OKLAHOMA, Dec. 30 (AP)—Chief of Police Fred Harris left here at noon today to investigate the scene of an alleged attempt to wreck a passenger train on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad, the account of which circulated the widely world-shaking story of three bandits, alleged to be the perpetrators of a warfarer, were declared to have bound the inspector on the rails and left him to die.

The story was told to the chief by O. B. Cook, a carpenter, who was involved on the train which it was believed the bandits were attempting to wreck...

Left on Rails to Die Soon the sound of hammering caused him to follow the train and he found the inspector attempting to escape a rail. Chief Harris quoted Cook as saying he remembered with the men whom they attacked him, took his rifle and pistol and ran across the track...

HERRIN HORROR STORY IS TOLD BY SURVIVORS

Two Out of Five Men on Trial for Murder are Identified as Members of Murder Gang in Illinois Mine District

MARION, Ill., Dec. 20 (AP)—Peter Hiller and Otis Clark, two of the five defendants on trial charged with murder in connection with the Herrin riots, were pointed out in court by two of the four survivors who took the witness stand today.

Those summoned who occupied the stand most of the day, were William Cairnes, John Shoemaker, James and Robert Officer, the latter a University of Pennsylvania graduate and a bookkeeper at the "strip" mine where the riot occurred which resulted in the deaths of 29 non-union miners. The first three were guards at the mine.

With Hands Above Heads
Cairnes testified that the 44 men in the mine surrendered under a white flag between 5:30 and 6 o'clock the morning of June 22 and were marched out that night with their hands above their heads, after being told that they would not be harmed. He said he had seen G. K. McDowell, the crippled superintendent of the mine, hit away by Otis Clark, who had a gun, and another man.

"We were marched on until we came to a barbed wire fence," he said, "and some one shouted 'All men with guns line up to the right,' and then someone else cried 'Now you fellows stop!'"

When the firing started, he said he was wounded and lying face down in the snow. Cairnes said he saw Peter Hiller come up to another wounded man who was leaning against a tree and shot him into the air after shouting "You great big —, can't we kill you!"

Shots Wounded Men
The witness said he saw another man approach John Shoemaker, assistant superintendent at the mine, who was lying wounded in the field, and say: "Holler that midnight Monday night gun." Cairnes declared the speaker then drew a pistol and blew Shoemaker's head off.

The witness said he was picked up and taken to a hospital by Sheriff Thaxton about an hour later.

O'Rourke told of being shot twice at the scene of the riot, but he said he was not wounded and was taken to the city where all six were shot down in the road.

The witness said he remembered praying for any Christian in the crowd to bring him water and in the name of his mother, for some one to notify her of his fate. He said some one knelt over him and washed his throat with a pocket knife. O'Rourke was picked up with seven bullet wounds in his body.

Depicts Blood Lust
Jones testified that he had raised a white flag at the order of McDowell and was told by the leader of the attackers that those in the mine would be taken away out of the country.

He told of the march from the mine while some one in the crowd shouted: "Kill them," but that others cried: "We are going to put them on a train and get them out of here. They've had enough already." He quoted Otis Clark as saying: "We're going through with this if I have to boot them all myself."

Jones said that when the firing at the fence started he leaped over, ran toward the fence, later taking a train for Chicago, after being given refuge by a farmer.

A. T. Norman, a Herrin hardware dealer, testified that on the afternoon of June 21 a crowd of men and boys came into his store and got three guns and asked him to charge them to the Herrin miners' store. Norman said he refused and asked for names and they gave two and said they wanted 100 guns in a hurry.

Miss Elizabeth Salzer
A. A. Moley, another hardware dealer of Marion, testified that 15 or 20 men came into his store the afternoon of June 21 and asked for three guns and had them charged to the Herrin local and told him if he wanted verification to call up Hugh Willis of Will Davis, mine officials.

Robert Herron, chief of police of Herrin, who, one of the witnesses testified, was a spectator of the death march through the town, announced his resignation today.

