Numbers of Renegade Piute Band Diminish as Posses Close In on Retreat in Dark Tank Canyon

SALT LAKE, March 23 (AP)—With a further diminution of their numbers by capture, the renegade Piutes are still holding out in their retreat in Dark Tank canyon, but an early termination of the struggle is apparently in sight, according to dispatches from San Juan county.

The second fight since the trouble began occurred late last night. An Indian known as "Cowboy Charley" boy, was shot and killed. Nine others were captured, but five of the number broke away from the little group encroaching them to Blanding and rejoined the band in the canyon. Chief Old Posey commanding the renegades, in this occasion, he has the whites, what to do with their captives. The Piutes have no fixed place of abode. Under the terms of a treaty made with the government at Washington they cannot be confined to a reservation and they receive no compensation on this account. In times past they have depended upon their ability to steal enough from the settlers to keep them from starving. The present trouble resulted from these thievish habits.

World Shift Burden.
The San Juan county settlers and stockmen seem determined to urge the government to take charge of the Indians. While the bucks, squaws and papooses are being guarded in the town of Blanding, they are being fed at the expense of the county. So the citizens are anxious to get rid of their unwelcome guests. To turn them loose now would probably mean more stealing and possibly more bloodshed.
Posses are still on the trail of the little fugitive band.

FIVE MEN LEAVE LINER TO SWIM TOWARD SHORE

Mystery Surrounding Strange Conduct of Stowaway Suspects is Not Solved by Interpreter's Efforts

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP)—Five men believed to be stowaways, jumped from the deck of the steamship Emden when she arrived in quarantine from Hamburg tonight and attempted to swim to shore, but became lost after an hour in the murky darkness and finally were rescued as their strength was failing.

Three of the quintet were found far from their goal by a policeman doing his regular patrol and the other two, shivering wildly for help, were pulled out of the water a short distance from shore by men who happened to be on the docks. The trio in care of the police landed in unassisted fashion when taken aboard the cutter.

While awaiting an ambulance from Staten Island hospital an interpreter tried to question the other two men but they refused to answer.

AWAITS REPORT ON REPAYMENTS

Official Washington Indicates Willingness to Settle on Fair Basis for Rhine Army Cost

WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP)—Elliot Washburn's report on allied suggestions for repayment of the $250,000 expended by the United States for maintenance of its army of occupation in Germany, was still awaited tonight by the state department. Unofficial advice that it had been cabled from Paris for consideration here by Secretary Hughes while the allied representatives on an army costs adjourned their sessions until next Tuesday, lacked confirmation in official dispatches received during the day from Paris.

The suggestion said to be contained in Mr. Washburn's report that the United States deduct war materials taken over from Germany at the time of speaking at and valued at $3,000,000 gold marks, from the amount of its claim, probably will be received favorably by officials here. It was explained that the allied nations had made similar allowances when they fixed the amounts of their claims for army costs and this government was willing to negotiate on a fair basis for the collection of its costs.

COLT'S KEY TO EVASION GIVEN

Extraordinary Code of Truth Prescribed for House of David, Figures in Trial

GRAND RAPIDS, March 23 (AP)—Whether the witnesses representing the defense were presenting their testimony to the "key" introduced as evidence in the present trial of John W. and Margaret Hanesel, against the Israelites House of David, was one of the inquiries directed to the defense witness in the trial here today by Attorney Walter M. Nelson for the plaintiff.

The morning testimony had brought the statement from Mrs. Esther Hanesel that she sat on the stand, a perjurer and a liar because of the use of the "key" in the trial. Mrs. Hanesel, a member of the house, Attorney Nelson wished to know in the same code of truth still prevailed by members of the colony when in Gentile courts.

In the morning Mrs. Hanesel testified to the preaching of Benjamin Purnell to her that "truth out of season is a lie and that we must answer folk according to their folly."
During the afternoon Mr. Nelson read from the key, directing his reading to Frank Wyland, an officer of the colony.
"But in your answers and this narrative remember the keys; and one is, that he collect those things that he not as though they were. So if you answer to a thing that does not exist, it may exist hereafter, and so can call as if already done."

Advices Less Production to Make Wheat Profitable

CROOKSTON, Minn., March 23 (AP)—Wheat production will show American growers a profit only when the production is reduced to a little less than the American consumption, or 600,000,000 bushels, declared John B. Door Keys Replace Spoons in Diet of Epileptic Patient

Reverts to Former Habits After Operation, Discloses the Swallowed Silverware

PARSONS, Kansas, March 23 (AP)—John McElreene, inmate at the state hospital for epileptics here, has changed his menu from spoons to door keys, physicians at the hospital said today.
A week ago, McElreene was operated on and 27 spoons, six spoon-handles and a safety pin removed from his stomach.

For a week he grew better and it was believed he would not only recover from the operation, but that the irritation of his intestines during the operation would cure him of epileptic seizures. But last night as an attendant was taking his temperature, McElreene snatched a door key from a ring carried by the nurse and swallowed it before she could take it away from him.
According to Dr. J. T. Naramore, a specialist in mental cases, who has charge of the case, the key is liable to cause death.

Sioux City Residents Fleeing from Flood; Gorge Holds Water Back from 2000 Farms

PRECAUTIONS TAKEN TO PREVENT LOSS OF LIFE

Warning of the Impending Danger is Spread Throughout Lowlands; Guards Stationed on River's Banks to Flash Word Instant Gigantic Ice Pack Breaks

CHECKED WATERS SPILLING FURY OVER ABANDONED HOMES AND FIELDS

SIoux CITY, Ia., March 23 (AP)—Should the gigantic ice gorge that has formed off Brasfield island in the Missouri river south of here, go out tonight a wall of water, it is feared, would sweep the lowlands for fifty miles on the Nebraska and Iowa shores. There are 2,000 farms in this area, according to a conservative estimate.

No loss of life is feared, as every resident in the lowlands has been warned of the impending danger. Guards are stationed near the ice gorge who will flash word to Sioux City the instant the ice pack breaks.
The telephone operators at Sioux City will then flash the word to Decatur, Nebraska, fifty miles south of here where couriers will at once be dispatched to the farm homes where there are no telephones.
Telephone operators at Decatur will flash the word of the breakup to all points on their circuit.
Other messengers will be sent to Onawa, Ia., Blair, Neb., and other points below Decatur.

Fleeing to High Grounds
Four hundred homes in the Sioux City "bottoms" were abandoned tonight as the water overflowed tonight of the Floyd river. Residents of the bottoms were abandoning their homes at midnight tonight and fleeing to the high ground. The Floyd river, filled with backwater from the Missouri river, as the result of the ice gorge at Sergeant Bluffs, Ia., rose three feet since six o'clock tonight.

Lower floors of six buildings situated in the business district are submerged. Another three foot rise of the river will cause between 35 and 40 residential blocks to be flooded.

Natural Forces Contending
Within four inches of the flood stage, and with a steadily rising river, Sioux City tonight was facing a serious outlook as the struggle proceeded south of here between an immovable mass of solid ice, 10 miles long, and an apparently irresistible dash of spring flood waters.
Tonight the huge ice berg continued its choking grip on the Missouri's channel and the tireless waters, fresh from their feast of recent snows were spreading over the lowlands and carrying with them a threat of impending disaster.

