

CONFEREES IN AGREEMENT ON MILITARY BILL

Amount Decided Upon for Use of War Department for Year Occupies Middle Ground of House and Senate Views

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—Appropriations of $336,347,000 for the war department for the next fiscal year are provided under an agreement on the annual army bill reached late today by the senate and house conferees. The amount is about $4,000,000 less than provided by the senate and $3,000,000 more than that provided by the house.

Only a few differences between the house and senate had remained for adjustment and the conferees action virtually completed the measure, which in the last of the unfinished appropriation bills of the session.

The compromise was accepted by the senate tonight and now is to be presented to the house. Under its provisions designed to prohibit retirement pay to Major General Harbord, retired, former deputy chief of staff, would be modified to permit General Harbord, who is now the head of a railro corporation, to receive retirement pay, but would prohibit retired army officers from accepting employment with concerns whose principal business is sales to the government.

No Change in Man Power.

No substantial changes were made in the provision for an army of 125,000 men and 12,000 officers. The conferees also left unchanged the rivers and harbors fund of $56,589,000. Appropriations for river and harbor surveys were fixed at $136,500, a senate addition of $500,000 being eliminated.

Comprises an appropriation for the organized reserves, the reserve officers' training corps and civilian military training about were reached. For the organized reserves $900,000 for 15 days training is provided as against $1,100,000 proposed by the house, with $250,000 additional for training in excess of 15 days. For the reserve officers' training corps $3,500,000 is allowed, as compared with $1,900,000 proposed by the senate. For the civilian military training corps, $2,000,000 is provided, a reduction of $200,000 in the senate provision.

For Alaska roads and trails the conferees agreed on $650,000 as against $465,000 proposed by the house and $1,000,000 by the senate.

No change was made in the appropriations for the Muscle Shoals project, for which both senate and house made a provision of $10,500,000 with authorization of $10,500,000 additional.

FRENCH GIRL STUDIES AGRICULTURE AT AMES

Gardening, Dairying, Poultry and Bee Keeping on Curriculum of Young Women Sent Here by Government

AMES, Iowa, Feb. 19 (AP)—Miss Madeline Aydt, who is a student at Iowa State college here, is one of the first of the French government students sent to this country to learn agricultural methods so as to be able to take up the work of reconstruction. The other girl is studying at the University of Georgia.

Miss Aydt will spend a month or two studying English and getting acquainted with customs and practices here. Then she will spend the rest of her agricultural extension experts studying gardening, dairying, poultry and bee keeping.

She plans to return to France next spring where she will inaugurate this work there.

A FEELING OF SECURITY

You naturally feel secure when you know that the medicine you are about to take is absolutely pure and contains no harmful or habit-producing drugs. Such a medicine is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, Kidney, Liver, and Bladder Remedy.

The same standard of purity, strength and excellence is maintained in every bottle of Swamp-Root. It is scientifically compounded from vegetable herbs.

It is not a stimulant and is taken in teaspoonful doses. It is not recommended for everything. It is nature's great helper in relieving and overcoming kidney, liver and bladder troubles.

OFFICIALS JOIN ROTARY BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Presidents, Prime Ministers and Others Contribute Statements on Responsibilities of Citizenship

CHICAGO, Feb. 19 (AP)—With presidents, prime ministers, chief justices, and heads of national legislative bodies throughout the world contributing brief statements of their views on the responsibilities of the individual citizen for the kind of government he gets, ninety thousand members of Rotary International began a world wide campaign Sunday for thorough understanding of these responsibilities as part of the celebration of the eighteenth anniversary of the founding of the first Rotary club.

President Harding, Speaker Gillett of the house of representatives and Attorney General Daugherty are the authors of the text of the citizenship messages Rotarians in the United States are carrying to the people of their communities. President Harding tells in his statement of the responsibilities of the individual citizen for the execution of the laws and declares no citizen can consider himself a good citizen who does not do all in his power to make careful selection from among the candidates for office and then vote for the person he has deliberately selected.

Speaker Gillett also pleads for careful selection of the candidates for legislative office and states that the quack small change being in the same category, in that they arouse sympathy by telling the victim of his real troubles and then offer for their own remedy.

Attorney General Daugherty declares that constitutional government is not possible unless the individual citizen first requires himself with and obeys the law himself.

The three basic statements of the principles of citizenship being used in the United States are duplicated in similar messages from the heads of the main branches of government in most of the twenty-odd countries in which Rotary clubs have been established. The educational work the Rotarians are doing has nothing to do with partisan politics nor are the statements from the three distinguished government officials partisan. They are devoted entirely to the broad principle of the responsibilities of citizenship.

The text messages are being used in addresses to schools, industrial plants, civic organizations, etc., wherever the Rotarians think they can find a good audience. They are being broadcasted from thousands of radio stations and will form the subject of talks at every Rotary meeting during the week.