ADVOCATES IMPOSITION OF

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 20 (AP)—Making a monkey of one's self in daily exercise will insure longevity, according to C. J. Geddis, Chicago, secretary of the National Association of Osteopaths, speaking here tonight. Mr. Geddis suggested taking exercises corresponding with the activities of the monkey, such as swinging the head lower than the body, to acquire and maintain health. He added that human beings should live 100 years.

President Harding and other government officials by the executives of 14 states during their visit to Washington indicated a "surprisingly good" opinion of Attorney General Daugherty declared yesterday. In every section where co-operation exists between the federal and state authorities, he said, a decided improvement has resulted and "booze and bootleggers are growing scarce."

There will remain in certain areas a general population, the attorney-general said, who aggravated situations with numerous violations, but he predicted a clearing up of these spots.

BRUNEN CASE JURY FREE WIDOW; HOLD BROTHER

Verdict Conforms to Court's Charge that Evidence of Murder Against Woman is Meagre
MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., Dec. 20 (AP)—Mrs. Doris Brunen tonight was acquitted and her brother, Harry C. Mohr, was found guilty of murder in the first degree in connection with the slaying of the former's husband, "Boss" John Brunen, circus owner. The jury recommended that Mohr be sentenced to life imprisonment.

Charles M. Powell, confessed slayer, he shot Brunen at his home in Riverside, N. J., on March 10 at the instigation of Mrs. Brunen and Mohr. Justice Kallech in charging the jury declared the evidence against Mrs. Brunen seemed very meagre. He said he heard no proof that Mrs. Brunen, Powell and Mohr had conspired together.

Powell's testimony against the showman's widow, he said, "would be rather dangerous to take too seriously," while that of Hazel Brunen, the wife of the slayer, had little weight as evidence against Mrs. Brunen.

SALT CREEK OIL ON PARITY WITH OTHER REGIONS

Secretary Fall Announces Acceptance of Bid of Purchasing Agency for Royalty Acquiring to Government

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20 (AP)—Acceptance of a bid of the Sinclair Oil Purchasing Agency for purchase of all royalty oils accruing to the government in the next five years from the Salt Creek field in Wyoming was announced today by Secretary Fall of the department of the interior. This transaction, he said, marks the successful completion of his program to place Salt Creek crude oil on a parity with similar oils from the mid-continent field and will bring the government 70 to 80 cents more per barrel than the royalty oil that was received under a contract with the shipping board.

Wipes Out Differential

The price differential between the two fields, which has averaged 67 cents a barrel for the last five years and now amounts to 70 cents a barrel, will be less than 37 degrees gravity and 90 cents a barrel on oil of better than 27; is wiped out as far as the government is concerned by the Sinclair oil purchaser, Mr. Fall declared. The price range in the mid-continent field is from $1.40 to $1.60 a barrel and at the present rate of production the government receives 9,000 barrels of royalty oil daily from the Salt Creek field. This oil will be sold at mid-continent prices to the Sinclair company and the proceeds divided, as provided by law, 52 1/2 per cent going to the reclamation service, 37 1/2 per cent to the state of Wyoming, and 10 per cent to the United States treasury. The secretary said he expected the production from the field to increase materially during the life of the contract.

Building Pipe Lines

It is expected by interior department officials that the oil purchased by the Sinclair company will be stored in the Salt Creek field until completion by the company of a 40,000 barrel pipeline to connect the field with the pipeline to Chicago. Construction of the new line is to be started within sixty days. This arrangement, according to engineers of the interior department, virtually will join the Salt Creek and Mid-continent fields and place them on an even basis for comparison.

The contract with the Sinclair company, according to Secretary Fall, establishes the precedent of buying crude oil of superior quality instead of its bulk purchase of quality inferior.

Under the contract, the price varies with the specific gravity of the oil purchased. The higher price, and interior department officials predicted that this basis soon would be standard in the mid-continent and Wyoming fields.

Thirteen firms competed for the contract. The Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing company was described as one of the largest purchasers of crude oil in the mid-continent field and the acceptance of its bid was said to mark its entry into the Wyoming field on a large scale.