In Grand Assault
Late this afternoon the straining waters scored a first advantage. They broke a newly formed gorge above the first gorge and swept a titanic mass in a grand assault on the first gorge. There was a clashing of colossal forces, and rumblings and crackings.
The first gorge held. The grand battering ram became a reinforcement. The night mass into one huge iceberg, 10 miles long, and apparently impregnable.

The checked waters were spilling their fury over the lowlands, far and wide, while the inhabitants were fleeing to higher ground, many in their haste abandoning all their property.
Backwater from the Floyd river, which late this afternoon overflowed its banks, tonight covered several residential blocks in Sioux City to the depth of one foot. Police were warning all residents near the Floyd river to be prepared to move.

Big Gorge Menaced
It was impossible to estimate the territory menaced by the great gorge. If the gorge were to break suddenly, a wall of water would be loosed, and would flood all the lowlands for more than 50 miles south of Sioux City.
Another small gorge at Onawa, Iowa, went out into this afternoon, lowering the level of the river at that point two feet. The gorge was located about 12 miles below the big gorge at Sergeant Bluffs.

The water stage of the river at Sioux City at 7 o'clock tonight was 16.4, and at 8 o'clock it was three inches higher, reaching 16.7. It was slowly continuing its rise.

VERMILLION AGAIN THREATENED

VERMILLION, S. D., March 23 (AP)—An ice gorge has formed in the Missouri river at a point three miles west of Vermillion. An attempt to bomb the gorge will be made in the morning. A gorge that formed at the same point in the river in 1881 caused a flood which

CONNECT RISE OF SUGAR WITH HOOVER'S TALK

Service Director Calls on Commerce Department to Explain Statement Preceding Price Advance

WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP)—Basil M. Manly, Director of the People's Legislative Service, who announced several days ago he had urged President Harding to have an American jury investigate recent increases in sugar prices, issued another statement tonight in which he declared the department of commerce on February 9, gave out a statement on the sugar situation "which was immediately followed by the present spectacular rise in sugar prices."

Quotes Heading.
The department statement, Mr. Manly said, carried a heading which read: "In 1921-22 the world sugar consumption was 500,000 tons greater than production, and the prospects are that there will be 700,000 tons greater in 1923-24. If these prospects materialize, the heavy accumulated stocks of the end of 1923-24 will have given away by the end of 1923-24 to a carry-over below the pre-war normal figures."

Mr. Manly said he was "ready to submit what any American jury whether this official statement can be interpreted in any other way except as a prediction calculated to cause a sudden rise in sugar prices."
The commerce department statement, Mr. Manly declared, originally was for publication in newspapers of Monday, February 12 but "that for some reason which is as yet undisclosed," the department decided suddenly "on the preceding Friday to make the statement subject to immediate release.

Asks Explanation.
"I ask Mr. Hoover," Mr. Manly said, "to inform the public why this sudden change in the release date of this statement was made and upon whose suggestion."
Mr. Manly further declared that "the federal grand jury should also ascertain what speculators are underlying original cause of the tariff price issue," Cordell Hull, chairman of the democratic national committee tonight advocated a 50 per cent reduction in sugar duties.
"President Harding has in his hands the most immediate and potent single what speculators are underlying original cause of the tariff price issue," Cordell Hull, chairman of the democratic national committee tonight advocated a 50 per cent reduction in sugar duties.

SHORTS SETTLE WITH SAUNDERS

Piggly Wiggly Drops From Sight When Way is Opened for Trapped Operators

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP)—Piggly Wiggly, one of Wall street's leading topics for the past few days, virtually dropped out of sight today when news of the underlying original cause of the "shorts" Tuesday when trading in Piggly Wiggly Stores, Inc., class A common stock was suspended on the New York Stock Exchange, settled their accounts on the basis of the $100 offer made by Clarence Saunders, president of the corporation.

While accurate information as to the number of shares delivered to E. W. Bradford, counsel for Mr. Saunders was withheld, it was stated that by far the largest number of the "shorts" took advantage of the lower offer. Yesterday they were required by Mr. Saunders to settle at $150 except on the outside at prices ranging from $110 to $145.

CHANGED CREED IS CLAIM MADE BY COMMUNISTS

Defense Witness in Trial of W. Z. Foster Says Documents Offered by Prosecution Have Been Discarded

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., March 23, (AP)—The state's case against Wm. Z. Foster, charged with criminal syndicalism, is based partly on discarded programs and policies of the communist party which had not been in circulation for months prior to the convention held in this county last August, Charles E. Rutenberg, a defense witness, testified today.

Rutenberg, executive secretary of the workers' party, a former member of the central executive committee of the "communist party of America" was arrested when the convention was raided, and is awaiting trial.

He testified under examination by Frank P. Walsh, chief counsel for Foster, that the program and constitution of the communist party of America introduced in evidence by the state, had been dropped at least five months before the convention.

Jury Tampering Rumored
Rumors that an attempt had been made to tamper with the jury were cut short by the court house tonight after court adjourned at the close of the second week of the trial.

All the principals in the case refused to talk, however. Judge Charles White, who held a hastily called conference with attorneys for the state and then closeted himself with the jurors for five minutes, said he could answer no questions.

The attorneys for the state said the judge had enjoined strictest secrecy. Foster's attorneys were not invited to the conference.

After Judge White's conference, the jurors were dismissed and the judge refused to discuss the matter. Asked whether by rumor it was known there was evidence of attempted jury tampering he was non-committal.

"I can't answer that question," he said.

Traces Revolutionary Movement
Rutenberg spent two and a half hours stand this afternoon and was still undergoing direct examination when the court adjourned for the week. Qualifying over the objections of the state as an expert on liberal and radical thought, he was permitted to give the jury a history of the revolutionary movement for the last seventy-five years.

Turning in the witness chair until he faced the jury, the Workers' party secretary spoke for more than an hour on the birth of radicalism in Germany in 1847; the theories and teachings of Karl Marx; the rise of socialism in this country; the chief Russian revolution and the growth of communism abroad and at home.

GOAT KILLER SLAIN IN ACT

PRICE, Utah, Mar. 23 (AP)—A mountain lion which measured eight feet from tip to tip was killed near here recently by George Ritzakis, a rancher, just as the beast was in the act of carrying off a goat from one of Ritzakis' herds. Although there is no state bounty for the mountain lion, its death is believed to have saved the slaughter of sheep and goats in this vicinity. As many as seventeen sheep and goats have been killed by this lion in a single day, according to ranch owners.

JAPANESE WON'T ACCEPT ALL BLAME FOR TROUBLE

Editor Takes Exception to Views of Hawaii's Governor as Expressed in Message to Legislature

HONOLULU, T. H., Mar. 23 (AP)—The views of Governor Wallace R. Farrington on the alien language school question and on "the Japanese problem," as expressed in the executive message to the legislature, "were, on the whole, correct and fair," according to the review by the Nippo Jiji, Japanese language newspaper, a translation of which is on file in the territorial general's office.

