

FOSTER CHOSEN AMONG 32 REDS TO STAND TRIAL

Alleged Leader of Communist Party, Caught at Meeting in Sand Dunes to Answer to Criminal Syndicalism

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., March 10 (AP)—William Z. Foster, alleged leader in the communist party—the underground representative in America of the Third Internationale of Moscow—will go on trial in circuit court here Monday, charged with violating the Michigan law against criminal syndicalism.

Charles White, trial judge, today overruled a motion for a change of venue, made by Frank P. Walsh of New York, attorney for Foster and others arrested after Michigan and federal authorities raided an alleged convention of the communist party held in the lonely sand dunes 20 miles south of St. Joseph on August 22, 1922.

Twenty-two persons have been awaiting trial as a result of that raid, but the state elected to try Foster first.

Ten Others Surrender.

The list of 22 defendants was increased to 32 today when 10 men and women, led by Rose Pastor Loewen, whose sentence of 10 years in Leavenworth for obstructing the draft, was commuted by President Wilson, walked into court and surrendered. The ten are among 58 persons who are alleged to have attended the convention, but who had never been arrested, although warrants were issued for them last September.

Besides Rose Stokes, the ten who surrendered included:

- Robert Minor, New York cartoonist and writer, son of a Texas jurist, who was deported from France after the armistice for preaching radicalism to the American soldiers.
- Edgar Owens, Atlanta, Ill., recently released from Joliet prison on a pardon signed by Governor Snell. Owens was convicted in Illinois with William Bruce Lloyd and others under a statute similar to the Michigan law against syndicalism.

Under Court Sentences.

Max Bodacht of Cleveland and San Francisco, who was convicted in the Illinois case but never surrendered to serve his sentence.

Rebecca Saknow, prominent in radical circles in New York.

Jay Lovestone, New York, who says he was the secretary of the convention held in the Michigan sand hills.

Ella Blor, San Francisco; John Balkin, W. Winston; and Gustavo A. Shalensky, all of New York.

Lovestone and Whitstone gave $1000 cash bond and the others were released on their own recognizance until Monday.

HUGHES GIVES VIEWS ON CITIZEN'S OBLIGATIONS

Respect for Government of Law is Placed at Top of List of Essential Qualifications

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10 (AP)—Obligations of citizenship as defined by Secretary Hughes were outlined Friday in a telegram made public by the state department and addressed to Roy C. Haines, of the Aurora, Illinois Chamber of Commerce.

"These obligations do not rest solely or chiefly in the exercise of the privileges of citizens in voting, or in conducting campaigns or in holding office. Important as are all these duties, their performance will amount to nothing unless our citizens are imbued with the spirit of our institutions, which means respect for a government of law, a sincere desire to be better in every practicable way the conditions of human life, loyalty in all the relations of life, and the disposition to be kindly and fair in all dealings with one's fellow men."

WHEAT GROWERS FACE DIMINISHING DEMAND

Babson Sees Serious Problem for Middle West; Diversification of Industries Brings Hope

MINNEAPOLIS, Mar. 10 (Special to the News)—Last week we quoted Roger W. Babson relative to conditions in the "Industrial West." This week Mr. Babson treats of the Agricultural West.

"The Agricultural West," he says, "is confronted with a fundamental law which is this: the consumption per capita of wheat increases as a people becomes more prosperous. The business man eats less wheat than his chauffeur; the chauffeur eats less than the Italian gardener and the gardener eats less than the immigrant who has just landed. Each generation of a given family eat less wheat than the preceding generation, and so it goes. This law does not apply to cotton, sugar, rubber and certain other products. It does not so much apply to corn, which is fed to live stock, because as people become more prosperous they eat more meat, and they consume more cotton, sugar, rubber, etc. In fact, the wheat growers have a more difficult problem than the growers of most other products.

"So long as a million new immigrants were coming into this country every year, and so long as our birth rate remained high, there was an increase in the demand for wheat sufficient to take care of the excess supply. With the immigration practically cut off—the net gain in 1922 was only about 25,000 people—and with the constant decline in our native birth rate, the wheat growers of the Agricultural West are up against a very difficult proposition.