Advances Oil Creek Oil

Bole of royalty oil for each well was the policy adopted by Secretary Fall upon the completion of his contract with the United States Shipping Board to furnish royalty oil at the posted field price and to advance to the rate of 70 and 80 cents a barrel for Salt Creek oil, it has resulted in a one dollar advance for royalty oil from the Salt Creek field in Montana. This advance was awarded a few days ago to the Lewistown Oil and Refining company of Lewistown, Mont. Before either contract was awarded the bids were discussed with congressional delegations from the states interested.

Construction of the pipe line from the Salt Creek field to a junction with the Sinclair line from the Mid-continent field it was explained, is part of an agreement made between the interior department, the Sinclair department and Mammoth Oil company last April, but the capacity of the line will be 40,000 barrels daily, instead of 25,000 barrels as originally planned.

It will be a common carrier, interior department officials added, and is expected to provide an outlet for the amount of independent oil from Wyoming.

GOVERNMENT LENDS AID TO WAR VICTIMS HERE

Nation Seeks to Make Restitution to Its Crippled Defenders Through Rehabilitation Activities

(By Homer Hasdoun of Boise) Supervising Officer, Agricultural Training Department, U. S. Veterans' Bureau.

Just a few miles from Twin Falls a young man engaged in the nation's most important business—farming. He appears not extremely unusual and meets his duties day by day with an American's spirit, a smile and a good hope. Few really know what he represents, but in the eyes of the father and the world of his making this chap, with the mangled hand is one of the unknown band of boys who sleep in Arlington, and of the boys who stayed "over there."

Known four years ago only by a number of his veterans of the world war in vocational training under the Veterans' Bureau and is only one of 24 in Twin Falls county engaged daily in studying under Uncle Sam. They are all learning farming methods; some are studying under actual business conditions to become bookkeepers, auto mechanics and allied trades, and several are photographers, others are learning to be farmers, seed raisers, dairymen, poultrymen and several other trades and professions at the expense of the government.

All of them are men who served in the American army and came back home suffering from wounds or afflictions caused by bursting high explosive shells, rifles and machine guns, heat trouble, internal injuries, chronic bronchitis or tuberculosis developing from gases or other causes. These men spend about $4,000 every month in Twin Falls, county from training pay and profits.

A great number of the young men who entered the service in good physical condition at the outbreak of the war returned to civil life, with embarrassing physical handicaps. Many of them are without means or sufficient means to support themselves. These men are now being trained for new vocations by Uncle Sam's great school, the U. S. Veterans' Bureau.

In August, 1921, by act of Congress, the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, that part of the United States public health service which has to do with the care of disabled war veterans, and that part of the Federal Board for Vocational Education which has to do with the rehabilitation of disabled war veterans, combined into one, the organization the Veterans Bureau.

This Bureau functions in many ways. It provides government insurance for disabled veterans at a minimum cost; hospitalizes ex-service men who are in need of medical or surgical attention; it receives, examines and passes on claims submitted by veterans against the government for health and bodily impairment of service origin. Hundreds of veterans returning to civil life and finding their lives, industry and commerce had become exorbitantly congested and inflated as a result of the war turned their attention toward farming.

A chance for a home and an opportunity to build up their own business to the point of economic independence powerfully attracted men to the farm. Throughout the state of Idaho, like other sections of the United States, disabled veterans are receiving instruction, guidance and counsel along their chosen lines of farming.

Many of the specialties in agriculture require a short period of preliminary training, either in a state college of agriculture or if the veteran is to be trained in a practical way, the training is arranged for with some practical and successful farmer who is engaging in that special line of agriculture. The ex-service man will, therefore, obtain the preliminary instruction before he enters project training on his own or a rented farm where he will put in practice the instruction and training already received. Many successful farmers, prompted by their spirit of patriotism and desire to aid the disabled veterans in any way possible have given their services and offered the facilities at their command absolutely without cost, either to the government or to the ex-soldier, in order that the veteran may reach his desired goal.

It is soon as the trainee has reached the stage of his training when he may capably undertake the management of a small farm he is allowed project training on a farm he may own or he is able to obtain on a long time lease. By such an arrangement the latent abilities of the disabled veteran are uncovered and developed so that he is very happily and very successfully rehabilitated in civil life.

