Ottoman State's Representatives Give Reasons for Refusal to Concede Haven for Greek Patriarch

LAUSANNE, Dec. 16 (AP)—The American delegation today opposed a protest at the Lausanne conference against the Turkish plan to expel the Greek patriarch from Constantinople.

The dispute over the Mosul oil fields and the Mosul oil fields again by the British mandate, insisting on Great Britain's mandatory rights, never has had no progress toward settlement.

THE AMERICAN DELEGATION DECLARED that it was "intolerable" to see justice done by the Turkish government in expelling the Greek patriarch.

THE TURKISH ARGUMENT insists that the patriarchate, which up to the present has been in the Turkish view, an institution of a political rather than a religious nature, should be transferred outside of Turkey, because its attitude and policies in the past would prevent it from adapting itself to the new conditions of the expression of all political privileges of the patriarchate and the institutions surrounding it, the Turks contended.

DISCONTINUANCE of the temporal privileges of the clergy and the transfer of the patriarchate beyond the Turkish frontier, it is declared, is a necessary and inevitable consequence of a security for the interests of non-Muslim minorities.

Producers' Associations Form National Council to Handle Common Problems — Ask Little From Government

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (AP)—Permanent organization of the National Council of Farmers' Cooperative Marketing Associations, was authorized today in the closing session here of a three day conference of representatives of farmers' associations in all sections of the country. The purpose of the council will be to handle common problems of cooperative marketing bodies without conflicting with activities of other associations, and acting as their mouthpiece.

Modification of the present agricultural loan system to give farmers nine months' credit paper instead of six months, and to increase to $25,000 the maximum basis of loans from farm loan banks, was recommended in resolutions unanimously adopted. Amendment of the federal reserve law to meet the special requirements of farm credits and to permit the financing of farmers and their cooperative societies, also was favored.

Favors Local Banks.
The general policy for the council was laid down favoring the local banker as the primary reliance of the farmer for production and marketing credits.

Creation of a farm credit department in federal land banks, with capital sufficient to issue farm credit to the maximum of $100,000,000, was another project endorsed by the conference. This department would discount or purchase agricultural paper, and make loans to cooperative marketing associations and to agricultural cooperative associations to agricultural cooperative marketing associations. None of the farm relief measures now pending were endorsed by name, but the house and senate banking and currency committees were requested to incorporate the conference recommendations in general credit bills, along with acceptable features of the nine farm credit bills already before congress.

The conference in its formal declaration of policy, held that the cooperative associations should ask nothing from the federal government other than enactment of legislation to permit farmers and their organizations the same access to the federal credit system that all other industries now possess.

The interstate commerce commission was requested by the conference to institute hearings for the purpose of opening the whole question of revision of freight rates, with the view of relieving the burden borne by shippers of primary commodities.

SEES RETURN TO LOWER PRICE OF COMMODITIES

Babson Advises Investors to Acquire Bonds at Existing "Bargain" Prices; Banks Argument with Statistics

WELLESLEY MILLS, Mass., Dec. 16.—(Special to The News).—There has been much discussion of late as to whether bonds have reached the top. Roger W. Babson evidently thinks not. In discussing the situation today, he calls attention to the long swing bond cycle and appears to have a hundred and fifty years of financial history on his side.

"It is so cheap, being 'I know of it today,'" says Mr. Babson. "In the promise of $50 a year for the next twenty years, secured by a mortgage bond. Just now this $50 will buy, perhaps, a suit of clothes. In 1920, it would have paid only for the coat and one armhole of the vest. We all can remember when it would have bought two suits, as good as the one it will buy now. And nothing is more likely than that they will come back sometime within the next twenty years."

ROGER W. BABSON
"Most of us, judging from our own experience, think of 1920 commodity prices as the 'high-for-all' time. What we do not realize is that prices have been as high three times before, at intervals of about 50 years, and that between the peaks, each time they have touched levels as low as in 1860. While earlier statistics have not been compiled, there is data to suggest that this same swing from high prices to low prices and back again, over long periods might be traced far back into history."

