Idaho Senate Votes 24 to 20 to Postpone Indefinitely Bill for State Tuberculosis Hospital; House Makes Offer

BOISE, Idaho, Feb. 26. (AP)—The Idaho bill appropriating $150,000 for the erection of a state tuberculosis hospital and the maintenance of the same for the next two years was postponed indefinitely by the senate this afternoon by a vote of 24 to 20. The act provided for the appointment of a commission of state officers to select the site for the institution and places the hospital itself under the supervision of the department of public affairs.

Earlier in the session the senate passed a bill, by Thomas of Blingham county, repealing the law creating the state tuberculosis commission and providing for the erection of two hospitals, one in each end of the state. At that time the majority of the senators were opposed to the "Siamese twin" idea of having two institutions, but many expressed a desire to see one hospital erected for the care of sufferers from tuberculosis. The old law placed the supervision of the hospital fund, raised by levy on the taxable property, in the hands of a commission of five persons, liberty before the house passed the Thomas bill, Halley of Benewah county, introduced the measure which was killed today.

HOUSE RECEIVES ANOTHER TUBERCULOSIS ASYLUM BILL

BOISE, Feb. 26 (Special to The News)—The substitute tuberculosis sanitarium bill which has been in the senate for three weeks was indefinitely postponed today by a vote of 24 to 20, after heated arguments in which Senator Wurtz of Canyon county had said there was "not a decent man in the senate" as he spoke for the bill. Senator Harris of Washington demanded an apology from the Canyon county member to the senate "before adjournment." Mr. Wurtz and not replied. While the bill was being killed in the senate, the state affairs committee in the house introduced another tuberculosis sanitarium bill, providing for one institution and a commission of three members, two to be appointed by the governor and the third to be secretary of state. A bill has been introduced in the house, following the amendment of the previous measure which contained other appropriation items, providing for the maintenance of a governor's residence.

Five Bills Go to Governor Favorable action in the Idaho senate Monday afternoon on a house bill clearing way to the governor. Provision is made for a civil service commission in cities of the first class, to govern fire and police employees. The registration for teachers fee was passed, as were also a bill refunding irrigation bonds for the purpose of the state and the industrial accident board and a corrective measure increasing powers of corporations who operate and control irrigation canals and companies.

A senate joint memorial, asking federal appropriation of $20,000 for state parks and forests and on Indian reservations and a senate bill setting the tuition for high school students out of their district at $9 a month were passed by the senate.

The upper house killed a bill which would allow the use by the state highway districts of the state high-ways districts without cooperative funds.

Boss Constabulary Revived. Police powers for the bureau of fish and game, which would in a measure limit the powers of state constabulary are contained in a house bill passed by that body this afternoon. Representative Raymond of Bannock county bitterly fought the bill which had been introduced by Representative Thomas and Brown of Blingham county. He stated that the constabulary was having fabled difficulties during the railroad strike at Pocatello last summer and said that while it was true that women were not safe on the streets there during the strike, that that could be taken care of by the police. The plan came following the arrival of the state police. It was necessary for Speaker Kiger to ask the Bannock county representative to confine his remarks to the bill.

THIEVES ROB INDIAN AGENCY LAPWAI, Idaho, Feb. 26. (AP)—Thieves who broke into the Lapwai Indian agent's office early today took $25 in cash and $1,000 in unregistered Liberty bonds, together with other valuable papers, it was reported to the sheriff's office.

Provides $150,000 for Investigation of Columbia Basin

House Makes Appropriation for the Reclamation Service Study of Washington Project

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—An appropriation of $150,000 for investigation by the reclamation service of the Columbia irrigation project in Washington state and its effect on the Umatilla district, was added to the third deficiency bill today by the house. The appropriation added to the bill was authorized in a measure passed last week which stipulated that $100,000 was to be expended for a survey of the Columbia basin project and the remainder on the Umatilla project. While the investigation will be conducted by the reclamation service, it will be under the supervision of the secretary of the interior, who has jurisdiction over the reclamation service.

APPROVE PLANS TO MERGE ROADS

Officials of Western and Southwestern Railways Endorse Consolidation Projects

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—Projects for consolidation of western and southwestern railroads which have been tentatively prepared since the passage of the transportation act were favorably discussed today by officials of major carriers in that territory appearing before the interstate-commerce commission.

Carl Gray, president of the Union Pacific, said the linking up of that system with the present lines of the Chicago and Northwestern would probably work out to advantage, inasmuch as the two carriers at present interchange a large volume of their traffic. The Union Pacific, which is being sought to have the Central Pacific included with it in any consolidation project, would now be satisfied to leave that line to the Southern Pacific, which owns it at present, under terms of a recent commerce commission decision regarding the interchange between railroads involved.

Essential Requirement. Lewis J. Spence, director of traffic for the Southern Pacific, which under the government consolidation plan would be combined with the Rock Island, stressed the necessity which he said existed for keeping all the component parts of the first named railroad together in any consolidation. The Rock Island could be merged with the Southern Pacific safely, he concluded, only if the Atlantic steamship lines of the Southern Pacific system were continued in cooperative operation with the railroad, as at present. The Central Pacific, however, he contended, must be included in the new combination, as it has been held in the Southern Pacific system, in order to provide efficient transportation machinery.

POSTAL FLYER FALLS TO DEATH

MEADEVILLE, Pa., Feb. 26. (AP)—Elmer G. Lehart, of Cleveland, Ohio, a States mail carrier, was instantly killed about 10 miles east of Meadeville today when his plane raked a fence and crashed to the ground.

HOUSE GETS NEW RURAL CREDIT BILL

Adoption of Composite Measure Is Forecast by Leaders Who Anticipate No Trouble in Adjustments with Senate

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—Farm credits, legislation, over which there has been a row in congress for more than two weeks, is to be taken up tomorrow in the house under plans contemplating a vote not later than Wednesday. Passage by the house was forecast by leaders who believed there would be comparatively little difficulty in adjusting the differences with the senate.

Major provisions of the two senate measures, the Lenroot-Anderson and Lippitt bills, are incorporated in the bill as reported from the house banking committee. The formal report on the legislation was delayed but Chairman McFadden issued a statement explaining its principal purposes.

Explains Purpose. "This legislation is an endeavor on the part of congress," Mr. McFadden said, "to enact a law that will provide intermediary credit for the agricultural interests of the United States, and by agricultural interests is meant all of those people who are engaged in the production of agricultural products, including the warehousing and orderly marketing organizations."

"Specifically, this bill provides for the creation of 12 distinct intermediate credit banks which are to be managed and controlled by the federal farm loan banks. Each is to have a capital of $5,000,000, or a total of $60,000,000, which is to be subscribed by the secretary of the treasury and the stock is to become the property of the United States. Provision also is made for the creation of corporations with a minimum capitalization of $250,000 to still be agricultural paper having a maturity of six months or more, and a further provision for the organization of redemptive corporations with a capital of $1,000,000 or more to redempt such paper for the leasing corporations.

Doubles Credit Scope. "These intermediate credit banks can issue debentures up to $500,000, in addition to their capital stock of $5,000,000. It will be noted in this respect that this intermediary credit institution provides capital for agricultural interests almost double the amount that was called for during the operations of the war finance corporation."

Provision is made for the reimbursement of the government by the application of one-half of the net annual earnings so that ultimately the government should be reimbursed for its capital stock subscription, while still owning the banks with the same original capital and a surplus of 100 per cent. After this has been accomplished the bill provides that 10 per cent of the net earnings go annually to the surplus and the residue to the federal government.

Called Honest Attempt. "All in all, the bill is an honest attempt," (Continued on Page Five.)

Sheriff Considers Buying Airplane to Catch Runrunners

Seizure of Flying Machine Alleged to Have Been Operated by Bootlegger Suggests Step

SPOKANE, Wash., Feb. 26. (AP)—Advisability of purchasing a powerful airplane with which to combat aerial bootleggers or smugglers is being considered by Sheriff Clarence Long of Spokane county, he announced today.

Sheriff Long made the announcement following the seizure today of an airplane, alleged to have been used in whiskey running, at Five-Mile prairie, five miles north of here. The airplane has been identified, according to the sheriff's office, as one which yesterday landed eight cases of whiskey at the Parkwater aviation field here and then made its escape.

Although stating that he did not know whether it would be advisable at this time to purchase a plane for law enforcement purposes, Sheriff Long added that such use of airplane will be an absolute necessity in the near future.

"I intend to determine prices on motors and ships and to get what information may be necessary to put an airplane in operation," said the sheriff. There are two deputies now in my office who have had extensive aerial experience, and one is a regular pilot."

HOLD UP ACTION ON HAGUE COURT

Senate Leaders' Conference Removes Possibility of Early Consideration of Proposal

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—Possibility of senate action before congress adjourns next Sunday on administration request for authority to participate in The Hague international court of justice, was removed by a statement today by senate leaders.

Provisionally to tomorrow's meeting of the foreign relations committee for initial consideration of the plan, submitted last Saturday, leaders of all senate factions exchanged views and, it was said, all were of the opinion that the matter would have to go over until the next congress.

