TWIN FALLS, IDAHO, WEDNESDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 27, 1923

FRANCE WINS VICTORY ON REPARATION

Commission Votes, 3 to 1, to Declare Germany in Default of Wood Deliveries; England Votes No.

PARIS, Dec. 26 (AP)—France gained an important victory in the latest reparations commission today when the commission, by a vote of 3 to 1, declared Germany in voluntary default of her wood deliveries for 1923.

France is considered to have scored an important point by reason of the fact that the decision of the commission was arrived at by a majority vote.

Germany has carried out more than 50 per cent of the schedule of wood deliveries for this year. When the German reparations commission refused to become operative again, they announced that Germany had been unable to deliver more than she had agreed that the government for 1923 must be practically nil.

There was much comment tonight over the fact that the vote had declined to vote in favor of declaring Germany in default, in view of the approaching meeting of the premier.

STIFF PENALTY PLAN FOR CURB OF MONOPOLIES

Australian Government to Repeal Profiteering Act Over Protest of Labor and Replace it with Drastic Law.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Dec. 26 (AP)—The Australian government is contemplating the expressed intention of the government to repeal the profiteering act, a measure of the government's intention to be intended to save workers from unduly high prices.

The complaints contend that the repeal of the act will leave the profiteers at the mercy of the profiteers.

The Nationalist government, however, proposes to go even further than the profiteers in this matter, it has been announced, and while the profiteering act will be repealed, it will in its stead be replaced by a law providing for the repression of harmful monopolies and restraints of trade.

The new bill which this party proposes is that any person guilty of an offense he monopolizes, or attempts to monopolize the production or manufacture, trade or commerce or any commodity or article of commerce or the supply of any services. Every contract made in contravention of this provision would be void and the offender would be liable to a fine of 500 pounds or a term of imprisonment not exceeding 12 months or both.

GLOOM IS LIFTED FROM MME. BERNHARDT'S HOME

Remarkable Improvement Is Shown in Condition of Famous Actress Brought to Death's Door by Illness

PARIS, Dec. 26 (AP)—The household of Sarah Bernhardt has brilliant news to tell. Her remarkable improvement shown in the condition of the famous actress. The deep gloom which had settled over upon the family since she was almost entirely dispelled by the continued optimism of the doctors, who have permitted Miss Bernhardt to get up and walk around her room twice during the last 24 hours.

Mme. Bernhardt had Christmas dinner at her home with her family and a few intimate friends. She ate a small piece of turkey and talked cheerfully and happily of her return to the stage. She is now expected to believe, she said, that she would be spared to act ten years more. She confided to several friends that she expected to appear in the new Gaiety play that was about to be produced when she was stricken, within three weeks.

The physicians smiled when Madame Bernhardt indulged in this three weeks talk, merely saying "perhaps." They frankly stated, on the other hand, that "she could not be expected to appear in public." There are not lacking, indeed, those who think Bernhardt may never act again.

LUXURIES IMPORTS GROW

Increasing Extravagance of Japanese People Is Denoted in Records of Foreign Trade

TOKIO, Dec. 26 (AP)—The import of articles of luxury and of table luxuries shows an increase in Japan and is considered as denoting the increasing extravagance of the Japanese people. This importation in 1918 amounted to $247,000,000 yen. In 1921 it reached 342,000,000 yen and for the first six months of this year amounted to $1,002,000,000 yen. The total of table luxuries for 1918 was 1,433,000 yen; for 1921, 6,615,000 yen and 5,651,000 yen for the first eight months of this year.

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 26 (AP)—Records for the last six months of 1922 showed the number of violations of the probation law in the northern district of Georgia to be far in excess of any previous half year period in the history of the district, according to a report made to the Georgia Board of Probation by Chief W. Hager, federal district attorney. The report disclosed that approximately 800 cases of probation were in the district for the federal court term beginning January 8, next.