Prices turned at the same peak in 1920. It is exactly in accord with past experience that there should be a short upward reaction at this time, from the first sharp decline of last year. But it would be against our economic history if prices did not show a long slow trend towards a level that more nearly equalize the buying power of agriculture with that of the manufacturing industry. The fact that the mass of people expect lower prices, of course, for the other fellow's goods—helps to bring them about. Psychology as a price factor may be more potent under certain conditions, than the supply of gold.

Money Goes Up as Goods Decline.
"As prices of goods go down the value of money goes up. That's only saying the same thing backwards. Then everyone who holds a contract agreeing to pay him a stipulated amount of money every year, like rent, or the interest on a bond, has something that is worth more year after year. This holds now just as the opposite was true from 1914 to 1920. Then these same long-term bonds lost value because prices were rising sharply."

"I have endeavored above," continued Mr. Babson, "to state briefly and understandingly the influences tending to cause what we know as the major bond cycle—a fundamental movement which no investor can afford to ignore."

"This typical year-end market provides a wonderful opportunity for investors who have funds and faith in the United States. The lesson of the last few weeks again is that an appraisal is accurate which neglects fundamentals. The same people who recognize the beginning of a bear market that month are certain that things are going up today. But the fundamental situation has remained the same as three months ago. When everybody wishes to sell is the time that informed buyers carefully pick good bonds off the bargain counter."

Business Back to Normal.
Increasing stock market activity and Christmas buying have worked together to bring business up to a normal level. The index of the Babsonchart shows general activity exactly at the normal line. This is the highest point since September, 1920. It is an encouraging sign according to Mr. Babson, who expects activity to be slightly above normal for the next four to six weeks. Things will then let down a bit according to the statistician and the foundation of fundamental conditions will be completed for the next period of prosperity.—(All Publication Rights Strictly Reserved.)

OPEN FIGHT TO PLACE SHIPPING BILL ON SHELF

Advocates of Immediate Action by Congress for Relief of Farmers Use Norris Corporation Bill as Wedge

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (AP)—Advocates of immediate action by congress for the relief of the farmer began on the senate floor today their fight to shove the administration shipping bill out of the position of advantage and put into its place the Norris bill, creating government capitalization for production to buy and sell farm produce.

A motion to lay aside the shipping measure and take up the agricultural corporation proposal was made late today by Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, chairman of the agriculture committee, and a member of the newly organized progressive bloc. Action on the motion went over until Monday, but its injection into the senate proceedings deflected immediate indication of a bitter fight.

Senator Norris' motion was followed by an announcement from Senator Jones, republican, Washington, in charge of the bill, that he intended to press his measure more vigorously next week. Senate floor debate is expected to precede the vote on the motion, which will be the first test of strength since the ship bill was taken up in the senate the first of this week.

Those behind the move count on the support of the democrats opposed to the shipping bill and of republicans who have been most insistent on early action on agricultural aid legislation.

WATERWAY SEEN AS WAY TO CUT FREIGHT RATES

Connecting Link Between Mississippi and Great Lakes Would Give Most Economical Transportation

CHICAGO, Dec. 16 (AP)—The Illinois waterway—connecting line between the Great Lakes and the Mississippi—will give the state the second lowest bulk freight transportation rate in the world, according to figures prepared by M. G. Barnes, chief engineer of the division of waterways.

Mr. Barnes, who designed the Panama canal locks and later was associated in the building of the New York state barge canal, says the huge locks planned for the new waterway, with a capacity of 8000 tons of freight at a time, will cut transportation costs 50 per cent under the New York rate. The New York canal locks can handle from 2500 to 3000 tons at each lockage.

The table prepared by Mr. Barnes shows that transportation on the big bulk freighters developed on the Great Lakes, with their 10,000 to 13,000 tons capacity, is the cheapest in the world. One dollar will carry a ton of freight 1000 miles in one of these ships, he says.

The Illinois canal will come next, the table shows, with one ton being carried 700 miles for $1. European canals, average a 500 mile haul for $1 a ton and the New York barge canal stands fourth with a 300 mile haul of one ton for $1. American railroads average 100 miles to the dollar; truck transportation covers improved highways 30 miles to the dollar; and four miles by horse and wagon, according to Mr. Barnes.

