DECLARATIONS OF COMMUNISM AILED IN COURT

Counsel for W. Z. Foster, Charged with Violating Syndicalism Law, Delays Proceedings with Arguments

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., March 14 (AP)—Section of a jury to try William Z. Foster charged with violating the Michigan law against criminal syndicalism was still uncompleted tonight, although twice today the state had approved a completed panel.

At adjournment tonight Frank P. Walsh, chief counsel for Foster, announced he would peremptorily challenge tomorrow one of the 12 tendered by the prosecution.

Today's session was marked by long abstract arguments over highly technical questions of political economy and federal moral rights, which were not only over the juror's heads but left attorneys floundering in deep water.

Argues Right to Revolt.

The defense attorney declared that Foster, or anyone else, had the privilege to point out to Americans that they were not free in the Declaration of Independence, to revolt if conditions under their form of government became intolerable. He argued that the Michigan law, or any other law, which forbade such a right was not violated unless the advocate of revolution in the abstract actually advised revolt to arms.

Judge Charles White, before whom the case will be tried, declared that the right to French revolution existed and George Bookwater, assistant prosecuting attorney of Berrien County, said Mr. Walsh was conceding the Declaration of Independence which is a law with the basic law of the nation.

Mr. Walsh insisted that the inherent right of a people to revolt could not be limited by the constitution, and his revision of the national assembly to petition congress to redress wrongs did not in any way limit the right to do away with the entire system of government, which is the right of the people.

One Woman Remains.

When court adjourned tonight, only one woman, Mrs. Minerva Olson, was left in the tentative panel, out of three originally called. One was dismissed Friday at 10 o'clock, and the defense today exercised a peremptory challenge to get rid of another. The 12 now in the box include besides Mrs. Olson, a grocer, a clothing merchant and two farmers, a Max Karris, a Russian Jew from Olga, is the only one not born in this country.

Ice Jam Resists Air-Attack With High Explosives

New York Town Still Threatened with Disaster by Floods of Delaware River

PORT JARVIS, N. Y., March 14 (AP)—Scarred and shaken by violent explosion of 300-pound T. N. T. bombs dropped by army aviators from an altitude of 2000 feet, the dangerous five mile ice jam on the Delaware river, which has threatened this town with disaster, still was intact tonight.

The flood menace, however, was believed to have been temporarily removed, for although water scored a triumph against one of the war's modern implements of destruction, the river is buffeted and a heavy thicket of floating ice has begun to form. Thousands of residents of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania gathered in the vicinity were attracted to the spectacle.

Seven bombs were dropped at intervals of 20 minutes, four tearing great cavities in the ice jam, and the other three landed on the New Jersey shore, throwing up clouds of earth and snow.

One of the bombs striking the ice jam, exploded in a spectacular and motion picture photographers who had ventured near for a glimpse of the burning charge, were only slightly scorched, but no one was hurt.

LEASEHOLD FOR RICH AREA TO BE AWARDED

Wyoming Land Board About to Announce Decision in Respect to Bids of Producers for Salt Creek Section

CHEYENNE, Wyo., March 14 (AP)—Award of the leasehold for the most fertile section of the salt area in the world's richest sugar mill of oil land—section 36-47-79, Salt Creek field—is expected to be made today by the Wyoming state land board. Members of the board on March 5 took under consideration bids submitted by four producers.

The bidders who presented their respective proposals were statements to the board at a public meeting held in the state capital, were the Midwest Oil Company, president of the state production company producing subsidiary of the Texas company, the Derrick Oil company and John W. Hay, banker of Lead Springs.

One proposal, sponsored by former Governor Charles N. Haskell of Oklahoma, was withdrawn at the final moment, his representative explaining that the terms offered by the land board were unsatisfactory.

Offers Royalty on Savings.

Under the first bid offered at the meeting, that of the Texas Production company, a royalty of 50 per cent of the net price of the oil of the field, was offered. The company also declared in the proposal that it would refine all oil from the lease within the state of Wyoming.

Mr. Hay who was defeated by the Republican candidate for governor at the November election, offered a royalty of 65 per cent of the oil produced from the field for all of the same grade. He also agreed to have a refinery in operation by October, 1924, when the new lease became operative, and to pay the state only for refining within the state.

The Derrick Oil company, through its general manager, Charles L. Guehrer, offered a royalty of 51 per cent of the oil produced from the lease and to pay a minimum of $2 a barrel for this royalty oil or any part of that sum. The Derrick company also agreed to erect a refinery and to pay a bonus of half million dollars on the five year lease period.

The lease, the Midwest Oil company, as a result of its present lease on a royalty of 12 1/2 per cent on all oil produced from the lease with a cash bonus of five million dollars on the five year lease period, will pay a cash royalty of $1.25 per barrel and 65 per cent of the excess profits arising from its sales.

Claims Preferential Right.

The Midwest's bid was preferred by an assertion that it had a preferential right to the lease under the policy of Wyoming and under the dotted policy of previous land boards. Granting the lease to another company would be a violation of the Midwest's company's bid asserted.

The value of the Salt Creek section has been variously estimated at between $25,000,000 and $100,000,000. It has also been estimated, would produce 12,000,000 barrels annually.

Under the proposal of the Haskell interests, which was withdrawn, a rail line would have been constructed from Casper, Wyoming, to Miles City, Montana, in addition to actual operation of the oil lease. Subsequent statement from the Oklahoma government representatives have tended to indicate that the road may be built on an individual project, despite the decision to withdraw the bid.

Germany Seeks to Gain Ear of Allies For Plan For Settling Reparations Question

INVOLVES GUARANTEES BY INDUSTRIAL CHIEFS

Berlin Keeps Details of Reported Proposals Secret Until Assured it will be Given Consideration—Disappointment Expressed over British Reluctance to Take Stand

LONDON, March 14 (AP)—Germany is about to make a declaration that she is willing and ready to produce a plan for the final settlement of the reparations question, the city declared today and consideration of the allied governments, says the Daily Telegraph's diplomatic correspondent, upon whose information the Daily Telegraph in an editorial says the fullest reliance may be placed.

According to the correspondent the plan, which involves a material guarantee by the German industrialists, will not be disclosed until the German government is assured that it will not be brushed aside without serious examination, as happened to Karl Bergmann's propositions in London in December last in Paris in January.

Unofficially, a confidential envoy from Berlin, says the correspondent, recently caused inquiries to be made of the British cabinet whether the cabinet would accept the kind of suggestion that a concrete offer from Germany would be welcomed in London, but that the British statesmen were reluctant to commit themselves.

This attitude of reserve, says the letter, disappointed not only the German government, but other governments, who had been looking to Great Britain for the lead.

The correspondent gathers that Germany is fully prepared to accept far reaching measures of international control of her finances and to guarantee to the allies a material guarantee to France respecting France's treaty frontiers.

According to a dispatch to the Daily Mail from Berlin, Baron von Rosenburg, German minister of foreign affairs, is expected to announce today, Tuesday, when some of the people expect a pronouncement showing that Germany has a constructive policy on reparations, and is ready to accept a settlement of the Ruhr situation.

