

CIVILIZATION'S TREND IS SEEN TOWARD JUNGLE

Federal Labor Board Chairman Points Out Menace in "Organized Advocacy and Use of Force" in Industrial Disputes

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 6 (AP)—A distinct movement of civilization in this country backward toward the jungle is manifest today, declared W. Hooper, chairman of the United States Federal labor board, elected here tonight before the Illinois Association of Insurance Agents.

"This is not the outbreak of an occasional individual or the sporadic upheaval of an isolated community," he declared.

"It is the systematic, organized advocacy and use of force in the settlement of industrial controversies." Some of the manifestations of this, he said, were strikes in essential industries, a railroad or coal strike being economic pressure upon the employer in theory, but in the real economic pressure is brought to bear against the consuming public.

"To characterize this process as civil warfare is not an exaggeration," he said.

He repeated why strikes on railroads and other public utilities cannot be conducted without violence is because the organizations, in substance and effect, teach that violence is justifiable. This is done by the periodicals of these organizations continually hammering into the minds of their readers that no man has the right to take up the work which a striker has abandoned. "It is a weak government that does not provide some method for the adjustment of labor controversies in the essential industries, without permitting them to be fought out between the immediate parties. A government which stands idly by permits capital to oppress labor in these great essential industries and permits labor to wage civil war for the redress of its grievances, real and imaginary, invites and will ultimately encounter chaos."

Idaho organizes Lily Wins State Championship for Senior Four-Year-Olds for Butterfat Production

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, March 6.—Idaho Segis Lily, owned by the University of Idaho, has completed a record which gives her the state championship for senior four-year-olds in both the seven and 30-day divisions for butterfat production. She produced 608.1 pounds of milk and 24.06 pounds of butterfat, equivalent to 30.08 pounds of butter, in seven days, and 2689.2 pounds of milk and 89.25 pounds of butterfat, or 123.66 pounds of butter in the 30-day test. This record displaced Tiranda De Kol Johanna Meehlidde, owned by J. S. Hulbert of Naupa, who has been leader in the class for several years.

Idaho Segis Lily is not only the 30-day champion, but her record stands highest ever produced in the 30-day division for cows of all ages. She started the test at 4 years, 3 months and 10 days, and will be continued through the year on semi-official test. Her highest daily milk production reached 103.6 pounds.

This showing was made after having completed a previous year's record of 19,366 pounds of milk, 608 pounds of butterfat equivalent to 760 pounds of butter, starting that test at 3 years and 1 month. Idaho Segis Lily was bred and developed on the University farm and was sired by King Segis Matador Walker, oldest and best proven son of Matador Segis Walker.

OFFERS TREES AT COST

Idaho University School of Forestry Prepares to Distribute 100,000 Trees to Encourage Planting in State

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, March 6.—The policy of the school is to encourage the planting of trees for shelter belts, woodlots, and ornament in Idaho, by supplying the stock in limited quantities at the price of the state at cost. The school of forestry at the University of Idaho is prepared to supply all demand for young trees this spring. About 100,000 trees are distributed each year, according to F. G. Miller, dean of the forestry school, and since the plan was started considerably more than a million trees have been supplied.

To enable people to make proper selection, Dean Miller has issued a bulletin which includes the price of trees for 1923, and the number which will be available to any purchaser. According to the bulletin blue spruce, scotch pine, honey locust, Norway maple, Black Russian, and Norway spruce are the more popular species.

The school invites questions from those in doubt as to the proper trees to select for their localities, for studies have been made of the various conditions in the state and the forestry department is in a position to recommend species which will prove most satisfactory. A copy of the bulletin which also includes planting instructions may be had by addressing the school of forestry, Moscow, Idaho.

New Zealand Butter, California Chickens in New York Market

Gothamites Look for Reductions in Price of Produce With Imports Available

NEW YORK, March 6 (AP)—Two epoch-making occurrences were today reported in commercial circles here—one the arrival of a 5,200,000 pound cargo of cream butter from Auckland, New Zealand, and the other of a 2,500,000 pound cargo of poultry from California.

