Five Adjoining Frame Buildings in Center of Business District Are Burned With Damage of $35,000

OAKLEY, Idaho, Jan. 23.—(Special to The News.)—Five adjoining frame structures covering half a block and occupied by business concerns, here were destroyed by fire late Monday night resulting in damage estimated at $35,000. No personal injuries occurred and the six occupants of a rooming house which was destroyed, were rescued before the fire reached the building.

The fire started about 10:30 o'clock on the top floor of the two-story frame building occupied by the Koch meat market and grocery and was placed under control at 2 o'clock, practically all contents of the buildings being destroyed. It is believed the fire started from the ignition of matches stored at the point of origin.

Flames Travel Rapidly.

In spite of stone walls on the sides of the building where the fire started, the flames ate through supplies of stocks, many of which were extremely combustible, and quickly caught under the dry clapboard siding and roofs of the adjoining buildings.

Besides the meat market and grocery owned by George Koch, the other buildings destroyed were the rooming house and bakery of Mrs. U. J. McBride, the hardware store of W. J. Speckman, a restaurant and cleaning establishment owned by Clark Lee, and a vacant building owned by Dr. Axel P. O. Nelson. The buildings were insured for about 25 percent of the total value. The owners of the destroyed hardware store and meat market announced shortly after the fire that they intend to start immediately to erect brick or concrete structures. All of the buildings burned were of two stories with the exception of the vacant building which was a single story.

Whole Town Turns Out.

The fire was extremely spectacular. Sparks flew high into the air and the flames were seen for miles. Out of the city's population of 1300 it was estimated that between 1000 and 1500 persons were on hand to witness the burning.

The proposal, which had been urged by President Harding and Secretary Mellon, was put through after an unusually bitter all-day wrangle by a margin of seven votes. Passage of the resolution required a two-thirds vote and the roll call stood 223 to 101.

Republicans opposing it and Democrats supporting it split about even, 223 to 101. The measure was passed by a margin of seven votes.

Amendments were offered by the Green resolution, but they were not taken up. The measure was passed by a margin of seven votes.

San Diego Officers Seek to Trace Report that Dead Girl Bought Powerful Medicine on Doctor's Advice

Election of Woman to Fill Vacancy Caused by Husband's Death Indicated in Returns

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23 (AP)—Mrs. Mae Ella Nolan, widow of the late Congressman John J. Nolan, was leading a field of seven candidates here tonight in returns from today's special election to fill the congressional vacancy in the fifth California congressional district, created by the death of Congressman Nolan recently. From early indications the race was a clear-cut one between Mrs. Nolan and Edwin G. Bath, San Francisco supervisor. Both candidates ran upon the independent ticket.

Idaho House Votes Unanimously for Appropriations to Lava Hot Springs

BOISE, Idaho, Jan. 23 (AP)—A bill creating the Lava Hot Springs fund to be used for maintenance and bond redemption, was passed by the house this morning unanimously.

The measure by Representative Hall, of Elmore county, is one of two which would refund and place upon a self-sustaining basis the state business at Lava Hot Springs. The other measure appropriating $25,000 for the operation, improvement and repair of the state's property, and introduced by Representative Line, still is with the appropriations committee.

In brief session, which but one bill was passed by other house, and when no legislation of importance was introduced, the Idaho legislature today turned the entire attention to the work of committee.

The upper house passed the Coffin bill providing for the payment of school of forestry to the state department of agriculture. The independence of the state to the federal government came from the sale by the state of lands belonging to the government.

Resolutions to be Offered in Illinois Legislature for Removal of Governor and Other Officials

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 23 (AP)—Impeachment resolutions asking for the removal of Governor Len Smith, State Auditor Andrew Russell and Lieutenant Governor Fred E. Sterling, were tonight delivered to Representative Michael Igoe, Chicago, democrat, by the legislative reference bureau. The three state officers are republicans. Representative Igoe said he would introduce the resolutions in the house tomorrow, during the regular order of business.

The resolution upon completion of a collection of alleged facts regarding criminal indictments and actions of the state officers in recent election recount decisions, as members of the state can campaign board, says: Resolved, that the governor of the state of Illinois, be, and he hereby is impeached for wilful and corrupt conduct in office, and high crimes and misdemeanors.

The other resolutions contain the same statement in individual relation to the state auditor and lieutenant governor.

IDAHO MINE
FIRE COSTS
THREE LIVES

Two Men Expire in Vain Effort to Rescue Doomed Companion Cut Off by Flames in Morning Shaft

WALLA WA, Idaho, Jan. 23 (AP)—In a vain effort to save H. I. Tibbits, aged 41, a miner at the Morning mine at Mullain, seven miles east of here, Walter Lee Lynch, 28, and Edward Zich, 25, miners, lost their lives today in a fire that raged through the Morning mine.

John Anderson, engineer, who accompanied Lynch and Zich in their effort to save Tibbits, was overcome by gas, but was taken out in time to save his life. At the hospital tonight he was reported progressing as well as could be expected. Other miners in the hospital suffering from the effects of gas are Alex Antell and Carl Durant.

Crew Detects Gas.

The fire was first discovered by the day shift when it went out duty. As soon as the crew met gas in the mine it was immediately taken to the top. The fire was reported to be on the 1005 foot level or in an adjoining stop, the station being approximately two miles from the top of the mine.

Helmet crows from the Hecla and Hercules mines tonight were aiding Morning crews in fighting the fire. A United States bureau mine rescue car from Butte, Mont., was on its way to the scene of the disaster. It is not believed that the fire is of great extent and when it is located, if water cannot be applied, bulkheading will be attempted. The management of the mine reports all members of the crews as being accounted for. It is not expected that the mine will be closed long.

Fire Origin Unknown.

The Morning mine is owned by the Federal Mining and Smelting company. General Manager Frederick Burdette tonight said for the origin and exact location of the fire were not known.

Introduced by Senator George, republican to Mullain from Sheridan, Wyo.; Zich, who is single, has a mother living at Fortis, N. J.; Lynch, also single, lives at Walla Walla, and five brothers and sisters.

GIANT BOILER EXPLOSION
SNUFFS OUT TWO LIVES

Major Portion of Salt Creek Oil Field Thrown Into Darkness by Blast; Cause is Undetermined

CASPER, Wyo., Jan. 23 (AP)—R. Bennett and Walter Galbraith lost their lives and another Midwest employee was injured when a 150 horsepower engine blew up, throwing the larger part of the Salt Creek oil field camp, 45 miles north of here, into darkness. The blast, which occurred at midnight, destroyed the power engine house and threw the larger part of the Salt Creek oil field camp into darkness. The Midwest Refining company engine which had been in operation for some time, exploded, throwing a large portion of the camp into darkness.

Bennett probably was killed outright, his body being extricated from beneath a mass of wreckage soon after the explosion. Galbraith was removed from the scene of the explosion, but he died several hours after the blast at the Salt Creek hospital.

The cause of the boiler explosion is unknown, the fact that the camp has been in darkness ever since the accident preventing a real investigation.

France Sees Military
Activities in Germany

Statement Issued at Essen Announces Warlike Moves in Unoccupied Germany, but Withholds Details; Strike of Thyssen Workmen Most Effective Blow Against Occupation; Miners' Walkout is a Complete Failure

ESSEN, Jan. 23 (AP)—A French official statement issued this evening declared that a considerable movement of German troops has taken place in Germany unoccupied territory. No details are given.