PRESIDENT HAS DAY OF REPOSE

Miami Modifies Elaborate Preparations for Executive's Arrival in Deference to Wish

MIAMI, Fla., March 14 (AP)—President Harding slipped quietly into Miami today and had a round of golf, was entertained at luncheon by Carl G. Fisher, formerly of Indianapolis but one of Miami's leading citizens, and spent the late afternoon and night at the honoree's Pioneer, anchored off the Flamingo hotel dock.

Thus, what had been expected to be one of the busiest days the president has had since the beginning his vacation trip, turned out to be one of the quietest. Perhaps the first Miami has had in several weeks, had something to do with it, but it was largely due to a general feeling of relief by the president's friends that he desired rest.

No Political Conference.

None of the political conferences foreseen in some quarters, occurred today, and the only thing approaching a conference was a talk the president had with Attorney General Daugherty after luncheon.

Even it was understood to have been wholly informal and to have ranged about the health of the attorney general, who left the presidential party last night at Miami and returned to convalescence from his recent illness.

Miami had been looking forward and preparing for the arrival of the president for several days. Word was received early in the day that the Pioneer had won her final battle with the east coast canal sand bars, and was proceeding slowly in Biscayne bay.

Seeking to hasten the president's arrival, Mr. Fisher went up to the bay to meet the executive in his speed boat, Shadow VI.

Entertained on Yacht.

Mr. Fisher entertained the president and the men of the party at luncheon on one of the Flamingo hotel yachts, and after luncheon Mr. Harding went up to the apartments of Attorney General Daugherty, whom he found generally improved, but not yet in condition to resume the duties of administering the department of justice.

Returning to the Pioneer after luncheon the president posted in the rain several minutes for the cameras of children.

VATICAN DISAVOWS NUNCIO'S MOVE FOR MEDIATION IN RUHR

Papal Agent in Brussels Falls in Effort to Enlist Spanish Action in Conflict with Germany

BRUSSELS, March 14 (AP)—It is known that Monsignor Nicotra, papal nuncio here, recently made overtures to the Spanish ambassador in Brussels, with a view to Spanish mediation in the conflict with Germany.

The nuncio's action upon learning from Belgian government officials that that government was in complete agreement with the French government regarding the Ruhr affair. Thus Monsignor Nicotra's conciliatory intentions came to nothing, and the Belgian government has not been approached, either by the vatican or Spain.

ALLIES' TERMS NOT REJECTED

American State Department Makes Counter Offers in the Rhine Army Claims

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP)—The reply to allied proposals relative to payment of the costs of maintaining the American army of occupation in Germany probably will be forwarded tomorrow to Elliot Woodward, United States representative in Paris, for presentation to the allied delegates negotiating with them here on Friday. It was stated today the reply had not been formulated and published reports that the suggestions had been flatly rejected were without foundation.

At the same time department officials explained they did not intend to give the impression that the proposals would be rejected.

One of the objectionable points was believed to be that suggesting that the $250,000,000 claim should be reduced in an amount equal to the valuation of ships seized at the time the country declared war on Germany.

President Harding has been given a copy of the proposals. They were admitted to him by telegram to Florida.

Orders Mourning Period Doom of Death Seen Hovering Over Dictators

DUBLIN, March 14 (AP)—A proclamation in honor of the republic of Ireland has been issued declaring an indefinite period of national mourning, during which sports and amusements are to be suspended. Theaters and moving picture houses closed and in particular, horse racing, hunting, coursing and all outdoor sports discontinued.

This action is taken, it is declared, "in view of the present national tragedy caused by Great Britain's threat of war, the daily horrors of the slaughter of war by torture, ill treatment and the execution of republican prisoners, and in consideration of the bereaved families and relatives."

Government Turns Attention to Income Tax Delinquencies

NEW YORK, March 14 (AP)—With tomorrow the last day when federal taxes may be paid on last year's income, the government today began jacking up citizens alleged to have failed to report their entire receipts in other years.

While last minute returns were pouring into internal revenue offices this afternoon, the federal grand jury in Brooklyn indicted Frank Cieslik, a real estate operator and stock promoter, for alleged failure to report his entire income for 1922.

Cieslik paid a tax which investigators considered too small. The case was passed along to Washington and orders were received to make a more extensive investigation as a result of which it was alleged that the promoter owed the government $1,000,000 in taxes and penalties on an income of about $3,000,000.

Collector Rafferty in Brooklyn, casting his eye on contributions to churches and charitable institutions which are exempt from tax, said that if these institutions had received all the gifts credited to them by taxpayers they could well need no more funds this year at least.

Meanwhile announcement was made that the government was six years behind in auditing returns for 1917. Government agents said that they were now completing their audit for 1917, and that $300,000,000 additional in taxes due the government already had been uncovered.

ELABORATE TRIBUTE PAID ASSASSINATED FREEMASON

BUEB, Germany, March 14 (AP)—The bodies of the two Frenchmen who were assassinated here Saturday night, were conveyed to the railroad station today for transportation to France. There was an imposing military demonstration of 6000 troops. The French, who the bodies lay heaped with flowers, was flanked with tanks and infantry with fixed bayonets and cavalry with drawn swords were mounted in the square fronting the building.

General Degoutte, the French commander, made a brief speech at the 10000 troops. The Frenchmen, who the cortège, but all bared their heads.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE IS HELD POLITICAL SOCIETY

New York Supreme Court Requires Organization to File Financial Statement in Relation to 1922 Elections

ALBANY, N. Y. Mar. 14 (AP)—The Anti-Saloon league of New York is, in effect, a political committee and "an active party" for the purpose of electing candidates for public office, under a decision today by Supreme Court Justice Ellis J. Staley of Albany.

The league was directed to file a financial statement with the state and liabilities received, made and incurred in connection with the primary and general elections of 1922 and to file it with the state comptroller as a treasurer as provided by statute.

The decision was the outcome of a hearing begun before Justice Staley last month when five citizens of Troy, the voters of the Albany district, applied for an order, declaring the league a political organization.

William A. Anderson, state league superintendent in Troy, testified that since one February 23, 1922, as principal witness that the league's ultimate purpose was affecting political elections through education of the voter. He declared that the league was a political organization.

Justice Staley in a memorandum accompanying the decision, said that the league's admitted activities, proclaimed by its constitution, and the support of which money is received must be given full publicity to disclose the source of support and test to sincerity for the public good by the means and propaganda employed.

NEW YORK, March 14 (AP)—Fifty women of the Helene Irving Motion picture club today formed a bucket brigade and extinguished a fire on the roof of an annex to the Vermilye colliery reformed church in West Fifty-fourth street. Hundreds of persons living in nearby tenements cheered as the women brought the blaze under control. The club members were in the church when the annex roof caught fire from a workman's tar pail.

ECONOMY FEATURES RECORD OF IDAHO'S LEGISLATURE

Review of Seventeenth Session Achievements Shows Material Curtailment of Public Expense; About One-Third of Mass of Measures Introduced Receive Approval

BOISE, March 14 (Special Correspondence)—That the members of the seventeenth session of the Idaho legislature of all parties took action, the demand made upon them by economic conditions and by the voters of the state, that appropriations should be kept to the lowest possible level, seems to be the outstanding feature of the session just ended.

