BOISE, Feb. 27 (AP)—The senate eugenics bill is no more, having been defeated today in that body by a vote of 16 to 24, after Senator Clark of Idaho, had called it a most "abhorrent piece of legislation," and said that with the "eugenics law" and other statutes of Idaho it would throw down the bars of legal wedlock for the very people the law was intended to reach.

OUSTER LAW AMENDMENT IS PASSED

Idaho Senate Concurs in House Action Taking Bounty from Informant Against Public Officials

BOISE, Feb. 27 (Special to The News)—The senate late this afternoon passed the house bill amending the statute relating to summary proceedings in the ouster of public officials.

The anti-land bill was weakened in the senate Tuesday afternoon to the point where its final passage, which was now expected, would be but a semblance of the hope of its backers when it was first introduced. The senate action extended the time for which leases might be made for a period of five years and eliminated aliens who for one year have lived in Idaho from another class of the leasing fund.

Exempts Cooperators. Exclusion of cooperative marketing organizations from the provisions of the anti-trust law of the state is provided for in a senate bill passed in that body, which also placed its stamp of approval on Senator Hainley's measure which would put 50 per cent of the fines collected from liquor law violators in a law enforcement fund.

Passage by the house of a senate bill to regulate competition in purchase of dairy products in the state was forecast this afternoon, when an attempt by Representative Sanborn of Gooding county, to have the measure indefinitely postponed, was overwhelmingly voted down. The bill is being actively supported by many dairymen and by cooperative organizations.

Britain Faces New Problem Through French Seizure of German Marks for Rhineland

Serious Situation Seems to be Brewing Unless France Shows Disposition to Release Money Declared Intended for Payment of British Troops in Occupied Area

REICHSBANK HALTS FLOW OF CASH UNTIL IMMUNITY IS GUARANTEED

LONDON, Feb. 27 (AP)—Seizure by the French at Cologne last week of a large sum of German money, part of which was intended for the payment of the British troops in the occupied area, continues to be the most absorbing of the many difficulties which are confronting the British administration in the Rhineland. As far as can be ascertained in London, the French have not yet released that part of the money seized which was for the British army and which is deposited at the Times from Cologne banks at 67,000,000 marks.

The remainder of the 12,000,000,000 marks taken by the French was intended for the payment of wages to workmen in the British zone, including those of the big Bayer dye works at Leverkusen, the Humboldt steel works and the extensive Brown collieries to the west of Cologne.

One correspondent says that French circles in Dusseldorf thus far have shown no disposition to release the money seized and that unless their attitude is changed the situation may become extremely serious.

Mr. De Valera said the desire of the "government"—the republicans—for an honorable understanding is not less than the association of neutrals and adds: "You can feel especially assured that you will have our most earnest support in any endeavor to give back to our country that internal unity which we have striven in the years of her struggle with England. We cannot, however, agree to your proposal for a truce."

FARM CREDIT SIDETRACKED FOR ONE DAY

House Puts Report on National Bank Tax Bill Ahead of Relief Measure, But Promises Early Action

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—Farm credits legislation was sidetracked today in the house for a conference report on the national bank tax bill, but republican managers gave assurances that it would be called up tomorrow, and if possible, pressed to a vote at a single session.

The bank tax matter led to a five-hour fight, and a further tightening of the legislative jam and it is certain that much of the legislation which the rules committee had voted to give privileged status on the floor will die with the sixty-seventh congress at noon Sunday.

HARDING FILLS VACANCIES IN CABINET POSTS

Dr. Hubert Work Succeeds A. B. Fall as Interior Secretary and Senator New Becomes Postmaster General

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (AP)—President Harding today effected the greatest change his cabinet has undergone since his administration began nearly two years ago, by designating Dr. Hubert Work of Colorado, now postmaster general, to be secretary of the interior, succeeding Albert B. Fall, of New Mexico, and Senator Harry S. New, of Indiana, to head the postoffice department in succession to Dr. Work.