Small Farmer in Bad Shape

"As a result of these conditions I found the small farmers of Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and even those of Missouri still in rather bad shape. The wheat crop in the west is much better than two years ago. The banks are liquidating their frozen credits and the farmers are paying their debts; but with low prices for their products and high prices for labor and all they buy—with taxes rapidly increasing—the growers of wheat and other cereals have a real problem. Fundamentally this is, under present conditions, a problem which must be solved through exporting cereals. But to increase exports, our farmers must compete with the low cost labor of Europe, the Argentine and other cereal growing countries. This means that our only hope is in mass production. Wheat must be grown on a large scale, and by the most efficient and intensive methods. In order to compete with the rest of the world in raising wheat, either the net productivity of our soil per acre must be increased 25 per cent, or else the labor cost must be cut 25 per cent. If the latter is to be accomplished without reducing wages, it means that about 20 per cent of the men now engaged in raising wheat should either raise other products or else become carpenters, brick-layers, plasterers and painters—in their own or nearby towns. The future of such cities as Minneapolis, Kansas City, Duluth, Des Moines, Davenport, Sioux City, Omaha, Topeka, Wichita, and even St. Louis depends very largely upon fearless recognition and solution of this problem. It cannot be solved by the politicians or by handing out gifts to the farmers. It can be solved only by intelligent leadership with the active cooperation of the newspapers.

Diversities Picking Up.

"Of course, no one should assume from those comments the idea that the Agricultural West is dependent upon wheat. The industries of this wonderful section of the United States are becoming more diversified every day. Moreover, these diversified industries are rapidly picking up. The lumber industry of Minnesota, the dairy and interests of this section, and the various other lines are improving. Packing, which was flat on its back a year ago is turning over onto its side preparatory to getting up. All the live stock business looks better and the farmers are consistently looking forward to higher prices. The improvement in the copper industry and the great improvement in the iron and steel industry helping the northern group of those states. Lead, zinc and other non-ferrous metals will soon be in better demand as the great building boom develops further. This will help Missouri and certain other portions of that section. The people should be taught that diversification applies not only to the different crops which a farmer plants; but to the different lines which the boy enters. Let one or two of them continue in farming; but let one go into the building trades, another into small manufacturing, a third into merchandising and the fourth into the ministry, medicine, banking or law. This does not mean that such boys should go to the industrial cities of the east, or even to the large cities of the west. Statistics clearly show that the best opportunities today are in the smaller cities and towns. Moreover, most boys are better off to remain in their homes than to go to large cities. One of the great troubles with boys today is that disease known as "Green Pastureitis"—which a materia medica tells us means that to one afflicted with this disease, "The pasture furthest away always looks the greenest."

Better Than Last Year

"Still, notwithstanding these obstacles, I found the great Agricultural West in far better conditions than a year ago. Manufacturers and merchants are well justified in looking for increased sales in this section during 1923. The improvement has contributed to the increase in the barometer of business for the entire country. The Babsonchart today stands at 3 per cent above normal compared with 8 per cent below normal a year ago. This is a great improvement and the task before all of us now is to keep business up to its present figure. Statistically, President Harding has succeeded in bringing business back to normal. Whether or not he can hold it there, only the future can tell. Much depends upon the Agricultural West and especially upon the railroads, bankers, merchants, newspapers, and other leaders of public opinion in this section. In the end—as the great Agricultural West goes, so goes the whole country. Hence, the problems of the west are the problems of all of us. As Jesus of Nazareth, the greatest economist who ever lived—taught his hearers:—"The prosperity of each is dependent upon the prosperity of all and we can help ourselves as we help one another."—(All publication rights strictly reserved.)

A GOOD PLACE TO TRADE

Style Notes of the Moment

Broadcasted by Madame Fashion

The silhouette of graceful slenderness refuses to depart. Its popularity is, in fact, emphasized by the oriental splendor of color and fabric, which in turn but emphatically stress unusual detail—the dominant chord this Spring. And, interpreted in the Spirit of the Season, are adaptations smart and new.

Colors

TOPIWOOE—The only if you do. Particularly if you select the color, a soft, creamy-brown camel shade.