Demarcate Indicate Favor. Intense interest among senators in the administration proposal was manifested by a flood of statements. Those from moderate leaders indicated favor for the plan, but there was a pronounced hostile note from the irrevocable camp, and almost complete absence of public endorsement from the administration and "reservationists" groups.

Senator Johnson of California, prominent republican irreconcilable, issued a statement irrefragably critical of the administration's proposal and declaring the United States would not go into the league.

"If," said Senator Johnson, "we now do what is asked the situation is. We are wholly out of the league. We are in part of the league. By resolutions we are out of the part of the league we are in. The part of the league we are in and from which, by reservations we get out functions as a part of the league without our assistance. In the language of a great editor of the west, 'all of which is partly true.'"

"We are not going into the league of nations at this session of congress," Senator Johnson asserted.

Accompanied by Jibes. Democratic endorsement of the administration plan, while general, was accompanied by jibes at the alleged reversal of administration policy.

Senator King, democrat, Utah, offered a resolution to carry out the administration's request, but action on it went over without a vote. A republican of Virginia, who will be ranking democrat on the foreign relations committee, in the next congress, issued a statement commending the administration design.

"I am glad to note," said he, "that the administration has not reached a point at which it is necessary for the United States to abandon its policy of isolation."

HEGELA MINE PAYS DIVIDEND

SPOKANE, Wash., Feb. 26. (AP)—Dividend of $250,000 to stockholders of record March 1 of the Hegela Mining company, payable March 28, was announced late today by the company here. The dividend amounts to the regular 13 cent quarterly dividend, and an special dividend of 12 cents to bring total payments from the silver-lode mine at Burke, Idaho, to $110,205,000.

ENGLAND IS DECLARED VEXED OVER FRENCH SEIZURE OF GERMAN MARKS

PARIS, Feb. 26. (AP)—The French government has received intimations of a vague and indirect nature that the German government desires to negotiate a settlement of the reparations issue, it was declared in responsible quarters here today.

GERMANS ANTICIPATE NEW BARRIERS ABOUT OCCUPIED TERRITORY

Berlin Hears Franco-Belgian Authorities Will Require Special Visas

BERLIN, Feb. 26. (AP)—The Franco-Belgian authorities in the Rhineland and Ruhr intended shortly to require special visas for all Germans desiring to enter the occupied areas, according to the Haasen correspondent of the Neue Berliner Zeitung, who has his statement on "reliable authority."

Visas will only be granted, he added, on proof that the visits are urgently necessary, and the inhabitants of the Ruhr will require special permission to leave the territory.

FIRE CLOSES BURKE MILL

Damage Wrought by Flames in Hercules Mine Causes Suspension of Operations at Concentrating Plant

WALLACE, Idaho, Feb. 26. (AP)—Closing of the Hercules concentrating mill here at Wallace, due to the fire in the Hercules mine at Burke, was today's development in local mine circles. Fifty men were thrown out of work by the closing.

The fire in the mine, according to which reports received here, was reported almost out of control and was greatly diminished. It is expected that the fire will be entirely extinguished in a few days.

The Hercules is a silver-lead mine.

ENGLAND BABES INDEMNITY MOVE

British Blue Book Traces Inter-Allied Conferences on Reparations and Debts

LONDON, Feb. 26. (AP)—The various inter-allied conferences in London and Paris during December and January of reparations and inter-allied debts, culminating in the disagreement of January 4, form the subject of a British blue book issued today.

The report shows how the allies unsuccessfully endeavored to bridge the differences between Great Britain and France.

The breaking point apparently was reached on January 3, says the book, when Prime Minister Bonar Law, in reply to Premier Poincare, said the difference between them was one of fact, and that he believed it was best to get money they could get from Germany and not attempt to get as much as they would like.

Germany on Verge of Ruin. "And, indeed," he continued, "in my opinion it would be contrary to the whole experience of history and the view of all economists if such terrible inflation as has been going on there is not followed by the biggest crisis seen in almost any country."

Declines Responsibility. Mr. Bonar Law thereupon handed in a note, asserting that if the French proposals were carried into effect, they will not only fail of attaining the desired results but are likely to have a grave and even disastrous effect upon the economic situation of Europe.

Great Britain was unable to accept responsibility for the proposals, he said.

THE MOST IMPORTANT OF THESE SUGGESTIONS APPEARS TO HAVE BEEN MADE THROUGH M. DUBOIS, A SWISS FINANCIER, WHO CAME TO PARIS LAST WEEK AROUSING CHARGE WITH A MISSION AS A FRIENDLY NERVAL TO SOUND PREMIER POINCARÉ AS TO THE POSSIBILITY OF OPENING CONVERSATIONS FOR A REPARATIONS AGREEMENT.

Premier Poincaré's reply to every suggestion is understood to have been that the German government must come out into the open and talk plainly and directly with the reparations commission or the allied governments, and that efforts made through outside private persons, or even neutral governments, could not, under the circumstances, be the basis for negotiations.

BERLIN PROFFERS IGNOREANCE. BERLIN, Feb. 26. (AP)—In view of reports published abroad regarding propositions for neutral mediation in the Ruhr controversy, a change in the official attitude of the Berlin government, and an impending cabinet crisis, the semi-official Wolff bureau states it has learned that Berlin has no information regarding such mediation, that the attitude of the government is unchanged, and that speculation regarding changes in the cabinet is without foundation.

SEEK RETURN OF MARKS

BERLIN, Feb. 26. (AP)—Negotiations are proceeding at Cologne for the return by the French of the 12,000,000,000 marks seized at Cologne last Saturday, which reports received here.

The Berlin newspapers declare that the seized funds were to be used exclusively in the British occupied zone, part of the money for payment of the British forces of occupation.

BRITISH DECLARED UNWARRANTED

LONDON, Feb. 26. (AP)—According to the Cologne correspondent of the Times, the seizure of German marks at Cologne is regarded as critical. The British authorities hold that the seizure of the funds, part of which was intended for the British army, was quite unjustifiable, and in demanding the release of the marks are making an unusually first attempt.

The correspondent adds that several British officials resent "the humiliating position in which they are placed by the establishment of a cordon of French posts, which now completely blanket the British zone."

SEEK TO PLAGUE FRENCH

DUESSELDORF, Feb. 26. (AP)—The Germans, in their resistance to the French occupation, are resorting to some of the methods employed against them in Belgium and Northern France during the war. They take good care to show the French how much of a difference there exists, in their minds, as to the comparative standing of American, British and French.

The first few days of the occupation telegrams for Paris were systematically delayed, then butchered in transmission. Things became so bad that the postmaster of Essen was arrested. Then the French had to place a special military wire at the disposal of their correspondents. Mean while telegrams for London and New York were transmitted normally.

Any conversation conducted in French over the telephone meant immediate trouble with the communication.

Kansas Supreme Court Rules Organizer Must Give Information Bought in Trial Regarding of Private Oath

TOPEKA, Kansas, Feb. 26. (AP)—Regardless of any private oath to maintain secrecy, H. H. Kitcher of Oklahoma City, an alleged organizer of the Ku Klux Klan, must answer questions in the state's ouster suit against the Klan, or be held in contempt of court, the Kansas supreme court ruled here today.

Kitcher, at the opening of the state's hearing Saturday, refused to answer questions relative to names on the Tepeka Klan membership petition, or to divulge the name of the person who holds the key to a safety deposit vault in which he said the petition was stored.

The Day in Washington

(By The Associated Press) Speaker Gillett was reported ill with influenza. The house banking committee reported a composite rural credits bill. Secretary Davis initiated a move to deprive Isadora Duncan, the dancer, of American citizenship. The senate failed to reach a vote on the motion to recommit the ship bill, which even its supporters admit is dead. Hearings on proposed consolidation of western and southwestern railroads were resumed before the interstate commerce commission. Secretary Hughes, it became known, has definitely decided it will be impossible for him to attend the Pan-American conference next month in Santiago, Chile. The house passed the deficiency appropriation bill, carrying $163,000,000, and the Fortier resolution designed to increase drug production by international agreement. The United States paid Norway $12,250,822.77, the amount awarded by the tribunal of arbitration in settlement of claims growing out of the seizure of Norwegian ships during the war. THROWS WRENCH IN SCHEME FOR PACKER MERGER

Secretary Wallace Institutes Suit Against Proposed Consolidation on Grounds That It Would Be Monopoly

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—Another battle was begun today by the government against what is claimed would be a monopoly in industry when Secretary Wallace of the agriculture department, took steps to prevent Armour and company from acquiring the business of Morris and company. Consolidation of the consolidation would result in the largest meat packing enterprise in the history of the country with annual sales of more than $1,000,000,000.

F. Edson White, president of Armour and company, declaring the present administration had proclaimed its belief in free government in business and more business in government and that his company heartily subscribed to that slogan and was willing to meet the issue involved speedily and without fear of the result.

Causes Months' Delay. Before legality of the merger is finally decided, several months is expected to elapse and in all probability the case will reach the supreme court for determination. Secretary Wallace, proceeding under authority given him in the packers and stockyards act, served complaints on Armour and company, J. Ogden Armour, and Morris and company, charging them with violation of the act by entering into a written agreement for the sale of Morris and company. The complaints said transfer was to be made on or before February 25, and that Morris and company would be eliminated entirely as a competitor in the packing business. The acquisition, the complaints set forth, would effect a restraint of interstate commerce and would have the effect of creating a monopoly in many sections of the United States in the purchase of livestock and in the shipment and sale of meat and other livestock products in this country and abroad. The merger would materially increase the power of Armour and company, it was stated, to control and dominate the livestock and meat packing industry.