WHOLESALE SHAKEUP IN CARDINALS IN PROSPECT

St. Louis Club's Manager Knops Horary for Sale or Trade

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 26 (AP)—Brook Ricker, manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, plans a wholesale shakeup in his team before the beginning of the 1923 season, announcing that every member of his club, with the exception of Second Baseman Rogers Hornsby, home run "king," and leading batter of the National League and the catching staff, were on the market either for sale or trade.

Ricker is in need of pitchers, the Cardinals did not declare his intention of buying and trading players in order to build up the hurling staff, which for several seasons has been the club's weakest point.

Ricker has signed up a dozen recruit twirlers, who are to be taken on the spring training trip to Bradenton, Fla. A number of players also have been recalled. The new hurlers include: Scott, McKee, Wigginton, Ferguson, Mackay, Felix, Brown, Simeon and Rivers, right-handers, and Ward, Bailey and Lovell, left-handers, all from the smaller middle-western leagues.

Setting power was given the credit by carrying the Cardinals into a tie with Pittsburgh for third place last season. Rogers Hornsby and infield pitching were declared the main drawback of the team, which during the early part of the season found its way into the "doghouse."

Ricker has asserted that Horary, for whom sums ranging up to $200,000 have been offered, was not for sale at present. He declared also that his catching department, consisting of Vernon Clemens, Eddie Almarth, and Harry McCarthy, was not on the block. Ricker and Samuel Bredon, president of the club, refuse to make any predictions as regards the prospect of the Cardinals for next year, but are hopeful the team will equal and better the showing of 1922.

COLLEGE MEN TO TALK PROBLEMS

Curriculum Unification and Intercollegiate Athletics Are Among Topics for Discussion

CHICAGO, Dec. 26 (AP)—The status of the religious life and the methods of religious education, attempts at unification of the college curriculum now being made throughout the country, and the present status of intercollegiate athletics and "varsity" sections of the country are among the topics to be discussed at the meeting of the Association of American Colleges, to be held here at the bottom, during the first week in January, according to Samuel Plantz, vice-president of the association.

Other topics of importance to college executives and administrators include reports on special surveys of colleges in Colorado, Nebraska, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Iowa, and the increase in endowments and maintenance of colleges belonging to the association since the Rockefeller gift of 1920.

"The second week in January has for some years been known as '22-C' because of the Chicago 'C' said Mr. Plantz. "The Council of Church Boards of Education, composed of the boards of education of eighteen Protestant churches will open its sessions Monday, January 8, and sessions of the council will continue until Tuesday evening when it will meet jointly with the Conference of Church Workers in universities, which will close its sessions at noon Friday.

"Various denominational college associations will meet Wednesday and Thursday. A banquet Thursday evening will mark the opening of the Association of American Colleges."

MINISTER GIVES POLITICAL PLANS

Volstead's Successor in Congress Includes Referendum In Event of Threat of War

BENSON, Minn., Dec. 26 (AP)—Be for the United States enters any future war, the Rev. O. J. Kvaloy, of Benson, elected to congress over Andrew J. Volstead, author of the prohibition enforcement act, in favor of a national referendum on the matter. This is one of the "plans" which will support during his term of office, he told the Associated Press.

"I am in favor of the national referendum," he declared. "It was not an issue in his campaign, but is willing to go on record as 'just as dry as Volstead, with perhaps a little to spare.'"

Here are some of the declarations Representative Kvaloy stands for: Repeal of the Eob-Commins law and the enactment of "a sane and equitable transportation act." A revision downward of the Fordney-McCumber tariff rates.

Strict enforcement of all laws, including the prohibition enforcement act. A marketing plan of "real cooperation" between the government and by monopolists and speculators of the markets.

"A reconstruction of the federal reserve and federal farm loan systems, and the creation of a central bank of money and credits from Wall street speculators and make the credit of the nation available upon 'fair terms' to all business men and individuals."

Reduction of federal taxes "by curtailment of the eight hundred million dollars now annually expended for the army and navy; recovery of the hundreds of millions stolen from the treasury by war profiteers and by collection of accumulated interest upon the twelve billion dollar loan to foreign governments."