The nominations of Dr. Work and Senator New were sent to the senate and promptly confirmed, that of Senator New almost immediately in open session in accordance with the courtesy always extended sitting senators, and that of Dr. Work late in the day after it had been referred to committee in open session and reported back. The two will take up their new duties next Monday when the resignation of Secretary Fall, announced several weeks ago, becomes effective. Senator New retires from the senate with the adjournment of congress Sunday.

Selections Not Unexpected

The selections made by the president were not unexpected, as they were far ahead two weeks or more ago. The president, upon receiving the resignation of Secretary Fall, who retired after two years in the cabinet, to take care of his private business interests, tendered to Secretary Hoover, the interior portfolio, but the commerce secretary expressed a desire to continue at his present post, and to be working out certain parts of the program of helpfulness to business that he has instituted.

The president, it is understood, then made up his mind to transfer Dr. Work, who became postmaster general last March 4, after the retirement of Will H. Hays, of Indiana, to the interior department, because of his long-expressed desire to have western man head this department, which deals so largely with western interests. Dr. Work, furthermore, is said to have impressed the president most favorably as an administrator since assuming the postoffice portfolio.

Turns to Intimate Friend

Having thus decided to transfer Dr. Work, the president turned toward selection of a man to head the postoffice department. Quite naturally, he turned to Senator New, who was one of his closest friends in the senate and who since has generally been considered as close to the White House as in the senate. Also, Mr. Harding, making up his original cabinet, tendered Senator New a place, but the senator preferred to serve out the remainder of his term in the senate.

No sooner had reports become current that the president was considering Senator New, than opposition to the appointment arose in the senator's own state. Representative Will R. Wood, of Indiana, who is chairman of the republican congressional committee, announced he intended to oppose, and did oppose in a conference with the president, the selection of Senator New, declaring that the senator was defeated for re-nomination in the state primary last year by former Senator Albert J. Beveridge, and as a consequence, should take "his medicine." There were reports that other Indiana political leaders also were opposed to the selection of Senator New.

Strengthened by Opposition

The division of opinion created quite a flurry in Indiana politics, but the effect of the opposition to President Harding, it has been said by some persons close to him, was merely to strengthen him in his determination to appoint his friend. The appointment also was favored by most of the members of the senate, where the Indiana man has been very popular.

Senator New was in his office in the senate office building today when his nomination arrived at the senate, and when it was confirmed. He declined to make any formal statement.

merely saying he appreciated the honor and would accept the portfolio. Late in the day he went to the post-office department for a conference with Dr. Work. After taking the oath of office he plans to go to Indiana to spend a few days before actively taking charge of the department.

TIRE MAKERS CONDEMN RUBBER EXPORT LEVIES

American Industry Favors Repeal of Act of British Producing Colonies; Would Seek New Sources

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (AP)—American tire, automobile and accessory manufacturers in conferences here today, went on record as favoring repeal of the act of the British rubber producing colonies, which increased duties on rubber exports. They also agreed to cooperate with the United States government, in its announced effort to ascertain whether new sources of rubber, sisal and nitrates can be developed in this country and American insular possessions.

A resolution was adopted in reference to the export duty of the British colonies, which pledged cooperation with manufacturers of rubber products in presenting a protest to the British government and in taking other steps necessary to bring about revocation of the law increasing the duty.

Deciding that the increased duty since last November 1 had increased the cost of crude rubber at Singapore from 14 to 37 cents per pound, the conference predicted it would cost the American public at least $100,000,000 annually.

Approval of the administration's plan to develop, if possible, production of rubber, sisal and nitrates was expressed in another resolution with authorized appointment of a committee to advise with and assist the departments of commerce and agriculture which expect to conduct extensive experiments.

the senate in killing the measure it will not be submitted again by the administration, it was said today at the White House. The president was described as very frankly and very greatly disappointed that the legislation should be defeated when it was apparent a majority of the senate favored it, but, however, to have no feeling of pique or resentment.