Appeal to Court Open. A hearing was set for Monday, April 2, in Washington, before the secretary of agriculture at which the packing companies specified will be required to show cause why an order should not be issued against consolidation. Such an order would be subject to appeal to the United States circuit court of appeals at Chicago within 30 days. Theoretically that court would be final except for review by the supreme court.

If the packers, in the event final determination of the issue is in favor of the government, fail to obey the order they would be subject to a fine of not less than $500, nor more than $10,000, or imprisonment for not less than six months nor more than five years, or both.

Government officials said today there was nothing in the packers and stockyards act which would prevent Armour and company from completing the purchase of Morris and company, but that if the government was upheld in the final decision of the case, the Armour company would have to divest itself of the Morris plants and business.

Congress Receives Bill to Admit Alien Labor into Hawaiian Islands; Committee Head Proposes Junket

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—A resolution proposing the temporary admission to the Hawaiian islands of alien labor, including Chinese, otherwise barred under the immigration laws, was reported today by the house immigration committee. At the same time Chairman Johnson of the committee, who opposed the measure, introduced a resolution authorizing members of the committee re-elected to the next congress to investigate Hawaiian labor needs.

Pettis, secretary of the Massapequa Inn, at Freeport, Long Island.

MARINE POLICY TAKING SHAPE

Executive Officials Take Steps to Keep Ships Operating After Bill's Failure

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—The administration shipping bill was kept alive in the senate today for further debate, but executive officials, recognizing the end to be near, began formulation of plans for dealing with the government's war-impelled merchant marine venture without the aid of the legislation. Chairman Lusk of the shipping board conferred with President Harding, then met with the other members of the board and afterwards announced that the policy of the administration would be worked out and made public before the end of the week. He declined to give any indication of the plans under consideration beyond saying they were of a "startling, novel" nature.

Alternative Is Voted. Hopful public last week that the shipping bill would be enacted, administration officials have given no indication of what alternative they have in mind. President Harding, in making his final appeal for passage of the legislation in course of his address to congress February 7, on the British debt settlement, said that if the legislative branch refused to approve the shipping bill or submit an alternative, "the executive branch of the government may proceed as best it can to end the losses in liquidation and humiliation."

WOMEN NEED SMAMP-ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are oftentimes symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Kidney Pills, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drugstore, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Bingham, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—adv.

DECLARES BEET CROP SHOWED HEAVY PROFIT

F. W. Brown, Well Known Farmer, Says Acreage Last Year Gave Best Returns of All His Crops

I have been asked many times how my beets turned out and if the expense didn't take all the profit. For the benefit of those who have a doubt about planting beets I can say that sugar beets paid larger net returns than any other crop grown by me last year, which includes beans, wheat and clover seed.

Last year was my first crop of beets and I know my results can be quoted or bettered this coming year. Last year I sowed 6-15 acres only, but shall double my acreage this year. I planted the beets early. We were still planting wheat when I put my beets in. They harvested 21 1-4 tons per acre, which at $7.00 per ton yields $149.75 per acre gross. The expenses were $54.25 per acre showing a net profit of $95.50 per acre. This $54.25 per acre includes every operation entering into the production and harvesting of the crop, and includes preparation of the ground, cultivating, irrigating, thinning, hoeing, pulling, topping, hauling and cost of seed. A farmer would reduce this net charge about $13.00 per acre who did the plowing, cultivating and pulling himself, and a further reduction of $15.00 per acre by doing his own hauling. Adding the value of the tops to the value of beets I can figure my crop of beets at better than $100.00 per acre net profit, a result that cannot be beaten by any other crop grown these days.

LATE ACTOR'S MOTHER WRITES TO LOCAL MAN

J. E. Madson of Idaho Theatre Receives Interesting Letter From Mrs. Bertha Westbrook Reid

Sincere appreciation is expressed in a letter written by Bertha Westbrook Reid, mother of the actor Wallie Reid, to J. E. Madson, manager of the Idaho theater, together with the fervent hope that the plan to name a drug hospital after the actor will not be carried out. Mrs. Reid's letter follows:

My dear Mr. Madson: Your tribute to my son was received and I do sincerely thank you. I would have written sooner but I have just completed a little volume about my son, with his pictures, in the hope that it will be a more fitting tribute to his memory than naming hospitals for the cure of drug addicts with his name and in that way perpetuating a stigma upon his name when I am sure his friends would rather remember him at his best, smiling and strong and raking his life many times to give pleasure to his "public" which he loved.

Life is no longer here to protect his own name nor his little son's, so I do hope and pray that his friends will do all they can to prevent naming such hospitals for him. The hospitals themselves are all right, but to bear his name is all wrong. I hope his friends will all write or telephone their newspaper making them to do what they can to have them given other names.

Sincerely,
(Signed) BERTHA WESTBROOK REID, 916 West End Ave., New York City, N. Y.

SPRING SPORTS LURE IS STRONG

Coach Evans' Call for Track and Baseball Athletes Brings Out Many Students

Coach Evans of the local high school put out a call for track and baseball athletes Monday afternoon and 200 athletes immediately answered the call. This on the fact that but 925 boys are enrolled at the school shows that Twin Falls is strong for the benefits derived from clean athletics. Such tournaments are worthy of a college institution.

It is more than probable that the big end of the boys will try for track and the baseball team that came so close to winning the state interscholastic title last year is practically intact, and the sledging will be rough trying to crowd the old timers out of their positions, but strange things happen in sports, and who knows but what the Twin Falls high school team may see some new faces this season.

The boys who reported for baseball Monday, who made letters with the team last year are Laval Jarman, Gerald Jarman, "Slim" Hammond (slimmer than ever), Emley Cron, John Nyo, Higgins and Muscell.

Keen for Baseball

Some of the boys who are known to be real keen at the national pastime, who will try for a tryout for a place on the Red Legion, and Walter Selek, who will try for an infield position, while Hodgins figures that he is a hurler of no mean ability.

The track boys will start today with a few cross country runs, taking things easy until the weather warrants hard work.

BRITISH FIGHTER SIGNS FOR BOUT IN NEW YORK

Jimmy Wilde of England to Defend Title as World's Flyweight Champion, Against Matchmaker's Choice

NEW YORK, Feb. 26, (AP)—Jimmy Wilde of England, recognized in this country as world's flyweight boxing champion, has signed to defend his title in a bout at the Polo Grounds June 16, according to announcement today by Tom O'Rourke, matchmaker for the Republic Athletic club.

Wilde has agreed to fight anyone selected by O'Rourke, the latter said, but he probably will be matched with the winner of the bout next Thursday night at Madison Square Garden between Pancho Villa, American flyweight title holder, and Frankie Genoux of New York, regarded as Villa's most dangerous rival.

Interested in the boxing union, at a meeting in Paris last week, Wilde refused further to recognize Wilde as the world's flyweight king, because of his prolonged inactivity, but American boxing authorities still regard him as champion.

A Judicious Inquiry
A well known traveling man who visits the drug trade says he has often heard druggists ask a customer, who wished to buy a cough medicine, whether it was for a child or an adult, and if for a child, they almost invariably recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is, he says, that he knows there is no danger from it and that it always cures. There is not the least danger in giving it, and for colds, croup and whooping cough it is unsurpassed—adv.

GAREY IS DARK HORSE OF MEET

District Basketball Tournament Promises Real Contests and Thrills for Fans

With the starting Thursday evening of the basketball finals which will take place at the high school gym, the fans are assured of some real games. First of all, it appears as if there is going to be a dark horse among those present, namely, one Carey. This place is a little town, located half way between Shoshone and Idaho, and one has to look twice to locate the reason for having a high school there. Carey has none other for a coach than Andrus, picked by experts in 1917 as all-American left forward. What Andrus is doing in Carey is another part of the mystery. Nevertheless, Carey is being coached by Andrus and the odds average six feet tall. What the result of this combination will be remains to be seen, but Carey will come here with a reputation of being able to break up the five man defense style of play, and should be a real contender. Carey bids fair to be at the top of the heap when Saturday night rolls around.

This is not being said to make the fans feel that the teams of this section are not in it, for they are very good. The line of argument let us take a step into the past and try to figure out who really will win the tournament, and gain the right to compete with the Boise Valley winners for a crack at the state title.

Oakley Has Shade

Oakley, during the season, won from the Rupert quintet by one field goal, then along came Twin Falls and won two goals from the Stager team. The fall and Twin Falls broke even. Twin Falls and Jerome had to play five minutes overtime to decide a winner, Oakley won from Burley who had won two games from the Twin Falls players and one from the Filer quintet. After looking it over in the eye, it seems as though Oakley may have a slight shade as far as dope is concerned, but not enough edge to be conceded the winner. After figuring probabilities with the branch teams, what is the Carey team going to do? And what about the Stager team. Both these teams are making good propositions in this section, and when thinking basketball and small towns it is well to remember the little town of Weston, Idaho, that sent a team to Salt Lake last year, and won the inter-county championship.