Increasing taxes on large incomes; making inheritance and income taxes pay the war debt; adjusted compensation for soldiers paid for excess profit tax; protection of women and children in industry; conservation and national control of national resources, and a referendum on war.

Operators on Some Western Roads Threaten Walkout Unless Demands Are Met

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 26.—(AP)—A strike of telegraphers on some western railroads unless the railroad labor board sets favorably for next January 1 on a petition for a rehearing on the decision of a board which recently reduced the wages of 11,000 operators about $1,500,000 a year was made here tonight by Edward Stanton, president of the Order of Railway Telegraphers.

WORKERS PARTY GREET'S MOSCOW INTERNATIONAL

Message of Good Cheer to Communists of Russia Drafted at Closing Session of Convention in New York

NEW YORK, Dec. 25 (AP)—The Workers' Party of America at the close of its second annual convention today sent a message to the communists of Russia, reporting the convention had "devoted itself to the constructive work of building a powerful revolutionary movement in America."

State's Right to Tax Liberty Bonds Is Denied by Court

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26 (AP)—The Supreme Court today held that a state has no right to tax the interest on federal liberty bonds.

Means Bank Cannot Escape Levy by Investment in Tax-Exempt Securities

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26 (AP)—The Supreme Court today held that a bank cannot escape a state tax on its investment in tax-exempt securities.

Comments Propaganda

The convention endorsed the future development of the Young Workers League as part of the revolutionary party, deciding to use it in distributing propaganda.

Every worker must recognize that the fight of the working class is the fight against the exploiters.

Politically soviet Russia has established her power economically.

Every militant worker must help against the government still aiming at the destruction of her soviet regime.

The American government loaned Europe billions for the war and now the bankers are preparing to make further loans to offset the destruction of the Empire.

Twenty-four members of the central executive committee elected by the convention include W. F. Dunn, New York, formerly of Butte, Mont., and chairman of the convention; and John Pepper, San Francisco.

Goes Into Business With Auto Mounted on Unused Railroad

Ingenuous Native of Maine Develops Opportunity and Builds Up Briar Traffic

BANGOR, Maine, Dec. 26 (AP)—An enterprising native of the state of Maine has solved the problem of what to do with an abandoned railroad. Some months ago the Bangor and Aroostook railroad discontinued service.

He started with a small automobile and an idea. The idea was to use the car with flange wheels and make it run on the unused rails. It worked.

There is some doubt as to how this one-man railroad will work in winter but the proprietor has attached wheels as a miniature rotary play. He thinks this will take care of snow to a depth of a foot. If it gets deeper the passengers will have to help shovel away the drifts.

Years ago there was a flourishing business in the mining and smelting of iron ore in the area. When it was finally abandoned as unprofitable the place became a sportsman's resort.

ARMENIAN PLEA GIVEN HEARING

Turks Absent Themselves from Session and Send Strongly Worded Protest

LAUSANNE, La., Dec. 26 (AP)—Armenia was the store center of the Near East conference today. The Turks refused to attend a meeting of the sub-committee which had agreed to hear the pleas of Armenians for the establishment of a national home in Turkey.

They declared that if the Armenians who had no official standing and represented an independent government were heard by the conference, there was no reason why the Egyptians or the Irish should not be allowed to present their demands.

The so-called irregular Egyptian delegation has been waiting in Lausanne for more than a month for permission to be heard by the conference and voice a demand for the independence of Egypt and complete withdrawal of the British army.

In consequence of the Turkish protest, the official meeting of the sub-committee was postponed, and the representatives of Great Britain, France and Italy, sitting aloof, listened to the Armenian spokesman, who suggested that a home be established in the northern part of Turkey, which should include historic Mount Ararat, or a section in Cilicia.

It was impossible, he declared, for the proposed Armenian home to amalgamate with the Armenian republic of Erivan, which has been taken over by the Moscow soviet. The Armenians would willingly accept the same relationship with Turkey as the dominions with England.