Yet it would not be wise for taxpayers to feel because of the money coming from Boise, that the legislature will be greatly reduced, for several things go to make up a condition which might be briefly outlined.

In the first place valuations have been reduced in the state, something over $20,000,000. This would raise the levy slightly. Special taxes have been cut out of the general state tax, and a 3.8 mill levy was added for building school buildings and considerably decreased receipts which offset taxes will be noted because of conditions in the state and despite the fact that several thousand dollars in appropriations, the general state tax levy for 1923 will be .00433 or 36 cents on $100 valuation, while in 1922 the general state tax was .00438, or less than this coming year.

There will be no 9-10 of a mill highway levy, but each person who runs an automobile will pay more in proportion with a gas tax which if read money was levied directly.

The outstanding thing to reduce taxes, done by the legislature, is found in the reduction of the levy on all other public subdivisions. That is the only possible way that a state can materially reduce taxes and it is now up to the people in the small units to keep their expenditures down. Students of taxation all agree that it is very difficult, as soon as money conditions ease up a little to keep local people from taking advantage of the state's vote upon themselves additional tax. Boosters for certain projects have a way of embarrassing those who fight local improvements at the levy level, out of that people will allow themselves to be taxed to the legal limit.

After the Battle.

It is usually most interesting to the public, after the question of taxation, to look over a political situation left by a vanishing legislature.

That the republicans have kept the promise made at the Wallace convention cannot be questioned. The high light in the program was the reduction of levy limits and appropriations.

Then it is almost inevitable, carried out its announced primary platform and more than usual met its platform obligations.

The death of Senator Van Hoesen was a severe blow to the Hourbons. As an outstanding figure in the senate and one who was almost certain to be the nominee of his party for the governor's term two years from now, his loss was a certain blow from which no one has hope that the party may recover for a long time.

A compliment may well be recorded, however, to the one on which Senator Van Hoesen's leadership mantle fell, and who eloquently and carefully handled the work on the floor for his party. That is Solon B. Clark, senator from Custer county, whose conservative, but active debate marks him as a coming leader.

Markel Reaps Applause.

In the house the democrat party was also well represented by two or three outstanding figures. The clearest talker being Representative Markel of Twin Falls, while Representative "Bob" Coulter created a splendid impression.

Opponents of the progressive party are encouraging themselves negatively because none of the progressive program, as they see it, was put over. But it is like whistling in a graveyard at night, for the progressives would have lost an issue for the campaign of 1924 if any of their bills had passed, and an impressive list of issues it is, even though semi-radical in its scope.

In the next campaign the progressive party, under the probable leadership of H. F. Samuels, will fight for cooperative marketing; for a primary; initiative, referendum and recall; non-partisan judiciary; a change in mine taxation and a number of other issues.

Should economic conditions in Idaho remain unchanged, a battle royal between progressives and republicans may be assumed, always remembering, however, that a presidential campaign lines up party solidarity better than does an off year campaign.

Probable the greatest political blunder made by the old line party members occurred in the house on the last day, when that body through democratic and republican votes, resisted by progressives, who would not have had the bill passed for anything, killed a measure which would have allowed the socialist party in Idaho to have placed its name on the ballot with 1500 petitioners and thereby taking that always partisan element from the progressives to their own socialist control. The means being seven and eight thousand votes for the progressives.

Effect of Long Fight.

The primary fight was one of the features of the session. It had the result of holding up appropriations, of splitting into two elements republican legislators, and it was seen in the passage and defeat of considerable legislation.

Totalling the work of the seventeenth session, it is found that 236 bills were passed, as were also joint memoranda, two joint resolutions and two concurrent resolutions, or about one-third of the mass of measures introduced. Observers of legislation sometimes lose their belief of success on the fact that a legislature will pass a small percentage of the bills before them, and this session made a splendid record on that basis, for 675 measures were introduced, an average of slightly less than 12 per day.

The total of appropriations amounted to $4,600,035.64, a reduction of practically $900,000. In addition to the general state tax levy mentioned in the preceding paragraph, there are fixed sums, interest and sinking, capital sinking, 3-8 mill for school purposes, and three classes of highway redemption, which must be added. The total levy will probably be about .00488, or slightly less than 1-2 mill of the last Davis administration levy.

The outstanding agricultural legislation included the terminal warehouse bill; exclusion from anti-trust laws of cooperative organizations marketing their own products; a bill allowing cooperative marketing associations to buy products of non-members; a measure prohibiting unfair competition and discrimination in buying and selling dairy products, and a law defining "filled milk" as adulterated.

Mine Tax Bill Falls.

Of most interest to mining was the failure to pass a bill which would have entirely changed the system of mine taxation in the state, and the passage of measures eliminating the speed limit for "hotels in mines, making a penalty of imprisonment from five to 20 years for underground arson; an appropriation for the bureau of mines and geology, and a bill which it is believed will largely increase mine prospecting.

Education received much attention. The outstanding feature being the elimination of the committee on education, by a refusal of the legislature to appropriate a salary, and the defeat of the Albion Normal removal bill.

Probably the outstanding measure in highway legislation was the passage of the two-cent gasoline tax. The state will now have an anti-glare auto headlight law. The legislature placed the 3-8 mill of the road would be subject to a fine of $200 and a six months' sentence in jail. Weight of trucks and liability of the owners for damage to highway featured another measure. Provision was made for transfer of balances in funds of disorganized road districts to the counties.

Banking laws, which largely aid in the strengthening of state institutions in the supervision of the state over them, and would aid in the liquidation of failed banks, were passed, although the legislature failed to pass a bank guarantee law, which both banking committees of the house and senate, after exhaustive examination, declared against it. At the request of Governor Moore provision was made for the appointment of a committee of five to study bank guarantee and banking conditions and report fully to the eighteenth session.

Outstanding in the changes made in state affairs was the reduction of the salary of all commissioners, with the exception of reclamation, public works and finance, from $3000 to $2000 per year, and the removal of the public accounts and budget to the auditor's office, and the limiting of public officials to an expense of $5 per day outside of travel.

Reclamation.

The reclamation measures, over which much interest had been shown, were vetoed after their final passage by Governor Moore, but many other bills passed will go on the statute books of the state affecting this important part of Idaho's economic life.

Those vetoed would have provided a two-year term for water masters and for the organization of power districts within irrigation districts and the sale of power outside of the district.

Hereafter irrigation districts may levy more than necessary taxes in order to establish a safety fund to abrogate delinquencies when necessary; indebtedness of $15,000 for organization purposes is allowed to districts with more than 200,000 acres; establishment of a right to extend the time for paying for surplus power sold by irrigation districts, to 35 years.

A bill allowing collection by county boards of irrigation district assessments, was also passed, and hereafter drainage district commissioners may file on water made available by construction of drainage works. The construction of reclamation is given power to extend time for the completion of irrigation works and he also may pass on the issue of refunding bonds for warrant indebtedness.

WHEAT GROWERS TAKE NEW TACK

Association Members to Vote on Disincorporation; Contract Changes Proposed

SPOKANE, Wash., March 14 (AP)—Directors of Washington Wheat Growers association last night held a secret mail ballot on the question of disincorporation, outlined a plan for a membership campaign, and adjourned after two days and two nights of discussion of those subjects.

