

SENATE BALKS AT LIMITS ON EXPENDITURES

Joins with House in Rejection of Amendments that Would Reduce Rivers and Harbors Appropriation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP)—The senate today aligned itself with the house in deciding to overrule the budget bureau's recommendation as to expenditures for work on rivers and harbors.

By a vote of 46 to 35 the senate tabled amendments to the annual army appropriation bill which would have reduced the waterways item from $56,530,000, as passed by the house, to the $27,000,000 figure set by the budget bureau. A final effort by Senator Wadsworth, Republican, New York, to cut the item to $50,000,000 was defeated 48 to 44.

The vote on the waterways provision came after the senate had devoted practically three days to its consideration and it was expected to clear the way for early action on the army bill itself. Mr. Wadsworth, who has charge of the measure on the floor, obtained an agreement today for limitation of debate after 2 p. m. tomorrow to 10 minutes for each senator on any amendment. It was thought probable that a final vote would be reached before adjournment, leaving the British debt funding question and the shipping bill as the principal unfinished business.

GAME BIRDS FROM CHINA COMING TO WASHINGTON

Bamboo Quail and Mongolian Pheasants Secured by State Warden, to be Distributed Among Counties

SPOKANE, Wash., Feb. 8 (AP)—Bamboo quail and Mongolian pheasants direct from the province of southern China will be distributed in Spokane county this spring, according to word received here.

J. W. Kinney, state game warden, has secured a shipment of the Oriental game birds from a Seattle importer who has recently arrived on the coast from China with a cargo of 1200 live game birds.

According to present plans the birds will be distributed in various counties in the state in proportion to the amount of money each has turned in from hunting license fees.

Mongolian pheasants have been planted in Spokane county before, but the Bamboo quail will be a new game bird to this part of the country, both birds come from a cold section of China, where the winters are more severe than in this section of the country, so experts believe that the birds will do well in Washington. Although definite word has not yet been received concerning the date on which the birds will be liberated, local game commissioners believe that Spokane county's share of the birds will arrive here early in March for immediate liberation.

SPOKANE, Wash., Feb. 8 (AP)—The 1923 Sportsmen's and Tourist's fair to be held in Spokane May 22 to 25, inclusive, will be twice the size of the one last year and will be international in aspect, according to plans of the committee in charge.

Last year's fair was confined to the Inland Empire, but in this year's event Washington, Oregon, Idaho, western Montana and British Columbia will be included, according to the committee.

More than 20 of last year's exhibitors already have applied for space at the 1923 fair, according to Chairman T. M. R. Kenne, president of the Spokane County Sportsmen's association. Other exhibitors will include representatives of national firearm and fishing tackle manufacturers.

PIRATES ROB RUM RUNNER

British Schooner Mosher Bobs Up Again in News With Report of Highjacking Operations on Seas

NEW YORK, Feb. 8 (AP)—The British schooner Marion Mosher, alleged rum runner, whose capture by American duty forces led to international complications, bobbed up again Wednesday in the news, this time as a victim of rum pirates.

The office of the collector of the port received word from Henry S. Culver, American consul at St. John, N. B., that the Mosher had just reached that port with her holds empty. The explanation given by her master, the consul said, was that pirates had robbed his craft on the high seas.

DETAIL DAMAGE IN SHOP STRIKE

Railroad Officials of Middle-western States Testify for Government Injunction

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 8 (AP)—Railroad officials from Missouri, Arkansas and Texas and local business men testified to effects of the shermen's strike last summer on transportation and business conditions at the government hearing here Wednesday. The hearing is being held to take depositions to support the government's plea for making permanent the Wilkeson injunction against the striking ship-crafts.

Officials of the Burlington and St. Louis-Southwestern told of attacks upon employees by alleged strikers at various points and to curtailment of traffic as a result of the strike. It has been testified that the strike cost the Burlington $3,000,000 and the Missouri Pacific $5,000,000. Neither of the railroads has reached an agreement with the shopercrafts.