The administration, it was added by the White House spokesman, is resolved to do the best thing and everything possible without the aid of congress in assisting private owners to operate the war built tonnage and to establish the American flag on the principal trade routes. This policy, which involves liquidation of the government's commitment in ownership of ocean shipping, it was said, is being rapidly worked out and will be in operation long before congress convenes next December. It does not involve abrogation of commercial treaties under section 34 of the merchant marine act of 1920, it was declared by the spokesman for the president, who, however, declined to give any of the details of the plan.

Sees Opportunity Lost

The filibuster which defeated the measure, in the opinion of the president, it was asserted, caused congress to miss "the most locking opportunity in the history of the United States to create a merchant marine."

SET DATE FOR FINAL ACTION ON SHIP BILL

Senators Agree, After Another Day of Debate, on Date for Disposing of Measure; Administration Disappointed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (AP)—Agreement was reported today in the senate to vote tomorrow on final disposition of the administration shipping bill, which has been regarded as lost even by its supporters since last Friday.

Before the agreement to vote was reached just before adjournment and after another day of debate ranging more or less about the measure, it had begun to appear that the task of finally killing it had become almost as difficult as that of passing it.

Strange Dream by Washington Its Recounted

Father of His Country Object of Supernatural Visitation
According to Story First
Published in Year 1880

In a copy of the Rocky Ford Enterprise of Rocky Ford, Colorado, yellow with age and frayed from much handling, appears an article frequently referred to but rarely seen in print, an account of a purported visit of a celestial character upon the Father of His Country, first published in 1880.

The article, as it appears in the Rocky Ford Enterprise of July 21, 1880, is here reproduced at the request of Twin Falls parties coming into possession of a copy of the paper.

Mrs. J. M. Phillips has a copy of the Later-Ocean Curiosity Shop, issued in 1880. Amongst the valuable material published in these Later-Ocean annuals is Washington's Dream. It contains so much of prophetic character and copies not being easily obtained we publish it below that the request of several friends for copies may be complied with:

"The last time I ever saw Anthony Sherman was on the 4th of July, 1859, in Independence square. He was then 99 years old and becoming very feeble; but though so old his dimming eyes rekindled as he gazed upon Independence Hall which he had come to gaze upon once more before he was gathered home.

"Let us go into the hall, he said, I want to tell you an incident of Washington's life—one which on one allivo knows of except myself, and if you live, you will before long see it verified. Mark the prediction, you will see it verified.

"One day, I remember it well, the chilly winds which through the leafless trees, though the sky was cloudless and the sun shone brightly; he remained in his quarters nearly all the afternoon alone. When he came out I noticed his face a shade paler than usual, and there seemed to be something on his mind of more than ordinary importance. Returning just after dark I encountered an orderly to the quarters of the officer I mention who was presently in attendance. After a preliminary conversation which lasted about half an hour, Washington gazing upon his companion with that strange look of dignity which he alone could command, said to the latter: I do not know whether it is owing to the anxiety of my mind or what, but this afternoon as I was sitting at this very table, engaged in preparing a dispatch, something in the department seemed to disturb me. Looking up I beheld standing opposite me a singularly beautiful female. So astonished was I, for I had given strict orders not to be disturbed, that it was some moments before I found language to inquire the cause of her presence. A second, a third and even a fourth time did I repeat my question but received no answer from my mysterious visitor except a slight raising of the eyebrows. By this time I felt strange sensations spreading through me. I would have risen, but the riveted gaze of the being before me rendered motion impossible. I essayed once again to address her, but my tongue had become powerless. Even thought itself became paralyzed. A new influence, mysterious, potent, irresistible took possession of me. All I could do was to gaze steadily vacantly, at my unknown visitant. Gradually the surrounding atmosphere seemed as though becoming filled with sensations and grew luminous. Everything about me seemed to rarify, the mysterious visitor herself becoming more airy, and yet even more distinct to my sight than before. I now began to feel some dizziness or rather to experience the sensations which I have sometimes imagined accompany dissolution. I did not think; I did not reason, I did not move; it was all impossible. I was only conscious of gazing fixatedly, vacantly, at my companion.