"But we cannot agree with one thing," he said, "the newspaper continued. 'In condemning the malcontents and agitators in the Japanese community, he referred to the sugar plantation strike in 1920. The strike, we take it, was a part of the industrial unrest which swept to whole world. It cannot be said that the Japanese were solely responsible. Therefore it does not seem quite proper to contrast the strike with the Americanization movement or the campaign to protect American citizens.'"

The Hawaii Hochi, another Japanese newspaper, also took exception to Governor Farrington's statement concerning the strike, adding, in an open letter to the governor, that "your excellency's attack against the Japanese children, American citizens of Japanese parentage—should be educated in both the English and Japanese languages. Therefore the Japanese language schools are a benefit, not only to Japanese parents, but also to American."

Additional Relics of Stone Age Men in Oregon Discovered

Stone Pipe and Knife Among Interesting Articles Brought to Light by Excavation

ALBANY, Ore., Mar. 23 (AP)—More discoveries and treasures of ancient civilization were uncovered today at the newly discovered burial ground of the stone age or cannibalistic mound builders which is located about a half mile from Albany on the Benton side of the Willamette river.

The new discoveries further substantiate the theory of J. G. Crawford that the burial ground is that of mound builders of the late prehistoric or of Indians. The most convincing of these was a stone pipe about five inches long with open bowl extending half way down to the end and the hole is about one-eighth of an inch across. No opening is visible on the side of the pipe-bowl.

Another small knife of obsidian was found with one of the skulls and some more mortars were turned up. One skeleton, supposed to be that of a woman because of the size of the features and the skull bones, was dug from a depth of five feet, the deepest excavation so far. Five mortars were found with this body, one of them covered the head as a hat, another was placed directly over what had been a face, the arms were outstretched and at each hand a mortar was found. The fifth mortar was broken and was laying close against the arm pit.

The stone pipe which is the most recent piece of workmanship found so far, was found beneath a pebble and a phallo worship stone which had been lying upon the breast of a large mound builder. The knives were found placed close up under the chin of the larger specimens. One mortar was found with about two inches of fibrous sediment packed in the bottom of it. It is supposed that this was food that had been intended for the future use of the dead mound builders by those who had buried them.

TEXAS TAKES STEPS TO AVERT LABOR SHORTAGE

State Commissioner is Prompted to Action by Reports of Heavy Demand for Help by Northern Firms

AUSTIN, Texas, Mar. 23 (AP)—Steps to prevent a possible acute labor shortage in Texas during the next few months were taken today by state labor commissioner Joseph B. Myers, following reports from deputies of the state department of labor of demands by northern firms for laborers.

Reports from deputies during the past few days told of orders from two Michigan steel firms for 7,000 laborers from Texas, Myers said. The laborers are being tendered attractive offers, including transportation, home and other facilities, he said. Such requests for laborers are coming from Colorado, Montana and other northern states, the labor commissioner added.

WOLF PACK HAUNT DREARY PLAINS OF TARTAR LAND

KAZAN, Mar. 23 (AP)—The wolves have come back to the steppe. In the cold winter nights on the wind swept plains of the Tartar Republic, the nomadic tribes report, more wolves have been seen this year than for decades past. They have grown so bold that they howl at the very door of the dug-outs or mud houses that the wandering Tebuvash and Bashkir people inhabit in the winter in place of their summer tents.

In the Tartar republic, the Tebuvash and Bashkir territories, more than 40,000 head of cattle have already been destroyed by the wolves this winter. This destruction means a live stock, already depleted by the famine, is so serious that the government has launched a campaign throughout the province to kill the wolves. Huge hunters are being organized. The population has very few rifles, and little or no ammunition on hand, therefore it is considered probable that soldiers of the Red Army will be used in a wolf drive.

"Magnific" Heartbeats.
By means of a microphone type of stethoscope combined with the radio loud speaker and vacuum tube receiver, the heartbeat of a person under examination can be heard anywhere in a large auditorium. It will now be easy to detect diseases of heart or lungs at such an early stage that the lives of many more persons will be saved.

THEATRE HAS BIRTHDAY

Salt Lake Showman, Believed Oldest in United States, Celebrates 63rd Birthday

SALT LAKE, March 23 (AP)—The Salt Lake Theatre, believed to be the oldest playhouse in point of continuous service in the United States, celebrated its sixty-third birthday here recently. Designed by William Robinson, who built the famous Mormon Tabernacle in this city, and formally opened on March 6, 1861, by Brigham Young and his councilors, the old theatre was the first amusement home of any magnitude west of the Mississippi.

Here, a dozen years later, Maudie Adams, then but a child, was given first instruction in acting by her mother, who was also an actress by profession.

Persons attending the theatre in the early days were requested to loan their firearms and other weapons at the box office. This precaution, it is believed, was taken to prevent any untoward acts on the part of the audience in the event that the show did not come up to expectations. Cash was not a requisite in payment for tickets, "grain and home manufactures" serving as well.

Sorry for Jimmy.
David had made plans to go with a playmate to a movie, but mother refused her consent. David, seeing it was useless to plead, said, with tears in his voice: "I don't care so much for myself, but Jimmy's feet had will be awful!"

WRITTEN STORY MAY BE HIDDEN IN TUT'S TOMB

Archaeologists Are Hopeful
That Unopened Chests May Contain Documents to Shed
Light on Pharaoh's Reign

VALLEY OF THE KINGS, LUXOR, Egypt, Mar. 23 (AP)—Among the wealth of antiquities found in the tomb of Tutankhamun no trace has yet been discovered of a single scrap of papyrus that will throw any light on the obscure history of Egypt during that monarch's reign. Indeed, not even the hieroglyphic inscriptions and pectoral legends on the walls and other chambers reveal any intelligible facts concerning the life and achievements of the King who reigned the Nile 3,350 years before Christ.

Most of the 30 or more other royal tombs in the Valley of the Kings are adorned with innumerable sculptures, bas-reliefs, paintings and tablets illustrative of the periods in which the Pharaohs reigned. These inscriptions and paintings are, moreover, of a much higher merit than a few which have been found in Tutankhamun's death chamber. They have been of invaluable service to the American and British archaeologists who, together, with the aid of papyrus documents found in the tomb, who fragmentary history of the old and new empire.

Chests May Hold Story
Perhaps next in value to the mummy and sarcophagus of Tutankhamun himself are some thirty-five sycamore chests found in the funeral repository. The archaeologists are hopeful that some of these may contain documents of papyrus which will reveal some new facts regarding "little known events of the departed ruler's reign. If found, they will be given to Prof. James Breasted, the great Egyptian scholar of the University of Chicago, for decipherment and interpretation. One of the chests contains a painting of the King drawn in the style of the reign of Akhnaton, the heretic son, with high sloping head and a headdress resembling a lotus. This has formed the subject of much study and speculation by Howard Carter and his American associates. There is no indication that Tutankhamun adhered to Akhnaton's new faith—the worship of Aten the god of the solar disk—nor anything to controvert the known fact that he led Egypt back to the old Egyptian worship of Amon, the great god of Thebes. Tutankhamun is represented in the painting as worshipping Osiris, god of life and resurrection, in the traditional manner.