FALLOW, a graduate of "Beige," slightly darker. It's the most popular of the school of Tans.

MEPHISTO, fairly reminiscent of Ancient Egypt and Oriental splendor. But it's lovely—a bit more red than geranium.

SANDALWOOD. Still another relative of tan. Sort of a goldenish shade that is good in covert cloths or Camel's Hair fabrics.

ROSEWOOD. You've had it in furniture; now you have it in fashion—just its color, however. A deep, rich reddish brown.

GREEN ALMOND brings a fresh whiff even from the realms of Green. A pale jade that adds zest to light-some costumes.

ONDER. You'd never think cinders would lend inspiration for Springtime apparel, yet here's a shade of gray, yet more intense than Moth, that is very much favored.

ORIOLE. The bird sings its song to the harmony of its coloring in costume land. Oriole yellow is highly popular for Sports wear.

RAPALLO. The Mollerrand casts its spell, borrows a name from Greece and we have a new shade—a blue a bit lighter than Navy.

ALAZAR. Typically a Parisian shade. In soft-plee woolen fabrics and tweeds utilized for Sport—a it's fascinating.

BOPE might be most any shade. As the Mode handles it, it's a camel color with a pinkish cast. In "tope" knit-willed fabrics and worsteds.

WHITE maintains its already established foothold in Sports tops.

Fabrics

KASHA, though not a new fabric, is more popular than ever this season. It's used for Sports, mostly.

WOOL-DUVETYN, not new either, but it's an ideal medium for the fashioning of suits, wraps, street frocks, and separate skirts.

REP, new only in its striking figured effects, is gaining strength for suits and wraps in vogue.

FLAT CREPE. Nothing is more rich looking or more graceful in its adaptation. Utilized to a marked degree for afternoon costuming.

PONGEE, domestic, too, is winning great favor, both for undergarments and outer wear, even to the tailored suit. So practical, too.

FLAMINGO, a brand new one. A wool velour on a worked ground, heralded for westerly every field of outer dress.

RUFF YEN, a material resembling silk pongee, is extensively used for Sports skirts. Bright colors abound.

CAMEL'S HAIR fabrics are out so smart and pliable for every top, coat and suit particularly. And the shadings are lovely.

PRINTS. Paisley, Persian, Indo-China. Riots of color and design and designs unique. For frocks of crepe, cotton and silk.

Styles

TIEBED SHIRTS are another evidence of the return of the Victorian mode. They're most effective on frocks of flat crepe or Kasha.

PERVERSELY indefinite, the waistline. Can't decide where to establish itself, though it seems temporarily to have located just a wee bit higher than last season.

SLEEVES are eccentrically prominent, or are no sleeves at all. Dresses, suits and blouses boast of sleeve treatments galore. Sports jackets and jackets more formal have none.

STRESS is laid on fabrics more than line this season—the one accentuating the other. Color, too, asserts its importance in harmonious contrasts.

FLOATING PANELS and jabots flutter hither and thither in dread—at the side, down the front, down the back. Particularly effective of a contrasting fabric.

BANDANNAS lend themselves to clever adaptation because they simply don't care where they are used, just so they are in evidence. Chic and more popular than ever.

THE JACQUETTE everywhere—any time, any place. It must be brightly colored, and the more bizarre, the better. The most adaptable item in the wardrobe.

KNITTED DRESSES and suits exceedingly good for sports. They were quite the vogue in the South, and will be for Northern wear later in the summer.

SLENDERNESS hath its charms when it is interpreted by pleats. Sports skirts, blouses, panes—something in your Spring and Summer outfit must be pleated.

The plans will be submitted to farmers from central states at a meeting to be held at Wichita, Kansas, at a date to be announced later. Another meeting will be held later on the Pacific coast.

Details of the plan will not be made public until after the Wichita meeting. It was said, however, that the organization expects to pool about 50,000,000 bushels of wheat this year.

The states which are to be asked to join the movement are Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, North Dakota, Minnesota, South Dakota, Kansas, Nebraska, Texas, Oklahoma and Colorado.

