and Money

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1. (AP)—The present authorized regular army strength of 125,000 officers and 1,250,000 men is "inadequate for existing safety, and further cuts would be 'inexcusable,'" Secretary Weeks declared today in his annual report to congress.

"We should seize the first opportunity to bring the regular army back to the proportions which are required," he said. "We cannot ever again make the mistake of expending good soldiers to risk overnight and good officers to be turned out in quantities in three months' time."

"We are making progress, and any progress is good progress. This really is, however, scant, and not really enough. Any further cuts would force us to lose what we have gained, and would accordingly be inexcusable."

"It has taken time and money to build what we have. It has taken blood and money to prove that we have not, even now, what we need. We should, when practicable, add to what we have and attain to the progress necessary to make the defense project under the terms of the law."

Declaring the officer corps "is really the backbone of our military system," Mr. Weeks said that the officers for the future must rest "upon the foundation of our leadership."

"I do not believe the enlisted man is the best in the world," he continued. "It is because I appreciate him that I emphasize the need for officers to give the soldier his best opportunity to fight for his country and his life."

"We must have officers sufficient to handle the great army of the United States. We have not these officers now."

"Our reserve officers are the first to complain that their present lack of training is causing them to lack the knowledge that they gained in the war. Where is there any training to come now? Only through the regular officers."

Impaired Safety.

"In my last report I stated that, with 15,000 officers authorized, we would not have enough to do all that might profitably be done. Now I must state that we have 'absolutely not enough' to do 'what is necessary to our safety' as we organized the army."

"I appreciate the urgency of our financial situation that prevents us from reaching our maximum requirements. But the importance of this need is fully recognized by all who do recognize the urgency of the financial problems of the country."

"The reduction of our officer body to a minimum of 15,000 at the earliest date," Mr. Weeks said, "is being confronted with the necessity of appearing before a peace loving people to urge bluntly and candidly the continued situation to their minds for definite preparations."

"My conclusions are not entirely welcome in this time, when people have been hostile to any plan that has been proposed to avoid conflicts of force," he continued. "My conclusions are, nevertheless, based upon the necessity to prepare for such conflicts."

"If it is unwise, it is no less true that Americans, like all other people, are naturally inclined to prepare for defense, as well as those who fall to strive for peace."

"We are not right to feel confident of our strength. We are not right to never desecrate and fulfill our duty—except through the study of our own faults and the painful recognition of our defects. A true American must be not only proud of our unvarying successes, but also humbly aware that many of these successes were hard won, and that in all our conflicts success came only after the sacrifice of many brave souls to our individual and national tendencies to be unready."

Reverting to the present status of the military establishment, Mr. Weeks said that "under the stress of economy" every element of the arms preparedness program "in any sense non-essential" had been eliminated and that "retrained" is the new framework of the machinery of defense created by the national defense act.

"The present tendency towards cutting this framework makes it impossible to add to it. It is not possible to add any additional cuts would endanger our safety, since the framework is already cut to the point of uncertainty. Our country can afford no future cuts which must be paid for by the blood of American citizens."

"Reduced reductions of the past year, the war in Europe, said, had resulted in "measurable delay" in upbuilding the national guard element of the three-line army plan.

Guard to Hold Down.

"The numbers of the guard have been held down by the failure of federal funds and equipments and the training of units has been somewhat handicapped by the absence of regular officers who were available and suitable as instructors," he said.

"The states have proven most eager to their share in development. The citizens have accepted the idea and supported the units loyally. The applicants for enlistment have been in excess of the quota. Nothing but financial stand-between-us and a complete realization of the objects of the (national defense) law. For actual equipment there is not great."

Mr. Weeks said that in the campaign

Women to Continue Prohibition Fight

The Women's Christian Temperance Union, in their big Philadelphia operation, expressed a determination to make a fight to prevent any amendment to the Volstead act that would permit the manufacture and sale of light wines and beer. Miss Anna A. Gordon of Evansville, Ill., is the newly elected president of the Union. Mrs. Ella A. Bode of New York, is honorary treasurer. Mrs. Elizabeth F. Anderson of Fargo, N. D., is recording secretary. Mrs. Margaret C. Monan of Evanston, Ill., is treasurer. Mrs. Sara H. Hoge of Lincoln, Va., is assistant recording secretary.