Removal Opposed
The news from London that the intention of the British government to be extended to prevent the removal of Tutankhamun's body from its burial place to a museum was received here with satisfaction and relief by Egyptians and others who are bitterly opposed to what they term "body snatching" by foreign invaders. They declare there is little justification for disturbing the ashes of the ancient Pharaoh as there would be no real benefit to be derived from the royal tomb in Westminster Abbey.

In this connection it is pointed out that King Amenophis, who is interred a short distance from Tutankhamun, specifically requested, by a written tablet in his sepulchral chamber, that his ashes be not disturbed. The plea, however, was not observed until the British authorities in Egypt intervened and succeeded in having the King's body returned to the Cairo Museum to its original resting place in the Royal Necropolis. It is now the only royal mummy visible to tourists. It rests in the heart of the living rock of the Libyan mountains, through which a great tunnel was pierced by the ancients.

HOMES FIRST IN ANCHORAGE
ANCHORAGE, Alaska, March 23 (AP)—With the purpose of obtaining permanent population, preferably young married couples, business institutions of Anchorage, including the banks, are working out a plan whereby preference will be given to young married men in employment, and they will be encouraged to purchase a home in the city. The question includes in its economic scope such matters as causes for divorce and failure of young couples to get a proper perspective on life through mutual respect and responsibility. It is argued that many divorces come through improper direction of youth at the time of entering the marital state. Owning the home is considered the essential to personal success and the success of a city.

Why New Tree Was Fostered.
There is a popular belief that the young tree, because of its dark and gloomy foliage, is the one most appropriate for planting in a churchyard; but its presence there was at one time merely a matter of utility. No better timber than the yew product can be obtained for bow making, and an ancient act of parliament decreed that yew trees be planted in all burying grounds to furnish material for the archers.

ON WAY TO TRADE MEET

Stanford Food Research Institute Director to Attend Meetings of Commission Selected by Herbert Hoover:

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif., Mar. 23 (AP)—Dr. Alonzo Englebert Taylor, director of the Stanford Food Research Institute, is en route to Washington, D. C., to attend meetings of the committee named by Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, to inquire into and report on the problems of the American export trade in agricultural products. The meetings will begin in Washington on March 23. The committee was appointed by Secretary Hoover after the congressional action making an appropriation for the study. Dr. Taylor received a telegram notifying him of his appointment and asking him to attend the meetings in Washington immediately. There are sixteen men named on the committee, covering a wide range of organizations and government bureaus connected with agriculture and allied industries. Included on the committee are three officers of the American Farm Bureau Federation; Julius Barnes, former United States wheat director, and now president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States; Ralph Bessert, president of the California Raisin and Nuts Association, and the heads of a number of big enterprises concerned with the production of cotton, wheat and other outstanding agricultural products, as well as several bankers.

FLOWER SHOW FOR SARATOGA

SAN JOSE, Cal., March 23 (AP)—Saratoga, the little foothill town 12 miles west of here, will entertain thousands of visitors March 21 and 22 when it will be the center of the twenty-third annual Santa Clara valley blossom festival. The festival, originally planned to hold a parade and pageant in San Jose in conjunction with the Saratoga activities, but this idea was later abandoned. An address by James D. Phelan, formerly a United States senator, from California, will open the celebration on March 21. His address will be followed by a musical program by a chorus of several hundred voices. Sunday afternoon Carrie Jacobs Bond, composer of "A Perfect Day," will be the musical number when one of her songs will be rendered by the chorus. Programs will be given in a huge open air amphitheater adjoining the town. The panorama of more than 100,000 acres of pines, apricot and almond orchards in full bloom attracts thousands to the valley every year, and to extend welcome and hospitality to these is the purpose of the festival.

USES ELECTRICITY IN PNEUMONIA TREATMENT

Hoboken Specialist Announces Perfection of New Diathermic Method and Initial Successes

HOBOKEN, N. J., Mar. 23 (AP)—Perfection of a new treatment for pneumonia whereby high frequency electric currents are inducted into the patient's body, was announced today by Dr. H. V. Dreesner, who for ten days has been carrying on experiments with pneumonia patients under the observation of a group of New Jersey lung specialists. The treatment, known as the diathermic method, was said by Dr. Dreesner to relieve congestion by electrically producing body heat and by drying blood and to the affected organs. First used during the world war, the method was introduced here ten days ago. Nine patients were subjected to treatment and all recovered so rapidly that they will be discharged from the hospital within a few days.

EASTER TO BE UMBREED IN BY CHIMES ON MOUNT RUBIDOUX

RIVERSIDE, Cal., Mar. 23 (AP)—Easter will be ushered in with chimes again this year at Riverside's annual sunrise services on Mount Rubidoux. From the throats of bells mounted high on the mountain, near the cross which tops the summit, the notes of old, familiar hymns will float over the valley as pilgrims from every part of Southern California thread their way toward Rubidoux in the hours preceding dawn. Other features of the sunrise service this year will be solo, the singing of Easter songs in chorus, appropriate religious readings and prayers and the reading of Dr. Henry Van Dyke's poem, "Gods of the Open Air."

TITLE GOES TO FRESHMAN TEAM

First Year Students Defeat Sophomores and Win High School Championship

Jerry Jarman's freshman team won the high school baseball championship yesterday afternoon at Lincoln field, defeating the sopho 7 to 4 in a 7-inning game.

Oaco more the speed of "Moose". Garry proved the undoing of the second year men, as Russell Denoyer failed to hold the speedy Garry in the sixth inning, the result being that the freshmen chased two runs across without the aid of a hit. In this inning "Moose" Garry fanned four batters.

The sophs had a chance to tie the first year kids in the seventh inning when Denoyer waited for four wide ones, and "Blim" Hammond was granted a pass. Day fanned, and then the "Moose" slapped one out to left, which Shocklin caught. Denoyer, forgetting that the freshmen had a left fielder, started for third, and snuffing an easy victim to a double play, annulling the hopes of Garry and his cohorts.

Battery Work Wins

Superior battery work was the main reason for the freshmen taking the game, as both teams made five hits, with three errors on each side.

Laval Jarman made a home run over the right field fence, but it was a lucky hit and the sophomore ball that was over his head. His two-bagger in the third inning was a hard smash to right center.

The sophs started hostilities in the opening, when Hammond singled to center, went to second when C. Jarman fanned. Day's roller, and scored on Garry's weak to center. Day scored a moment later when Navin singled to left after Cogswell had walked.

The freshmen made three in their first appearance when C. Jarman was safe on Day's error, and scored ahead of L. Jarman on his four-base clout over the right field fence. Sears sent one far into left field for two, but went to third on G. Jarman's fielder's choice to Jamison and scored on Ross' fluke single to left field.

Sops Clank Up Two

A single to deep center by Chet Jamison in the third inning, after Day and Garry had whiffed, followed by a walk to Cogswell, and an error of an easy fly by Berg in left field, scored two more for the sophs.

Jarman's triple came right back in their half with two more. Dunn rattled the right field fence with a two-bagger; L. Jarman did the same, scoring Dunn. L. Jarman stole third and scored on a wild pitch.

In the sixth the freshmen made two without the least sign of a hit when Denoyer went hay wire for a few minutes.

Next Friday afternoon Jerome's baseball team will be over for the first real

FIGHTING OUT FOR PRACTICE

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif., Mar. 23 (AP)—The Stanford gridiron men will be on the job again April 3 for practice with coaches "Pop" Warner, Andy Kerr and "Tiny" Thornhill working to develop the Cardinal backfield men.