New York market men announced that a fleet of butter carrying ships was now on the high seas with nearly 10,000,000 pounds of New Zealand butter destined for consumption in this country. Its arrival, it is predicted, would send the price of creamery butter to consumers, down to 50 cents a pound.

Both the butter and poultry cargoes came by way of the Panama canal. The turkeys and broilers from the west was looked upon as especially significant, dealers asserting that, until two years ago, California was dependent upon interior states for supplies, of which she now grows sufficient surplus to export.

VICTIMS NAME HERRIN RIOTERS

Two Survivors of Massacre Identify Three Out of Six Men on Trial for Murder

MARION, Ill., March 6 (AP)—Two survivors of the Herrin mine riots last June, testifying for the prosecution at the second trial growing out of the riots, today pointed out three of the six defendants as having taken an active part in the disorders which resulted in the slaying of three union miners and 22 non-union workers.

The two witnesses, Otis Lawrence of Louisville, Ky., a fireman, and Bernard Jones of Chicago, an armed guard, substantiated details of the story told on the witness stand yesterday by William Cairns, another survivor of the tragedy.

All three agreed that the non-union workers in the mine of the Southern Illinois Coal company had been attacked early in the afternoon of June 21, and that they had surrendered the next morning after being promised safe conduct.

Clark Would Kill All

After the unarmed prisoners had been marched about a mile from the mine, according to Lawrence, a new man appeared whom he identified as Otis Clark, one of the defendants, and declared:

"Let's kill them all and stop the breed."

The march was continued, and Lawrence and Jones testified, and some men drove up in an automobile whom they knew and they fired although they heard a shout: "Here comes the president. Here comes Willard."

"Some one then suggested that we be killed there in the road, one by one," Lawrence asserted, "but the men they called 'the president' declared:

"You can't shoot them on the public highway. Take them over to the woods and shoot them or send them away in a body!"

Break Strikers Firing

"Then they took us over to a strip of woods and lined us up before a barbed wire fence. Some one started to run and the firing started."

It was at this point that Antonio Mulkovitch, a veteran of the world war, was slain. The six men on trial, including Hugh Willis, a board member of the Illinois Mine Workers, are charged with his murder.

INDIGENT IMMIGRANTS TO BE REFUSED ENTRY

Australian Government Decides to Disallow Italy Following Unexpected Arrival of Italians

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Mar. 6 (AP)—The federal government has decided to communicate with the Italian government and make it known that Italy cannot permit the entry of indigent immigrants, as the result of the concern caused by the recent unexpected arrival of a ship-load of Italians and the assurance that many of their countrymen, led here by false prospects, were likely to become charges upon the state.

The federal government has the power under the immigration laws to prevent the entry of aliens and this authority is to be exercised as it is necessary to protect the Australian people, it has been announced.

Although the New South Wales government refused to allow the large number of allies who have just arrived, the grave fears as to their future have proved unjustified, as most of them found employment within a day or two after landing. Each state has a fairly large Italian population and those who were in a position to do so, have come to the assistance of their countrymen.

DINOSAUR QUARRIES IN UTAH LIKELY TO CLOSE

Carnegie Representatives Who Have Taken Bones of Prehistoric Animals From Diggings, Consider Shut Down

SALT LAKE CITY, Mar. 6 (AP)—The dinosaur quarries in the mountains south of Vernal, Utah, which during the last fourteen years have yielded many skeletons to workmen of the Carnegie Institute, may be closed, according to word received here. The Carnegie representatives are said to have discontinuance of operations under consideration.

Geologists declare the dinosaur, which existed in the Mesozoic or Secondary Age, to have been one of the most gigantic animals that has ever inhabited the globe. Many skeletons found are 80 feet in length, while the smallest yet unearthed is about 12 feet long. Some dinosaurs have the outward configuration of lizards or alligators with four small limbs supporting an elongated body which terminated in a long pointed tail. In others the legs were large and very strong while the fore limbs were small.