The delegate urged that the Armenian petition under advisement, as they did also petitions from the Bulgarians and the ancient people known as the Assyrians.

Noraulaghian Pasha, once Turkish foreign minister, presented the Armenian plea.

Wealth of Romance Found in Hospital for "Wounded" Mail

Heaps of Love Tokens in Many Postoffices Remain as Mute Evidence of Lack of Care.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26 (AP)—A hospital in which the next-of-kin seldom, if ever, are visitors; a hospital where casualties multiply at Christmas time when all the rest of the world is preparing to be glad—such as the hospital here for "wounded" mail maintained by the post office at Christmas time.

Patients at these hospitals are all innocent victims of those who are supposed to love them best—even though they are sending to them letters, which are the life between friends and between relatives, yet because of a little carelessness on the part of the carriers they fail to complete the link and, broken themselves, often become the cause of broken hearts for those who fall to receive them.

Some of the packages are repaired and reach their addresses after Christmas. Others must be returned to the senders for re-packing and re-addressing. Still others, and far too many, must be sent to the morgue—in this case the dead letter office—destined never to perform the service for which they were intended.

The department's phrases of warning evidently have become to many mere meaningless phrases. It was said, for no other interpretation can be advanced after a visit to a postoffice hospital where stacks upon stacks of love tokens remain as mute evidence of lack of care.

All this, also, it was added, means money and unnecessary work for the postal employe.

THE DOUGHOYS AND THE KIDS

War and its vicissitudes have not spoiled the American boys camped on the Rhine. They, it appears, are much the same as they were when they sat on the front stoop back home.

So the doughboys went to work, and made up a yare of many millions of marks, and handed it to Santa Claus with very specific instructions as to its employment.

It would take a very strong heart to criticize that splendid gift. One wonders which the children will remember longest, the treaty of Versailles or the time when, most unexpectedly, Santa Claus came in the next garb and cheerful guise of an American doughboy.

FUTILE NOSTALGIA

Certain projects now being pressed by radical elements that have appropriated the title of "progressivism" for their creed suggest that in large part their program is such in name only.

AN EXPLANATION

The expression of a feeling of very natural disappointment over the outcome of the trip of the County Girls' Glee Club to Chicago is also responsible for the impression erroneously created through remarks recently improperly credited to Mr. A. O'Reilly, County Club Leader.

Mr. O'Reilly has not publicly criticized the judges' verdict at Chicago, and says that he has no intention of doing so.

The News offers this explanation in justice to Mr. O'Reilly, whose services as County Club Leader have always been regarded as of the highest value.

It will be proposed that the minimum sentence will be less than one year. Although all but 154 of the 654 persons arraigned were convicted or pleaded guilty, it is felt that the judiciary has shown undue leniency in dealing with criminal cases.

THE FORUM

AMERICAN FALLS PROJECT

It appears that the directors of the Twin Falls Canal company, and also directors of various other projects, in conjunction with agents of the reclamation department, have plans to construct the government to construct the American Falls reservoir.

It is a well known fact that the government is building the reservoir with a storage capacity (as I understand) of about 50,000 acre feet of water for the projects in the proposed district.

Well, there are only two ways for them to do so, one way, whereby other projects that are located in the vicinity of the reservoir, could be included in the project.

And further, it is not to be expected that the government will be permitted to participate in the project.

And further, it is not to be expected that the government will be permitted to participate in the project.

DUKHOBERS CONSIDERING RETURN TREK TO RUSSIA

Members of Communist Colony in Canada Are Being Preparing for Migration from Land of Adoption

TORONTO, Dec. 26 (AP)—A report from Toronto, Can., says that there is a movement among the independent Dukhobors to migrate back to Russia, whence they came more than a quarter of a century ago.

Two agents from the independent Dukhobors from the original settlement, have been in Canada and have just returned to Canada. No definite decision is available as to the nature of their report on the proposed trek back to Europe.