JEROME

JEROME—Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Callen of the Canyonside neighborhood at the proud parents of a girl that arrived at her home on February 20th. Mrs. E. W. Stevens was hostess to a number of her friends on Thursday afternoon in honor of Mrs. E. B. White, who is leaving soon for California, where she will join Mr. White in carrying their future home. After a social afternoon the hostess served a most delicious lunch.

Mrs. E. W. Stevens was hostess to the Baptist Aid society on Thursday afternoon. The afternoon was spent with needlework.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bragg are the parents of a daughter that arrived at their home on February 19. I. O. Brown and W. H. Howerton left on Wednesday for Ashton, Idaho, to attend the dog races. They expect to return on Friday.

Announcements have been received of the marriage of Cornelius Thompson and Miss Florence Corbin at the home of the bride in Lewiston. The young couple will make their home in Filer City. The groom has lived on the north side for many years, while the bride at one time was a teacher at Canyonside.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vaughn have as their house guests Mr. Vaughn's cousins, Roy and Rollie Rodgers, of West Salem, Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Vallette left the last of the week for their new home in Seattle, Washington.

R. S. Moreland returned to his home the last of the week after an extended visit in Oregon.

Mrs. Frank Bowman is seriously ill at her home east of Jerome, suffering from pneumonia poisoning.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Shepherd spent the week in Boise, returning to their home on Sunday.

Mrs. Ernest McClellan was hostess to the Blue Bell at the Sugar Land neighborhood at her home on Thursday afternoon. Delicious refreshments followed a most interesting business meeting and social hour.

Mrs. E. W. Williamson was hostess to the Northeast Neighborhood Reading Circle at her home on Wednesday afternoon.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Aids Nature
Medicines that aid nature are always most effective. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy acts on this plan. It always kills the cough, relieves the lungs, aids expectoration, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. The remedy is highly purified to its good qualities. Try it when you have a cough or cold—adv.

FIGURES SHOW SEASON'S WORK

Analysis of Basketball Games Show Filer and Twin Falls in Close Competition

The following composite scores of the five basketball teams in this section show a good many small details that the average fan overlooks when talking about these teams, and it was for the benefit of those fans that each team was given a correct analysis of the season's work.

Looking the teams from a won and lost standpoint, the Filer team heads the list with a percentage of 800. Twin Falls is next with 727. Kimberly is next with 444, with Bull having 333. HOLLISTER is at the bottom of the list with 222.

FILER

Filer's basketball team has just finished one of its most successful seasons with eight games won and two lost for an average of 800. With Filer scoring 230 points and its opponents scoring but 145, one can readily see that Filer did find some wonderful guarding during the season just ended. The records show that Filer averaged 25 points per game, while its opponents averaged but 14.5. Ralph Love was the high point man with 39 field goals and 11 free throws for a total of 89 points. His closest competitor was Maurice Cole, with a total of 52.

TWIN FALLS

The Twin Falls team scored 300 points during the season just ended, while its opponents were making 250. These figures show that the local team averaged 23 points per game to its opponents' 23.

The blue and white hoopers won eight out of 11 games, losing two to Burley and one to Filer. Their average for the season is 727.

Johns was the big point maker for Twin Falls with 135 to his credit. Stove was second with 62. Cole was the lad who led the team in fouls called with 26 for the season.

KIMBERLY

Kimberly has fared as well as any of the small schools in this section, scoring 138 points to its opponents' 103. This is an exceptional record when it is considered that Kimberly played all the strong teams in this neighborhood.

HAZELTON

HAZELTON GIRLS' RURAL HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL TEAM PLAYED WEDNESDAY AGAINST THE EDEN RURAL HIGH IN THE LEGION HALL AT THIS PLACE.

The house was packed and a very interesting game was played. The score was 41 to 23 in favor of Hazelton. Mr. and Mrs. James Boden returned home from Boise Friday, where Mr. Boden has been receiving medical attention. His condition is much improved.

A persistent rumor that the school building was unsafe finally led to several parents removing their children from school. The school board then secured the services of a competent inspector who went over the building thoroughly and reported the building safe.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Lockridge, who have spent the winter in Clarkston, Wash., returned to Hazelton this week and will again make their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson of Hazelton visited in Jerome with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Atherton over the week end.

Mrs. Alice Atkins of Twin Falls is spending the week in Hazelton as the guest of her nephew, Dr. E. L. Berry.

C. W. Peck, local manager for the Gem State Lumber company, left Thursday for Portello to attend a meeting of the Gem State managers at that place.

Mrs. Walter Ross underwent a surgical operation in a Twin Falls hospital Saturday. She is reported as doing fine and will soon be able to return home.

LAUNDRY SQUAD BEATS GROCERS

Alvord and Mott Bowlers in Match with Cleaners Take One and Lose Two

The Alvord and Mott team managed to snare one game from the league leading Troy Laundry bowlers last night in the regular scheduled game at the Twin Falls bowling alley.

It was in the last game of the evening that Charley Brueggemann's triple got busy, and walloped Cubit's bunch after losing the first two games.

The first game found the Alvord & Mott team scrapping hard to win, the league leaders taking the initial contest with but 25 pins to spare. The score in this game was 827 to 805.

Hank Brueggemann smacked 'em for 200 in this game which went for high, and which also stood for high during the evening.

After bowling a nifty game in the opener, the grocermen decided to get their bearings again, and while doing so fell to 747 in the second tilt.

On the other hand, Cubit drove his men hard, and they drove, ending up with the same score of 827, made in the first game. Bill Dalrymple took the bag of peanuts for high score in this game with 181.

In the final game of the evening, the luck turned, and everything that the Troy Laundry bowlers did was wrong, while the Brueggemann clan could hit them right on the nose and make a strike. Both teams went under the 800 mark in this game, the Alvord & Mott boys getting 707, and the Troy Laundry men 740.

With considerable hard luck in this game, missing five straight times, Tris made 9 on his first ball each time, and then the second ball would go just where there weren't any pins. Phil King got away with high game with a paltry 173.

Why the Laundry boys are still at the top:

Troy Laundry	1	2	3	Totals
Alvord	170	181	108	525
Miller	174	136	213	463
King	121	180	173	504
Tris	135	159	109	403
Cubit	191	171	143	505

Totals 827 827 740 2400

Alvord & Mott 1 2 3 Totals

Boxroot 108 148 144 400
H. Brueggemann 200 151 147 498
C. Lewis 144 170 107 481
Anderson 148 142 172 462
C. Brueggemann 146 136 106 448

Totals 806 747 706 2348

SOAP AND SPIKE

The usual large crowd of fans were present.

And as usual pulling for the Troy Laundry team—to get beat.

Everybody but George Sandholtz wanted to see the grocery men take at least two.

With Holmes of the Alvord & Mott, quitting, the sugar wagon brought a new pin joffer by the name of Logan, and although no one knows who Lewis, he spanked the pins until they holed.

Lewis will be a great help to the boys who are at the bottom of the heap.

Bill Bailey was high man for the evening, but by goodness, what luck. Bill could hit them anywhere last night and they would fall down.

Hank Brueggemann took high game for the evening with 200 in the opener. Hank had the old southpaw working in that first game, but refused to break any records in the second and third.

Jack Tritt gave a beautiful exhibition in the last game of what bowling ain't. The first five frames in this slant netted Jack 9 each time.

The worst of Tritt's performance was that he was out to roll a 300 game last night. At that he only missed it by 101.

Boxroot a few marks on the score sheet, climbing up to 400 for the evening.

Riley Miller did nicely in the first game, and then his good heartedness got the best of him, and he failed to get past 153 in the next two games.

Boy Cubit is another of those kind-hearted old gentlemen who hates to take advantage of the weak team. Cubit's last game totalled 143.

Achie Anderson, the lad who consumes more space when bowling than any of the others, joggled along in the first two games, rolling under 150, but in the last game he tickled the wood for 172.

Phil King didn't have an awful lot to say but he chopped down quite a bit of timber. 180 was his best effort, made in the second game.

Charley Brueggemann was off color again, failing to do much in the first two games. Charley has been in a slump these last three weeks, and is over-due.

The Tuesday night and Thursday night games have been switched, owing to the coming basketball tournament.

This change puts the Idaho Theatre boys and the Shoe Market bowlers together this evening.

For the benefit of those that don't know, let it be said that should the theatre boys win three games; they will again be in a tie for first place.

With the first half of the season ending Thursday evening, first place is still in doubt, three teams being within reaching distance.

LONDON, Feb. 26 (AP)—In reply to a question in the house of commons today as to whether he had information that the American government was about to demand from the allies payment for the cost of the American occupying army, Stanley Baldwin, chancellor of the exchequer, said: "The allied finance ministers received a memorandum on this question from the united representatives of the United States government on the reparations commission during the conference at Paris in March, 1922. The question is at present under discussion between the allied and the United States government."

STANDARD OIL REFUTES PRICE FIXING CHARGES

Indiana Company's Officials, Before Senate Investors, Declare Competitor's Testimony False

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—Four witnesses were produced by the Standard Oil company of Indiana, including its president and the chairman of its board, before the senate oil investigating committee today in refutation of charges made against the company by Thomas S. Black, president of the Western Petroleum company of Chicago.