In this connection the bureau is greatly indebted to the many county agricultural agents over the state in counties where veterans are in training and to those farmers who have given their time and made facilities possible for rehabilitation work.

Trainers draw training pay which is a liberal allowance and is sufficient for subsistence only. Other wise the men finance themselves, although in some cases the government furnishes some farm equipment and machinery.

ASKS FUND FOR ASTORIA

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20 (AP)—The sum of $300,000 would be made available for the dredging and deepening of Astoria harbor and the Columbia river at Astoria, Oregon, under a reclamation bill introduced today by Senator McNary, republican, Oregon. The appropriation would be made available from the rivers and harbors set fund.

the disability, the man's preference, and the opportunity for employment after training.

Many ask "When is a man rehabilitated?" He is rehabilitated when he is returned to suitable employment pursuing the vocation he best fits and with earning power and opportunity for advancement equivalent to his pre-war economic status.

All men in training must have a counselor who is also the adviser and instructor. In many trades and industries he is the man under whom the trainee is learning. In agriculture the counselor is the county agricultural agent. In this county E. E. Brown, in the agricultural department of the bureau, are required to report to the county agent at specified times for instruction, lessons and advice. The county agent also visits the farm where the men are under training.

Final arrangements are being made to install a special training agent here about January 1 to assist Mr. Brown. This man will instruct men in Gooding, Jerome and Cassia counties from his Twin Falls office.

Veterans are still entitled to care and treatment under government dentists and physicians. Dr. McAttee is the local government dentist and Dr. Passer is the physician.

OPPORTUNITY IS GIVEN ARBUCKLE

Comedian Has Job and May Work at It; Come Back Depends Upon Public Attitude

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 20 (AP)—How do you like the picture comedian who has a job in the picture industry now work at it. Whether he comes back to the place he once counted now is up to the American people, is the gist of a series of statements given out here today by Will H. Hays, chief of the motion picture industry, when he was asked by the company that formerly distributed the Arbuckle comedies, Joseph Schenck, producer who will employ Arbuckle, and the comedian himself.

Mr. Hays requested the producers to withdraw the Arbuckle films and to make no more of them last April. He said that action after Arbuckle had been tried three on a charge of manslaughter arising from the death in San Francisco of Miss Virginia Rippert, the actress. But that Arbuckle had been quietly taking an occasional trip but keeping out of the public eye.

Mr. Arbuckle announced today he saw no reason why Arbuckle should not be permitted to go back to work if he wished to do so. Mr. Hays said Arbuckle had been tried and acquitted; that he believed every man was entitled to a chance to redeem himself and that he did not wish to stand in Arbuckle way. He made it plain that neither Arbuckle nor Arbuckle's picture company had any voice in the matter.

Mr. Arbuckle declined to comment on the new conditions other than to say he would accept the chance and try to improve it. Neither would his employer. Mr. Schenck, comment on his plans. The only comment on the announcement in the matter other than that of Mr. Hays came from Mr. Lasky, who said his firm had no intention of exhibiting Arbuckle films on the market now.

WHAT OTHERS IS OBSCURE? WENATCHEE, Wash. Dec. 20 (AP)—Picture showing Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle will not be permitted to be exhibited in Wenatchee, according to George Schenck, chairman of the motion picture censoring committee of the city council. Schenck's announcement was made late this afternoon after a special meeting of the censoring committee had been held to discuss the matter.

TIGER IS RETICENT ON MISSION TO NEW WORLD

Clemenceau Returning to France, After Specta Reaches England and Questioned About Success of Trip

PARIS, Dec. 20 (AP)—Georges Clemenceau, France's time premier, returned to Paris today from a 38 day trip to the United States. He brought back with him what he termed the happy remembrance that the people of America still remember France and also two boxes of grape fruit, which he declared would contribute to his longevity.

Although he seemed to be in a rarely good, unstarred mood, nevertheless close friends affected to see evidences that his strenuous tour in the United States had left its impression upon him.