DUESSELDORF, Jan. 23 (AP)—The strike today of the Thyssen workmen to the number of 65,000 is the most active blow yet struck by the Germans against Franco-Belgian occupation. In contrast to the miners' strike, which appears to be a complete failure, and the walkout of the Thyssen workers, which is a complete success, they gathered in the streets of Hamburg and Muhlheim singing patriotic songs in which the name of Fritz Thyssen, whose detention in custody by the French was the cause of the strike, was substituted for the name of Kaiser and other former national heroes.

The French continue their repressive measures towards state officials refusing to obey their orders, but appear to have abandoned the idea of placing the delinquents in jail, contenting themselves with dismissal and expulsion.

Von Boedern is Removed

The expulsion of Count von Boedern, from Cologne, was carried out today by the French, with the authorization of the British authorities, despite the strong protest of Von Boedern, whose appointment as German minister in the Rhineland measures for the collection of the coal tax and taking over the state forests are proceeding slowly, in the face of the resistance of German officials. The customs employees at the Mayence central station declined to work under French supervision and quit this morning. Herr Boedern, foreign minister, refused to turn over the records to the French, asserting that the Weisbaden forests did not belong to the state but to the municipality and were therefore exempt from tax today and expelled. He is the third official at Weisbaden to be expelled in the last five days.

Switchmen Use Sabotage.

The switchmen and track walkers at the Meiderich and Oberhausen yards in the Belgian zone of occupation also quit work this afternoon after damaging the switch boxes. The train service in the Ruhr is generally a little below normal, but has improved since yesterday. The output of the coal mines is increasing, according to the French, and a postal investigation seemed to bear out the statement that there was a twenty per cent improvement in production above yesterday.

AMERICANS' AID
GIVEN GERMANS

Residents of United States Sending Food and Supplies to Occupied Regions

ESSEN, Jan. 23 (AP)—Although the United States has stood apart in the Franco-German controversy over the occupation of the Ruhr, residents of the United States already are sending liberal relief to the people here. The largest gift so far announced is 500 crates of foodstuffs from the central relief committee at New York, which burgomaster Luther has been advised is on the way to Essen. The shipment is valued at 75,000,000 marks.

According to further reports, a resident of Chicago has donated 4,000,000 marks and a resident at Coblenz has contributed another large sum. The likelihood that such aid may be urged by need soon became more pronounced than ever tonight on the eve of the trial at Mayence of the six German industrial leaders.

The first news of the verdict will be awaited with anxiety, on it may hang the immediate fate of Germany's richest industrial and mining section, an area of about 2500 square kilometers, which last year produced approximately 100,000,000 tons of anthracite coal, besides supporting important wealth in industrial plants.

It is widely believed in German quarters that if the mine directors are sentenced to imprisonment the mining implements in the Ruhr's 200 or more miles will be immediately dropped and hundreds of thousands of miners will swarm out of the pits in a protest strike.

MUNICH CROWD DEMONSTRATES

MUNICH, Bavaria, Jan. 23 (AP)—A crowd demonstrated today outside the hotel where the allied missions have their quarters.

AGREE ON MINERS' WAGE

Standard Scale of Compensation and Working Conditions is Adopted at New York Coal Conference

NEW YORK, Jan. 23 (AP)—A stand at scale to be used in fixing wages and working conditions for bituminous coal miners throughout the industry was agreed upon here today by representatives from the tri-state competitive field and officials of the United Mine Workers of America.

The agreement was announced by the whole joint conference before it becomes a contract, but this formality is expected to be disposed of without delay at 3 o'clock tomorrow.

Operators of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, producing about 36 per cent of the nation's 500,000,000 annual tonnage, were parties to the agreement, which is to act as a standard for determining wages and working rules in the remaining 64 per cent of mines in other states.

WAR CLOUD
LOWERS IN NEAR EAST

Curzon Sees Possibility of Conflict Renewal in Turks' Refusal to Submit Oil Dispute to League of Nations

LAUSANNE, Jan. 23 (AP)—Marquand Curzon, British foreign secretary, told the Near East conference this evening that the refusal of Turkey to submit the dispute over the Mosul oil district to the league of nations had created a situation of extreme gravity. It was so grave, he added, as to involve the possibility of a renewal of warfare.

LAUSANNE, Jan. 23 (AP)—Unsettled as is the general European situation at the present moment, it suddenly took more considerable form this evening owing to the critical developments in the Near Eastern conference. Turkey refused to accept the British proposal to refer the Mosul dispute to the league of nations for settlement, and Britain declined to accept the Turkish counter suggestions that the question be settled by a plebiscite in the disputed district.

Lord Curzon then declared that as foreign secretary of the British empire, he would take the responsibility of addressing a letter to the council of the league of nations asking them to take action. He said that the league could act when there is war or any threat of war in the world and take steps to restore or to insure the maintenance of peace.

An important American feature of tonight's dramatic meeting, was a statement read by Ambassador Child, outlining the position of the United States. Mr. Child said that Lord Curzon's statement had led Lord Curzon to believe that the league could act when there is war or any threat of war in the world and take steps to restore or to insure the maintenance of peace.

DEFINES AMERICAN POSITION

The American representatives were glad to associate themselves with the intent of Lord Curzon's remarks on this subject; they had expressed their government's policy, but neither the statement nor the remarks had reference to any particular resource or field of economic activity. Only those who wilfully perverted these declarations into a statement of American policy which suited their own political ends.

Ambassador Child continued: "The American representatives feel it their duty to refer to Lord Curzon's statement of the validity of the claims of the Turkish Petroleum company and to remind the conference that, without seeking special privilege or favor, the government of the United States will uphold the principle that it may be dissociated in the rights of peace from the usual consequences of association in war, nor in other cases, where another power will still it abandon its policy of the open door."

Refers to Correspondence.

"We refer to the substantial correspondence our government has already accumulated under two successive administrations with the United States. So far as means furnish protection to legitimate American interests is at their hands, it does not affect the duty of the American representative and having States 'not guilty' of American rights is associated with a commercial, of any other American interest."

LIQUOR SUPPLY TRACED TO FOREIGN DIPLOMAT

Effort to Stop Leak Through Request to Treasury and State Departments is Anticipated by Police

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—An alleged source of Washington's supply of fine "embassy" whiskies and other liquors, which has been traced to the prohibition enforcement bureau, police announced tonight. They said they expected the bureau to take up the matter through the treasury with the state department and that it would act to stop the "leak."

The information, according to police, was contained in affidavits obtained from John J. Lynch, who was arrested in a raid on his apartment last night. Lynch is alleged to have revealed that he was doing a large business, receiving orders by telephone and having States "not guilty" of American rights is associated with a commercial, of any other American interest."

All of his dealings, he is said to have admitted, were conducted with the butler of an officer of the legion, and he is quoted as saying it would require all night for trucks to remove the amount of liquor which had been sold to him. His ledger and many books, police said, listed many prominent persons among his "best customers."

INQUIRY PRIES INTO AFFAIRS OF STANDARD OIL

Head of Company in Indiana
Denies Deal for Acquisition of Gulf Concern; Declares
War Profits Nominal

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (P)—Inauguration by the senate oil investigating committee today of its examination of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, was marked by a denial of the recently current report that the Standard company was negotiating for the acquisition of the Gulf Oil corporation.

Robert W. Stewart of Chicago, chairman of the board of the Standard of Indiana, was asked concerning the reports in the course of a detailed interrogation as to operations of his company, and in reply asserted positively that "there are no negotiations."

Mr. Stewart indicated that his company, one of the largest of the Standard corporations, would like to acquire the Gulf corporation, but said he did not know whether a proposition could be arranged satisfactory to both and that "it remains to be seen whether I can get the Gulf to see things my way."