Dr. W. M. Burton, president, and R. W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard of Indiana; John M. Carson, president of the Tuxman Refining company of Chicago, and E. S. Hughes, former vice president of the Western Petroleum company, all categorically denied and declared false portions of the testimony given by Black before his committee two weeks ago to the effect that the Standard of Indiana had fixed prices. W. H. Tomp, by telephone, presented further denial of Black's charges.

Dr. Burton branded as "absolutely untrue," testimony by Black that he, as president of the Standard of Indiana, promised to give the Western Petroleum company considerable business as oil brokers if Black would take care of his stepson, Mr. Hughes.

He further denied the Standard of Indiana gave Black advance information as to changes in the price of crude oil and gasoline.

PUGET SOUND'S WEATHER GETS WARMER EACH YEAR

Statisticians Take Issue with Opinions of Old Timers that Climate is Becoming More Severe

TACOMA, Wash., Feb. 26 (AP)—With much cold weather, snow and ice on Puget Sound this winter, many old timers are declaring that the climate is becoming more severe. But their memory is failing them, in the opinion of those who keep precise figures on weather conditions, and Puget Sound, if anything, is becoming warmer year by year.

One of the reasons for the declaration that the weather is becoming warmer is that the glaciers on Mt. Rainier are slowly receding. It is known that Ninety glacier has receded 700 feet since Lieutenant A. V. Knutz of the United States army, visited it in 1857 and left his mark. In 1921 this glacier retreated 106 feet, and in recent years the average recession has been 50 feet a year.

Raymond P. Farr, local geologist, who has studied the glacier, says the annual retreat is due to warmer weather or a decline in moisture. The rainfall figures for the last 25 years indicate no diminution of moisture, so that an increase of temperature, averaging only six-tenths of a degree per year, is held responsible for the melting of the great glacier.

YOUTH STABBED TO DEATH

Oregon Authorities Detain Companion of Dallas Lead Found Dead Beside Train

SPOKANE, Wash., Feb. 26 (AP)—Napoleon Post, aged 17, of Dallas, Ore., was found shot to death beside a Northern Pacific freight train at Yardley, a suburb of Spokane, late this afternoon, according to Sheriff Clarence Long of Spokane county.

Dan Siefert, also of Dallas, is being held by the sheriff's office as an important witness. According to the sheriff's office, Siefert says that he and Post were beating their way from Dallas on the freight train. When the train arrived at Yardley, both boys alighted and Siefert went to the front of the train to get information as to when it would leave. When he returned to where he had left his companion, he found Post lying on the ground, shot to death. Siefert claims that Post was killed by a man who stole the dead boy's watch.

REDS PREFER JAIL TERM TO LEAVING CENTRALIA

Sixteen Out of 17 I. W. W. Members Choose Sentence of 30 Days Hard Labor on Diet of Bread and Water

CENTRALIA, Wash., Feb. 26 (AP)—Seventeen Industrial Workers of the World, arrested by the police since Saturday morning on charges of vagrancy, were found guilty in police court here today and given their choice of leaving town within an hour or serving 30 days in jail.

All but one of the defendants chose the jail sentence, which requires eight hours hard labor daily on a diet of bread and water.

Two other men, believed to be I. W. W. organizers were arrested late this afternoon and are being held on an open charge.

Seventy-five citizens, sworn in as special police officers, are on duty tonight, although there has been no disorder and no apparent increase in the number of I. W. W. in town.

SUPREME COURT AGAIN TO PASS ON FUTURES ACT

Government Bases Case on the Theory That Congress Properly Exercises Regulation Over Grain Trade

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—The supreme court for the second time was asked today to determine whether congress, in its effort to regulate future trading in grain and to provide for governmental supervision under which farmers' cooperative associations would be admitted to membership on grain exchanges, had exceeded its constitutional authority.

In the former case when congress attempted control through the taxing power, the court held the act invalid. The government contended today that, having before it the decisions and the court's decisions in the packers and stockyards case, congress had exercised discretion which the court had held it possessed. The packers and stockyards act, the government insisted, is in all essential features a parallel for the present grain futures law.

Congress having declared that future trading in grain had a distinct relation to interstate commerce, it was not for the court, Solicitor General Beck declared, to inquire whether congress was influenced by an agricultural bias, but it should accept its decision with respect to the interstate commerce character of the transaction.

Henry S. Robbins, counsel for the Chicago board of trade, challenged the government's contentions.

NEVADA CONSUMES MOST OF HAY CROP ON RANCH

Less Than Three Per Cent of Production is Loaded on Railroad Cattle Livestock Association Officials Say

RENO, Nev., Feb. 26 (AP)—Between 700,000 and 800,000 tons of hay are produced in the state of Nevada annually, on less than 36,000 acres of cultivated land, and less than three per cent of this crop ever gets to the railroad cars, according to Vernon Metcalf, secretary of the Nevada Land and Livestock association. Practically all of the crop goes to the cattle on the ranches, he said.

From the sale of about 6,000,000 pounds of wool, 600,000 lambs and old sheep, and 100,000 head of cattle, in addition to the sale of hogs, horses, vegetables and incidental products, Mr. Metcalf estimated the agricultural production as worth from $10,000,000 to $14,000,000 for 1922.

The number of livestock in the state he gave at 1,000,000 head of sheep and 250,000 to 400,000 cattle. Of the 42 per cent of the population of the state engaged in gainful occupations he declared that 21 per cent were agricultural workers, 14 per cent mine workers and 7 per cent railway employees.

Analyzing the value of the state farm products, Secretary Metcalf stated that 85 per cent of such value was in the meat animals, wool, hides, and dairy products, and only 15 per cent from potatoes and allied products of intensive farming.

As taxpayers, Mr. Metcalf added, the land and livestock industry of the state was second only to the railroads and utilities, which he said paid 42 per cent, land and livestock 30 per cent, mining 7 per cent and the balance scattered in the towns and cities.

GIVES BERGER CLEAN BILL

Charges of Conspiracy to Obstruct Draft Against Milwaukee Socialist and Others are Dropped by Judge

CHICAGO, Feb. 26 (AP)—Charges of conspiracy to obstruct the recruiting and enlisting of military forces against Victor Berger, Milwaukee socialist, and four other defendants convicted with him three years ago, were dismissed before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson two weeks ago, it became known today. Berger and the three other defendants were sentenced to 20 years imprisonment.

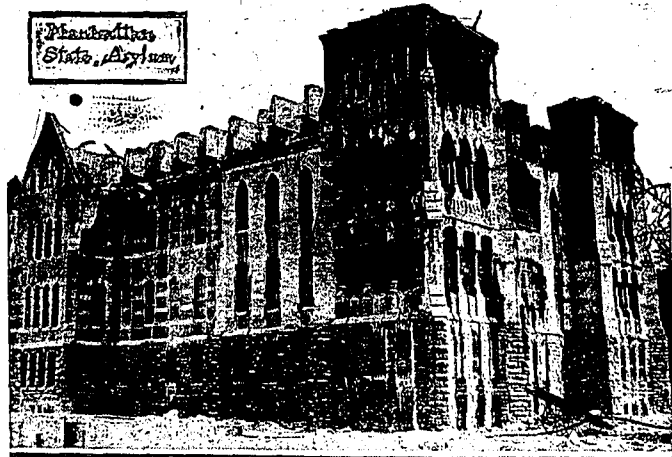

A new trial was ordered when Edwin A. Olson, district attorney, reviewed the evidence. He said he found that the government's case was weak because of matter ruled out by the circuit court of appeals.

Because of the fact that Harry M. Daugherty, attorney general, agreed to dismiss the charges.

DEATH SUMMONS GEO. G. PERKINS

Pioneer Californian and Former United States Senator Dies in Eighty-Fourth Year

OAKLAND, Cal., Feb. 26 (AP)—George G. Perkins, 84, former United States senator from California, died here today. Five children were at his bedside when the end came. Senator Perkins had been ill for five years, the malady taking a serious turn several months ago. Senator Perkins' home is one of the show places of Oakland. He came to California in 1852.

From ship boy to forty-six years of almost continuous public service, twenty-two years of which were in the United States senate, was the active life experience of George Clement Perkins. He was in his 84th year, having been born at Kennelbunport, Mo., August 23, 1839.

At the age of thirteen, young Perkins left his home at Kennelbunport to become a sailor before the mast. His first voyage being on a sailing vessel to New Orleans. Thereafter, for a number of years, he followed the life of the sea, visiting nearly every port of the world. Touching, finally, in 1855, at San Francisco, he caught the gold fever and turned prospector and miner. He was the first to introduce steam whalers in the Arctic ocean, and operated numerous ships on the Pacific from Alaska to Mexico.

As a country merchant in California, Perkins became interested in politics and was elected to the state senate in 1869 and to the governorship ten years later. In 1893 he was appointed United States senator to fill the unexpired term of the late Leland Stanford, the appointment being confirmed later by the legislature. Subsequently he was re-elected to three full terms.