"to raise the general standard of our military leadership he considered it desirable to extend the present practice of a limited degree of selection in promotion," so that those officers who reached the grade of lieutenant colonel and of major with past records of superior achievement, can be pushed ahead at an accelerated rate for valuable service in the next higher grade."

"Present ratings," he continued, "would justify the filling of one out of approximately twelve vacancies in the grade of colonel by the promotion of those who merit accelerated advancement. There would be thus an incentive to endeavor throughout the service."

Develops Air Types.

As to the technical preparations of the army since the war, he said:

"In nearly all directions we have markedly the present state of effective plans that is inferior to some. Particularly in the direction of air development we have shown progress in types."

"In spite of this gratifying progress we are behind our program in several respects, due to the financial situation which reduced our support of some activities. We have not made the experimental progress in motorization of artillery transport that is to be hoped for nor in the development of improved tanks."

"Above all we are short in the development of air power. We have neglected the present state of effective plans that we would need in an emergency and the complete facilities for training the personnel that we shall need to carry out our program of air activities and the provision of a system of airways are matters which are essential to the development of air power."

"Some steps in the direction of at least providing an effective plan for our development of air power should have been taken at once, as our success are improved, the actual building of this emergency stores."

"Finally, we should not slack in the training of our citizens in the simplest technique of war, the handling of America's weapons—the rifle—not the further development of this important weapon."

NEW ERA IS SEEN FOR WOOD RIVER'S MINES

Region Attracts More Attention Now Than at Any Time Since Discovery in the Early Eighties

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, Dec. 1.—The Wood river mining region near Bailey, in central Idaho, is attracting more attention now than at any time since its discovery in the early eighties, according to Dean F. A. Thompson of the university school of mines. Director of the state bureau of mines and geology, Dean Thompson recently returned from an official visit to the Wood river district.

"Although the Wood river mine were heavy producers for 10 or more years following their discovery," he said, "certain factors led to a decline in most of the mines this decline was not due to exhaustion of the ore bodies but to sudden termination by flaring faults."

"This condition is notably true in the case of the Bonillon and Minnie Moore properties, both with production records running well into the millions."

North Idaho Mine Interest.

"After many attempts to relocate these ore bodies by haphazard prospecting, a new era has dawned in the Wood river camp. This interest is centered about the Bunker Hill and Sullivan company, whose north Idaho properties have produced over $100,000,000 and paid over $20,000,000 in dividends. After a searching geological analysis by O. J. Hershey, Bunker Hill's geologist, recognized as one of the most successful workers in the application of geology to the art of ore finding, the company has placed the job of testing Hershey's theories in the hands of James W. Gwin, a graduate of the Idaho School of Mines, formerly superintendent of the Alhambra, a subsidiary Bunker Hill property in the town of Orem, Utah."

"With commendable vigor and with striking avoidance of showy surface expenditures so characteristic of those who speculate along the mine and not the ore, the Bunker Hill company is carrying on extensive underground development. On the result of this development along the future of the Wood river mines. If the Bonillon ore body is found below the fault which stopped operations years ago then it is reasonable to assume that more actively and the attracting of more outside capital, resulting in the testing of other bodies cut off but not necessarily exhausted."

Underground Work Pushed.

"Underground work is proceeding vigorously and will continue without interruption. Early fall moves have been made prospecting entirely out of the question."

"Other large companies are equally active in the Wood river section, among them being the Federal Mining and Smelting company, which is working the Independence mine through the North Star tunnel, milling the ore in the North Star plant."

"At the foot of Mt. Hyndman, well beyond the known productive area, the Alaska Mining company has erected one of the largest surface plants in the southern part of the state in preparation for underground prospecting during the winter."

"What is useless to you may be valuable to others—advertise it in the classified columns."

Clemenceau Pays Warm Tribute to Abraham Lincoln

Tiger Bares Head at Tomb of President Who Fell, He Says in Cause that Moves Heroes

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Dec. 1. (AP)—George Clemenceau bared his aged head at the tomb of Abraham Lincoln Thursday and paid tribute to him "as one of the greatest men that ever lived."

"After the very appropriate and moving words I have heard, I hardly dare say more," he said. "Don't believe I came here to try to console or cheer a memory."