The Standard of Indiana and the Gulf are not competing companies.

Delves Into Records.

The examination of the Standard of Indiana was conducted today exclusively through Mr. Stewart, consisted in the presentation of figures as to stock and cash dividends, net earnings and surplus, both before and since the supreme court decree dissolving the Standard Oil company became effective in 1917. The figures produced showed that the Standard of Indiana since its divorce from the parent corporation and up to the end of 1922, had paid approximately $89,500,000 in cash dividends, in addition to two stock dividends aggregating $2,000,000.

The profits of the Standard of Indiana were held not to be excessive by Mr. Stewart, during an interchange with Senator Brookhart, republican, Iowa, one of the committee members. Senator Brookhart pointed to the list of dividend declarations and of the net earnings presented by Stewart and suggested they be compared with the profits of the farmers of the country in the last two or three years.

Farmers Made More.

Mr. Stewart, replying, said he did not believe that "there is a big business man in the country today who thinks the farmers have received a square deal," and that he, having been born and raised on the farm, sympathized with the farmers fully, but that in his opinion the farmers made more money during the war than the Standard Oil company of Indiana.

PORTUGAL SEES THREAT IN AFRICAN SITUATION

Admiral Do Rego Creates Stir With
Warning of Possible Loss of Colonial Possessions

LISBON, Jan. 23 (P)—Portugal is threatened with the possible loss of her important African colonial possessions, according to Admiral Leote do Rego, who has caused something of a sensation by giving an interview to the Diario Da Manhã in which he declares that Mozambique, on the east coast, and Angola, on the west coast of Africa, may be invaded by troops of the South African Union.

"The Union intends to obtain possession of these territories by fair means or foul," the admiral declares. "It is time that the people of Portugal know the truth. They should prepare to defend their interests before it is too late. It is reported," the admiral continues, "that General Baines is concentrating troops on the frontiers, and that he means business. The capital, deprived of these possessions, will be without a place among the nations of the world, for her colonial holdings constitute her importance."

The press is demanding that the government inform the people as to what really is transpiring, alleging at the same time that all questions raised in parliament on this subject are dismissed with vague and unsatisfactory answers.

TACOMA HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS DIVIDE ON SHEARING LOCKS

TACOMA, Jan. 23 (P)—To bob or not to bob, that is the question. The problem has divided the girls of the Lincoln High School here to such an extent that two clubs have been formed, one exclusive to girls with bobbed hair and the other admitting only girls who have not used the shears on their tresses. The Old Maid's Club and the Twentieth Century Club are the names of the rival organizations, the latter being the bobbed haired girls.

The two clubs are giving a series of parties that may decide whether the boys of the school prefer bobbed or unbobbed hair.

CANTON MAYOR'S PLACE EXTREMELY HAZARDOUS

Flight of Son of Sun Yat Sen Leaves
Position Without Occupant for More Than Few Days at a Time

CANTON, China, Jan. 23 (P)—Since the hasty departure of Sun Fo, the father of Sun Yat Sen, last June, no one has been willing or able to fill the supremely hazardous position of mayor at Canton. Man after man has been appointed only to refuse the appointment or, after a few days in office, to resign.

It is interesting to note in this connection what a good record Mayor Sun had. An American missionary of Macao, Rev. John Galloway, is authority for the statement that when Sun Fo assumed office Canton was bankrupt but that he cleared off the municipal debts and at the same time pushed ahead public works of startling magnitude. Mr. Galloway, who has been in China for 14 years, characterized him "as the best mayor Canton ever had."

Being one of the four Americans in all Macao, Mr. Galloway has come to know Mr. Sun, who is a graduate of the University of California, very intimately. On his return from America Sun Fo became a Christian and with his wife joined Mr. Galloway's church. Another member of the same church in Macao is the former wife of Sun Yat Sen.

INCOME TAX RETURNS GIVEN PLACE IN COURSE OF STUDY

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23 (P)—The preparation of income tax returns is the latest subject to be added to the curriculum of Los Angeles public schools. For the convenience of those to whom the intricacies of the tax are a perplexing puzzle, a special high school class has been organized which meets one night a week under the direction of an expert accountant. No formal enrollment is necessary, and the taxpayer-pupil is free to quit the course when he has mastered enough of the subject to fill out his own income tax return.

The News is read by the permanent earning classes.

WANTS ENGLISH COMMON TONGUE IN PHILIPPINES

Governor General Leonard Wood
Counts Establishment of Language and Military Training Important

MANILA, Jan. 23 (P)—The establishment of English as the common language in the Philippine Islands and a system of universal military training in Philippine universities, colleges and higher schools are subjects of great importance to the people of the islands in the opinion of Governor General Leonard Wood. In a statement Governor General Wood said the people of the Philippines labor under two disadvantages. One is due to their residence on many different islands, preventing a quick assembly for purposes of defense, and the other, he declared, is due to the fact that there is no great common language.

"The people speak a number of different dialects and those from one portion of the islands often cannot understand the people from another," declared Governor General Wood. "This is a great source of weakness, but happily, one which we can and are overcoming. The dialects will live just as the local dialects have lived even in as highly developed a country as England. Spanish will endure. We can develop English without lacking in appreciation of either Spanish or the dialects. What we are striving for is to establish the best possible language condition for the people of the islands so there may be a free transmission of ideas and a medium through which all the people can be reached. As it is now, in order to have a message reach the people of the islands it is necessary to publish it in many different dialects."

WOULD STUDY REFORESTATION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (P)—A special senate committee to study reforestation was authorized today when the senate adopted a resolution of Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, providing for the committee and directing a report by April, 1924. The committee is directed to recommend a national policy of reforestation in an effort to assure a perpetual supply of timber.

IF RHEUMATIC BEGIN ON SALTS

Says You Must Keep Feet Dry,
Avoid Exposure, Eat No
Sweets

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat no sweets of any kind for a while, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of Jad Salts occasionally to help keep down uric acid and toxic acids.

Rheumatism is caused by poison toxins, called acids, which are generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this poison, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove body waste, also to stimulate the kidneys, thus helping to rid the blood of these rheumatic poisons.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithin, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.—adv.

RAILWAY HEADS GIVE ADVICE ON MERGER PLAN

Burlington President Declares
Competition in Southwest
Will Suffer Under Proposal
Planned by Commerce Board

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—Hearings before the interstate commerce commission on possible mergers of western railroad systems which may result from the government's plan for a general rail consolidation, were suspended temporarily today, but will be resumed on dates and at places which the commission will announce later.

Hale Holden, president of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, and J. E. Gordon, president of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, were among the witnesses heard at the final session.

Inclusion of the Colorado and Southern system along with the Atchafalaya, Tопока and Santa Fe lines is one of the greater rail mergers suggested by tentative plans of the commission. Mr. Holden said, might have the effect of reducing competition in railroad service in southwestern areas. The Colorado and Southern, he pointed out, would also be divorced from the Burlington, whose lines would be thrown into one of the northern railroad groups contemplated.

Mr. Gordon declared that, assuming consolidations were eventually carried through, the Rock Island could well be attached to the Southern Pacific system as the commission plan proposed.

RUSSIA COLLECTS TAX ON HOUSEHOLD SERVANTS

Soviet Regulates Employment and Wages of Domestic Workers and Counts Service Luxury

MOSCOW, Jan. 23 (AP)—Russia's tax on luxuries has been extended to include servants.

By recent decree a tax of 400 million rubles a year was levied upon all families having one servant, and 500 million rubles for each additional maid or butler in the house. At the present rate of exchange 100,000,000 rubles is the equivalent of $3.