W. J. Edwards, president of the Merchants' Exchange, the local grain market, declared that the strike "paralyzed the movement of grain" between last July and November. E. F. Bibbee, vice-president of the national stock yards at East St. Louis, Ill., said there was a similar effect upon livestock shipments.

SORORITIES BAN FLOWERS

Oregon Coeds Vote to Prohibit Carrying Bouquets Escort to Dance to Provide Bonquets

EUGENE, Ore., Feb. 8 (AP)—Women's sororities at the University of Oregon have voted to prohibit the wearing of flowers in a corsage or any other style by the women at social gatherings at which these organizations are hosts.

Custom at the University of Oregon has long ruled that when a man is invited by a woman to attend a formal dinner given by the organization of which the woman is a member, he shall send her some kind of flowers, either suitable for a corsage or for a boutonniere.

Although men students have long complained of the expense that devolves upon them if they accept invitations to sorority formal, they have never presented an organized opposition to the tradition of flowers. The action in dispensing with flowers is said to have been taken entirely on the initiative of the women's organizations.

West's "Big Three" Rivals for East's

Berkeley, Stanford and Southern California to Form Inter-Collegiate Trio

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8 (AP)—California's next great athletic product may be an intercollegiate "Big Three" whose clashes may draw throngs almost equal to those which attend the games and events between the "Big Three" of the east, Yale, Harvard and Princeton. The University of California, Stanford university and the University of Southern California, all natural rivals, would form the new western trio.

Far-western athletic observers see this California "Big Three" rising as a result of several happenings. One is the construction of mammoth stadiums for teams of each of the institutions. The California stadium, as planned, will seat 70,000, the Stanford arena holds 65,000 and the new Pasadena stadium, which the U. S. C. will use, will accommodate 60,000. Despite their size, however, none of the western amphitheatres will surpass the Yale bowl, which holds 75,000.

Another reason for the prediction is found in the fact that the three schools are natural rivals. Stanford and California draw their students from northern and southern California, while the Los Angeles school depends largely upon the country south of the Tehachapi for its athletes. Several years ago Stanford and California were the outstanding traditional rivals of this state, but in late years U. S. C. has been forging ahead and soon, it is predicted will be on a par with the other two. The Trojans have defeated Stanford at football three times in as many years and their games against California last year drew a record crowd of 40,000. It will be several years, yet however, before they can equal the Stanford-California crowds.

Stanford took the lead in stadium-building in California when, in 1921, it dug out its huge bowl. Pasadena completed its stadium last year. The foundations for the great California bowl have been placed and it is expected the structure will be ready for the football games of 1923.

The inauguration of this mythical western "Big Three" may, of course, never come to pass. Even then it would not necessarily involve the disappearance of the Pacific Coast Conference. The California schools still have too much respect for the athletic abilities of the Washington, Oregon and Idaho members to think of interfering with the conference at this time. Later, it is said, when the north-western schools also have stadiums proportionate with their growing interest in college athletics, the western "Big Three" might even become a "Big Eight."

HOUSE PASSES BILL TO WELD TWO SERVICES

Proposed Consolidation of the Diplomatic and Consular Branches Steers Safe Course Through Lower Body

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP)—The administration bill providing for the consolidation of the diplomatic and consular services was passed today by the house.

The measure now goes to the senate. Amalgamation of the foreign service into a single organization with diplomatic and consular branches and complete interchangeability of personnel would be provided by the bill. A single service, whether consular or diplomatic, and extra allowances would be authorized for representatives of the United States at foreign capitals, the purpose being to eliminate the possibility of large pay cuts as an essential qualification for appointment. Increased compensation would be given many consular and diplomatic officials below the grade of minister, and the civil service retirement act would be extended to the foreign service.

Representatives Blank and Blanton, democrats of Texas, led a fight against the measure, Mr. Blanton objecting to the added expense, which, he said, the passage would entail, and Mr. Blank opposing features of the bill dealing with the civil service.