The Cards' line has been weakened by the loss of Captain Dudley de Groot and Charles Johnston at center and tackle. Likewise large holes have been shot in the team by the loss of Joe Douglas, Bill Phoney and George Houck, who were stricken off the list by the registrar's axe. Gravens and Paville, rated as the team's best guards, will return this spring and Maritz, Duke, Lawson, Jamison and Thomas will be back for their places at the ends. George Baker, who substituted for De Groot in a few quarters last season, will have been one contender for the center position, Bob Hunt of the freshman squad.

TOLEDO BOWLERS ROLL INTO FIRST POSITIONS

W. Elwert Top List in Singles at Milwaukee Tourney with Total of 711; Wilson Second with 705

MILWAUKEE, March 23, (AP)—Toledo bowlers were the star performers in today's play in the American Bowling contest, taking the first two positions in the singles. W. Elwert, of Toledo, rolled into first place in the singles when he totalled 711 on games of 255, 258, 198. F. Wilson, also of Toledo, assumed second place when he totalled a total of 705. There were the first 700 totals of the meet and they looked mighty good to the fans. W. Zeilner, of Milwaukee, took third place with a 697 total.

Although there was a number of 1200 scores shot in the doubles none was high enough to cause the leaders to fear for their places.

C. Mason of Toledo took the lead in the all-events when he totalled 1,936 for his nine games. He replaces Larry Dunn, of Chicago, who was leading with 1932.

Unanimous selection of Chicago as next year's tournament city was made at a meeting of the American Bowling congress today.

SUGAR MAKERS WIN FROM POWER COMPANY BOWLERS

Factory Men Lose First Game But Come Back Strong for Remaining Two in Hard Punctured Contest

Bill Scilley's sugar factory bowlers dimmed the lights on the Idaho Power quietest Friday evening at the Twin Falls bowling alleys, winning the odd game after one of the hardest fought games ever fought in this city.

The first game went to the power company five by the score of 738 to 676, Scilley holding his men back for the final two games. While his men treated Bill totalled 169 in this game for high.

The second stanza the "sweets" cut loose a little, while the power company, after such a decisive victory in the opener decided to take things easy. Their best in this game was 167, while the sugar factory man pounded down 684 pins. Siver rolled high in this game with 167.

The last game of the evening resulted in the sugar factory team getting to 733, with the Ingrahamites making an even 700. Charley Hill rolled 184 in this night cap.

THE "POWER" OF "SWEETS"

The power company boys did very well considering they didn't knock down more pins.

Mark Murtagh said that if he priced for the power company the price of sugar would go up 10 cents a pound and if he rooted for the sugar factory team the power boys would turn off the lights, so he decided to root for both sides.

The last game was close and exciting throughout.

Bill Scilley led the field with an average of 160 for the evening. 169 was the high mark for the sugar factory captain.

Fred Ingraham had the time of his life in the opener, rolling 165, and wanted to quit so that his average wouldn't be lowered. After deciding to stay for the finish he rolled 110 in the second and 130 in the last one. Fred throws a fast ball down the alley and the pins tremble when they see him come to the bat.

"Jack" Dalton, the hero of many a melodrama, showed considerable improvement over his bowling in 1922. Dalton averaged 141 for the three games.

Floyd Pollard, making his debut, rolled 120 in the opener, 121 in the second and 143 in the last one. Floyd claimed that the reason his scores were so small was because he is in the habit of using a small ball.

Charley Hill, known from Kimberly to Curry as a lead-off man, got away

SOUTH IDAHO VETERANS PLAN BASEBALL LEAGUE

Four Clubs Composed of American Legion Members of Eight Towns Proposed in Thompson's Scheme

Plans for an American Legion baseball league were discussed at the meeting of the ex-soldiers Tuesday evening at Kimberly, and "Pat" Thompson was made chairman of the district.

The plan as laid out by Thompson starts out with Burley, Rupert and Paul as service men combining their baseball talent and forming one team, with Hansen and Kimberly doing the same. Twin Falls has enough members to supply the necessary nine men, and Buhl and Tiler posts will join hands in picking a team for the west end.

There is plenty of material in these different lodges to give the fans of this section all the high class baseball necessary for the summer's entertainment.

In Twin Falls there will be Ostrander, Sib Kleffner, Rod-Bell, Jimmie Hullivan, Otis Neuman, Bill Bailey, Livelle, Bruce Watson, and several others who are a little backward about turning in their names.

Buhl is well stocked with good ball players, as is Hansen and Kimberly. Ansell stated that he was sure a good team could be gotten together from Burley, Rupert and Paul, and all that is needed now is to find out whether the fans want a four team league composed of American League players.

Meetings will be held this coming week to further the plans and Bill Bailey, athletic director of the local post, wants all Legion members who can play ball to report to him at once.

Twin Falls wants baseball, and Twin Falls doesn't want to travel all over the tract to get it. It is to be hoped that the fans of Twin Falls get behind the Legion movement and put this four team league over.

BOXING IS FEATURE OF BAPTIST CLUB OPENING

Girls Don Gloves as Added Attraction to Bill Containing Four Feet Mitts Bout

Four boxing contests featured the opening program of the Baptist Athletic club held Friday night at the bunghouse.

The curtain raiser between Edward Erlund and Ray Persson ended in a draw, after three rounds of fast milling. Both lads weighed 70 pounds.

The second preliminary between Alvie Knight and Jerry Hunt resulted in a victory for Alvie, a knockout being scored in the third round. Knight tipped the scales at 105, with Hunt weighing in at 114.

The main event of the evening between Vernans Murray and George Warburg was declared a draw, both boxers being ready for more when the bell stopped the fight at the end of the sixth round.

An added feature was a boxing contest between Alma Sheelock and Veronias (Chul) Murray. This bout was declared a draw, after the girls had demonstrated for three rounds that they were well versed in the art of self-defense.

It is the aim of the directors of the athletic club, Oral Tucker, Gordon Erlund and Wilson Jackson, to hold these athletic events at least every two weeks.

Max Goldman refereed the bouts.

ECONOMIC MEET PROPOSAL WINS FAVOR AT ROME

International Chamber of Commerce Gives Endorsement to Suggestion for Conference on World's Ills

ROME, March 23 (AP)—The congress of the international chamber of commerce this evening passed unanimously the resolution introduced by the American delegates to the congress favoring a world economic conference and also including pronouncements on the question of reparations, inter-allied debts, inter-allied credits and budgets and exchange.

The resolution was presented to the congress by John H. Haney of Boston, former president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, who said it represented a statement of the principles on which all the Americans reached a common ground; that it was a straight outline of the measures to be undertaken if international finance and trade were to be returned to normal. Each delegation to the congress had its spokesman talk in support of the resolution and without any debate was passed.

Prior to being passed before congress the resolution was discussed by a group of the congress charged with study of financial matters. This group is under the presidency of Willis H. Booth, vice president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and delegate of the American Manufacturers Export association to the congress.