Quoting from Lincoln's Gettysburg speech, he said he hoped, in the words of Lincoln, rather to be consecrated, that what remained to him of his life might be devoted to the service of mankind.

"I come in souvenir of the valiant men who fell on the fields of France in the same cause for which he was murdered, and that we are going to try to go in the path of freedom he opened," Clemenceau continued.

"Here I am a private citizen, no more than any other who has tried to do his duty, hoping to be not like Lincoln, but to be as nearly like him as I can."

"Let us say no more. Here before one of the greatest men that ever lived, all my heart goes out to America and the great man she produced."

Before he spoke, bareheaded in the cold mist beneath the leaden skies that overhung Oakridge cemetery, the Tiger entered the marble hall beneath the tall, plain Lincoln shaft, and laid a wreath on the sarcophagus beneath which the martyred Lincoln lay.

Precedent is Set as Pope Joins in American Festival

Pontiff, Receiving Students, Speaks on Topic of Thanksgiving Day

ROME, Dec. 1. (AP)—For the first time in the history of the papacy, the pope joined in an American national festival when he insisted Thursday upon receiving the students of the American embassy and addressed them on the topic of Thanksgiving day.

The students, numbering 180, were accompanied to the audience chamber by Cardinal Bileletti, and by the rector and vice rector of the college.

In his address the pope said: "National thanksgiving is a noble idea on the part of your people—choosing the day for prayer. Men who look prayer lack one of the essentials of life. Your country must indeed be blessed by Almighty God."

In accepting an offering of 1,200 lire from the students and their sponsors, he thanked them for the help you have given me during the suffering business, now down by pestilence, famine, and misery."

SPORTS DIRECTORS SET HIGH STANDARD FOR ATHLETICS

Western Conference Heads Meet With Faculty Representatives to Discuss Problems of "Big Ten"

CHICAGO, Dec. 1. (AP)—Athletic directors of the western conference, after a four-hour session today held a joint meeting with the faculty representatives tonight to discuss problems confronting them for the 1923 "big ten" campaign.

The faculty representatives will meet tomorrow to act on the suggestions while the schedule makers are in session to draw up schedules for next year for all sports except baseball.

Support Amateur Rules The athletic directors adopted resolutions pledging strict enforcement of the amateur rules, and to teach the proper ideals of sportsmanship, fair play, loyalty, co-operation and usefulness, and the other qualities which make sportsmen and aggressive character.

The directors also resolved to continue their fight to keep intercollegiate athletics free from gambling. Pending the meeting tomorrow of the faculty committee, Major John A. Griffith, commissioner of athletics, declined to comment on the subjects discussed tonight at the joint session of the directors and faculty representatives.

It was thought, however, that the status of intercollegiate football game would be more definitely defined after tomorrow's session. It was believed that the faculty representatives would decide not to prohibit intercollegiate football, but would not force the players to remain away from their classes for long periods.

W. G. Summers, president of the conference, secured a place in nothing to do over Yale this season, has under consideration an invitation to play the Yale bowl next fall, but has not accepted it. He also said no announcement could be made until after the session tomorrow.

W. G. Summers, president of the conference, was looking, it was learned, for a game on Wisconsin, but it is not clear whether Michigan would probably be added to Chicago's schedule for 1923. Indiana, the date of which otherwise would be held at Chicago, is also in Wisconsin. It was reported, will break off football relations as a result of the action of the faculty committee.

BUHL HOOPSTERS DEFEAT JEROME IN OPENING GAME

West End Quintet Displays Rare Early Season Form; Northsiders Lose 28 to 21

BUHL, Dec. 1. (Special to The News).—The opening basketball game of the season was played in the high school gym here Friday evening, when the Buhl quintet won from the Jerome team by the score of 28 to 21.

Although the first game of the season, long range baskets were in evidence, Mullins, left forward for the Northsiders, being particularly good at this style of play. Twice during the game Mullins made baskets from the four long legs to his credit.

Mullins was high-point man for the evening, scoring a total of 18 for Buhl. Morris led the Jerome team with 12 points, and Ringert 8. For Jerome, Gault was 4, and Hardwick with 3 completed the scoring for that team.

The work of Jay Simpson as referee was a decided feature of the evening's entertainment which was enjoyed by a large crowd.