KELLY-SPRINGFIELD BANKRUPT.
SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, Dec. 16 (AP)—The Kelly-Springfield Motor Truck company of Springfield, this afternoon was placed in the hands of a receiver on application of the Bankers Trust company of New York. The trust company also asked foreclosure of a mortgage of $1,000,000. Paul A. Lewis is named receiver by the court and was authorized to borrow $250,000 to continue operation of the plant.

Fifteen Years Ago in Twin Falls

From the News File, Dec. 15, 1907.

Trees are being selected for the new townsite of Hollister. They will be planted in the spring and irrigated from a well which will be driven to the townsite at that time. The object is to give the trees a good start in order that they may present a fine appearance when the settlers begin to arrive.

Dr. J. R. Morgan, physician and surgeon, has opened an office in the Bradley building. Dr. Morgan is a graduate of the Northwestern Medical school at Chicago and comes to Twin Falls well recommended.

Frank Merrill has leased the Messer building next to the News office in which he will shortly open a first class meat market. The fixtures have been ordered and the market will be opened before the holidays. It will be known as the Independent meat market.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Swowley entertained a party of young people at a whist party Monday night. Mrs. Edward Larson won the lady's prize and Morgan Heap the gentleman's.

A reception was held at the Christian church Wednesday evening for the Rev. O. Otis and wife. Mr. Otis has recently come to Twin Falls as pastor of the Christian church and the reception was given to give all an opportunity to meet him. Live at the evening refreshments were served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Brunk.

Al Jones and Henry Jones have struck another asbestos vein a short distance from the one they struck last year on their property at Goat springs. The new well spouts as strongly as the old one and does not seem to affect the flow of the latter in the least. The old well is 800 feet deep and the new one somewhat less.

Mr. Truman O. Lloyd and children, Lydia, Osborne and Walter, will leave this Sunday afternoon for Los Angeles where they will spend the rest of the winter.

Gus Johnson is installing an electric water heater and massage machine in the Tertius barber shop. It will be the first of its kind in Twin Falls. The heater has been tested and found to work nicely. Gus is undecided whether to charge by the square inch of face or by the wait hour for massage.

The Twin Falls canal system will be transferred to the settlers on January 1, 1908. A complete set of books has been prepared for the operating company and everything is in readiness for the transfer. This will be one of the most notable transfers of property in the history of Idaho, involving as it does the passing of irrigation rights costing in the aggregate $4,000,000.

Deaths

Mr. Brian L. Lotsepich.

Mrs. Emma Irene Lotsepich, age 97, 810 Harrison street, died Saturday morning at the county hospital after a illness of several weeks from peritonitis. She is survived by her husband, H. D. Lotsepich, and four children, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Lechner of Ellet, and one brother, H. G. Lechner.

The funeral will be held from the Grossman chapel Tuesday at 2 p. m., the Rev. W. H. Tolliver officiating. Mrs. Lotsepich was a member of the Royal Neighbors lodge.

Charles M. Ambrose.

Charles M. Ambrose, aged 55, 1428 Sixth avenue east, died at his home Saturday after suffering an internal complication and heart trouble for six weeks. He had been employed the past six years by the Idaho Power company.

Mr. Ambrose is survived by his wife, who lives here, and a sister in New York. He was a member of the Woodmen of the World and the lodge will have charge of the funeral services Sunday at 2:30 p. m. from the Grossman chapel.

LOYD'S HOUSE IS SEIZED.

CHICAGO, Dec. 16 (AP)—Seizure of the house and effects of William Bruce Lloyd, millionaire radical recently paroled from a prison sentence for violation of the state anti-syndicalism law to compensate the forfeited bonds of William (Big Bill) Hayward, and Henry Roth Flecher, was authorized by Federal Judge George T. Page yesterday.

MINE WORKER ENTOMBED.

CLINTON, Ind., Dec. 16 (AP)—William Davis, aged 53, of Shepardsville, a shot fire, was killed here today when he was entombed by a dust explosion that wrecked Derring mine number eight (synclastic mine). Shortly before midnight, three men were lowered into the mine by a rope and recovered Davis' body.

plete surprise, and his adversaries asserted loudly that it was brought about by the support of the Jewish deputies. Since M. Narutowicz took the oath of office anti-Semitic demonstrations have been frequent and bitter. Upon election day, December 9, he was harassed by students while women students rained his carriage with snowballs.