The minimum wage for servants in Moscow today, by a ruling of the central trade union, is 200 million per month. All servants must be secured through a government labor bureau, and failure to register each household worker, or endeavor to avoid paying the servants' tax is punishable by imprisonment and fine.

CONDEMN PENDING BILL FOR REMOVAL OF INDIANS

Meeting of Religious Workers in Denver Denounces Bureau Proposal to Dispose of Lands

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 23 (AP)—United and Catholic opposition to the Bureau Indian bill, now pending before congress, was expressed by representatives of various religious creeds at a recent general meeting here. A declaration of protest, which characterized the proposal "unfair and unjust" in its purpose to dispose of Indian lands in New Mexico, was unanimously adopted.

The resolution called upon members of congress to "leave the Indian in rightful possession of his lands."

Senator Bureman's measure was condemned by Governor William E. Sweet of Colorado, who opposed it at the meeting. "We have obligations to the Indian—those of education, civilization and Christianization," declared the chief executive, "and wherever the Indian begins to possess anything of value, the white man begins to scheme to get it."

Miss Hope Elizabeth Haupt of Washington D. C., for 10 years interned in the Indian bureau at Washington, declared that the Indians were "not intelligent, dirty and a menace to the white man." The Indians will be concentrated in their reservations under the supervision of the Indian bureau, she said. "and they will be just Indians and pagans as long as Americans do not adhere to the principles of Christ in treatment of them."

The measure also was flayed as a "pernicious bill" in speeches by the Rev. Hugh L. McManis, rector of the Washington Catholic Seminary, and Dr. Jean A. Jeuneau, curator of the state museum.

GROWTH IN PORT BUSINESS IS REPORTED FROM TACOMA

TACOMA, Jan. 23 (AP)—A steady growth in port business here for 1922 is indicated in the annual report of W. G. Rowland, harbor master. The report shows that 1,341 vessels arrived in port during 1922, an increase of 305 compared with 1921. The tonnage for 1922 was 3,252,690, compared with 2,314,170 last year. Mr. Rowland says the increase is due to the development of inter-coastal trade and to the operation of the public docks of the Port of Tacoma.

TURN OF WHEEL BRINGS DR. SUN BACK TO CANTON

Ancient Chinese City Again
Center of Political-Military
Whirlpool; Fugitive Ruler to Return

CANTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—Caution the "City of Rams," founded more than 2,000 years before the Christian era, known to Arab voyagers as far back as the tenth century, and times without number the center of attack and revolution, again is the vortex of one of China's political-military whirlpools.

Dutch, Portuguese and English followed in the footsteps of the daring Semite navigators, each seeking trade and each bringing international complications.

Always a mart of the Eastern world, kings and emperors of the Chou, Chin, Han, Sul, Tang, Ming and other dynasties found its prize worth fighting for, and when the revolution of 1911 overthrew the Manchu throne, it was Sun Yat-sen, a man of Canton or Kwangtung, as it is called in Chinese, who wielded the liberal thought of the city and province into the first Chinese republic.

Later in 1917, when Premier Tuan Chi-jui dissolved the constitutional parliament at Peking, and the militarists regained control, it was to Canton that Sun Yat-sen fled. There he gathered about him his followers and launched the republic of South China.

Defeated by Trachery.

In the face of financial, political and military odds Sun led his government together and bolstered it with such pillars of Chinese public life as the late Wu Ting-fang, once minister to Washington, one of the outstanding Chinese

Winter Weather Now Is as Cold as in Previous Years

ST. LOUIS, Mo. Jan. 23 (AP)—There is little change in the seasons year in and year out, according to Montrose W. Hayes, meteorologist of the St. Louis station of the Weather Bureau.

Forecasters Hayes declared the frequent expression "It doesn't get as cold as it used to; we don't have heavy snows any more," possibly is due to the fact that experiences of childhood are more vivid.

"The winters of our youth seemed at that time to be shot through with zero temperatures and to abound in heavy snows. In retrospect the acute ness of memory remains or fails in accuracy," he continued.

"We have winters that are colder and summers that are hotter, but though these do not work exactly in cycles they occur so rarely as not to disturb the average. The winters of 1884 to 1888 were very cold, colder than usual and the memory that supports the saying that winters now are not what they were maybe is of the persons whose youth was in that period.

"But the fact remains that the coldest winter in the memory of man in the Midwest was the winter of 1917 and 1918.

half of bullets, seek safety in retreat. She joined her husband at Whampoa, above Canton on the Pearl River, and there they maintained their headquarters as long as the navy remained loyal. However, arrears of pay, the evil spirit that has worked more Chinese armies than the swords of their enemies, sent the steadfastness of the navy and the Sun escaped to the British colonial city of Hongkong, from which they made their way to Shanghai.

At Shanghai, Sun entered negotiations with the various political factions of the country, always maintaining the stand that he sought only the reform of his country, but steadfastly refusing to go to Peking and assist in the rehabilitation of the old constitutional parliament.

Reports from Shanghai during the last few months indicate that as the star of the Peking regime, backed by Wu Peifu, waned before the growing military movement, Sun's prestige revived. His followers in the Peking parliament, at his instructions it is said, blocked legislation with the assertion that a parliament recalled to life by militarists had no authority to make Chinese laws.

Wife Holds Fort.

His wife, a staunch supporter in all his wanderings over Europe and Asia, as he preached the gospel of republicanism, remained behind to head the fort. Only when Yip Kue's victorious troops battered down the stockade of the compound did she leave, and in the guise of a peasant woman, under the ming, profiting by Yip Kue's coup, ruled in Canton, but Sun, despite the loss of these two powerful supporters, reiterated his old declaration that he would "come back" to Canton.

Early in January of this year, his promises seemed on the verge of fulfillment. Chen's treasury ran low, his troops became mutinous, Sun Yat-sen's armies appeared in the north of Kwangtung province and in the heart of neighboring Fukien. Wuchow and Samshui fell away from Chen into the possession of Sun's troops, and, finally, Chen himself, taking his staff, retired to Malchow, whence he had some six months before to seize the reins of government as they dropped from Sun's hands.

Headquarters of Sun Yat-sen at Shanghai said the time had come for Chen's return to write another chapter in the turbulent 3,000-year history of the "City of Rams."

KING COAL

When a coal is acknowledged to be supreme in its field, it inevitably becomes the object of comparison—sometimes of derogation on the part of competition.

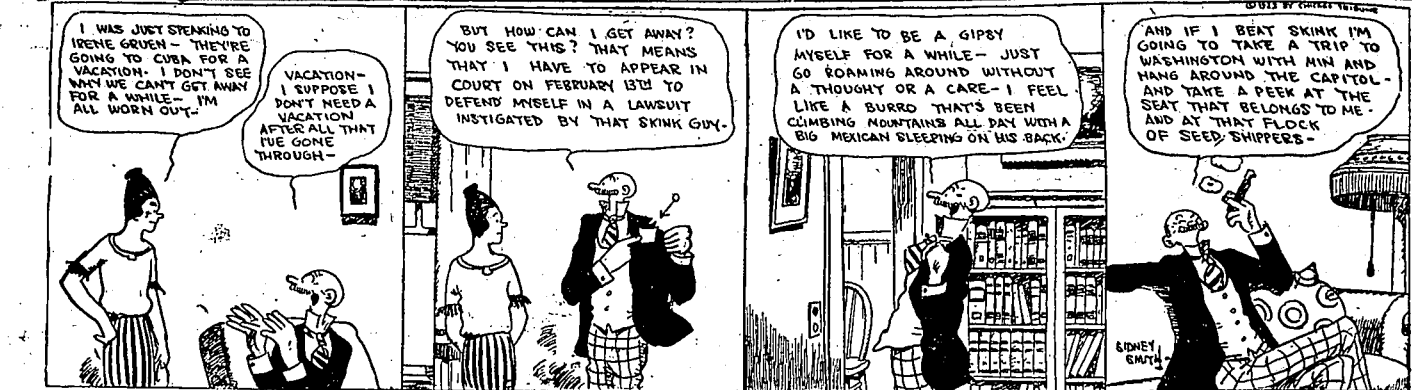

There is nothing unusual in this. It befalls any product which has won the reputation of being surpassingly good. Invariably there are those who seek to claim equality with it, and who seek to profit through its high repute.