Punts and Passes

By FULLBACK

In the Boise-Twin Falls championship game Thursday, Walker Cole, the miler fullback of the home team, "Slick," gave the fans a wonderful interpretation of what a "little" man can do when pressed. Walker led his team, making 10 yards, and finishing up with a total of 354 yards, while "Moose" Garrity ran a nice second with 161. Scott came in for third with 70.20 of which came as the result of a long forward pass by Garrity. Jenkins had 65, Parker 10, and Slow Robinson completed a forward pass that netted 65 yards, the total yardage made by the Twin Falls team was 655 yards.

"Slick" has been a wonder during this season, playing clean, efficient football, but he has not thought up for split backs and off tackle plays for the most part, his strong forte lay in the fact that he got a man on each play. seldom during any game this season did Slick fail to keep his motto, "A man a play."

Clarence "Moose" Garrity is the next in line, by virtue of his wonderful work during Thursday's game. This player was what the fans would call "right" playing excellent football in every branch of the sport. When a touchdown was needed, and the ball was 10 yards from the covey-line, "Moose" was called upon, and both times he delivered. "Moose" is one of the greatest plunkers to ever donned a blue and white suit. His work on both the defensive and offensive ends of college yards, and his forward passing the best ever seen in this country. His work Thursday stamped him as a player for a place on the All-American eleven for the coming year. This may be a little premature, but it is a fact never the less.

Captain Len Scott gave a fine exhibition of head work during the entire game, choosing his plays with the knowledge of a past master, although the second quarter he failed to use the midget Gary when one foot was needed. This was a big mistake made by this popular star, and it is too bad that Len has to leave us. He has been a great ground grinder, and was a whirlwind coming for yard passes. It was monotonous to watch Garrity and Scott complete long series of runs. Very few during the game, however, they were few, one knows where Len is headed for, but wherever he lands he has the best wishes of all the fans in Twin Falls who stand for clean athletics.

John Nyo at left guard, played a great game Thursday, having the toughest position of any member of the team. Fricks, the big Boise guard, came here with a wonderful reputation, and 100 pounds of football material, but he did not score. After the game, Fricks stated that all the slobber men he had ever played against Nyo was the worst, refusing to let him get through anywhere in his territory during the entire game. Fricks said that he wasn't content to keep him from getting through.

Clair King was the man that played center, and it over a header played out on mauling, let him get forth. Cliz with the aid of a football maul, saved the local team yardage enough during the season to be several games. Time after time the entire line out of position, and off side, the wily Cliz waited before passing the ball until the team returned to its right place. He is also clever at getting through the line, making some wonderful tackles during the game. This is going to leave a big hole in the line for the next year, and although it is a pity, it is probable that his wonderful ability above his shoulders will find a place for him on some high class college team.

but insisted on making him back tip from three to five yards on each play. Although John will be with us for several Thursday's game, still this on his football career in the local school.

"Roberts is the lad that gets close most of the left end and proved during the entire season that Coach Evans didn't err when he put him at this place. "Puck" has been a valuable asset to the team, being a sure tackler, and his being a wonder at Idaho Falls team said of Jenkins, looking out."

"He is the greatest plunger back I have ever seen in high school football and I have been coaching for 10 years. My men told me each game that they couldn't stop him, so I told them to wait until he stopped himself. He got caught up in the talk about coming from a man like Maddox, but he will be with us next year."

"Slow" Robinson, right end of the team, is another star that played last game Thursday for the line and White. Slow showed 60 per cent improvement over his work of last year. He has had any play you around his stamping-ground for material gains. He has a head and uses it. The one trick play that Boise attempted, the result being that Coach Evans' men were 15 yards away from the point of scrimmage. A player of the type of player, Robinson has very little to say, relying on his speed on the grid-iron to do the shouting.

"Pat" Flynn will also be a mine quantity when the roll is called that year for football brains, as the local Pat has been the star of the line, cheering the boys when things looked the darkest, and ever in the play. Always playing clean, and charging with the utmost of his 175 pounds has been his motto. We are going to miss you, Pat, and we are going to miss your assistance, and encouragement on the left side of the Blue and White line.

And so falls the curtain on football for 1922, and into the shadows go "Punts and Passes," along with "Fullback."