The secret ballots will go to approximately 3,200 wheat growers. At the membership meeting here next month a committee will be appointed to canvass the ballot.

Acting on the theory that the proposal to disincorporate would be defeated, the directors planned launching the membership drive, providing a new contract for the new members to run four years, ending concurrently with the present six-year contracts, made two years ago. The new contracts, however, would be effective only when fifty per cent of the state's wheat tonnage was signed.

The directors also voted to allow each member, old or new, greater control of his crop, designating whether it should be sold outright, or held in short or long pools. The association at present has but one pool, closing in June of the year following harvesting, and the tying up of the crop in this way has caused discontent with the association among some members, it was said.

TRACE SUICIDE TO WORRY OVER CRITIC'S SHAFT

Associates of Former General Counsel Cramer of Veterans' Bureau Associate Death with Attacks

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP)—The suicide today of Charles F. Cramer, who resigned as general counsel for the veterans' bureau at the height of congressional attacks on that organization, was attributed tonight by his associates to worry over criticism aimed at him, recounted by the ill health of his father and by financial reverses.

William Wolf Smith, who succeeded Mr. Cramer, said his inquiry into the affairs of the legal division of the bureau had thus far disclosed "nothing to Mr. Cramer's discredit." Investigation by the police revealed no motive for the suicide, but they said they had learned that Mr. Cramer had been greatly depressed since severing his connection with the veterans' organization, which occurred just prior to the resignation of Director Forbes a few weeks ago.

Alone at Home.
Mr. Cramer was alone at the time of the tragedy, except for a maid and chauffeur. Last night he escorted his wife to the midnight train for New York, where she went to visit his father, who is 82 years of age, and who is said to be critically ill. Returning to his home, he told the maid to awaken him at 8 o'clock this morning, but when she went to call him she found his bed had not been slept in. The door to a bathroom was found locked. It was broken down and his body, still warm, was found stretched on the floor. A bullet had passed through his head.

Police believe that he paced the floor all night and shot himself at daylight. The house in which the act was committed was purchased by Mr. Cramer from President and Mrs. Harding, it having been occupied by them while the president was a senator.

It was recalled at the bureau that after a meeting of the American Legion at Tiffinville last fall, at which he was bitterly assailed, Mr. Cramer issued a statement saying he had given wholehearted and passive service to the bureau, had laid all the facts before his chief and was willing to abide by the latter's decision as to whether he should remain.

Senate Investigating.
Almost immediately, his resignation was accepted and within a few days Director Forbes was on his way to Europe, leaving his own resignation in the hands of President Harding. Since then the senate has appointed a committee to investigate the affairs of the veterans' bureau and John F. O'Byan of New York, who commanded the 27th division in France, has been selected as special counsel.

Mr. Cramer was 46 years old. He left no children.
Prior to the war Mr. Cramer was general counsel for various western oil companies. He was graduated from New York university in the class of 1899.

RULES WOMEN ARE ELIGIBLE TO BECOME SEA CAPTAINS

LONDON, March 14 (AP)—Women are eligible for sea captain certificates in the ruling of the board of trade in reply to a question on the subject from the Imperial Merchant Service Guild. The board says it would not refuse to examine a candidate for a certificate of competency on the ground of sex if the conditions as to service and testimonials laid down in their regulations, were complied with.

The question arose through the case of a Miss Drummond, who recently went to sea as an engineer, and the Guild wished to have it made clear if women could go further in the profession.

The Screen

"OUR MARY" CHARMS IN HER NEW "TESS"

Never before have local theatregoers shown such favoritism for Mary Pickford as they have thus far this week at the Idaho theatre, where this illustrious star is appearing in her new screen version of "Tess of the Storm Country," a United Artists release. It is truly a combination of a favorite play and the amusement-seekers of this city are displaying a marked avidity in embracing the opportunity offered for genuine diversion of a rare variety. Few photoplay classics have ever elicited such unstinted and universal applause as this one and if Miss

Pickford could only look in on the capacity audience at any performance here she would undoubtedly feel highly complimented, for she would see her art welling a powerful influence in lightening the cares of the masses of people.

FOOT FITTERS BEAT GROCERS

Anderson's High Scores Fail to Bring Alvord & Mott Bowlers Victory Over Shoe Market

Bowling 225 in the second game, and totalling 635 for the evening gave Archie Anderson of the Alvord & Mott team the honors for the regular scheduled series between the Shoe Market and Alvord & Mott team last night at the Twin Falls bowling alley.

Notwithstanding the fact that Anderson was "right," the grocers won but one of the three games, the first two going to the men who claim that all feet must be covered.

In the first game the Shoe Market men totalled 825 while the best bowler from the grocery store was 769. Walter Buchanan hit the high mark in this game with 202.

The second game also went to the Salmon crowd, 20 pins separating the grocermen from the coveted mark. The 770 men rolled 795 in this game to shoe for rice and beans dispensers. Archie Anderson's 225 was the high water mark.

In the last game the grocers won their usual one game, being on the long end of a 759 to 743 score. Art Hannak tickled the mingles for 188 in this game, getting his name on the honor roll.

DOING THEIR BEST

Shoe Market—	1	2	3	Totals
Huilhan	172	181	129	482
Buchanan	202	130	137	475
Hannak	166	168	183	517
Salmon	146	139	137	422
Yochem	137	172	138	447
Totals	822	795	743	2365
Alvord & Mott—	1	2	3	Totals
Bexroat	169	156	157	484
IL Brueggemann	113	89	145	357
Lowrey	128	157	132	417
Anderson	155	225	155	535
C. Brueggemann	184	139	170	493
Totals	759	776	759	2294

The Alvord & Mott bunch are still unable to say that they have won a series.

Try as they will, the other teams always nose out a few pins ahead of them.

Archie Anderson's game in the second game of the evening was one of the prettiest of the tournament.

His first five attempts were strikes and the last five were spares.

Jimmie Huilhan had a nice start in the first two games, and it looked as though Jimmie was going to raise his average, but the last game netted but 123.

Bexroat showed vast improvement last night picking up his spares, and totalling 484 for the three games.

It is with pleasure that we announce that "Dug" Salmon has decided to remain with the Shoe Market team. "Dug" received several flattering offers from Milwaukee to enter the A. B. C. bowling tournament, but declined, as he felt that his duty forced him to remain with the foot fitters.

To show that the offers didn't upset him, "Dug" had 146 for his high mark in the three games.

Hank Brueggemann was so far off color that he fell to the new low mark of 357. Hank failed after bowling three games to find out where to make 'em fall.

Jake Yochem made a classy strike in the second game. It was the luckiest made during the tournament. Ask Jake; he knows.

Lewis was another of the Grocermen who seemed to be a wee bit off beam. He kept his score down, and toward the end he refused to even try and hit the head pin.

At Hannak is fast reaching into shape. He 676 total last night showing that he is still to be reckoned with before the season ends.

Charley Brueggemann fell in the second game to 130, but the first and third netted Charley 184 and 170.

Owing to the fact that tonight is "Community Night," the regular scheduled game between the Idaho Theatre kids and the Wright's store team has been postponed until Friday night.