Skilled workmen at Vernal have many months before removing a skeleton, according to Dr. James E. Talmadge, Salt Lake City geological authority, who was one of the persons instrumental in interesting the Carnegie Institute in the work. The skeletons found in the Vernal district are deep in the earth in a sort of limonite formation. Years of study and research has revealed as to the life of Dr. Talmadge, that these huge monsters were evidently overwhelmed by inundation.

Vernal and Salt Lake residents who fear the quarry territory may fall prey to curio hunters and others, have under discussion the probability of state protection for the area as one of the natural wonders of Utah.

MEAT PRICES CONTINUE LOW

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6 (AP)—Whole-sale prices of all kinds of meat, particularly fresh pork cuts and smoked meats, continue at relatively low levels, according to a review of the meat situation made public last night by the Institute of the Meat Packers, which said that during February the wholesale prices of standard hams, bacon and vienas declined slightly.

The foreign trade during the month, aside for a good demand for lard and fat backs, largely to continental European countries, was declared "unsatisfactory."

MILLIONS AVAILABLE FOR AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION

Federal Government Totals $5,880,000 Out of Total of $18,821,000 to be Spent During Coming Year

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6 (AP)—There was allocated for cooperative agricultural extension work throughout the $18,821,000 of which the Federal Government contributed $5,880,000 under the provision of the Smith-Lever Act. Congress by direct appropriation to the Department of Agriculture made available $1,025,000 in addition for farmers' cooperative demonstration work and $45,000 for extension work making a total from Federal sources of $7,950,000. The remaining $11,866,000 was derived from sources within the States, including $5,241,000 appropriated by State legislatures and funds under control of the State agricultural colleges, $5,654,000 provided by the different counties, and $1,971,000 from other sources, mostly local.

GLASS TO SEEK PROBE IN CASE OF CRONKHITE

Virginia Senator Announces Purpose to Request Inquiry as to Enforced Retirement of War Commander

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6 (AP)—If the war department fails to act in the case of Major General Cronkhite, retired, Senator Glass, democrat, Virginia, according to plans outlined by him, will introduce a resolution which congress reconvenes for a thorough inquiry by the senate military committee.

A resolution of investigation was drafted last week by Senator Glass, but he was informed that it would meet with objection and he withheld it, convinced that the short time before adjournment made adoption impossible.

The senator said he prepared his resolution when informed that the department did not regard evidence of alleged tampering with official files bearing on the death at Camp Lewis, in 1918, of Major A. P. Cronkhite, the general's son, as sufficient to warrant action by a board of inquiry.

LIVESTOCK AND FARM PROSPECT GROW BRIGHTER

Rains Throughout Rocky Mountain Region Improve Range Conditions and Facilitate the Spring Plowing on Dry Land

DENVER, Colo., Mar. 6 (AP)—Ranges show some improvement in New Mexico and Arizona due to the recent rains which have also facilitated spring plowing on dry-land farms in these states, according to reports from the farm notes of the United States division of crop and livestock estimates, made public here today. Livestock in Utah and Nevada have suffered somewhat from a snow crust which restricted grazing but losses have been light, and throughout the Rocky Mountain region stocks are generally in good condition, says the report. Prospects in general for both farmers and stockmen are becoming brighter and a more optimistic outlook is reported.

Conditions, according to the report, are reported favorable for winter grain in Utah and Nevada, but the dry fall and severe storms of mid-winter have been very unfavorable in Colorado and Wyoming, so that the condition of winter wheat ranges from poor to fair only. The recent weather has been favorable to grain in Arizona, particularly late plantings, and recent moisture will benefit the wheat crop in New Mexico in sections where it has survived the drought.