In their efforts to replace KING COAL, they neglect to take into consideration the unusual quality, the long life and economy of the coal which has given it such merited distinction.

TRUST COMPANY CAPTURES TITLE

Bowling Honors Among Bankers' Teams Decided by Defeat of Twin Falls National

The Bank and Trust bowlers won from the Twin Falls National pin at Tuesday afternoon at the Twin Falls bowling alleys by the score of 1378 to 1371.

Total pins for two games was the method used to decide the title. This win gives the Bank and Trust boys the championship, the First National bunch taking the count last week.

Tuesday's games were both close, the National quelling taking the first one by a score of 691 to 689. In this game Charles Larson of the Keefe Institute rolled high game with 182. The surprise in this clash was the keen bowling of Ernie Gwin. This dark horse of the team busted 'em to the tune of 138, hitting the head pin every time except the times that he failed to do so.

The Bank and Trust boys were late owing to the fact that they were unable to get a balance at the bank, and the first game found them still unbalanced.

Fix was unable to make his smoke ball behave, while "Hoole" Linville pulled up at 160. Fix's effort in this game only meant an addition of 111 pins.

The second game found the Linville five hitting the head pin with great regularity, putting down 710 pins to 680 for the Larson outfit.

Larson again topped all opponents in this game with 173. Fix was second high man with 109. Ryan punched them on the nose for 167.

BANK NOTES.

Wilton had a "Peck" of trouble getting started.

Norvin Keefe couldn't get started in the opener, but smashed down 153 in the second.

Ernie Gwin does well for a youngster who is just learning.

Guy Ryan found the going pretty rough in the first clash, and he couldn't understand what the trouble was all about as he threw a strike ball every time.

Phil Fix rattled the new Elks building when he sent the cannon ball on its way.

Linville was a little under his regular game. The rest of the team, including and Lynn Stewart having its effect on "Hoole."

Patrick reversed gears after rolling 129 in the first, and joined in the chorus with 158 in the final.

Clarence Beatty did the best he could, which meant an average of 116 for the two games.

Al Keefe looked awful good in the first game by rolling 151, and thought of it that 110 was plenty in the second.

When Charles Larson spared in the last frame of the last game he looked at Keefe and said, "You know me, Al."

CLERKS SCORE CLEAN SWEEP

I. D. Store Bowlers Defeat Rogerson Cafe Pin Busters Three Games in a Row

The I. D. Store lads made a clean sweep of the three games with the Rogerson Cafe bowlers Tuesday evening at the Twin Falls bowling alleys. The Cafe men failed to live up to their reputation, falling down at crucial times on easy spares.

The opener ended with the I. D. men on the long end of a 764 to 724 score. Larson and Linville tied for high in this stanza with 181 apiece.

The eat providers failed to disturb the department store men in the second, and fell an easy victim to the tune of 639 to 707. The high game went to Ford with 186.

The I. D. team seemed to lag a trifle in the last game of the evening, but didn't lag enough as the best of the Towan followers were able to knock over was 700, while their opponents came through with 741.

Charley Larson, the elongated bowler, took high average for the evening with 523 pins down for the three games.

I. D. Store men did it:

I. D. Store	1	2	3	Totals
Moore	137	105	147	449
Ford	159	180	138	483
Fix	108	142	150	400
Doono	180	180	167	527
Linville	181	180	139	500
Totals	754	830	741	2325

Rogerson Cafe 1 2 3-Totals

Rogerson Cafe	1	2	3	Totals
Kennedy	130	154	125	418
Swenson	112	123	107	342

STRIKES AND SPARES

Well, well, the I. D. team won three in a row.

The first game was rather close, but the last two failed to put the large crowd on its feet.

"Craig" Kennedy had considerable trouble solving the mysteries of making the timber kiss the floor.

Doc Tooleen was another that had a hard time extracting a big score. Cheer up, Doc, as the butcher said, the worst is yet to come.

Ford got away with high game in the second, and it wasn't a flivver either.

Moore, bowling his first game for the I. D. bunch, gave a good account of himself. Konny hasn't bowled much this winter, and another week should put him in tip top shape.

Did you ever see Doono pick the 7 pin down? This southpaw picked this difficult pin four times during the evening.

Bill Towan broke the alley record in the afternoon with a score of 253, and couldn't pass 181 in the evening.

That 253 game of "Bill's" was a rip snorter. He spared in first frame, struck in the second, missed in the third, and from then on made only strikes, and they were not of the fluke variety either.

Virgil Swenson was opponent during the rampage, and didn't try to beat Bill.

Charley Larson got away with some also scores, during the evening's entertainment. Charley is the luckiest bowler in the league with the possible exception of Cubit of the Troy Laundry misfits. Larson can hit them where they ain't and still get a strike.

"Cannon Ball" Fix was off color, bowling the famous cigarette score in the first, 111. This no doubt was due to his smoke ball.

Tonight the Alvord and Mott team mix with the Shoe Market five, and rumors have it that the Alvord and Mott brigade have added a new bowler to their team, which means that the Shoe Market bunch may have a tight fit before the evening is over.

The celebrated Butchers' team will cross bats with the Shoe Market team Friday evening, in a special match game.

The challenge issued by Emory Bennett for a four or five man team to beat his "B" team, has been accepted by the L's who comprise Linville, Larson, Lewis and Bob Logan.

This means that a four man team will enter the field against the "B" outfit.

When Logan found out about there being a bowling alley in town, he started in to loosen up a few of the old joints with the result that when the call was made for the letter "L," he heard his master's voice and responded.

No date has been set for this game, but it will be played some evening next week.

The First National bank bowlers, after watching the Bank and Trust boys in action Tuesday against the Twin Falls National team, challenged them to another two game series.

They claim that they cannot figure out how a bunch that bowls in that fashion can beat them.

There are so many tellers in the bank that it's rather hard for them to keep a secret.

DEMPSEY IS READY FOR GO WITH ANY ASPIRANT

Heavyweight Champion and Entourage Arrive in New York for Talk with Promoter Rickard

NEW YORK, Jan. 23 (AP)—Expressing his eagerness to meet any aspirant for his heavyweight crown, Jack Dempsey and his advance entourage, including the champion's pugilistic bulldog, "Diamond" Dick, Jr., reached New York today.

Jack Kearns, is due to arrive tomorrow in the afternoon a conference is scheduled with Promoter Tex Rickard, at which negotiations for the titleholder's expected program of action during the outdoor season may reach a definite basis.

Rickard said today he would submit two proposals to Kearns and Dempsey, one calling for a match with Jess Willard, and another with the other with the survivor of the heavyweight elimination series among Floyd Johnson, Tom Gibbons and Luis Firpo, the Argentinean pugilist. The latter contest may occur in September.

Dempsey declared he was ready to meet any of these heavyweights as well as Harry Wills, with whom he signed tentatively for a bout six months ago, but ring circles were convinced that no proposition for a match with the negro would be discussed.