Our daily bowling thought: You've got to be a straight shooter if you expect to hit the mark.

INJURED FIGHTER NOT IN IMMEDIATE DANGER

Doctors Say Brennan's Condition Apparently is Not Serious, but it is too Early to Predict Developments

NEW YORK, March 14 (AP)—Bill Brennan, Chicago heavyweight, who was taken to the Jewish memorial hospital early today with concussion of the brain, the result of his knockout by Luis Angel Firpo, Monday night at Madison Square garden, was declared by his physician tonight to be in no immediate danger.

"His condition apparently is not serious," asserted Dr. Edward L. Spitzer, brain specialist, who diagnosed the case, but it is too early to predict developments.

X-ray photographs were taken of the pugilist's head soon after he reached the hospital, but these, Dr. Spitzer said, probably would not be examined until tomorrow. At present, he added, there is no evidence of injury to the bone.

"No Brennan shows every sign of having an awful beating," the specialist declared. "But his general condition gives no cause now for alarm."

Except for a brief period of semi-consciousness early this morning when he was taken to the hospital, Brennan was in a cheerful mood, and his wife chatted for a while with his friend and Leo P. Flynn, his manager.

HOPPE RETAINS BILLIARD CROWN

Champion Defeats Jake Schaefer, Challenger, 1500 Points to 1341, for Title

NEW YORK, March 14 (AP)—Willie Hoppe, world 18.2 bankline billiard champion, retained his title tonight, defeating Jake Schaefer, challenger, 1500 points to 1341.

Hoppe, defeated 500 to 377 Monday in the first book of the match, overcame Schaefer's lead last night, reclaiming the 1000 point mark while the challenger was counting 994. The champion ran his final 500 points tonight in 12 innings. He took a long lead in the third inning with a run of 186.

Schaefer, a narvous shot-maker, made the highest run of the match in his fifth inning, 244, and drew to within 29 counts of Hoppe. The titleholder pulled away with a run of 113 in his sixth inning and was never headed.

Schaefer Seems Nervous

The champion, having counted 1,000 points to his opponent's 994 in the two preceding books, opened play when he left off last night with an unfinished run of 99.

Hoppe ran 43, missing an one-cushion bank for his position after losing the balls on a difficult mass. Schaefer missed a two-cushion shot on the head rail after counting three. Hoppe made a two-cushion bank and missed a three-cushion carom. Schaefer played wild on a two-cushion draw. Score: Hoppe 1044; Schaefer 997.

Hoppe Counts 185.

Hoppe gathered 40 then played three three-cushion shots for a gather. He counted 75 and froze all three balls. Calling for a shot he made the shot and continued. On his 100th shot he drove the white around the table for a perfect gather. His 102nd shot was a two-rail bank. He made a frunk two-cushion bank on his 120th shot and his 121st a force follow half the length of the table. At 155 he got the balls astraddle of the ballline at the head of the table. He split them on the 170th count and used the bridge for a two-cushion bank in the upper corner on the next.

After making a remarkable three-cushion reverse shot for his 180th count Hoppe missed on an easy three-cushion carom.

Schaefer tried a three-cushion shot and missed.

Grand total: Hoppe 1230; Schaefer 997.

The champion made two one-cushion shots on the side rail and failed on a three-cushion around the table. Hoppe made a one cushion shot across the table and missed an easy draw. Hoppe counted 30 on open billiards, missing a three-cushion carom for position. Schaefer collected the balls on the head rail after ten driving shots. On the 30th count he made a difficult follow shot and continued the run...

Schaefer Runs 214.

Schaefer counted 75 by nursing closely on the lower balklines. He drove the white around the table on the 80 count and gained perfect position, going on to the 100 mark. Schaefer was playing a great game, making the most difficult shots without the least deliberation. He split them on the 134th count and drove the white ball 12 times before gathering them. They were split again at 162. He gathered them in free territory at 165 and went on.

Schaefer executed a brilliant mass in a lower corner to top Hoppe's high run of 186. He had them close together at 200. He made a difficult three-rail shot at 215 a mass on 244, then missed a one-cushion shot. The score then was: Hoppe 1262; Schaefer 1242.

The champion counted 50 at the close game, then made 18 with the balls scattered. His 68th shot was a swing draw, two rails across the upper end of the table. He drew the balls together on the shot and continued to 100 when he drove both balls around the table for position. He made 113 and missed a close follow. His total then was 1375 against Schaefer's 1242.

Schaefer made one and missed a three-cushion carom.

Both Play Safeties.

Hoppe nursed on the lower banking and passed 1400. His run was 43. He missed a two-cushion bank shot through a kiss. His total was 1418 against Schaefer's 1242.

Schaefer increased his total to 1280 on his next turn. He failed on a short draw in the lower left corner. Hoppe counted four and missed a one-cushion carom across the table. The challenger counted 35 and missed a cross table shot. Both players were playing safeties. Hoppe made two and missed. Schaefer failed to count. Hoppe then had his first blank inning of the book. The score then was: Hoppe 1433; Schaefer 1366.

Schaefer's next count was 29. He missed a three-cushion carom shot. His total was 1395.

Hoppe nursed to the head rail on 15 counts. At 25 he spread them on a bank shot, but had them together again at 40.

A bad kiss on the 47th shot forced him to drive around the table again.

He missed a three-cushion shot after counting 55 and his total was 1470 against the challenger's 1395.

Schaefer collected six and failed on a two-cushion shot. Hoppe with 21 to go, drew the balls together on his third shot. He counted 20 on the ballline and caromed into the left hand upper corner for the winning shot.

DENIES RUTH'S CHARGE OF BLACKMAIL SCHEME

Counsel for Girl who Accuses Home Run King Says $50,000 Damage Suit Will Be Filed Soon

NEW YORK, March 14 (AP)—Miss Dolores Dixon's $50,000 suit against Babe Ruth, Yankee home-run slugger, based on alleged attacks made during automobile trips on Long Island, remained unfilled today.

George Feinberg, the girl's attorney, said the complaint probably would be filed tomorrow. He denied Ruth's charge that the action was a blackmail plot.

Papers in the county clerk's office at Brooklyn show that an order was signed appointing Barbara Escoe guardian ad litem for the girl to permit the bringing of an action for damages against "Herman G. Ruth," Babe's name is George Herman Ruth, Mr. Feinberg said, however, that the Babe was the defendant.

He declared he would disprove Ruth's claim that he did not know the girl. Hyman Bushell, Ruth's attorney, has employed detectives to trace her history.

Russia's "Iron Czar."

"The Iron Czar" was a name given to Nicholas I, who ruled Russia from 1825 to 1855.

(From the novel by Grace Miller White) (By arrangement with Joseph Zukor) (Direction by John S. Robertson) (Photography by Charles Rosher)

The Beautiful Mary Pickford!

As a girl again—More beautiful than ever—with the sunny curls and tawdry tatters, roughish smile, quaint impudence, of the inimitable Tess. An entirely new picture—as new as it is beautiful—so gripping that it hurts—so superb that it awes. The crowning achievement of Mary Pickford's career.

Not an old scene in the whole film.