No official welcome awaited Clemenceau, either at Havre, where he landed this morning from the steamer, or in Paris, where he was greeted by friends, however, greeted him at Havre and also in Paris. Official notices of his return was lacking due to his unexpressed wish.

The "tiger" when asked concerning his views of what had been accomplished during the tour took refuge behind the language master he so well knows how to assume when occasion requires. He indicated by a few casual phrases that if there was any import to his visit the American people would get it. "I've got sense enough," he declared.

SENATOR AIDS MOVEMENT FOR PARK AT BELL'S HALF ACRE

Harding, which would give the land to Natrona county. The area was withdrawn from homestead entry last summer owing to efforts of the Casper Chamber of Commerce.

IDAHO "Anna Ascends" is not a story of the air, as some may think from the title. Nor does "Anna Ascend" ascend like "Little Eva" in "Uncle Tom's Cabin." "Anna Ascend" has the role of a Syrian immigrant girl, who is fired by ambition to be a great writer. In America she meets with delightful romance and adventure. The picture, a Paramount, directed by Victor Fleming, comes to the Idaho theatre on Friday and Saturday. David Powell, Nita Naldi and Robert Ellis are in the supporting cast.

SEEK BASIS FOR KELLER CHARGE

Committeemen Yield to Chairman's Insistence on Thorough Probe of Impeachment

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20, (AP)—Public hearings on the impeachment charges brought against Attorney General Clegg probably will not be made before the house impeachment committee, which is expected to report to the house that it found no evidence on which to base an impeachment proceeding. The report will not be made, however, until after the Christmas holidays because of the absence of members from Washington during that time.

When the committee adjourned to-night after two long sessions, there remained to be heard only a half dozen witnesses. These are officials of the department of justice who will be questioned concerning allegations in the specifications drawn by Representative Keller, republican, Minnesota, which had not been touched upon at the time Mr. Keller withdrew from the case.

Volunteered Testimony
Examination of the department of officers began late today over the protest of several committeemen, who insisted that the attorney-general should not be asked to offer witnesses to testify concerning charges in support of which no evidence had been presented. Chairman Volstead said, however, that the committee ought to go into all of the charges, in an effort to satisfy itself as far as might be possible as to whether there was a basis for the charges.

Before the line of inquiry was opened, Representative Woodruff, republican, Michigan, said before the committee evidence which he contended showed "unnecessary delay" by the department of justice in bringing suit against the Wright-Martin Aircraft corporation for the $3,501,715 growing out of alleged over-payment of war claims. Assistant Attorney-General Seymour announced that suit for the recovery of this amount soon will be filed and Colonel Guy D. Goff, former assistant attorney general, who has had charge of the case, denied the charge of unnecessary delay.

INDIANA BANK IS AGAIN VISITED BY ROBBER BAND

Greene, Elmer One of Three Bandits Disguised as Woman, Who Hold UP Institution and Escape With $5,000

DYER, Ind., Dec. 20, (AP)—Three bandits this afternoon held up the First National Bank of Dyer and escaped with $5,000.

One bandit, who was dressed as a woman, took the money from the cashier's window, and apparently mortally wounded her. The companion threw him into their automobile and fled west on the Lincoln Highway.

The bank was robbed a year ago in the same manner by bandits who got away with $12,500.

William Gettler, a bookkeeper, was alone in the bank at three p. m. today when the man in woman's clothes entered and covered him with a revolver, then signalled to the other two, who came in and took all the money in the vault.

The bandit, dressed in woman's clothing entered the bank alone, according to the bookkeeper, and wearing a heavy veil.

Approaching the cashier's window, where Gettler was standing, the supposed woman thrust a revolver through the aperture, ordered the bookkeeper in a gruff voice not to move, and signalled the two men waiting outside to come in. There were no customers in the bank at the time. The "woman" then handed to Gettler $5,000 in notes and currency into a traveling bag.

DISCOVER SHORTAGE IN CHICAGO NATIONAL BANK

Examiners Uncover Deficiency of $70,000 in City's Second Largest Banking Institution

CHICAGO, Dec. 20 (AP)—National bank examiners, it was announced this afternoon, have discovered a shortage of $70,000 in the First National bank of Chicago, the second largest banking institution in the city.