Members of the committee which approved the plans are George C. Jewett, general manager of the Northwest Wheat Growers, Associated; George E. Dole, president of the North Dakota Wheat Growers, Associated; W. H. McGreevy, Carman, Okla., secretary of the National Wheat Growers' Association, and Frank E. Garrecht, manager of the Northwest Wheat Growers, Associated.

SOUTH AMERICA GETS LOOK TO UNITED STATES FOR AID

MADRID, Mar. 10 (AP)—The forthcoming Pan-American congress at Santiago, Chile, is not viewed favorably by El Sol which, in an editorial today says the preparations for the congress are not very promising.

The paper asserts the position of the United States is stronger than ever, as the poverty of Europe since the war leaves the United States the only nation able to advance the necessary capital for development of South America.

He has not seen Miss Klein since she was six years old, Nelson said, but he has corresponded with her, and recently they entered into an engagement through the agency of the mails.

DENVER POLICE ARE ACCUSED OF TAKING BRIBES

State's Witness in Prosecution of Alleged Bunco Ring Says it Cost "$8,000 to $9,000 to Fix Coppers"

DENVER, Colo., March 10 (AP)—It cost the alleged bunco ring between $8,000 and $9,000 to secure the protection of Denver police after a complaint made by David Yezzer of El Dorado, Ill., who was swindled out of $10,000 by the band, according to the testimony of George L. (Len) Reaney, at the trial of 20 alleged confidence men here Friday.

Yezzer's widow has written special prosecutors in the case that the death of her husband a month after he lost his money was due to losses incurred in Denver, according to an announcement. Reaney is a confessed confidence man who turned state's evidence, and is regarded as the prosecution's most important witness.

Reaney said that A. W. Duff, one of the defendants, who is alleged to have been one of the leaders of the band, said in the summer of 1921 in his presence after Yezzer had lost his money through the operations of the alleged fake exchange operated here by the band that he (Yezzer) had cost between $8,000 and $9,000 in "fixing the coppers." Yezzer likewise testified that Bob Anderson, the "steerer" in the swindling of Yezzer, had said it cost half of the sum in the Yezzer case to fix the coppers.

Yezzer, engaged in the millinery business in El Dorado, Ill., according to Reaney, lost $10,000 in August, 1921. In the swindling of Yezzer, Reaney said he did not participate except as a student of the methods of J. Homer French, one of the defendants, who was acting as a bookmaker at the stock exchange. Reaney said he was sitting in the office taking lessons from French when Yezzer was "fleeed of his savings."

Reaney said Yezzer did not realize fully that he had been swindled until he got to the Union station. Then Yezzer made a "terrible outcry" at the police station," Reaney testified. It was shortly after this testimony that Reaney said he had heard Duff remark in the exchange that it had cost between $8,000 and $9,000 to "fix the coppers."

Reaney also detailed how he and A. B. Cooper and Grover Sullivan, alias George Williams, defendants, had swindled John Peck of Flemingsburg, Kentucky out of $10,000 in August, 1921. In the same month Reaney declared he and Cooper and Walter Boland, another defendant, had swindled "two brothers from Montana" out of $6,500. Reaney said he did remember the names of the Montana men. One was lame, he declared. The special prosecutors announced despite efforts to locate the two Montana victims the men could not be found.

What looks to be the big game of the entire bowling season will take place Monday evening when the Troy Laundry pin helters play the Rendahl-Wright auto men for first honors.

The Laundry men have held the top rung the last few weeks and although not going as fast as they did during the early part of the season, nevertheless they have been going fast enough to stay at the top.

Rendahl-Wright's team have been on account of Community night fall-showing to the best advantage during the last few weeks, getting well over the 800 mark in most of its games, and finally landing within one-half game of the coveted top place.

In total pins for the season the Troy Laundry are leading the Rendahl-Wright men by a scant 100 pins, which means that there is very little to choose between the two teams as far as Monday night's game is concerned.

On paper it looks as though the Rendahl-Wright team will take two of the three games on the strength of their showing of the past weeks.

The best way to pick the winner of Monday night's game is to wait until Tuesday morning before doing the picking.

"Bowling as it should be" is the subject for Tuesday night's entertainment as presented by the Rogerson Cafe bowlers and the L. D. Store maple artists. This game should be a dandy from start to finish.