"Presently I heard a voice saying, 'Son of the republic, look and learn.' At that moment the visitor extended her arm eastward. I now beheld a heavy, white vapor at some distance rising fold upon fold. This gradually dissipated and I looked upon a strange scene. Before me lay spread out in one vast plain all the countries of the world—Europe, Asia, Africa and America. I saw rolling and tossing between Europe and America the billows of the Atlantic, and between Asia and America lay the Pacific. 'Son of the republic,' said the same mysterious voice as before, look and learn.' At that moment I saw a dark shadowy being like an angel standing, or rather floating in mid-air, between Europe and America. Dipping water out of the ocean in the hollow of his apron, he sprinkled some upon America with his right hand, while with his left hand he cast some upon Europe. Immediately a dark cloud raised from each of these countries and drew back to the ocean. For a while it remained stationary and then moved slowly westward until it enveloped America in its murky folds. Sharp flashes of lightning struck it at intervals, and I heard the smothered groans and cries of the American people. A second time the angel dipped water from the ocean and sprinkled it out as before. The dark cloud was then drawn back to the ocean in whose leaving waves it sank from view. A third time I heard the mysterious voice saying, 'Son of the republic, look and learn.' I cast my eyes upon America and beheld villages and towns and cities springing up one after another, until the whole land from the Atlantic to the Pacific was dotted with them. Again I heard the mysterious voice saying, 'son of the republic, look and learn.' At this, the dark shadowy angel turned his face southward, and a billow of smoke approached our land. It flitted slowly and heavily over town and city of the latter, the inhabitants presently, at the sound of the battle array against each other. As I continued looking I saw a bright angel on whose brow rested a crown of light on which was inscribed 'Union.' Bearing the American flag, which was placed between the divided nation, and said, 'Remember, ye are brethren.' Instantly the inhabitants, casting from them their weapons, became friends once more and united around the national standard. And again I heard the mysterious voice saying, 'Son of the republic, the end of the century cometh. Look and learn.' At this, the dark shadowy angel placed a trumpet to his mouth and blew three distinct blasts, and taking water from the ocean he sprinkled it upon Europe, Asia and Africa. Then my eyes beheld a fearful scene. From each of these countries arose thick, black clouds that were soon joined into one. And throughout this mass there appeared a dark red light by which I saw the hordes of armed men who moving with the cloud, marched by land and sea to America, which country was everywhere immediately the cloud. And I dimly saw these vast armies devastate the whole country and burn the villages, towns and cities that I beheld spring up. As my eyes looked on the thundering of cannon, clashing of swords, and shouts and cries of millions in mortal combat I again heard the mysterious voice saying, 'Son of the republic, look and learn.' 'When the voice had ceased, the dark shadowy angel placed a trumpet once more to his mouth and blew a long, powerful blast.

