

TEAGLE GIVES INTIMATE VIEW OF OIL TRADE

Standard Oil Company of New Jersey Anticipates Questions of Senate Probe Body and Prepares Statement

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14. (AP)—Facts and figures concerning the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, its control, its operation and to a certain degree, its policies, were presented by Walter C. Teagle, its president, to a senate manufacturers' sub-committee today at the resumption of the senate directed inquiry into prices and conditions of the oil industry.

Appearing as the first of the leaders in the American oil world which the sub-committee summoned, Mr. Teagle for four hours was closely questioned by Gilbert E. Roe of New York, commissioner for the sub-committee. The questions concerned the minutest details as to the operations of the company and were directed toward bringing out the exact cost of the major oil products and the extent of competition in the oil industry brought about by the supreme court dissolution decree of 1911. Mr. Teagle had ready answers for most of the questions and if some question of minor detail with which he was unfamiliar was put, he called on a large staff of assistants who had accompanied him to Washington, bringing voluminous files.

LaFollette Rejects Statement.

LaFollette had offered a prepared statement, but was cut short by Chairman LaFollette, who announced that the sub-committee had decided it should be questioned by the committee attorney. Questions asked by Mr. Roe during the hearing, however, resulted in the placing of most of the statements in the committee record and just before adjournment, Mr. Teagle obtained from Acting Chairman Jones tentative permission to file the statement at the conclusion of his testimony, probably tomorrow.

The statement, advance copies of which had been given to the press prior to Mr. Teagle's taking the stand in addition to giving details of the corporation's organization and business operations, declared the directors of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey in accord with the supreme court dissolution decree, had conducted the business of the company under conditions of free and active competition which they recognized the public demanded. It added that the company is not "a party to any combination agreement, or arrangement to fix or manipulate the selling prices of its products."

Justice's Stock Division.

The prepared statement also discussed the recent declaration by the corporation of a stock dividend, justifying this action on the ground that the company from its inception had been under-capitalized with steadily increasing disparity between issued capital stock and net assets, that it was desired to effect a wider existing issue because of the high market value of the company's stock and that an increase in the outstanding stock was financially necessary.

Questions put by Mr. Roe at today's hearings related largely to the domestic and foreign business of the company the operation of its pipe lines, its refineries and its ships. The committee counsel also was much interested in the ownership of the corporation's stock and in reply to questions the witness gave a detailed statement of stock ownership.

Stock Widely Distributed.

"Only six stockholders held one percent or more of the company's stock as of June 30, 1922," Mr. Teagle testified. "These six shareholders own a total of 28.4 per cent of the company's common stock. The largest individual owner of common stock is John D. Rockefeller, Jr., with 11.4 per cent of the remaining two stockholders on the list owning together 10 per cent of the common stock are Phillips, Thriftly Institutions, such as the Rockefeller Foundation and the general education fund. It may be of interest to the committee to know that John D. Rockefeller, Sr. has not been a shareholder in this company since 1909, and that the late William Rockefeller owned only 700 shares at the time of his death.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The epiblast and committees of the Blue Triangle club held a meeting Wednesday evening at 4:10. The social and service committees are working together in preparation for the annual Christmas party to be given next Wednesday for the children in Twin Falls. Each club member is responsible for a guest and it is to go after the child and take him home also. Other business was discussed.

The various clubs of the high school held meetings Wednesday during the fourth hour.

The members of the Social Science club enjoyed a talk given by Mr. Rice, a veteran of the Civil war. He told of his experiences during the war and of the conditions at Andersonville where he was a prisoner for some time. It was especially interesting to the students of history. Because they have just finished the study of the Civil war, Inspector Craver played a delightful piano solo and the meeting adjourned at 8 o'clock.

There was a special meeting of all the Blue Triangle members Thursday during the sixth period. It was a short business meeting relative to the party which is to be given next Wednesday.

Taking Domestic Chances.