Representative Rogers, republican, Massachusetts, who piloted the measure through the house, said it would strengthen and vitalize the service and broaden competition among young men of ability who desired to embark on a diplomatic career.

DRINK WATER TO HELP WASH OUT KIDNEY POISON

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Begin Taking Salts

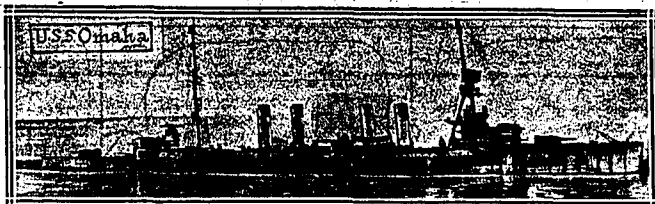

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore don't get worried and proceed to lower your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood, to 24 hours strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a teaspoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with bicarb, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; to help neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful after-dinner drink; water, which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and you doubt you will wonder why you became of your kidney trouble and backache. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year—adv.

Canadian Wolves Don't Attack Men, Trappers Assert

Reports of Increasing Number of Packs Along Boundary are Confirmed, but Danger to Human Beings Minimized

TORONTO, Feb. 8 (AP)—Wolves are not man-killers. This is the unanimous opinion of trappers contained in a flood of letters to Toronto newspapers following publication of a report that there was danger to livestock, and possibly humans, along the northern boundary of the United States because of the large number of wolves driven southward toward civilization by a hard winter. The writers confirm reports of the increasing number of wolf packs, but declare there is no confirmation of attacks on trappers and hunters.

W. T. Thompson, dealer in furs at Ignace, replying to an inquiry about a story circulated in December of the killing of two Indians and a white trapper north of that place, writes:

"We do not know of this here, as it is supposed to have happened about seventy miles north, but personally I do not think there is anything in it. Wolves are very numerous around here, but I have lived in this country for 25 years and have yet to hear of anyone being killed by wolves."

Tom Saville, trapper at Gogama, in the Sanbury district, writes: "I never like to cast gloom on a good story, but that one about the Indians being torn to pieces is going too far. All these so-called wild beasts are scared stiff at the sight of a man." Saville tells about meeting a pack of about twenty, face to face in a blinding snow storm and adds:

"The leader, a big, grizzled long-legged chap, looked me over from a distance of about twenty feet; the rest of the pack ranged all round him, their tails straight out for just about as long as it takes to stiffen them with fear. Then they broke; they just flattened out on the ice and flew—twenty of them."

PREHISTORIC ANIMALS ARE UNEARTHED IN CHINA

Swedish Scientific Expedition Reports Discoveries in Orient of Paleontological Significance

UPSALA, Sweden, Feb. 8 (AP)—Upsala university has been informed by the news that the Swedish Paleontological Expedition in China has made remarkable discoveries of the skeletons of prehistoric animals which will be sent to the natural history department here for mounting and preservation. These finds are characterized as "of great significance to all international paleontological research."

The Swedish expedition in China, which has divided the field by agreement with the American expedition headed by Roy Chapman Andrews, is under the personal direction of Professor J. G. Anderson. Researches are carried on in the remote stretches of Mongolia, as well as in the region about Shantung.

Professor Anderson reports that a mesozoic deposit has been found near Shantung containing dinosaurs, turtles, and fishes, and a large oolite deposit containing reptiles and mammals. Similar remains have been discovered at Potehau, and have been dug up by the Swedish expert Dr. Otto Zdansky. These finds will be shipped to Upsala University.

In connection with these reports it may be recalled that the Swedish explorer, Dr. Sven Hedin, has announced his intention of heading a new expedition through unknown parts of Asia with an entire staff of Swedish experts.

HAMBURG'S MYSTERY HOUSE IS RAIDED BY AUTHORITIES

Police here have uncovered here a "den" for the disposal of large quantities of valuable articles stolen in Mexico.