KELLER GIVES RANGE OF FIGHT ON DAUGHTERY

Congressman, Seeking the Imprecachment of Attorney-General, Names Taft, Wickersham, Gompers, Witnesses

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1. (AP)—Representative Keller, Republican, Minnesota, in a statement today to the house judiciary committee, named Chief Justice Taft, Attorney General Wickersham, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and Guy Oyster, Mr. Gompers' secretary.

His charges, formally filed, Mr. Keller said, were against the attorney general, alleged to be guilty of "fraud and deceit" on Mr. Taft, while present to obtain the release of Charles W. ...

The reasons why Mr. Keller desired to have Chief Justice Taft and Mr. Wickersham testify were set forth in a bill of particulars. He stated that the case was brought to his attention in 1907 for alleged land frauds against the government in Oregon and subsequent pardons by President Taft.

Through the influence of a former service agent associated as a defendant, he said, "Jones was induced to accept as jurors men to whom otherwise he would not have given his testimony. General Wickersham after investigating the circumstances reported to Mr. Taft, as set forth in the Keller bill, that he 'could not continue the methods employed in the prosecution of these cases by requiring an enforcement of the sentence imposed in the case of Jones'."

On receipt of the report by Wickersham, President Taft promptly pardoned Jones. The bill set forth, at the time of Mr. Taft's appointment by President Taft, that he "could not continue the methods employed in the prosecution of these cases by requiring an enforcement of the sentence imposed in the case of Jones."

Requires More Time
Mr. Keller said it would require at least one month additional time for him to prepare full particulars in his case, and that most of this time would be taken up in examining documents at the department of justice to which he desired to be given access.

Declaring he had evidence to prove that "Harry M. Daugherty is unfit to be attorney general of the United States," Mr. Keller said that Daugherty's "susceptibility to financial 'cuts' offenders charged with violations of the anti-trust laws had become a public scandal."

He called attention to complaints made on the floor of the house and senate by members who have assailed the attorney general's recent announced opposition to the attorney general they have been abandoned by papers and their offices broken into and papers stolen.

Mr. Keller said that since Mr. Daugherty had assumed office more than 70 complaints of alleged anti-trust law violations had been made in writing by the federal trade commission and president of the commission, but that none had been initiated.

ACCUSE MURDER SUSPECT OF BURYING WIFE ALIVE

Judgment in Betwixt Against New York Taxicab Chauffeur Who Is Charged with Horrible Crime

NEW YORK, Dec. 1. (AP)—Abraham Becker, taxicab chauffeur, was indicted today for the murder of his wife, Janice, who, authorities believe, was buried in a concrete-filled grave from which her body was taken Wednesday.

The official theory that the woman was buried alive was formed after the medical examiner of Bronx county, had submitted to the district attorney the report of Dr. Karl Demme, who had been called to the scene.

It was a heavy blow which he said he could not bear. He was bound and a coat has been placed over his face. The body bore other evidences, he reported, that the woman had fainted and then been thrown into a death tub and then fastened.

John Norick, a welder, who was led to the Becker home by a police officer, Becker had told him she was buried there, was held in $10,000 bail as a material witness.

ANOTHER BLOC

Today pledged members to cooperate in local progressive legislation to be brought forth by committee of the bloc during the present and the next congress. A general program announced included subjects, agriculture, labor, railroads, immigration, natural resources, direct primary, corrupt practices act and constitutional amendments, abolition of the electoral college and earlier meetings of congress.

Norris Temporary Chairman
Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, was chosen to preside over today's local representative bloc conference, secretary, but election of permanent officers was deferred.

Legislative purposes of the bloc were set forth in a resolution today. Senator LaFollette said the politics of a third party movement was not involved, while Senator Borah declared that he was not a "complete sympathizer" with the movement if designed to obtain progressive legislation. He declared that he was not a "complete sympathizer" with the movement if designed to obtain progressive legislation.

Organization of the new bloc in the United States was announced by the president of the committee on the results of the alleged misconduct of senators at the naval ball on the night of the football game.

Rear Admiral Henry B. Wilson, superintendent of the academy, was the first witness to be called before the board. He testified that he had direct supervision over arrangements for the trip of the midshipmen to Philadelphia, but stated he knew nothing of the reported drinking spree. He also stated that he was unable to prevent the ball and returned to Annapolis immediately after the game, owing to illness of Mrs. Wilson.