Dug Salmon and his Shoe Market cohorts will tangle with the Alvord & Mott clan on Wednesday evening, and although the grocery men are at the bottom of the heap, they have been showing marked improvement the last few weeks and eventually the worm will turn, and they will take a series.

ing on Thursday evening the game between the Idaho Theater team and the Wright's store brigade scheduled for that night has been postponed until Friday night.

EXPLAINS FORD DECISION TO ASSUME OBLIGATIONS

Associates of Detroit Manufacturer Give Version of Payments of Lincoln Motor Company Debts

DETROIT, Mich., Mar. 10 (AP)—A desire to "play square" with those "who have helped to make his industry what it is," even though some of them have been his business enemies prompted Henry Ford to pay the balance of the indebtedness of the Lincoln Motor company, it was learned authoritatively from persons close to the manufacturer.

Announcement today that Mr. Ford voluntarily had undertaken to pay approximately $4,000,000, to creditors of the Lincoln company sets a precedent in the business world, according to Ralph Stone, president of the Detroit Trust company, receiver for the concern. Mr. Stone pointed out that by the terms of his purchase of the Lincoln company, Mr. Ford was under no legal obligation to reimburse its creditors.

The Lincoln company, then in the hands of a receiver, was purchased at auction by Mr. Ford last year. He paid $8,000,000 for the property, out of which preferred claims were paid in full and other creditors received $3,450,000 which amounted to 47 1/3 cents on the dollar. The $4,000,000 being paid by Mr. Ford makes up the difference between the amounts received by the creditors and the sums due them originally.

The property of the Lincoln company, Mr. Stone said, ordinarily would have brought about $7,000,000 under the auctioneer's hammer, due to its depreciation because of receivership proceedings. Mr. Ford, however, bid $8,000,000 and at that time told United States District Judge Arthur Tuttle, before whom the sale was conducted that he would pay all creditors in full, making the cost of the Lincoln company to him approximately $12,000,000.

A Question of Fairness

Now and then we sacrifice a new car sale because we will not allow an excessive price for a used car. We do this for the protection of our patrons. If we paid Smith too much, we would have to get it back from Jones. But that would be unfair—and we believe in fairness, even if it hurts.

OAKLEY CINCHEs DOUBLE HONORS

Victory Over Boise, 33 to 20, Gives Cassia Basketeers the Title for Southern Idaho

OAKLEY, March 10.—(Special to The News)—Oakley's basketball team won the deciding game from the Boise cage artists here tonight 33 to 20 before the largest crowd that ever attended an athletic event in this town, every town from Minnetonka to Buhl being represented.

The victory tonight gives the Oakley team the championship of south-western and south central Idaho and the right to compete at Moscow for the state title.

Playing a consistent game throughout, the Oakley team had but little trouble conquering their opponents, who seemed bewildered at the speed shown by the locals.

The score at the end of the first half stood 14 to 10 in favor of Oakley, and the fans looked for a close game, but in the second half the locals tore away from the big city boys, smothering them with field goals.

Boise's quintet made but five field goals against the close guarding of the Oakley five, while Coach Sandberg's wrecking crew collected 13 during the evening.

Quinter's converting of foul goals featured the visitors' game, the Boise captain getting 10 out of 12. Larson of Oakley converted 7 out of 13.

WESTON UPSETS DRIGGS TO WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

Last Year's Intermountain Title Holds on Game Back Strong After-Initial Defeat in Three Game Series

REXBURG, March 10.—(Special to The News)—Defeated Friday night by the Driggs basketball team in the first of a three-game series, to decide eastern Idaho championship, Weston's quintet came back strong today, taking the game, the morning score being 35 to 33, and tonight's 23 to 16.

The double victory gives the Weston team the right to represent this section in the state finals which will be held at Moscow next week.

Starting the second half of the morning game with the score of 22 to 12 against them, Weston scored the greatest hit of passing ever witnessed in this section, tying the score five minutes after the second half started with five field goals. From this point the cut but one field goal separated the two contestants, and when the final whistle blew the score stood 33 all.

An extra five minutes was added, and once more the Weston team raced down the floor for two field goals before the Driggs five could get their bearings.