Authority on Marine Affairs
Mr. Perkins' long experience in seafaring gave him recognition as an authority in the senate on the many measures relating to maritime affairs and the naval establishment. He was constantly consulted on these subjects, and whenever a question arose on the floor of the senate regarding some technical point in shipping, by mutual consent it was usually referred to the authoritative judgment of the California senator, who was always supplied with the fullest technical details on such subjects. This led to his rapid promotion to positions of influence on the senate committees on naval affairs, commerce and appropriations. During the four years preceding the democratic control of the senate Mr. Perkins was chairman of the naval affairs committee and as such became a controlling influence in shaping naval legislation.

The senator gave special attention to improving maritime equipment along the Pacific and Atlantic coasts, and his personal familiarity with the chief water routes led him to secure an exceptional number of lighthouses and warnings for sailors, studded from coast to coast of the coast. The regularity of Mr. Perkins' attendance in the senate was almost remarkable, for the record of his 23 years of service shows that he missed but few roll calls.

While he never, as a distinguished person, was presented at any European court, Senator Perkins nevertheless, once stood before royalty. It happened in this manner: As a young sailor his ship, on one voyage, carried him to Christiania, Norway, in company with another boy of his own age. The American boys strolled outside the grounds of the royal palace, but were refused admission at all of the gates. Finally, discovering a disused tunnel, leading under the moat, they crawled through and continued their walk through the grounds. Soon a great shout was raised, soldiers appeared and the frightened American boys were pounced upon as spies.

King Turns Host
The commotion reaching the ears of King Oscar, he ordered that the culprits be brought before him. Then, for the first time, the boys were addressed in their own tongue, the king asking them in English why they were intruding. Perkins, who acted as the spokesman, gave such a plausible explanation that King Oscar shook hands cordially, dismissed the soldiers and entertained the young Americans for an hour at the palace.

On his retirement from the United States senate, March 4, 1915, Mr. Perkins returned to his home in Oakland, Cal.

SEEKS INDICTMENT OF NEW YORK DRY LEADER

Acting District Attorney Prefers Grand Larceny Charges Against Anti-Saloon League Superintendent

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (AP)—Acting District Attorney Pecora today went before the grand jury with the request that William H. Anderson, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league of New York, be indicted on a charge of grand larceny and presented as his first witness the Rev. Dr. George Caleb Moore, secretary and Bertram H. Coer, treasurer, of the league.

After Dr. Moore's testimony Mr. Pecora presented books of the league which have been in his possession for several weeks. With the completion of Mr. Fancher's testimony, the grand jury adjourned until tomorrow afternoon, when Miss Maxwell M. O'Dell, confidential secretary of Mr. Anderson, and Miss Mary Hill, assistant treasurer of the league, will be heard.

Mr. Pecora, before entering the jury room, declared it was imperative that the Rev. Dr. David James Burrell, president of the league, appear before the grand jury to explain certain aspects of the league's financial relations with Anderson.

Mr. Pecora said his request for an indictment charging grand larceny would be based upon disposition of $23,700 which the dry leader said had been used for publicity purposes.

CALIFORNIANS EXTEND CO-OPERATIVE MARKETS

Growers of Cauliflower and Rhubarb and Turkeys Latest Recruits to the Sales Associations of State

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 26 (AP)—The growing of cauliflowers and rhubarb and the raising of coots and turkeys in California have reached the point where cooperative marketing associations will shortly be formed for the benefit of these growers and raisers, it was announced here.

Fred N. Bigelow, chief of the division of markets, state department of agriculture, will meet with the turkey raisers during the early part of March to give assistance in perfecting the California Turkey Growers' Cooperative association.

When these four new associations are completed, California will then have cooperative marketing bureaus for the following: Tobacco, olives, almonds, alfalfa, beans, peaches, cherries, grapes, figs, pears, prunes, apricots, walnuts, berries, onions, melons, rice, citrus, cauliflower, rhubarb, goats, turkeys and a variety list covering all canned fruit and vegetables.

There are also nine dairy marketing cooperative associations in California, and several poultry producers' associations.

STUDENT SHOT BY BANDITS

University Man Accompanying Traffic Officer on Round-up of Service Stations, Stops Outlaws' Bullet

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 26 (AP)—Howard J. McCreary, 23, a student at the University of Washington, was shot and perhaps fatally wounded here tonight by bandits.

McCreary, accompanied by Traffic Police Officer J. D. Lewis, was making the rounds of the several gasoline stations in an automobile, collecting the day's receipts. At Twenty-third and East Union street their car was approached by another in which two men were riding. One trained a flashlight on McCreary and the other, seated a receiver at him, ordering him to drive to the curb. McCreary slowed up and Policeman Little reached for his gun, whereupon one of the bandits opened fire. McCreary was struck in the side. He was rushed to the city hospital where physicians said his wounds are serious. The bandits made their escape.

EXPLAINS DEATH OF GIRL

SHENANDOAH, Iowa, Feb. 26 (AP)—Morphine, exposure and freezing caused the death of Miss Katherine Lukashovne, nurse who was found dead in an automobile near here on the morning of February 16, according to the coroner's jury at the conclusion of the inquest held here this afternoon.

Charles McMahon, Miss Lukashovne's companion who has been held in the county jail since the girl's death was released from custody and it is thought the case is ended.

The coroner's jury made no attempt to explain the presence of morphine in the nurse's vital organs, examined by chemists at the University of Iowa. It was pointed out unofficially, however, that Miss Lukashovne had just recovered from an attack of influenza and may have taken the narcotic as a stimulant.

A GOOD PLACE TO TRADE

The Pink and White Sales Will Continue All Week
The Pink and White Sales have been a delightful surprise to our many customers. With an advancing cotton market, this fresh, crisp merchandise bought on a low market is refreshingly low in price.
Every woman delights in dainty muslin and silk underclothes, and fine household linen. This is a real opportunity to replenish your stocks at prices that we believe are lower than will be possible for some time.
The stocks are quite complete and there should be sufficient for all, but we recommend early buying so that there will be no danger of disappointment.
You will find Wright's a busy place this week.

SOMETHING TO BE AVOIDED

In the selection of ticket material in connection with the coming city election one point must be kept carefully in mind, namely, that a third ticket in the field would be not at all unlikely to result in an effect precisely opposite to that sought by any and all the elements opposing those candidates who may be selected to carry forward the Walton-Mills banner.

There should be no misunderstanding as to the coming election. The fight is one of the citizenship of Twin Falls as a whole against a continuation of the present regime and to divide forces would be literally swapping horses in mid-stream with excellent chances of neither making the goal.

All that is required is a selection of three out of a hundred men to serve as nominees with S. S. All, who for nearly a year now has assumed burdens which would tax the strength of any one man and whose example in the position should prove an incentive and an inspiration to the electorate as well as to the candidates selected to make the race.

But let's not make the mistake of dividing forces when it comes to this selection.

AS OTHERS SEE US

(Sunset for March) If your garage burns and the mortgage on the house is foreclosed and your wife has twins, do you sit down, wring your hands and wail or do you look the situation straight in the eye, grapple it with both hands and start building anew? If you're a wailer, look at the irrigation farmers of southern Idaho, take heart and follow their example.

During the war years of high prices the Snake river, sole source of the irrigations' water supply, was so low that the crops were short. When water became abundant, prices dropped disastrously. Alfalfa and beans were the principal output of the district; they did not drop—they leaped and tumbled down the price precipice. Yet the producers did not wail. On the contrary, they got ready for increased production. In January they organized by an almost unanimous vote the largest irrigation district in the world for the sole purpose of helping to build the huge American Falls dam and reservoir for the storage eventually of 3,000,000 acre feet of Snake river flood water, to the end that the threat of a water famine might be definitely ended and the productive area increased by a million acres.

If you are a wailer, stay away from Idaho. They have use only for builders who waste no breath in the emission of loud sounds.

IS THE HORSE VANISHING?

A New York bank has recently made a survey of motors in displacement of the horse. The bank finds that automobiles, motor truck and tractors during the year 1922, caused a decrease of 203,000 horses on the farms of the nation. It further finds that this decrease in the number of horses is almost proportional to the increase of the automobile in its various forms. As these figures are authentic, the information is certainly enlightening.

A writer in a current magazine also discusses the subject, but from another viewpoint. He holds that the increase of motors and the consequent decrease of horses and mules on the farms of the country have their reflex in corresponding increase in production cost of farm products; and argues that the higher cost of farm transportation and operation through the adoption of motors has considerably to do with increase in the prices of farm products to consumers. Admitting that motors have advantages over horses he believes it merely a question of whether or not the public is willing to pay the price.

There is another phase of the matter. Horse flesh, in this country, is not favored as an article of food as in some foreign countries. If it were the decrease in the number of horses would probably be greater than it is. In substituting motors for horses there has to be loss somewhere and the farmer is not inclined to stand it. Possibly this phase of the matter may explain another thing—failure to produce horses in number sufficient to meet the demand for them even while motors are displacing them, thereby keeping up their value.

THE FORUM

ASKS SQUARE DEAL

Editor Twin Falls News—Dear Sir: In view of the approaching city election and the selection of candidates to fill the offices, why would it not be well to educate the people of Salt Lake City in their own selecting a few days ago and demand fair laws and treatment from our law makers? Idaho has a few foul and unjust laws hanging down on our people without ourly administration tightening the screws a little more.