"Instantly a light as if a thousand suns shown down from above me and pierced and broke into fragments the dark cloud which enveloped America. At the same moment I saw the angel upon whose apron still shone the word 'Union,' and who bore our national flag in one hand and a sword in the other, descend from heaven attended by legions of bright spirits. 'I was the first to have joined the inhabitants of America, who, I perceived were wellnigh overcome, but who, immediately taking courage, again closed up their ranks and renewed the battle. Again amid the fearful noise of the conflict, I heard the mysterious voice saying, 'Son of the republic, look and learn.' 'As the voice ceased the shadowy angel for the last time dipped water from the ocean and sprinkled it on America. Immediately the dark cloud rolled back, together with the armies it had been leading the inhabitants of the land victorious over the inhabitants of the sea. 'Then once more I beheld the villages, towns and cities springing up where they had been before, while the bright angel, planting the azure standard he had brought in the midst of them, cried in a loud voice: 'While the stars remain and the heavens send down fire upon the earth, so long shall the republic last. And taking from his brow the crown on which blazoned the word, 'Union,' he placed it upon the standard, while the angel kneeling, cried, Amen.' 'The scene instantly began to fade and dissolve, and I at last saw nothing, but the rising, curling vapor I at first beheld. This also disappearing, I found myself gazing upon my mysterious visitor, who, in the same voice I had heard before, said: 'Son of the republic, what ye have seen is thus interpreted. Three perils will come upon the republic. The most fearful is second, passing which the whole world united shall never be able to prevail against her. Let every child of the republic learn to live for his God, his land and the Union.' 'With these words the vision vanished and I started from my seat feeling that I had seen a vision where I had been shown me the big picture and destiny of the United States, in union she will have her strength, in dissolution her destruction.' 'Such, my friend,' concluded the venerable narrator, 'were the words I heard from Washington's own lips, and America will do well to profit by them.' WESLEY BRADSHAW

INTEREST TURNS ON TOURNAMENT

Eight Teams Competing for District Title Promise Plenty of Thrills for Fans

Only one day remains before the basketball stars of the south central district will get together for their annual contest to determine a representative of this section to bring the state title to the southern part of Idaho.

Thursday evening at 7 o'clock sharp the opening game of the tournament will begin, and from then on there will be something doing every minute.

Fifteen games are scheduled, and with the tapering down process working every minute of the time, there will be but two teams left Saturday evening when the final game is played.

SEEKS TO PREVENT BOUT

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP)—An injunction to prevent Louis Firpo, South American heavyweight, from meeting Billy Brennan in a bout at Madison Square Garden March 12 will be sought in court by the Pioneer Athletic club, which claims an agreement with the Argentinian for the first demand upon his services.

THEATRE TEAM TRIMS SHOEMEN

Foot Fitters Brace After Dropping First Two Games and Capture Third

After losing the first two games to the Idaho Theatre team, the Shoe Market bowlers braced in the last game of the evening at the Twin Falls bowling alley, and won the last game, topping over 854 pins to 826 for the kid division of the league.

The first game of the series showed the Theatre boys rolling 810 while the Shoe Market bunch were gathering 748.

AND THE KIDS LEAD THEM

Well, the kids took two of them, and the girls within striking distance of first place.

The Shoe Market gang became peeved in the final canto, and slipped off 854, which was too much for the Theatre boys to handle.

Whenever a team bowls over the 850 mark, they are entitled to win.

Captain Walter Selck of the Idaho Theatre team, didn't have any blue ribbons pinned on him for good bowling. The best that "Slick" could do was 145 for high.

Dug Salmon couldn't "account" for his poor showing, stating that he had to be a good bowler years ago, and for some reason or rather he has forgotten the way he used to do it.

Hugh Lewis bowled a good, consistent game, averaging 163 for the night. "Milky" Reeves averaged over the 150 mark, but missed a good many easy squares.

Walter Buchanan had a bad start, but picked up in nice fashion in the last two contests. "Duck" had five errors, which is unusual for this spare picker.

"Denny" Sullivan showed vast improvement, topping 504 pins. Whenever they pass the 500 mark, the average gets a boost.

Laval Jarman was off color in the second game, but gave the fans two nice games in the first and third. Even with his poor showing in the second game, it was his strike in the last frame that gave the kids their second win of the evening.

Tonight the E. D. Store will clash with the Wright's store men, and Emery Benoit in the Wright's store line-up of the I. D. boys are in for three hard games.

Our daily bowling thought: We have been springing the "bowling thoughts" on different bowlers, but we Canton Ohio.