GIRL TO PROVE OWN INNOCENCE

Actress Named as Co-Respondent of Tellegen, Will Take Part in Trial

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP)—Stella Larrimore, the 19-year-old actress named as one of three co-respondents in testimony given by witnesses for Geraldino Farrar in trial of her divorce suit against Lou Tellegen will appear personally in the case and prove her innocence of the charges against her. Louis Brodsky, her attorney, declared today.

Private detectives employed by the former Metropolitan opera star to watch the movements of Tellegen have testified that he spent many hours in her Riverside Drive apartment and once stayed all night. They also described a scene on a bench in Riverside Drive park after midnight. Miss Larrimore then was referred to in the testimony as "Miss L."

Another young woman named as co-respondent here was Miss Lorna Ambler, an Australian actress of striking beauty, "who was alleged to have spent a 'month of bliss' with Tellegen in a shack facing the sea on Long Island and a Miss Clifford of San Francisco.

Secures Adjudgment

Mr. Brodsky appeared before Referee Mahoney at a hearing of the case today and was granted an adjudgment of a week in which to study the papers. He declared Miss Larrimore, who is a sister of Emeline Larrimore, Broadway star, desired to testify and would answer frankly any question put to her.

Mr. Brodsky referred to one of the charges against Miss Larrimore as "that forty-second and Broadway bench episode."

"There wasn't any mention of anything happening at Forty-second and Broadway," said Samuel Undermyer of counsel for Miss Farrar.

"Well, 110th street and Riverside Drive, then," retorted Mr. Brodsky. "What's the difference? There's a crowd of people passing both places all the time."

Given No Opportunity

Mr. Brodsky claimed that Miss Larrimore had never been given a chance in the case. Counsel for Miss Farrar knew where Miss Larrimore was, but did not notify her of the charges against her, he added.

He asserted he would demand a public hearing for his client when he was ready to place her on the witness stand. "I have the right," he said, "to ask that she be given a jury trial, but I think that will be my last offer. We will be able to prove conclusively her innocence of any and all of the charges."

Today's hearing was called primarily for the purpose of giving Arthur E. Schwartz, counsel for Tellegen, an opportunity to interpose a defense, but he did not appear. It was understood he was under orders from Tellegen to leave the case undefended.

Still Seek Slaver Of Model

Dorothy Keenan King

An arrest is expected soon for the murder, in her New York apartment, of Dorothy Keenan King, beautiful artist's model, who told the primrose path that led to death. It is believed she was chloroformed by a man who tried to secure possession of letters he had written her and that the theft of several thousand dollars' worth of jewelry, which she is shown wearing in this picture, was an afterthought.

MODEL'S FRIEND WILL BE NAMED

Early Disclosure of Identity of Mysterious "Mr. Marshall" is Indicated

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP)—An anticipated glimpse of the mysterious "Mr. Marshall," who supplied Dorothy Keenan with jewels and money before her murder more than a week ago, was denied newspaper men who waited in the office of Assistant District Attorney Pecora late today.

Mr. Pecora had announced that he had summoned both "Mr. Marshall" and his equally mysterious secretary, "Mr. Wilson," for further questioning this evening. Later, however, he said that owing to the lateness of the hour he had decided to postpone the interview until tomorrow.

"Mr. Marshall's" attorney, Mr. Pecora said, has promised to have his client on hand.

It was indicated by Mr. Pecora tonight that the time was near when the identity of this man would be made public. "Mr. Marshall" is said to be a wealthy manufacturer, who, while not particularly prominent himself, is married to a woman who is widely known socially and whose father occupies a much higher place than does her husband.

Mr. Pecora, who has admittedly aided the identity of "Mr. Marshall" in order to protect the wife and her family from a public scandal, said he believed that sooner or later the real name of the man would have to be made public and that he believed "Marshall" was making it harder for himself each day that he kept his identity a secret.

MUSKRATS MAKE GRUBSTAKE

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, March 23 (AP)—Bogs and small lakes, the bane of the prospector in traveling about Alaska in summer, are proving a boon to many men who depend upon a trapline for a grubstake in winter. These regions are now being converted into muskrat farms. One man, near Wasilla, has more than 80 houses in a swampy lake where he placed some rats last year. At the rate of increase the muskrat industry promises to become a big thing. Muskrat farmers usually sow a small plot with carrots and other vegetables and as soon as they discover there is plenty of food they flock to the feeding place.

WAR RECORD IS USED IN TRIAL

Prosecution in Herrin Riots Case Exhibits Discharge Papers of Slain Soldier

MARION, Ills., March 23 (AP)—The record of a soldier, a veteran of the Summe, St. Mihiel, Meuse and Argonne, who came back from the war only to fill an unmarked grave, was offered in mute evidence by the prosecution in the Herrin riots trial today, and then withdrawn after a lengthy legal battle.

Offered to establish beyond all doubt the identity of Antonio Mulkevich, in connection with those slaying Hugh Willis, state executive board member of the United Mine Workers of America, and five others are now on trial, honorable discharge from the army, found on the body of one of the 22 victims of the tragedy.

The defense objected to the exhibit, which showed that Mulkevich was a former member of the 305th signal corps, 8th division, on the grounds that it had not been proved that it was taken off the body, and that if it were taken off another body it would prove nothing but would bring before the jurors facts which would create prejudice.

Judge D. T. Hartwell remarked that he thought the identity of the victim had been sufficiently proved and that the exhibit was improper if it was designed to bolster up the character of the dead man.

George Stone, of the defense, asserted that the name Mulkevich was spelled in two different ways in the discharge and in the indictment and that there was absolutely no evidence of a genuineness of the document.

Judge Hartwell finally ruled that the only thing making the discharge material was the question of identity, but that being admitted there was no materiality to the discharge, and it was withdrawn by the state.

The court adjourned until Monday morning, the state indicating that it would rest its case after calling two more witnesses.

SIoux CITY RESIDENTS

destroyed the city of Vermillion. Great destruction would be entailed by another flood here.

LOWLANDS UNDER WATER

SIoux FALLS, S. D., March 23 (AP)—Advises received here from Vermillion late tonight stated that an ice gorge had formed in the Missouri river above the city and that the lowlands between here and Yankton were being inundated.

Fear that there would be great damage in the Vermillion bottoms when the gorge lets loose was expressed. The city of Vermillion proper is on the bluff, high above the river, and there is no immediate danger. At the time of the flood in 1881 the main section of the city was in the bottoms.

GORGES MENACE ONAWA

OMAHA, March 23 (AP)—One thousand three miles in length formed four and a half miles south of this city late today. The water has risen to flood levels and residents of the bottom lands are fleeing for safety.

A small gorge, which formed directly west of Onawa was dynamited and broken up this afternoon. Officials believe that the gorge south of this city will be closed by the use of explosives. The big gorge is a solid mass of mammoth icebergs.

LIVESTOCK SWEEP AWAY

OHAMA, March 23 (AP)—One thousand head of hogs and 22 head of cattle were swept away by the Missouri river flood into this evening in a strip of country between Homer, Neb., and Dakotah City, Neb., according to a long distance report to the Associated Press from Homer late tonight.