He said it was the duty of any naval officer present, whether on duty or not, to report any acts of improper conduct.

Reports at Variance
Answering a question put by Rear Admiral Abner H. Robertson, presiding officer of the court, as to whether the academy was notified of the results of the alleged misconduct of senators at the naval ball on the night of the football game.

Representatives Included
Nineteen republican and seven democratic representatives and representatives of the president of the United States and the president of the United States and the president of the United States.

A few of the congressional conferees who will meet Friday morning in the senate agriculture committee room, are: Senator Charles McNary, Oregon, and most now are serving.

Explains Secrecy
The announcement of the plan for secret conferences of the senators and representatives said:

In order that there may be full and complete discussion upon the important subjects of legislation which will be taken up for consideration, the conference will meet behind closed doors. Any statements which senators or representatives may care to make in the future will be given after the deliberations of the conference are concluded.

Allusion to Salary Paid to Film Actor Makes Court Squirm

Valentino in Court on Appeal From Indictment Holding Him to Contract

NEW YORK, Dec. 1. (AP)—Rodolph Valentino, moving picture star, accompanied by his wife, appeared today in the appellate division of the supreme court to appeal from an indictment which restrains his acting for any one save the Famous Players-Lasky corporation.

"Your honor," said Louis Marshall, attorney for the corporation, "this man may enjoy a larger income upon his contract than nine supreme court justices."

"Yes, yes," Justice John Preston said. "But you must not forget that the contract is for three years."

Attorney Marshall contended that Valentino is to receive under his contract a total of $325,000 as salary for three years. His present salary is $12,500 weekly.

Valentino's own attorney described him as a "young man who was unable to do anything when he arrived here eight months prior to making the present contract." The attorney said that the actor was "wholly unfamiliar with the salaries paid to moving picture stars and with business affairs."

Counsel for the corporation classified Valentino as a "college graduate, a man of intelligence, and familiar with the contents of the contract he signed."

Decision upon Valentino's appeal was received.

STORY OF ORGY LACKS SUPPORT

Testimony at First Day's Inquiry Upholds Their Conduct

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Dec. 1. (AP)—The first day of inquiry by the naval board of investigation, appointed by Secretary Doolittle, into the alleged drinking scandal and disgraceful conduct by midshipmen after the Annapolis football game at Philadelphia last September, closed today with testimony to substantiate the report that any of the midshipmen acted in other than a proper manner.

The board adjourned after its session today and will reconvene again on Monday.

Officials on Trial
It developed that the administration officials of the United States naval academy are widely critical of the results of the alleged misconduct of senators at the naval ball on the night of the football game.

Rear Admiral Henry B. Wilson, superintendent of the academy, was the first witness to be called before the board. He testified that he had direct supervision over arrangements for the trip of the midshipmen to Philadelphia, but stated he knew nothing of the reported drinking spree.

He also stated that he was unable to prevent the ball and returned to Annapolis immediately after the game, owing to illness of Mrs. Wilson.

TROOPS TO QUIT GREEK ISLANDS

Lausanne Conference Gives Partial Satisfaction to Turkish Contentions

LAUSANNE, Dec. 1. (AP)—Turkey's ambition to have a demilitarized zone along the coast of Asia Minor, the Aegean sea, and the Dardanelles, was partially realized, Wednesday, as far as it concerns the string of Greek islands stretching along the coast of Asia Minor.

The territorial commission of the Near East conference adopted the report of its sub-committee which recommended that important measures of demilitarization be carried out in these islands in the interest of general peace in the Near East.

Not Quite Satisfied
Janet Pasha, the chief Turkish delegate, was not quite satisfied with the report. He claimed that all the military works on the islands should be destroyed and entered reservations in the minutes of the conference.

The second outstanding decision of the day was that the status of certain islands should be the general position of the straits, and that Russian delegates should be invited to participate in the negotiations.

Negotiations touching on the Dardanelles problem may be started on Friday, M. Tchitcherine, the soviet foreign minister, cannot reach Lausanne by that time and Makovov, who represents Russia as well as the Ukraine and Greece.

Excitations Ignored
Although present at the sub-committee meeting this morning, former minister of Greece did not attend the full commission session in the afternoon, and there accordingly was no official reference during the meeting to the case of the withdrawal of the British minister from Greece.