It is true that many contract severe colds and recover from them without taking any precaution or treatment, and a knowledge of this fact leads others to take their chances instead of giving their colds the needed attention.

It should be borne in mind that every cold spreads the lung fever, the flu, and other diseases. According to statistics, one out of every five people who catch a cold will die. Can you afford to take such desperate chances when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cure of bad colds may be had for a trifle?

PRODUCERS AND SHIPPERS UNITE FOR PROTECTION

Formation of Committee Representing Eight Western States is Outgrowth of California Growers Conference

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 14 (AP)—Formation of a committee representing eight western states for the protection of producers and shipping interests, recommendations for federal legislation to prevent strikes and approval of provisions looking toward an expansion of western transportation were outstanding developments in yesterday's sessions of the California Fruit Growers and Farmers' convention being held here.

Idaho Men Chosen
George H. Hecks, director of agriculture for California, was elected president of the committee which will represent the western states' committee. Other members announced were W. Beards, chief of the state extension bureau of California; Frank H. Spaulding of the department of public works, Washington; E. R. French, commissioner of agriculture, Washington; George Erb, president of the public utilities commission, Idaho; Atlas Canby, director of agriculture, Idaho; D. B. Johnson, vice chief of the Arizona corporation commission; Amos D. Bette, commissioner of corporations, Arizona; Judge Hayward, president of public utilities commission, Utah; and A. H. Hickey, congressman of agriculture, Utah.

Members from Oregon, Nevada and Colorado were expected to be appointed at a later date.

The committee will meet with executives of approximately 25 railroads at a meeting to be called at Chicago for the purpose of settling problems of transportation facing western farmers and fruit growers.

Representatives of the committee may also appear before the interstate commerce commission to seek concessions for western producers, Hecks announced. Other plans of the committee would be developed later, he said.

FLORIDA MAN BETRAYS BELIEF IN 'OLD WEST'

Spokane's Mayor is Asked to Locate Whether or Not 'Horse Ranch' Remains Where One Thinks

SPokane, Wash., Dec. 14 (AP)—That the "wild west" of story books and motion pictures in the minds of American citizens who have never west of the Rocky mountains has been further demonstrated by the receipt here of a letter from Edwin Terry of Miami, Florida.

Terry's letter addressed to the mayor of Spokane Falls, Washington Territory, reads:

"I am writing you concerning my brother. Do you know anything about him or his family? It is nearly 20 years since I heard he had a horse ranch out there somewhere and there is a small legacy in his favor and I would like to find him or his family. His name is G. D. Terry or Christopher Duncan Terry. Information will be gratefully or thankfully received."

(SIGNED) "EDWIN TERRY," Miami Fla.

After stating that he intended to tell Mr. Terry of Florida that the Indians were too active this winter to permit of searching the plains of eastern Washington for the lost relative, Arthur Mesban, secretary to Mayor Charles A. Fleming, said seriously that he would like to learn of G. D. Terry whereabouts.

GOVERNOR ASKS FALL TO GRANT SETTLERS AID

State Executive of Colorado Paints Dark Picture of the Plight of Farmers on Government Projects

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 14 (AP)—Painting the plight of the farmers in the Uncompahgre and High Line districts and government projects on the western slope of Colorado as most distressing, Governor Shoup has requested relief for them in a letter to Secretary of the Interior Fall.

That the Denver and Rio Grande Western railroad, owing to a strike, has been unable to supply the necessary cars for settlers to market their crops, the governor said, is one of the conditions at this time are "not only serious, but almost pathetically appalling," is pointed out in the executive's letter, referring to the Uncompahgre project.

In connection with the High Line project Governor Shoup declared: "This territory comprises three of the best counties in Colorado, naturally, and there are no better citizens any place in the world than the inhabitants of those counties, and this ruination of the farmers carried with it practically the ruination of everybody else unless the hope of relief can be held out."