Weston started out in the evening with an early lead which was maintained throughout the game, the Driggs men never having a chance to pass their opponents.

In this game the score at the end of the first half was 9 to 4, this part of the game being featured by exceptionally close guarding. Driggs made 12 points in the last half to 13 for Weston.

It is the consensus of opinion here that the best team won and many believe Weston will be an easy winner in the Moscow finals next week.

STAGE AT MOSCOW SET FOR STATE TOURNAMENT

Idaho High School Basketball Teams, Confined in Elimination Contests, Head for University Floor

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, March 10 (AP)—The stage is all set for the annual Idaho hoop tourney which will be held this year March 16 and 17. District meets are now on and within the coming week the fans will know what high school fives will head for Moscow to battle for the state pennant.

According to present plans the tournament race will be between four teams, two from southern and two from northern Idaho. The present scheme of districting gives the southern part of the state four districts and the north two. In the south the winners in the third and fourth districts will meet and the winners in districts five and six. The two winners will come to Moscow to meet the winners in the northern sections.

Plans for entertaining the visiting teams are being taken care of by representative committees from the various groups on the campus. The "P" club and the intercollegiate knights are taking active part in the program to provide for the high school teams.

DOGGERS NOT TO BE SOLD

NEW YORK, March 10 (AP)—The National league club is not for sale, Stephen McKewen, part owner, declared today in a statement in which he also denied the existence of several offers reported to have been made for the Dodgers within the past few days.

"So much has been published lately about alleged offers to purchase the Brooklyn National league baseball club," McKewen's statement said, "that we wish to state the club is not for sale. We know nothing about these alleged offers and were they in fact made, they would be refused."

Idaho Sheep Queen Indulges Pet Fears on Way to Success

Mrs. Emma Yearian, Who Herds Flocks, Confesses an Aversion to Dangerous Trails

BOISE, March 10 (AP)—Mrs. Emma Yearian, who herds her own flock of sheep in the mountains and hills in the vicinity of Emmet, has earned for herself the title of "Idaho sheep queen," and the money which she has made has been used to educate four daughters and a son, the latter having just completed a course at the University of Idaho.

Although Mrs. Yearian confesses to being 50 years of age, she asserts because of her life in the open she does not feel a day older than 25.

"I have always compelled myself to do things which I have feared just a little," said the "sheep queen." "When I am riding a dangerous trail on horseback and I have a tendency to draw back, my husband will say: 'Oh, come on! A woman who expects to be a successful sheep grower must not mind these little things.'"

Mrs. Yearian started in the sheep business fourteen years ago and her friends and her husband, T. H. Yearian, a cattle raiser, gave her a year or two at the most to get broke on the job. Mrs. Yearian says she and her husband got along "because we keep separate accounts and mind our own affairs."

NEW SOURCES OF TIMBER ON INDIAN LANDS

Lumber Manufacturers Turn Attention to 7,000,000 Acres of Woodlands Owned by Red Men in Fifteen States

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—The attention of lumbermen and timber conservationists has been attracted to the importance of the Indian forests as factors in the present and future timber supply of the United States by the recent sales of great quantities of timber by the Indian service of the department of the interior, according to a statement by the research department of the National Lumber Manufacturers' association.

The Indians own, individually and jointly, at least 7,000,000 acres of forests of commercial importance in 15 states. The principal Indian forests, whose combined area, the department points out, equal to that of Massachusetts and Connecticut, are situated in Oregon, Washington, Montana, Arizona, New Mexico, Wisconsin, California, Idaho and Minnesota. These forests contain 100,000,000 feet of merchantable timber worth $100,000,000.

Makes Indians Wealthy.

The value of young growth, adding $30,000,000 to this figure gives the per capita forest wealth of the American Indians at $430. If it were distributed among all of them this, the research department points out, helps to establish the Indian as the wealthiest race in the world, since, with forest and other property, the per capita holdings total $2400, as compared with $200 for white persons. The forest wealth alone of the Klamaths in southern Oregon is placed at $25,000.