PORTLAND CLUB ENLISTS TWENTY-ONE VETERANS

Roster to Include Three More Experienced Men and Usual Number of Bunchers Before Entering Training

PORTLAND, Jan. 23 (AP)—The Portland baseball team of the Pacific Coast league has already a roster of 21 experienced players for the 1923 season, and three more are expected to be added before the club goes to the spring training camp, it has been announced here.

In addition to these there will be the usual number of lads ready for tryout. The present lineup is as follows:

Right handed pitchers: Middleton (also manager of the team), Sutherland, Yarrison, Sullivan and Coleman of the 1922 team, though the latter will be signed only if he agrees to attend the training camp at Eckman from the Philadelphia Athletics, Rankin from the New York Giants.

Southpaw pitchers: Leverenz and Crumpler of the 1922 team; Lefty Shneider when released.

Catchers: Butch Byler, last year with Salt Lake; Rip King of the 1922 team, and Nate Shandling, Vancouver, Wash., youth, who came here from the western league late in the season. A first string catcher is to be purchased.

First base: Jimmy Poole, Second base: Frank Beal, Shortstop: Emmet McCann.

Third base: Frank O'Rourke, last year with the Boston Red Sox.

Outfielders: The 1922 season with the Giants and Toledo; Dick Cox, Ike Wilfer, Charley High and Grossett of last year's Portland team.

CLAIM GRID RECORD.

SANTA CLARA, Jan. 23 (AP)—With the record run to touchdown on a complete forward pass for the 1922 football season awarded to Edward Monjo of Williams college, who chalked up 28 yards, the University of Santa Clara students are claiming the 1922 Pacific coast record for Johnny Logan, star end, who ran 71 yards to a touchdown after starting a pass against St. Mary's on Thanksgiving day at Berkeley. Due to an injured ankle received in the preceding play, Logan was forced to limp his way down the field to the goal.

PROTEST GIVES GERMAN STAND

Berlin Reiterates Determination to Pay No Reparation With French in Ruhr

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—A note protesting against the French and Belgian attempt "to force with terrorizing measures German officials to render assistance in the execution of illegal measures aimed against their own country" through expulsion of officials who refuse to cooperate with the forces of occupation, was issued today by the German embassy in Paris, London and Brussels.

The embassy also made public another note delivered today to those governments and to Italy, defining the German position as to the reparations issued by the inter-allied Rhineland commission covering the occupation which, it contends, "are in contradiction with the Rhineland convention" and "have no legal value and are not to be complied with," by the local German officials.

Sees Intimidation Policy.

The note protesting against the execution of the occupation of the territory of German officials who, complying with legitimate instructions from their government refuse "to render assistance in the execution of ordinances issued contrary to treaties and to international law." Declares such steps "obviously aim at intimidating the other officials." The expulsions, it says, "take place with utter disregard and brutality," with a time limit of only a few hours granted "in some cases," and members of the expelled officials' families included in the order.

The note delivered to the four powers contends that in the occupied territory "German sovereignty is merely restricted by the Rhineland convention" and that "no measures on the part of the allies are admissible which exceed the stipulations of the said convention."

"These bounds," the note declares, are "transgressed by every one of the ordinances issued" by the inter-allied Rhineland commission January 15 and 18 covering the occupation, and it describes as an "incredible imputation" the "order given to German officials and authorities to take an active part in executing" the purposes of the occupying forces.

Attacks Commission's Act

The note contends that, in issuing the ordinances, the commission "has abandoned the legal basis on which it was founded."

"By violating in the gravest manner the administrative and financial cover-slightly of Germany and in particular of the German territory concerned," it states, "the Rhineland commission has put itself at the disposal of the military enterprise at present undertaken by the French and Belgian governments in defiance of international law and of the treaty of Versailles."

"Even in time of war, it is entirely illegal to force the home authorities of the occupied territory to take part in the execution of measures aimed at their own government. Therefore, the German government and the governments of France and Belgium states have pointed out to their officials that those ordinances which are in contradiction with the Rhineland convention have no legal value and are not to be complied with."

Denies Necessity Claim.

The note denies there is justification for the claim of "necessity of attending to the needs of the army of occupation," as set forth in the ordinance concerning the distribution of coal, "which extends the competence of the newly inaugurated inter-allied coal commission in Essen to the occupied Rhineland territory."

HOW LONG?

In the year nineteen hundred sixteen twelve hundred ninety-six persons paid taxes upon annual incomes of three hundred thousand dollars or more.

In nineteen hundred twenty the twelve hundred odd had shrunk to exactly three hundred ninety-five persons, and the net TAXABLE income had dropped from a little less than one billion dollars in nineteen hundred sixteen to somewhat under a quarter of a billion in nineteen hundred twenty.

There were money making years for the men of big income; from nineteen hundred sixteen to nineteen hundred twenty. The opportunities for the amassing of fortunes were never better in the history of America. The fortunes were amassed all right but the money went into tax free bonds—free even of income tax provisions.

The man of moderate income pays the taxes now. With his capital invested in farms, stock and whatnot he provides for the upkeep of America while his more fortunate brother puts his money into the bonds of Nation, State, County and City and watches the process.

The argument is frequently offered that capital would not be available to the field now occupied by the tax-free security, except at a much higher rate of interest, with the tax free provision removed. There are two very excellent answers to this. The first is that it wouldn't be a particularly serious thing for the average man if the bond market should fall off to the extent of about fifty per cent for a while and the second is that Federal receipts from income tax alone, if every form of investment shared in the tax, would amount over and over again to the trifling increase in the interest rate necessary to make any legitimate bond issue readily saleable.

The primary principle back of the whole proposition of taxation is to be found in its equal applicability to rich and poor alike. Under the system which has grown up in connection with the tax free securities situation the burden of the rich is shifted to the backs of the poor—exactly as was the case in the middle ages and during feudal days.

INITIAL FINDINGS OF COAL COMMISSION

The United States Coal Commission brings out, in its first general report to Congress, several interesting facts of practical value. It finds, for instance, that the distribution of coal, including transportation and marketing, costs more than production, and, at times, exorbitant profits have been taken by operators, wholesalers and retailers. In this respect, at least, the coal industry is faulty the same as most industries, for the cost of distribution is generally the chief cause of high prices.

The commission decided that the three periods of high prices since 1916 were periods of labor troubles, and it gives warning that "collective bargaining must rest on reason, rather than force," and repetition of these crises would result in federal regulation.

The number of miners has increased in the past few years, and it is now two hundred thousand in excess of the demand. The present mining force is capable of turning out two hundred fifty million tons a year or more than the United States and foreign countries take from our fields at the maximum demand.

Another important point mentioned in the report is the necessity for satisfactory adjustment of transportation. The railroads are obliged to move an enormous coal tonnage at the time, in autumn, when commerce and agriculture are at the transportation peak.

The most pleasing, the most encouraging feature of the first report is the evident intention of the commission to be impartial and candid. The language shows that the commission is not desirous of becoming popular, but aims to find real facts and tell them clearly and impartially to the people.

The public wants information and suggestions, and it wishes to be fair to both operators and miners. The remedies may not be easy to apply under the most favorable circumstances, but they will be adopted the more readily if they bear the marks of good faith and justice.

CHAPTER XXIII

Santoine, after Harriet had left the library, stood waiting until he heard the servant go out and close the door. "When did you learn that Eaton was Hugh Overton, Avery?" he asked.

"Today."

"How did you discover it?"