Mrs. W. T. Leallo entertained eight small guests from 4 to 6 Wednesday afternoon to celebrate the sixth birthday of her little daughter, Alice Ann. The time was merrily spent with games of various kinds and dainty refreshments. Closed the festivities with a lovely white birthday cake with its six yellow candles being the center of attraction.

Mrs. Alan P. Sontor was hostess to the Wednesday Bridge club. Prize for high score was won by Mrs. R. B. Spafford and the consolation by Mrs. J. G. Thorp.

The members of the Unity club met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. John Sommers with Mrs. P. P. Osborne as assistant hostess. A "spot luck" luncheon was served in cafeteria style at 1:30 o'clock, each member bringing an article of food ready to serve. This proved to be both bountiful and delicious. After luncheon the afternoon was devoted to election of officers bringing a general discussion of the program for the coming year. Mrs. Tom Reese was elected president; Mrs. Swisher, vice president; Mrs. Will Burt, secretary; Mrs. George Hester, treasurer; Mrs. Clinton Smith and Mrs. H. T. Blake, delegates to the rural federation, with Mrs. Emma Burt and Mrs. J. E. Bolleville, alternates. Mrs. Daniel Allen and Mrs. Mullin were guests and 21 members were in attendance. The rooms were most attractive with the colors and emblems of St. Patrick's day for decorations.

Mrs. F. C. Beebe entertained the Harmony club Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. E. R. Van Cott was the successful contestant for the favor in the bridge games. The entire membership of the club was present and the hostess served dainty refreshments at the conclusion of the game. Mrs. Outman was a guest and favored the club with a number of delightful vocal selections which were greatly enjoyed.

The M. S. and S. club met at the home of Mrs. C. B. Lindop on Wednesday afternoon. In the absence of the chairman, Mrs. Emma Reed, the meeting was presided over by Mr. C. H. Eldred. Seventeen members were present and indulged in a most interesting discussion on matters of importance to the club. Special subjects were presented by Mrs. G. W. Greig and Mrs. Charles Jones. Mrs. E. A. Bryant won the flower fund prize. Mrs. Ira Westfall won first prize in a clover guessing contest, while Mrs. W. J. Decker received the consolation. Emblems of St. Patrick were tastefully used throughout the rooms and in the dainty lunch served during the social hour. Each guest received a tiny favor as a souvenir of this most pleasant afternoon. Mrs. Lindsey was assisted by Mrs. A. J. Requa and Mrs. C. H. Eldred.

Members of the Order of the Eastern Star gave a delightful dance Tuesday evening after the regular lodge meeting. There was a large attendance, and in addition to the pleasure of tripping the "light fantastic," punch was served throughout the evening from a table decorated with green and white and devoted to St. Patrick's day.

Mrs. Isa Drayer of Kimberly entertained the Royal Society club of Wright's store Tuesday night at her home. A color scheme in keeping with St. Patrick's day was carried out and a two-course luncheon was served. The members spent the remainder of the evening in sewing and fancy work. Visitors present were Mrs. Mary Adams and Mrs. E. J. Benoit of Twin Falls. The members of the club who attended were Misses Mary Owens, Gertrude Owens, Dorothy Roy, Frances Fields, Viola Shipman, Helen Kieffner, Blanche Adams and Mesdames M. B. Kitchum, Kate E. Tibbals, P. S. Hertz and J. A. Drayer.

Miss Emily Huntsman was hostess to the Amosa class of the Baptist Sunday school Tuesday evening. After the regular business session, presided over by the president, Miss Sue Smith, the evening was spent socially. Dainty refreshments were served to the nine members in attendance.

OF WORLD IMPORTANCE

The growth and development of the theories of the Italian Fascism on the North American continent, I. e., in the Republic of Mexico, has given a new turn to the latest of mass political moves in Europe.

The teachings of Mussolini are being accepted freely in several Mexican states, it is said, and already there are those who profess to see in the movement the germ of an idea which, in a modified form, might find lodgment in almost any country.

Contrary to the general view, the theories of the Fascist have nothing whatever in common with either Socialism or Bolshevism, in fact Socialism and Bolshevism appear to have supplied the target at which the whole movement is in reality aimed.

Ever since the close of the war Italy has been a country of political chaos with a government composed of representatives of about a dozen different groups, all more or less radical.

Aside from his avowed determination that the government shall be as far removed as possible from business of each and every kind, Mussolini has offered little in the way of new political doctrine.

But the government is anti-Bolshevik and anti-Socialist, that fact should be kept in the forefront. Whether or not a man of Mussolini's general training, freely translated, means "I don't give a damn," can actually succeed in an undertaking which amounts to the re-establishment of a nation, constitutes a question of world interest and world importance.

NO NEED FOR SECRECY

There is more in the reply of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to the recent editorial outburst of William H. Anderson than an answer to the latter gentleman.

Mr. Rockefeller says: "In so far as the gifts of my father and myself to the Anti-Saloon League are concerned we have ourselves published them on several occasions. We are not in the habit of giving to causes unless we are willing to have our names attached to our gifts."

ization whose purpose is to influence public opinion can hardly afford to have financial secrets."

"The closing sentence" can be adapted to other occasions than the present. The world is full of organized something-or-others with no apparent purpose save an intention to sway the popular mind.

An organization embarked on a necessary labor or one that needs an apology should be entirely willing to disclose its sources of revenue and the manner in which it is expended.

HONORS HEROES OF REVOLUTION

New York Town Provides Burial Plot and Monument for Bones Lately Unearthed

TUCKAHOE, N. Y., March 14 (AP)—Whitened bones of 195 American heroes of the Revolution, unearthed recently in a sandy trench near here, are to be reinterred in a memorial plot on the highest knoll in Tuckaheo Hills, to rest under a monument inscribed with the history of their last battle.

Village officials have started a fund to purchase the plot of ground in which the patriots, among the "unknown" entombed February 25, will be reburied next Washington's birthday.

On Skirmishing Ground. This little village of hills and dales which lies some 20 miles from the heart of New York City was a great skirmishing ground between the Rebel and British forces during the Revolution.

A heavy force of British regulars surrounded the inn and began an advance upon it, their movement being protected by the use of small artillery on the hill behind the spring.

Leave Dead Behind. A few of the Americans escaped. Their dead and wounded were stripped of their clothing and left where they fell. News of the attack reached General Washington and he sent reinforcements for the irregulars, but they arrived too late.

SWAMP-ROOT FOR KIDNEY AILMENTS

There is only one medicine that really stands out prominent as a medicine for curing ailments of the kidneys, liver and bladder. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root stands the highest for the reason that it has proven to be just the remedy needed by thousands upon thousands of distressing cases.

CHAPTER III

The Invasion of Lettie. Having delivered the final order of groceries for the day, Crink Penfield varied monotony by taking a new route home, and was rewarded by a sight that made him stop suddenly and catch his breath with joy.

He hid his basket behind a mass of shattered masonry and plunged into exploration of the highest mound of ashes. Crink lived the life of a scavenger, he had an unflagging attraction for all the material wreckage that came within range.

Crink discovered an incredible piece of luck, the wheel of a dismembered sewing machine. He grabbed it, but at the same moment another hand also grabbed—a small, thin hand.

"Icy, leggo there," cried Crink. "Leggo yourself," retorted the girl. "Shant I get here first?"