Scott Anderson, manager of the bank's clearing department, was arrested on a warrant obtained by B. E. Newhall, cashier of the bank.

Newhall said the shortage had been discovered by the bank's auditing department.

The bank is fully protected by insurance, he said.

Anderson, 35 years old, had been employed in the bank for 20 years, starting as a messenger and rising to the post of United States marshal who arrested Anderson said he admitted taking the money.

DRY NAVY CLAIMS VICTORY

Only Three Out of Hundreds of Alleged Rum Runners Off Three-Mile Limit Ready to Storm New York

NEW YORK, Dec. 20 (AP)—The dry navy today claimed to have won its battle with the fleet of rum runners that retreated out from the Bahamas to storm New York.

Ten days ago prohibition officials reported that from 100 to 200 craft of various sizes were being fitted out for Long Island shores ready to flood the city with illicit whisky cheer.

But only three of the fleet are said to be looting off the three-mile limit, and the dry navy was moving itself to repel any dramatic attempt to run the blockade at the last minute.

BANDIT HUNTERS DISCOVER GLEW

Detectives Pick Up Gun Believed to Have Been Dropped by Outlaws in Raid

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 20, (AP)—Detectives investigating Monday's $200,000 federal reserve bank hold-up robbery, uncovered what they said was the first definite clue yet obtained, late today when they found that a shotgun, dropped by one of the bandits as they fled, had been sold in a local gun shop on December 8.

A minute description of the man who purchased the gun was given to the authorities by the proprietors of the shop, A. Kadish and J. M. Kadish. The description corresponds in a general way to the description given by witnesses of the robbery of one of the members of the quartet of bandits who staged the sensational attack. It was announced by Washington Riker, chief of detectives.

Virtually the only clue-officers working on the case have had heretofore has been the finger print found on the stock of the gun. The weapon was picked up on the pavement in front of the Denver mint where the robbers took place after the attack. It was covered with blood and it is believed that the leader of the gang, shot in the hand by mint guards as the band fled amid a hail of bullets, dropped the gun.

The shortage has been diminishing steadily since November, according to the reports.

Santa Claus Not Such a Myth in Snowbound Alaska

Fur-Clad Carriers in Reindeer Drawn Slebs Deliver Mails in Frozen Northland

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20 (AP)—Old Saint Nick, with his packed sled and harness reindeer, prancing over the country with jingling bells and dipping his way through piled snowdrifts, is not so mythical as all—for he really does exist, and may be seen here just that way.

It is in Alaska, where Uncle Sam's mails are delivered in winter by fur-clad carriers riding in reindeer drawn slebs to the tune of merry chimes. Far away places in Alaska get few deliveries of mail, but the schedule is nearly always arranged so that each reindeer camp in out-of-the-way places where the snow prevents much intercourse with the outer world gets its Christmas mail near the holidays.

The postoffice department sends out 24,000 first assistants to old Santa Claus, and although they don't wear his liver-colored suit and nutcracker boots, their gray uniforms are just as welcome along toward the last days of December.

Every day in Christmas time the postal workers the month before December 25. It is a hectic season for them to get the untold quantities of mail to those to whom they are intended.

But they do their work with a wit and a smile, say department officials who ask your help in their work by making it easy for them to deliver all the gifts by Christmas day.

MYSTERY STILL VEILS STATE TROOPS' MISSION

Louisiana Officials Guard Secret of Call on Guardsmen to Make Camp on Some of Kidnappings

MONROE, La., Dec. 20 (AP)—The purpose of the movement of a company of the Louisiana national guard into Morehouse parish by Governor John Mc. Parker yesterday afternoon, tonight continued to remain a mystery to all except a handful of officials.

The passing of the day failed to lift the mystery surrounding the mission of the troops, who are said to be in the parish to speak would say nothing. The governor, attorney general and others remained in rigid silence.

Let's look at a detachment of 25 men under command of an officer hastily departed from the camp, established in the heart of the little town of Mer Rouge. The men said they did not know where they were going. The officer would not speak.