The eastern ranges of Arizona, says the report, have been partly relieved of drought by recent rains, but the desert limiting grounds are still poor; and throughout New Mexico the spring grass crop has been assured by recent rains and snow, thus greatly encouraging stockmen. Livestock suffered from the results of cold weather in Utah and Nevada where grazing was hampered by the heavy crust on the snow; but losses, according to the report, were light. For much feed was used, both hay and grain. The conditions of livestock and stock in Wyoming and Colorado. Throughout the Rocky Mountain region the feed supply is generally sufficient, although complaint of shortage and high prices is reported in some sections. There is a shortage of hay in south central and southwestern Wyoming, but there is a surplus in the Big Horn Basin and in Converse County in that state.

An increased acreage is expected in the potato acreage. A relatively large surplus of potatoes is reported in Wyoming, with little demand and poor prices, growers receiving 35 to 39 cents per hundred pounds.

Much interest is reported in sugar beets in both Wyoming and Colorado. Tomatoes, cucumbers and melons are being planted in Arizona.

Governor Asks Lowered Limit for Tax Units

Idaho Chief Executive, in Message to Legislature, Points Out Economy Move

BOISE, March 6 (AP)—Calling the attention of the legislature to the fact that the real tax burdens of the people of Idaho are the levies made by local taxing units, Governor C. C. Moore on Saturday sent a message to both houses urging that administration bills be passed which would lower the taxing limits of local bodies.

Bills have been introduced making reductions in the maximum limits of levies in school districts, cities, counties and highway districts. These bills are considered among the most important in the legislative session and the governor has urged the legislature to pass them as the outstanding relief measures of the session.

The governor also recited the fact that his recommendations in his budget showed a substantial saving in state expenses and urged the legislature to use care not to strip away the substance of the state institutions.

The governor's message follows: "To the members of the seventeenth session, Idaho state legislature: "Fifty-five of the sixty days of your session have passed.

In my message to you the first day I made various recommendations of vital importance to your constituents, not least of which was that a saving of at least 25 per cent over that of two years previous should be made in taxes, and two days later I submitted to you the budget with recommendations that would make a saving of nearly two million dollars and a reduction of over two mills in the annual state levy.

"The budget submitted to you would permit this substantial reduction in the state tax levy without hampering the efficient conduct of the business or crippling any of its institutions.

"I also urged that the maximum levies and bonding limits fixed for local taxing bodies be materially reduced, the state tax being a very small part of the whole tax. The last annual state tax levy was 7.23 mills, but the whole tax taken as an average over 1921 was 42.63 mills and in some local taxing units reached from 60 to 91 mills.

"Bills have been introduced that, if passed, will materially reduce the limit of local taxes, one relating to cities, one to either one to school districts and two to highway districts. I urgently request that these five bills receive careful consideration and be passed, and, further, I again earnestly recommend that educational institutions be not crippled either in maintenance of housing or in the various departments of state be permitted to function properly, though economically.

"Respectfully yours,
"C. C. MOORE,
"Governor."

SPANISH TRAIL IS TO BE MADE GOOD HIGHWAY

Roads Enthusiasts Work Out Plans for Improvement of Gulf Coast Route from Florida to Los Angeles

NEW ORLEANS, Mar. 6 (AP)—The Old Spanish Trail, a national highway from Jacksonville, Fla., to Los Angeles, Calif., along the Gulf coast and through the territory immediately north of the Mexican border, is destined to include several sections of road the equal of which will not be found in the United States, if plans of good roads enthusiasts interested in the project are carried out.

Secretary of War Weeks recently notified the New Orleans Association of Commerce and the Department of Agriculture and an agreement whereby that section of the highway from New Orleans through the Louisiana marshes to the Mississippi coast have been placed on first priority as a part of the project.

It is estimated that a road through the marshes strong enough to withstand any gulf storms and to bear the weight of artillery would cost from $300,000 to $400,000 a mile, including the necessary bridges. This would make the cost of the twenty miles to the Rigolets, one of the outlets of Lake Pontchartrain, approximately $8,000,000. It would necessarily be of special construction and so heavy as to require a minimum of repair.