The Greek islands which the committee decided should be partly demilitarized include Samos, Mytilene, Chios and Naxos, where the American missionaries organized their relief work for the Greek refugees.

A second group of islands include Euboea, Tenos, Samothrace and Lemnos, which are not far from the entrance of the Dardanelles. Greece has indicated that these islands should pass from Greek to Turkish sovereignty, but the Greek delegates protested on the ground that the island populations were overwhelmingly Greek.

Greece Supports Issues
Lord Curzon supported Janet's demand that disposition of these islands be decided as a preliminary part of the straits question, but repudiated the Turkish contention that Euboea and Tenos were ceded to Greece by the treaty of London in 1912.

The conference tomorrow will devote itself to the study of economic matters.

WOMAN FOUND GUILTY OF MURDERING SON-IN-LAW

Conviction of Mother Follows That of Daughter Charged With Poisoning Her Father-in-Law

WHITE CLOUD, Mich., Dec. 1. (AP)—Mrs. Alice Dudgeon was convicted in circuit court here tonight of a charge of having murdered her son-in-law, Romeo Hodel.

Anticipating an early verdict, the hundred or more neighbors of the defendant and White Cloud citizens, remained in the street question, but the jurors began their deliberations at 8 o'clock tonight.

Unusual interest marked the case, it being the second of a series growing out of the death of the young farmer and his father, David Hodel. Mrs. Hodel is the widow of the defendant, Romeo Hodel, was convicted three weeks ago of poisoning the older Hodel.

Mrs. Hodel and her brothers, Ted and Herman Dudgeon, were jointly charged with their mother for young Hodel's death. Their trials, following that of their mother, on the court docket.

FINAL TRIBUTE PLANNED FOR VETERAN LAWMAKER

President and Representatives of All Branches of Government to Attend Funeral for Representative Mann

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1. (AP)—Funeral services for Representative James H. Mann, who died at his home here last night, will be held tomorrow afternoon in the hall of the house of representatives, where he served for 20 years as a member of a century.

There will be no eulogy by his associates. The rites will be conducted by the Rev. James E. Freeman, pastor of the Epiphany Episcopal church, Washington, which Mr. Mann attended, and Dr. J. Shera Montgomery, the house chaplain. Late in the day the body will be taken to his old home at Chicago, for burial Monday.

The president, the cabinet, the supreme court, the diplomatic corps, and the senate and house have been invited. President Harding said he hoped to attend because of the "great reverence, respect and official," he had for the Illinois veteran.

TIERMAN IS ORDERED TO SUBMIT TO SANITY TEST
Former Indiana Law Instructor, Fighting in World War, Is Declared Mentally Unsound

CHICAGO, Dec. 1. (AP)—A test to determine the sanity of John P. Tierman, former Notre Dame law instructor, was ordered tonight by County Judge Righamer on the petition of Mrs. Frances Palanski, sister of Mrs. Tierman.

Upon a statement made by Dr. James W. Hall, alienist, that Tierman is mentally unsound, and the charge made by Mrs. Palanski, his wife, and "prevented her from carrying out her own will," Judge Righamer signed papers for Tierman's commitment to the Cook county psychiatric hospital for a 60-day confinement.

Officers then were sent to search for Tierman, who came to Chicago today with his wife following the confinement of their household effects in South Bend.

Boston's Famous Get-Rich-Quick Financier Found Not Guilty of Larceny, Was Acquitted on Larceny Charge

BOSTON, Dec. 1. (AP)—Charles Ponzi, former get-rich-quick financier, was found not guilty of larceny, by a jury in the superior court late tonight. Ponzi, a federal prisoner in the Plymouth jail, was tried on charges in connection with the "50 per cent in 90 days" scheme through which Ponzi gained fame.

City agents, co-defendants with Ponzi on the charge of conspiracy to commit larceny, were found not guilty in an early decision of the jury tonight.

Ponzi, who pleaded guilty in federal court when tried in connection with his international postal reply coupon scheme, and who now is serving a five-year term in the federal prison at Plymouth, entered a plea of not guilty when tried by the state, and conducted his own defense throughout.

Brain-work is the managing of business and industry. Tear this manuscript out as Russia did and production must fall. Try substitutes for it, and there will be failure.