They were advised recently that jewelry, gold novelties, etc., were being surreptitiously sold at a certain private dwelling in Hamburg. The upshot was an investigation revealing valuables worth $50,000,000 marks. All bore the imprints of Mexican firms.

Sun's Eclipse to Last Two Minutes

Total Darkening of Luminary to be Visible Over Part of United States

CHICAGO, Feb. 8 (AP)—A total eclipse of the sun will be visible over part of the United States September 10 of this year, lasting for about two minutes, but Chicago and the middle west will have only a partial eclipse to view, and a very small one at that, even less than was seen here June 8, 1918, when the last total eclipse visited the United States.

Chicago, though is becoming rather used to being neglected by such astronomical phenomena, for the available records show that the last time the moon intervened totally blotted out the sun's rays from falling on the southern end of Lake Michigan was 1151 years ago.

That was the year—772 A. D.—that Chauliugne started his war against the Saxons. The eclipse only took a couple of minutes, but it took Chauliugne thirty-two years to finish the war.

The best spot for observing the coming eclipse next September will be on Catalina Island, off the coast of California, scientists say. Edwin B. Frost, director of Yerkes observatory, Williams Bay, Wisconsin, will make an expedition there. The total eclipse will last about two minutes, starting at 12:54 p. m., September 10, at Catalina.

RUPERT LOSES TO TWIN FALLS

Visitors Brace in the Second Frame but Fail to Overcome Lead; Score 26 to 22

Twin Falls high school's hoop artists made two straight from the Rupert quintet Thursday evening when they won a hard fought battle from the castenders on the local gym floor by the score of 26 to 22.

The game was close throughout, Rupert offering stubborn resistance at all times.

The first half ended with Twin Falls holding comfortable lead, being on the right side of a 19 to 9 score. In this half the locals made six field goals and seven free throws, while the invaders found the basket twice and made five free throws.

The second half found both teams rather sluggish at the start, although the Rupert boys braced up considerably in the last five minutes of play and added 12 points to their total while the best the blue and white locals could do in the last half was seven points.

The floor work and basket shooting of Stone, left guard for the visitors, was good, while the free throwing of Burcher netted the Rupert squad eight points.

For the home team, Scott, King and Jenkins come in for honorable mention. Scott made two dandy baskets from the middle of the floor, while King proved a tower of strength at guarding the basket. Jenkins, all around player, with three dandy baskets, puts "Swede" on the honor roll.

Coch Evans tried out the five man defense style of play and although the locals haven't whipped into line, they showed vast improvement over last week's play, and should be in tip top shape for their next Friday evening.

The work of Referee Hudson was a total feature.

Rupert is the first team to give nine for Twin Falls falls before the game.

JUNIORS WIN FROM KIMBERLY. The junior high school basketball team won from the Kimberly eighth graders Thursday afternoon at the high school gym by the score of 64 to 11.

The Kimberly lads being much lighter than their opponents, were unable to cope with the speed and fast playing of the locals.

The junior high team will journey to Jerome this afternoon for a game with the North Riders.

First High Heels. According to books on costumes of the past centuries high heels were worn by women during the reign of Charles II in the Fourteenth century.

They seem to have attained their greatest height and popularity in the reign of Louis XIV and Louis XV of France. During the latter period dress accessories were greatly exaggerated, the headpiece being sometimes several feet in height and the width of the dresses and the height of the heels of shoes exaggerated accordingly. It is probable that the term "Louis" clung to the highest french heels for this reason.

The Troy Laundry men made artists walloped the Wright's store men at the Twin Falls bowling alleys last night, winning the first and third games in handy fashion.

In the opening avalanche the cleaners cracked the alley record for high game by knocking over 889 pins, while the department store men were hushed 809. In this game Riley Miller sweetened his average by making 223.

High game of the evening with 223, which is also high for a league game. Wright's men braced up in the second, while the Laundry outfit rested, and won easily, the score being 848 to 745.