Anti-Semitic Tides Rise.
Throughout the past week, the riots against the Jews have been of serious character, while anti-Narutowicz parades assumed alarming proportions. The president called on the minister of the interior to resign on the grounds of incapacity and at the same time dismissed the Warsaw chief of police.

Among the eye witnesses to the shooting of President Narutowicz was William G. Max Muller, the British minister, who, overcome by emotion, fainted.

TRAGEDY SHOWS FADERBWSKI.

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (AP)—The assassination in Warsaw today of Gabriel Narutowicz, first president of Poland, was a severe shock to Ignace Jan Paderewski, noted pianist and former Polish premier, for the news was kept from him until after he had finished a concert at Carnegie hall this afternoon.

His wife showed him the headlines in the papers. Telling reporters that had the news not been withheld from him, he would have cancelled the concert, Paderewski said gravely.

Please express my absolute condemnation and regret of the act which has taken place. This is the first time in the history of Poland that a ruler has been assassinated.

The former premier then asked to be excused from further comment, saying he was exhausted. Later he cancelled a dinner engagement for tonight.

ro, but that such action did not become necessary.

Governor Olcott then asked what means Governor Allen thought would prove most effective in curbing the society, and the Kansas executive said the favored filing the names of members with state officials and refusing to grant charters to the organization. The governors were asked by Governor Olcott to sign a petition urging the adoption by congress of the McNary resolution to appropriate $3,000,000 for relief work at Arvico, Oregon, where, fire recently did great damage.

HOW CHINA ACCEPTED SHANTUNG

You may not have read carefully the account of the return of Shantung to China by Japan. If so, you missed the detail of news that should have been on the funny page, also in the political obituary column.

The Chinese flag was raised over Taioing in the presence of a thousand troops. The Japanese and Chinese representatives exchanged a few compliments and engaged a few bowties.

Chinese bandits must have a code of ethics. They received $100,000 on promising that they would refrain from violence after the Japanese departed.

MARY MARIE By Eleanor H. Porter Illustrations by R. H. Livingston

"Was that Mr. Hartshorn?" I asked, trying to keep the shake out of my voice. "Yes."

"Mr. Hartshorn," I repeated stupidly. "Yes. He came to see me about the Downer place, I went downstairs."

"He wants to rent it for next year. 'He wants to rent it for next year.' (The Downer place was no rose-embowered cottage far from the madding crowd.)

"It was for his wife and family. He's going to bring them back with him next year," explained Father. "His wife and family!"

"He has five children, I believe, and—" But I had fled to my room. After all, my recovery was rapid.

"If it might be called meeting him, he lifted his hat, bowed, said a polite nothing with his lips, and an indifferent 'Oh, some friend of Helen's,' with his eyes, and turned to a radiant blonde senior at his side.

All that day I watched him whenever opportunely offered; and I suspect that I took care that opportunity offered frequently. I was fascinated. I had never seen any one like him before.

Trill, handsome, brilliant, at perfect ease, he plainly dominated every group of which he was a part. Toward him every face was turned—yet he never seemed to know it.

I will give him credit for that! To me he did not speak again that day, am not sure that he ever looked at me. If he did there must still have been in his eyes only the "Oh, some friend of Helen's," that I had seen at the morning introduction.

I did not meet him again for nearly a year; but that did not mean that I did not hear of him. I wonder if Helen ever noticed how often I used to get her to talk of her hope and her family life; and how interested I was in her gallery of portraits on the mantel—there were two fine ones of her brother there.

Helen was very fond of her brother. I soon found that she loved to talk about him—if he had a good listener, succeeded to say the least a very good one in me.

Jerry was an artist, it seemed. He was twenty-eight years old, and already he had won a small distinction. Frisks, medals, honorably mentioned, and a special mention, showed that these Helen told me about. He told me, too, about the wonderful success he had just had with the portrait of a certain New York society woman.