Observers offered the opinion that the men were on their way to one of the lakes in the vicinity of Mer Rouge where, it is believed, the bodies of two men sighted down with wagon wheels, victims of hooded men, are resting.

Four detectives, working with the department of justice, are said to have spotted the location in the lake where the bodies could be found. The detectives are said to have proceeded to the removal of the detachment this afternoon.

In the event the bodies are recovered, open hearings, discussed by Governor Parker and other state officials probably will be instituted at Batroun, the parish seat.

PARIS, Dec. 20, (AP)—The council of ambassadors has sent a note to the German ambassador in Paris acknowledging the receipt of the ambassador's note concerning the attacks made at Stuttgart, Passau and Ingolstadt on officers of the allied control commission and also of the payment of indemnity demands. The council accepts the excuses offered, on the understanding that they were formally offered in the name of the Bavarian government and not in the name of the Reich. The note also contains confirmation whether certain punishments which it had been announced would be inflicted, had been carried out.

least reports that William Gow, fireman on the Bellanca, swam ashore with a life line, but did not distress from the fireman's boredom in the emergency. He remained on the tug four days with Solo, administering to him while the gale broke up their vessel and was forced to swim through the icy water to save himself after his companion died.

After being picked up by the tug Gray, which rescued the party, Gow, notwithstanding his suffering from exposure, immediately went to work as stoker of that vessel, the fireman of which it is said to have deserted his post upon learning of the fate of the Bellanca.

All efforts of the party to recover the bodies of the dead were futile, although they were sighted in the surf before the storm abated.

OUT WHERE THE SAGEBRUSH GROWS

Some folks make fun amazin' Of those big sagebrush plains — So awful barren. They say, and wbero the beat just 'Till some of the country's blain!

Don't seem to like their smeller, Sagebrush with aye, so scent; But it's sure fragrant, 'Tis perfume to the healthy nose.

They say they're God's 'Orankee, These plains out in the west; They know somethin' 'bout 'em, Of gorgeous colorin' that shows in birds and flowers. Mistakein' They certainly are.

The BLIND MAN'S EYES BY WILLIAM MACHARG & EDWIN BALMER Illustrations by R.H. Livingstone

A rich but universally respected western man is murdered in his home. The crime is accomplished with such stealth that even the chauffeur is not aware of it.

She stared at him with only pride then; she was proud of his strength, of his ability to fight, of the power she knew he possessed to force his way against opposition.

"No matter what it costs," she realized then that what he was feeling was very grave.

"Corn," he said, "I didn't come to ask your advice without putting this squarely to you. If I go into this fight, I shall be not only an opponent to some of my present friends; I shall be a threat to them—something they may think it necessary to remove."

"Should that keep me from going?" she hesitated. He went on: "Would you have me afraid to do a thing that ought to be done, Corn?"

"No," she said; "I would not." "All right, then. That's all I had to know now. The young man he is coming to see me tonight, Corn. Probably his downstairs. I'll tell you all I can after I've talked with him."

Turning to Kondo, he ordered his car. Kondo transmitted the order and brought Warden's coat and cap; then Kondo opened the house door for him and the door of the limousine, which had been brought under the porte-cochere.

CHAPTER I A Plinester Die

Gabriel Warden—capitalist, railroad director, owner of mines and timber lands, at twenty a copper-watcher, first sight of the magnificent

Warden turned suddenly and pressed the bell to call a servant. Kondo entered the room; he noticed that Warden's hand, which was still holding the watch before him, was shaking.

"A young man who may, or may not, give me name, but I will see in a few moments. He will say he called by appointment. Take him at once to my smoking room, and I will see him there. I am going to Mrs. Warden's room now on the stairs. Kondo noticed, still absently holding his watch in his hand.

Warden controlled his nervousness before entering his wife's room. She talked with him calmly for a moment or so before she came and away her maid. When they were alone, she suddenly saw that he had come to her to discuss some serious subject.

"Corn," he said, when he had closed the door after the maid, "I want your advice on a business question."

"I had decided it." He looked again at his watch. "I had quite decided it; but now—I may feel that I haven't the right to decide entirely for myself."