SENATE BACK TRACKS ON APPROVAL FOR EXPENDITURE WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP)—Through an inadvertence the senate today passed but later recalled a bill giving the government's consent for construction at Trenton, N. J., of a bridge to commemorate the historic crossing of the Delaware river by George Washington. The bill went through first as a routine measure until senators discovered that it carried an appropriation of $400,000. Passage of the bill was rescinded and it was referred to the appropriations committee.

RAISES 140 BUBBLES OF CORN ON ONE CITY LOT LOWELL, Wyo., Dec. 13 (AP)—After seven years of careful selection of seed Roxana Lyon has raised 140 bubbles of corn on less than an acre of ground, a city lot in Lowell. The corn from a selected variety of White Flint, which matures early and has large, well-filled ears.

The Screen

Opening with today's matinee the Idaho theatre is presenting a film play made from Stewart Edward White's novel "The Gray Dawn." In this production there are 18 prominent screen artists. These individual talents are utilized to the best advantage in portraying the story characters. Robert McKim with "the unsurpassed 'wilderness' scene the last of the series."

A Christie comedy with Bobby Vernon in which over 500 people are employed, furnishes the fun, to which is added "Red Men Sport," showing the sports indulged in by Indians of all nations. "Fun From the Press" completes the big program.

Orphan.
"That's the great mistake. Parents either blindfold their children or give them free reign." These remarks coming as they do from the aristocratic father in "Why Girls Leave Home" give an insight into one of the most unusual screen plays that has ever been filmed. Chuck Full of human interest. At the Orpheum Friday and Saturday. Don't miss this treat.

SOPHS TAKE MEASURE OF SENIORS AT BASKETBALL

Last Year Men Fail to Score After First Half and Are Defeated 8 to 6

The Sophs supplied the feature in Thursday's class basketball game at the high school gym, when they outplayed the seniors by the score of 8 to 6. The first half ended with the sophs on the short end of a 4 to 1 score, with the last year men looking like certain winners. But such was not to be, as the seniors were unable to tally another point during the remainder of the game, while the sophs were piling up 7. Christy and Swin started for the soph, while Chis King proved to be the real goods for the seniors. The curtain raiser of the afternoon was between the Juniors and the freshmen, the former winning easily by the score of 21 to 14. The expectations of Larry Jenkins played a snappy game, with Ross Cole being his close second for honors. Ross has improved 60 per cent over last year, and is trying hard to place on the school team. For today's entertainment, three games are on the board with the soph on the soph and senior classes playing for the state championship. The second affair was between the freshmen and the seniors. The final game of the afternoon was between the sophs and Juniors. The first game ended at 4:10, with 15 minutes halting being played.

MAJOR LEAGUE MAGNATES STRIKE AT LATE DEALS

Owners Seek to Check Outcry Against "Buying Pennants" by Advancing Date

NEW BRUNSWICK, Dec. 14. (AP)—Major league baseball magnates today jammed the brakes on late season sales and deals and thus checked for a time at least the outcry against the "buying of pennants." This was accomplished by the passing of a rule which prevents the transferring of players from one club to another in the major leagues without written process after June 15. Hereafter such deals were possible up to August 1. Under the new regulation, the manager of a team cannot increase the playing strength of his club after June 15, except by purchase of players from the minor leagues. To offset this rule, the clubs next season will be permitted to carry over 40 players up to June 15, in place of May 15, and the additional money will enable them to experiment and ascertain the value of younger players who managers have been fastidiously storing for during the first months of the season. An effort is to increase the maximum number of players permitted on each club from 25 to 30. The National League has voted in favor of it and the American league is expected to follow. However, major league clubs hereafter will be permitted to have 35 players out under option in place of 30, but the proposal to permit a player's being held under option for three years in place of two was defeated. These were the outstanding changes in the code governing the regulation of the National and American leagues from the enactment of the law. No other changes were made but they pertain to the technical and legislative side of the game.