London's Breath of Country. In the crowded thoroughfares of London, traces of the country linger still in the names of a few city streets. Honeyuckle square, Milton street, is a reminder of the days when the sweetest-scented flower grew in the city of London. Few other names redolent of the country still remain in London. Not far from where old Newgate prison stood are Rose street and Ivy lane, whilst perhaps the most noted to Shakespeare was the Manor of the Rose, with its mansion let at a rental of a red rose yearly at Laurence Pountney hill. Plum Tree court and Pear Tree court, Farrington street, are also reminders of the time when the fruit grew in the city.

CLAIMS ALASKA OIL LANDS FOR NAVY'S SUPPLY

President Sets Aside More Than 35,000 Square Miles of Region Believed Rich in Petroleum Resources

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—President Harding, by executive order today set aside an area of more than 35,000 square miles in the northwest section of Alaska as an oil reserve to insure fuel for the navy. This naval reserve will exceed by 20,000,000 acres, the combined area of the three other reserves in Washington and California, which is less than 2,000,000 acres.

The new reserve adjoins the corner of Alaska between Icy Cape and Cape Barrow, and is bounded by the Arctic ocean on the north and west, and the Bristol range of the mountains and the Colville river on the south and east. It is for the most part flat, grassy tundra, devoid of vegetation, sparsely populated and entirely within the Arctic circle.

COLORADO BEET GROWERS AND COMPANY DEADLOCK

Farmers Holding Out for Half of Sugar Extracted in Payment for Ton of Beets Falls to Shaker Manufacturers DENVER, Colo., Feb. 27 —Sugar beet growers of northern Colorado and the Great Western Sugar company, owner of many factories in the state, apparently are deadlocked over the price to be paid for beets in 1923. Following a recent demand, made by the growers after a meeting at Fort Collins, Colo., for a "fifty-fifty" contract, giving the farmer half the sugar extracted in payment for a ton of beets, W. D. Lippitt, first vice president and general manager of the company, issued a statement today in which he declared that his announced contract "is the best, that we feel warranted in offering this season and will not be modified."

FIND MISSING TAPESTRIES

Official Inquiry in Paris Ends When Possession of Ancient Fabrics was Traced to Rockefeller Home NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP)—Six tapestries woven about 1400 for the Duke de la Rochefoucauld, the whereabouts of which recently was made the subject of an official inquiry in Paris, are hanging in the home of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., the New York Evening Post said, it had learned. According to the newspaper, the tapestries were shown in the Anderson galleries here last November, and admission was by card only. On the third day the tapestries were suddenly withdrawn without explanation and it was understood they had been acquired by an American collector for $1,000,000. Miles Bosworth, architect, admitted today that the tapestries had been purchased by Mr. Rockefeller through himself as agent. He declared, however, that the tapestries were now in transit from London and had never been in the Rockefeller home.

VETERANS BUREAU WOULD BE SUBJECTED TO PROBE

Senate Committee Recommends Investigation of Charges Against Administration of Soldier Welfare Work WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—Charges of a "serious nature," uncontradicted so far and reflecting upon the veterans' bureau, require the congressional investigation recommended by the special senate committee of preliminary inquiry recently held, the formal committee report, filed today by Senator Sutherland, republican, West Virginia, as chairman. Reciting that $350,000,000 was being spent annually by the veterans' bureau, the report referred to the charges uncovered by its inquiry and added: "It is believed to be in the interest of the public as well as in the interest of the beneficiaries of the government's appropriations that a thorough investigation be made to determine their truth or falsity. If these charges cannot be substantiated, then it is due to the officers of the bureau and the public that they be set entirely at rest. . . . "If such committee shall find that these charges are well based, it should make such a report to the congress when it reassembles as will be justified by the facts, if it should be proved that criminal conduct on the part of any of those having to deal with this subject has existed, then these facts should be placed in the hands of the department of justice for prosecution."