HOMER TOLLS DESPERATELY

HOMER, Neb., March 23 (AP)—Desperate efforts are being made here tonight to dynamite an ice gorge that has formed in Omaha creek and which is threatening this town with a repetition of the disastrous flood of 1920. The water of the creek rose five feet between 10 and 11 o'clock. Enormous loss is reported from lowlands between Homer and Dakotah City, Neb., swept by Missouri river flood waters.

At 10 o'clock tonight water, from Omaha creek was flooding the cellars of buildings on the main street.

GORGE AT BLAIR GIVES WAY

BLAIR, Neb., March 23 (AP)—With a loud report, a huge ice gorge broke here at 9 o'clock tonight and swept down stream. The Missouri river, which had risen three feet in an hour prior to the breakup, receded 10 inches.

SHORTS SETTLE

forenoon today at $125 to $185 previous to receipt in New York of Mr. Saunders' instructions to the National Bank of Commerce, where he had a considerable supply of the stock, to permit the "shorts" to buy it for delivery to his representative at $100 a share. The outside market dropped with that announcement to $90 and $100 offered. Most of those who were short in the stock, however, visited National Bank of Commerce and bought Mr. Saunders' stock at $100, immediately delivering it to Mr. Bradford.

Mr. Bradford, who is a Washington attorney and a director in Piggy Wiggly corporation said he would remain in New York tomorrow to settle with the few "shorts" who failed to put in an appearance today.

SAUNDERS AWAITS RETURNS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 23 (AP)—Detailed reports from New York were awaited early tonight to determine how complete had been the acceptance by shorts of the offer made today by Clarence Saunders, head of the Piggy Wiggly Stores, Inc., to settle with those who attended the trading in Piggy Wiggly caught in the rapid fluctuations on the New York stock exchange Tuesday and resulted in an order ruling the stock off the "big board."

Mr. Saunders today proffered settlement with those who sold to his brokers "short" on the basis of $100 a share and news dispatches tonight reported that there had been a general response to the offer which clipped $50 a share from the original figure made by Saunders.

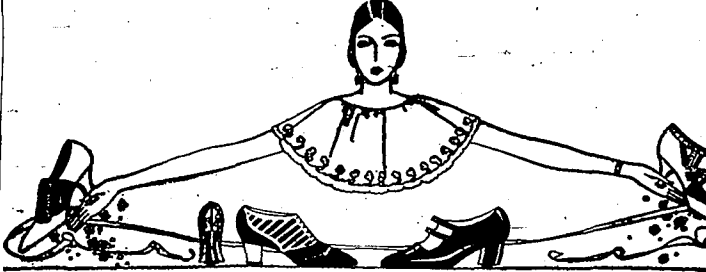

Mr. Saunders indicated that he would issue a statement when he studied reports made to him by his New York representative.

THE ELECTION

Candidates, workers and the public generally are to be congratulated upon the character of the campaigns being waged in connection with the City election.

Twin Falls, nurtured on excitement and trained to a hectic glow every two years since the first surveyor's tent nudged the place where the town-site was to take root, goes about its business in puzzled bewilderment.

It isn't at all the sort of campaign Twin Falls is used to but it is so much cleaner and better in a dozen different respects that it is devoutly to be hoped that it will mark the beginning of a new epoch in the matter of City elections with the old stuff pushed forever into the distant background.

As a matter of fact the candidates themselves have very little to do with the matter. The truth is, there is no issue in the election other than the personal preference of the voters with respect to any of the candidates other than Messrs. Roberts and McAualey. These two faithful disciples of a lost cause, presumably are running on their records and on their records let them be judged.

There are no tickets in the field, no platforms, no particular questions upon which one may hang a preference with respect to the rest of the candidates. There is the question of the personalities of men and their fitness for office in the opinion of the friends of each. Probably the election will be settled upon the proposition of a number of minor bases which have no more to do with the question of good government than the color of the candidates' hair.

But what, it is a better system than that in vogue for so many years, and in all human likelihood the result will come closer to an approximate unbiased public choice than was ever possible when "issues" were manufactured over night, and prejudice ruled reason in the minds of all of us.

AN EASY CURE

California cities are suffering from an epidemic of fictitious check writing. The disease apparently is not confined to adults but is shared in even by children. Among the examples of the crop of worthless paper are checks signed with merely a surname, others with a surname prefixed by a "Mister." Some, probably, are so drawn as to leave open to question the identity of the maker and even the amount of money called for.

But it is all one to the people who cash the checks apparently. If a part of the cash is to go into a minor purchase from the man who is to receive the check the transaction never hesitates.

Twin Falls stores have been frequently victimized in this way and always will be just so long as the practice of cashing strangers' checks is accepted as good business usage. The cure is simple, all that is necessary is for people to quit cashing the checks. To make sure of the result it would be better for all business men to agree on a definite program. Persons who are known or properly identified would not suffer by such a rule, neither would the business man suffer at the hands of the other kind.

IRELAND'S BUIINOUS MINORITY

The continued fighting in Ireland is adding to all friends of that unhappy island. The Republican army keeps up its guerrilla warfare, ambushing and burning and destroying, seeking by every possible device to keep the Free State government from functioning. Its own reckless Irish courage is the bane of Ireland. It has 7,000 men now held in prison by the established government, but its members fear for neither imprisonment nor death.

It is a strange spectacle. The idealism of those Republican fanatics challenges admiration. They are determined to make Ireland a republic, at whatever cost. But in their zeal they overlook the fact that their campaign belies its own purpose.

The first principle of republicanism is that the majority shall rule. It is known to all the world that a big majority of the people in Ireland are in favor of the Free State, that the Republicans constitute a small minority. Yet this minority pretends to speak for Ireland, to be Ireland. Do Valera and his followers, must rule or ruin. There is no republicanism, no democracy, no freedom, in that. Political freedom is not possible without submission to the will of the majority.

One Thing He Knew.
"Now tell me, sir," demanded counsel for the defense, "and mind what you are saying. Do you assert that you were wounded in the melee?" The witness pursed his lips obstinately. "I never said where I was wounded," he said. "It might have been in the melee, or again it mightn't. All I know is that he hit me."

The Custard Cup
By Florence Brigham Livingston

As soon as she had wiped the tunch dishes, she set out on a project planned in the morning and persisting in spite of Mrs. Penfield's attempts at discouragement.

It was the child's own notion that she must contribute as much as she could, and her greatest zeal went to increasing the supply of fuel, an item of considerable seriousness in a household which had no modern methods of dealing with cooking and laundry work. Perhaps it was fortunate that Lettie's industry was largely centered on gathering inflammable material of all descriptions. And certainly she enjoyed it. On this particular day she had discovered a pile of cornstaks that had been discarded as no longer useful—or even amusing to cows. It was part of Lettie's business to intercept the process of natural disintegration whenever possible. She believed thoroughly that the vegetable world should be wiped out by fire, and in her immediate locality she was raking the earth fairly clean of plant life that was not thought much of by its growers.

All enthusiastic co-worker was Flibuster Caesar Penfield, the family pup. As Lettie dragged a heavy company of cornstaks around the house, he followed after, plunging at the long, rustling leaves, barking at this imagined prey, charging with a force that severed the more brittle sections and sent them flying. Flying where? Why, over the walk, into the side yard of Mr. Josiah Wopple. This piece of trespassing was the easier because there was no fence to interfere, the boundary being marked only by a few old posts.