LEWIS DEFEATS ZWYSKO

Wrestling Champion Retains Title by Worsting Opponent in First and Third Falls

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 14. (AP)—Ed Lewis, world's heavyweight champion of the world by defeating Stanislaw Zwysko, two out of three falls tonight. By the victory, Lewis won permanent possession of the title as he has been victorious in three combats in which the trophy has at stake. Lewis pinned the soph and third falls in 21 minutes and 30 seconds, and 14 minutes and 30 seconds respectively. After Zwysko won the first fall in 41 minutes and 15 seconds.

FINAL TROPHIES IS PAID TO MEMOBY OF WANNAMAKER

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 14. (AP)—John Wannamaker, merchant, philanthropist and former postmaster general, was buried this afternoon after simple funeral services in Bethany Presbyterian church, which he founded more than half a century ago. Many men prominent in city, state and nation were among those who filled the edifice, the capacity of which is 2,400. Thousands of others stood silently in the snow outside, during the services, waiting for a glimpse of the funeral cortege. The honorary pallbearers included 150 prominent men from this and other cities. Business throughout the city was suspended for five minutes during the services. The city council adjourned, as a token of respect for the man who had taken a prominent part in many public enterprises, the Philadelphia stock exchange closed at 3 p. m. and the public schools at noon.

WALLACE JOINS IN ATTACK ON FREIGHT RATES

Secretary of Agriculture Predicts Readjustment of Industrial and Farm Productions Unless Cut is Made

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—There will be a general readjustment of industrial and agricultural productions in the United States, Secretary Wallace said today, unless freight rates are made by railroads to rates on agricultural products. Secretary Wallace of the agricultural department, testified today before the Senate commerce committee. The hearing was on an application of western states for a reduction in the rates of grain, grain products and hay.

The agricultural industry is passing through or rather is just coming out of a depression, he said. The more severe over production, Secretary Wallace said, prices on the products of farms have lower than in previous depression, but they never have been so low. The secretary said that the farmers are responsible for the farmers' predicament, but they do not do an additional burden on the consumer.

Conditions Improving—While agriculture as a whole is better off than it was a year ago in the territory covered by this case, the grain and hay producing territory, the conditions are not good. If the rates stay as they are at present, there will be a profound readjustment in agriculture and industry of this country. It will be, for instance, the most of the eastern states to increase production of these coarse grains and hay in their own territory rather than to take them from producing areas in the west.

As a matter of national economy, would not it be better if these coarse grains and hay country did become self-sustaining in the supply of these bulky commodities? The secretary said he was asked.

Passes Vote For Imports—Of course, there is an argument on both sides. Secretary Wallace responded that the present tariff rates are the best that would be to shut off the western supply by maintaining an embargo. One result of such policy would be to install a system of duties on the Atlantic coast, and the farmers with food products from Argentina, South America and the west. It would be to maintain the freedom of the market, it might mean an embargo between the east and west in tariff quotas and other devices that it would not see so far here.

KELLER QUILTS

less Mr. Keller desired to give testimony in which event he should be sworn.

Refuses to Be Sworn—Announcing that he did not have to be sworn, Keller said his statement had to do with the "conflict of this hearing" and he demanded the right to read it.

"If it your object to lecture the committee?" inquired Representative McDonald of West Virginia.

"I may," was the response.

There followed a general hubbub, during which Chairman Volstead alluded to Mr. Keller as "sit down."

you now that if I cannot be heard on this statement I will refuse to proceed any more in this hearing. Nor do I expect to present any more evidence. I am through with you unless I can present this statement."

"That is just exactly what we expected from you from the start," declared Volstead. Mr. Clerk gave a subpoena for Mr. Keller and the sergeant at arms served it on him. He involving this committee and trying to run it to hell himself."

Attorney Balston then announced that in view of the contents of the letter submitted by Mr. Keller, "there is nothing for me to do but withdraw my appearance from this committee, which I do, thanking you for your personal courtesy to me."