Construction of the marsh road would provide New Orleans with a highway to the north and east. The only way of entering the city now, if motorists do not drive west to Baton Rouge and from there to New Orleans, is to ferry across Lake Pontchartrain a water journey requiring at least two hours by the shortest route.

Construction of the Florida section of the Spanish trail is well under way and that state, with federal, state and county funds, now is building a broad, heavy concrete highway from Jacksonville to Pensacola a distance of more than 375 miles. The highway will parallel the Seaboard Air Line railway from Jacksonville to River Junction, and the Louisville-Nashville from River Junction to Pensacola.

IF RHEUMATIC BEGIN ON SALTS

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure, Eat Dry Sweets

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat no sweets of any kind for a while, drink lots of water, and above all take a spoonful of Jad Salts occasionally to help keep down uric and toxic acids.

Rheumatism is caused by poison taken into the blood, and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this poison, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinges of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove uric acid, also to stimulate the kidneys, thus helping to rob the blood of these rheumatic poisons.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithin, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

THE TARIFF AS AN ISSUE

Strategists of the Democratic party say that the tariff will be an issue in the next presidential election. If so, it will be an issue against that party. For nearly two years the nation has been under protective tariff—temporary and permanent—and for nearly two years its progress toward prosperity has been markedly accelerated.

THE "FIRST LADY"

One of the finest things about President Harding is his wife. Indeed, probably the strongest hold he has on the American people is based on national sympathy with a normal, typical and characteristic American alliance of two people devoted to a common end.

Mrs. Harding's quiet loyalty, her self-offering devotion to her husband's career made an impression on Washington and across the nation. As president's wives go, she represents American womanhood of the home variety perhaps more nearly than most.

Political issues may divide men in thought and purpose, but there are certain human qualities which unite all people, because touching all. Such are the qualities possessed by the lady of the White House and there is no voice of congratulation absent from her apparent recovery.

Mrs. Charles H. Jones, 77-year-old, has been elected to the Presidency of the Northwest Lumber Company, a $1,000,000 corporation of Teanema, Washington, succeeding her another loss of astonishing beauty has materialized and been designated Miss Omaha for some reason not mentioned. Coincidentally, we are apprised of the identities of the prettiest girl in Montreal, the fairest actress in Sweden, and the lady whose teeth are reputed to be the loveliest in all Paris, with no assurance, however, that next month will not produce another and superior person in each class.

It is an historic fact that man dies only once, yet the oldest inhabitant in Tennessee has died several times recently. And it is a recognized truth that every captured still of imposing size becomes automatically the largest ever confiscated. The original Little Eva died again a week ago, and now and then we learn that the last of the captors of Jeff Davis has shuffled off once more. The last veteran of Scott's Mexican expedition periodically passes on and the sole survivor of the Custer massacre gives up the ghost.

It is a pretty custom, and harmless, because a people accustomed to use superlatives carelessly place so great store in their accuracy. It is merely suggested that all the prettiest girls in America convene from time to time to pick the prettiest girl among themselves, that all original something-or-other and oldest inhabitants and the youngest congressmen and tiniest midwives meet and decide in conference who is who. Then when their leader is mentioned in the prints he or she may be referred to as the prettiest girl in Oshkosh or the oldest Indian in Arizona. That will help.

Vitality of Matthew Arnold. Matthew Arnold has been dead 34 years. Most of the men who knew him intimately are also gone. The multitude of diary, reminiscences, and posed mortem recollections have been read. Now what only is the test of his poetry. What survives? When a Twentieth century publisher was asked this question, he turned to his bill of sales under Arnold. One feels like Chesterton when he heard a writer describe to what heights can rise "A Shakespeare, a Burns and an Ingersoll," an impulse to run and whisper such a delightful incident to Arnold's tomb in Litcham. Yet, after all, this was a reasonable text. To read an author's book is a compliment to buy it a recognition. Stanly T. Williams in the North American Review.