And I thought, Balzac was wicked. "Alice Terry, the last year's high school girl, who is seen this week at the Orpheum Theatre in the Excelsior production for Metro of 'The Conquering Power,' could not restrain her surprise. After reading Balzac's 'Eugene Grandet' all that first of womanhood, I feel enabled through having the privilege of playing such a character on the screen."

"Why, it might have been written by a simple village priest!" she said. "It's a thing of such exquisite spiritual beauty. To me, the character of Eugene Grandet, all that first of womanhood, I feel enabled through having the privilege of playing such a character on the screen."

"CLARENCE" GENUINE COMEDY. "Clarence," the William de Mille Paramount production coming to the Idaho Theatre next Monday for three days, is the delightfully humorous story of a millionaire's squabbling family.

I knew from the minute his eyes looked into mine that whatever I had been before, I was now certainly no more. "Oh, some friend of Helen's," I was (so his eyes said) "a deceivingly pretty girl and one well worth cultivating." Whereupon he began, at once to do the "cultivating."

In less than thirty-six hours I was caught up in the whirlwind of his wooing, and would not have escaped if I could.

When I went back to college he held my promise that if he could gain the consent of Father and Mother, he might put the engagement ring on my finger.

Back at college, alone in my own room, I drew a long breath, and began to think. It was the first chance I had had, for even Helen now had become Jerry—by reflection.

The more I thought, the more frightened, dismayed, and despairing I became. In the clear light of calm, sane reasoning, it was all so absurd, so impossible! What could I have been thinking of? I must forget Jerry.

I pictured him in Andersonville, in my own home. I tried to picture him talking to Father, to Mother.

Ah, what had Jerry do with learned treatises on stars, or with the humdrum, everyday life of a stupid, small town? For that matter, what had Father and Mother to do with dancing and motorcars and painting society queens' portraits? Nothing.

Plainly, even if Jerry, for the sake of the daughter, liked Father and Mother, Father and Mother certainly would not like Jerry. That was certain.

Of course I cried myself to sleep that night. That was to be expected. Jerry was the world; and the world was lost. There was nothing left except, perhaps, a few remaining and pieces, scattered with the coming—excepting, of course, Father and Mother. But one could not always have one's father and mother. There would come a time when—

Jerry's letter came the next day—by special delivery. He had rung straight home from the station and begun to write to me. (How like Jerry that was—particularly the special delivery stamp!) The most of his letter, aside from the usual form's rhetoric, had to do with plans for the summer—what we would do together at the Westons' summer cottage in Newport. He said he should ring up to Andersonville, early—very early; just as soon as I was back from college. In fact, so that he might meet Father and Mother, and put that ring on—

WRIGHT STORE TO MOVE INTO ELKS-BUILDING

Well-Known Local Establishment to Vacate the Present Quarters About February First for New Location.

A business deal of considerable local interest was transacted Saturday with the closing of negotiations whereby W. H. Wright & Sons Co. will, about February 1, vacate their present quarters on Main street and move into the new Elks' building on Shoshone street north.

While the move is understood to have been under consideration for some time the final signing of the lease was delayed until the return of C. E. Wright from Ocala, a day or so ago. With the announcement of the move Mr. Wright also stated that his firm has purchased the Jones store in Pocatello and will take possession at once. This, with the Idaho Falls store, gives the firm three main branch installations in the Ogden store in Idaho.

The amount of floor space in the new quarters will equal approximately twice the space of the present quarters, with basement extending beneath the sidewalk on one side. New fixtures will be put in throughout and it is hoped to get into the new quarters shortly after the first of the year.

Are Here to Stay

W. H. Wright & Son Co. are in Idaho to stay, it said C. E. Wright Saturday, "and our move into the new location may be taken as evidence of our confidence in southern Idaho and our faith in the future of Twin Falls. The expansion of our business brought about by the move is in line with our wishes for some time past and on my own part is the consummation of a long cherished hope. We have long felt that our present quarters were inadequate to our needs and the new location gives us the additional space necessary to the carrying out of our plans for a department store equal to any in the section. We are glad to be here in the future of Twin Falls and to keep pace with the future development of southern Idaho."