Baraha, who ran on a platform of light wines and beer, finished fourth on the republican majority ticket. In the second congressional district, Morton D. Hull defeated Sidney Lyon for the republican nomination to succeed to the late James R. Mann. Although attorneys for the widow, Mrs. Virginia Lora Stone Remington, told the police she had discussed her "domestic troubles" with them, with a divorce suit as a possibility, two weeks before her husband was slain, the will, dated May 21, 1919, named her executrix and devisee of the income from the estate for life. The instrument also provided that at the death of the widow the income was to be divided between his mother, Mrs. E. Georgia Remington, and his sister, Miss Blanche P. Remington, if they were living, or, if dead, between their respective heirs.

ANACONDA PAYS FIRST DIVIDENDS SINCE 1920

Improvement in Copper Industry is Reflected in Mining Company's Decision to Resume Payments NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP)—Further evidence of improvement in the copper industry was offered today when directors of the Anaconda Copper Mining company declared a dividend of 73 cents per share, this being the first dividend paid by the corporation since November 22, 1920, when a dividend of $1 a share was declared. While no intimation was given out by the company as to whether this rate would be continued, speculative belief that the directors' action means the stock had again been put on a regular basis was raised by the fact that the share in the stock, which moved to 517.75, a new high price for the year, Anaconda's action follows that of Kennecott and Mother Lode companies, who recently resumed dividends after a large lapse.

Large amounts of copper were sold in the local metal market during the day for domestic shipment at 167.4 cents delivered, the highest price since 1920. A 75 cent quarterly dividend for Anaconda, if adopted as the regular rate, would be an annual dividend of $3 a share, or 25 per cent less than the 1922 stock dividend. The 21 quarterly dividends on the new stock is equivalent to an annual rate of $5.64 1/3 a share on the old stock.

TOO MUCH DELAY

Naval Captain's Odd Warning to Expert Gunner.

Evidently Fine Marksmanship Was Not Considered Essential in the Day of the Old Navy.

The one thing a commander of a vessel engaged in target practice is more interested in than anything else is the record that his men make at the ranges.

"One day we went out for the quarterly practice, anchored the target, and went at it. The targets we used in those days were planks fastened in a triangle, a spar placed in the center to hold the canvas, which was the target."

Now, the gun captain of the forward pivot rifle was an excellent marksman, and on his first trial he sent a shell through the spar, which smashed it into splinters.

"When it had been patched up, it was towed back to its place, and firing was resumed. Again the same gunner had the first shot, and again his shell brought down the spar and canvas."

"The boat was sent out again, but when the repaired target was being towed back to the range, the captain, who was much out of humor by the delay, spoke his mind: 'Tell Gunner Blank, he commanded, that if he hits that target again, I will put him in the brig!'"

WHEAT MARKET IMPROVES

Prices Advance as Result of Uncertainty Over Crop Outlook and Betterment in Export Business

CHICAGO, Feb. 27 (AP)—Uncertainty regarding the crop outlook in western Kansas and Nebraska, together with signs of improvement in export business, did a good deal today to bring about higher prices for wheat. The market closed firm at 1-1/4 to 20 not to change with May 41.18 1/2 to 118 1/2. Corn finished 1-1/2 to 7-8 to 1c up, oats advanced 1-4 to 1-2, and provisions 2 to 13 to 15c.

It quickly became evident that the market had the advantage in the wheat market, especially after attention began to focus on crop conditions for winter wheat. Dry weather reports from western Kansas were emphasized by reports that west of the line drawn north and south through Kinley the state had received practically no moisture since last July.

TAKE SALTS IF STOMACH ISN'T ACTING RIGHT

Says Indigestion Results From an Excess of Hydrochloric Acid

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather ferments, the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that indigestion is caused by Hyperacidity, meaning there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. This every-thing eaten soars in the stomach much like garbage sores in a can, forming acids, fluids and gases which irritate the stomach like a balloon. As a result we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest; we belch up gas; we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulency, water-brash and nausea.