Representative Yates, republican, Illinois, declared that Keller's course was "grandstand play, so staged and intended." Several other members declared that the hearings should go on and that Mr. Keller should be summoned and required to tell about his knowledge concerning his charges against Mr. Daugherty.

Mr. Howland also argued that the proceedings go forward declaring that the attorney general had a right to demand it.

Finally the matter was put to a vote and the motion to continue carried, Chairman Volstead remarking that if Mr. Keller "can't produce evidence, we will go on as best we can."

and, compelled him frankly to face the fact that England was unable to pay the American debt. He also received nothing from Europe.

Seen England Overburdened—Strong points in the speech were the unfairness of the view that because England had made sacrifices to pay her way, she should be expected to pay her debts while others who had made no such sacrifice except and the warning that to saddle default in Germany might produce there all the evils of unemployment from which other countries already are suffering.

In his subsequent debate the most noteworthy contribution was by James Ramsey MacDonald the labor leader. Mr. Lloyd George also spoke but confined himself to a brief expression of complete approval of Mr. Doser Law's speech.

Looks to United States—Mr. MacDonald, on the contrary, gave a complete denunciation of the policy of the labor party. He maintained that the United States held the key and was the only country able to give Great Britain any help. He differed from the premier, however, in believing that was inadvisable to mix together the question of reparations and interrelated debts. He admitted that Germany possessed enormous industrial resources, yet she must be carefully handled or she would follow Austria into bankruptcy. He feared that both France and England

Walther Leaves—Eliette—The Walther League of the Lutheran church met Tuesday in the church for the annual election of officers. Those who will serve during the coming would need to lower their expectations from Germany very substantially.

Declaring that reparations were a curse to both those who paid and those who received, the labor leader said the real question was not what Germany was able to pay, but what the allies could afford to receive, and even if Germany could pay the full amount demanded, it would not be to the advantage of the allies to receive it.

France must remember that England had her own trade to consider, and while threats of military penalties were mixed up with economic aims, peace would be impossible.

Be sure to ask Mother and Daddy to bring you down. You will enjoy meeting him. Come down in the morning and there will not be such a crowd.

WANTED—A loan by a stranger, good looking, well educated. Just sign a note with him and you'll find out when it is due whether he can pay or not.

WOULD that appeal touch your sympathies or your pocketbook?

Why not?

Is there any material difference in endorsing notes for strangers and signing the agreements about so-called insurance without knowing exactly what it will cost? Both have liabilities likely to fall due at any time. That's why this agency sells only insurance in sound old line companies, organized and able to pay all losses that may happen.

And she told me to ask him to call the next evening and play checkers or chess with me."

Another all pretty good as it were really. Truly composed, came into the room and talked so beautifully to her. I was even more entranced. To be sure it did bother me a little that Paul laughed so much, and so loudly, and that he couldn't seem to find anything to talk about only himself, and what he had done and what he was going to do. Some way he had never seemed like that at school. And it was a pity Mother wouldn't like that.

RAIL OFFICIAL URGES GREATER CROP DIVERSITY

Assistant Agricultural Supervisor of Union Pacific Says Farmers Should Not Put "All Eggs in One Basket"

Diversity of agricultural production and the expansion and managing of production according to the present market are the great needs of farmers of Idaho to obtain good financial results and avoid losses through fluctuating prices, it was declared by O. G. Gignoux, assistant supervisor of agriculture for the Union Pacific.

Mr. Gignoux was in Twin Falls Thursday for the purpose of conferring with Dr. David Roberts of Washoula, Wla., prominent dairyman of the middle west, who is here to testify in a civil suit in the district court. Mr. Gignoux also met E. E. Drossard, county agricultural agent, and Ben H. Buzman, agent on agricultural matters.

Mr. Gignoux said that the purpose of his trip here to interview Mr. Roberts was to interest the latter in diversifying his herd or a part of it in southern Idaho. Mr. Roberts is said to have been the man who produced the country's most essential products, in all too often caught by a flooded market and low prices.