The last game was won by the Cubbit club by the scant margin of 14 pins, the final score reading 797 to 783.

Emerly Benoit was out of town, but had benoit his games Tuesday evening, the score being added to last evening's play.

The game in the last spasm went to Charley Hill with 198.

Hill was also responsible for being the high average with 290 pins over in the three games made by his team-mate, Art Fink, in last week's play.

Although the Wright's store men lost the odd game they led in total pins with 2194, with the Troy gang knocking down 2131.

Michigan's Veteran Team Builder Gives Views on What Constitutes Success in His Field of Work

CHICAGO, Feb. 8. (AP)—The successful college football coach has to have a thorough general education, understand boys intimately, be able to plan battles and develop strategy, must command the admiration and respect of everyone with whom he comes in contact, and must be physically able to stand long hours and a strenuous life.

That is the analysis of a coach, according to Fielding H. Yost, veteran team builder of the University of Michigan.

Unlike other teachers in the university, his success is measured from year to year by the victories his team wins over opponents who are striving just as hard for victory. If the students of a professor in any college were required to pass the same test in competition with rivals from other seats of learning, and the professors were ranked accordingly, there would be a lot of them doomed to failure, Coach Yost observes.

"Too often," he said today, "coaches are judged only by their success in turning out winning teams. The coach who strives for an ideal, commands the respect and admiration of his men and makes those with whom he comes in contact better men, is successful as a coach, whether his team record shows it or not."

The success of a winning coach, the Michigan leader says, "varies with his originality and strategy in work; his out-maneuvering of opponents; and his success upon the personal which he is given to develop.

"His hours of labor are long and he must do considerable work outside of the field. The time which a coach spends on the gridiron with his men is only a small part of the time which he must devote to his job.

"New plays must be worked out, opinions of other coaches must be given consideration and finally the entire plan of development decided upon, with every detail of construction cared for.

How the coach must be accepted favorably by the public, alumni, and students who are loud in their praise of winners and equally loud in their criticism of losers.

"He must hold the respect of all and his ideals must be high.

One of the first requisites of a coach is executive ability and besides his ability to inspire confidence in his men, he must have unlimited ability in imparting this knowledge to them."

"OVER THE HILL"

It is no wonder that the Orpheum theatre was packed last night during the opening performance here of this Fox special production. It is one of those rare pictures which the director made human and the public made great.

How strange it is that producers have wasted so much time over the struggles of silk stocking ingenues with the high cost of living, when people all along have been eager to sympathize with ordinary folk whose problems are closely akin to those of the majority!

"Over the Hill" is a success because it presents a homely story so convincingly as to arouse the finest emotions of each spectator. It is narrative rather than plot, humble rather than pretentious; but its people and its problems are very real, and its climax satisfying—marvelously so.

The story was elaborated and modernized from the poems of Will Carleton. It will be recalled by many that when the author of "Farm Balada" took "mother" over the hills to the porchouse there arose such protest that he had to write another poem and bring her back.

Wandals Fortifying Hoop Game at Buhl for Hard Contests

Would Balance Accounts When University of Washington Comes to Moscow

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, Feb. 8.—The University of Idaho basketball team are fortifying themselves for a hard series of home games this month. So far this season Idaho has not fared so well as was expected.

On the coast trip the Vandals lost to Washington and Oregon, and soon after returning home lost to Washington State at Pullman.

Saturday night, February 10, the University of Washington team plays at Moscow, and Idaho hopes to get even for the 27 to 30 defeat at Seattle in the first conference game. February 14 Willamette university comes to Moscow for northwest conference clash.

The third week will be a hard one for the Vandals and probably somewhat harder on their championship aspirations. Monday, February 19, Oregon visits Moscow, and Wednesday the Oregon Aggies bring in their powerful quintet. Friday and Saturday the Vandals and Coconags stage their final two games of the season.