For the last 10 years the gross returns to the Indians from their timber have averaged more than $1,500,000 and are expected soon to reach $2,000,000. More than 10 per cent of these returns are net, since the administrative expense is less than 10 per cent.

Operate Own Mill.

While the Indian forest service generally contends itself with selling the timber which the contractor himself removes under the service's regulations, the 1200 Menominee, Wisconsin, Chippewas have a system which cuts about 20,000,000 feet of forest products annually, and with logging equipment, is valued at $1,000,000, netting them about $2,000,000 a year. From 1884 to 1921 the 1100 Bad River, Wis., Chippewas received $7,000,000 from the sale of their timber. The Wisconsin Indians still own about a billion feet of the finest white and hardwood timber in that state.

Made "Wise" Man Look Foolish.

A bold and self-assertive individual bounced into a shaving saloon and, catching sight of an owl in a corner of the room exclaimed, with scorn, "Who stuffed that owl?" Then the critic proceeded to smite hip and thigh the taxidermist who had stuffed the owl; the owl was wrong here, there and everywhere. During the whole of this outburst the barber kept on shaving. At the end, when the stranger was out of breath with his vehement criticism, the owl stepped from the perch and planted itself somewhere else.

Bottle Preserved Safe.

On the porch of the abandoned post office at Markleville, which still bears the old sign because everybody knows the post office is now in the back of the general store, there is a large safe, also abandoned. It was left there by the superintendent of an Alpine county mine when the company folded years ago. A sympathetic traveler asked a cowboy if the residents knew what was in it, and why they did not open it for the possible contents. "Yes, sir," said the cowboy. "We know exactly what that safe contains, and we have held a-manny a rally to try to make up our minds what to do about it. She contains $30 and a bottle of whiskey, and we are afraid to blow her open for fear of bustin' the bottle."

A GOOD THING.

Twin Falls merchants, in co-operation with the Twentieth Century Club, have undertaken an ambitious program for Thursday of the present week, when, for the first time in Twin Falls, community singing, better known as the "community sing," will be tried out as an added feature in connection with an "open house" store program to be staged by the merchants.

The question of the merit of the "community sing" idea rests wholly upon the spirit in which it is approached and accepted. In many towns it has become a regular feature of community activities. It requires no particular singing ability, no elaborate rehearsals and little if any practice, but it does require the whole soulful co-operation of the populace to succeed, and if it does not have that, the idea labors under a handicap from the start.

It's a good idea—just as good as any and better than most of the ideas so frequently put forth as a means of building community spirit. It is good enough to deserve the thorough support of Twin Falls people. As a matter of fact, and public movement is good which has for its object the incultation of a better community spirit, in Twin Falls or anywhere else.

FAKE ANTIQUITIES.

Reports from Egypt that fake antiquities are being hawked in increasing number among tourists whose interest in antiquity has been whetted by the discoveries in Tutankhamun's tomb would indicate that the fraudulent are acting after their kind. Those who live by defrauding their fellows are always on the lookout for fresh openings. It would seem for every product that commands the admiration of buyers there is a fraudulent imitation. For every producer of something that the public fancies there is a faker. The interest of Luxor presented an inviting opportunity for flopping victims and the vendors of fake products are taking advantage of it.

Hidden qualities largely determine the value and life of a closed car. Beauty of line and finish and refinements are surface indications and important ones. But your satisfaction with a closed car depends to a great degree upon factors that are unseen—the in-built qualities that come from correct design, use of highest grade materials and careful workmanship.

The 23 Series Studebaker Light-Six Sedan is a quality car. It is built to endure—to give lasting satisfaction.

The Sedan body is substantially made. It will last for years and retain its beauty and comfort. Evidence of its hidden goodness lies in the fact that down under the paint and varnish, the pillars, roof rails and supporting members are made from specially selected ash. Good ash is expensive but Studebaker uses it because it best combines the proper strength and weight.

Four wide-opening doors make it easy for all passengers to get in or out without inconvenience to each other. A high-grade heater affords summer warmth on cold, damp days. The wide windows give broad vision in every direction.

When you buy a Light-Six Sedan you are really accepting the judgment of 100,000 owners who have found the Light-Six chassis so satisfactory. Studebaker quality is traditional.