"Now look here," began Crink, in a voice intended to be terrible. "You ain't gaining nothing. This here wheel's mine."

"'Til punch you into purgatory, So!" "Fisht, you couldn't." "Could, too."

"Want me to pick your gizzard out? There seemed to be so much possibility behind this question that Crink freed one hand and struck into the girl's neck.

sharp-twists of metal; and her skill was not a matter for dispute. On the instant, Crink abandoned the wheel and devoted himself to methods of defense.

"Kicking, striking, choking, they beat and scratched, pushed and pulled, clawed and twisted, slipping in the ashes, stumbling over charred lath and lumps of plaster, till they landed down in the grass in an angry snarl.

"What's your name?" he inquired, for the first time honoring her with individuality.

"Crink." Since both belonged to a stratum in which superlatives were lopped off, these brevities were all that either expected.

"Get!" he continued, venturing on the wily path of strategy. "You're the quickest thing I ever saw. I guess you're 'bout a ten-second kid. I guess your real name is Ten-Second Lettie. Whatever want it for?"

"Get out if I don't." "Get? Who hents you?" "Women I live with."

A picture flashed across Crink's mind—Penzie, with the comfortable arms, the love that never failed. With his wide stare entangled in the black eyes still defying him savagely, he slowly lifted one hand, then the other.

"Take it," he said shortly. The small girl was amazed. "You giving it up?"

"He nodded. "Take it along. He shoved the wheel toward her. "I don't get bent."

"Yeah, you don't!" she jeered. "Where you living at?" "Briely he told her. In the telling, a startling thought popped into his mind. "Mebbe Penzie'd like you, too," he finished.

"This rubble factory was allowed to permeate Lettie's consciousness before Crink overlaid it with a further contribution.

"We're going to have stew for supper." Lettie gulped. Her armor had been pierced in a weak spot. She had had nothing to eat since breakfast—and that a meal of exceeding sketchiness.

"Did you say stew?" "Uh-huh." "Meet in 'r?" "Uh-huh."

"It's an honest-to-goodness invitation." "Sure." "Lay down, eat you in two?" Crink took the oath.

"I'll go," she shrieked. "You can have all the junk here." She swung her arm wildly and roared.

"Puzzle," he shouted, plunging into the lean-to in high excitement. "Penzie, look what I brought you. It's Ten-Second Lettie."

"Lettie, immensely pleased, looked brightly into Mrs. Penfield's face. "I've got a hot-bun temper," she acknowledged placidly.

"Bliss my soul!" exclaimed Mrs. Penfield gaily. "Ain't this nice? Come right in, Lettie."

Lettie did not move. Her expression was noncommittal—the hard, wary expression of over-experience estimating, preparing for possible combat.

"And if you take things home—do you get bent up then?" he pursued. "None. Not except when some'n else goes wrong."

"I don't get bent." "Get? Who hents you?" "Women I live with."

"Where you living at?" "Briely he told her. In the telling, a startling thought popped into his

Mrs. Penfield, telling her way in a structure which she was far from understanding, took refuge in general hospitality.

"Sit right down here, Lettie," she invited cordially, shoving along a tub of soaking clothes and wiping the bench free of spatters.

"The cautious Lettie was not prepared to say. She took the offered seat, but immediately fixed her wary eyes again upon her hostess.

"Do you live somewhere 'round here, Lettie?" inquired Mrs. Penfield gently. "No answer."

"Crink, wriggling uneasily by the door, felt that the time had come to talk up his exhibit. "She's awful strong, Penzie. Ain't no bulldog stronger'n she is, by cracky!"

"I'll stay to supper," she conceded, with marked concension. "Sure you will," agreed Mrs. Penfield warmly. "We're going to have a grand parastew stew."

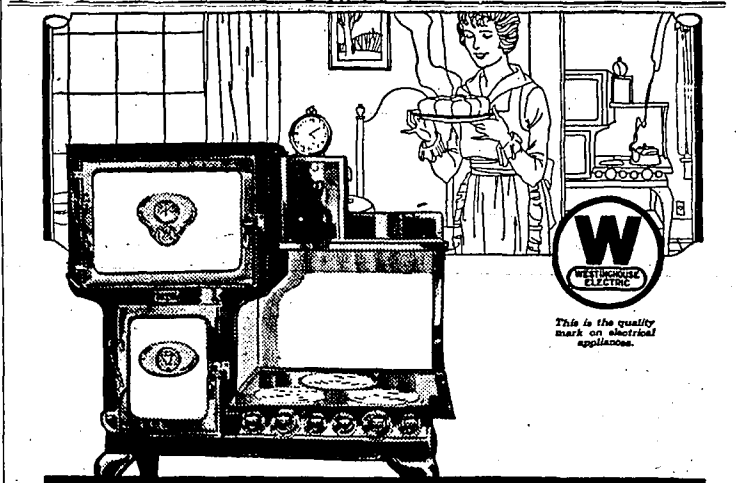

"Crink, vastly encouraged by the reception at the first point, proceeded with another. "Say, you oughter see Ten-Second Lettie fight. I never saw nothing like it—honest, I never! She spits and scratches and pulls and—"

Lettie, immensely pleased, looked brightly into Mrs. Penfield's face. "I've got a hot-bun temper," she acknowledged placidly.

"Have you, now?" inquired Mrs. Penfield conversationally. "That's good, ain't, nothing can move things faster'n temper. All you got to do is to learn when to use it, else you're likely to give the wrong thing a shove."

Lettie was unwilling to allow even this modification to dim the luster of her chief virtue. "I don't leave nothing standing when I get to going," she continued; "not nothing, nowhere—no nobody."

Center of Interest. A room may be successfully arranged about some central object as a center of interest. In a living room the fireplace is easily and naturally made this central object.

SURPRISES DUE AS FEATURE OF EVENT PROGRAM

Displays of More Than Ordinary Merit to be Revealed Before Window Shopping Night—Draws to Close

Twin Falls citizens, including those who helped to make the window shopping night last year a big success and others who were unable to participate in that event, are to be treated to numerous and pleasant surprises Thursday evening, it is indicated by the plans for the affair.

Proclamations to the window shopping event local residents will gather at the corner of Main and Shoshone at 7:30 o'clock to engage in the community singing by the women of the Twentieth Century club. The program will include songs of average appeal and will afford everyone an opportunity to get into the spirit of the occasion. Singing will be led by Mrs. L. H. Masters. The Twentieth Century club has been active in an effort to have a large attendance as possible. Women's organizations have promised to attend in numbers.

The window shopping will begin at 8 o'clock. Merchants have agreed to have their windows brightly lit from 4 o'clock to 10 o'clock after the time for the opening in order to give an opportunity for arranging their displays.

What the window arrangements will be has been kept a secret, but the public is assured by those arranging for the event that the displays will more than justify a close inspection on the part of the public.

At 8 o'clock the blinds will be raised and the windows lighted and the doors opened to the visitors. Clerks and managers will be on hand to welcome the window shoppers. No goods will be sold but the executives and employees will be at the service of the public to show the special interior of the stores. Stores will close at 9:30 o'clock.