The religious beliefs and practices of the Dukhobors, who frequently brought them into conflict with the provincial and federal governments, the education law and the war-time draft, are the reasons for the proposed trek back to Europe.

CHAPTER III

Miss Dorne Meets Eaton.

Dorne returned Eaton to the side where already some of the passengers, having settled their belongings in their sections, were beginning to wander through the cars seeking acquaintances or players to make up a card game.

Eaton took from a bag a handful of cigars with which he filled a plain, uninitiated cigar case, and went toward the club car.

He was there only a few minutes, however, when looking up, he saw Harriet Dorne and Avery enter the room.

They passed him; engaged in conversation, and stood by the rear door looking out into the storm.

It was evident to Eaton, although he did not watch them, that they were arguing something; the girl seemed indignant, Avery irritated and unwilling.

Her manner showed that she was bent upon something, she seated herself in one of the chairs, and Avery left her. He wandered, as if aimlessly, to a reading table, turning over the magazines there; abandoning them, he gazed about as if bored; then, with a wholly casual manner, he came toward Eaton and took the seat beside him.

"Botten weather, isn't it?" Avery observed somewhat ungraciously. Eaton could not well avoid a reply.

"It's been getting worse," he commented, "ever since we left Seattle."

"Why, coming into it so severely?" Again Avery looked toward Eaton, and waited.

"Yes—lucky if we get through." The conversation on Avery's part was patently forced; and it was equally forced on Eaton's, nevertheless it continued.

Avery introduced the war and other subjects upon which men, thrown together for a time, are accustomed to exchange opinions.

But Avery did not go so easily or naturally. He finally was at the case where peace is to prevail, not war, and he turned toward a stranger, acquaintance. His lack of practice was perfectly obvious when at last he asked directly: "Bag pardon, but I don't think I know your name."

Eaton was willing to give it. "Miss Avery," the other offered; "perhaps you heard it when we were getting our berth assigned."

And again the conversation, enjoyed by neither of them, went on. Finally the girl at the end of the car rose and passed them, as though leaving the car. Avery looked up.

"Where are you going, Harry?" "I think someone ought to be with Father."

"You go in just a minute." She had halted almost in front of them. Avery, bestial as though he did not know what he ought to do, finally arose; and as Eaton observed that Avery, having introduced himself, appeared now to consider it his duty to present Eaton to Harriet Dorne, Eaton also arose.

Dorne, Eaton also arose, and presented the name. Harriet Dorne, resting her hand on the back of Avery's chair, joined in the conversation. As he replied easily and ingratiatingly, to a comment of Eaton's, Avery suddenly resumed her old father. After a minute, when Avery still ungracious and still irritated over something which Eaton could not guess, rather abruptly left them; she took Avery's hand; and Eaton dropped into his chair beside her.

Now, this whole proceeding—though within the convention which forbidding a girl to make a man's acquaintance directly, without some other member making it through the medium of another man—had been so generally done that Eaton understood that Harriet Dorne deliberately had arranged to make his acquaintance, and that Avery, angry and objecting, had been overruled.

She seemed to Eaton less alertly boyish now than she had looked an hour before when they had boarded the train. Her cheeks were smoothly rounded, her lips rather full, her lashes very long. He could not look up without looking directly at her; for her chair, which had not been moved since Avery left it, was at an angle with his own.

To avoid the appearance of studying her too openly, he turned slightly, so that his gaze went past her to the white turnout outside the window.

"It's wonderful," she said, "isn't it?" "For me, the storm," a visible of amusement came to Eaton's eyes. "It would be more interesting if it allowed a little more to be seen. At present there is nothing visible but snow."

That is the only way it affects you? An artist would think of it as a background for contrasts—a thing to sketch or paint; a writer as something to be written down in words."

Eaton understood. She could not more plainly have asked him what he was.