Warden's wife for the first time felt alarmed. "You mean it affects me directly?" He seized both her hands in his and held her before him.

"Corn," he said, "what would you have me do if you knew I had found out that a young man—a man who, four or five years ago, had as much to live for as any man might—had been snatched in every right by men who are my friends? Would you have me fight the outfit for him? Or would you have me—lie down?"

man of less than medium height, broad-shouldered, and wearing a mackintosh, came to the curb and spoke to Warden. Corby did not notice the man until Warden looked directed Corby to return home.

PAY ADVANCE ON BEET CONTRACTS

Cheeks Totalling $23,000.00 Paid to Growers by Factory on Borrowed Funds

An advance payment of $23,000 was distributed to beet growers Wednesday by the Twin Falls branch of the American Sugar Company. A second installment payment under contract becomes due February 1, the amount of which will be determined by volume of sugar sold and prices received for sugar until that date.

A statement from Henry H. Bolapp, president, which accompanies each payment states: "Believing that our beet growers are well and profitably maintained for the next few months, and being convinced that financial conditions in our section of the country and in farming communities in particular warrant special consideration at this time, we have arranged to borrow funds sufficient to make the growers an advanced payment of $23,000, or 75 cents per ton of beets delivered."

"Since less than one-fourth of the sugar manufactured in the last campaign has been sold, the beet growers' final realization and the ultimate payments to be received by the growers, but it is believed that the payment made in full within the total additional price to be paid for beets under the contract. You will be kept advised from time to time of sugar sales and prices realized therefor."

HIGHWAY BOARD APPEALS FROM AUDITOR'S REPORT

Ask Court to Pass on Settlement Between Districts; Oppose Crumher; Valuation

John W. Graham attorney for the Twin Falls highway district, Wednesday filed an appeal in district court on behalf of the district from the joint report of the Twin Falls and Buhl highway districts. The appeal is for the formation of the last named district. The report of the board was filed and discussed at the meeting of the Twin Falls board last Tuesday.

The local board found the report of the board unsatisfactory principally because of the fact that the rock was purchased at a price which was not the Twin Falls organization was appraised at its original value, less a small annual depreciation. The valuation was set far too high, members of the highway board believed, and should have been made on the present value of the crusher, he said.

ROTARIANS HEAR TALKS ON CONDITIONS IN IDAHO

President O. E. Frasier of Technical Institute, and A. L. Swim Are Speakers

President Charles H. Frasier of the Pocatello Tech, was a guest of the Twin Falls Rotary club at its regular Wednesday luncheon and in a brief address commented in interesting fashion upon general conditions and prospects in southern Idaho.

Arthur L. Swim delivered one of a series of occupational addresses, taking for his topic farm loans, and treating the subject from a variety of angles.

Mr. Swim dwelt at some length on the state of recent reports with respect to general land indebtedness, declaring that many of these were the grossest kind of exaggeration. With respect to published statements that the land indebtedness in this county amounted to something like $128,000 per acre he stated that if every acre of land in the country were mortgaged at the full average mortgage limit, $50.00 per acre and this sum added to the entire land indebtedness, the total would fall far short of $128,000 per acre.

FIVE BOYS MUST SERVE TERMS AT ST. ANTHONY

Local Youth Admit Robbery and Auto Stolen After Two Hour Hearing; Claim Money Was Moxie

The five boys charged with stealing an automobile, entering a store and bringing into store at Buhl Saturday night were ordered sent to the state industrial school at St. Anthony after a hearing of two hours Wednesday before Judge C. P. Howell, in which each of the boys confessed to the charges.

They will leave Thursday morning in charge of juvenile officer, John R. Ault.

The mother and sister of one of the boys appealed to the authorities on Wednesday evening in behalf of her son, but the defendant remained unchanged and efforts of Attorney Homer C. Mills, representing the parents of another of the boys, also proved unavailing.

The boys appeared rather unconcerned after the trial. They claimed the desire for money was the motive for their delinquent activities.

Their names are Everett C. Streeter, Glenn Miller, David Harkness, Washington Philp and Bernice Mills.