Oregon defeated Idaho 42 to 35 at Eugene and Idaho defeated the Oregon Aggies 23 to 22. To complicate matters the Aggies turned around and walloped Oregon 40 to 33. Therefore these two games lose us as real scraps on the Vandal calendar and with the week closing with the two Washington games which are always colorful affairs, it should be the most interesting bit of the schedule so far.

With three defeats already marked up against Idaho the chances to repeat with a championship team are not the best, although by taking all home games they might be able to finish near the top, provided the other teams divide their games favorably.

APPROVES GASOLINE TAX MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 8. (AP)—The house today concurred with the senate in the gasoline tax bill, which provides for a revenue of two cents on each gallon of gasoline sold in the state. The bill will become a law upon the signature of Governor Brandon.

SMOOTH SAILING SEEN IN HOUSE FOR DEBT BILL

Advocates of Early Action on Funding Settlement Hold to Hope of Displacing Shipping Measure in Senate

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP)—Arrangements were made today in the house to bring up tomorrow legislation which would give effect to the British debt settlement measure submitted to congress yesterday by President Harding. Passage of the measure by an overwhelming majority was regarded as a foregone conclusion and republican managers hoped to obtain a vote before night.

Final action then would rest with the senate, but there were indications that the administration shipping bill would be given precedence there, at least for a time. Advocates of early action on the debt question had not given up hope, however, of bringing the ship bill with the debt legislation.

Gives Unanimous Consent.

Unanimous consent for consideration of the debt measure was given in the house after the American debt committee had reported out by a vote of 12 to 3, the bill introduced yesterday by Representative Burton, republican, Ohio, a member of the American debt commission. As amended by the committee, the measure not only would give congressional approval to the work of the British and American debt commission, but would also give the American commission to effect settlements "similar but not more favorable in terms," with the other debtor nations.

The limitation on the terms to be reached with France, Italy, Belgium and the other nations owing money to the United States was written in at the suggestion of republican members of the committee after Mr. Burton had announced at an open hearing that it was not the purpose of the American commission to arrange terms with those countries which were more favorable than those given Great Britain.

Democrats Divide.

Three democrats on the committee voted against the legislation and two voted for it. Those supporting were Crisp of Georgia and Martin of Louisiana, and those opposing were Collier, Mississippi; Oldfield, Arkansas, and Carew, New York. The republicans were unanimously in favor of the bill.

A division among the democrats in the house vote was forecast, but in agreeing to consideration of the measure tomorrow, Representative Garrett of Tennessee, the democratic leader, said that regardless of how they voted the democrats had no disposition to delay action.

Schedules Debate.

Representative Mondell, Wyoming, the republican leader, announced that debate on the bill would not be "unusually limited." While there was no public announcement, the majority managers said there would probably be about four hours of general discussion, with the time equally divided between the two sides. This arrangement would make possible a vote late in the day, as it was agreed that the house should meet an hour earlier than usual.

Idaho on List of States on Better Employment Basis

Federal Government Report Shows Marked Improvement in Conditions in January Over Country

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP)—Employment conditions throughout the United States in January showed marked improvement over the favorable conditions of December, according to the monthly report of the United States employment service, issued today.

Manufacturing industries almost without exception showed shortages of both skilled and common labor. Many mining districts made similar reports, although here and there production was held back by car shortages. The lumber industries also reported shortages of labor, both in the woods and in the mills. Only the agricultural, food and some of the seasonal industries experienced surpluses and in none of these was the condition described as serious. The building industry was shown to be active throughout the country, except in a few northern sections where operations were retarded by the weather.

Heavy activity in the mining sections was noted in the mountain districts, comprising Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah and Nevada, with labor shortages in most places. Large operations also were in progress in the lumber industries despite that snow had stopped work in the higher altitudes, and employment was normal in manufacturing lines.

TURKS' THREAT FAILS

Edsall was taken on the tonnage ground for the purpose of avoiding the necessity of passing upon the more delicate question of American neutrality. The Edsall or some other destroyer will remain at Smyrna to look out for American interests.