BRING-IN EXPERTS TO APPEAR IN CIVIL CASE

Suit Involving Livestock Sale is Marked by Vast Amount of Expert Testimony

The civil suit in district court brought by C. A. McMASTER against L. A. Warner and the cross complaint instituted by Mr. Warner against Mr. McMASTER is being tried in the court today. The case was started Tuesday and a daily routine of testimony and airing of legal technicalities has marked the daily history of the trial.

A number of farmers and cattle experts have been called in the trial to give their professional opinions. The first witness was Dr. David Roberts, who testified on behalf of Mr. McMASTER. He testified that the cattle in question were of a certain breed and that they were of a certain quality. He also testified that the cattle were of a certain age and that they were of a certain sex.

Two other witnesses were called in the trial to give their professional opinions. The first witness was Dr. David Roberts, who testified on behalf of Mr. McMASTER. He testified that the cattle in question were of a certain breed and that they were of a certain quality. He also testified that the cattle were of a certain age and that they were of a certain sex.

SALVATION ARMY STARTS CHRISTMAS WORK FRIDAY

Workers Will Have Kettles on Streets to Receive Funds to Provide Holiday Cheer

Passing through Christmas time without extending their usual aid to the poor would indeed be unusual for the Salvation Army, and its workers, despite their rather limited finances, will this year make no exception for their usual policy.

The money will be used to provide a Christmas tree at a place yet to be designated where the little folk can gather and enjoy the twinkling lights of the toys and presents, and in a more substantial way the workers will carry out their usual custom of taking baskets to homes of the unfortunate. The baskets will not only contain a good Christmas dinner but provisions for several days.

Two kettles will be stationed Friday and probably another will be put in service later. If any balance is found after the expenses of the Christmas charity are met it will be used in the regular winter relief work.

Many homes are in need of essential, particularly clothing, and such articles no longer needed by the fortunate will be distributed if turned in to the workers at their own quarters in the brick building. Representatives will be in the office to receive contributions of clothing from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Miss Aida Thompson has taken over the work of Mrs. W. P. Edwards as secretary of the Red Cross chapter and is handling the routine work of the office. Mrs. Edwards, who resigned from the position after several years in office, has not decided on future plans and is awaiting word from Mr. Edwards, who is now in Casper, Wyoming.

BETTER CREAM SERVED IN CAFES; TESTS SHOW

Proprietors of Two Places Fined For Low Test: Cream Quality Shows Improvement

The tests followed tests of cream from all eating places in the city made by E. E. Dooley city chemist. The Perrins and the Grill were the only two places where cream was found under the standard this month and the general average of tests was far above the November tests. Four proprietors were fined last month.

In some of the places where there was cream, being served tests were taken for solids, cream and whipping cream. In all cases the cream was found to be of the standard of 18 per cent butterfat. The tests followed tests of cream from all eating places in the city made by E. E. Dooley city chemist.

IMPROPER DANCING IS PASSE, MANAGER SAYS

Dance Hall Manager Warns Patrons Grottesque Dancing Will Not Be Tolerated

The wrestler's glide and other death struggles of modern dancing are to be discontinued at the local dance hall, Manager Sablin announced at the Danadance "hard times" party Wednesday night. Mr. Sablin said he had received complaints about improper dancing and the announcement followed an informal conference with Police Commissioner Roberts on the subject.

Mr. Sablin stated that beginning with Saturday night dancers who patronize the Danadance hall are to be warned of the nature of the dancing that will be tolerated. Hereafter dancers who violate the limits of propriety will be warned immediately and on the second offense they will be requested to leave the hall. If they refuse to cooperate in the matter, it was said.

On other certain people dancing in what they thought was the latest style, but which proved to be painfully grotesque, the manager said he was prompted on certain occasions to bring a mirror on the floor to show the dancers how they really appeared.