His Position. "As I was driving home from town a spell ago," related Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge, "I saw Hamp Strouder come boogling out of the front door of his house fully dressed, except that he didn't have his britches on.

"How in the name of wonder did it happen to be in that fix?" interestedly asked Mrs. Johnson. "I don't know. Probably he didn't want 'em on, or hadn't time to put the kind of a man to be mending into another gent's affairs. If he didn't have 'em on for any reason, that was his business. And, anyhow, I had Zig Fiddlin in the wagon with me, and we were sorter talking boss swap at the time."—Kansas City Star.

Shaving in Dark Room. In the handle of a new safety razor is enclosed an electric flash light large enough to enable a man to see to shave himself in a dark room.

LAI D ON ALTARS

In All Ages Wealth Has Flowed Into Religious Temples.

Gold, Silver and Precious Gems Offered as Tribute Both to Idols and the Unseen God.

Requisition of church valuables by the soviet government, repeated in dispatches from Russia, raised a question as to the wealth of the various religious institutions of the world.

"Christianity had to fight for its life for the first 300 years of its existence and its rise was carried on in the simplicity that secrecy made necessary.

"The marked enrichment of Christian churches began in earnest in Italy and the East in the Fifth and Sixth centuries and spread in early medieval times to France and other western countries.

American Boy Child at Seventeen. American boy is still a child at seventeen. In England he is a man, with a man's air, a man's costume and a man's interests, having put away childish things, which still exist in spite of his clothes.

American Milk in Hungary. American evaporated milk has scored a hit in Hungary. There is a great scarcity of fresh milk and there has always been a prejudice against the canned articles which are so common, even in the United States and other countries.

Appreciation. "John, dear, did you enjoy the Welsh rabbit I made?" "Darling! And the biscuits! Enjoy them? Why, I can't sleep all night for thinking about them."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

FROM ORPHANAGE TO HIGH OFFICE

Aaron Shapiro, 39 years old, began life in a San Francisco orphanage.

He worked his way through school and college and became a lawyer. He served a number of years in the army. In the last few years, under his leadership, five great tobacco associations have been marketing two-thirds of the American tobacco crop, and he directs ten state cooperative associations in marketing cotton.

"Oh," was the answer, "when I didn't hear from you again I didn't know whether you really wanted me."

Pigs in Clover.

She was paying her first visit to a cousin who lived in the country. He met her at the station, and after half an hour's drive told her that they were approaching his farm.

"What a manly little fellow!" admiringly said the presiding elder, indicating one of Gap Johnson's olive branches.

AND HE WAS ABOUT RIGHT

Little Newboy Certainly Had Some Correct Ideas Concerning Success in Business.

The homely, freckle-faced little newboy had not greeted the young woman who works in one of the downtown office buildings for several days.

Then one evening he was back at his corner and the young woman stopped to tell him how glad she was to see him again, and that she hoped he was there to stay.

"Not him; he never will learn. Twice I have tried to get him up in business for himself and he can't make it go. Papers won't sell themselves.

The young woman demonstrated her own business ability with a smile, took her paper and hurried into the car. But she did not read the paper on her way home. She had other things to think of.

TRUSSED FOX IN HAY SHEAF

New Zealand Farmer Reports Occurrence Which in Many Respects Is Remarkable.

A New Zealand farmer in Pinkerton Plains reports the unique feat of trussing a fox in a sheaf of hay. The farmer was working his binder in a heavy crop, and was frequently in difficulties owing to the density of the crop. He therefore did not take much notice of a severe bumping and jolting of the machine, until he saw something dark pass under his feet going through the machine.

Machinery for South Africa. Imports of mining machinery into South Africa in 1921 exceeded those of 1913 by more than 20 per cent, and show an appreciable increase over those of the intervening years.

Exit in Cunning Mind. All his own experience of life teaches me the value of cunning, not the fear. The phrase "prudent cunning" has always seemed to me a contradiction in terms. I never knew a cunning mind which was not either shallow, or, on some points, diseased.—Mrs. Jameson.