People cannot come into our city and engage in any legitimate business, making improvements or have any pleasure without first getting down on their knees and asking permission from our city dais. We want candidates pledged to give us at least a semblance of consideration. Yours truly, SQUARE DEAL, Twin Falls, Feb. 26.

"The present model of the Sphinx, though a big advance on the others, is past the experimental stage. Of the first and second models, a quarter of a million have been sold in the States. The plant for the latest, on mass production, is now being laid down. In the company that's being floated I hold a third control—and I'm very thankful that I have. Billy stands to clean up three hundred and fifty thousand dollars in the deal—hard earnings."

"I have not a very good head for figures," Mr. Rivington. "Could you translate that into terms of English currency?"

"About seventy thousand pounds." Lord Scroope sat perfectly silent, frowning at Mr. Rivington.

"But the youngster himself is what I'm concerned with—not what he's got. However," continued Rivington, looking out of the window as a faint whirring noise was heard below, "I see he's arrived, so I needn't say any more. But I'm very glad to have had this chance to speak for him. Billy isn't good at proving himself."

"Billy's card came up, and Billy shortly followed it. He looked at Lord Scroope diffidently.

"I shall be glad to have a few words with you, Mr. Spencer," said Lord Scroope with his most amiable air, "there was a staccato quality about our first meeting, that rendered a mutual understanding difficult."

"The first duty of an uncle," said Mr. Rivington, "is to realize when he's in the way. With your permission, Lord Scroope, I'll go below."

"He is at present with your father in the library, dear," replied her mother. Almee departed hastily. "You're," her mother called after her, "you are on no account to interrupt them!"

"I'm going to be there when they come out!" said Almee over her shoulder as she disappeared.

The two elder people looked at each other, and both of them laughed. Mr. Rivington was charmed. Lady Scroope was wholly unlike his preconceived notions of an English peeress. They resumed their conversation and drifted out through the windows to the lawn near the entrance, where stood the Sphinx. The original Sphinx, with pillow-seat de luxe attached.

Ten minutes later, Lord Scroope, with a countenance that was positively animated, came toward them across the grass.

"My dear Delicia!" he exclaimed. "I have no objection to saying, even before Mr. Rivington, that William Spencer is a most remarkable young man. Not only has his conduct all through the affair been admirable, but his character appeals to me very greatly. There is more innate honesty, more of the very essence of religion, in that young fellow, than I have yet encountered in anyone of his age."

Mr. Rivington, coloring still more deeply, looked at his lordship with appreciative eyes. Lady Scroope smiled.

"Tony, dear, I have seldom heard you express yourself so warmly; and as a judge of character you have taught me to regard you as infallible. Certainly, from the rather brief interview I had with Mr. Spencer I formed a similar opinion. But do I understand that you have—?"

"Hem," said Lord Scroope, with some slight confusion. "We appear to be moving rather—ah—rapidly. I feel—"

He broke off, apparently at a loss, as Billy and Almee came towards them across the lawn, side by side. There was something Olympian in Billy's aspect and the splendor of his smile. Almee was radiant and glowing. Lord Scroope scarcely recognized in her the pallid and distressed young woman who had returned from Jervaux. It was as though an errand descendant of the gods had restored his daughter to him.

"Dad!" said Almee. "You've been splendid, dear. And I want to say all the nice things to Billy's uncle, that I haven't had a chance to, yet."

"I hope," said Lord Scroope, wrinkling his brow in perplexity as he and his wife stood in the library some hours later, after the departure of all the visitors, "that I have not been too precipitate. Have I committed myself too far, Delicia?"

Lady Scroope pushed her husband gently into an armchair and perched herself on the arm of it.

"If you mean, dear," she said, stroking his hair, "did you definitely accept Billy Spencer as a prospective son-in-law, you certainly did. And a very good thing, too."

"Did I really?" murmured her husband. "I hardly recognize myself to-day, Delicia. It seems very precipitate. There are so many things to consider—to weigh—"

"I haven't the slightest doubt that will be all right. Two of the soundest people I ever came across."

And Almee's happiness is a very infectious quality. Still, at the moment, Tony dear, you are looking a little worried and anxious. Why?"

"The one rift in the lute," said Lord Scroope, "is the Georgia, and the quarrels are always petty and unedified. I fear the affair has alienated Erythen. I hope I did not convey the impression that I disapproved of Alexander's marriage. Really it is an excellent thing for Georgia, and he will have most worthy wife."

"I," said Lady Scroope, kissing the top of his head, "will make the peace with Erythen. Although she disapproves of my moral character, I am the only person she really listens to. I will go over tomorrow and pave the way. You may talk to her over with Mr. William Spencer," she added, twinkling, "and he will accompany me. I am persuaded he has great influence here. I suggest a double wedding here at Scroope. It will suit Erythen much better than at Jervaux—as things are! Have no fear, Tony. It shall be arranged."

CHAPTER XXVIII

"All's Well!" "What," said Almee, with a little touch of scorn, "are you looking so frightened about, Georgia dear?"

"I'm not frightened," said Georgia faintly, smoothing her white silk sleeve with a tremulous hand and gleaning at the spray of orange-blossoms on the boudoir table. "I'm extremely happy. But—one ought to feel a little frightened, surely? Are not you?"

"Not a bit." Georgia regarded her cousin with a faintly shocked expression, that changed slowly into a gaze of admiration.

"How perfectly lovely you look, Almee!" "I don't!" returned Almee simply, inspecting herself in the long mirror. "Isn't Billy lucky? She suddenly entered Georgia's waist with her arm. "I'm so glad you're happy, Georgia dear. Everybody's got to be happy today; even Aunt Erythen. In half an hour you and Alexander will stand at the altar. Don't tremble like that. I and Billy will be close to you. And will marry all of us with splendid composure and dignity. There's nothing to be afraid of. Dad is at his best in emergencies like that."

"I do love dignity," said Georgia gratefully. "Don't say nasty things to me on my wedding day. You'll get all the dirty you want. When you speak after the wedding breakfast, the carriage with the two fat horses will be waiting for you; it will convey you to the train, and then away for—where did you say you were going?"

"Glenelg-street," said Georgia rapturously. "Alexander is to be inducted as assistant to the prebendary in six weeks time. I was so glad when he suggested we should go at once to the place where later his duties will lie. There, under the shadow of that glorious old cathedral—"

"You'll spend an idyllic, ecstatic honeymoon. How perfect. How perfect. Aren't you grateful to me? If it hadn't been for my aunt, you might have missed a whole life's happiness. But Billy and I—"

"You're going through to Harwich on the car, aren't you, dear? Alexander told me."

"There's Aunt Erythen," said Almee. "I'm glad mamma induced the old terror to come."

"Who is that with her?" "My new uncle-in-law, Mr. Rivington. He's a peach! Aunt seems to be getting on with him splendidly. Look at her back! Who's the funny little man that seems half asleep over by the cedar?" "My Uncle Joseph," murmured Georgia. "He didn't realize till after we left Jervaux that I ought to have been at home with him all the time. I don't think he really grasps the position, even now."

"I don't wonder. These professors never do grasp anything," chuckled Almee. "We've beaten Diana and Bertrand. They're to be married in London next week."

"Isn't all this delightful to think of," sighed Georgia, "after the horrors we went through! Did you ever hear what became of that woman you told me about—the wife of the burglar?"

"Never heard a word more of her; I think she got away." "It all seems like some fearful nightmare now," shuddered her cousin.

"As the wife of a future bishop, you'll wipe it off your memory, Georgia dear. But I never shall! The sweetest thing I ever had in my life. The joy of living, Georgia!" Lady Scroope suddenly entered the room.

"Children," she said gravely, "in five minutes we start for the chapel." Almee bolted into her room, followed by her mother.

"Do you see 'em yet?" whispered an apple-cheeked woman eagerly. The red pupils in her bonnet quivered as she raised herself on tiptoe. The staff of the Scroope Towers household was grouped on either side of the great porch, behind the assembled guests.

The apple-cheeked woman was Mrs. Sunning of Ivy Cottage, Stambou; the Sunning of Ivy Cottage, Stambou; the only envoy from the Jervaux district. Her eyes sparkled, she clutched grimly to her breast a large bag of rice, a barbarous custom still permitted at Scroope.

Almee and Billy suddenly emerged from the porch at speed, followed closely by Alexander and Georgia, amid cheers, flower-pots and confetti. Mrs. Sunning, with a shrill cry, opened her batteries.

Alexander and Georgia, averting to the right, climbed into the waiting carriage. Billy, escaping through the shower of rice, shot past to the car. "Beat it!" he cried to the chauffeur, and caught Almee by the hand. Together they scudded on foot down the drive.

The guests paused in astonishment. Lady Scroope, her eyelashes sparkling, laughed spitefully. Aunt Erythen jutted an inquiring nose toward the pillars.

The bride and bridegroom, having made good speed for two hundred yards, turned into a clump of laurels that efficiently hid the Flytag Sphinx. Billy snatched up a blue cloak that lay athwart the saddle.

"On with it!" cried Billy, glowing. In a twinkling Almee donned the wrap; as Billy bestrode the saddle she threw herself upon the pillion and her arms about his waist.

"Ready—partner!" Billy said. "Let her rip!" panted Almee joyously. The Sphinx hummed swiftly along the park road and swung left onto the highway.