Stress Principles of Service.

The first Rotary club was organized in Chicago, February 23, 1900. There are now 1225 Rotary clubs with a membership of approximately 90,000 in 27 countries. The clubs are organized for the purpose of practicing and spreading the principles of service through the adoption of codes of ethical practices, in all lines of business and professions, through work among boys to prepare them for citizenship and through utilizing the service idea in aiding and abetting all worthy causes for the general good of the communities in which the clubs are established.

BERLIN'S DANCE CRAZE CURTAILED BY POLICE

Municipal Authorities Decide German Capital Has Too Many Dance Halls and Too Few Apartments

BERLIN, Feb. 19 (AP)—Berlin has too many dance halls and too few apartments, it was decided recently by the municipal authorities, and drastic measures were taken to bring about a change.

Certain fox trot places of amusement have been ordered closed, and the rooms are to be made over into quarters where people may live. Since the dancing craze struck the German capital there has been a demand for rooms of most any kind, particularly in the downtown districts. These were quickly furnished and advertised as dance halls with most pretentious names. In one instance a "dance hall" was brought into being in less than two days. The furnishings consisted chiefly of putting down some linoleum, hanging a few fancy trimmings tables and chairs into every available place, sticking the jazz band from the ceiling, crowding off into a corner, and then permitting the waiters to take charge. The crowd did the rest. The craze reached such a stage recently that officials estimated the city had more places of entertainment and amusement than ever before in history. But the new order has put many of the smaller establishments out of business, and now where jazz music once had full sway after dark, there are entire families slumbering peacefully.

MARRIES 10,000 COUPLES

BRAZIL, Ind., Feb. 19 (AP)—George E. Law, a local justice of the peace, claims to have been the presiding official in 10,443 marriages in his time. This record it was claimed, surpasses by more than twice the number of marriage ceremonies any other man has performed in Indiana. Mr. Law said the people he had married together with their children, probably would make up a city of more than 50,000 inhabitants.

Attention Farmers

Sugar advanced one dollar and twenty-five cents per hundred pounds.

According to statistics there is a sugar shortage of two million tons. At the present price of sugar, beets are worth eight dollars and thirty-seven cents per ton, which would make one hundred and thirty dollars and eighty cents per acre for a fifteen ton per acre crop. Many of our growers produce twenty tons per acre, which would bring returns of one hundred seventy-four dollars and forty cents per acre.

We are at the present time contracting beet acreage, and we ask all farmers to consider seriously the putting of a part of your farms into beets as sugar beets is the safest crop you can grow, and will give better returns than any crop we know of.

The larger the acreage the better price we can pay for beets.

COUNTY CHANGE IN RATING IS A THING OF PAST

Senator Pike, in Open Letter to Twin Falls Man, Outlines Plan for Correction of Quarterly Payment Trouble

Editor News, Twin Falls, Idaho.
Dear Sir:—The following is a copy of a letter that I have just written to Mr. M. F. Sweoley, inasmuch as he addressed an open letter to me in your columns last Tuesday, I take it that I had perhaps better reply in the same way so I may reach the same audience to did.

Sincerely,
DR. W. F. PIKE.

Dear Mr. Sweoley:
Your letter of February 11th, a copy of which was published in The News, relative to the possible advantages and disadvantages of placing Twin Falls into the list of counties of the first class, has been given due consideration. Your consistent record of interest in public matters affecting the welfare of our community, and your zeal in attempting to put into effect those things you believe in, would always assure an attentive hearing on my part, of any proposition you cared to discuss, even though I did not agree with your views.

As a matter of fact, I find myself in accord with much that you say. Inasmuch as the introduction of the bill calling for the proposed change and my call for possible protests on the subject, the resultant discussion has served to clear away much of the fog surrounding the matter in hand. I find that you are correct in your statement that the placing of the county in the second class, should the reclassification be accomplished, had been wrongly advised on the point, but gave it little consideration anyway, for the board of commissioners had notified me unofficially, before I ever introduced the bill that they would accept no increase of salary even if allowed to do so by the change.

County Bills Monthly.

I think we all agree that if the county commissioners could pay the county bills monthly there would be a considerable saving effected. The question was and is, how to accomplish this. The constitution clearly specifies that salaries and expenses will be paid quarterly. A statute passed in 1921 and later amended which provides that such salaries and expenses should be paid monthly was declared void by the supreme court who took occasion to express regret that the constitution is inflexible in the matter. In response to the insistence by myself and Mr. Joseph Seaver that first class counties have no more right to pay current claims every 30 days than counties of any other class, I asked Attorney General A. H. Connor for a ruling in writing on the question. He replied "No," and stated further that the constitution prohibits it. Acting in line therewith the county attorney at Twin Falls made a similar ruling. That would seem to settle the matter; therefore, as far as Twin Falls county, is concerned, no change will be made in the classification. On that point let us consider the matter closed.