ONE WEEK LATER I received Mr. Father's letter. I mean yesterday, and it's gone now. But I had an awful time over it.

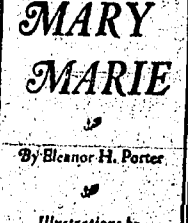

They see me they don't hardly ever go on with what they are saying. So I just naturally follows that I don't overhear things as I used to.

Low Story of Princess Treason. The tale of treason, princess of the throne, is a terrible tragedy of Brazil. She loved Martin, the Spaniard. Leaving her people and her high place to go with the white warrior whom she had married.

High Life. The Jermans like every other set of parents in a forty-year-old have a remarkable education for one of his immature years, for one of his Declaration; much as Jason had to write with the family; first law it was an unmitigated tough row and a piece of the doughy bird had stuck in the youngster's throat.

BRAIN CREATES WEALTH

It is natural that the man who works with his hands should feel that he does more than the man who works with his mind. What the hand-worker produces is so easily measured that there is little or no question regarding it.

I'd been reading the letter on Monday. I'd been reading the letter on Monday. I'd been reading the letter on Monday.

Then I'd stop and think and think and chew my pen-banana. Then I'd put down something. But it was awful, and I knew it was awful. So I'd have to tear it up and begin again.

Then, after a time, I got out my letter and read it again. And all of a sudden, I felt all warm and happy, and so I did when I first got it; and I was back with him in the laboratory and he was telling me all about the stars. And I forgot all about being afraid of him.

Three hundred years ago, the first English newspaper, the Weekly News, was issued by Nathaniel Butter from his office somewhere near the Royal Exchange, London. Though somewhat of the nature of a pamphlet, it forms the link midway between the much older newsletter and the newspaper proper.

Bearded Beard Stores Fat in Tail. Bearded beard stores fat in tail. Bearded beard stores fat in tail. Bearded beard stores fat in tail.

Lenise contended that if capital could be secured brain-work would develop. It put into production all the capital he could command, and awaited development of brain-work. Not satisfied with results he invited foreign capital and finally lured German investment on the condition that there be German supervision.

Figures That Stagger. A full chart of the necessity of all the 200,000,000 more or less of people of English ancestry scattered over the world, would, if carried back to the Twelfth century and written with one pen to the square inch, cover some 25,000,000 of square miles.

Brain's experiment has been tried in full view of the business and industrial world. His demonstration of the fallacy of the proposition that all wealth is created by the tollers, to whom it belongs, has been witnessed by hand-workers in every country. The proof it has supplied, that production requires the brain-worker as well, ought to be convincing enough forever to answer socialistic and communistic underestimates of the value of thought, planning and direction.

The hand-worker is responsible, only for what he may accomplish in complying with processes of production. The brain-worker is responsible for those processes, also for the patterns, designs, and methods of those processes. The hand-worker may contribute his part to production in an eight-hour day; the brain-worker can limit a day's work only by the results he must obtain once if he spends half the night in solving his problems.

It may be true that the man who possesses "a thorough knowledge of the business" may become a good executive; it is also true that such a man brings to the business a mental equipment which added to practical experience gives him the superior qualification. It isn't experience alone that determines preferment—it's brains plus experience that makes him the executive. Again, it is not mere production that creates wealth but rather the conversion of products at a profit that makes men richer. The most that production does is to make wealth possible. MUST HAVE TRUE FACTS NOTED AUTHOR ASSERTS

Will Irwin, Author and Student of World Events, Urges Honesty in Giving News

The public will be able to form a true conception of events and conditions only when honesty is observed by individuals in giving out information, according to Will Irwin, noted journalist, war correspondent and student of world conditions and developments, told an audience here Tuesday night at the auditorium Thursday night.

Mr. Irwin's address recalled the days of the world war when nations anxiously scanned the newspapers for reports. Many of those, he said, being colored by the shrewd propaganda system of Germany.

The American system of dissemination of news was far from being simple, he said. The principal victory for the American propagandists was the refusal to discuss the war in the United States as a result of the foreign population in this country writing their friends or friends abroad and encouraging them to believe in the American cause.

The noted writer brought a note of decided optimism on the much discussed subject of behaving in the United States. He related the various ways in which propaganda in bolshevism has been put and declared that he has recently filled the air with the news of setting up a king in Washington, to morrow.