Features have been added to window shopping night this year that were not included in the program last year. The features of the stores were not opened and there was no community singing last year. These features, added to the fact that all displays will be entirely new and novel for the public to see at an attendance that will far surpass that at the 1922 event.

FINAL DATE IS REACHED FOR PAYING INCOME TAX

Local Collector Urges All Returns to be in by 10 o'clock Thursday to Avoid Payment of Penalty

Thursday is the last day for the payment of income tax and making out returns, and all persons liable to pay or to making a return are urged by C. F. Dwight, internal revenue collector here, to have their returns in on time to avoid penalties. Mr. Dwight's office will be open until 10 o'clock Thursday.

"The fact that returns are in the mails Thursday is not sufficient as the law requires that they be in the hands of the collector on that date," said Mr. Dwight.

Penalties apply where persons fail to make a return if their incomes are over $1000 if single and $2000 if married. Where the tax is not paid the penalty is 25 per cent of the tax.

DRIVER DROWNS IN AUTO WRECK

Henry Wagner Pinned Under Car in Water After Losing Control of Machine

Crushed between the top and steering post of his overturned automobile, Henry Wagner, age 35, employe of the Twin Falls Canal company, was drowned Wednesday afternoon in three feet of water in the irrigation ditch crossing the highway four miles east of Twin Falls.

Wagner and Frank Johnson, who was riding in the car, and who escaped injury, had been working for the canal company at Hagar, and both had quit work Wednesday. Just as they reached the culvert over the ditch Wagner lost control of his car when he turned in his seat to help a dog from the rear to the front seat.

The car turned toward the side of the road and in attempting to turn it back again a front wheel was broken and the machine toppled over into the ditch. Johnson extricated himself but was unable to remove his companion from his position under the car.

The aid of a farmer working in a field nearby and several others was obtained, but Wagner was dead when the car was lifted from his body. Both men lived in the South Park addition here. Wagner, who was part Indian, and who had changed his name from the original, came here with Walter Hays, who adopted him while an orphan lad in Texas, according to Dunbar, who worked with Wagner on the Clover project about nine years ago.

The body was brought to the Grossman undertaking parlors and an effort was made Wednesday night by Mr. Grossman to determine the location of relatives.

Renders Decisions in Court Actions

Motion of Murtaugh Highway District Denied; Appeal Filed in Suit Over Cattle

Events in district court here Wednesday included decisions by Judge Backus on motions, filing of an appeal and pronouncement of sentence in the case of Walter Hillbrunner.

The motion of the Murtaugh highway district for the dismissal of the appeal taken by the Twin Falls district from the conclusions of the board of appraisers who appraised property of the district was denied.

The court sustained the judgment given by the jury in the civil suit of Harry McKinley against the Javan Mines company at the last term of court.

Following the hearing on the motion of appeal by the defendant in the case of Setta Nye against the Boyle Commission company, the court took the case under advisement. The plaintiff alleged that the appeal was taken too late.

Walter Hillbrunner, recently arrested on a liquor in possession charge, was sentenced to serve 30 days in jail and fined $100 on a plea of guilty. Notice of appeal was filed by the defendant in the case of C. A. McManis against L. A. Warner for the judgment given December 22 in favor of the plaintiff. Appeal was also taken by Mr. Warner from the court order denying the defendant's motion for a new trial. The latter is one of the longest suits in any recent civil docket.

Ship Idaho Spuds Over Large Area

Report at Meeting of County Organizations Shows 654 Cars was Total of Shipments

Total shipments of potatoes produced by members of the Twin Falls Potato Growers' association last year which amounted to 650 cars were distributed over 21 states from California to New York, according to the report at a special meeting of the association at Parish hall Tuesday night by Carl De Long, local representative of the Boyle Commission company, the association's marketing agency.

Mr. De Long's report also showed that Texas was the largest consumer, approximately 50 per cent of the total shipment going to that state. The best present market, he showed, lies in the east and southeast sections of the country. I. J. Wenner reported on his visit to Wichita, Kansas, where the principal offices of the Boyle company are located.

Certified seed of the russet variety was adopted for planting this year. It was shown that the present demand in California for planting is almost entirely for russets and that as a result the local supply has dwindled considerably.

Members of the association believe that the total acreage this year to be planted to potatoes will be greatly under the 1922 figure.

The meeting, which was an adjourned session of the January meeting, when officers were elected, was presided over by Quincy Norris, president.

JEWS GIVE GENEROUSLY FOR RELIEF IN RUSSIA

Contributions by American Jews in Year Amount to More Than $2,000,000, Report Shows

NEW YORK, March 14 (AP)—More than $2,700,000 has been contributed by American Jews toward non-sectarian relief in Russia, and a further $2,300,000 mostly for their own people through the American Relief Administration during the year 1922, according to a report of the American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee.

The report was made by Folie M. Warburg, James N. Rosenberg and Lewis L. Strauss, the three representatives of the committee who in August, 1921, concluded the agreement on the combined work in Russia with Secretary Hoover, chairman of the American Relief Administration.

About $4,000,000 of the $3,700,000 was directly contributed toward Russian relief from the organization's own funds, while the remainder was made up of the 25 per cent deducted by the American Relief Administration for general relief from approximately $7,000,000 in food packages sent by American Jews to Russia.

Most of the funds expended by the American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee, according to the report, are now being used for construction rather than for relief, such as furnishing farmers with feed, cattle and implements, and providing capital to numerous small co-operative loan banks.

The total amount contributed by the committee from its own funds during the past year for relief work in Russia was $7,500,000.

ENGLAND INCURS HEAVY LIABILITIES IN IRELAND

British Loyalists Hold London Government Responsible for Payment of $150,000,000 Property Damage

LONDON, Mar. 14 (AP)—The British government has a liability to pay the British loyalists in southern Ireland whose property has been destroyed nearly $150,000,000, according to the Lord Carson, the leader of the Irish loyalists, in London recently.

Lord Carson, the leader of the Irish loyalists, was the principal speaker. Sir William Davison member of Parliament presided.

The chairman was responsible for the estimate of damages suffered. He said that before the truce the claims amounted to ten million pounds, but they had since risen to thirty millions, "and as villages are now being set into a heap of ruins, no doubt those claims are rapidly increasing."

Lord Carson gave examples of the ruin in Ireland. The Great Southern and Western Railway had lost practically all of its capital, amounting to millions of pounds, and all the people who hold shares were ruined. He cited numerous cases of individual suffering, told of Irish ladies recently rich who had been reduced to working in England as servants, and declared these were examples from thousands.

NEW YORK EDITOR CALLS NEWS CENSORSHIP UNWISE

Walter Lippmann Declares It Duty of Modern Newspaper to Print Crime News as well as Every Other Kind

CLEVELAND, O., Mar. 14 (AP)—Declaring censorship of news is unwise, Walter Lippmann, New York editor, in an address here today said that it is the duty of the modern newspaper to print crime news as well as every other kind. The editor who yields to the temptation to censor crime news might find justification to censor financial news and proceed from that policy of trying to censor all news, Dr. Lippmann said.

Advertising has little effect on editorial policy, Mr. Lippmann said, in the larger papers the influence being relatively insignificant. "The advertiser needs the newspaper a great deal more than the newspaper needs him," he stated.