"It was plain from the first there was something wrong with the man," Avery replied; "but I had, of course, no way of placing him until he gave himself away at polo the other day. I saw that he was pretending not to know a game which he did know; when he put over one particular stroke I was sure he knew the game very well. The number of men in this country who've played polo at all isn't very large, and those who can play great polo are very few. So I sent for the polo annuals for a few years back, the ones I wanted came to the club today. His picture is in the group of the Spring Meadows club; he played 'back' for them five years ago. His name was under the picture, of course."

"I understand. I am glad to know how it was. One less certain of my fidelity than I am might have put another construction on your silence; one less certain, Avery, might have thought that, already knowing Eaton's identity, you preferred instead of telling it to me to have me discover it for myself and so, for that reason, you trapped him into a polo game in Harriet's presence."

For a moment Santoine paused; the man across from him did not speak, but Santoine's intuition told him—dropping himself together for some shock. "Of course," said Santoine, "knowing who Eaton is gives us no aid in determining who the men were that fought in my study last night."

"It gives none to me, Mr. Santoine," Avery said sturdily.

"It gives none to you," Santoine repeated; "and the very peculiar behavior of the stock exchange today, I suppose that gives you no help either. All day they have been going down, Avery—the securities, the stocks and bonds of the properties still known as the Latron properties. Without apparent reason, they have been going down all day that gives you no help either, Avery?"

"Yet you are a very clever man; there is no question about that. I have even found it worth while at times to talk over with you matters—problems—which were troubling me; to consult with you. Have I not?"

"Very well; I am going to consult with you now. I have an infirmity, as you know, Avery; I am blind. I

"Very Well; I Am Going to Consult With You Now. I Have an Infirmity, as You Know, Avery; I Am Blind. I have just found out that for several years—for about five years, to be exact—that is, for about some length of time that you have been with me—my blindness has been used by a certain group of men to make me the agent of a monstrous and terrible injustice to an innocent man. Except for my blindness—except for that, Avery, this injustice never could have been carried on. If you find a certain amount of bitterness in my tone, it is due to that; a man who has an infirmity, Avery, cannot well help being a little sensitive in regard to it. You are willing I should consult with you in regard to this?"

"Of course I am at your service, Mr. Santoine," Avery's voice was harsh and dry.

The blind man was silent for an instant. He could feel the uneasiness and anxiety of the man across from him mounting swiftly, and he gave it every opportunity to land upon his head. Eaton once that he did not use "cat and mouse" methods; he was using them now because that was the only way his purpose could be achieved.

"We must go back to the quite serious emergency to which I am indebted for your faithful service. Five years ago the American people appeared perfectly convinced that the only way to win true happiness and perpetuate prosperity was to accuse, condemn and jail for life—if execution were not legal—the heads of the corporations of industrial properties. Just at that time, one of these men—one of the most efficient but also, perhaps, the one personally most obnoxious or unpopular—committed one of his gravest indiscretions. It concerned the private life of a popular national figure; was a federal officer of the most patient and provable kind. He was indicted. Considering the temper of any possible jury at that time, there was absolutely no alternative but to believe the man under indictment must spend many succeeding years, if not the rest of his life, in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta or Leavenworth."

"Now, the man was in complete control of a group of the most valuable and prosperous properties in America. Before his gaining control, the properties had been almost ruined by differences between the minor men who tried to run them; only the calling of Matthew Latron into control saved the men from themselves; they required him to govern them; his taking away would bring chaos and ruin among them again. They knew that. Just before he must go to trial, Latron himself became convinced that he faced confinement for the rest of his life; then fate effectively intervened to end all his troubles. His body, charred and almost consumed by flames—but nevertheless the identified body of Matthew Latron—was found in the smoking ruins of his shooting lodge, which burned to the ground two days before his trial."

Avery was hunched in the seat watching the blind man with growing conviction and fear. "The same thing went on: 'A young man was shown to have followed Latron to the shooting lodge; a witness appeared who had seen this young man shoot Latron; a second witness had seen him set fire to the lodge. The young man—Hugh Overton—was put on trial for his life. I myself, as a witness at the trial supplied the motive for the crime; for, though I had never met Overton, I knew that he had lost the whole of a large fortune through investments recommended to him by Latron. Overton was convicted, sentenced to death; he escaped before the sentence was carried out—became a fugitive without a name, who if he ever appeared would be handed over for execution. For the evidence had been perfect—complete; he had shot Latron purely for revenge, killed him in the most despicable manner. For there was no doubt Latron was dead, was there, Avery?"

"None," Avery said humbly. "That was the time you came into my employ, Avery, recommended to me by one of the men who had been closest to Latron. I was not connected with the Latron properties except as an adviser; but many papers relating to them must go inevitably through my hands. I was rather on the inside in all that concerned those properties. But I could not myself see the papers; I was blind; therefore I had to have others serve as eyes for me. And from the first, Avery, you served to my eyes in connection with all papers relating to the Latron properties. If anything ever appeared in those papers which might have led me to suspect that any injustice had been done in the punishment of Latron's murderer, it could reach me only through you. Nothing of that sort ever did reach me, Avery. You must have made quite a good thing out of it."

"What?"

"I say, your position here must have been rather profitable to you, Avery; I have not treated you badly myself, recognizing that you must often be tempted by gaining information here from which you might make money; and your other employers must have overbid me."

"I don't understand; I beg your pardon, Mr. Santoine, but I do not follow what you are talking about."

"Not. Then we must go a little further. This last year a minor reorganization became necessary in some of the Latron properties. My friend, Gabriel Warden—who was an honest man, Avery—had recently greatly increased his interest in those properties; it was inevitable the reorganization should be largely in his hands. During his work with the Latron properties, Warden—the honest man—Avery—discovered the terrible injustice of which I speak."

"You looked after your own interest rather carefully, I think, up to a certain point. When—knowing who Eaton was—you got him into a polo game, it was so that, if your interests were best served by exposing him, you could do so without revealing the real source of your knowledge of him. But an unforeseen accident arose. The drafts and lists relating to the reorganization of the Latron properties—containing the very facts no doubt, which first had aroused Warden's suspicions—were sent to the Warden's office. At first there was much of the threatening to you, this, because their contents could reach me only through you. But in the uncertainty I felt, I had my daughter take these matters out of your hands."

"That night, Avery, you sent an unsigned telegram threatening to leak up the village almost within twenty-four hours my study was entered, the safe inaccessible to you was broken open, the contents were carried away. Do you suppose I do not know that one of the two men in the study last night was the principal whose agents had been in the study, threatening to leak up the village almost within twenty-four hours my study was entered, the safe inaccessible to you was broken open, the contents were carried away. CROPS DAMAGED BY HEAVY WINDS

Storms in Rocky Mountain Region Sweep Soil From Fields in which Grain is Sown

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 23 (AP)—The recent heavy winds over much of the Rocky Mountain Region have caused considerable damage to winter grains from soil blowing according to the semi-monthly agricultural reports of the United States Division of Crops and Livestock estimates. The mild open winter has been favorable to livestock and losses are light even in sections where feed is scarce. General farm work is making good progress in Arizona and New Mexico.

The prospects for the winter wheat crop are not encouraging throughout much of this section, as much was planted in a dry seed bed and failed to germinate. December rains and snow improved conditions but came too late to produce much growth. High winds throughout Colorado and Wyoming are causing considerable damage from soil blowing in these states. More moisture is needed in New Mexico and so far the wheat has no covering of snow or moist soil to protect it from the spring winds.

Planting for the cotton crop is progressing in Arizona and garden truck is doing well. Moisture is needed to facilitate plowing on the dry farms in New Mexico but general farm work has progressed well in the irrigated sections. Prospects indicate an increase in acreage for the coming season, especially of cotton, broom corn, hay and beans.