Returning from the second trip, Lettie found results well under way. Mr. Wopple, with a highly injured expression, was ostentatiously sweeping tatters of cornstak together with a great deal of soil, across the community walk into Mrs. Penfield's yard. When he saw Lettie, he paused and glowered at her. Lettie stopped short and glowered back. And she did it well, too, glowering was a specialty with her on similar occasions.

"You'd better be careful," he said. "I ain't goin' to have my yard all littered up."

"I didn't do it," she returned. "I'll done it."

This was the way they usually began, gradually working up to a temperature that is dangerous to body and soul.

"If you was my child, I'd learn you to do some'n' s'ides tralpin'!"

"You shut up," advised Lettie tersely. Her pale cheeks grew a shade whiter. With a jerk she grasped her cornstaks more firmly and dashed with them to the back yard.

Flibuster, thinking this meant the end of a conversation to which he had listened with manifest disapproval, pounced eagerly upon the rustling mass and detached portions for immediate distribution.

But Lettie had merely cleared the decks. Unremembered, she turned to her refrigerator.

"What's eatin' you, anyhow?" she demanded in disgust. "We ain't done you no harm."

"You been litterin' my yard," he maintained.

"We ain't littered it, no! All Flib done was playing. And just two or three leaves! Nobody else'd 'a noticed 'em."

"I tell you they littered, and I won't have it. You ain't to meddle on my property—neither you nor your nasty old dog!"

Lettie's thin chest lifted, as if a steel hook had pulled it upward. Her hands clenched. "He ain't a nasty old dog. He's worth a darned sight more'n you are!"

"That's a lie. Turn you loose, and you couldn't find a bone, way Flib done. Wouldn't nobody have you."

This shot gave Lettie a temporary advantage. Mr. Wopple, willing to subscribe to wellnigh anything for the sake of disagreement, hesitated momentarily before the vivid picture of himself seeking charity from door to door. Possibly some misgiving about the outcome of such a venture checked his rejoinder. Splashes of red appeared in his sallow cheeks, like spatters of anger. The hand on the broom handle shook visibly. Presently he returned the personality with a choice one of his own devising.

"You're a sassy tyke. If you was my child—"

The growing possibilities of belonging to Mr. Wopple's family circle were cut short by the efforts of Flibuster Caesar to relieve the stiffness of the scene. Having detached half a cornstak with branches pendant, he plunged joyously into Mr. Wopple's yard, careening madly in intersecting circles, giving up scraps of corn material to the thorny grasp of rose-bushes as he passed.

Raising the broom threateningly, Mr. Wopple started for the intruder.

"Here, get out!" he shouted. "Darn you, get out!"

Flibuster Caesar was in his element. Nose to the ground, mouth full of cornstak, eyes fixed attentively, he awaited the coming of his supposed playmate. Mr. Wopple brought the broom down with force and exacting aim, only that Flib Caesar was no longer there. "He had tricked to one side, in position as before, playing the game after the manner of checkers."

Mr. Wopple was infuriated. Anger mounted to passion, the more rapidly because Lettie was vociferously applauding the successful strategy of Flib Caesar. He struck repeatedly at the little dog, but Flib was too quick for him, dashing out of range with low ruff-raffe of delight and mischievous challenge. Round and round the small yard they raced and spruck and dodged.

"Good old Flib!" encouraged Lettie, clapping her hands. "He's Flib's too much for you! Now what do you think?"

Of a sudden Mr. Wopple changed his tactics, dropped the broom, and seized the old hose, which his indolence left always attached. A twist of the faucet!

Spl-sput!

The young Flibuster, patiently holding his position, pointed nose on the ground, small body lifted at an angle of forty-five degrees, had not foreseen what was coming. Instantly he was drenched. With a choking yelp of distress, he bounded into the air, but not out of the sharp spray. Coming back to earth, he held to it, rushing in different directions but followed in every one of them by a straining stream of water.

"Let him alone; let him alone!" shrieked Lettie, pumping the air with her fists. "He ain't done nothing. Let him alone!"

"I'll fix him," retorted Mr. Wopple, chuckling with triumph. "Good riddance if I kill him!"

With a yell that split the neighboring atmosphere into two distinct parts, Lettie made a dash for Mr. Josiah Wopple.

"You got me going," she shrieked. "Now look out!"

Much may be done with water, and in a short space of time. Much was done with it in the Wopple-Penfield yards in the next five minutes. At first it was managed solely by Mr. Wopple, who played his old hose on Lettie and Flibuster Caesar with notable impartiality. Whenever Flib could draw a dry breath, he charged upon the enemy—no longer in play, but with low growls that had been bequeathed by some fighting ancestor. Finally these attempts culminated.

It was while Lettie, thoroughly soaked from head to foot, gurgling in fruitless efforts to escape the stream of water, but at the same time drawing steadily nearer, shortening the range in such a way as to increase the force with which she was being pelted—it was while Lettie was occupying the whole attention of a pair of deadly, malicious eyes that Flibuster Caesar Penfield sprang at Mr. Wopple's hand, snapped in reversion to a distant bulldog, then fortunately reconsidered at the behest of some milder relative that had sat docilely on cushions and by the fireside.

With a cry of fright, Josiah Wopple dropped the hose and took turns with Lettie at the jumping game.

"Murder! Murder!" he snarled. "I'm bit. I'll have hydrophoby, O Lord, I'm bit!"

"Sic him, Flib," urged Lettie. "Bite him some more; bite him a lot. He'd oughter be et. Sic him!"

Flib Caesar, thus encouraged on the gory path, sprang to do the bidding of his mistress, but was met by violent opposition. During the scramble, the crafty Lettie was able to seize the hose; and with an inarticulate whoop of triumph she flooded the person of Mr. Josiah Wopple with a superlative skill that proved a well-trained eye and a steady hand.

Slouts, barks, threats, water, filled the air; increasing mud modified everybody's intentions. Faces appeared at neighboring windows, but no one interfered or even spoke. This was not so much due to an ethical attitude in The Custard Cup as to an unwritten law of freedom in speech and act, that no spectator might be deprived of the full performance of any drama that was started.

"Now will you let dogs alone?" inquired Lettie pertinently. "Ain't that pester dogs ain't no good. They'd oughter be et!"

Before her eyes the water suddenly dwindled in the hose she was holding, disappeared with a gentle gurgle. Mr. Wopple had turned off the faucet. The two dripping human beings glared at each other during a moment of truce.

"You'll pay for this," threatened Mr. Wopple. "You think I'll have a dog sound after he bit me?"

"A Great Year gutted Lettie's heart. For a moment her blood stopped; she felt dizzy and sick. Recovering herself with a tremendous effort, she took up the defense at random.

"He didn't bite you."

"He did, too," maintained Mr. Wopple, but with a subtle lack of conviction which Lettie's sharpened senses pounced upon.

Dates are especially rich in sugar, a carbohydrate, but they also contain protein, fats and salts and, in fact, all the elements that a balanced diet calls for. Sugar is remarkable as an energy producer, and the sugar contained in the dates imported to this country is the so-called invert sugar, different from cane sugar in that no chemical change is necessary within the body to assimilate it into the human system.