HOLD OUT HOPE ON RECOVERY OF EDITOR AT PAUL

Details of Shooting Not Yet Cleared by Principals In Affair; Man Has Bullet Under Brain

PAUL, Idaho, Dec. 26.—(Special to The News.)—Henry Rosenbark, editor of the newspaper at Paul, was shot in the head Sunday morning, but a chance for recovery, according to reports here tonight, Andy Bracken, fellow editor, who fired the shot, is still held in jail at Rupert where he was taken immediately after the shooting.

Details of the shooting was said to be resting somewhat easier Tuesday and friends, believing, they said, that he has about an even chance for recovery, practically the only chance, no sign of this has developed, it is said.

The wound is of an extremely exceptional nature and caused residents of Paul to believe recovery, impossible under the details of the shooting became known. The gun was said to have been fired at very close range. The bullet struck Mr. Rosenbark in the forehead, passing through the skull and lodged underneath the brain, it is said.

In spite of its seriousness, the wound is considered, the victim's keen consciousness and he has been normally rational since the shooting, it is said. Neither Mr. Rosenbark nor the prisoner have made statements from the shooting and the officers at Rupert have given out little information, reports indicate.

BOMB PLOT INFORMANT CANNOT RETURN AMERICA

Immigration Bureau Holds with Ellis Island Authorities that Lindeland Must Look Elsewhere for Haven. WASHINGTON, Dec. 26 (AP)—Wolfe Lindeland, brought to this country recently by department of Justice in connection with the Wall street bomb explosion, will be excluded from entering under a ruling affirmed today by the bureau of immigration. The bureau upheld the action of the immigration authorities at Ellis Island, where Lindeland is now held.

Details of the findings of the case of the informant at Ellis Island, however, will not be made public here. Lindeland has been held at the island since Thanksgiving day when he attempted to enter this country from Europe. It was not indicated just when the ruling of the bureau of immigration would be put into effect, but it was said definitely that the department of justice that the decision of the immigration authorities would have no effect upon the status of Lindeland until he is able to return to his native land of the Wall street explosion. Lindeland, it was explained, occupies the position of an important agent in the wheel of evidence which is being attempted by the department of justice since the explosion and it is the intention of those having the matter in charge to investigate thoroughly his story of that incident.

SCIENTISTS STRONGLY OPPOSE ORGANIC EVOLUTION THEORY

FABRIGER Resolution, Dec. 26 (AP)—A resolution affirming the scientific generalization is more strongly supported by thoroughly tested evidence than is that of organic evolution, was adopted today by the general assembly of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. The resolution expressed the conviction that while the scientific community has long been engaged in the teaching of the doctrine of evolution would be a profound mistake.

Rose, for nearly 18 years judge of the United States district court here, was inducted into office today as a member of the fourth United States judicial circuit comprising the states of North and South Carolina, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia. The oath of office was administered by Wm. Howard Taft, chief justice of the United States.

HUGE WATER RESERVOIR IS NEARING COMPLETION

CLEVELAND, Dec. 26 (AP)—An $11,000,000 water reservoir will hold 125,000,000 gallons of water and cost approximately $18,000,000, now in advanced construction here. Engineers state that the reservoir will be in use next year but the entire waterway installation, started in 1914, will not be finished before 1928. The plant covers a fifty-acre site and is located in a densely wooded residential section. The concrete cover, supported by 1,000 columns thirty inches in diameter and forty feet high, is 1,000 feet long and 100 feet wide.

The reservoir will not be seen by the ordinary observer, as it is planned to cover a hillside to enter this city from the north. The reservoir will be an attractive park on top with walks, shrubbery and artificial lakes. Over the raw water conduit is the chemical house in which are four bins holding 217 tons of chemicals used in the purification of the water. In the mixing bins the water flows down a slope at the rate of 10 feet per second. It is here that the chemicals are mixed for the filtration process. The mixed water then enters the coagulating tank in a large bin in which are held 8,250,000 gallons. These are of concrete construction with grained arch roof. The clear water reservoir, which is the largest in the world, will be two basins of reinforced concrete, with a storage capacity of 125,000,000 gallons of water sufficient for a day's water supply for the city.