All classes of livestock are generally in fair to good condition both in health and flesh. The shortage of feed in New Mexico and in some parts of Colorado is necessitating the feeding of more hay, forage and cotton seed cake than usual in spite of the high feed prices. Losses in view of the shortage of feed have been light, however, due to the mild open winter. Many sheep in northern Arizona are ready for shipment to the southern desert pastures. Some lambing has commenced and general lambing will begin in about thirty days. Alfalfa and other farm pastures are making good growth in Arizona but the prospect for early grass in New Mexico is discouraging due to the lack of moisture.

THE MARKETS

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET

CHICAGO, Jan. 23 (AP)—Helped by strength of European exchange, the wheat market rallied today somewhat from recent sharp declines in prices. The closing was firm, 3.5 to 1c higher, with May $1.10 1-2 to 1 1-8 5-8 and July $1.11 5-8 to 1 1-8 3-4. Corn finished unchanged at 1-1-2 lower, on 1-8 to 1-4 to 1-1c up and provisions varying from 7c decline to 5c advance.

Trades with eastern and foreign connections were early buyers of wheat and gave the market an upward impulse, although afterward temporarily overdone, but the market was not so much affected, though it was only a natural reaction after the big break which had been recorded.

Corn was weak owing to some degree to the prevailing mild weather. Dealers were firmer with wheat. Provisions held about steady in the absence of any aggressive action either way on the part of leading interests.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23 (AP)—Prices in today's stock market opened strong, reacted in the early afternoon and then strengthened again before the close, making final quotations irregularly higher. The afternoon reaction accompanied marking up of the call money rate from four to five per cent, news of the Turkish rejection of the British proposal regarding the Mosul oil fields and a sensational break in Fisher Body stock, which dropped from 203 to 162, and then rallied to 172 for a last sale of 170.

The reaction was halted by a bullish demonstration in the rubber shares, which accompanied announcement of another increase in the price of natural rubber to 7.8c a pound. There also was a heavy accumulation of railroad shares just before the close, several in-

PUBLICATION OF CITY AUDIT IS COUNCIL TOPIC

Payment of Warrants, Settlement of $5,000 Suit and Water Reduction Also Discussed

Publication of the five year audit of the city's books, issuance of bonds to pay outstanding warrants and the reduction of water rates by about 10 per cent, were the principal matters of importance before Twin Falls commissioners meeting last night. Action on all three propositions was deferred until next Tuesday night.

The principal point arising during the discussion on the audit was whether the city could be held liable for all statements contained in the audit. S. D. Davis, city attorney, stated that it was his opinion that the accounting firm, being under bond, was responsible for the contents of the audit.

Favor Publication.

Commissioners S. S. All and J. E. Roberts expressed themselves as being in favor of publication of the report. Mr. All raised the question of leaving out part of the report but in subsequent discussion there was general agreement on the advisability of making the entire audit public.

David W. McGrovey, representing the Drake-Balinger company, bonding firm at Minneapolis, related out to the council that about one and one-half per cent can be saved in interest on outstanding city warrants if taken up by bonds. The city now has a total of approximately $60,000 in unpaid warrants drawing 7 per cent interest. Mr. McGrovey offered a proposition permitting the city to pay the warrants with bonds drawing five and one-half per cent interest. Decision in the matter rests with the council and a bond election is not required.

Out Water Rates.

J. T. Krivanek, street and water works superintendent, applied for permission to cut present water charges by about 10 per cent to the flat rate patrons. A new ordinance covering the reduction will be drawn up and presented at the next meeting. Mr. Krivanek stated that the present water rates are made on the cost basis of 1919 and that they have not been reduced since that time.

Talk Settlement.

B. A. Van Meter appeared before the council with the suggestion that his claim for $3,000 damages against the city for accidental injuries be settled by arbitration rather than by court procedure. Commissioner J. E. Roberts was in favor of leaving the matter to an arbitration committee of three. At the mayor's suggestion the matter was taken under advisement and he reported upon at the next meeting.

Grant Licenses.

Applications for the position of tourist park keeper were received from H. S. Palmer and L. C. Bates and filed. The latter of these was granted a license for the first quarter of this year. Member licenses were granted Skaggs United market; Central market, Gem grocery; William Clausen, a Klamath Wholesale company, Charlie Bungalow Grocery, Star market and the Market-etc.

Milk licenses were granted William Clausen the Marketeria and the Central market.

THREE ARE HELD FOR ROBBERIES

Local Youths Confess, Officers Say, to Burglary and Stealing Cars

The robbery of the Longeneberger-Belmont general store at Hazelton Tuesday night, an attempted robbery of the Reynolds hardware store at Piler and the disappearance of two automobiles from Twin Falls, last week were solved with the arrest of Tom Fuller and Ralph Hoppie here Monday night. Albert Johnson at Jerome early Tuesday morning.

The prisoners, whose ages are between 18 and 20 years, pleaded guilty Tuesday afternoon to the charges of burglary and stealing cars and were taken to the county jail. Information was filed in district court yesterday by J. W. Taylor, prosecuting attorney, and the case will be disposed of before Judge Babcock.

Roadie Here.

Fuller and Hoppie are residents of Twin Falls and are said to have been in trouble before. Johnson's home is in Minneapolis.

That the boys had planned an extensive series of burglaries is the opinion of the officers here, which they used to breaking into the hardware store at Piler. It is said, to obtain weapons for future use. Failing in their efforts at Piler, they planned to break into stores at other places in this district, officers believe.

Steel Second Car.

After abandoning the automobile stolen from Mrs. Ernest White north of Shoshone, the boys returned to this city, and it is said, stole a car owned by C. R. Achenbach, who is a former employer of Hoppie. They drove the stolen car to the hardware store at Piler, where they planned to break in. The boys were arrested at Jerome.

Are Identified.

The boys were identified by persons living near Jerome from whom the boys borrowed some tools which they used for breaking into the store safe at Hazelton.

The boys claimed they got only $40 each in the haul from the store at Hazelton. Two thirty-two dollar and one $100 and the other for $30, were recovered.

PRICE OF WOOL ENTERS DEBATE

Investigation of Increased Prices of Suit and Overcoat Cloth Suggested in Senate

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—Congressional investigation of increased prices of suit and overcoat cloth being suggested by manufacturers was suggested in the senate today during a clash between Senators Smoot, republicans, Utah, and Walsh, democrats, Massachusetts, regarding the effect of the tariff on clothing costing. Senator Walsh accepted and Senator Smoot denied that the increased tariff on wool was responsible for rising clothing prices.

Between the two sides, the wool is responsible and added that, figuring eight pounds of wool to an overcoat, if the garment was all wool, the total cost, including import, would be nearly as great as the manufacturer's increases.

Effect of the tariff law was argued between the two sides. Senator Walsh contended that assertions of the republicans that no increase in clothing cost would result, were disproved by Senator Smoot declaring that "dire predictions" of democrats of the effect of the bill had "fallen."

Smoot Quotes Figures.

Senator Walsh argued that the increased tariff rates were a factor in the increase in the world wool prices. Senator Smoot said the increase in world wool prices should not make a difference of more than $2 or $3 on the cost of a suit of clothes. "With the wool at 31 cents a pound and wool under the new law, Senator Smoot said that estimating four pounds of wool to a suit the total cost of wool, including the tariff is $124."

The wool tariff, said Senator Smoot, is not "catch the highbrows who are not satisfied with American cloth, but must have something from England or France."