"Hold tight!" The Sphinx breasted the long rise at sixty miles an hour. The wind screamed past them. Almee laughed aloud. Leaning forward from the pillion, she pressed the smallest, soft round kiss on the back of Billy's neck, as they disappeared in a cloud of sunlit dust.

FILER—Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Neal are the parents of a daughter born Tuesday, February 20. Mr. and Mrs. Eli Shank are the parents of a son born Thursday, February 15.

Ray Sealey was accidentally shot in the left eye Saturday afternoon by a BB shot discharged from an air rifle in the hands of playmates. It is doubtful if he will recover the sight of this eye. Dr. O. Otto, who recently underwent a serious operation at Caldwell, is making a satisfactory recovery. Mrs. Otto returned Tuesday from Caldwell, where she had been at the bedside of her husband.

The second annual military ball given at the I. O. O. F. Thursday evening by the Filer Post, American Legion, and the Legion Auxiliary ladies, was a social success.

A wedding of unusual interest was that of Miss Lina Koch, daughter of Mrs. J. F. Martin, and C. A. Love, one of Filer's well-known merchants, whom they surprised their many friends Monday by slipping away on the early morning train and were married at Pocatello Monday. They returned here Friday after spending the week in Salt Lake City.

Miss Albia Goodie and Roy Walker of Bull were married at the home of the bride Wednesday evening by Rev. F. B. Kacey. A. E. Carlson left Thursday evening for a business trip to Pocatello. J. P. Buck left Monday for his home in Monrovia, Cal., having spent several days here on business in connection with his farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Garrison and family left Wednesday for Missouri, where they will look for a location. Mrs. Clyde Dudley and small son spent the week in Twin Falls with relatives.

Mesdames Frank Wilks and Frank Albion entertained friends Saturday evening at five tables of pinheads. Delicious refreshments were served. Dr. H. E. McMillan spent the first of the week in Boise attending the state convention of veterinary doctors.

The Amalgamated Sugar Company

Women Know What They Want—and Get It. A woman buys many different food products, dozens of fabrics and articles of apparel, shoes, things for the home, toilet preparations—quite probably in a year she makes a thousand purchases. Personally to judge the quality of each, she would need to be a chemist, an engineer, a metallurgist and a good many other things. So, given the choice, of course she buys the goods she knows in preference to those she does not know. And she is going to have that choice for a good many years. She is boss. Manufacturers who want to work for her must realize this: They must put in their application at once; convince her of their intention and ability to give her merchandise of known value; and then live up to the standard. For she is a just but ruthless boss. She neither forgets nor forgives. She rewards loyal service with loyalty, but her condemnation of broken faith is final. Her favor is the sunlight of success; her indifference, the outer darkness. (Published by The Twin Falls News, in co-operation with The American Association of Advertising Agencies.)

REACH DECISION IN OUSTER CASE

Settlers in Milner Low Lift District Reported to Have Dropped Action

Resolutions favoring the withdrawal of the suit now pending in district court to oust the directors of the Milner low lift irrigation district were passed unanimously at a meeting of the settlers of the district Saturday, according to a report by members of the meeting. Decision was reached at the meeting to notify the attorneys of the district of the action taken and to ask them to withdraw the case, it was reported.

CLAIM PAIR SURPRISED AT BOOZE MAKING TRADE

Hurley Jenkinson and Charles Brady Held in Jail as Result of Raid Near Western Line of the County

Two barrels of corn mash were destroyed and a still and a quantity of liquor seized when Deputy Sheriff Gahbart and L. P. Bracken, federal prohibition officer, raided a distilling outfit near the western boundary line of the county Sunday morning, according to their report. Hurley Jenkinson and Charles Brady, the alleged owners and operators of the still, are held in the county jail.

The raid disclosed circumstances and events vividly recalling the history of "moonshining" in Kentucky, according to the account. The still and outfits were hidden in a small ravine and the two men were keeping a watchful lookout while operating the still, it is said.

The officers approached from an unexpected direction and the men were at work at their illegal trade, the officers covered them with their guns before either of the pair could reach for a .30 calibre rifle lying across a barrel of mash.

Allege Students Attack Zu Zims

Physical Engagements Result from Hostilities Between Local Boys, Reports Indicate

Hostilities between a group of high school boys and members of the Zu Zim club culminated in an extensive physical engagement Monday night, according to students who were said to have participated.

Plans for the affair were made by the "belligerents" Monday afternoon and were put in effect near the high school building as a group of Zu Zim members were passing, according to the report.

Members of the club were alleged to have been subjected to hazing at the hands of the opposing group and to have been chased after circumstances resulted in a general fight.

The affair was said to have represented an expression of indignation on the part of about 25 boys over the refusal of high school officials to recognize a boys' fraternity other than the Zu Zim organization.

Police stated they received no reports of the affair and inquiry at the home of one of the Zu Zim members afforded no information.

SUES CITY FOR DAMAGES

Trial of Complaint of B. A. Van Meter for $5,100 Set for Tuesday Morning, City Attorney Reports

The damage suit for $5,100 brought by B. A. Van Meter against the city of Twin Falls has been set for trial in district court on Tuesday morning, according to S. D. Dealy, city attorney, who will represent the city in the action.

Mr. Van Meter is suing for injuries alleged to have resulted from an automobile accident which occurred in 1919 and which, he claims, was caused by faulty condition of the city streets.

OFFICER RESIGNS

W. E. Patton, merchant's police officer, has announced his resignation, effective Thursday. He will be succeeded by W. C. Griffin, police officer. Gallon of Liquor and Still Seized when Three Are Arrested in Shack Near City

A raid on a shack a mile east of the sugar factory at 9:30 o'clock Monday night resulted in the seizure of a still, a gallon of liquor, two barrels of mash and the arrest of Joe Ramon, Cecil Oratov and P. Dala. The raid was conducted by L. P. Bracken, federal prohibition officer, and Deputy Sheriff Gahbart, Hamilton and Frater.

TWO CANDIDATES URGED FOR COMMISSION JOBS

Petitions Circulated Asking Signers to Support Nominations of William Lambing and C. H. Stinson

Petitions were circulated Monday seeking signatures of voters favorable to the election of William Lambing and C. H. Stinson to membership on the city commission to succeed members of the commission whose terms expire this spring.

The petitions were obtained from J. L. Mae, city clerk, by E. J. Finch. Among the others obtaining petitions Monday were Homer C. Mills, Bob Evans and O. C. Hall, a total of 225 blanks having been taken out during the day.

Mr. Mills who obtained 100 blanks, declined to comment on the nominees to be named. Mayor J. D. Tucker stated Monday night that he has not decided definitely as to whether he will run for reelection but that he will reach a decision "before the end of the week."

Commissioner J. E. Roberts stated that he is a candidate to succeed him. Commissioner S. G. McAuley will not urge his own reelection but will serve again if the voters so desire, he said.

SHRINE BENEFIT DANCE AIDS SCOUT MOVEMENT

Good Attendance Present at Second Event Given by Masonic Order; Funds Donated to Local Boys

The success of the dance recently given by the Shrine at the city hall was closely rivaled at the second similar affair which took place Monday night at the Lavering pavilion in the form of a benefit for Boy Scouts.

The efforts of the Scouts, who were in charge of the sale of tickets for the benefit, were rewarded with a good attendance of Shriners and their wives. The pavilion was attractively decorated and exceptionally good music was furnished by Friedman's orchestra.

H. R. Grant, general chairman, announced that the next event to be given by the club will be a "stag" affair, to take place early in March.

Electrical Wizard Believes In Good Housekeeping

Dr. Charles P. Stelmec, the electrical wizard of the General Electric company, who recently started scientists by suggesting that the world's future food supply might well be obtained cheaply by breeding nitrogenous bacteria for use as food, on a recent visit to New York City spent a day at the Good Housekeeping Institute, where he was very much interested in the many electrical devices used for simplifying housekeeping. He is shown here looking at an electric washing machine.

Lemonade and Cats---

"A Story About Getting Something Cheap"

It happened at a village Sunday School picnic, two little boys had lemonade stands—one on either side of the entrance. The pastor came along and going up to George, said: "Well, my little man, how much do you charge for your lemonade?"

"Five cents a glass," replied George.

"And how much do you charge?" he asked, turning to Harry, who ran the competing stand.

"Two cents a glass," replied Harry.

The pastor cast a censorious eye upon George and said to Harry, "I'll try a glass of yours, my boy."

As he quaffed the fluid, he smacked his lips and said "That's good. I'll have another glass," and he smiled when he thought he was getting two glasses at less than George asked for one.

"Tell me, my little man," he said to Harry, "How can you afford to sell your lemonade for two cents a glass when George is asking five cents?"

"Well, you see," said Harry, "the cat fell in my pail."

WHEN THE PRICE IS OUT THERE IS USUALLY A REASON

The lemonade tasted good to the pastor only until he learned the reason for the cut, then his price would have seemed high.

It's a strange thing that a man who sees the justice and wisdom of asking a fair price for the thing he sells often fails to see the justice and wisdom of paying a fair price for the thing he buys.

To the man who is looking for cheap insurance the story of "Lemonade and Cats" is worth thinking about.