Published explanations of the Turkish reasons for ordering foreign warcraft out of Smyrna would indicate that it was not intended by the Ankara government to limit American or any other neutral craft in this prohibition. It has been stated that the Ankara government viewed the presence of allied warships at Smyrna as a possible source of danger to the Turkish army in the event of further hostilities between Turkish and Greek forces.

Since the United States is not an ally of Greece against Turkey, the same argument could not apply to American ships in Smyrna harbor, a condition which the action of the Turkish military commander there probably recognized in holding that the exclusion order did not apply to the Edsall.

American Protest Unlikely.

Reports that the American vice-consul at Smyrna had protested jointly with the warship representatives against the warship exclusion order have not been confirmed in official advices. So far as the state department knows, such action has been taken. The advice saying that the Edsall at Smyrna had been exempted were construed as making an American action in the matter unnecessary on the basis of present information.

In view of the reported Turkish refusal to close Smyrna harbor by laying mines, it is to be assumed that American vessels stationed in Turkish waters will move in or out of Smyrna only when necessary and with the complete cooperation of Turkish authorities who would naturally forbid a pilot. The closure of the harbor was expected to become effective today.

Shipments Since January 1 Greater Than Last Year—Traffic of 1922 Slightly Under 1921—Total

The amount of freight forwarded through the Twin Falls office of the Oregon Short Line since January 1 was over 25 per cent greater than for the same period last year and the amount received was approximately 10 per cent greater, according to a resume just completed by local officials of the total business handled in 1921, 1922 and to date in 1923.

Among the commodities shipped out during 1922 beans show the greatest increase over the shipments of the previous year. A total 209 cars of beans were forwarded from the local freight offices last year as compared to 77 cars in 1921. Hay, flour and merchandise increased over the 1921 figures and the total shipments of potatoes in 1922 was 653 cars as compared to 497 in 1921. Livestock shipments forwarded also increased slightly.

In point of shipments received during 1922 the gains are not as great as compared to the shipments received in 1921.

Livestock forwarded since January 1 totaled 62 cars as compared to 37 cars for the same period last year. Fourteen cars of cattle billed to San Diego, California, were loaded Tuesday, besides nine cars of sheep for the Omaha market and a car of chickens for Los Angeles.

DECLARES VON BISSING INNOCENT OF EXECUTION

British Newspaper Correspondent Pleads Guilt for Death of Edith Cavell as Door of Von Sauberweig

LONDON, Feb. 8 (AP)—Responsibility for the execution of Edith Cavell, the British nurse shot down during the war in Brussels, has now definitely been placed at the door of General von Sauberweig, according to the Brussels correspondent of the Daily Telegraph. The death of Miss Cavell has generally been attributed to General von Bissing, at that time governor of Brussels, but a letter from Baron von Der Lancken to the German foreign secretary, which has been recently made public, reveals that official of this slur on his name, the correspondent writes.

It is also established that General von Sauberweig had the power to stay the execution in order to give time for an appeal to the emperor for mercy. To accomplish this General von Sauberweig would have had only to withhold his confirmation of the sentence of the court martial.

Baron von Der Lancken was in Brussels at the time as an observer for the German Imperial Chancellery. He wrote the following letter: "The Cavell affair is known to your excellency in all its details. The effect of it has been what I predicted to von Sauberweig in an interview I had with him without, however, being able to shake him from his point of view regarding the opportuneness of the execution."

General von Sauberweig, as successor to General von Kraewel, was ordered to institute a reign of terror in Brussels, the correspondent declares, and throughout his administration arrests and condemnations followed one another without cessation.

A Judicious Inquiry. A well known traveling man who visits the drug trade says he has often heard druggists ask a customer, who wished to buy a cough medicine, whether it was for a child or an adult, and if for a child, they almost invariably recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know there is no danger from it and that it always cures. There is not the least danger in giving it, and for children and whooping cough it is unsurpassed—adv.