Amendments Proposed.

I do not give up, however, in the attempt to accomplish what I consider another means. Let me tell you something of interest. Roy L. Black, who has been for the last four years the attorney general, and whom I consider a very capable man, has ruled, I understand, and certainly is emphatic now in his statement that first class counties can pay bills other than salaries and officers' expenses every 30 days, as it is at present, and that by a change in statutes all counties may. It is a curious fact that in all this discussion, and despite the ruling of the present attorney general, the question of the payment of current bills other than salaries, but only on the question of monthly salary payment, and nowhere does the constitution forbid the payment of such bills monthly, in Mr. Black's opinion.

For Monthly Payments.

Therefore, I introduced today a constitutional amendment calling for the monthly payments of salaries of county officials, which, if passed and voted upon favorably in November, 1924, will obviate the difficulty in the future and avoid any possible objection by the court. Also, in line with Mr. Black's suggestion, I have introduced a bill providing that counties of all classes may pay monthly such bills as are not prohibited expressly by the constitution from being paid monthly. If this bill passes then we'll "catch them coming and going," and I trust that will meet the approval of the folks at home, including yourself.

All is going reasonably well. Four bills that I have introduced, and sponsored personally have gone through the senate, three of them without a dissenting vote, and two of them are up to the governor. The "Lazy Husband Law" and several others, as well as those pertaining to our county matters are yet to run the gauntlet.

Assuring you of my appreciation of

MUST USE SLANG WITH CARE

Author's Handling of Forceful Words of the Moment May Be Lost on Future Readers.

If authors who have passed beyond this vale of tears might return for a time and re-read their works, they would probably eliminate many of the slang words which at the time of writing seemed so pungent and spicy. Other words that were slung at the time of writing the writer would want to leave unchanged, for perhaps now they are good colloquial English.

One of O. Henry's characters defines a "Man About Town" as a "fly guy that's wise to the all-night push." The newer generation would almost need footnotes to understand that. "Push" has virtually disappeared and "fly" seems old-fashioned. "Wise" in the sense that O. Henry's character used it, seems to be as vigorous as ever. The flavor has lasted.

There are words now used as slang, whose fathers have lasted through generations until they have been placed in good standing in the language; words such as "prig," "mob" and "dumbbug."

No writer could give a faithful translation of current colloquial English without introducing much slang that will never live. A glossary will surely be necessary. It therefore behooves the authors to get their slang written correctly, or the glossaries attached to their work a hundred years from now will read unintended meanings into their words. A current instance of such a mistake is in Sinclair Lewis' "Babbitt."

One of the characters, "Babbitt," is made to say, "I tip my benny to him!" Does he mean he will doff his "benny" and fight, or does he mean he'll tip his "kelly" to him, in token of respect? Everybody ought to know that "benny" means overcoat and not hat, and Mr. Lewis certainly meant to have his character exclaim that he would tip his hat, in admiration, to the other man; for the rest of the paragraph is a plea of praiseworthy. He should have said, "I tip my kelly—or lid—or dip—to him." But "benny" remains to puzzle the philologist of another century.

Only words that are actual shortcuts in expression seem to remain in the language. Their flavor lasts.—New York Sun.

SCHOOLING IS URGED TO TAKE PLACE OF BONUS

Californian Invited to Head National Memorial University Association; Proposes Education for Children

GLENDALE, Cal., Feb. 19 (AP)—An educational alternative to the national bonus is proposed by James T. Van Rensselaer of this city, who has been asked to take the place of Major Peter O. Harris as national chairman of the National Memorial University Association. Mr. Van Rensselaer states that he will decline the place unless a tentative plan is sufficiently endorsed to offer a suitable alternative to the bonus and propose that the nation provide a complete education for all children of the World War service men or women.

The proposal states: "The attention has been called of the National Memorial University Association, and of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, that a most fitting and proper educational memorial to the memory of the men who gave their lives to their country during the world war, was to be found in the following suggested alternative to the bonus:

A Judicious Inquiry

A well known traveling man who visits the drug trade says he has often heard druggists ask a customer, who wished to buy a cough medicine, whether it was for a child or an adult, and if for a child, they almost invariably recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know there is no danger from it and that it always cures. There is not the least danger in giving it, and for colds, croup and whooping cough it is unsurpassed.—adv.

Nashville reflected the marked increase in trade and speculative expectation of an early and favorable decision by the Interstate Commerce Commission on the road's application for authority to increase the capital stock and declare a stock dividend. The United States supreme court's decision upholding the interstate commerce commission's decision enabling New England railroads to secure for themselves a larger division of joint rates on freight moving between that section and the rest of the United States reflected a general satisfaction over the terms of the British debt settlement, was the feature of the foreign exchange market. French checks again sold at 6.00 cents and moderate improvement was noted in the other allied rates.
